Moreover, effective public participation in the section 902 evaluation process is not dependent on whether the Commissioner holds a hearing. The rules proceed from the assumption that any material issues relating to protection of U.S. mask works in a requesting foreign country can be raised in written comments, and that these issues can be resolved flexibly through informal inter partes contacts. Where issues cannot be resolved through such informal contacts, section 150.4(e)(ii) gives the Commissioner discretion to hold a hearing to obtain additional views and to assist in resolving the issues. It is not evident that a mandatory hearing upon request of interested parties would provide an opportunity for exchange of views or information that is not otherwise available under section 150.4(e).

The PTO agrees that, if the Commissioner elects to hold a hearing, the information obtained should be included in the record. Accordingly, section 150.4(f) is amended to make this clarification. It is also proper that the rules specify a time period for the submission of comments following publication in the Federal Register of the request for a proclamation or the Commissioner's determination to initiate independently a section 902 evaluation. Thus, to ensure that all interested parties have sufficient time to investigate and prepare complete written comments, section 150.4(c) is amended to specify that comments must be submitted within sixty (60) days of Federal Register publication.

Discussion of Principal Changes

A new section 150.1(b) has been added to the rules as proposed to clarify that international or regional intergovernmental organizations may request Presidential proclamations on behalf of their member states, provided the member states have empowered the organization to make such requests. Proposed sections 150.1(c)-(g) have been redesignated as sections 150.1(d)-(h). The definition of "mask work" in section 150.1(d) (proposed section 150.1(c)) has been modified slightly to conform to the language in section 901(a)(2) of the SCPA. The definition of "Presidential proclamation" in section 150.1(e) (proposed section 150.1(d)) has been changed slightly by substituting the words "applying for" for the word "making" before the word "registrations." The purpose of this change is to conform the language of the rule to section 908 of the SCPA, which relates to mask work registration. The definition of "request" in section 150.1(f) (proposed section 150.1(e)) has been changed to indicate that the Commissioner is not required to treat request revision, suspension or revocation of a Presidential proclamation in the same way as requests for issuance of such proclamations (see discussion of section 150.5(b), infra).

Section 150.2(a) has been expanded to make clear that the Commissioner may initiate independently an evaluation of recommending the revision, suspension, or revocation of a Presidential proclamation, as well as an evaluation of recommending the issuance of a proclamation. This change reflects the amendment to section 902(a)(2) made by the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act Extension of 1987, which clarifies that the President has the authority to revise, suspend or revoke, as well as issue, proclamations extending protection to foreign mask works.

Section 150.3(b) has been changed to state that requests for issuance of a Presidential proclamation must be accompanied by "a copy" of laws, legal rulings, regulations or administrative orders, rather than "an official copy" of such materials, as was proposed. This change is made to avoid confusion arising from the fact that the meaning of "official copy" may vary from country to country. Section 150.3(b)(5) has been redesignated as section 150.3(b)(6), and a new section 150.3(b)(5) has been added to specify that the copies submitted to the PTO must be in full text, unedited, and where possible, be reproduced from the original document.

Section 150.4(c) has also been changed. The proposed rule stated that notices of requests by foreign governments for the issuance of Presidential proclamations will be published in the Federal Register. Language has been added to make clear that notices of the Commissioner's determination independently to initiate evaluations will also be published in the Federal Register. Section 150.4(c) has also been changed to provide that comments shall be submitted to the Commissioner within sixty (60) days of publication of the Federal Register notice. Section 150.4(f) has been modified to include information obtained in a public hearing held pursuant to section 150.4(e)(ii), if such a hearing is held, in the list of materials to be evaluated by the Commissioner.

Section 150.5(b) has been changed to reflect the amendment to section 902(a)(2) made by the Semiconductor Chip Protection Act Extension of 1987. The first sentence provides that any interested party may request the "revision, suspension or revocation" of a proclamation. The second sentence has been modified to provide that "requests for revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be considered in substantially the same manner as requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation." The word "substantially" has been added to indicate that the Commissioner need not initiate a formal evaluation in every case where a request is made for the revision, suspension or revocation of a Presidential proclamation, in contrast to situations where a foreign government requests the issuance of such a proclamation. While good faith requests for the revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be accorded fair procedural treatment, it is proper that the Commissioner have flexibility at the outset to consider such requests on a case-by-case basis as experience is gained under these rules. If necessary, the PTO may amend the rules at a later time to provide additional procedures for consideration of requests for revision, suspension or revocation of Presidential proclamations.

Stylistic changes have also been made in sections 150.2(a), 150.3(b)(6) (proposed section 150.3(b)(5)) and 150.5(a), but these changes are for purposes of clarity and are not substantive in nature.

Other Considerations

This rule does not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of natural resources. This rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980,44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the proposed rule will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) The economic impact of a Presidential proclamation on small entities will be beneficial, since such proclamations may be issued only upon a finding that a foreign nation extends reciprocal protection to U.S. mask works.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less that $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. By extending protection to foreign mask work owners, the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets will be enhanced.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3510 et seq., since no record-keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Subchapter C

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Semiconductor chips, Mask works.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, Chapter 1 of Title 37 CFR is amended by adding a new Subchapter C, Part 150, as follows:

Section 150.1 Definitions.

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.
(b) "Foreign government" means the duly-constituted executive of a foreign nation, or an international or regional intergovernmental organization which has been empowered by its member states to request issuance of Presidential proclamations on their behalf under this part.
(c) "Interim order" means an order issued by the Secretary of Commerce under 17 U.S.C. 914.
(d) "Mask work" means a series of related images, however fixed or encoded-

(1) having or representing the predetermined, three dimensional pattern of metallic, insulating, or semiconductor material present or removed from the layers of a semiconductor chip product; and
(2) in which series the relation of the images to one another is that each image has the pattern of the surface of one form of the semiconductor chip product.

(e) "Presidential proclamation" means an action by the President extending to foreign nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities the privilege of applying for registrations for mask works pursuant to 17 U.S.C. 902.
(f) "Request" means a request by a foreign government for the issuance of a Presidential proclamation.
(g) "Proceeding" means a proceeding to issue an interim order extending protection to foreign nationals, domiciliaries and sovereign authorities under 17 U.S.C. Chapter 9.
(h) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce.

Section 150.2 Initiation of Evaluation.

(a) The Commissioner independently or as directed by the Secretary, may initiate an evaluation of the propriety of recommending the issuance, revision, suspension or revocation of a section 902 proclamation.
(b) The Commissioner shall initiate an evaluation of the propriety of recommending the issuance of a section 902 proclamation upon receipt of a request from a foreign government.

Section 150.3 Submission of Requests.

(a) Requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation shall be submitted by foreign governments for review by the Commissioner.
(b) Requests for issuance of a proclamation shall include:

(1) A copy of the foreign law or legal rulings that provide protection forU.S. mask works which provide a basis for the request.
(2) A copy of any regulations or administrative orders implementing the protection.
(3) A copy of any laws, regulations or administrative orders establishing or regulating the registration (if any) of mask works.
(4) Any other relevant laws, regulations or administrative orders.
(5) All copies of laws, legal rulings, regulations or administrative orders submitted must be in unedited, full-text form, and if possible, must be reproduced from the original document.
(6) All material submitted must be in the original language, and if not in English, must be accompanied by a certified English translation.

Section 150.4 Evaluation.

(a) Upon submission of a request by a foreign government for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation, if an interim order under section 914 has not been issued, the Commissioner may initiate a section 914 proceeding if additional information is required.
(b) If an interim order under section 914 has been issued, the information obtained during the section 914 proceeding will be used in evaluating the request for a section 902 proclamation.
(c) After the Commissioner receives the request of a foreign government for a section 902 proclamation, or after a determination is made by the Commissioner to initiate independently an evaluation pursuant to section 150.2(a) of this part, a notice will be published in the Federal Register to request relevant and material comments on the adequacy and effectiveness of the protection afforded U.S. mask works under the system of law described in the notice. Comments should include detailed explanations of any alleged deficiencies in the foreign law or any alleged deficiencies in its implementation. If the alleged deficiencies include problems in administration such as registration, the respondent should include as specifically as possible full detailed explanations, including dates for and the nature of any alleged problems. Comments shall be submitted to the Commissionerwithin sixty (60) days of publication of the Federal Register notice.
(d) The Commissioner shall notify the Register of Copyrights and the Committees on the Judiciary of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the initiation of an evaluation under these regulations.
(e) If the written comments submitted by any party present relevant and material reasons why a proclamation should not issue, the Commissioner will:
(1) Contact the party raising the issue for verification and any needed additional information;
(2) Contact the requesting foreign government to determine if the issues raised by the party can be resolved; and,

(i) If the issues are resolved, continue with the evaluation; or,
(ii) If the issues cannot be resolved on this basis, hold a public hearing to gather additional information.

(f) The comments, the section 902 request, information obtained from a section 914 proceeding, if any, and information obtained in a hearing held pursuant to subsection (e)(ii) of this section, if any, will be evaluated by the Commissioner.
(g) The Commissioner will forward the information to the Secretary, together with an evaluation and a draft recommendation.
(h) The Secretary will forward a recommendation regarding the issuance of a section 902 proclamation to the President.

Section 150.5 Duration of Proclamation.

(a) The recommendation for the issuance of a proclamation may include terms and conditions regarding the duration of the proclamation.
(b) Requests for the revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation may be submitted by any interested party. Requests for revision, suspension or revocation of a proclamation will be considered in substantially the same manner as requests for the issuance of a section 902 proclamation.

Section 150.6 Mailing Address.

Requests and all correspondence submitted pursuant to these guidelines shall be addressed to:

(90) Errors in Notice of Allowance

The purpose of this notice is to clarify existing Office practice with respect to providing a new issue fee due date. Sometimes errors appear on the Notice of Allowance, such as an incorrect number of claims, the misspelling of an inventor's name, an incorrect inventorship, or an incorrect title. A duplicate Notice of Allowance correcting the errors may be requested from the Group that mailed the Notice. However, a new issue fee due date will not be provided if the information on the original Notice of Allowance is sufficient to allow a reasonable practitioner to timely file a proper issue fee in the correct application. Specifically, the mere filing of a request for a corrected or duplicate Notice of Allowance will not act to stay the period for paying the issue fee.

(91) Public Law 98-622
Signed November 8, 1984
Ninety-eighth Congress of the United States of America

AT THE SECOND SESSION

Begun and held at the City of Washington on Monday, the twenty-third day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eighty-four

An Act

To amend title 35, United States Code, to increase the effectiveness of the patent laws, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SHORT TITLE

SECTION 1. This Act may be cited as the "Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984".

TITLE I-PATENT IMPROVEMENT PROVISIONS

USE OF PATENTED INVENTIONS OUTSIDE

THE UNITED STATES

SEC. 101.(a) Section 271 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(f)(1) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States all or a substantial portion of the components of a patented invention, where such components are uncombined in whole or in part, in such manner as to actively induce the combination of such components outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer.

"(2) Whoever without authority supplies or causes to be supplied in or from the United States any component of a patented invention that is especially made or especially adapted for use in the invention and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial noninfringing use, where such component is uncombined in whole or in part, knowing that such component is so made or adapted and intending that such component will be combined outside of the United States in a manner that would infringe the patent if such combination occurred within the United States, shall be liable as an infringer."

STATUTORY INVENTION REGISTRATION

SEC. 102.(a) Chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 157. Statutory invention registration

"(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, the Commissioner is authorized to publish a statutory invention registration containing the specification and drawings of a regularly filed application for a patent without examination if the applicant:

"(1) meets the requirements of section 112 of this title;
"(2) has complied with the requirements for printing, as set forth in regulations of the Commissioner;
"(3) waives the right to receive a patent on the invention within such period as may be prescribed by the Commissioner; and
"(4) pays application, publication, and other processing fees established by the Commissioner.

If an interference is declared with respect to such an application, a statutory invention registration may not be published unless the issue of priority of invention is finally determined in favor of the applicant.

"(b) The waiver under subsection (a)(3) of this section by an applicant shall take effect upon publication of the statutory invention registration.

"(c) A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall have all of the attributes specified for patents in this title except those specified in section 183 and sections 271 through 289 of this title. A statutory invention registration shall not have any of the attributes specified for patents in any other provision of law other than this title. A statutory invention registration published pursuant to this section shall give appropriate notice to the public, pursuant to regulations which the Commissioner shall issue, of the preceding provisions of this subsection. The invention with respect to which a statutory invention certificate is published is not a patented invention for purposes of section 292 of this title.

"(d) The Secretary of Commerce shall report to the Congress annually on the use of statutory invention registrations. Such report shall include an assessment of the degree to which agencies of the Federal Government are making use of the statutory invention registration system, the degree to which it aids the management of federally developed technology, and an assessment of the cost savings to the Federal Government of the use of such procedures."

(b) The table of sections at the beginning of chapter 14 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"157. Statutory invention registration.".

(c) The amendments made by this section shall take effect six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

PRIOR ART

SEC. 103. Section 103 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person."

JOINT INVENTORS

SEC. 104. (a) Section 116 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by amending the first paragraph to read as follows:

"When an invention is made by two or more persons jointly, they shall apply for patent jointly and each make the required oath, except as otherwise provided in this title. Inventors may apply for a patent jointly even though (1) they did not physically work together or at the same time, (2) each did not make the same type or amount of contribution, or (3) each did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent."

(b) Section 120 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "by the same inventor" and inserting in lieu thereof "which is filed by an inventor or inventors named in the previously filed application".

ARBITRATION OF INTERFERENCES

SEC. 105. Section 135 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

"(d) Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.".

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 106. (a) Subject to subsections (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section, the amendments made by this Act shall apply to all United States patents granted before, on, or after the date of enactment of this Act, and to all applications for United States patents pending on or filed after the date of enactment.

(b) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect any final decision made by the court or the Patent and Trademark Office before the date of enactment of this Act with respect to a patent or application for patent, if no appeal from such decision is pending and the time for filing an appeal has expired.

(c) Section 271(f) of title 35, United States Code, added by section 101 of this Act shall apply only to the supplying, or causing to be supplied, of any component or components of a patented invention after the date of enactment of this Act.

(d) No United States patent granted before the date of enactment of this Act shall abridge or affect the right of any person or his successors in business who made, purchased, or used prior to such effective date anything protected by the patent, to continue the use of, or to sell to others to be used or sold, the specific thing so made, purchased, or used, if the patent claims were invalid or otherwise unenforceable on a ground obviated by section 103 or 104 of this Act and the person made, purchased, or used the specific thing in reasonable reliance on such invalidity or unenforceability. If a person reasonably relied on such invalidity or unenforceability, the court before which such matter is in question may provide for the continued manufacture, use, or sale of the thing made, purchased, or used as specified, or for the manufacture, use, or sale of which substantial preparation was made before the date of enactment of this Act, and it may also provide for the continued practice of any process practiced, or for the practice of which substantial preparation was made, prior to the date of enactment, to the extent and under such terms as the court deems equitable for the protection of investments made or business commenced before the date of enactment.

(e) The amendments made by this Act shall not affect the right of any party in any case pending in court on the date of enactment to have their rights determined on the basis of the substantive law in effect prior to the date of enactment.

TITLE II-PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE PROCEDURES

BOARD OF PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES

SEC. 201. (a) Section 7 of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

§ 7. Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

"(a) The examiners-in-chief shall be persons of competent legal knowledge and scientific ability, who shall be appointed to the competitive service. The Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner, the Assistant Commissioners, and the examiners-in-chief shall constitute the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

"(b) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall, on written appeal of an applicant, review adverse decisions of examiners upon applications for patents and shall determine priority and patentability of invention in interferences declared under section 135(a) of this title. Each appeal and interference shall be heard by at least three members of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, who shall be designated by the Commissioner. Only the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences has the authority to grant hearings.

"(c) Whenever the Commissioner considers it necessary, in order to keep current the work of the Board of Patent Apeals and Interferences, theCommissioner may designate any patent examiner of the primary examiner grade or higher, having the requisite ability, to serve as examiner-in-chief for periods not exceeding six months each. An examiner so designated shall be qualified to act as a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. Not more than one of the members of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences hearing an appeal or determining an interference may be an examiner so designated. The Secretary of Commerce is authorized to fix the pay of each designated examiner-in-chief in the Patent and Trademark Office at not to exceed the maximum rate of basic pay payable for grade GS 16 of the General Schedule under section 5332 of title 5. The rate of basic pay of each individual designated examiner-in-chief shall be adjusted, at the close of the period for which that individual was designated to act as examiner-in-chief, to the rate of basic pay which that individual would have been receiving at the close of such period if such designation had not been made."

(b) The item relating to section 7 in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 1 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

INTERFERENCES

SEC. 202. Section 135(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(a) Whenever an application is made for a patent which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, would interfere with any pending application, or with any unexpired patent, an interference may be declared and the Commissioner shall give notice of such declaration to the applicants, or applicant and patentee, as the case may be. The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall determine questions of priority of the inventions and may determine questions of patentability. Any final decision, if adverse to the claim of an applicant, shall constitute the final refusal by the Patent and Trademark Office of the claims involved, and the Commissioner may issue a patent to the applicant who is adjudged the prior inventor. A final judgment adverse to a patentee from which no appeal or other review has been or can be taken or had shall constitute cancellation of the claims involved in the patent, and notice of such cancellation shall be endorsed on copies of the patent distributed after such cancellation by the Patent and Trademark Office."

APPEALS AND CIVIL ACTIONS

SEC. 203. (a) Section 141 of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) in the first sentence-

(A) by striking out "of the Board of Patent Appeals may appeal" and inserting in lieu thereof "in an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences under section 134 of this title may appeal the decision"; and

(B) by striking out, "thereby waiving his right" and inserting in lieu thereof. "By filing such an appeal the applicant waives his or her right";

(2) in the second sentence-

(A) by striking out "board of patent interferences on the question of priority may appeal" and inserting in lieu thereof "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on the interference may appeal the decision";

(B) by striking out "according to" and inserting in lieu thereof "in accordance with"; and

(C) by striking out "he" and inserting in lieu thereof "the party"; and

(3) by amending the last sentence to read as follows: "If the appellant does not, within thirty days after the filing of such notice by the adverse party, file a civil action under section 146, the decision appealed from shall govern the further proceedings in the case."

(b) Section 145 of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) in the first sentence by striking out "Appeals may" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences in an appeal under section 134 of this title may,"and

(2) in the second sentence by striking out "Appeals " and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(c) Section 146 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "board of patent intereferences on the question of priority" and inserting in lieu thereof "Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on the interference".

TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

SEC. 204. (a) Section 41(a)(6) of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) by striking out "Appeals" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences"; and

(2) by inserting "in the appeal" "after oral hearing".

(b)(1) Section 134 of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(A) in the section caption by striking out "APPEALS" and inserting in lieu thereof "PATENT APPEALS AND INTERFERENCES"; and

(B) by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(2) The item relating to section 134 in the table of sections at the beginning of chapter 12 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(c) Section 305 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Appeals" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and Interferences".

AMENDMENTS TO OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW

SEC. 205. (a) Section 1295(a)(4)(A) of title 28, United States code, is amended by striking out "Appeals or the Board of Patent" and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent Appeals and".

(b) Section 152 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 U.S.C. 2182) is amended in the third paragraph-

(1) by striking out "Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences";

(2) by striking out "the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(c)(1) Section 305(d) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2457(d)) is amended-

(A) by striking out "a Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences"; and

(B) by striking out "the Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".

(2) Section 305(e) of the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 (42 U.S.C. 2457(e)) is amended by striking out "a Board of Patent Interferences" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences".

SAVINGS PROVISION

SEC. 206. Any individual who, on the effective date of this title, is an examiner-in-chief of the Board of Patent Appeals of the Patent and Trademark Office or an examiner of interferences of the Board of Patent Interferences of such office shall be entitled to continue in office as a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences of the Patent and Trademark Office as of such effective date.

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 207. Section 206 of this Act and the amendments made by this title shall take effect three months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

TITLE III-NATIONAL COMMISSION ON INNOVATION AND PRODUCTIVITY ESTABLISHMENT

SEC. 301. There is hereby established a National Commission on Innovation and Productivity (hereinafter in this title referred to as the "Commission").

MEMBERSHIP OF COMMISSION

SEC. 302. (a) The Commission shall be composed of -

(1) three Members of the Senate appointed by the President of the Senate;

(2) three Members of the House of Representatives apointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and

(3) three members appointed by the President of the United States, one of whom the President shall designate as Chairman. Of the members appointed by the President, one member should be an appropriate officer or employee of the United States, one member should be an employer who employs inventors, and one member should be an employed inventor.

(b) At no time shall more than two of the members appointed under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of subsection (a) be persons who are members of the same political party.

(c) Any vacancy in the Commission shall not affect its powers but shall be filled in the same manner in which the original appointment was made, and subject to the limimtation set forth in subsection (b) with respect to the original appointment.

(d) Six members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum, but a lesser number may conduct hearings.

DUTIES OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 303. The Commission shall make a full and complete review and study of the level of innovation and producitivity of employed inventors. Such study shall include an analysis of the various methods available to inspire or stimulate individual and corporate innovation and productivity, including an assessment of the techniques used in other countries to achieve this objective. Such study may include an assessment of those aspects of other areas of intellectual property law that inspire or stimulate such innovation and productivity. The Commission shall make recomendations for such revisions of the laws of the United States, including the repeal of unnecessary or undesirable statutes, and such other changes as the Commission considers will better foster innovation and productivity.

COMPENSATION OF MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION

SEC. 304. (a) A member of the Commission who is a Member of Congress or a full-time officer or employee of the United States shall receive no additional compensation by reason of his or her service on the Commission.

(b) Subject to amounts provided in advance in appropriations Acts, a member of the Commission from private life shall receive the daily equivalent of the annual rate of basic pay payable for level III of the Executive Schedule for each day (including traveltime) during which such member is engaged in the actual performance of duties vested in the Commission, plus reimbursement for travel, subsistence, and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of such duties, in accordance with subchapter I of chapter 57 of title 5, United States Code.

DIRECTOR AND STAFF

SEC. 305. (a) The Commission shall have a Director who shall be appointed by the Commission and who shall be paid at a rate not to exceed the rate of basic pay payable for level IV of the Executive Schedule. The Director, subject to the direction of the Commission, shall supervise the activities of persons emloyed by the Commission and the preparation of the reports of the Commission and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned to the Director by the Commission.

(b) The Commission may appoint and fix the pay of such additional personnel as it considers appropriate.

(c) The staff of the Commission may be appointed without regard to the provisions of title 5, United States Code, governing appointments in the competitive service, and may be paid without regard to the provisions of chapter 51 and subchapter III of chapter 53 of such title relating to classification and General Schedule pay rates, except that no individual so appointed may receive pay in excess of the maximum annual rate of basic pay payable for GS- 16 of the General Schedule.

(d) The Chairman of the Commission may procure temporary and intermittent services under section 3109(b) of title 5, United States Code.

GOVERNMENT AGENCY COOPERATION

SEC. 306. The Commission is authorized to request from any department, agency, or independent instrumentality of the Government any information and assistance it considers necessary to carry out its functions under this title. Each such department, agency, and instrumentality is authorized to cooperate with the Commission and, to the extent permitted by law, to furnish such information and assistance to the Commission.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION; TERMINATION

SEC. 307. The Commission shall submit interim reports on its activities to the President and the Congress at such times as the Commission considers appropriate, except that at least one such report shall be so submitted within one year after the date of the enactment of this Act. The Commission shall submit its final report on its activities to the President and the Congress within two years after such date of enactment. The Commission shall cease to exist sixty days after the date of the submission of its final report.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

SEC. 308. The General Services Administration shall provide administrative services for the Commission on a reimbursable basis.

AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS

SEC. 309. There is authorized to be appropriated $250,000 to carry out this title.

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 310. This title shall take effect on January 21, 1985.

TITLE IV- MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

INTERNATIONAL STAGE

SEC. 401. (a) Section 361(d) of title 35, United States Code, is amended in the first sentence by inserting "or within one month after the date of such filing" after "application".

(b) Section 366 of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) in the first sentence-

(A) by inserting "after the date of withdrawal," after "effect"; and

(B) by inserting before the period the following: ", unless a claim for the benefit of a prior filing date under section 365(c) of this part was made in a national application, or an international application designating the United States, filed before the date of such withdrawal"; and

(2) in the second sentence by inserting "withdrawn" after "such".

NATIONAL STAGE

SEC. 402. (a) Section 371(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) by striking out "is" and inserting in lieu thereof "may be"; and

(2) by striking out ", except those filed in the Patent Office".

(b) Section 371(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(b) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, the national stage shall commence with the expiration of the applicable time limit under article 22(1) or (2) of the treaty."

(c) Section 371(c)(2) of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) by striking out "received from" and inserting in lieu thereof "communicated by"; and

(2) by striking out "verified" before "translation".

(d) Section 371(d) of title 35, United States Code, is amended to read as follows:

"(d) The requirements with respect to the national fee referred to in subsection (c)(1), the translation referred to in subsection (c)(2), and the oath or declaration referred to in subsection (c)(4) of this section shall be complied with by the date of the commencement of the national stage or by such later time as may be fixed by the Commissioner. The copy of the international application referred to in subsection (c)(2) shall be submitted by the date of the commencement of the national stage. Failure to comply with these requirements shall be regarded as abandonment of the application by the parties thereof, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such failure to comply was unavoidable. The payment of a surcharge may be required as a condition of accepting the national fee referred to in subsection (c)(1) or the oath or declaration referred to in subsection (c)(4) of this section if these requirements are not met by the date of the commencement of the national stage. The requirements of subsection (c)(3) of this section shall be complied with by the date of the commencement of the national stage, and failure to do so shall be regarded as a cancellation of the amendments to the claims in the international application made under article 19 of the treaty.".

(e) Section 372(b) of title 35, United States Code, is amended-

(1) by striking out the period at the end of paragraph (2) and inserting in lieu thereof "; and"; and

(2) by adding at the end thereof the following:

"(3) the Commissioner may require a verification of the translation of the international application or any other document pertaining to the application if the application or other document was filed in a language other than English.".

(f) Section 372 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out subsection (c).

(g) Section 376(a) of title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out paragraph (5) and redesignating paragraph (6) as paragraph (5).

TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS

SEC. 403. (a) Title 35, United States Code, is amended by striking out "Patent Office" each place it appears and inserting in lieu thereof "Patent and Trademark Office".

(b) The table of parts at the beginning of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"IV. Patent Cooperation Treaty.....351"

PATENT FEES

SEC. 404. (a) Notwithstanding section 41 of title 35, United States Code, as in effect before the enactment of Public Law 97 247 (96 Stat. 317), no fee shall be collected for maintaining a plant patent in force.

(b) Notwithstanding section 41(c) of title 35, United States Code, as in effect before the enactment of Public Law 97-247 (96 Stat. 317), the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks may accept, after the six-month grace period referred to in such section 41(c), the payment of any maintenance fee due on any patent based on an application filed in the Patent and Trademark Office on or after December 12, 1980, and before August 27, 1982, to the same extent as in the case of patents based on applications filed in the Patent and Trademark Office on or after August 27, 1982.

TRADEMARK TRIAL AND APPEAL BOARD

SEC. 405. Section 3 of title 35, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"(e) The members of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board of the Patent and Trademark Office shall each be paid at a rate not to exceed the maximum rate of basic pay payable for GS-16 of the General Schedule under section 5332 of title 5."

EFFECTIVE DATE

SEC. 406. (a) Section 404 of this Act and the amendments made by section 403 of this Act shall take effect on the date of the enactment of this Act.

(b) The amendments made by sections 401, 402, and of this Act shall take effect six months after the date of the enactment of this Act.

RIN 0651-AA34

Miscellaneous Changes in Patent Practice

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent cases to: expand the authority to sign a terminal disclaimer in a patent application or a disclaimer in a patent; eliminate some formal requirements for an appeal brief for an appellant appearing without counsel; prohibit fee extensions of time to file reply briefs and requests for oral hearing; clarify the requirements for claiming foreign priority; specify the manner in which the fee deficiency is computed when applicants seek to correct an error in claiming small entity status; and correct errors in published regulations.
Effective Date: Jan. 3, 1994. The time periods and extension of time provisions of §§ 1.193 and 1.194 for filing reply briefs and requests for oral hearing will be applicable where the examiner's answer was mailed on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Abraham Hershkovitz by telephone at (703) 305-9282, or by facsimile transmission at (703) 305-8825, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to: Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 57 FR 43412 (September 21, 1992) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1143 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 33-40 (October 13, 1992), the Office proposed to amend several rules of practice in patent and trademark cases. This rulemaking includes changes in § 1.9(d) which were not part of the proposed rules. The changes in § 1.9(d) were made in order to update the information pertaining to establishing small entity status as a small business. No substantive changes have been made in § 1.9(d). The proposed rule requiring that the specification of a design application describe the nature and intended use of the article being claimed has been withdrawn. Additionally, the proposed rule prohibiting a fee extension of time to file corrected drawings after allowance has been withdrawn.

Written comments were submitted by 13 firms, one association and one individual. An oral hearing was not conducted.

The following includes a discussion of the rules being changed and the reasons for those changes and an analysis of the comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking.

Discussion of Specific Sections to be Changed or Added:

(1) Definitions (Section 1.9)

Section 1.9(d) is amended in order to update the information therein regarding the regulations of the Small Business Administration (SBA). The SBA's rule for defining a small business has been modified. Section 1.9(d) will no longer repeat the SBA rule in its entirety. Rather, § 1.9(d), as adopted, contains a short summary of the SBA definitions. The size limit of 500 employees (including those of its affiliates) for a small business concern has not been changed. Information on size standards for a small business concern may be obtained from the Small Business Administration by calling (202) 205-6618, or by writing to: Small Business Administration, Size Standards Staff, 409 Third Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20416.

(2) Copies of Papers (Section 1.13)

Section 1.13(a) is amended to clarify that the paragraph pertains to non-certified copies, and that copies of patents, trademark registrations and other papers within the jurisdiction of the Office, as opposed to being within the jurisdiction of another agency, may be obtained from the Office upon payment of the fee therefor.

Section 1.13(b) is amended to clarify that certified copies of the above items may be obtained from the Office upon payment of the fee for a certified copy.

(3) Patent Applications Preserved in Secrecy (Section 1.14)

Section 1.14(b) is amended to correct a typographical error in that the second and third sentences of this section were inadvertently deleted during an earlier revision of this section. See 50 Fed. Reg. 9378 (March 7, 1985) and 1053 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 10-26 (April 2, 1985). Section 1.14(b) is amended by restoring the deleted sentences and by changing, in the first sentence, the plural "applicants" to the singular "applicant".

(4) Effect on Fees of Failure to Establish Status, or Change Status, as Small Entity (Section 1.28)

Section 1.28(c) is amended to reflect Office practice in calculating fee deficiencies when fees have been improperly paid as a small entity. The Office receives deficiency payments that differ based on varying interpretations of § 1.28(c). Some simply double the small entity fee in effect when the fee was originally paid in error in the small entity amount, while others compute the difference between the fee already paid and the other than small entity fee level in effect at the time the deficiency is paid. The Office requires payments to be based on fee levels in effect at the time the other than small entity fee is paid.

Since 1989, fee levels have been adjusted annually. In view of these adjustments, there are frequently situations where the fee amount has changed since it was originally paid erroneously at the small entity rate. Calculation of deficiency amounts based on fee levels in effect at the time the deficiency is paid conforms with the general concept that fees to be paid are those in effect at the time of receipt of the fees. Section 1.28(c) is amended to reflect this practice of calculating the amount of the deficiency based on the fee level in effect at the time of the deficiency payment.

(5) Claim for Foreign Priority (Section 1.55)

Section 1.55(a) is amended to incorporate the limitations of 35 U.S.C. 119, which provides that the claim for priority and the appropriate copy of the foreign application must be filed before the patent is granted. Additionally, some applicants did not realize that submission of priority papers after payment of the issue fee, but before the grant of the patent, required the filing of a petition to accept submission of priority papers after payment of the issue fee. After a patent is granted, applicants may still be able to establish priority benefits by filing a reissue application to correct the failure to perfect the claim for priority. Brenner v. State of Israel, 400 F.2d 789, 158 USPQ 584 (D.C. Cir. 1968). Section 1.55(a) lists separately those instances when priority documents must be filed prior to payment of the issue fee to receive the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application. Furthermore, § 1.55(a) is amended to clarify when a verified English language translation of priority application not in the English language must be filed and to require a statement from the translator that the translation of the priority document is accurate. Krenitsky v. Utagawa, 215 USPQ 713 (Comm'r Pat. 1981).

(6) Claiming Benefit of Earlier Filing Date and Cross References to other Applications (Section 1.78)

Section 1.78(a) is amended to correct a typographical error. In the reference to the fee in § 1.21(l), the letter (l) should have appeared instead of the numeral (1). Section 1.78(a) is further amended to be consistent with § 1.5(a), by permitting the identification of the prior application by application number or serial number and filing date.

(7) Prohibition of Fee Extensions of Time (Section 1.136(a))

Section 1.136(a) is amended by adding two additional situations in which applicants would no longer be able to use fee extensions. Section 1.136(a) is rearranged so that referenced sections appear in numerical order. The new prohibitions will apply to situations where the request to extend the time is: (1) to permit filing reply briefs under § 1.193(b); and (2) to permit filing requests for oral hearing under § 1.194(b) before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board). Fee extensions of time to file reply briefs or requests for oral hearing delay transfer of jurisdiction of the appeal to the Board and unnecessarily delay final disposition of the appeal.

The Office has considered changing the practice to require payment of the fee and filing the request for an extension of time before the period set for response expires in the situations addressed in this rulemaking, but did not adopt that approach because of the complexity that it would introduce into the system.

Under the previous rules, applicants could request a maximum four-month extension of time under § 1.136(a) to file reply briefs or request oral hearings. Since the backlog of cases awaiting a decision by the Board has been reduced, these extension requests have resulted in unnecessary delays in transmitting appeals to the Board and increased pendency of applications. The periods specified in1.193(b) and 1.194(b), as adopted, are considered sufficient to file a reply brief or request an oral hearing. Extensions of time for cause may be available under § 1.136(b). Therefore, § 1.136(a) is amended to prohibit fee extensions of time to file a reply brief or request an oral hearing.

(8) Appeal to the Board of Patent appeals and Interferences (Section 1.191)

Section 1.191(d) is amended to be consistent with the changes to 1.136(a).

(9) Appellant's Brief (Section 1.192)

Sections 1.192(a) and (d) are amended by moving the last sentence of current § 1.192(d) to § 1.192(a) to highlight that the Board may refuse consideration of any arguments or authorities not included in the brief.

Section 1.192(c) is amended to eliminate some of the formal requirements for an appeal brief for a pro se appellant, that is, an appellant appearing without counsel. An appellant appearing without counsel means there is no attorney or agent of record in the application or reexamination proceeding, the brief was not prepared by a registered practitioner, and the brief was not signed by a registered practitioner. Paragraph (c) is amended to allow a pro se appellant's brief to be accepted provided it is at least in substantial compliance with the requirements of subparagraphs (1), (2), (6) and (7) of paragraph (c). If a pro se appellant's brief is accepted, it will be presumed that a rejected group of claims stand or fall together unless an argument is included in the brief that presents reasons as to why appellant considers one or more claims in the rejected group of claims to be separately patentable from the other claims in the group.

(10) Examiner's Answer (Section 1.193)

Section 1.193(b) is amended to clarify the consequence of failure to file a reply brief in response to an expressly stated new ground of rejection made in an examiner's answer. The failure to file a reply brief will result in dismissal of the appeal as to the claims made subject to the expressly stated new ground of rejection. If the dismissal of the appeal applies to all claims in the application, the application will be abandoned. Additionally, this section is amended to change the period for filing a reply brief to two months from the date of the examiner's answer, regardless of whether the examiner's answer includes a new ground of rejection. The change to two months will avoid confusion in those cases in which there is a disagreement as to whether the examiner's answer in fact states a new ground of rejection and will provide an adequate period of time to file a reply brief without the need to request an extension of time. Finally, this section is amended to be consistent with the changes to § 1.136(a).

(11) Oral Hearing (Section 1.194)

Section 1.194(b) is amended to be consistent with the changes to 1.136(a). Under the previous rule, if a new ground of rejection was made in an examiner's answer, two months were permitted for filing a reply brief and, if a reply brief was filed, an applicant was permitted three months after the date of filing a reply brief to file a request for an oral hearing. In order to provide a more consistent approach vis-a-vis time periods for filing reply briefs and requests for oral hearing and to permit earlier decisions of issues on appeal, the period for filing a request for oral hearing has been changed to two (2) months from the date of an examiner's answer, regardless of whether the examiner's answer includes a new ground of rejection. This period should be sufficient to request an oral hearing without the need to request an extension of time.

(12) Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Section 1.196)

Section 1.196(f) is amended to refer to § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in reexamination proceedings.

(13) Action Following Decision (Section 1.197)

Section 1.197(b) is amended to refer to § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in reexamination proceedings.

(14) Amendments After Allowance (Section 1.312)

Section 1.312(b) is amended to clarify that the fee required for a petition under this section is that specified in § 1.17(i)(1).

(15) Statutory Disclaimers, Including Terminal Disclaimers (Section 1.321).

The title of section 1.321 is amended to clarify that this section applies to terminal disclaimers, as well as to statutory disclaimers in general. Section 1.321 is further amended to permit the signing of a disclaimer in a patent by the patentee, or an attorney or agent of record, whereas, persons permitted to sign a disclaimer in a patent application will be any person specified in § 1.33(a)(1)-(4). The person signing the disclaimer must state the present extent of the disclaiming party's (i.e., patentee's or assignee's) interest in the patent or patent application. Naturally, a disclaimer signed on behalf of a party who no longer has an ownership interest in the patent or patent application cannot be accepted since 35 U.S.C. 253 requires a disclaimer to be signed by the owner of the whole or any sectional interest in the patent or patent application.

Section 253 of Title 35 of the United States Code states that disclaimer of any complete claim in a patent may be made by the patentee. Furthermore, any terminal part of the patent granted or to be granted may be disclaimed by the patentee, or applicant, respectively. It was the recent policy of the Office to accept disclaimers only if signed by the owner of record. This policy was too restrictive in that it precluded authorized patent practitioners from signing disclaimers. Furthermore, it was often difficult to ascertain whether the person signing was in fact an officer of the entity owning rights to the application. Accordingly, the rules as adopted, permit an attorney or agent of record to sign terminal disclaimers.

If the patent or patent application is assigned to an organization, such as a corporation, partnership, university, Government agency, or similar entity, and the disclaimer is signed by the assignee, the assignee must comply with § 3.73(b). See "Taking Action in a Patent Matter Before the Office by the Assignee under 37 CFR 3.73", at 1150 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 62 (May 25, 1993). However, the rules, as adopted, permit an attorney or agent of record to sign a terminal disclaimer without the need to comply with § 3.73(b). Paragraph (a) of this section is further amended to refer only to disclaimers filed in patents. The Office does not record a disclaimer of part of a claim or claims. Hence, paragraph (a) of this section is amended to indicate that a disclaimer which does not disclaim a complete claim or claims will be refused recordation, rather than "may be refused recordation" as the rule read previously.

Paragraph (b) of this section is amended to refer only to terminal disclaimers filed in a patent application. Section 1.321(b) is also amended to include a reminder that the disclaimer is binding upon the grantee and its successors or assigns.

Paragraph (c) of this section incorporates the language of former paragraph (b) of this section concerning terminal disclaimers to obviate a double patenting rejection. This paragraph also includes reference to terminal disclaimers filed in reexamination proceedings for the same purpose.

(16) Publication of Notice of Proposed Amendments (Section 1.352(a))

Section 1.352(a) is amended to delete the language "and in other cases whenever practicable" so that the Office may engage in expedited rulemaking when publication of a notice of proposed amendments to regulations is not required by law.

(17) Time for Payment of Maintenance Fees (Section 1.362)

Section 1.362 is amended to clarify applicability and due dates for payment of maintenance fees. Paragraph (c)(3) of § 1.362 indicates that the actual filing date of a continuing application determines applicability of maintenance fees, while paragraph (c)(4) indicates that in the case of a reissue application, the filing date of the original non-reissue application determines applicability of maintenance fees. Some patentees and patent practitioners expressed confusion with respect to applicability of maintenance fees in the case of a continuing application of a reissue application. Uncertainty has been expressed as to whether this type of application would fall within paragraph (c) (3) or (c) (4). The amendment to 1.362(c)(4) clarifies that continuing reissue application of a reissue application is subject to maintenance fees only if the original (non-reissue) patent would be subject to such fees. These amendments also remove any confusion that may have existed with regard to the due dates for payment of maintenance fees in reissued patents by adding § 1.362(h) to specify that the due dates for payment of maintenance fees in such reissued patents are computed from the date of grant of the original (non-reissue) patent. The due dates for payment of maintenance fees in a reissued patent are computed from the date of grant of the original (non-reissue) patent. Note the distinction between a continuing reissue application of a reissue application, and a regular continuing application of a reissue application as discussed In re Bauman, 683 F.2d 405, 214 USPQ 585 (CCPA 1982).

In a notice entitled "Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees" published in the Federal Register at 56 FR 65142 (December 13, 1991), the Office announced an amendment to its rules of practice. Included in that notice was a change to paragraph (e) of § 1.362 which was not intended. See 56 FR at 65146. The portion of paragraph (e) which was not intended to be amended is changed back to its earlier version.

(18) Request by Applicant for Interference With Patent (Section 1.607)

Section 1.607(a)(5) (i) is amended to correct a typographical error in the spelling of the word "count".

(19) Export of Technical data (Section 5.19)

Section 5.19(a) is amended to correct the citations set forth in the rule and to update the name of the office in the Department of Commerce.

(20) Sharing legal fees (Section 10.48)

Section 10.48(b) is amended to correct a typographical error in the spelling of the word "deceased".

Response to Comments on the Rules

The comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking have been given careful consideration and a number of the suggested modifications have been adopted. The comments and responses are discussed below.

Comment: One comment inquired as to why the phrase by "serial number and filing date" was used in § 1.78(a), where as the phrase "application number (consisting of the series code and serial number, e.g., 07/123,456), or the serial number and filing date" was used in § 1.5(a).

Response: The inconsistency has been removed by having section 1.78(a) changed to use terminology consistent with § 1.5(a).

Comment: A number of comments directed to § 1.85(c) expressed concern that applications would become abandoned as a result of the proposal that fee extensions of time under § 1.136(a) could not be obtained for filing corrected drawings.

Response: The proposal that fee extensions of time under § 1.136(a) not be permitted for filing corrected drawings has been withdrawn.

Comment: Regarding § 1.85(c), one comment recommended that the Notice of Draftman's Patent Drawing Review (PTOL-948) include seperate boxes for each drawing objection (e.g., a seperate box for each of "pale," "rough," "blurred," and "jagged"); that drafting personnel be better trained to more completely communicate the objection to any particular drawing; and that the Notice of Allowability indicate for which specific figure formal drawings are required.

Response: The proposed rule changed to § 1.85(c) has been withdrawn. Questions concerning the Notice of Draftman's Patent Drawing Review may be referred to the Official Draftman at (703) 305-8335, and questions concerning any requirement on a Notice of Allowability should be directed to the examiner.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.153 and 1.154, a number of comments objected to the proposed requirement that the specification of a design application contain a statement of the nature and intended use of the article claimed.

Response: The proposed rule change regarding §§ 1.153 and 1.154 has been withdrawn. The Office will continue its current practice of mailing a request for information where the nature or intended use of the article is not evident in the application file.

Comment: Regarding § 1.153, one comment stated that the language of the proposed rule is unclear as to whether an abstract is required. The comment recommended that the Office should require an abstract and require it to provide the necessary information.

Response: As discussed above, the proposed rule change regarding §§ 1.153 and 1.154 has been withdrawn. The present rules do not require an Abstract. Suggestions concerning this issue may be directed to the Director of Examining Group 2900.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.193(b) and 1.194(b), one comment opposed the elimination of fee extensions in the filing of reply briefs and requests for oral hearings, as one month, while often a sufficient time to file a reply brief, is insufficient where counsel must communicate with a patent department or foreign applicants, especially where there is a delay between the time the Office mails the communication and it is received by counsel.

Response: The period for filing a reply brief or request for oral hearing has been changed to two months from the date of the examiner's answer. The period was extended to two months in this rulemaking, as adopted, to provide appellants adequate time to take appropriate action, and to provide a uniform period in the rules to file a reply brief or request an oral hearing.

Extensions of time for cause under § 1.136(b) will be available for those rare situations when an extension is necessary.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.193(b) and 1.194(b), one comment opposed the elimination of fee extensions in the filing of reply briefs and requests for oral hearings, as a one-month period for response is insufficient for sole practitioners and persons who do not maintain offices for the sole purpose of responding to Office communications.

Response: As discussed above, the period for filing a reply brief or request for oral hearing has been changed to two months from the date of the examiner's answer. This two-month period should be an adequate period of time for filing a reply brief or a request for an oral hearing. Extensions of time for cause under § 1.136(b) will be available for those rare situations when an extension is necessary.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.193(b) and 1.194(b), one comment deemed it reasonable and necessary that the Board have at its disposal all possible arguments. The refusal to enter a reply brief was characterized as an impediment to a decision based upon a complete record. Additionally, the comment argued that the refusal to enter a reply brief would result in attempts to enter the arguments under another guise, such as during oral argument or by filing a memorandum of oral argument.

Response: An appellant should present all arguments for patentability in the appeal brief. A reply brief should not be necessary to present a complete record, and would be inappropriate except in those case where the examiner has introduced a new point of argument or new ground of rejection in the examiner's answer.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.193(b) and 1 194(b), one comment noted that fee extensions for filing reply briefs and requests for oral hearings do not create any more of a delay in the final disposition of an appeal than a fee extension for filing the Notice of Appeal or the brief in support of the appeal.

Response: The comment reflects a misunderstanding of the appeal process and the handling of applications in which an appeal has been filed. Under the existing rules before this rulemaking, appellants were able, with the maximum four-month fee extension, to file reply briefs or request oral hearings up to six months after an examiner's answer. As a result, appeals otherwise ready for a decision were either held in the examining group for that period of time before transmittal to the Board or when transmitted to the Board earlier, were occasionally acted upon by a Board panel before the reply briefs or requests for oral hearing were filed, requiring the Board to vacate its decision. As the backlog of appeals awaiting a decision by the Board has been reduced, retaining applications in the examining group has resulted in unnecessarily prolonging the pendency of applications. Under the rules as adopted, appellants are generally given more time (two months instead of one month) to file a reply brief or request an oral hearing, and the Office minimizes the delay necessary before transmitting the appeal to the Board for decision.

Comment: Regarding § 1.193(b), one comment stated that an appeal should not be dismissed for failure to file a reply brief to a new ground of rejection made in the examiner's answer, unless the examiner's answer expressly states that there is a new ground of rejection. The comment suggests that this rule should recite "If the examiner's answer expressly states a new ground of rejection is being made...."

Response: The proposal has been adopted to the extent that the final rule, as adopted, states "If the examiner's answer expressly states that it includes a new ground of rejection, appellant must file a reply thereto within two months from the date of such answer to avoid dismissal of the appeal as to the claims subject to the new ground of rejection."

Comment: Regarding § 1.193(b), one comment recommended that appellants should be given three months to respond to a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer, as the current two-month time period is inadequate, and this period would be equal to the period given for response to rejections under § 1.106.

Response: This recommendation is not adopted. The Office experience has shown that the two-month period from the date of an examiner's answer has been an adequate period of time for filing a reply brief in response to a new ground of rejection. Also, it is desirable to set a uniform period of time in the rules to file a reply brief. Extensions of time for cause under § 1.136(b) will be available for those rare situations when an extension is necessary.

Comment: One comment recommended that appellants should be permitted to obtain fee extensions where the examiner's answer includes a new ground of rejection.

Response: This recommendation is not adopted. As indicated above, fee extensions for filing reply briefs have resulted in unnecessarily prolonging the pendency of applications. Extensions of time for cause under § 1.136(b) will be available for those rare situations when an extension is necessary.

Comment: Regarding §§ 1.193(b) and 1.194(b), one comment suggested that the rule be modified to permit the filing of a request for an oral hearing concurrently with a reply brief as one cannot appropriately determine the necessity for an oral hearing until a reply brief is drafted.

Response: Under the proposed rules, the time period for filing a request for an oral hearing was the later of one month from the date of an examiner's answer, or the date of filing a timely reply brief. Under the rules as adopted, an appellant has two months from the date of the examiner's answer to file a reply brief and request an oral hearing. Therefore, a request for oral hearing may be filed concurrently with a reply brief.

Comment: Regarding § 1.312, one comment recommended that amendments under § 1.312 be processed expeditiously, as the current system for the processing of such amendments is inadequate.

Response: Examiners are instructed to act promptly on all amendments under § 1.312. Any problems should be brought to the attention of the Group Director.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to permit persons other than the assignee of a patent application or patent to sign certain disclaimers, incorporate existing Office policy into the regulations and eliminate the opportunity to pay for extensions of time in certain situations where the extensions substantially interfere with the efficient operation of the Office.

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes contain collection-of-information requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., which has previously been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0011. Public reporting burden for these collections of information is estimated to average 0.1 hours each for fee extensions of time under § 1.136(a), and 0.2 hours each for disclaimers under § 1.321, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding these burden estimates, or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden, to Abraham Hershkovitz, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503 (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Project No. 0651-0031).

LIST OF SUBJECTS
37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Freedom of information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

37 CFR Part 5

Classified information, Exports, Foreign relations, Inventions and patents.

37 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Conflicts of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, Parts 1, 5 and 10 of title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below.

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.9, paragraph (d) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.9 Definitions.

* * * * *

(d) A small business concern as used in this chapter means any business concern as defined by the regulations of the Small Business Administration in 13 CFR 121.1301 through 121.1305, which define a small business concern as one whose number of employees, including those of its affiliates, does not exceed 500 persons and which has not assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, and is under no obligation under contract or law to assign, grant, convey or license, any rights in the invention to any person who could not be classified as an independent inventor if that person had made the invention, or to any concern which would not qualify as a small business concern or a nonprofit organization under this section. Questions related to size standards for a small business concern may be directed to: Small Business Administration, Size Standards Staff, 409 Third Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20416.

3. Section 1.13 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.13 Copies and certified copies.

(a) Non-certified copies of patents and trademark registrations and of any records, books, papers, or drawings within the jurisdiction of the Patent and Trademark Office and open to the public, will be furnished by the Patent and Trademark Office to any person, and copies of other records or papers will be furnished to persons entitled thereto, upon payment of the fee therefor.

(b) Certified copies of the patents and trademark registrations and of any records, books, papers, or drawings within the jurisdiction of the Patent and Trademark Office and open to the public or persons entitled thereto will be authenticated by the seal of the Patent and Trademark Office and certified by the Commissioner, or in his name attested by an officer of the Patent and Trademark Office authorized by the Commissioner, upon payment of the fee for the certified copy.

4. Section 1.14, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.14 Patent applications preserved in secrecy.

* * * * *

(b) Except as provided in § 1.11(b) abandoned applications are likewise not open to public inspection, except that if an application referred to in a U.S. patent, or in an application in which the applicant has filed an authorization to open the complete application to the public, is abandoned and is available, it may be inspected or copies obtained by any person on written request, without notice to the applicant. Complete applications (§ 1.51(a)) which are abandoned may be destroyed after 20 years from their filing date, except those to which particular attention has been called and which have been marked for preservation. Abandoned applications will not be returned.

5. Section 1.28, paragraph (c) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.28 Effect on fees of failure to establish status, or change status, as a small entity.

* * * * *

(c) If status as a small entity is established in good faith, and fees as a small entity are paid in good faith, in any application or patent, and it is later discovered that such status as a small entity was established in error or that through error the Patent and Trademark Office was not notified of a change in status as required by paragraph (b) of this section, the error will be excused (1) if any deficiency between the amount paid and the amount due is paid within three months after the date the error occurred or (2) if any deficiency between the amount paid and the amount due is paid more than three months after the date the error occurred and the payment is accompanied by a statement explaining how the error in good faith occurred and how and when the error was discovered. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. The deficiency is based on the amount of the fee, for other than a small entity, in effect at the time the deficiency is paid in full.

* * * * *

6. Section 1.55, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.55 Claim for foreign priority.

(a) An applicant may claim the benefit of the filing date of a prior foreign application under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 119 and 172. The claim to priority need be in no special form and may be made by the attorney or agent if the foreign application is referred to in the oath or declaration as required by § 1.63. The claim for priority and the certified copy of the foreign application specified in the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 119 must be filed:

(1) in the case of an interference (§ 1.630);

(2) when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner;

(3) when specifically required by the examiner; and

(4) in all cases, before the patent is granted. If the claim for priority or the certified copy of the foreign application is filed after the date the issue fee is paid, it must be accompanied by a petition requesting entry and by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1). If the certified copy filed is not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the case of an interference; or when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner, in which event an English language translation must be filed together with a statement that the translation of the certified copy is accurate. The statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office.

7. Section 1.78, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.78 Claiming benefit of earlier filing date and cross references to other applications.

(a)(1) An application may claim an invention disclosed in a prior filed copending national application or international application designating the United States of America. In order for an application to claim the benefit of a prior filed copending national application, the prior application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, the prior application must be

(i) complete as set forth in § 1.51; or

(ii) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16; or

(iii) entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21 (1) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(d).

(a)(2) Any application claiming the benefit of a prior filed copending national or international application must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to such prior application, identifying it by application number (consisting of the series code and serial number), or serial number and filing date or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate. (See § 1.14(b)).

8. Section 1.136, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.136 Filing of timely responses with petition and fee for extension of title for cause.

(a)(1) If an applicant is required to respond within a nonstatutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may respond up to four months after the time period set if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in § 1.17 are filed prior to or with the response, unless

(i) applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action,

(ii) the response is a reply brief submitted pursuant to§ 1.193(b),

(iii) the response is a request for an oral hearing submitted pursuant to § 1.194(b),

(iv) response is to a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304, or

(v) the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to § 1.611.)

(a)(2) The date on which the response, the petition, and the fee have been filed is the date of the response and also the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. In no case may an applicant respond later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time relating to proceedings pursuant to §§ 1.193(b), 1.194, 1.196 or 1.197. See § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action. See § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings and § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings.

* * * * *

9. Section 1.191, paragraph (d) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

* * * * *

(d) The time periods set forth in §§ 1.191 and 1.192 are subject to the provisions of § 1.136 for patent applications and § 1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings. The time periods set forth in §§ 1.193, 1.194, 1.196 and 1.197 are subject to the provisions of § 1.136(b) for patent applications or § 1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.192, paragraphs (a), (c) introductor text and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.192 Appellant's brief

(a) The appellant shall, within 2 months from the date of the notice of appeal under § 1.191 in an application, reissue application, or patent under reexamination, or within the time allowed for response to the action appealed from, if such time is later, file a brief in triplicate. The brief must be accompanied by the requisite fee set forth in § 1.17(f) and must set forth the authorities and arguments on which the appellant will rely to maintain the appeal. Any arguments or authorities not included in the brief may be refused consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(b) ***

(c) The brief shall contain the following items under appropriate headings and in the order here indicated unless there is no attorney or agent of record in the application or reexamination proceeding, the brief was not prepared by a registered practitioner, and the brief was not signed by a registered practitioner, wherein the brief will be accepted as complying with this paragraph provided it is at least in substantial compliance with the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2),(6) and (7):

* * * * *

(d) If a brief is filed which does not comply with the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section, the appellant will be notified of the reasons for non-compliance and provided with a period of one month within which to file an amended brief. If the appellant does not file an amended brief during the one-month period, or files an amended brief which does not overcome all the reasons for non-compliance stated in the notification, the appeal will be dismissed.

11. Section 1.193, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.193 Examiner's answer.

* * * * *

(b) The appellant may file a reply brief directed only to such new points of argument as may be raised in the examiner's answer, within two months from the date of such answer. The new points of argument shall be specifically identified in the reply brief. If the examiner determines that the reply brief is not directed only to new points of argument raised in the examiner's answer, the examiner may refuse entry of the reply brief and will so notify the appellant. If the examiner's answer expressly states that it includes a new ground of rejection, appellant must file a reply thereto within two months from the date of such answer to avoid dismissal of the appeal as to the claims subject to the new ground of rejection; such reply may be accompanied by any amendment or material appropriate to the new ground. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for filing a reply brief in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in a reexamination proceeding.

* * * * *

12. Section 1.194, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.194 Oral hearing.

* * * * *

(b) If appellant desires an oral hearing, appellant must file a written request for such hearing accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(g) within two months after the date of the examiner's answer. If appellant requests an oral hearing and submits therewith the fee set forth in § 1.17(g), an oral argument may be presented by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner if considered desirable by either the primary examiner or the Board. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for requesting an oral hearing in patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in a reexamination proceeding.

* * * * *

13. Section 1.196, paragraph (f) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

* * * * *

(f) See 1.136(b) for extensions of time to take action under this section in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in a reexamination proceeding.

14. Section § 1.197, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.197 Action following decision.

* * * * *

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless the original decision is so modified by the decision on reconsideration as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states. The request for reconsideration shall state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for seeking reconsideration in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time in a reexamination proceeding.

* * * * *

15. Section 1.312, paragraph (b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.312 Amendments after allowance.

* * * * *

(b) Any amendment pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section filed after the date the issue fee is paid must be accompanied by a petition including the fee set forth in § 1.17(i)(1) and a showing of good and sufficient reasons why the amendment is necessary and was not earlier presented.

16. Section 1.321 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.321 Statutory Disclaimers, including Terminal Disclaimers.

(a) A patentee owning the whole or any sectional interest in a patent may disclaim any complete claim or claims in a patent. In like manner any patentee may disclaim or dedicate to the public the entire term, or any terminal part of the term, of the patent granted. Such disclaimer is binding upon the grantee and its successors or assigns. A notice of the disclaimer is published in the Official Gazette and attached to the printed copies of the specification. The disclaimer, to be recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office, must:

(1) be signed by the patentee, or an attorney or agent of record;

(2) identify the patent and complete claim or claims, or term being disclaimed. A disclaimer which is not a disclaimer of a complete claim or claims, or term will be refused recordation;

(3) state the present extent of patentee's ownership interest in the patent; and

(4) be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.20(d).

(b) An applicant or assignee may disclaim or dedicate to the public the entire term, or any terminal part of the term, of a patent to be granted. Such terminal disclaimer is binding upon the grantee and its successors or assigns. The terminal disclaimer, to be recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office, must:

(1) be signed:(i) by the applicant, or

(ii) if there is an assignee of record of an undivided part interest, by the applicant and such assignee, or

(iii) if there is an assignee of record of the entire interest, by such assignee, or

(iv) by an attorney or agent of record;

(2) specify the portion of the term of the patent being disclaimed;

(3) state the present extent of applicant's or assignee's ownership interest in the patent to be granted; and

(4) be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.20(d).

(c) A terminal disclaimer, when filed to obviate a double patenting rejection in a patent application or in a reexamination proceeding, must:

(1) comply with the provisions of paragraphs (b)(2) through (b)(4) of this section;

(2) be signed in accordance with paragraph (b)(1) of this section if filed in a patent application, or in accordance with paragraph (a)(1) of this section if filed in a reexamination proceeding; and

(3) include a provision that any patent granted on that application or any patent subject to that reexamination proceeding shall be enforceable only for and during such period that said patent is commonly owned with the application or patent which formed the basis for the rejection.

17. Section 1.352 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.352 Publication of notice of proposed amendments.

(a) Whenever required by law, notice of proposed amendments to the regulations in this part will be published in the Official Gazette and in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If not published with the notice, copies of the text will be furnished to any person requesting the same. All comments, suggestions, and briefs received within a time specified in the notice will be considered before adoption of the proposed amendments which may be modified in the light thereof.

18. Section 1.362 is amended by revising paragraphs (c)(4)and (e) and adding paragraph (h) to read as follows:

§ 1.362 Time for maintenance fees.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(4) For a reissue application, including a continuing reissue application claiming the benefit of a reissue application under 35 USC 120, the United States filing date of the original non-reissue application on which the patent reissued is based.

* * * * *

(e) Maintenance fees may be paid with the surcharge set forth in 1.20(h) during the respective grace periods after:

(1) 3 years and 6 months and through the day of the 4th anniversary of the grant for the first maintenance fee.

(2) 7 years and 6 months and through the day of the 8th anniversary of the grant for the second maintenance fee, and

(3) 11 years and 6 months and through the day of the 12th anniversary of the grant for the third maintenance fee.

* * * * *

(h) The periods specified in §§ 1.362(d) and (e) with respect to a reissue application, including a continuing reissue application thereof, are counted from the date of grant of the original non-reissue application on which the reissued patent is based.

19. Section 1.607, paragraph (a)(5)(i) is revised to read as follows:

Patent and Trademark Office
Special Status for Patent Applications
Relating to Superconductivity

On Commercial Applications of Superconductivity, the President stated that "We need to strengthen patent laws to increase protection for manufacturing processes and speed up the patent process so that it can keep pace with the fast-paced world of high technology." The President also noted that "to most of us laymen, superconductivity was a completely new term, but it wasn't long before we learned of the great promise it held out to alter our world for the better - a quantum leap in energy efficiency that would bring with it a host of benefits, not least among them a reduced dependence on foreign oil, a cleaner environment, and a stronger national economy." The President's Superconductivity Initiative of even date included, as a major administrative component, a proposal "Directing the Patent and Trademark Office to accelerate the processing of patent applications and adjudication of disputes involving superconductivity technologies when requested by the applicants to do so."

In accordance with the President's proposal, the Patent and Trademark Office will, on request, accord "special" status to all patent applications for inventions involving superconductive materials. Examples of such inventions would include those directed to the superconductive materials themselves as well as to their manufacture and application. In order that the Patent and Trademark Office may implement this procedure, we invite all applicants desiring to participate in this program to request that their applications be accorded "special" status. Such requests should be in writing, should identify the application by serial number and filing date, and should be accompanied by a statement under 37 CFR 1.102 that the invention involves superconductive materials. No fee is required. The statement must be verified if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Decisions whether to accord "special" status on the basis of a request will be made by the appropriate Group Director.

Requests should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(94) Preparation for Processing High Temperature Superconductor Technology

In response to the President's Superconductivity Initiative announced on July 28, 1987 and with the expectation of the filing of increasing numbers of patent applications relating to higher temperature superconductors, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office has taken a number of steps to prepare for the effective handling of applications on this subject matter.

These actions include (1) establishing a special Task Force to prepare for the processing of patent applications for higher temperature superconductor technology; (2) making patent applications relating to this technology special on request of the applicant and (3) renewing support for legislation providing for an expanded scope of protection for process patents to cover products made by the patented process.

The responsibilities of the Task Force are to (1) coordinate the development of a Patent and Trademark Office capability to examine the expected large number of patent applications in this area and (2) provide an information resource and sounding board for legal and practice questions and policy development in this area. The Task Force has been assigned a number of specific tasks, such as developing a complete search file on superconductivity technology for the use of Examiners and the public, establishing a training program for examiners on the technology and assuring a uniform and consistent application of the patent law to the technology in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.

RIN 0651-AA35

Amendment of Patent and Trademark Rules concerning Judicial Review of Decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and other Miscellaneous Matters.

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, relating to (1) decisions of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (BPAI), (2) requests for reconsideration of decisions of the BPAI and the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB), (3) extensions of time in proceedings after a decision by the BPAI under §§ 1.196 and 1.197, (4) practices concerning judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB, (5) extensions of time for seeking judicial review of BPAI and TTAB decisions and (6) miscellaneous changes in the practice before the BPAI and housekeeping amendments.

Two recent decisions of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit have held that even though the BPAI includes a new ground for rejection in its decision under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3), appellants may appeal directly to the Federal Circuit without first seeking reconsideration at the BPAI. Where judicial review is sought without requesting reconsideration, the arguments against the new ground of rejection are developed for the first time during court proceedings. The amendments require that appellants seek reconsideration of the new ground of rejection prior to appeal or commencement of a civil action.

Experience under the previous rules relating to judicial review of final board decisions indicated that the rules may have been confusing in certain respects relating to the time in which judicial review must be sought and the manner in which extensions of time for seeking judicial review may be obtained. The rules eliminate any confusion as to when judicial review must be sought and standardize the manner of obtaining extensions of time to seek judicial review.

The rules also make clarifying and housekeeping amendments with respect to practice before the BPAI.
Effective Date: August 20, 1989.

Background

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register at 54 Fed. Reg. 11009 (March 16, 1989) and at 1101 Official Gazette 6 (April 4, 1989). No oral hearing was held and no written comments were received.

Discussion of Specific Rules

(1) Decisions of the BPAI and requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Only final decisions of the BPAI and TTAB are subject to judicial review. 35 U.S.C. §§ 141, 145; U.S.C. § 1071; 28 U.S.C. § 1295 (a)(4)(A) and (B).

Section 1.196(b) provides that if the BPAI has knowledge of any grounds, not involved in the appeal, for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in its decision a statement to that effect. The statement then constitutes a new rejection of the claims. The previous rules permitted appellants to treat the decision as a final decision in the case and thus immediately appealable. 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3) (1988). Therefore, when an appellant proceeded under this option, arguments against the new rejection were presented for the first time to the reviewing court.

A recent decision by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit rejected the Commissioner's argument that an appellant should not be permitted to contest the BPAI's new ground for rejection because it had not requested reconsideration of that ground by the BPAI. In re Evanega, 829 F.2d 1110, 1113, 4 USPQ 2d 1249, 1252 (Fed. Cir. 1987). See also In re Nielson, 816 F.2d 1567, 1570, 2 USPQ 2d 1525, 1527 (Fed. Cir. 1987). In Evanega, the Commissioner urged that requiring appellants to request reconsideration, where the BPAI adopts a new ground for rejection, would provide the BPAI with an opportunity to consider appellant's arguments and correct any errors while the case was still in the PTO. This conserves judicial resources, and in any event, obtains the benefit of the BPAI's view should judicial review ultimately be sought. The court held, however, that in view of PTO regulations (37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3)) which "expressly provide that the board's decision, even if based on a new ground, is a final determination and thus may be appealed without seeking reconsideration," appellant could not be required to request reconsideration by the BPAI. Id.

The new rule changes eliminate 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(3). By removing § 1.196(b)(3), appellants no longer have the option of treating a new ground of rejection as final and immediately appealable. Appellants' options are limited to requesting remand to the examiner or requesting reconsideration by the BPAI as set forth in §§ 1.196(b)(1) and 1.196(b)(2). The preamble of § 1.196(b) has been amended to specifically recite that a new ground of rejection shall not be considered a final decision for judicial review.

Appellants still may elect further prosecution before the examiner under 37 CFR § 1.196(b)(1) or request reconsideration under 1.196(b)(2). The option of § 1.196(b)(2) requires that any request for reconsideration address the new ground of rejection and specifically state the reasons why the new ground was in error. Section 1.196(b)(2) also provides that the BPAI will reconsider the new rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision. The decision on reconsideration will be deemed to incorporate the earlier decision except for any portions of the earlier decision specifically withdrawn.

Reconsideration or remand need not be requested if appellant does not contest the new ground. Appellants may seek judicial review as to claims not subject to the new ground.

Section 1.196(a) expressly provides for remands to the examiner for further consideration. The BPAI has inherent authority, as part of its role in reviewing standards of patentability applied in the PTO, to remand applications to the examiner for further consideration. Cf. Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP) §§ 1211 and 1212. The change merely makes express that which is inherent.

The amendments also delete the portion of former § 1.196(d) which provides (1) that any decision which includes a remand shall not be a final decision for the purposes of judicial review and (2) that upon conclusion of the proceedings on remand the BPAI may enter an order making its decision final. Those provisions have been included as new § 1.196(e). Under this paragraph, decisions pursuant to § 1.196(b) would not be final as to the claims subject to a new rejection.

The last sentence of former § 1.196(b)(1) has been deleted and placed in new § 1.196(e).

(2) Requests for reconsideration of BPAI and TTAB decisions

Section 1.197(b) provides that any request for reconsideration must specifically state the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in the BPAI's decision. Experience has shown that many requests for reconsideration are nothing more than reargument of appellant's position on appeal. The provision, as adopted, limits requests to the points of law or fact which appellant feels were overlooked or misapprehended by the BPAI.

The amendments also clarify the exception found in the first sentence of § 1.197(b) by including specific references to the "original decision" and the "decision on reconsideration." Some confusion had been noted with respect to the meaning of the current language. In order to simplify calculation of times for requesting recosideration of the decisions of the boards, §§ 1.658(b), 2.129(c), and 2.144 specify a period of one month rather than the periods expresed in days. Section 1.197(a) already specified a one-month period.

(3) Extensions of time after a decision by the BPAI to take action under §§ 1.196 and 1.197

Appellants in patent cases may no longer use fee extensions under § 1.136(a) to extend the time for making an election under § 1.196(b) or seeking reconsideration under § 1.197.

Under previous rules appellants could request reconsideration of a BPAI decision up to five months after a decision or file a response to a new ground of rejection up to six months after the decision. This inordinately delayed final disposition of appeals. Section 1.136(a) provides that fee extensions are not available to file responses to a BPAI decision pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. One month is deemed to be ample time to submit a request for reconsideration. Note that Fed. R. Civ. P. 59 provides 10 days and Fed. R. App. P. 40 provides 14 days for similar requests. Extensions under § 1.136(b) will be available to extend the time to file a response under §§ 1.196 and 1.197. Section 1.304(a) exclusively governs extensions of time to file a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action. See further discussion below.

Section 1.136(a) specifically refers to § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to file responses under §§ 1.196 and 1.197 and refers to § 1.304 for extensions of time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.196(f) and 1.197(b) correlatively reference § 1.136(b) for extensions of time.

Fee extensions are not available to extend the time for electing further prosecution before the examiner under § 1.196(b)(1). Where an appellant elects further prosecution before the examiner, fee extensions under § 1.136(a) remain available to respond to the primary examiner's Office actions.

(4) Time for seeking judicial review of decisions of the BPAI and TTAB

Under previous rules, judicial review of final decisions of the BPAI or TTAB had to be sought within sixty days of the decision or thirty days after a decision on reconsideration. However, where a decision on reconsideration was, in effect, a new decision, it was not always clear whether the time for appeal was thirty or sixty days. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.146(d)(1) provide a two-month period to appeal from either the date of the decision or the decision on a timely filed request for reconsideration.

Some problems have been noted with respect to the time for seeking judicial review in days. Miscalculations of the statutory sixty-day time period have resulted in filing untimely requests for judicial review. In order to simplify calculation of the time for seeking judicial review, §§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify two months. The two-month period meets the sixty-day requirement of 35 U.S.C. §§ 142, 145 and 146 and 15 U.S.C. §§ 1071(a)(2) and (b)(1) except for time periods which include February 28. In order to comply with the sixty-day requirement, §§ 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) provide that an additional day shall be added to any two-month period for initiating judicial review which includes February 28. Appeals will always be timely if the judicial review is initiated within two months of the final decision.

Previously, the rules did not specify a time period for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action in inter partes cases. The absence of such a time period made it difficult for parties and their attorneys to make appropriate plans for judicial review. For example, in an interference where there has been a split judgment, one of the parties may be satisfied with the judgment but may desire to appeal the adverse judgment only if an appeal is noted by the other party. Where the appeal is filed on the last possible day, a cross-appeal is precluded. Sections 1.304(a) and 2.145(d)(1) specify that the time for filing a cross-appeal or commencing a cross-action expires (1) fourteen days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the decision to be reviewed, whichever is later.

Similarly, no provision for filing a cross-action was provided where an appellee elects to have further proceedings conducted in the district court pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 146 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). Section 1.304(c) and 2.145(d)(3) provide that the time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The district court will determine whether any cross-action was timely filed since neither the complaint nor cross-action is filed in the PTO.

(5) Extensions of time to seek judicial review

In the past, standards for granting requests for extensions of time to take an appeal or commence a civil action varied depending upon which board was involved and upon the particular type proceeding before the board. For example, extensions relating to patent applications could be obtained by paying the appropriate fee under 1.136(a). However, in reexamination proceedings or when judicial review was sought from a decision of the TTAB, the requester must demonstrate sufficient cause under § 1.550(c) or § 2.145(d)(1). The rules standardize the manner in which an extension of time to initiate judicial review may be obtained. The PTO has adopted a standard which is similar to the standard used in the Federal courts for granting extensions. Under the rules the Commissioner may extend the time (1) for good cause if requested before the expiration of the time provided for initiating judicial review or (2) upon a showing of excusable neglect in failing to initiate judicial review if requested after the expiration of the time period. This standard will be applicable in both trademark and patent proceedings (§§ 1.304(a) and 2.145(e)) once the "last" decision, i.e., either the decision (in circumstances where no timely reconsideration is sought) or the decision on reconsideration, of either board has been entered. In patent cases, extensions of time under § 1.136(b) and § 1.550(c) and fee extensions under 37 CFR § 1.136(a) are no longer available to extend the time for the purpose of judicial review once a decision or a decision on reconsideration has been entered. Section 1.304(a) states that the provisions of §§ 1.136 and 1.550(c) are not available to extend the time to initiate judicial review. Sections 1.136(a), 1.136(b), 1.191(d), 1.550(c), 1.645(a) and (b) refer to § 1.304 for extensions of time for seeking judicial review after a decision has been entered. Section 1.645(a) has been amended by (1) adding the introductory phrase "Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action," to the first sentence and (2) deleting the references to filing a notice of appeal or commencing a civil action in the second sentence.

In view of the amendments to §§ 1.197 and 1.304, relating to extensions of time to seek reconsideration or initiate judicial review, § 1.191(d) does not refer to §§ 1.196 and 1.197.

(6) Miscellaneous amendments

In the past, appellants could use fee extensions to delay the time for requesting an oral hearing at the BPAI. This delays final disposition of the appeal and causes administrative problems and duplication of effort due to the transfer of the appeal to the hearing docket. Section 1.191(d) no longer refers to § 1.194. Fee extensions are no longer available to extend the time for requesting an oral hearing. Extensions under § 1.136(b) are available to extend the time to request an oral hearing.

Section 1.191(b) has been rewritten as one sentence without any change in substance.

Some confusion has resulted as to who has jurisdiction over a patent application after a notice of appeal to the BPAI has been filed. Problems arose, for example, as to the appropriate PTO official to decide certain petitions and other matters after an appeal has been filed. MPEP § 1210 indicates that jurisdiction over the application normally passes at one of five possible times listed therein. Section 1.191 includes a new section (e) which provides that jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when the application or reexamination file including all briefs and examiner's answers is transmitted to the BPAI. Thus, jurisdiction transfers to the BPAI when all written submissions by the applicant and the examiner have been entered and the application papers have been forwarded to the BPAI.

New paragraph 1.191(e) also includes a provision that the Commissioner, prior to the time the BPAI renders its decision, may sua sponte order that an application be remanded to the examiner for further consideration. This provision merely makes explicit the inherent authority of the Commissioner to direct and supervise the examination of patent applications.

Under previous rules there was some confusion as to when "termination of proceedings" occurs. Section 1.197(c) provides that proceedings are "terminated" when the Federal Circuit's mandate is received by the PTO or after the time for appeal from the judgment of the district court in a civil action under 35 U.S.C. § 145 has expired. The language "In such cases," in the second sentence of former 1.197(c) has been eliminated since it was superfluous and may have been confusing.

The rules delete the phrase "that he or she elects" and substitutes "electing" therefor in §§ 1.304(c) and 2.145(c)(3), as amended. The amendment merely changes wording without any change in substance.

Section 1.196(b) changes the verb "make" to "makes" to conform the verb to the singular subject of the sentence.

Sections 1.301, 1.303, 2.145(a)(2) and 2.145(c)(3) no longer refer to transmittal of the certified list and certified copies of the notice of election to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit under 35 U.S.C. § 141 or 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(1). These procedures are required by applicable statutes or Court Rules and are unnecessary in the PTO's regulations.

Sections 1.304(a), 1.304(c), 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) include a statement that the certificate of mailing provisions of § 1.8 are not applicable. No substantive change is involved since the inapplicability of § 1.8 is already stated in §§ 1.8(a)(2)(viii) and (ix).

Sections 1.304(b) and 2.145(d)(2) recite "Federal holiday in the District of Columbia" rather than "legal holiday." These changes merely conform the language of these sections with the language of 35 U.S.C. § 21(b) and 37 CFR § 1.7.

Section 2.145(c)(2) and (3) include changes in wording without any change in substance.

Other Considerations

These rules will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources.

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 350 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354]. The rule change requiring appellants to request reconsideration under the specific circumstances set forth is not expected to result in an increase of fees charged by attorneys and agents to entities, including small entities, since the rule change is intended to eliminate erroneous grounds for rejection prior to appeal and in some instances is expected to eliminate the need for appeal.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the national government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612. The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

For the reasons given in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below.

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.136 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.136 Filing of timely responses with petition and fee for extension of time and extensions of time for cause.

(a) If an applicant is required to respond within a non-statutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may respond up to four months after the time period set if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in § 1.17 are filed prior to or with the response, unless (1) applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action, (2) the application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to § 1.611 or (3) the response is to a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to §§ 1.196, 1.197 or 1.304. The date on which the response, the petition, and the fee have been filed is the date of the response and also the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. In no case may an applicant respond later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time relating to proceedings pursuant to §§ 1.196 or 1.197, § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

(b) When a response with petition and fee for extension of time cannot be filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the time for response will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the applicant is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. In no case can any extension carry the date on which response to an Office action is due beyond the maximum time period set by statute or be granted when the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section are available. See § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action, § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

3. Section 1.191 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (d) and adding paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

* * * * *

(b) The appeal in an application or reexamination proceeding must identify the rejected claim or claims appealed, and must be signed by the applicant, patent owner or duly authorized attorney or agent.

* * * * *

(d) The time periods set forth in §§ 1.191 through 1.193 are subject to the provisions of § 1.136 for patent applications or § 1.550(c) for reexamination proceedings. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

(e) Jurisdiction over the application or patent under reexamination passes to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon transmittal of the file, including all briefs and examiner's answers, to the Board. Prior to the entry of a decision on the appeal, the Commissioner may sua sponte order the application remanded to the examiner.

4. Section 1.196 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) and adding new paragraphs (e) and (f) to read as follows:

§ 1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences

(a) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, in its decision, may affirm or reverse the decision of the examiner in whole or in part on the grounds and on the claims specified by the examiner or remand the application to the examiner for further consideration. The affirmance of the rejection of a claim on any of the grounds specified constitutes a general affirmance of the decision of the examiner on that claim, except as to any ground specifically reversed.

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any appealed claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement shall constitute a new rejection of the claims. A new rejection shall not be considered final for the purpose of judicial review. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new rejection of an appealed claim, the appellant may exercise either of the following two options with respect to the new ground:

(1) The appellant may submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner. The statement shall be binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground for rejection stated in the decision. Should the examiner again reject the application the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(2) The appellant may have the case reconsidered under § 1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. The request for reconsideration shall address the new ground for rejection and state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. Where request for such reconsideration is made the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall reconsider the new ground for rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds upon which a patent is refused. The decision on reconsideration is deemed to incorporate the earlier decision, except for those portions specifically withdrawn on reconsideration, and is final for the purpose of judicial review.

(d) Although the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences normally will confine its decision to a review of rejections made by the examiner, should it have knowledge of any grounds for rejecting any allowed claim it may include in its decision a recommended rejection of the claim and remand the case to the examiner. In such event, the Board shall set a period, not less than one month, within which the appellant may submit to the examiner an appropriate amendment, a showing of facts or reasons, or both, in order to avoid the grounds set forth in the recommendation of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. The examiner shall be bound by the recommendation and shall enter and maintain the recommended rejection unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record is filed which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the recommended rejection. Should the examiner make the recommended rejection final the applicant may again appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(e) Whenever a decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences includes or allows a remand, that decision shall not be considered a final decision. When appropriate, upon conclusion of proceedings on remand before the examiner, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may enter an order otherwise making its decision final.

(f) See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time to take action under this section.

5. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.197 Action following decision

* * * * *

(b) A single request for reconsideration or modification of the decision may be made if filed within one month from the date of the original decision, unless the original decision is so modified by the decision on reconsideration as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states. The request for reconsideration shall state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which reconsideration is sought. See 37 CFR § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for seeking reconsideration.

(c) Termination of proceedings. Proceedings are considered terminated by the dismissal of an appeal or the failure to timely file an appeal to the court or a civil action (§ 1.304) except: (1) where claims stand allowed in an application or (2) where the nature of the decision requires further action by the examiner. The date of termination of proceedings is the date on which the appeal is dismissed or the date on which the time for appeal to the court or review by civil action (§ 1.304) expires. If an appeal to the court or a civil action has been filed, proceedings are considered terminated when the appeal or civil action is terminated. An appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit is terminated when the mandate is received by the Office. A civil action is terminated when the time to appeal the judgment expires.

6. Section 1.301 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.301 Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

Any applicant or any owner of a patent involved in a reexamination proceeding dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, and any party to an interference dissatisfied with the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal: (a) In the Patent and Trademark Office file a written notice of appeal directed to the Commissioner (see §§ 1.302 and 1.304); and (b) in the Court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

7. Section 1.303 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.303 Civil Action under 35 U.S.C. 145, 146, 306.

* * * * *

(c) If any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an interference proceeding files notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (§ 1.302), that he or she elects to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in 35 U.S.C. 146. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 1.646.

8. Section 1.304 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later. The time periods set forth in this section are not subject to the provisions of §§ 1.136, 1.550(c) or 1.645(a) or (b). The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal. See 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(b) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of the time specified for appeal of commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(c) If a defeated party to an interference has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under 35 U.S.C. 141 electing to have all further proceedings conducted under 35 U.S.C. 146 (§ 1.303(c)), the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in 35 U.S.C. 141. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal of cross-appeal. See 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

9. Section 1.550 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.550 Conduct of reexamination proceedings

* * * * *

(c) The time for taking any action by a patent owner in a reexamination proceeding will be extended only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for such extension must be filed on or before the day on which action by the patent owner is due, but in no case will the mere filing of the request effect any extension. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action.

* * * * *

10. Section 1.645 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.645 Extension of time, late papers, stay of proceedings

(a) Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action. The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the examiner-in-chief before expiration of the time for taking action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an examiner-in-chief sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proven through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed, will not be considered except upon motion (§ 1.635) which shows sufficient cause why the paper was not timely filed. See § 1.304(a) for exclusive procedures relating to belated filing of a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or belated commencement of a civil action.

11. Section 1.658 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.658 Final Decision

* * * * *

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within one month after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any reply to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Where reasonably possible, service of the request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished by hand or "Express Mail." The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision.

* * * * *

PART 2 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

12. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

13. Section 2.129 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 2.129 Oral argument; reconsideration

* * * * *

(c) Any request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of a decision issued after final hearing must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. A brief in response must be filed within fifteen days from the date of service of the request. The times specified may be extended by order of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board on motion for good cause.

14. Section 2.144 is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.144 Reconsideration of decision on ex parte appeal

Any request for rehearing or reconsideration, or modification of the decision, must be filed within one month from the date of the decision. Such time may be extended by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board upon a showing of sufficient cause.

15. Section 2.145 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c)(2), (c)(3), (d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(3) and adding new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 2.145 Appeal to court and civil action.

(a) Appeal to U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. An applicant for registration, or any party to an interference, opposition, or cancellation proceeding or any party to an application to register as a concurrent user, hereinafter referred to as inter partes proceedings, who is dissatisfied with the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board and any registrant who has filed an affidavit or declaration under section 8 of the Act or who has filed an application for renewal and is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner (§§ 2.165, 2.184), may appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The appellant must take the following steps in such an appeal:

(1) In the Patent and Trademark Office give written notice of appeal to the Commissioner (see paragraphs (b) and (d) of this section);

(2) In the court, file a copy of the notice of appeal and pay the fee for appeal, as provided by the rules of the Court.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(2) Any applicant or registrant in an ex parte case who takes an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit waives any right to proceed under section 21(b) of the Act.

(3) Any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an inter partes proceeding may file a notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (paragraph (b) of this section), electing to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in section 21(b) of the Act. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 2.119. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of election. See § 1.8(a)(2)(viii).

(d) Time for appeal or civil action. (1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§ 2.127(b), 2.129(c) or 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In inter partes cases, the time for filing a cross-action or a notice of a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, whichever is later. The certificate of mailing practice of § 1.8 is not available for filing a notice of appeal or cross-appeal See § 1.8(a)(2)(ix).

(2) The times specified in this section in days are calendar days. The times specified herein in months are calendar months except that one day shall be added to any two-month period which includes February 28. If the last day of time specified for an appeal, or commencing a civil action falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday in the District of Columbia, the time is extended to the next day which is neither a Saturday, Sunday nor a Federal holiday.

(3) If a party to an inter partes proceeding has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under section 21(a)(1) of the Act electing to have all further proceedings conducted under section 21(b) of the Act, the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in section 21(a)(1) of the Act. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint.

(e) Extensions of time to commence judicial review. The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action (1) for good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or (2) upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

(96) Advance Notice of Changes to MPEP § 1206 and § 2309

This memorandum is to provide advance notice of changes that will be made to MPEP § 1206 and § 2309 relating, respectively, to the requirements for an appeal brief and preparation of interference papers by an examiner. These changes will appear in the next revision of the Manual. The changes will be based on the final rules relating to patent appeal and interference proceedings, which were published in the Federal Register on March 17, 1995 at 60 FR 14488 and in the Official Gazette on April 11, 1995 at 1173 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 36. The effective date of these rule changes is April 21, 1995.

37 CFR 1.192(c) relating to the content of an appeal brief has been changed so that it does not apply to pro se applicants, and in that two additional items have been added. In particular, the appellant must identify in the brief, the real party in interest and any related appeals and interferences. Accordingly, examiners must review appeal briefs filed on or after April 21, 1995 for the presence of the following items under appropriate headings: (1) Real party in interest; (2) Related appeals and interferences; (3) Status of claims; (4) Status of amendments; (5) Summary of invention; (6) Issues; (7) Grouping of claims; (8) Argument; and (9) Appendix. Examiners should continue to refer to MPEP § 1206 (6th ed., Jan. 1995) for the standards for reviewing items (3) through (9). Under the revised rules, a brief filed by a pro se applicant should be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

Examiners should not be unduly rigid in reviewing appeal briefs for compliance with the requirements of the rule. For example, if no amendment has been filed after final rejection, a new brief should not be required solely because the brief omits having some statement after the heading for item (4), status of amendments.

37 CFR 1.192(d) has been amended to indicate that "the appeal will stand dismissed" if the appellant does not timely file an amended brief, or files an amended brief which does not overcome all the reasons for noncompliance of which the appellant was notified.

Regarding the preparation of interference papers by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.609(b)(1) has been amended to require the examiner to explain why the counts define different patentable inventions if there is more than one count proposed. 37 CFR 1.609(b)(2) has been amended to require the examiner to identify the claims of any application or patent which correspond to each count and explain why each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count. 37 CFR 1.609(b)(3) has been amended to require the examiner to identify the claims in any application or patent which do not correspond to each count and to explain why each claim designated as not corresponding to any count is not directed to the same patentable invention as any count.

The above changes will take effect on April 21, 1995.

37 CFR Part 1
Patent Interference Practice - Separate Patentability of Claims

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposes to amend its rules of practice in patent interference cases. In re Van Geuns, interpreted patent interference rules in a manner different from the manner in which the rules are interpreted by the Commissioner. The Federal Circuit held that the rules authorize a party to argue the separate patentability of claims that the PTO designates as corresponding to a single count. Under PTO rules, however, every claim designated to correspond to a count shall be directed to a single inventive concept. PTO proposes to amend the interference rules to specifically overcome the Federal Circuit's interpretation of the rules in Van Geuns. PTO proposes to specify that unless a party files a preliminary motion to contest the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count, the party shall be deemed to have conceded that all claims designated as corresponding to a count are unpatentable if any claim designated as corresponding to the count is held to be unpatentable and may not argue to an examiner-in-chief or the separate patentability of claims designated to correspond to the count. PTO also proposes to specify that when an examiner-in-chief in an interference becomes aware of a reason why a claim corresponding to a count may not be patentable, the examiner-in-chief may enter an order notifying the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views, which may include a preliminary motion. The rules would further specify that an opponent may file an opposition to any preliminary motion and that the party would file a reply to an opposition.

These rules will apply prospectively except when an examiner-in-chief notifies a party in an interference to the contrary. If a party is notified, the party will be given an opportunity to respond regarding the patentability of a count in the interference.

Dates: Comments must be submitted on or before Sept. 24, 1993.

Addresses: Address written comments to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Fred E. McKelvey, Solicitor. Written comments will be available for public inspection in Suite 918, on the 9th floor of Crystal Park II, located at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine who, as between two or more applicants for patent or one or more applicants and one or more patentees, is the first inventor of a patentable invention.

A primary examiner determines in the first instance whether the claims in an application interfere with the claims in another application or a patent. When the examiner is of the view that an interference exists, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) is notified. 37 CFR § 1.609. An examiner-in-chief, i.e., a member of the Board, is assigned to each interference. The interference is declared by the examiner-in-chief. 37 CFR § 1.610(a).

Each separately patentable invention involved in the interference is defined by a count. The count is a vehicle for contesting priority of invention (i.e., who made the invention defined by the count first) and determining the evidence relevant to the issue of priority. Squires v. Corbett, 560 F2d. 424, 433, 194 USPQ 513, 519 (CCPA 1977); Case v. CPC Int'l, Inc., 730 F.2d 745, 749, 221 USPQ 196, 200 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 872 (1984); In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d at 1184, 26 USPQ2d at 1058-59 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Each claim of any application or patent to be involved in the interference is designated to correspond to the count or not to correspond to the count. A preliminary determination is made by the PTO as to which claims should be designated to correspond to the count. The claims that are initially determined to define the same patentable invention as the count are designated to correspond to the count. All other claims are designated as not corresponding to the count. The designation of claims as corresponding or not corresponding provides a starting point in an interference. Under PTO practice, there is a presumption that the designation of a claim as corresponding or not corresponding to a count is correct.

The rules authorize a party to file a preliminary motion to redefine an interference by designating a claim as corresponding or not corresponding to a count. 37 CFR § 1.633(c)(3) and (4). Prior to Van Geuns, the PTO had interpreted the rules to require a preliminary motion to designate a claim as not corresponding to a count as a condition to being able to argue to an examiner-in-chief or the Board that the claim is separately patentable from the other claims designated to correspond to the count. See Brooks v. Street, 16 USPQ2d 1374, 1378, (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1990); Flehmig v. Giesa 13 USPQ2d 1052, 1054, (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1989); Kwon v. Perkins, 6 USPQ2d 1747, 1751 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1988), aff'd on other grounds, 886 F.2d 325, 12 USPQ2d 1308 (Fed. Cir. 1989); see also Lamont v. Berquer, 7 USPQ2d 1580, 1582 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1988). In Van Geuns, however, the Federal Circuit interpreted the rules differently, stating:

"[T]he position of the Commissioner that claims designated as corresponding to a count stand or fall with the patentability of the subject matter of the count is overbroad." 988 F.2d at 1185, 26 USPQ2d as 1060. The Federal Circuit further stated:

"[W]e conclude that a party to an interference, who has failed to timely contest the designation of claims corresponding to a count, has not conceded that the claims corresponding to a count are anticipated or made obvious [i.e., are unpatentable] by the prior art when the subject matter of the count is determined to be unpatentable for obviousness. The PTO must determine, based n the actual prior art reference or references, whether claims not [designated as] corresponding exactly to the count are unpatentable."

Id. at _, 26 USPQ2d at 1060. The Federal Circuit still further stated:

"The interference rules do not specify whether a party may argue the patentability of claims separately to the EIC [examiner-in-chief] and the board."

Id. at _, 26 USPQ2d at 1060.

The changes proposed to the interference rules are designed to overcome the Federal Circuit's statement.

Subsection (f) of 37 CFR § 1.601, as proposed to be amended, would clarify that claims are designated to correspond to a count. The designation constitutes a rebuttable presumption that, with respect to patentability, the claims stand or fall with the count.

Subsection (f) would also eliminate the "but which defines the same patentable invention as the count" language, thereby eliminating the definition of "same patentable invention" in 37 CFR § 1.601(n) from the designation of claims that correspond substantially to a count. The purpose of the proposed changes is to overcome the Federal Circuit's Van Geuns' statement that "[i]f a party does not timely contest the designation of claims, there is in effect a concession that all of the designated claims would be anticipated or made obvious if the count were actually prior art." Id. at _, 26 USPQ2d at 1060.

Finally, the definition of a "phantom count" would be revised to clarify that it is unpatentable to the parties under 35 U.S.C. § 112.

Subsection (k) of 37 CFR § 1.633, as proposed to be amended, would provide that a party who fails to contest, by way of a timely preliminary motion under 37 CFR § 1.633, the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count may not subsequently argue to an examiner-in-chief or the Board the separate patentability of claims designated to correspond to a count.

The first sentence of section 1.641, as proposed to be amended, would be redesignated subsection (a) and would clarify that the Examiner-in-Chief would notify the parties by order of the unpatentability of claims designated as corresponding to a count. The word "corresponding" would be changed to "designated to correspond" to conform with the proposed revision to subsection 1.601(f). Proposed subsection (a) would also indicate that responses to the order may include argument and any preliminary motion permitted under § 1.633(c), (d), or (h) as well as any supporting evidence.

A new subsection (b) would be added to section 1.641 that would specify that the opposition and reply practice undersection 1.638 applies to a preliminary motion filed in response to the Examiner-in-Chief's order under subsection (a) of this section.

Finally, the last sentence of the current section, 1.641 would be redesignated as subsection (c) and would include a reference to the preliminary motions under section 1.633 permitted under the revision to subsection (a) of this section.

These rules will apply prospectively except when an examiner-in-chief notifies a party in an interference to the contrary. If a party is notified, the party will be given an opportunity to respond regarding the patentability of a count in the interference.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these proposed rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these proposed changes would be to clarify the procedure for arguing the patentability of claims corresponding to a count in patent interferences and thereby eliminate any confusion, delay, or redundancy that might result from misinterpretation of the current rules.

The Office has determined that this proposed rule change is not a major rule change, under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act. 1980, 44 U.S.C 3501 et seq., since no record-keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents. For the reasons set out in the preamble, it is proposed to amend 37 CFR part 1 wherein removals are indicated by brackets ([ ]) and additions by arrows (cb) as follows:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.601 is proposed to be amended by revising Paragraph (f) to read as follows:

§ 1.601 Scope of rules, definitions.

* * * * *

(f) A "count" defines the interfering subject matter between:
(1) two or more applications or
(2) one or more applications and one or more patents.

When there is more than one count, each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any claim of an application or patent [which] cthat is designated tob correspond[s] to a count is a claim involved in an interference within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 135(a). A claim of a patent or invention cthatb [which] is identical to a count is said to "correspond exactly" to the count. A claim of a patent or application cthatb [which] is not identical to a count [, but which defines the same patentable invention as the count,] is said to correspond substantially" to the count. When a count is broader in scope than all claims cthatb [which] correspond to the count, the count is a "phantom count." A phantom count is not patentable to any party under 35 U.S.C. 112.

* * * * *

3. Section 1.633 is proposed to be amended by adding a new paragraph (k) to read as follows:

§ 1.633 Preliminary motions.

* * * * *

(k) A party who fails to contest, by way of a timely filed preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count may not subsequently argue to an Examiner-in-Chief or the Board the separate patentability or the lack of separate patentability of claims designated to correspond to the count.

4. Section 1.641 is proposed to be revised as follows:

Unpatentability Discovered by Examiner-in-Chief

c(a)b During the pendency of an interference, if the examiner-in-chief becomes aware of a reason why a claim cdesignated to correspondb [corresponding] to a count may not be patentable, the examiner-in-chief may [notify] center an order notifyingb the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views, cwhich may include argument and any appropriate preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), (d), or (h), including any supporting evidenceb.

c(b) If a party timely files a preliminary motion in response to the order of the examiner-in-chief, any opponent may file an opposition pursuant to § 1.638(a). If an opponent files an opposition, the party may file a reply pursuant to § 1.638(b).b

c(c)b After considering any timely filed views, cincluding any timely filed preliminary motions under § 1.633,b the examiner-in-chief shall decide how the interference shall proceed.

Patent Appeal and Interference Practice

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Final Rule

Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent cases relating to patent appeal and interference proceedings. The changes include amendments to conform the interference rules to new legislative requirements and a number of clarifying and housekeeping amendments.

Effective Date: This document is effective April 21, 1995, except section 1.11(e), which is effective March 17, 1995.

For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 603-3361 or by mail marked to the attention of Fred E. McKelvey at P. O. Box 15647, Arlington, Virginia 22215.

Supplementary Information: A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register (59 FR 50181) on October 3, 1994, and in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office (1167 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 98) on October 25, 1994. In response to a request for written comments, twenty-six written comments were received. A public hearing was held on December 7, 1994, at which four witnesses testified. The written comments and the suggestions made at the public hearing represent the views of fifteen individuals and corporations and three patent law associations, namely, the Committee on Interferences of the American Bar Association, the Interference Committee of the American Intellectual Property Law Association and the Japan Intellectual Property Association. These comments and suggestions are addressed below in the discussion of the rule changes to which they pertain. A number of suggested rule changes, though meritorious, cannot be adopted at this time because they are believed to be outside the scope of the present rulemaking. Accordingly, those suggestions will be the subject of a future rulemaking.

The provisions of the rules, as amended, will be applied in pending interferences to the extent reasonably possible. However, it is the desire of PTO to avoid applying the rules, as adopted, to pending interferences where substantial prejudice would result. For example, generally speaking, in cases where the periods for filing preliminary motions and preliminary statements have been set, the current preliminary motion and preliminary statement rules will apply, although parties are free to voluntarily comply with the rules as amended. Generally speaking, in cases where the testimony periods have been set, the current testimony and record rules will apply. The question of whether substantial prejudice will result in a particular case is a matter within the discretion of the administrative patent judge or the Board.

I. Amendments Responsive to Adoption of Public Laws 103-182 and 103-465.

As indicated in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, several of the amendments to the interference rules (i.e., 37 CFR 1.601 et seq.) are responsive to Public Law 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057 (1993) (North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act, hereinafter NAFTA Implementation Act), which amended 35 U.S.C. 104 to permit an applicant or patentee, with respect to an application filed on or after December 8, 1993, to rely on activities occurring in a "NAFTA country" to prove a date of invention no earlier than December 8, 1993, except as provided in 35 U.S.C. 119 and 365. On December 8, 1994, which was subsequent to publication of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, Public Law 103-465, 108 Stat. 4809 (1994) (Uruguay Round Agreements Act) was signed into law, which further amended 35 U.S.C. 104 to permit an applicant or a patentee, with respect to an application filed on or after January 1, 1996, to rely on activities occurring in a WTO member country to prove a date of invention no earlier than January 1, 1996, except as provided in 35 U.S.C. 119 and 365. Section 104, as amended by Public Law 103-465, reads as follows:

§ 104. Invention made abroad

(a) IN GENERAL.--

(1) PROCEEDINGS.--In proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office, in the courts, and before any other competent authority, an applicant for a patent, or a patentee, may not establish a date of invention by reference to knowledge or use thereof, or other activity with respect thereto, in a foreign country other than a NAFTA country or a WTO member country, except as provided in sections 119 and 365 of this title.

(2) RIGHTS.-- If an invention was made by a person, civil or military--

(A) while domiciled in the United States, and serving in any other country in connection with operations by or on behalf of the United States,

(B) while domiciled in a NAFTA country and serving in another country in connection with operations by or on behalf of that NAFTA country, or

(C) while domiciled in a WTO member country and serving in another country in connection with operations by or on behalf of that WTO member country, that person shall be entitled to the same rights of priority in the United States with respect to such invention as if such invention had been made in the United States, that NAFTA country, or that WTO member country, as the case may be.

(3) USE OF INFORMATION.-- To the extent that any information in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country concerning knowledge, use, or other activity relevant to proving or disproving a date of invention has not been made available for use in a proceeding in the Patent and Trademark Office, a court, or any other competent authority to the same extent as such information could be made available in the United States, the Commissioner, court, or such other authority shall draw appropriate inferences, or take other action permitted by statute, rule, or regulation, in favor of the party that requested the information in the proceeding.

(b) DEFINITIONS. -- As used in this section--

(1) the term 'NAFTA country' has the meaning given that term in section 2(4) of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act; and

(2) the term 'WTO member country' has the meaning given that term in section 2(10) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act.

Section 2(4) of the NAFTA Implementation Act is codified at 19 U.S.C. 3301; § 2(10) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act is codified at 19 U.S.C. 3501.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed adding a new paragraph (r) to § 1.601 defining "NAFTA country" to mean "NAFTA country" as defined in section 2(4) of the NAFTA Implementation Act and "non-NAFTA country" to mean a country other than a NAFTA country. One comment questioned whether "NAFTA country" should be defined in the rules to include the United States. The answer is no. "NAFTA country" as used in 35 U.S.C. 104 has the meaning given that term in section 2(4) of the NAFTA Implementation Act, which refers to only Canada and Mexico. Another comment observed that the proposed terms "NAFTA country" and "non-NAFTA country" do not appear to contemplate that inventive acts may occur in a foreign place that is not part of any "country" and suggested either using the phrase "outside the United States or a NAFTA country" instead of "non-NAFTA country" or else defining "non-NAFTA country" to mean "a place other than the United States or a NAFTA country." The comment is well taken. In view of the comment and the amendment of 35 U.S.C. 104 by the Uruguay Round Agreements Act to permit reliance on activities in WTO member countries, the proposed term "NAFTA country" is replaced in §§ 1.622, 1.623, 1.624 and 1.628, which set forth the requirements for preliminary statements and for correcting preliminary statements, by the phrase "NAFTA country or WTO member country" and the proposed term "non-NAFTA country" is replaced by the phrase "place other than the United States, a NAFTA country or a WTO member country." Furthermore, the references in §§ 1.622(b) and 1.623(a) to the "second sentence of 35 U.S.C. 104" have been changed to "35 U.S.C. 104(a)(2)" to reflect the fact that 35 U.S.C. 104 as amended by the Uruguay Round Agreements Act includes paragraphs (a)(1), (2) and (3). For example, § 1.622(b) is revised to read:

> (b) The preliminary statement shall state whether the invention was made in the United States, a NAFTA country (and, if so, which NAFTA country), a WTO member country (and if so, which WTO member country), or in a place other than the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country. If made in a place other than the United States, a NAFTAcountry, or a WTO member country, the preliminary statement shall state whether the party is entitled to the benefit of 35 U.S.C. 104(a)(2).

For the above-stated reasons, § 1.601 is revised by adding new paragraph (r), which, as proposed, defines "NAFTA country" to have the meaning given that term in section 2(4) of the North American Free Trade Act Implementation Act, Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2060 (1993). However, since, as noted above, the term "non-NAFTA country" is not being adopted, the proposal to also define that term in § 1.601(r) is hereby withdrawn. Section 1.601 is also revised to include a new paragraph (s) that defines "WTO member country" to have the meaning given that term in section 2(10) of the Uruguay Round Agreements Act, Pub. L. 103-465, 108 Stat. 4813 (1994).

Section 1.684, which relates to the taking of testimony in a foreign country, is removed and reserved in view of the amendments to §§ 1.671-72. Section 1.672 is amended by revising paragraph (a), revising current paragraph (b) and redesignating parts of it as new paragraphs (b), (c) and (d), removing and reserving paragraph (c) and redesignating it as new paragraph (e), revising paragraphs (d) and (e) and redesignating them as new paragraphs (f) and (g), and redesignating paragraph (f) as new paragraph (h).

Specifically, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending § 1.672(a) to require that "testimony not compelled under 35 U.S.C. 24 or compelled from a party or in another country" be taken only by affidavit. Several comments questioned whether the term "compelled" also applies to the phrase "in another country" and suggested inserting "compelled" before that phrase if that is the intent. Inasmuch as the comment correctly states the intent, the suggestion in the comment is being adopted.

One comment supported limiting non-compelled direct testimony to affidavits on the ground that it will reduce the cost of submitting testimony-in-chief and will eliminate economic harassment by a more affluent party of a less affluent opponent, since the less affluent opponent will no longer be required to pay the expense of counsel to attend depositions called by the more affluent party for taking direct testimony. Several comments were opposed, maintaining that affidavits are inherently less credible than live testimony. One comment states:

> Ours is the only country that supports interferences and we should be proud of it, because it demonstrates our commitment to the concept that it is more important to seek right and justice than to settle for a single arbitrary rule of convenience, no matter how convenient. Even if we don't always secure the right result, at least we try. As we invite the rest of the world to become full participants in this uncommon philosophy, we should endeavor to present it in its best light.
> How we conduct a trial is a centerpiece of our judicial system. Our interference trial by deposition is a reasonable compromise from a trial in a courtroom type setting. But a trial by affidavit is no trial at all! Affidavits are inevitably contrived, artificial, and often argumentative. They cannot substitute for the extemporaneous words of a witness (even if well coached), and cross-examination is not likely to reconstruct the real truth. Even if it is just in a nuance of expression, it is gone.
> The current approach of providing a choice between deposition and affidavit testimony is difficult to accept, but at least it is justifiable on the basis that so many patent attorneys simply don't know how to conduct a deposition, while they do have some experience with affidavits. But the proposal to make affidavits mandatory for direct testimony is contrary to my understanding of American jurisprudence.
> Direct testimony on behalf of a party by oral deposition is said to be advantageous to the opponent in that the testimony is the witness' own, the demeanor of the witness can be observed by the opponent (but demeanor is not observed by any member of the Board), and cross-examination can be carried out without a period during which it is said that the witness can be coached in preparation for cross-examination. However, under current practice a party can elect to deprive its opponent of these advantages by electing to use affidavits. Deposition testimony is also said to be advantageous to the party offering the testimony, who may find it more convenient to present the witness at a single deposition for direct and cross-examination than to first prepare an affidavit for direct testimony and later produce the witness at a deposition for cross-examination by an opponent. These supposed advantages are believed to be outweighed by the advantages of requiring that direct non-compelled testimony be in affidavit form. As recognized by those who favor direct testimony by affidavit, there are at least two advantages to taking direct testimony by affidavit, i.e., (1) reducing the cost of presenting a party's own direct testimony and (2) avoiding the expense of attending an opponent's depositions for direct testimony. There are a number of other advantages when direct testimony is taken by affidavit rather than deposition. First, because an opponent will have seen all of the party's direct testimony prior to beginning cross-examination, the opponent should be able to carry out a more pointed and efficient cross-examination, thereby avoiding the need to recall a witness for further examination during the opponent's rebuttal case, which can be costly in time and expense to both the party and the opponent. Second, a party presenting direct testimony by affidavit is less likely to inadvertently, and perhaps fatally, omit an essential part of its proofs than when presenting direct testimony by oral deposition. Third, affidavit testimony will be advantageous to the Board because affidavit testimony can be evaluated more expeditiously than can deposition transcripts, which frequently present the facts in an incoherent manner and too often include a considerable amount of disruptive attorney colloquy. Fourth, in the case of direct testimony by persons testifying in a foreign language, testimony by affidavit (in the English language) should be considerably less cumbersome than testimony by oral deposition through translators.
> Two comments suggested that there may be cases in which both parties find it mutually convenient to present their direct testimony by oral deposition and that under these circumstances the administrative patent judge should be allowed to authorize such depositions. The suggestion is not being adopted, because it would eliminate the above-noted advantages of reducing the likelihood of omitting an essential part of the proofs and having the Board consider direct testimony presented in a more coherent form.
> Another comment suggested that there appears to be no need why all testimony abroad must be by oral deposition, noting, for example, that a third-party witness may be willing to give an affidavit comprising the direct testimony, provided cross-examination will be conducted in the witness's home country. Still another comment asked how the parties should handle a situation where a party's witness residing in a foreign country, due to health or other serious impediment, is unable to travel to the United States for cross-examination, but is willing to testify in the foreign country, which allows testimony, for example, only by written interrogatories. The answer in both situations, as well as in other unusual situations not provided for by the rules, is to file a motion (§ 1.635) for permission to take the testimony in a manner other than by deposition. The motion may or may not be granted depending on the particular circumstances. In order to make it clear that the administrative patent judge and the Board have discretion in unusual circumstances to grant appropriate relief, § 1.672 is further revised by adding a new paragraph (i) reading as follows:
> (i) In an unusual circumstance and upon a showing that testimony cannot be taken in accordance with the provisions of this subpart, an administrative patent judge upon motion (§ 1.635) may authorize testimony to be taken in another manner.
> Section 1.672(b), as it was proposed to be revised in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, includes a requirement that a party presenting testimony of a witness by affidavit, within the time set by the administrative patent judge for serving affidavits, file a copy of the affidavit. Since, for reasons discussed infra, § 1.671(e) is being retained in modified form rather than being removed and reserved, as was proposed, § 1.672(b) as adopted, like current § 1.672(b), permits a party to file a copy of the affidavit or, if appropriate, a notice under 1.671(e). If the affidavit relates to a party's case-in-chief, it shall be filed or noticed no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits for its case-in-chief. If the affidavit relates to a party's case-in-rebuttal, it shall be filed or noticed no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits for its case-in-rebuttal. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document.
> As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, a new paragraph (c) is added to § 1.672 stating that where an opponent objects to the admissibility of any evidence contained in or submitted with an affidavit, the opponent must file and serve objections stating with particularity the nature of the objection. Any objection should identify the specific Federal Rule of Evidence that renders the evidence inadmissible and shall explain why the Rule applies to the evidence sought to be introduced. No oppositions to the objections are authorized. Rather, the party may respond by filing supplemental evidence in the form of affidavits, official records and printed publications. Alternatively, the party may determine that the objection is without merit and do nothing. One comment suggested that "supplemental affidavits and supplemental official records and printed publications" in the third sentence of § 1.672(c) as proposed be changed to "one or more supplemental affidavits, official records or printed publications." The suggestion is being adopted. The same or similar changes have been made in the third sentence of § 1.682(c) and in the third sentence of § 1.683(b); in the third sentence of § 1.688(b) "supplemental affidavits" has been changed to "one or more supplemental affidavits." Section 1.672(c) further provides that any objections to the admissibility of any evidence contained in or submitted with a supplemental affidavit shall be made only by a motion to suppress under § 1.656(h).
> As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.672 is revised by adding a new paragraph (d) requiring any cross-examination of an affiant to be by deposition at a reasonable location within "the United States," which is defined in § 1.601(p) and 35 U.S.C. 100(c) to mean "the United States of America, its territories and possessions." For purposes of the interference rules, the term "territories and possessions" is broadly construed to refer to all territories and possessions of the United States, including, for example, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.
> An opponent who believes that a party is producing an affiant for cross-examination in an "unreasonable" location may move (§ 1.635) for entry of an order by an administrative patent judge to set the location of the deposition for cross-examination. Paragraph (d) also requires that the party whose witness is to be cross-examined give notice of the deposition under § 1.673(e), obtain a court reporter and provide a translator if the witness will not testify in English. Although not expressly set forth in the rules as amended, it should be understood that any party attending the deposition can bring its own translator or the parties can agree to share the cost of a single mutually agreeable translator.
> Comments were received against the proposal that § 1.672(d) require cross-examination of affiants to be conducted by oral deposition "at a reasonable location within the United States." One comment suggested that requiring a witness who resides in a foreign country to travel to the United States for cross-examination will be extremely inconvenient where the witness is a key person for a company. The comment also suggested that the term "United States" be amended to additionally include U.S. embassies and/or consulates in foreign countries, at least for purposes of conducting cross-examination. The suggestion is not being adopted. Given the time differences between the United States and Europe or the United States and Asia, it is highly likely that administrative patent judges would not be on duty to rule on telephonic requests for admissibility of evidence. Furthermore, a party whose witness is to testify on cross-examination at a "trial" (i.e., interference proceeding) in the United States should produce the witness for cross-examination at a reasonable location within the United States. Finally, in view of PTO's general lack of experience regarding procedures for, and difficulties which may arise in, taking deposition testimony in a foreign country, PTO has decided, at least for the time being, to take a conservative approach regarding taking testimony in a foreign country. The approach will be reevaluated after PTO gains some experience with foreign deposition testimony taken pursuant to § 1.671(h).
> One comment suggested inserting a comma after "reporter" in the fifth sentence of proposed § 1.672(d), as well as in the fifth sentences of proposed §§ 1.682(d), 1.683(c) and 1.688(c). The suggestion is being adopted.
> The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to redesignate current § 1.672(d) ("When a deposition is authorized under this subpart, if the parties agree in writing, the deposition may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, at any place, upon any notice, and in any manner, and when so taken may be used like other depositions.") as § 1.672(f). One comment questioned whether § 1.672(f) (former § 1.672(d)) applies to cross-examination deposition testimony authorized by §§ 1.672(d), 1.673(a), 1.682(d), 1.683(c) and 1.688(c). Implicit in the comment is a question of whether proposed § 1.672(f) would authorize the parties, with respect to deposition testimony that has been authorized by the rules or by an administrative patent judge to be taken in the United States, to agree to take the deposition outside the United States. For the reasons discussed above, the parties may not agree, absent the permission of an administrative patent judge or the Board, to take a deposition outside the United States. Accordingly, § 1.672(f), as amended, provides that depositions authorized to be taken within the United States are to be taken within the United States: "When a deposition is authorized to be taken within the United States under this subpart and if the parties agree in writing, the deposition may be taken in any place within the United States, before any person authorized to administer oaths, upon any notice, and in any manner, and when so taken may be used like other depositions."
> Current § 1.672(e), which is being redesignated as § 1.672(g), reads as follows: "If the parties agree in writing, the testimony of any witness may be submitted in the form of an affidavit without opportunity for cross-examination. The affidavit shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office." Although not proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, this section is revised to be consistent with the other amendments to §§ 1.671-73 so as to read as follows: "If the parties agree in writing, the affidavit testimony of any witness may be submitted without opportunity for cross-examination."
> As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, current § 1.672(f), which concerns the filing of agreed statements setting forth how a particular witness would testify if called or the facts in the case of one or more of the parties, is redesignated as § 1.672(h).
> In addition to the proposed amendments discussed above, current § 1.672(b) is revised, as proposed in the "Miscellaneous Amendments" part of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, by deleting the third sentence, which specifies the type of paper to be used for affidavits, as superfluous in view of § 1.677(a); and in paragraph (d), the fifth sentence ("A party electing to present testimony of a witness by deposition shall notice a deposition of the witness under § 1.673(a).") is removed as superfluous in view of the second sentence of new § 1.672(d).
> In § 1.671, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend paragraph (a) to read as follows: "Evidence consists of testimony and exhibits, official records and publications filed under § 1.682, testimony from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under § 1.683, and discovery relied upon under § 1.688, and the specification (including claims) and drawings of any application or patent: . . . ." One comment suggested that "and discovery" be changed to "discovery" in order to remove an unnecessary "and." The suggestion is being adopted. Another comment suggested inserting "and exhibits" after "testimony" in the phrase "testimony from another interference, proceeding, or action under § 1.683." The suggestion is being adopted, but with the term "exhibits" prefaced by "referenced" to make it clear that it relates only to exhibits referred to by a witness in an affidavit or during an oral deposition. Clarification is necessary because, as noted in the discussion of § 1.653(c)(5), infra, the term "exhibit" also includes official records and printed publications relied on under § 1.682, which are not referred to by a witness in an affidavit or during an oral deposition. For the same reason, "referenced" is also inserted before the first occurrence of "exhibits" in § 1.671(a). A similar clarifying amendment is also made to § 1.683(a).
> The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to revise § 1.671(f) to state that "[t]he significance of documentary and other exhibits identified by a witness in an affidavit or during oral deposition shall be discussed with particularity by the witness" (emphasis added) in order to clarify that the requirement for the significance of documentary and other exhibits to be discussed with particularity by a witness applies only to documentary and other exhibits identified by a witness in an affidavit or during oral deposition. One comment indicated that proposed § 1.671(f) fails to recognize that a witness may be called merely to authenticate a piece of evidence, e.g., a photograph, which is to be discussed with particularity by another witness. The comment is well taken. Accordingly, § 1.671(f) is revised to read as follows: "The significance of documentary and other exhibits identified by a witness in an affidavit or during oral deposition shall be discussed with particularity by a witness." Thus, § 1.671(f) does not apply to official records and printed publications submitted into evidence pursuant to § 1.682(a).
> The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed that § 1.671(g), which currently requires a party to file a motion (§ 1.635) to obtain permission prior to taking testimony or seeking documents or things "under 35 U.S.C. 24," be revised to require a motion "prior to compelling testimony or production of documents or things under 35 U.S.C. 24 or from a party." One comment suggested that the requirement to obtain permission from an administrative patent judge before noticing an employee of one's opponent as a hostile witness is important. Another comment took issue with the requirement and the statement in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking that "all depositions for a case-in-chief would have to be approved by an administrative patent judge" (59 FR at 50191), stating:

> I suppose that means by motion with an explanation of what the deposition will cover. Such a procedure will destroy the ability to obtain effective testimony from an adverse witness, because of the need to reveal the strategy. Particularly in a derivation contest, the ability to obtain unrehearsed testimony of the adverse party will be lost, and he [sic; his testimony] may be the only corroboration available. Heretofore, taking the deposition of one's adverse party to obtain evidence for one's case-in-chief has been a matter of right on serving proper notice. It is essential that this right be preserved. Obviously, this procedure should not be used to discover a senior party's case-in-chief, and that limitation is easily protected by objection to any such questions that are not also related to the junior party's case-in-chief, and then either (a) calling the judge for an immediate ruling, or (b) refusing to answer the question.

Assuming for the sake of argument that the current interference rules permit a party to notice the deposition of an opponent's witness in order to take direct testimony of the type described above without first obtaining permission from an administrative patent judge, the interference rules do not provide any sanction for the failure of the witness to appear at a noticed deposition. Consequently, even under the current rules the party seeking the testimony of an opponent's witness, as a practical matter, must obtain an order from an administrative patent judge or the Board requiring the witness to appear so that the opponent can be sanctioned under § 1.616 if the witness fails to appear.

One comment suggested that the proposed new last sentence for § 1.671(g) ("The testimony of the witness shall be taken on oral deposition.") be omitted as superfluous in view of § 1.672(a) as amended. The suggestion is being adopted.

A comment suggested that § 1.671(g) be modified to expressly apply to an entity or witness under the opponent's control. The modification is not believed to be necessary. The term "party" is defined in § 1.601(l) to include an inventor's legal representative or assignee. The term "opponent," while not defined per se in the rules, is a "party" who happens to be a "second" party opponent of a "first" party. Section 1.671(g) applies where a witness is under the control of a party opponent's assignee.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, a new paragraph (h) is added to § 1.671 providing that a party seeking to compel testimony or production of documents or things in a foreign country must file a motion (§ 1.635) to obtain permission from an administrative patent judge. The motion must show that the witness has been asked to testify in the United States and has refused to do so or that the individual or entity having possession, custody, or control of the document or thing has refused to produce the document or thing in the United States, even though the moving party has offered to pay the expenses involved in bringing the witness or the document or thing to the United States. When permission has been obtained from the administrative patent judge, the party, after also complying with the requirements for an oral conference (§ 1.673(g)), and service of documents and a proffer of access to things (§ 1.673(b)), must notice the deposition under § 1.673(a).

With respect to the requirements for a motion to compel testimony or production of documents or things in a foreign country, one comment suggested that the phrase "possession, custody and control" in proposed § 1.671(h)(2)(iii) appears to include a typographical error and should be changed to read "possession, custody or control." The suggestion is being adopted.

Another comment suggested that the administrative patent judge would benefit from being additionally advised of (1) the foreign country where the witness, document or thing is located, (2) a summary of the procedures proposed to be followed to compel the testimony or production of documents or things in the foreign country, and (3) the time likely to be required to complete the procedures. In support, the comment notes that compelling testimony or production of documents in a foreign country can be so time-consuming that it may outweigh the benefit of allowing the testimony or documents to be obtained, considering their likely probative value and other relevant considerations. The comment continues that in order to allow the administrative patent judge to supervise the progress of the interference and to allow establishment of an appropriate schedule for the interference, the rules should require the suggested procedural information. These suggestions are being adopted. Adoption of these suggestions, however, should not be construed as a policy determination by PTO that it intends to approve of, or tolerate, unwarranted delays in obtaining testimony in a foreign country. The spirit of 35 U.S.C. 104 requires that evidence be obtainable in a foreign country essentially on the same basis that it is obtainable in the United States. When the laws and procedures in a foreign country make it so time-consuming to obtain evidence that the evidence is essentially not available in a reasonable manner, then the "adverse inferences" provision of new § 1.616(c) may be appropriately applied.

Another comment notes that proposed § 1.671(h)(1)(iv) for witnesses and § 1.671(h)(2)(iii) for documents and things assume that it will be possible to request the holder of the evidence to voluntarily produce it and obtain a definitive response to the request, whereas it is said that discovery experience in foreign countries shows that those possessing evidence often evade contact or, when contacted, evade giving a definitive response. Accordingly, the comment suggested that these provisions be reworded as follows:

> § 1.671(h)(1)(iv). Demonstrate that the party has made reasonable efforts to secure the agreement of the witness to testify in the United States but has been unsuccessful in obtaining the agreement, even though the party has offered to pay the expenses of the witness to travel to and testify in the United States.
> § 1.671(h)(2)(iii). Demonstrate that the party has made reasonable efforts to obtain the agreement of the individual or entity having possession, custody, or control of the document to produce the document or thing in the United States but has been unsuccessful in obtaining that agreement, even though the party has offered to pay the expenses of producing the document or thing in the United States.

The suggestion is being adopted. The expenses of a witness traveling to the United States means the round-trip travel expenses.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed the addition to § 1.671 of a new paragraph (j), which is patterned on paragraph (e) of § 1.684 (removed and reserved). Section 1.671(j), as it was proposed, reads as follows:

> (j) The weight to be given testimony taken in a foreign country will be determined on a case-by-case basis. Little, if any, weight may be given to testimony taken in a foreign country unless the party taking the testimony proves by clear and convincing evidence (1) that giving false testimony in an interference proceeding is punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country where the testimony is taken and (2) that the punishment in a foreign country for giving such false testimony is similar to the punishment for perjury committed in the United States.

A number of comments were received in response to the proposal. Two comments questioned whether § 1.671(j) is intended to apply to affidavit testimony as well as deposition testimony. One comment suggested that the rule be expressly limited to deposition testimony, since testimony by affidavit (including declarations) can be taken in foreign countries under the perjury provisions of 28 U.S.C. 1746(1), and is additionally subject to the safeguard of cross-examination in the United States under proposed § 1.672(d). For these reasons, and also because current § 1.684(e), on which § 1.671(j) is patterned, applies only to deposition testimony in a foreign country in the form of interrogatories answered under oath, the suggestion to expressly limit § 1.671(j) to deposition testimony is being adopted.

Two comments stated that the party taking testimony in a foreign country should not have the burden of proving that the giving of false testimony is punishable as perjury under the law of the foreign country, as it may be difficult or impossible to prove or may not even be in dispute, and that the burden is especially unfair where a party is being forced to take testimony abroad by circumstances beyond its control. Both comments suggested putting the burden instead on the opponent to show that the requirements are not similar, such as by moving under § 1.635 to accord the testimony little weight or moving under § 1.656(h) to suppress the testimony altogether. Section 1.671(j), as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, does not alter who has the burden of proof with respect to testimony in a foreign country; the burden remains on the party offering the testimony, just as under current § 1.684(e).

Another comment questioned whether the first sentence of the rule as it was proposed, because it states that the weight of testimony "will be determined on a case-by-case basis," might be construed as allowing the effect to be given testimony in a particular foreign country in a given interference to be decided without regard to the effect given in prior interferences to testimony given in that country. The comment stated that the rule as proposed might be contrary to the goals of equal treatment of similarly situated parties and predictability of outcome, which would best be served by a system in which the Board publishes decisions making findings as to the adequacy of the testimonial procedures in particular foreign countries and then follows those decisions in subsequent cases, and suggested changing "on a case-by-case basis" to read "in view of all the circumstances, including the laws of the foreign country governing the testimony." The suggestion is being adopted.

Another comment suggested that the "clear and convincing evidence" standard in the second sentence of proposed § 1.671(j) inappropriately implies that the determination of content of the law of a foreign country is a question of fact. PTO intends to treat the determination of the content of the law of a foreign country as a question of fact. Accordingly, the language "as a matter of fact" is inserted in § 1.671(j). The same comment further indicates that the proposed second sentence is troublesome because it (1) requires a showing that giving false testimony is punishable as "perjury" under the laws of the foreign country rather than under some other name, (2) does not on its face allow the foreign offense to be applicable only when false testimony is given with the appropriate intent, and (3) requires that the foreign punishment be "similar to" United States punishment, when comparable or greater punishment would seem to serve the purpose of the proposed rule. The comment suggested that the foregoing problems can be avoided by replacing the proposed second sentence with the following sentence:

> Little, if any, weight may be given to oral testimony given in a foreign country unless it is demonstrated (1) that the giving of false testimony in the interference proceeding would be punishable under the laws of the foreign country where the testimony was taken under circumstances similar to those defined as perjury under the laws of the United States and (2) that the punishment in the foreign country for giving such false testimony is comparable to or greater than the punishment for perjury committed under the laws of the United States.

The comment additionally suggested adding a third sentence patterned on the second and third sentences of Fed. R. Civ. P. 44.1 and reading as follows: "Such a demonstration may be made by any relevant material or source, including testimony, whether or not admissible under this subpart." To address the comments, which are believed to be well taken, the proposed second sentence is replaced with the following two sentences:

> Little, if any, weight may be given to deposition testimony taken in a foreign country unless the party taking the testimony proves by clear and convincing evidence, as a matter of fact, that knowingly giving false testimony in that country in connection with an interference proceeding in the United States Patent and Trademark Office is punishable under the laws of that country and that the punishment in that country for such false testimony is comparable to or greater than the punishment for perjury committed in the United States. The administrative patent judge and the Board, in determining foreign law, may consider any relevant material or source, including testimony, whether or not submitted by a party or admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence.

The finally adopted language is also responsive to another comment requesting clarification of the term "similar" in order to assist practitioners, and possibly foreign governments in promulgating laws in harmony with 35 U.S.C. 104 and § 1.671.

In addition to the above amendments, § 1.671(a), which identifies the various types of testimony, is revised as proposed in the "Miscellaneous Amendments" part of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, by changing "evidence from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under § 1.683" to "testimony from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under § 1.683" in order to be consistent with the terminology of § 1.683. Sections 1.671(c)(6) and (c)(7) are revised by changing "by oral deposition or affidavit" to "by affidavit or oral deposition."

Section 1.673 is also amended as proposed in the "Miscellaneous Amendments" part of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. Specifically, § 1.673(b) is revised by (1) changing the time for service of evidence to be relied on at an oral deposition from "at least three days" prior to the conference required by § 1.673(g) when service is by hand or by Express Mail to "at least three working days" prior to the conference, (2) changing the time for service by any other means from 10 days to 14 days prior to the conference and (3) removing the quotation marks around "Express Mail."

The second sentence of § 1.673(d) is removed, as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, as unnecessary, because all depositions for a case-in-chief require approval by an administrative patent judge.

Section 1.673(e) is revised, as proposed, by changing "party electing to present testimony by affidavit" to "party who has presented testimony by affidavit."

One comment suggested amending § 1.673(g) to state that a party, prior to serving a notice of deposition and after complying with paragraph (b) of § 1.673, shall contact the administrative patent judge, who shall then have an oral conference with the party and all opponents. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. In any event, it is expected that in most cases the parties will be able to agree on a time and place for depositions without the need for participation by an administrative patent judge.

Concerning the first sentence of § 1.673(a), one comment suggested deleting the term "single" from "single notice of deposition" on the ground that the current language might be construed to mean that a party must file only a single notice of deposition listing all depositions. The same suggestion was offered with respect to paragraph (e) of § 1.673. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend § 1.616 by adding a new paragraph (c), patterned after 35 U.S.C. 104(b), stating that to the extent that any information under the control of an individual or entity located in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country concerning knowledge, use, or other activity relevant to proving or disproving a date of invention has been ordered to be produced by an administrative patent judge or the Board (§ 1.671(h)), but is not produced for use in the interference to the same extent as such information could be made available in the United States, the administrative patent judge or the Board shall draw such adverse inferences as may be appropriate under the circumstances, or take such other action permitted by statute, rule, or regulation, in favor of the party that requested the information in the interference. Section 1.616(c) further provides that this "other action" may include the imposition of appropriate sanctions under § 1.616(a).

One comment questioned whether the failure of an individual or entity located in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country to provide the information requested by a party can result in the imposition of sanctions against an opponent from that country even though the opponent is not at fault. The answer is yes. One purpose of 35 U.S.C. 104 is to ensure that evidence for interferences is available in foreign countries in essentially the same manner that it is available in the United States. If the evidence is not available, then the appropriate inference provisions of 35 U.S.C. 104 shall be applied by PTO.

After the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published, it became apparent that the term "ordered" in the phrase "to the extent that any information under the control of an individual or entity located in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country . . . has been ordered to be produced by an administrative patent judge or the Board" may not be appropriate. Neither an administrative patent judge nor the Board can order testimony or production of documents and things in a foreign country from a witness who, or an entity that, is neither a party nor under the control of a party. Instead, an administrative patent judge or the Board can only authorize a party to seek to compel testimony or production in a foreign country from a witness or entity not under the control of a party. Accordingly, § 1.616(c) as adopted reads instead as follows:

> (c) To the extent that an administrative patent judge or the Board has authorized a party to compel the taking of testimony or the production of documents or things from an individual or entity located in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country concerning knowledge, use, or other activity relevant to proving or disproving a date of invention (§ 1.671(h)), but the testimony, documents or things have not been produced for use in the interference to the same extent as such information could be made available in the United States, the administrative patent judge or the Board shall draw such adverse inferences as may be appropriate under the circumstances, or take such other action permitted by statute, rule, or regulation, in favor of the party that requested the information in the interference, including imposition of appropriate sanctions under paragraph (a) of this section.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.647, which currently requires a party who relies on a non-English language document to provide an English-language translation and an affidavit attesting to its accuracy, is revised to extend these requirements to any non-English language documents that a party is required to produce via discovery. One comment expressed the concern that the proposed amendment might impose an unnecessary financial burden on a non-U.S. party by requiring translations of compelled documents that are very long and have little or no relevance. The concern is believed to be misplaced. First, discovery in interferences, like discovery under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, is limited to evidence that is relevant. Second, as to relevant evidence, the scope of discovery under the interference rules is considerably narrower than the discovery available under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Another comment stated that the general practice is that a party proffering a document is responsible for the cost of translation. The comment nevertheless suggested that in the case of documents offered to be produced during discovery, including cross-examination discovery pursuant to § 1.687(b), the documents be produced in the foreign language, with the recipient then indicating which documents it wishes to have translated and costs to be borne equally by the parties. The suggestion is not being adopted. In implementing practice under 35 U.S.C. 104, as amended, it is PTO's initial view that a correct policy is the one which the commentator says is the "general practice." Whether a different policy might be appropriate at some future time is something that will be tested with experience.

II. Compensatory Attorney Fees and Expenses.

Section 1.616, in addition to the amendments discussed above, also is revised by redesignating current paragraphs (a) through (e) as paragraphs (a)(1) through (a)(4) and (a)(6) and adding new paragraphs (a)(5) and (b).

Section 1.616(a)(5), as amended, authorizes the award of compensatory (as opposed to punitive) expenses and/or compensatory attorney fees as a sanction for failing to comply with the rules or an order. This sanction shall apply only to conduct occurring in an interference on or after the effective date of § 1.616 as amended. It is believed that there may be occasions when an award of compensatory expenses and/or compensatory attorney fees would be more commensurate in scope with the infraction than the sanctions that are currently authorized.

There are administrative decisions which seemingly hold that the tribunals of PTO do not have authority to award expenses and attorney fees. See, e.g., Driscoll v. Cebalo, 5 USPQ2d 1477, 1481 (Bd. Pat. Int. 1982) (the rules do not provide us with the jurisdiction to award expenses and we know of no authority which does), aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 731 F.2d 878, 221 USPQ 745 (Fed. Cir. 1984); Clevenger v. Martin, 1 USPQ2d 1793, 1797 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1986) (we do not have authority under the rules to award attorney's fees); MacMillan Bloedel, Ltd. v. Arrow-M Corp., 203 USPQ 952, 953 (TTAB 1979) (the TTAB is without authority to award expenses and attorney's fees); Fisons, Ltd. v. Capability Brown, Ltd., 209 USPQ 167, 171 (TTAB 1980) (request for attorney's fees denied because good cause not shown and the TTAB has no authority to grant such requests); Jonergin Co. v. Jonergin Vermont, Inc., 222 USPQ 337, 340-41 (Comm'r Pat. 1983) (TTAB did not err in refusing to award reasonable expenses and attorney's fees under 37 CFR 2.116(a), 2.120 and Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(4)); Anheuser-Busch, Inc. v. Major Mud & Chemical Co., 221 USPQ 1191, 1195 n.9 (TTAB 1984) (request for costs and attorneys fees was denied, inter alia, on the ground that the TTAB had no authority to award such fees and costs); Luehrmann v. Kwik Kopy Corp., 2 USPQ2d 1303, 1305 n.4 (TTAB 1987) (the TTAB has no authority to grant monetary relief); Fort Howard Paper Co. v. G.V. Gambina, Inc., 4 USPQ2d 1552, 1554 (TTAB 1987) (the TTAB has no authority to order costs or attorney's fees); Paolo's Associates Ltd. Partnership v. Bodo, 21 USPQ2d 1899, 1904 n.3 (Comm'r Pat. 1990) (the TTAB was correct in holding that 37 CFR 2.127(f) denies the TTAB authority to either award attorney's fees or costs to any party in a cancellation and opposition proceeding); Nabisco Brands, Inc. v. Keebler Co., 28 USPQ2d 1237, 1238 (TTAB 1993) (the TTAB held, inter alia, that it did not have authority to award fees under 37 CFR 2.127(f)).

None of the decisions mentioned above provide any reasoned analysis or rationale to explain why the Commissioner lacks authority to promulgate a rule which would authorize imposition of monetary sanctions in appropriate cases. In view of the existence of the decisions, however, it is believed that a discussion of the Commissioner's authority to promulgate a rule authorizing the Board to award compensatory monetary sanctions is appropriate.

The Commissioner has been delegated the authority by the Congress to "establish regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the conduct of proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office." 35 U.S.C. 6(a).

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit upheld the authority of the Commissioner to issue regulations imposing sanctions in interference cases. In Gerritsen v. Shirai, 979 F.2d 1524, 24 USPQ2d 1912 (Fed. Cir. 1992), the Federal Circuit noted that 37 CFR 1.616 was a permissible exercise of the Commissioner's authority under 35 U.S.C. 6(a) and complied with the limitation on sanctions of the Administrative Procedure Act. The court stated (979 F.2d at 1527 n.3, 24 USPQ2d at 1915 n.3):

> 35 U.S.C. § 6(a) (1988) permits the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to "establish regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the conduct of proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office." Congress thus delegated plenary authority over PTO practice, including interference proceedings, to the Commissioner. On its face, 37 CFR § 1.616 represents a permissible exercise of that authority. Since the decision to impose a sanction . . . was authorized by law, it comports with the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. § 558(b) (1988).

In Gerritsen, the Federal Circuit held that the particular rule violation was sanctionable, but that the specific sanction chosen by the Board was too severe. Accordingly, the sanction was vacated and the case was remanded to the Board for imposition of a more appropriate sanction.

In Abrutyn v. Giovanniello, 15 F.3d 1048, 1050, 29 USPQ2d 1615, 1617 (Fed. Cir. 1994), the Federal Circuit again upheld the authority of the Board or an administrative patent judge to impose sanctions, including imposition of the most severe sanction, granting judgment against one of the parties:

> The Board or EIC [Examiner-in-Chief, now administrative patent judge] may impose an appropriate sanction, including granting judgment in an interference, against a party who fails to comply with the rules governing interferences, including filing deadlines. 37 CFR § 1.616 (1993).

Gerritsen and Abrutyn judicially establish that the Commissioner has authority under 35 U.S.C. 6(a) to promulgate regulations which impose a spectrum of sanctions, including imposition of the ultimate sanction of judgment or dismissal.

As a general matter, agencies are given broad authority in the selection of an appropriate sanction. The choice of sanction within agency statutory limits will be upheld unless it constitutes an abuse of discretion. Butz v. Glover Livestock Comm'n Co., 411 U.S. 182 (1973); Lawrence v. Commodity Futures Trading Comm'n, 759 F.2d 767, 774 (9th Cir. 1985). Current § 1.616 authorizes an administrative patent judge or the Board to impose a spectrum of sanctions. The sanctions range from holding certain facts established for purposes of the interference (37 CFR § 1.616(a)) to granting judgment against the party who violated a regulation or an order (37 CFR § 1.616(e)). As indicated above, the Federal Circuit has upheld the Commissioner's authority to promulgate § 1.616 and impose the specified sanctions (Gerritsen, 979 F.2d at 1527 n.3, 24 USPQ2d at 1915 n.3), including granting judgment against a party (Abrutyn, 15 F.3d at 1050, 29 USPQ2d at 1617). Judgment and dismissal are the most severe forms of sanction. See National Hockey League v. Metropolitan Hockey Club, 427 U.S. 639, 643 (1976); Poulis v. State Farm Fire and Casualty Co., 747 F.2d 863, 867 (3d Cir. 1984); Cine Forty-Second St. Theatre Corp. v. Allied Artists Pictures Corp., 602 F.2d 1062, 1066 (2d Cir. 1979). Consistent with these cases, the Federal Circuit has held that a holding by the Board that a party is not entitled to a patent directed to certain claims is an extreme sanction. Gerritsen, 979 F.2d at 1532 n.12, 24 USPQ2d at 1919 n.12.

The imposition of monetary sanctions is manifestly a lesser sanction than judgment or dismissal. Indeed, reimbursement of expenses incurred as a result of inappropriate action by the opposing party has been held to be a mild form of sanction. Cine Forty-Second St., 602 F.2d at 1066. More stringent sanctions include orders striking out portions of a pleading, orders prohibiting the introduction of evidence on a particular point, and orders deeming a disputed issue determined adversely to the position of a disobedient party. Id.

Since the imposition of a monetary sanction is a lesser sanction than judgment against a party, the inclusion of an "appropriate" monetary sanction in § 1.616, as adopted, is not outside the Commissioner's rulemaking authority and would not be inconsistent with the sanctions already present in § 1.616.

Whether a monetary sanction is appropriate depends on the purpose of the sanction. Civil sanctions may be categorized as penal and remedial. One is not to be subjected by an agency to a penal sanction unless the words of the statute plainly authorize imposition of a penal sanction. Commissioner v. Acker, 361 U.S. 87, 91 (1959). Thus, a statute must plainly authorize an agency's power to impose penalties. Pender Peanut Corp. v. United States, 20 Cl. Ct. 447, 453-55 (1990). Agencies have no inherent authority, based solely on their enabling statute, to impose penal sanctions. That authority must be expressly given in the statute. Pender Peanut Corp., 20 Cl. Ct. at 453-55 (1990); Gold Kist, Inc. v. Department of Agriculture, 741 F.2d 344, 348 (11th Cir. 1984); Koch, Administrative Law and Practice § 6.81 (1985). A penal sanction has been defined as one which inflicts a punishment. United States v. Frame, 885 F.2d 1119, 1142 (3d Cir. 1989).

On the other hand, an explicit grant of power from Congress need not underpin each exercise of agency authority. See Zola v. Interstate Commerce Commission, 889 F.2d 508, 516 (3d Cir. 1989), citing Amoskeag Co. v. Interstate Commerce Commission, 590 F.2d 388, 392 (1st Cir. 1979). Where the enabling statute authorizes the agency to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of an act -- the regulation will be sustained so long as it is reasonably related to the purpose of the act. Mourning v. Family Publications Service, Inc., 411 U.S. 356, 369 (1973). Under its enabling legislation, an agency has inherent power to impose administrative sanctions that are not "penalties" as long as the sanctions are reasonably related to the purpose of the enabling statute. Gold Kist, 741 F.2d at 348. Accordingly, in evaluating whether the imposition of a sanction is within an agency's inherent powers, it is necessary to determine whether the sanction is remedial or punitive. Frame, 885 F.2d at 1142. Remedial sanctions may be within the agency's inherent powers if reasonably related to the purpose of enabling legislation. A remedial sanction is one whose purpose is not to stigmatize or punish wrongdoers. Frame, 885 F.2d at 1143.

Thus, in the absence of express statutory authority, the Commissioner's authority to impose monetary sanctions is limited to sanctions which are remedial in nature rather than punitive. In addition, the sanctions must be reasonably related to the purpose of enabling statute under which PTO operates. Under these guidelines, the Commissioner would appear to be without authority to issue a regulation which permits a penal sanction to be imposed against a party or an attorney for violation of a rule or order. Fines payable to Government, including PTO, are manifestly intended to punish wrongdoing and are thus punitive in nature. Assessment to redress an injury to the public is in the nature of a penalty. Republic Steel Corp. v. National Labor Relations Board, 311 U.S. 7, 12-13 (1940). On the other hand, the imposition of costs or expenses, including attorneys' fees, incurred by an opposing party due to the violation of a rule or order, may properly be considered remedial. Imposing costs or attorneys' fees serves to defray the expenses actually incurred by the opposing party for the violation of a rule or order by an opponent. See Poulis, 747 F.2d at 869 (non-dilatory party will not have to bear the brunt of the attorney's delay). Monetary sanctions would enhance the Board's ability to protect the integrity of its proceedings. See Zola 889 F.2d at 516 (ICC justified in imposing monetary sanctions in acting to protect the integrity of its jurisdiction). Monetary sanctions would also allow the Board to maintain control of its docket to maximize the use of limited resources. See Griffin & Dickson v. United States, 16 Cl. Ct. 347, 351 (1989) (case management responsibilities require broad inherent authority to impose [non-penal] sanctions). Imposition of monetary sanctions is the only sanction both mild enough and flexible enough to use in day-to-day enforcement of orderly and expeditious litigation. Eash v. Riggins Trucking, Inc., 757 F.2d 557, 567 (3d Cir. 1985) (in banc). Thus, monetary sanctions are reasonably related to the Commissioner's plenary authority to promulgate regulations for the conduct of proceedings, including interference proceedings in PTO.

Section 1.616(b), as proposed to be amended, would have authorized the imposition of a sanction, including a sanction in the form of compensatory expenses and/or attorney fees, against a party for taking or maintaining a frivolous position. A number of comments were received opposing the authorization of sanctions for taking or maintaining frivolous positions (§ 1.616(b)). Several comments suggested that the question of what is "frivolous" is inherently highly subjective and will therefore be frequently raised, substantially increasing costs and delaying decisions on more substantive issues. PTO believes, however, consistent with other comments received during the comment period, that inasmuch as a groundless motion for sanctions would itself be grounds for sanctioning the movant for taking or maintaining a frivolous position, it is expected that motions for sanctions will only be filed in clear cases. One comment suggested that § 1.616(b) be reworded to parallel Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure so that sanctions would only be imposed upon motion by an opponent, subject to a twenty-one day "safe harbor" withdrawal provision, and would explicitly apply only to frivolous positions taken in writing. Another comment, while supportive of the proposed amendment on the ground that it should reduce the number of frivolous papers, cautioned against treating as frivolous "that which is simply born of ignorance." The suggestion to have § 1.616(b) authorize sanctions imposed only on motion by a party is not being adopted. There may be situations in which the Board believes it would be appropriate to award compensatory fees or expenses even in the absence of a motion by a party. The suggestion that Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 permits sanctions only upon motion is believed to be incorrect; for example, Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(c)(1)(b) authorizes sanctions on the court's initiative. The suggestion to use the "safe harbor" approach of Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(c)(1)(A), which provides that a motion for sanctions shall be served but not filed unless, within 21 days after service of the motion, the challenged position is not withdrawn or appropriately corrected, is not being adopted. The administrative patent judge and the Board should know the reason why a party has withdrawn or corrected a position. Nevertheless, in order to make it clear that sanctions will not be imposed for mistakenly taking an erroneous position that is withdrawn or corrected as soon as the error becomes apparent, the proposed phrase "for taking or maintaining a frivolous position" is changed to "for taking and maintaining a frivolous position."

The suggestion that § 1.616(b) sanctions be limited to frivolous positions taken in writing is based on the Advisory Committee Note on the 1993 amendments to Fed. R. Civ. P. 11. The Note states in pertinent part: "The rule applies only to assertions contained in papers filed with or submitted to the court. It does not cover matters arising for the first time during oral presentations to the court, when counsel may make statements that would not have been made if there had been more time for study and reflection." For the reason given in the Advisory Committee Note, the suggestion is being adopted. Accordingly, § 1.616(b) as adopted is limited to a frivolous position taken and maintained in papers filed in the interference and shall apply only to frivolous positions taken and maintained after the effective date of § 1.616 as amended.

Other comments questioned how the Board intends to handle proof of amounts of compensatory expenses and/or attorney fees and expressed the hope that attorney fee awards will not be de facto discriminatory as between highly paid outside counsel and in-house counsel without fees or billing records. The matter of how to prove amounts of compensatory expenses and/or attorney fees will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Another comment suggested that an administrative patent judge or the Board be required to issue an order to show cause prior to imposing a sanction, since a party may be able to explain why a sanction should not be imposed. The suggestion is presumably based on Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(c)(1)(B) and directed to cases in which an administrative patent judge or the Board on its own initiative determines that a sanction is appropriate. The suggestion is being adopted and implemented in a new paragraph, § 1.616(d). In addition, paragraph (d) expressly provides that a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) requesting the imposition of sanctions, the drawing of adverse inferences or other action under paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of § 1.616.

III. Certificates of Prior Consultation.

Section 1.637(b) currently requires that a miscellaneous motion under § 1.635 contain a certificate stating that the moving party has conferred with all opponents in a good faith effort to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion and indicating whether any other party plans to oppose the motion. In the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, it was proposed to amend paragraph (b) to extend the requirement for such a certificate to preliminary motions filed under § 1.633 and other motions filed under § 1.634. It also was proposed to require the certificate to indicate that the reasons and facts in support of the motion were discussed with each opponent and, if an opponent has indicated that it will oppose the motion, to identify the issues and/or facts believed to be in dispute.

The rationale offered in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking for the amendment was an expectation that consultation would result in a reduction in the number of issues raised by motions under §§ 1.633-34, as well as a reduction in the number of motions filed under those rules. All but one of many comments received in response to the proposal urged that the proposed rule not be adopted. In support, it was said that the proposed rule would unnecessarily increase the time and costs required to file motions under §§ 1.633-34, particularly preliminary motions. PTO, upon reflection, agrees with the comments. Accordingly, the proposal to extend the consultation requirement of § 1.637(b) to §§ 1.633-34 motions is withdrawn. The withdrawal of the proposed rule, however, should not be interpreted as precluding an administrative patent judge from holding a conference call prior to the date preliminary motions are due for the purpose of discussing which preliminary motions the parties plan to file or from entering an order requiring prior consultation as to a particular motion.

Several comments, citing experience with the consultation requirement for § 1.635 motions, suggested that § 1.637(b) be dropped altogether, or be limited at most to motions requesting extensions of time. The suggestion is not being adopted. However, there are circumstances where it may be appropriate to suspend the requirements of § 1.637(b). An example is a multiparty interference where one party may need to consult with a large number of opponents. Another example is a motion filed after a hearing before an administrative patent judge, where filing of the motion was authorized at the hearing. Accordingly, while the suggestion to delete the requirement for consultation altogether is not being adopted, the language "Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge or the Board" is added at the beginning of the first sentence of § 1.637(b).

Several comments were received which were also critical of the proposal to amend § 1.637(b), even if applied only to § 1.635 motions, to require that the certificate "indicate that the reasons and facts in support of the motion were discussed with each opponent and, if an opponent has indicated that it will oppose the motion, identify the issues and/or facts believed to be in dispute." One comment suggested that the proposal is unworkably vague with respect to: (1) the form of the information a party must provide to the opponent (e.g., a draft motion, an outline of the motion, a verbal statement of the motion, the evidence in support of the motion); (2) what form the opponent must use to provide its reasons for opposing (i.e., written or oral); and (3) whether the moving party can change the arguments in the motion in response to the reasons given by the opposing party without the need for another consultation. Other comments noted that an opponent may not have sufficient time before the due date for motions in which to take a reasoned position on the motion. Another comment observed that it is very difficult for the movant to identify the issues or facts believed to be in dispute, unless it is a very cursory exercise. According to the comment, the party cannot know what the opponent is really thinking, and suggested instead that there be an in-person conference involving the parties and the administrative patent judge in order to discuss all intended (or filed) motions. The comments are believed to be well taken and the proposal in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to amend § 1.637(b) to require that the motion, "if an opponent has indicated that it will oppose the motion, identify the issues and/or facts believed to be in dispute" is withdrawn.

IV. Service of a "Developing Record."

In addition to the amendments to § 1.672 discussed above under the heading "Amendments responsive to adoption of Public Laws 103-182 and 103-465," §§ 1.672, 1.682, 1.683 and 1.688 are amended, as proposed (with a few minor modifications discussed infra), to require each party to serve on each opponent a "developing record" that will evolve into the record required to be filed under § 1.653.

As noted above, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend paragraph (b) of § 1.672 to provide that a party presenting testimony of a witness by affidavit shall, no later than the time set by the administrative patent judge for serving affidavits, file (and serve) the affidavit, whether it is a new affidavit or an affidavit previously filed by that party during ex parte prosecution of an application or under § 1.608 or 1.639(b). Furthermore, in view of the proposed amendment to § 1.672(b), it was also proposed to remove and reserve, as superfluous, § 1.671(e), which requires a party to give notice of intent to rely on an affidavit filed by that party during ex parte prosecution of an application or an affidavit under § 1.608 or 1.639(b). An oral comment suggested that § 1.671(e) notice practice be retained with respect to § 1.639(b) affidavits, so that a party does not have to refile (and re-serve) a previously submitted § 1.639(b) affidavit on which it intends to rely at final hearing. The comment further suggested that for the same reason § 1.671(e) notice practice should be extended to patents and printed publications filed and served pursuant to § 1.639(b). The suggestions are being adopted. Section 1.671(e) thus revised reads as follows:

> (e) A party may not rely on an affidavit (including any exhibits), patent or printed publication previously submitted by the party under § 1.639(b) unless a copy of the affidavit, patent or printed publication has been served and a written notice is filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period stating that the party intends to rely on the affidavit, patent or printed publication. When proper notice is given under this paragraph, the affidavit, patent or printed publication shall be deemed as filed under §§ 1.640(b), 1.640(e)(3), 1.672(b) or 1.682(a), as appropriate.

Furthermore, in order to ensure that the evidence submitted under § 1.639(b) includes sequential numbering of the type required of other evidence filed under § 1.672(b), § 1.639(b) is revised to require the use of sequential numbering, which, for the reasons discussed infra, is required to be used only to the extent possible.

As explained supra, in view of the retention of § 1.671(e) in amended form, § 1.672(b), as adopted, permits a party to file an affidavit or, if appropriate, a notice under § 1.671(e).

Sections 1.682, 1.683 and 1.688 are revised, substantially as proposed, to parallel the amendments to § 1.672. Section 1.682(a) as proposed to be amended provides that a party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, an official record or printed publication not identified in an affidavit or on the record during an oral deposition of a witness, by filing (and serving) a copy of the official record or publication no later than the time set for filing affidavits under § 1.672(b), thereby eliminating the current requirement for filing a notice of intent to rely on the official record or printed publication. In view of the retention of § 1.671(e) in amended form to permit a party to file a notice of intent to rely on patents and publications previously filed by the party under § 1.639(b), § 1.682(a), as adopted, permits a party to file a copy of an official record or printed publication or, if appropriate, a notice under § 1.671(e). Section 1.683(a) is amended, as proposed, to provide that a party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, testimony by affidavit or oral deposition from another interference, proceeding, or action involving the same parties by filing (and serving) a copy of the affidavit or a copy of the deposition transcript no later than the time set for filing affidavits under § 1.672(b), thereby eliminating the current requirement for a party for filing a motion under § 1.635 for leave to rely on such testimony. Section 1.688(a) is amended, as proposed, to provide that, if otherwise admissible, a party may introduce into evidence an answer to a written request for an admission or an answer to a written interrogatory obtained by discovery under § 1.687 by filing a copy of the request for admission or the written interrogatory and the answer no later than the time set for filing affidavits under § 1.672(b). Thus, all evidence filed under §§ 1.672, 1.682, 1.683 and 1.688 that relates to a party's case-in-chief should be filed (and served) or noticed under § 1.671(e) no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to serve affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief and all evidence under those sections that relates to the party's rebuttal should be filed (and served) or noticed under § 1.671(e) no later than the date set for the party to serve affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed that the pages of all affidavits and deposition transcripts that a party enters into evidence pursuant to §§ 1.672, 1.682, 1.683 and 1.688 shall include sequential page numbers, which shall also serve as the record page numbers for the affidavits and deposition transcripts in the party's record when it is filed under § 1.653. Likewise, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed that exhibits identified in the affidavits and deposition transcripts and any official records and printed publications served under § 1.682(a) shall be given sequential numbers, which shall serve as the exhibit numbers when the exhibits are filed under § 1.653(i) with the party's record. The major benefit of sequential page numbering is that a particular page of an affidavit or exhibit will be referred to in a consistent manner throughout the record. Thus, when an affiant is subject to cross-examination about the affiant's affidavit or another person's affidavit, the record will be clear as to the material which is the subject of the cross-examination. Correlation of pages of affidavits and/or exhibits will no longer be necessary.

Regarding the sequential numbering of affidavits, one comment noted that:

> while this might be of some minor convenience to the PTO, it is inconvenient for the public, and may be difficult to be accomplished in practice. Due to severe PTO time constraints in preparing affidavits, it is usually essential to amend, add to, rewrite and execute declarations and affidavits in parallel. Often, the declarants are in different physical locations. Modern offices do not have the old fashioned manual impact typewriters that would be required to superpose new page numbers on executed documents. Declarations are already clearly identifiable, by the name of the declarant and the page of his or her declaration. . . .

The comment apparently assumes, incorrectly, that the required sequential numbers are to be used in lieu of the usual page numbers that appear in affidavits and deposition transcripts. The sequential numbers are in addition to the usual page numbers and are typically added to the pages by a sequential numbering device (e.g., a "Bates" stamp).

Since a party may decide not to rely at final hearing on a previously filed § 1.639(b) affidavit (including any exhibits), or on patents and printed publications that it previously filed under § 1.639(b) in connection with a motion, there may be gaps in the sequential numbers of the affidavit pages and exhibits that are relied on at final hearing. Compare, e.g., Federal Circuit Rule 30(c)(2) with respect to pages omitted from an appendix. Furthermore, due to circumstances beyond the party's control it may not be possible to submit the § 1.639(b) affidavits and accompanying exhibits into evidence in the proper order. Finally, the exhibits referred to in testimony under § 1.683 from another proceeding will obviously already have the exhibit numbers assigned to them in that proceeding. When possible, those planning to use exhibits and testimony from a previous interference may wish to avoid using an exhibit number used in the previous interference, thereby minimizing the possibility of confusion which can exist when two exhibits in the same record have the same exhibit number. For these reasons, the proposal to amend § 1.672 to require that testimony pages and exhibits "shall be given sequential numbers" is changed to a requirement that testimony and exhibits "shall be given sequential numbers to the extent possible." This change also applies to evidence submitted under §§ 1.682, 1.683 and 1.688 as amended, which state that the pages of affidavits and deposition transcripts served under those paragraphs and any new exhibits served therewith shall be assigned sequential numbers by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(b). In order to take into account that there may be gaps in page numbers in the record and in the exhibit numbers, § 1.653(d) is revised to state that the pages of the record shall be consecutively numbered "to the extent possible." Sections 1.677(a) and (b) are revised in a similar manner. That is, paragraph (a) is revised to limit its requirement for consecutive page numbering, which the rule currently applies to "the entire record of each party," to the pages of each transcript. Paragraph (b) is revised to require that exhibits be numbered consecutively "to the extent possible."

Section 1.672(a) affidavits and § 1.683(a) testimony shall be accompanied by an index giving the name of each witness and the number of the page where the testimony of each witness begins. The exhibits shall be accompanied by an index briefly describing the nature of each exhibit and giving the number of the page of affidavit or § 1.683(a) testimony where each exhibit identified in an affidavit or during an oral deposition is first identified and offered into evidence.

An opponent who objects to the admissibility of any evidence filed under §§ 1.672(b), 1.682(b), 1.683(a) and 1.688(a) must file objections under §§ 1.672(c), 1.682(c), 1.683(b) and 1.688(b) no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for filing objections to affidavits under paragraph § 1.672(c). An opponent who fails to challenge the admissibility of the evidence on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under §§ 1.672(c), 1.682(c), 1.683(b) or 1.688(b) will not be permitted to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground. If an opponent timely files an objection to evidence filed under §§ 1.672(b), 1.682(b), 1.683(a) or 1.688(a), the party may respond by filing one or more supplemental affidavits and, in the case of objections to evidence filed under §§ 1.672(b), 1.682(b) and 1.683(a), may also file supplemental official records or printed publications. No objection to the admissibility of supplemental evidence shall be made except as provided by § 1.656(h). A party submitting evidence in response to an objection is aware of the objection and should take whatever steps are necessary in presenting supplemental evidence to overcome the objection. Whether the steps were sufficient is determined at final hearing on the basis of a motion to suppress the evidence under § 1.656(h).

The pages of the supplemental affidavits shall be sequentially numbered beginning with the number following the last page number of the testimony served under §§ 1.672(b), 1.683(a) and 1.688(a), if possible. Likewise, any additional exhibits identified in the supplemental affidavits and any supplemental official records and printed publications shall be given sequential numbers beginning with the number following the last number of the previously identified exhibits, if possible. After the time expires for filing objections and supplemental affidavits, or earlier when appropriate, the administrative patent judge shall set a time within which any opponent may file a request to cross-examine an affiant on oral deposition.

If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall notice a deposition at a reasonable location within the United States under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination. Ordinarily, the parties should be able to agree on a "reasonable" place within the United States. Whether a place is a reasonable place depends on the circumstances. Generally a reasonable place within the United States would be the place where a witness resides or the office of one of the counsel of record in the interference. In assessing the reasonableness of a place, the convenience of both parties should be considered. For example, in a two-party interference if an affiant normally resides in Ohio and counsel are located respectively in Illinois and New York, noticing a deposition for Arizona may not be reasonable. In the event agreement cannot be reached, a place will be set by the administrative patent judge for taking the deposition.

Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition.

Within 45 days of the close of the period for taking cross-examination (§ 1.678 is revised to change the time for filing certified transcripts from 45 days to one month), the party shall serve (but not file) a copy of each deposition transcript on each opponent together with copies of any additional documentary exhibits identified by a witness during a deposition. The pages of the transcripts served under this paragraph and the accompanying exhibits shall be sequentially numbered in the manner discussed above. The deposition transcripts shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where cross-examination, redirect and recross of each witness begins, and an index of exhibits of the type specified in § 1.672(b). At this point in time, the opponent will have been served with all of the testimony that will appear in the party's record (with the same page numbers) as well as all of the documentary exhibits that will accompany the record (with the same exhibit numbers).

In the first sentence of § 1.688(a), the comma proposed to be inserted after "evidence" is inserted instead after "admissible."

V. Miscellaneous Amendments.

Although not proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 is revised by changing it from "35 U.S.C. 6" to "35 U.S.C. 6 and 23."

Throughout the rules, the term "examiner-in-chief" is replaced by "administrative patent judge" to reflect the change in the title of the members of the Board. See Commissioner's Notice of October 15, 1993, "New Title for Examiners-in-Chief," 1156 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 332 (Nov. 9, 1993). One comment correctly noted that the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking failed to apply the change to § 1.610(b). The omission has been corrected. Another comment, citing possible confusion over the meaning of the term "administrative patent judge," suggested adding one of the following provisions to § 1.601 to define "administrative patent judge" in either of the following ways:

> An administrative patent judge is a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, or
> An administrative patent judge is an examiner-in-chief (35 U.S.C. 7) or the Commissioner, the Deputy Commissioner or, an Assistant Commissioner when acting as a member of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

Neither suggestion is being adopted. The members of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences are the Commissioner [Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks], the Deputy Commissioner [Deputy Assistant Secretary and Deputy Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks] and the Assistant Commissioners [the Assistant Commissioner for Patents and the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks], and the examiners-in-chief, now administrative patent judges, including the Chief Administrative Patent Judge and the Vice-Chief Administrative Patent Judge, 35 U.S.C. 7(a). While the rules talk in terms of administrative patent judge, it must be recognized that any member of the Board, including a Commissioner-member, may take action in an interference which can be taken by an administrative patent judge.

Section 1.11(e) is revised to allow access to the file of an interference involving a reissue application once the interference has terminated or an award of priority or judgment has been entered as to all counts. Although it was intended that the public have access to any interference that involves a case which is open to the public, and § 1.11(b) provides that a reissue application is open to the public, interferences involving reissue applications were inadvertently not included in current § 1.11(e).

Section 1.192(a), which specifies the contents of the brief of an appellant for final hearing in an ex parte appeal, is revised to state that arguments or authorities not included in the brief will be refused consideration by the Board unless good cause is shown. The rule previously stated that such arguments and authorities may be refused consideration by the Board, without specifying how the Board decides whether or not it should be considered. One comment suggested that the amendment, if adopted, would make PTO less "user friendly" and would increase the burden of mere technicalities on applicants. It is believed that the comment misapprehends the nature of the proposed change, inasmuch as the change would merely codify the "good cause" standard that is currently applied by the Board in determining whether a new argument or authority will be considered.

Section 1.192(c) is revised in several respects. A first amendment simplifies the language used in the rule to refer to a brief filed by an applicant who is not represented by a registered practitioner. A second amendment removes from paragraph (c) the requirement that such a brief be in substantial compliance with the requirements of paragraphs (c)(1), (2), (6) and (7). Experience has shown that it is better to evaluate pro se briefs on a case-by-case basis. Section 1.192(c) is also revised to redesignate current paragraphs (c)(1) through (c)(7) as paragraphs (c)(3) through (c)(9), and to add new paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2). The added paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) require an appellant who has filed an appeal to the Board to identify the real party in interest and any related appeals and interferences. It is necessary to know the identity of the real party in interest so that members of the Board can comply with applicable ethics regulations associated with working on matters in which the member has an interest. The requirement to identify related appeals and interferences is derived in part from Federal Circuit Rule 47.5 and will minimize the chance that the Board will enter inconsistent decisions in related cases.

One comment suggested that the term "real party in interest" be replaced by "owner" in order to avoid confusion with the term "party in interest of record," which appears in PTO's Notice of Allowance and Issue Fee Due (PTO-85B). The suggestion is not being adopted, since it appears unlikely that any confusion will occur.

A comment on behalf of a large U.S. corporation having extensive overseas operations noted that the proposed requirement to identify the real party in interest will impose a substantial burden in appeals to the Board where the real party in interest is a corporation with international operations and many diverse and frequently changing affiliates. The comment was accompanied by a copy of a "Certificate of Interest" previously filed by the corporation in an appeal to the Federal Circuit, which named some three hundred subsidiaries and affiliates in which the corporation had an ownership interest of five percent or more. According to the comment, if ownership interests of less than five percent had been included, the list would have been about twice as long. The comment explained that because the corporation's business interests worldwide are frequently changing, the list would require updating for each and every appeal brief, and questioned whether this burden is justified. Upon consideration of the comment, it is believed, at this particular time, that the proposed rule would be burdensome on the public. Whether in the future more information might be required to the nature of a real party in interest is a matter which can await experience under a rule which requires identification only of the real party in interest. Accordingly, the suggestion is being adopted to the extent of requiring appellants to the Board to identify only the real party in interest. In this respect, § 1.192(c)(1) will parallel an equivalent requirement for briefs in inter partes cases. See § 1.656(b)(1)(ii), as amended.

One comment suggested revising proposed § 1.192(c)(9), which calls for an appendix including the claims on appeal, to include a statement that the rule sets forth the minimum requirements for a brief. According to the comment, the statement would make it clear that § 1.192 does not prohibit inclusion of other materials which an appellant may consider necessary or desirable, a point which the comment noted is explained in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure § 1206, at 1200-6. The suggestion is not being adopted, since it is believed to be apparent from the rule that the requirements set forth therein are the minimum requirements.

Section 1.192 as proposed to be amended in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking includes an amendment to current paragraph (a)(5) ("Grouping of claims"), proposed to be redesignated as paragraph (a)(7), that inadvertently was not discussed in the commentary in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. Specifically, it was proposed to amend that paragraph to state that for each ground of rejection which an appellant contests and which applies to more than one claim, the rejected claims shall stand or fall together with the broadest claim, and that only the broadest claim would be considered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences unless a statement is included that the rejected claims do not stand or fall together and, in the argument under paragraph (c)(8), appellant presents reasons as to why appellant considers the rejected claims to be separately patentable from the broadest claim; merely pointing out what a claim covers is not an argument as to why the claim is separately patentable from the broadest claim. One comment suggested that it is not always clear which is the broadest claim, such as where there are two broad independent claims of differing scope (e.g., claims to ABCDE and ABCDF). The comment suggested that simply saying that the claims stand or fall together, as the current rule does, is probably the best one can do on a generic basis. The points raised by the comment are partly well taken. Paragraph (c)(7), as adopted, therefore reads as follows:

> Grouping of claims. For each ground of rejection which appellant contests and which applies to a group of two or more claims, the Board shall select a single claim from the group and shall decide the appeal as to the ground of rejection on the basis of that claim alone unless a statement is included that the claims of the group do not stand or fall together and, in the argument under paragraph(c)(8) of this section, appellant explains why the claims of the group are believed to be separately patentable. Merely pointing out differences in what the claims cover is not an argument as to why the claims are separately patentable.

Where there is a "broadest" claim, that claim will normally be selected. Where there are two broad claims, such as ABCDE and ABCDF, as mentioned in the comment, the panel assigned to the case will select which claim to consider. The same would be true in a case where there are both broad method and apparatus claims. The rationale behind the rule, as amended, is to make the appeal process as efficient as possible. Thus, while the Board will consider each separately argued claim, the work of the Board can be done in a more efficient manner by selecting a single claim when the appellant does not meet the conditions of paragraph (c)(7) of § 1.192, as adopted. The choice of whether each claim will be considered separately or whether all claims will be considered on the basis of a single claim is a choice to be made by the appellant.

The term "subparagraph," which appeared in §§ 1.192(c)(7) and (c)(8) in their originally proposed form, has been replaced by "paragraph" in those sections as amended.

Section 1.601 in general defines a number of terms used throughout the interference rules. One comment noted that a consistent format is not used throughout the definitions. For example, in § 1.601(q) all defined terms are italicized and in § 1.601(n) the defined terms are in quotation marks. The comment is well taken that there should be uniformity. Accordingly, paragraphs (l), (m) and (n) are revised by italicizing the first occurrence of each of the following defined terms: "junior party", "same patentable invention" and "separate patentable invention."

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending paragraph (f) of § 1.601 in a number of respects, including adding the following sentence: "A count should be broad enough to encompass the broadest corresponding patentable claim of each of the parties." One comment questioned whether the requirement is to be applied only at the time the interference is declared or throughout the interference. The comment notes that after an interference is declared, prior art may come to light which renders unpatentable all of the parties' claims that correspond to the count. The comment suggests that under these circumstances, requiring a count to be patentable over the prior art could mean that there might not be a proper count. According to the comment, a result might be that the Board, whose authority to enter judgments under the rules is limited to claims that correspond to a count (§§ 1.658 and 1.659), would be unable to enter judgment against the claims on the ground of unpatentability. Furthermore, since the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published, it has become apparent that § 1.601(f) could also be clarified in two other respects. First, the count should be broad enough to encompass all of the patentable claims that are designated as corresponding to the count, as opposed to solely each party's broadest corresponding patentable claim, i.e., where a party claims ABCDE in one claim and ABCDF in another claim and both claims are designated to correspond to the count. The current language of the rule can be argued to overlook the situation where a party has specific claims but no generic claim. Second, it should be made clear that the term "patentable" as used in § 1.601(f) in describing the scope of the count means patentable in view of the prior art, as opposed to unpatentability based on non-prior art grounds, e.g., the written description requirement of 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Accordingly, in lieu of the sentence proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.601(f) is revised to include the following sentence: "At the time the interference is initially declared, a count should be broad enough to encompass all of the claims that are patentable over the prior art and designated to correspond to the count." A similar change is made in §§ 1.603 and 1.606. That is, instead of revising these rules to require that each application "must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one patentable claim that corresponds to the count," as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, these rules as amended require that each application "must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim that is patentable over the prior art and corresponds to the count."

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed adding to § 1.601(f) a sentence stating: "A count may not be so broad as to be unpatentable over the prior art." Several comments questioned the meaning of the proposed sentence on the ground that a count, unlike a claim, does not have an effective filing date for purposes of establishing what is available against it as prior art. In view of the comments, the proposal to add the sentence is hereby withdrawn.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend the second sentence of § 1.601(f) by changing "which corresponds" to read "that is designated to correspond." This proposal should have referred instead to the third sentence, which is revised in the manner proposed. It was also proposed to revise the fourth and fifth sentences to read as follows, except that, for the reasons given above, the terms "correspond exactly" and "correspond substantially" are italicized rather than set off by quotation marks:

> A claim of a patent or application which is designated to correspond to a count that is identical to a count is said to correspond exactly to the count. A claim of a patent or application designated to correspond to a count that is not identical to a count is said to correspond substantially to the count.

On oral comment suggested that these sentences could be made clearer by revising them to read as follows:

> A claim of a patent or application that is designated to correspond to a count and is identical to the count is said to correspond exactly to the count. A claim of a patent or application that is designated to correspond to a count but is not identical to the count is said to correspond substantially to the count.

This suggestion is being adopted.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the fifth sentence of § 1.601(f) is revised by removing the phrase "but which defines the same patentable invention as the count," which is used to describe a claim that corresponds to the count but is not identical to the count. The phrase is superfluous because a claim that corresponds to the count by definition is directed to the same patentable invention as the count.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to revise the last sentence of § 1.601(f) to state that: "A phantom count is unpatentable to all parties under the written description requirement of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112." One comment said that the sentence as proposed to be revised is inaccurate supposedly because a phantom count is not necessarily unpatentable to all parties for lacking written description support. According to the comment, a party may have written description support for a new claim identical to the count, yet choose not to present such a claim during the interference for tactical reasons, such as the desire to keep the count narrow enough to prevent an opponent from presenting priority evidence it might be able to produce with respect to a broader count. Another comment suggested that a phantom count be defined as a count that is "broader than the disclosure of any party to the interference." A third comment suggested that patentability under the enablement and best mode requirements be addressed along with patentability under the written description requirement. Apart from the comments, since patentability affects claims rather than counts, the proposal to amend the last sentence of § 1.601(f) is hereby withdrawn and the last sentence in its current form is removed.

One comment suggested counts serve little, if any, purpose under the new rules. The comment states that if PTO nevertheless feels compelled by tradition to have counts, each count should be the alternative union of all the parties' claims that are designated to correspond to the same invention. The suggestion that counts be abolished altogether, while superficially appearing to have considerable merit, is believed to be outside the scope of the present rulemaking and, for that reason, is not being adopted at this time. The suggestion that a count be the alternative union of all of the parties' claims that define the same patentable invention would not appear to require any change in the rules. The formulation of the count, whether by reference to particular claims in the parties' applications/patents or by describing the subject matter of the interference, is a matter within the discretion of PTO at this time.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending § 1.601(g). Specifically, it was proposed to define the effective filing date of an application as the filing date of an earlier application accorded to the application or patent under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121 or 365, or, if no benefit is accorded, the filing date of the application, and to define the effective filing date of a patent as the filing date of an earlier application accorded to the patent under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) or, if no benefit is accorded, the filing date of the application which matured into the patent. The purpose of including the reference to 35 U.S.C. 121 is to eliminate any doubt that a divisional application may be entitled to an earlier filing date in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 121.

One comment suggested that the definition of effective filing date in § 1.601(g) should be expressly keyed to the claims rather than to the applications and patents, since different claims in the same application or patent may have different effective filing dates. The comment also suggested that the rules should be revised to make it clear that a motion under § 1.633(h) to add a reissue application need not be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) for benefit of the patent sought to be reissued. Another comment suggested that the rule be revised to state that the effective filing date referred to in § 1.601(g) is the effective filing date of an application which constitutes a constructive reduction to practice of the subject matter of the count so as to make it clear that the rule is not referring to the effective filing date of an involved claim. These comments demonstrate that there is considerable uncertainty with respect to the interrelationship between benefit issues and priority proof issues, including, among other issues, (a) benefit for a claim, (b) benefit for a count, (c) constructive reductions to practice based on a species disclosed in an earlier application (foreign or domestic) when claims of the U.S. application are not supported under § 119 in the priority document (see In re Gosteli, 872 F.2d 1008, 10 USPQ2d 1614 (Fed. Cir. 1989) and In re Scheiber, 587 F.2d 59, 199 USPQ 782 (CCPA 1978), and compare to the so-called one species is sufficient for priority "rule"), and (d) the fact that under interference practice since 1985, patentability is an issue which can be raised, whereas prior to 1985, priority was "not ancillary" and could not be raised. A notice of proposed rulemaking will be issued in due course to address the issue, as well as other issues raised in comments responding to the current Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. A comment that the language of the proposed amendment to § 1.601(g) fails to take into account the fact that a patent may be accorded benefit of the filing date of an earlier foreign application during the interference is, however, well taken. Accordingly, § 1.601(g) is revised to make clear that a patent may be entitled to benefit under 35 U.S.C. 119.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.601(j) is revised by changing "which" to "that." One comment suggested changing "that corresponds to a count" to "that is designated to correspond to a count" for clarity and consistency with the language in § 1.601(f). The suggestion is being adopted.

In § 1.601, paragraph (l) is revised, as proposed, by changing "assignee" to "assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office."

Paragraph (q) of § 1.601 is revised by deleting "a panel of" as superfluous.

Section 1.602 is revised by changing "within 20 days of" to "within 20 days after." One comment suggested clarification of the meaning of "any right, title and interest," noting involvement in several disputes over whether this includes a relationship such as a non-exclusive license, and also questioned whether the rule requires a party in a three-party interference to disclose that it is paying another party's expenses or attorney fees. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted at this time. The suggestion will be made the subject of a future notice of proposed rulemaking.

Sections 1.603 and 1.606 are revised, as proposed, by deleting the third sentence ("Each count shall define a separate patentable invention.") as redundant in view of the identical sentence in § 1.601(f) and by requiring that each application to be put into interference contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim which is patentable over the prior art and which corresponds to each count. The introductory language in each of these sections ("Before an interference is declared . . .") makes it clear that the patentability requirement applies at the time that the interference is declared, as opposed to at all times during the interference.

One comment suggested that §§ 1.603 and 1.606 be further revised to require the examiner to examine all of the prior art in all of the potential parties' application and patent files in making a patentability determination. The suggestion is not being adopted. Ordinarily, the examiner determines that claims are patentable before an interference is declared. While there may be no express statement, consideration of whether claims are patentable in one application to be placed in an interference normally would involve consideration of prior art in a second application to be placed in the same interference.

In § 1.604, paragraph (a)(1) is revised by changing "his or her" to "its."

In § 1.605, paragraph (a) is revised for clarification essentially in the manner set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. Part of the last sentence of the rules, however, is revised to require an applicant to "explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be designated to correspond to a count in any interference which may be declared." In responding to a request by an examiner to copy a claim for purpose of a possible interference, an applicant should present the exact claim requested by the examiner. Often, however, an applicant may believe that the claim suggested by the examiner is not appropriate. For example, an applicant may believe it cannot support the exact claim requested by the examiner. Accordingly, while the applicant must present the exact claim requested by the examiner, the applicant is also free to suggest that the exact claim is inappropriate, but that other claims proposed by the applicant are more appropriate to be designated as corresponding to a count of any possible interference. Obviously, the applicant is also free to make a suggestion to the examiner as to what the count should be in any interference. The examiner can then determine whether an applicant's alternatively proposed claims are more appropriate than the exact claim suggested.

One comment suggested that § 1.605 further be revised "to include a reminder of the statutory prohibition against an interference copying claims from a patent issued more than one year, (as Rule 607 already does for applicants), since some examiners have been doing it" (original emphasis). The comment is understood to mean that examiners have suggested that applicants copy patent claims in violation of 35 U.S.C. 135(b). The suggested reminder is not incorporated into the rule, because it would not implement or interpret any requirement of law, and, while plausibly legitimate, is better made in administrative instructions, such as the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure.

Section 1.606 is also revised, as proposed, by adding a sentence stating that the claim in the application need not be, and most often will not be, identical to a claim in the patent.

One comment suggested that the last sentence of § 1.606, which the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking did not propose to revise, be revised to apply to application claims as well as patent claims and that the sentence be broken into two sentences for clarity, so as to read as follows:

> At the time an interference is initially declared (§ 1.611), a count shall not be narrower in scope than (i) any application claim designated to correspond to the count and indicated in the form PTO-850 as allowable or (ii) any patent claim designated to correspond to the count. Any single patent claim designated to correspond to the count will be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to contain separate patentable inventions.

The suggestion is being adopted; however, because it is inappropriate to refer to a PTO form in a rule, the following language is used:

> At the time an interference is initially declared (§ 1.611), a count shall not be narrower in scope than any application claim that is patentable over the prior art and designated to correspond to the count or any patent claim designated to correspond to the count. Any single patent claim designated to correspond to the count will be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to contain separate patentable inventions.

One comment questioned why the declaration of interferences under § 1.606 is limited to unexpired patents, suggesting that there are rare cases where it would be very desirable to have an interference between an application and either a patent that has expired or a patent that has lapsed for failure to pay a maintenance fee. The enabling statute, however, authorizes interferences involving patents which are "unexpired." 35 U.S.C. 135(a).

In § 1.607, paragraph (a)(4) is revised to change "his or her" to "its" and to add a new paragraph (a)(6) requiring an applicant seeking an interference with a patent to demonstrate compliance with 35 U.S.C. 135(b), which provides:

> A claim which is the same as, or for the same or substantially the same subject matter as, a claim of an issued patent may not be made in any application unless such a claim is made prior to one year from the date on which the patent was granted.

Requiring an applicant to show compliance with 35 U.S.C. 135(b) before an interference is declared should prevent an interference from being declared where the applicant cannot satisfy § 135(b) with respect to any claim alleged to correspond to the proposed count. One comment suggested that requiring an applicant who has requested an interference with a patent to demonstrate compliance with § 135(b) is ultra vires. The comment argues that In re Sasse, 629 F.2d 675, 207 USPQ 107 (CCPA 1980), precludes an examiner from relying on § 135(b) to refuse to declare an interference and that Sasse can only be overruled by statute or decision of the Federal Circuit in banc, citing Chevron U.S.A., Inc. v. Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc., 467 U.S. 837 (1984). The argument in the comment is not persuasive. Sasse held that a claim added in violation of § 135(b) cannot be rejected by PTO under that statute; it did not hold that PTO cannot refuse to declare an interference where all of an applicant's claims that are proposed to correspond to the count fail to satisfy the statute. In fact, the court specifically held that the effect of § 135(b) is that "a procedural statutory bar arises proscribing the instigation of interferences after a specified time interval." 629 F.2d at 680, 207 USPQ at 110 (original emphasis).

In § 1.608, paragraphs (a) and (b) are revised in several respects, as proposed. First, both paragraphs are revised by removing the information about effective filing dates, which appears instead in § 1.601(g), as amended. Second, the current requirement of paragraph (a) for an affidavit filed by the applicant has been relaxed. Paragraph (a), as amended, permits a statement to be filed by the applicant or a practitioner of record. Third, "sufficient cause" in paragraph (b) of § 1.608 and in other interference rules is changed to "good cause" in order to make it clear that only one "cause" standard is intended. Fourth, "8 1/2 x 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)" is changed to "21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 x 11 inches)" to put the emphasis on the metric measurements. Fifth, the phrase "(§ 1.653(g) and (h))" is revised to read "(§ 1.653(g))" in view of the removal and reservation of § 1.653(h).

One comment stated a belief that there may be some confusion regarding the application of § 1.608(b) when the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment is not priority of invention. According to the comment, while § 1.608(b) appears to include derivation as a basis, it is uncertain whether it applies in a situation where the applicant believes the patent claims are unpatentable over prior art that does not also render unpatentable the applicant's claims. The suggested change is not necessary. The comment's statement that derivation (35 U.S.C. 102(f)) provides a basis for a showing under § 1.608(b) is correct. Section 1.608(b) requires an applicant to explain why the applicant is entitled to judgment vis-a-vis the patentee. As explained in the Notice of Final Rule, 49 FR 48416, 48421 (Dec. 12, 1984), "[t]he evidence may relate to patentability and need not be restricted to priority." Such evidence could be, for example, evidence relating to derivation as noted by the comment.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed that § 1.609(b)(2), be revised to require the examiner's statement (i.e., currently Form PTO-850, also known as the initial interference memorandum) to explain why each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count. It was also proposed that § 1.609(b)(3) be revised to require the examiner's statement to explain "why each claim designated as not corresponding to a count is not directed to the same patentable invention as the count." The purpose of these amendments is to provide the Board and the parties with the benefit of the examiner's reasoning and to provide a better foundation for considering preliminary motions to designate claims as corresponding or as not corresponding to a count.

Paragraph (b)(2) is revised essentially as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. Upon further reflection, no need is seen for the examiner to indicate whether a claim corresponds exactly or substantially to a count.

One comment suggested that the proposed requirement of § 1.609(b)(3) may be unduly burdensome in multi-count interferences if it requires an examiner to explain not only why an involved claim corresponds to one count, but also why that claim does not correspond to each other count. Another comment, apparently construing the proposed language in the same way, suggested that the requirement could be made clearer by modifying the proposed language to read, "why each claim designated as not corresponding to each (or the) count is not directed to the same patentable invention as the count." To make it clear that such a requirement is not intended, the proposed amendment is withdrawn and paragraph (b)(3) is instead revised to read, "why each claim designated as not corresponding to any count is not directed to the same patentable invention as any count." Under § 1.609(b)(3), as adopted, the examiner's statement need not explain why a claim that is designated as corresponding to one count is not directed to the same patentable invention as another count in the interference.

One comment suggested that interferences involving patentees who are incontestably junior could be shortened by amending the rules to require a junior party patentee, prior to the preliminary motion period, to make a prima facie case of priority of the type currently required of junior party applicants by § 1.608. The suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking and is not being adopted, but may be considered in a future notice of proposed rulemaking.

One comment suggested that §§ 1.609(b)(1) and 1.611(c)(6) also be revised to require that the examiner and the declaration notice explain, when there will be more than one count, why each count is patentably distinct from the other counts. The suggestion is being adopted.

Section § 1.610(a) is revised by deleting the language "a panel consisting of at least three members of" as superfluous and by deleting the reference to § 1.640(c), which is revised to allow a request for reconsideration under § 1.640(c) to be decided by an individual administrative patent judge rather than by the Board. Section 1.610(b) is also revised by deleting "Unless otherwise provided in this section," as unnecessary in light of the amendment to paragraph (a).

One comment suggested that § 1.610(a) be revised to provide that an interference is handled throughout, including final hearing, by a single administrative patent judge, thereby avoiding the delays that occur when an issue is deferred to final hearing for decision by a three-member panel. The comment also suggested that § 1.610(b) be revised to provide that, at the discretion of the administrative patent judge, a panel consisting of two or more administrative patent judges may sit at final hearing (as well as deciding interlocutory orders). The suggestions have not been adopted. First, the suggestions are outside the scope of the present rulemaking. Second, the suggestions could not be implemented without amendment of 35 U.S.C. 7(b), which requires that an interference must be decided by at least three members of the Board.

One comment suggested that the second sentence of § 1.610(c) ("Times for taking action shall be set, and the administrative patent judge shall exercise control over the interference such that the pendency of the interference before the Board does not normally exceed two years.") be removed as wishful thinking that only confuses district court judges confronted with a motion to stay a civil action pending the outcome of an interference. The suggestion is not being adopted. The two-year period, while not always attainable, is nevertheless believed to be realistic.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending § 1.611 by redesignating paragraph (c)(8) as paragraph (c)(9) and adding a new paragraph (c)(8) requiring that a notice of declaration of interference state "[w]hy each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count and why each claim designated as not corresponding to a count is not directed to the same patentable invention as the count." For the reasons given above in the discussion of § 1.609(b)(3), the proposed language is changed to read, "[t]he examiner's explanation as to why each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count and why each claim designated as not corresponding to any count is not directed to the same patentable invention as any count." The examiner's explanation should assist the parties in deciding whether to move to have claims designated as corresponding or not corresponding to the count. Normally, parties can expect that a copy of the examiner's explanation will accompany the notice declaring the interference. It should be understood that in declaring the interference, the administrative patent judge is neither agreeing nor disagreeing with the examiner's explanation and that the explanation is not binding on the administrative patent judge or the Board in further proceedings in the interference. As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the first word in each of paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3) is also capitalized.

One comment suggested deleting ", oppositions to the motions, and replies to the motions" from § 1.611(d)(3) as surplusage. The suggestion is being adopted. In addition, paragraphs (d)(1), (d)(2) and (d)(3) are revised to be separately indented under paragraph (d).

Paragraph (a) of § 1.612 is revised to change "opposing party's" to "opponent's" and to add a sentence referring to § 1.11(e) concerning public access to interference files. One comment suggested amending § 1.612(a) to provide for automatic access to an application referred to in an opponent's involved case rather than requiring a motion for access under § 1.635, as under the current rule. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted.

Regarding § 1.613, one comment suggested that paragraph (c) be revised to give an administrative patent judge the authority to decide disqualification questions rather than requiring such questions to be referred to the Commissioner. Under current practice, the authority to decide motions for disqualification of counsel in cases before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interference has been delegated by the Commissioner to the Chief Administrative Patent Judge. Administratively, it is more appropriate that authority to decide disqualification matters be capable of being delegated to specific individuals rather than being assigned to administrative patent judges generally through a rule. The comment also suggested that paragraph (d) be revised to clarify whether "attorney or agent of record" includes an attorney or agent who is merely "of counsel." The term "attorney or agent of record" in the interference rules should be construed in the manner it is defined in 37 CFR 1.34(b). The rules do not recognize, or use, the term "of counsel." Accordingly, the suggestions are not being adopted. Furthermore, each suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking.

Paragraph (a) of § 1.614 is clarified, as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, by changing "the Board shall assume jurisdiction" to "the Board acquires jurisdiction." One comment suggested amending § 1.614(c) ("An administrative patent judge, where appropriate, may for a limited purpose restore jurisdiction to the examiner over any application involved in the interference.") by deleting the current language ", when appropriate," as surplusage in view of "may." The suggestion is being adopted.

In addition to amending § 1.616 to authorize an award of compensatory attorney fees and expenses in appropriate circumstances, as discussed above, current paragraph (b), which is redesignated as paragraph (a)(2), is revised to permit a party to be sanctioned for failing to comply with the rules or an order by entering an order precluding the party from filing "a paper." Current paragraph (b) permits entry of an order precluding the filing only of a motion or a preliminary statement. The term "paper" will be given a broad construction, and includes a motion, a preliminary motion, a preliminary statement, evidence in the form of documents, a brief, or any other paper.

Section 1.617(b) is revised, as proposed, to authorize a party against whom a § 1.617(a) order to show cause has been issued to respond with an appropriate preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), (f) or (g). The reason is that a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c) to redefine the interference, under § 1.633(f) for benefit of the filing date of an earlier application or under § 1.633(g) attacking the benefit accorded a patentee may be appropriate where the count set forth in the notice declaring the interference is not the same as the count proposed in the applicant's showing under § 1.608(b). A preliminary motion under § 1.633(f) or (g) may also be appropriate where the count set forth in the notice declaring the interference is the same as the count proposed in the applicant's showing under § 1.608(b), but the notice either fails to accord the applicant the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application whose benefit was requested in the § 1.608(b) showing or accords the patentee the benefit of the filing date of an earlier application whose benefit the § 1.608(b) showing argued should not be accorded the patentee.

One comment suggested that § 1.617(b) be revised to state that a change of counsel is not "good cause" for presenting additional evidence in response to a § 1.617(a) show cause order, noting the similar amendment proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking for § 1.655(b). The suggestion is not being adopted. Moreover, the statement that a change of attorney is not generally good cause is not being added to § 1.655(b) as proposed. Upon reflection, it is better to leave the term "good cause" to be decided on a case-by-case basis. The proposed amendments to the rules to state that a change of attorney is generally not good cause for considering an issue belatedly raised by a new attorney is generally correct. In fact, recent experience shows that parties often retain new counsel after they find that "they are in trouble in the interference." Retaining new counsel midway through the case is almost never a reason to subject the opponent to starting over again. On the other hand, the rules use the term "good cause" in various places and PTO does not want to incorrectly give the impression that change of attorney is not good cause only when specifically stated in a rule which uses the phrase "good cause." Nor does PTO want to have a per se rule which says that a change of attorney cannot be good cause in any instance, although it would be rare for a change of attorney to be good cause.

One comment suggested that the second sentence of § 1.617(d) be revised to indicate that any statement filed by an opponent may set forth views as to why any (c), (f) or (g) motion filed by the applicant should be denied. The suggestion is not being adopted. The first sentence of § 1.617(d) as revised authorizes an opponent to file an opposition to any (c), (f) or (g) motion filed by the applicant, which opposition should include views as to why any (c), (f) or (g) motion filed by the applicant should be denied.

Another comment suggested that § 1.617(d), which currently prohibits an opponent from requesting a hearing, be revised to permit such a request on the ground that a hearing is the opponent's best chance to pretermit the whole interference process. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending the first sentence of § 1.618(a), which currently reads "The Patent and Trademark Office shall return to a party any paper presented by the party when the filing of the paper is unauthorized by, or not in compliance with the requirements of, this subpart" to read: "An administrative patent judge or the Board shall enter an order directing the return to a party of any paper presented by the party when the filing of the paper is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, this subpart." The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed amending the second sentence of paragraph (a), which currently states that any paper returned "will not thereafter be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office in the interference," by deleting "by the Patent and Trademark Office." One comment questioned why the phrase "by the Patent and Trademark Office" is proposed to be removed. The reason is that the phrase is superfluous. Another comment questioned who is being ordered to return the paper and suggested that § 1.618(a) be revised to simply provide that the administrative patent judge shall return the unauthorized papers, with the understanding that it is the administrative patent judge's secretary who actually mails orders, opinions, etc. The suggestion is being adopted, but with the rule stating that the paper shall be returned by an administrative patent judge or the Board. Although not proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the last sentence of § 1.618(a), which states that a party may be permitted to file a corrected paper under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an administrative patent judge, is revised to also allow the Board to set such conditions.

One comment suggested an amendment to § 1.622(a) to clarify that the inventors named in the preliminary statement do not have to be all of the inventors named in the party's case in interference, citing Larson v. Johenning, 17 USPQ2d 1610 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1990). The comment alternatively suggested dropping preliminary statements altogether on the grounds that they are (a) useless and (b) a snare and a delusion. These suggestions are outside the scope of the present rulemaking and are not being adopted.

Section 1.625(a) is revised, as proposed, by deleting "the invention was made in the United States or abroad and" as surplusage.

Section 1.626 is revised, as proposed, by revising "earlier application filed in the United States or abroad" to read "earlier filed application." The same change is made in §§ 1.630, 1.633(f), 1.633(g), 1.637(c)(1)(vi), 1.637(e)(1)(viii), 1.637(e)(2)(vii) and 1.637(h)(4).

Section 1.628(a) is revised, as proposed, to change "ends of justice" to "interest of justice" to be consistent with the language used in §§ 1.628(a) and 1.687(c), since a single standard is intended. The "interest of justice" requirement will be applied only to corrected preliminary statements that are filed on or after the due date for serving preliminary statements. Where the moving party has not yet seen the opponent's statement, an opponent normally will not be prejudiced by the filing of a corrected statement. One comment raised the following question:

> What is the standard if the motion is filed before the time set by the APJ for service of preliminary motions [sic, statements]? If, as implied by the comments, amendments prior to that date can be made freely, why not simply provide that the preliminary statements (if they are to be retained at all) are to be filed and served on the date set by the APJ pursuant to 37 CFR 1.628(a)? Particularly where it is obvious that the count(s) is or are going to be changed anyway, all of the parties' work preparing and the PTO's work in processing the original preliminary statement is wasted effort anyway.

(Original emphasis; footnote omitted.) The standard for a motion to amend that is filed before service of preliminary statements is that it be accompanied by an affidavit stating when the error occurred and be filed "as soon as practical after discovery of the error." The suggestion that preliminary statements be filed and served on the date set by the administrative patent judge pursuant to 37 CFR 1.628(a) is not understood, since that rule does not provide for setting such a date. Instead, the provisions relating to filing and serving preliminary statements appear in §§ 1.621(a) and 1.631, respectively. To the extent the comment is suggesting that these provisions be revised, the suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking and is not being adopted.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, paragraphs (a), (c)(1) and (d) of § 1.629 are revised to make each consistent with the amendment of the definition of "effective filing date" in § 1.601(g). One comment suggested that in § 1.629(a), second sentence, the comma between "statement" and "as," which was proposed to be removed, be retained for clarity. As suggested, the comma is retained.

The first sentence of § 1.631(a) is revised by removing "by the examiner-in-chief" (first occurrence) as superfluous. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking incorrectly proposed to remove the second occurrence of this phrase. Thus revised and with the remaining occurrences of "examiner-in-chief" changed to "administrative patent judge," the first sentence of § 1.631(a), as it was proposed to be revised, reads as follows: "Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, concurrently with entry of a decision on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633, any preliminary statement filed under § 1.621(a) shall be opened to inspection by the senior party and any junior party who filed a preliminary statement." (The proposed language set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking inadvertently omitted the phrase, "concurrently with entry of a decision on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633," which appears in the current rule and was not proposed to be removed.) In order to make it clear that the phrase "concurrently with entry of a decision on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633" modifies the succeeding phrase rather than the preceding phrase, the second comma is removed, so that the first sentence of § 1.631(a) as revised reads as follows: "Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, concurrently with entry of a decision on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633 any preliminary statement filed under § 1.621(a) shall be opened to inspection by the senior party and any junior party who filed a preliminary statement."

Section 1.632 is revised, as proposed, to more precisely state that a notice of intent to argue abandonment, suppression or concealment must be filed "within ten days after," rather than "within ten days of," the close of the testimony-in-chief of the opponent. One comment suggested that § 1.632 be further revised to (1) state what happens next and (2) provide a period for shifting the burden of proof. The suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, and is not being adopted.

Several comments were received with respect to § 1.633 in general. Two of the comments noted that § 1.642, which presumably was intended to allow an administrative patent judge to add a new party to an interference, has also been used to "request" addition of an application or patent of an already involved party, citing Theeuwes v. Bogentoft, 2 USPQ2d 1378 (Comm'r Pat. 1986). The two comments suggested that § 1.633 be revised to specifically provide for a motion to request addition of an application or patent of a party in order to make it clear that the standards for preliminary motions apply. Two other comments suggested amending §§ 1.633 and 1.637(h) to authorize a motion to add a claim to a party's application or an opponent's application (including a reissue application) to be designated as not corresponding to the count, thereby removing what is alleged to be one of the major drawbacks of the current rules. Still another comment suggested that in order to avoid the inefficiencies that result when prior art surfaces for the first time in a motion under § 1.633(a), which may render moot other preliminary motions, the parties should be required to file and serve all relevant prior art of which they are aware prior to the preliminary motion period. While some of the suggestions have merit, all are outside the scope of the present rulemaking and are not being adopted.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, paragraph (a) of § 1.633 is revised in several respects. The first is to specify that a claim shall be construed in light of the specification of the application or patent in which it appears. The amendment clarifies an ambiguity in PTO interference practice. Previously, the Federal Circuit had interpreted § 1.633 to require an ambiguous claim to be interpreted in light of the patent from which it was copied. In re Spina, 975 F.2d 854, 856, 24 USPQ2d 1142, 1144 (Fed. Cir. 1992). While this interpretation was a possible interpretation of previous § 1.633, PTO had intended that a copied claim be interpreted in light of the specification of the application or patent in which it appears. The rule, as adopted, will make ex parte and inter partes practice the same. A claim that has been added to a pending application for any purpose, including to provoke an interference, will be given the broadest reasonable interpretation consistent with the disclosure of the application to which it is added, as are claims which are added during ex parte prosecution. As explained In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319, 321, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989):

> [d]uring patent examination the pending claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow. When the applicant states the meaning that the claim terms are intended to have, the claims are examined with that meaning, in order to achieve a complete exploration of the applicant's invention and its relation to the prior art. See In re Prater, 415 F.2d 1393, 1404-05, 162 USPQ 541, 550-51 (CCPA 1969) (before the application is granted, there is no reason to read into the claim the limitations of the specification). The reason is simply that during patent prosecution when claims can be amended, ambiguities should be recognized, scope and breadth of language explored, and clarification imposed. Burlington Industries, Inc. v. Quigg, 822 F.2d 1581, 1583, 3 USPQ2d 1436, 1438 (Fed. Cir. 1987); In re Yamamoto, 740 F.2d 1569, 1571, 222 USPQ 934, 936 (Fed. Cir. 1984).

If a party believes an opponent's claim corresponding to the count is ambiguous when construed in light of the opponent's disclosure, the party should move under § 1.633(a) for judgment against the claim on the ground of unpatentability under the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In paragraph (a), "by reference to the prior art of record" is removed as unnecessary. Paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) of § 1.633 are revised by deleting some unnecessary language from each paragraph and by changing "derivation" to "Derivation" in paragraph (a)(2). One comment suggested changing "corresponding to a count" in § 1.633(a) to "designated to correspond to a count" for consistency with § 1.601(f), as amended. The suggestion is being adopted.

Although not proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.633(a) is also revised by adding a sentence requiring that the motion separately address each claim alleged to be unpatentable. For example, where a plurality of claims are alleged to be unpatentable over prior art, the motion must compare each of those claims to the prior art. As a result, a party would not be allowed to allege that all of the opponent's claims that correspond to the count are unpatentable simply because the opponent's claim that corresponds exactly to the count is anticipated by, or would have been obvious in view of, the prior art. At the time an interference is declared, it may appear (and the parties may then believe) that all claims designated as corresponding to a count are directed to the same patentable invention. Once additional prior art is discovered in the preliminary motion period, however, what was the case when the interference was declared may no longer be the case. Hence, a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a) alleging unpatentability over the prior art should address each claim believed to be unpatentable. In the case where a party has two claims, e.g., a genus and a species, if a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a) is filed by an opponent which argues that only the genus is unpatentable, the party will need only respond to the argument relative to the genus. Thus, to the extent there ever was a perception that all claims designated to correspond to a count stand or fall with the "patentability of the count," the rule as adopted attempts to overcome that perception. There is no presumption in an interference that because one claim designated to correspond to a count is unpatentable over the prior art (35 U.S.C. 102(a), (b) and (e)), that all claims are unpatentable over the same prior art. On the other hand, in deciding priority of invention, all claims designated to correspond to a count at the time priority is decided will stand or fall together on the issue of priority.

Section 1.633(b), which concerns motions for judgment on the ground of no interference-in-fact, was proposed to be revised to state that it is possible for claims of opponents presented in "means plus function" format to define separate patentable inventions even though the claims of the opponents contain the same literal wording. The reason is that the sixth paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112, which is applicable to "means plus function" limitations in application claims and patent claims, provides that such limitations are to be construed as covering the corresponding structure disclosed in the associated application or patent and equivalents thereof. In re Donaldson Co., 16 F.3d 1189, 29 USPQ2d 1845 (Fed. Cir. 1994). The proposed change has been adopted, but with the proposed term "opponents" being replaced by "different parties." One comment suggested that in addition to Donaldson, support for the amendment can be found in Blackmore v. Hall, 1905 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 561 (Comm'r Pat. 1905), and the withdrawn opinion in Rion v. Ault, 455 F.2d 570, 172 USPQ 588 (1972) (Rion I), modified, 482 F.2d 948 (CCPA 1973) (Rion II), which the comment says stand for a proposition even broader than the one set forth in the proposed amendment. Inasmuch as Blackmore predates the statutory language in question and Rion I was withdrawn by the CCPA, the suggestion is not being adopted.

Paragraph (i) of § 1.633, which in its current form authorizes a party who opposes a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a), (b) or (g) to file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c) or (d), is revised to additionally authorize a party-patentee to file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(h) to add to the interference an application for reissue of the party's involved patent. Because a reissue application can include an amended or new claim to be designated as corresponding to a count, paragraph (i) as revised gives a patentee an option similar to that afforded in the same situation to a party-applicant, who can file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c)(2) to amend a claim in, or add a claim to, its involved application to be designated as corresponding to a count. One comment suggested further amending § 1.633(i) to authorize a § 1.633(c)(1) motion in response to an opponent's § 1.633(c)(1) motion. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted.

One comment suggested that § 1.636, as proposed to be revised, which requires that a motion under § 1.634 to correct inventorship of a patent or application "be diligently filed after an error is discovered," is ultra vires with respect to patents. The suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking and is not being adopted. The suggestion will be considered in a future rulemaking.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending paragraph (a) of § 1.637 to incorporate the essence of a notice of August 10, 1990, published as "Interferences - Preliminary Motions for Judgment," 1118 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 19 (Sept. 11, 1990). Specifically, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed adding the following language at the end of the paragraph:

> If a party files a motion for judgment under § 1.633(a) against an opponent based on the ground of unpatentability over prior art, and the dates of the cited prior art are such that the prior art appears to be applicable to the party, it will be presumed, without regard to the dates alleged in the preliminary statement of the party, that the cited prior art is applicable to the party unless there is included with the motion an explanation, and evidence if appropriate, as to why the prior art does not apply to the party. If the motion fails to include a sufficient explanation or evidence, the party will not be permitted to rely on any such explanation or evidence in response to or in any subsequent action in the interference.

Two comments suggested that the proposed last sentence is imprecise in that although it is presumably intended to preclude a party whose motion an administrative patent judge has held to include an insufficient explanation or evidence from later supplementing the explanation or evidence offered in the motion, the sentence is broad enough to be construed as also precluding the party from relying on the arguments and evidence that were offered in the motion. Accordingly, one of the comments suggested that the proposed last sentence be replaced by the following two sentences: "If the administrative patent judge holds that the motion fails to include a sufficient explanation or evidence as to why the cited prior art is not applicable to the party, the party will not be permitted to supplement any such explanation or evidence in any subsequent action in the interference. However, the party is not precluded from subsequently arguing that the administrative patent judge's decision was incorrect." The substance of the suggestions is believed to be correct, but the suggested language will not be adopted. Instead, § 1.637(a) is revised to read:

> A party filing a motion has the burden of proof to show that it is entitled to the relief sought in the motion. Each motion shall include a statement of the precise relief requested, a statement of the material facts in support of the motion, in numbered paragraphs, and a full statement of the reasons why the relief requested should be granted. If a party files a motion for judgment under § 1.633(a) against an opponent based on the ground of unpatentability over prior art, and the dates of the cited prior art are such that the prior art appears to be applicable to the party, it will be presumed, without regard to the dates alleged in the preliminary statement of the party, that the cited prior art is applicable to the party unless there is included with the motion an explanation, and evidence if appropriate, as to why the prior art does not apply to the party.

Rather than specify a particular sanction for failure of a party to comply with § 1.637(a), as adopted, it is more appropriate to rely on application of the provisions of § 1.618. A party who fails to timely include the explanation and/or evidence required by the rule runs a considerable risk that an explanation and/or evidence presented at a future time will be returned as untimely. See § 1.618(a). Papers which are returned are not considered part of the record.

Section 1.637(a) was proposed to be revised to state that the statement of material facts be "preferably in numbered paragraphs." One comment suggested that numbered paragraphs be a requirement, because it would make matters easier for opponents as well as administrative patent judges. The suggestion is being adopted. Ordinarily, it will be expected that each numbered paragraph will recite a single fact which can easily be "admitted" or "denied." The use of numbered paragraphs should make the decision-making process of the administrative patent judge easier.

Another comment suggested that § 1.637(a) be revised to require that motions, oppositions and replies be numbered sequentially, so that party X's opposition No. 1 will be its opposition to party Y's motion No. 1, etc. The suggestion, while having considerable merit, is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, and is not being adopted. The suggestion will be made the subject of a future rulemaking effort. In papers filed in PTO in interference cases, there is an increasing tendency for parties to use "long" titles, e.g., PARTY SMITH'S PRELIMINARY MOTION FOR DECLARATION OF PARTY OPPONENT RAYMOND'S CLAIMS TO BE UNPATENTABLE UNDER 37 CFR § 1.633(a). The opponent then responds with an opposition styled PARTY RAYMOND'S OPPOSITION TO PARTY SMITH'S PRELIMINARY MOTION FOR DECLARATION OF PARTY OPPONENT RAYMOND'S CLAIMS UNPATENTABLE UNDER 37 CFR § 1.633(a). The reply then tends to be PARTY SMITH'S REPLY TO PARTY RAYMOND'S OPPOSITION TO PARTY SMITH'S PRELIMINARY MOTION FOR DECLARATION OF PARTY OPPONENT RAYMOND'S CLAIMS UNPATENTABLE UNDER 37 CFR § 1.633(a). It should be apparent that the styling of the paper loses its significance. Accordingly, pending a further rulemaking effort parties in interference can simplify matters by voluntarily adopting the essence of the suggestion by replacing the styling of the three papers identified above with the following: (1) SMITH'S PRELIMINARY MOTION NO. 1; (2) RAYMOND'S OPPOSITION NO. 1; and (3) SMITH'S REPLY NO. 1. If numerous motions are filed, then sequential numbers can be used. In a two-party interference, if the parties can agree, one can use numbers and the other letters. In any event, it would be of considerable help to the Board if the style of a paper does not exceed a single line.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.637(a) is also revised by changing "Every" in the second sentence to "Each."

Section 1.637(c)(1) sets forth the requirements for a preliminary motion to add or substitute a proposed count. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending paragraph (c)(1)(v) in two respects: (1) to require a moving party to show that the proposed count is patentable over the prior art; and (2) to specify that a proposed substitute count need only be shown to be patentably distinct from the other counts proposed to remain in the interference, since a proposed substitute count need not be patentably distinct from the count it is to replace. Several comments opposed amending § 1.637(c)(1)(v) to require a party to show that a proposed new count is patentable over the prior art, stating, inter alia, that the date of a count for purposes of determining what is available as prior art is not clear. The statements in the comment are well taken for the reasons given above in the discussion of § 1.601(f). Accordingly, the proposal to amend paragraph (c)(1)(v) to require the moving party to show the patentability of a proposed new count over the prior art is withdrawn. Paragraph (c)(1)(v) is revised only to require that a proposed substitute count must be shown to be patentably distinct from the other counts proposed to remain in the interference.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.637(c)(1)(vi) is revised to clarify that a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c)(1) need not be accompanied by a preliminary motion for benefit under § 1.633(f) unless the moving party seeks benefit with respect to the proposed count

In order to eliminate the need for an opponent to respond to a § 1.633(c)(1) motion with a preliminary motion under § 1.633(f) claiming benefit, which has the effect of delaying a decision on the § 1.633(c)(1) motion, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed amending § 1.637 by adding a new paragraph (c)(1)(vii) reading as follows:

> If an opponent is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application in the notice of declaration of the interference, show why the opponent is not also entitled to benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count. Otherwise, the opponent will be presumed to be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count.

One comment suggested clarifying the first sentence by inserting "and if the movant desires a holding that its opponent is not entitled to the benefit of the filing date of the earlier filed application for the proposed count" after "interference." The same change was suggested for proposed new §§ 1.637(e)(1)(ix) and 1.637(e)(2)(viii), which are identical to § 1.637(c)(1)(vii). The suggestion is not being adopted. The rule, as amended, states that a moving party must take a positive action if it believes an opponent is not entitled to benefit for a new count. Failure to take the positive action creates a presumption. The rule, as amended, also states the consequences of not taking a positive action. Taking the positive action is the manner to procedurally attempt to overcome the presumption. Hence, the suggested "clarification" is not necessary.

As proposed, minor housekeeping amendments are made to §§ 1.637(c)(2)(ii) and (iii) for clarification, and §§ 1.637(c)(2)(iv) and 1.637(c)(3)(iii), which relate to § 1.633(f) motions for benefit, are removed and reserved as unnecessary, since motions under § 1.633(c)(2) and (3) do not affect the count. Section 1.637(c)(3)(ii), which applies to motions under § 1.633(c)(3) to designate a claim as corresponding to a count, is revised to have claims compared to claims, as is the case in § 1.633(c)(4)(ii), which applies to motions filed under § 1.633(c)(4) to designate a claim as not corresponding to a count. The amendment avoids the need to compare claims to counts.

Section 1.637(c)(4)(ii) was proposed to be revised to require that a party moving to designate a claim as not corresponding to a count must show that the claim could not serve as the basis for a preliminary motion under § 1.633(c)(1) to add a new count. As proposed to be, the rule precludes a party from moving to designate one of its claims as not corresponding to the count where an opponent's disclosure would support a similar claim. The supporting rationale is that the party could file a § 1.633(c)(1) preliminary motion proposing a claim to be added to the opponent's application and suggesting that the proposed claim and the party's claim in question be designated as corresponding to a proposed new count. One comment argues that the proposed amendment would unduly burden a party by requiring it to propose claims to be added to an opponent's application, whereas under the current rule the opponent, who has the option to propose such a count and add such a claim in a motion under § 1.633(c)(1), runs the risk of interference estoppel by not pursuing an interference on common patentable subject matter. Thus, the comment notes that the effect of the proposed requirement would be to require a party to prevent its opponent from possibly getting itself into an estoppel situation. The point of the comment is well taken. Accordingly, the proposal to amend § 1.637(c)(4) in the manner criticized by the comment hereby withdrawn.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.637(d)(4), which authorizes a party to file a motion for benefit together with a motion under § 1.633(d), is removed and reserved as unnecessary. Motions filed under § 1.633(d) do not affect the count. Sections 1.637(e)(1)(viii) and (e)(2)(vii) are revised to make it clear that a preliminary motion under §§ 1.633(e)(1) or (e)(2) need not be accompanied by a preliminary motion for benefit under § 1.633(f) unless the moving party seeks benefit with respect to the proposed count. As proposed, §§ 1.637(e)(1)(ix) and (e)(2)(viii) are added specifying that where a party is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application in the notice of declaration of the interference, that party is presumed to be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count.

Section 1.637(f)(2) is revised, as proposed, by changing "abroad" to "in a foreign country" and removing both occurrences of "filed abroad" as superfluous.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend § 1.637(h) by adding a sentence stating that "[a] patentee may not move under § 1.633(h) to add a reissue application that includes new or amended claims to be designated as not corresponding to a count." The purpose of the proposal was to make clear that a preliminary motion to add a reissue application that includes a new or amended claim to be designated as not corresponding to a count will be given the same treatment as a preliminary motion proposing to amend a claim in, or add a new claim to, an involved application to be designated as not corresponding to the count, i.e., the preliminary motion will be dismissed. See L'Esperance v. Nishimoto, 18 USPQ2d 1534, 1537 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1991) (interference rules do not authorize a motion by party-applicant to amend or add a claim to be designated as not corresponding to the count). Several comments were received in opposition to this proposal, one of which stated:

> As understood, this would prevent moving to add any reissue application to an interference if even a single claim of that reissue was independently patentable, i.e., properly not subject to the interference, even if some or most of the other claims were the same as, or patentably indistinct from, claims already subject to the interference.
> It is not seen why patent owners should be deprived of their statutory and normal ex parte right to have and maintain reissue applications with appropriate claims to inventions disclosed in their specifications, simply to meet a new interference rule requirement that appears to be solely for administrative convenience for the interference proceeding.

The statement in the comment is justified. The rule as proposed to be revised would unfairly preclude a patentee whose involved claims are all held to be unpatentable during the interference (e.g., under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, for lack of written description support) from adding a reissue application that contains new or amended claims to be designated as corresponding to a count simply because the reissue application also happens to include a new or amended claim to be designated as not corresponding to a count. Accordingly, the proposed amendment to paragraph (h) is hereby withdrawn.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.638(b) is revised by changing "a reply" to "any reply."

One comment suggested amending § 1.638(a) to take into account that an opposition may be based on material facts that are not set forth in the motion, by changing "(2) include an argument why the relief requested in the motion should be denied" to "(2) set forth in numbered paragraphs any material facts in support of the opposition not set forth in the motion and include an argument why the relief requested in the motion should be denied." A similar amendment was suggested for paragraph (b) as to replies. The suggestions, which are outside the scope of the present rulemaking, are not being adopted. The suggestions would appear to have considerable merit and will be made the subject of a future rulemaking effort.

Paragraph (a) of § 1.639, which currently requires that a motion, opposition or reply be accompanied by the evidence on which a party intends to rely in support of or in opposition to a motion, is revised as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to be consistent with paragraphs (c) through (g), which permit some types of evidence to be filed after filing of the motion, opposition or reply. In addition, paragraph (d)(1) is revised, as proposed, by changing "call" to "use."

One comment expressed concern about § 1.639(a) to the extent it is construed as requiring that all available evidence in support of a motion, opposition or reply must be filed and served with the motion, opposition or reply, which is presumed to be a reference to the construction given § 1.639 in Irikura v. Petersen, 18 USPQ2d 1362, 1368 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1990):

> A good faith effort must be made to submit evidence to support a preliminary motion or opposition when the evidence is available. Orikasa v. Oonishi, [10 USPQ2d 1996, 2000 n.12 (Comm'r Pat. 1989)]. Note the commentary [Patent Interference Proceedings; Final Rule,] 49 F.R. [48416], at 48442 (Dec. 12, 1984), 1050 O.G. [385], at 411 (Jan. 29, 1985)], [corrections] 50 F.R. 23122 (May 31, 1985), 1059 O.G. 27 (Oct. 22, 1985).

See also Okada v. Hitotsumachi, 16 USPQ2d 1789, 1790 (Comm'r Pat. 1990). Specifically, the comment notes that:

> [t]o permit testimony beyond the evidence filed with the motion, has been likened to "two bites of the apple". I think there is a misunderstanding here, it is not two bites.
> For example, a motion for summary judgment that is denied, [sic] does not preclude the party from proving his case at trial with additional evidence. Two bites comes if, after decision on motion, a party tries to bring a second motion with additional evidence or argument, or # after trial and judgment, the loser wants to introduce more evidence that was available all along. I see nothing wrong with an interference party submitting the prior art and arguing that "any fool can plainly see" the subject matter of the count is obvious. That's a sort of motion for summary judgment on the issue. If the APJ does not perceive the obviousness to be apparent, he or she should invite the parties to present additional testimony on obviousness during the testimony time, not block it. Obviously, the same reasoning would apply to enablement, operability, same patentable invention, etc.

(Original emphasis.) The suggestion that the rules be revised to permit a party to later submit evidence that it could have submitted in support of or in opposition to a preliminary motion is declined for the reasons given in Hanagan v. Kimura, 16 USPQ2d 1791, 1793 (Comm'r Pat. 1990) ("the new interference rules were not intended to permit routine requests to take testimony in lieu of presenting timely affidavits and other available proof of material [facts] with the motion"). See also Staehelin v. Secher, 24 USPQ2d 1513, 1515 n.3 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1992).

Another comment suggested amending the rules to permit the filing of a motion for "summary judgment" shortly (e.g., within two months) after the interference is declared on a matter that may be dispositive of the interference, such as the absence of an interference-in-fact, unpatentability of all of the parties' claims that correspond to the count or unpatentability of all of the opponent's claims that correspond to the count, with testimony being restricted to affidavits and counter-affidavits. Compare Fed. R. Civ. P. 56. The comment continues that if the motion is denied by the administrative patent judge, there would be no right of appeal; if the motion is granted, the opponent could appeal to a three-member panel of the board and, if the panel concurs with the decision of the administrative patent judge, the opponent could seek judicial review. To the extent the suggestion is seeking a rule authorizing motions for summary judgment like those provided for in Fed. R. Civ. P. 56, the suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking and is therefore not being adopted. In a future rulemaking effort, PTO will consider whether there is an advantage to be gained by some form of "summary judgment" motion.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend § 1.640(b) in several respects. First, it was proposed to add a first sentence providing that "[u]nless an administrative patent judge or the Board is of the opinion that a decision on a preliminary motion would materially advance the resolution of the interference, decision on a preliminary motion shall be deferred to final hearing." One comment indicated that requiring deferral of non-dispositive motions may adversely affect settlement of interferences:

> Under the current procedure, where most motions are initially decided, if a party is faced with a particular decision on a non-dispositive motion, that decision may affect the party's willingness to settle with the opposing party, even knowing that the decision may be changed at final hearing. For example, if a party has proposed a new count that better fits its proofs and the motion proposing the new count is denied, the party may be willing to request adverse judgment (e.g., in exchange for a license) rather than try to prove invention of the original count for which its proofs are not as good, even knowing that there is a chance that the proposed count may be adopted at final hearing. Similarly, a party that has succeeded in having important claims designated as not corresponding to the count may be willing to settle on that basis, even though it may lose certain other claims. To the extent that early decisions on preliminary motions motivate settlement in that way, the proposed amendments will decrease the settlement rate of interferences, adding to the workload of the Board and of practitioners.

While the comment can be correct in some interferences, it may not be true in other interferences. In those interferences where decision on a preliminary motion is likely to lead to settlement, the parties should approach the administrative patent judge and discuss the matter. The administrative patent judge will then be in a position to make an informed decision on an "opinion that an earlier decision on a preliminary motion would material advance the resolution of the interference." Amending the rule, as proposed, will advance resolution of interferences where settlement is not likely, while at the same time giving the parties a means by which to inform the administrative patent judge that a decision on a particular motion would assist the settlement process.

One comment suggested that the proposed language could be clarified by changing "a decision" (first occurrence) to "an earlier decision" so that the sentence reads: "Unless an administrative patent judge or the Board is of the opinion that an earlier decision on a preliminary motion would materially advance the resolution of the interference, decision on a preliminary motion shall be deferred to final hearing." The suggestion is being adopted.

Another comment stated that the second sentence of § 1.640(b) as proposed to be revised ("Motions otherwise will be decided by an administrative patent judge.") is somewhat confusing and asks whether it is intended to mean that if the administrative patent judge decides not to defer a motion to final hearing, the administrative patent judge will then decide the motion. Any possible ambiguity is avoided by changing "otherwise" to "not deferred to final hearing."

Although not proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the sentence in § 1.640(b) which currently reads "[a]n administrative patent judge may consult with an examiner in deciding motions involving a question of patentability" is changed to "[a]n administrative patent judge may consult with an examiner in deciding motions" to avoid any uncertainty that the administrative patent judge is free to consult with an examiner on any preliminary motion.

Still another comment suggested that the fourth sentence of § 1.640(b) as proposed to be revised ("An administrative patent judge may take up motions for decision in any order and may grant or deny any motion or take such other action which will secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference.") be changed to read as follows to make it clear that the goal of ensuring a just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference applies to the choice of order of deciding motions: "An administrative patent judge may take up motions for decision in any order, may grant or deny any motion, and may take such other action which will secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference." The suggestion is being adopted. The rule is also revised to make absolutely clear that, among other things, an administrative patent judge may dismiss a motion, e.g., when a motion does not comply with a rule. The addition of the possibility of "dismissing" a motion augments the sanction available under § 1.618(a), i.e., return of a paper.

One comment suggested adding a provision to § 1.640(b) specifically recognizing the authority of the administrative patent judge, for the purpose of promoting the just, speedy and inexpensive resolution of the interference, "to schedule a final hearing on deferred preliminary motions prior to the time of testimony on priority, etc. See also § 1.654(a)." The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. The suggestion will be considered in a future rulemaking effort, although it should be noted that nothing in the rules should be construed as precluding an administrative patent judge or the Board from ordering a "final" hearing on a particular issue. Whether such a "final hearing" is ordered is within the sound discretion of the administrative patent judge or the Board.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.640(b) is also revised to state that "[a] matter raised by a party in support of, or in opposition to, a motion that is deferred to final hearing will not be entitled to consideration at final hearing unless the matter is raised in the party's brief at final hearing." One comment questioned whether it will be sufficient to simply incorporate the deferred motion and reply into the brief. The answer is no. With the exception of a motion to suppress, which may be filed as a separate paper together with a party's brief (§ 1.656(h)), and papers properly belatedly filed after the brief has been filed, the brief must satisfy the requirements of § 1.656(b) with respect to all issues to be decided at final hearing, including the requirement for a statement of the issue (§ 1.656(b)(4)), a statement of the relevant facts (§ 1.656(b)(5)), and an argument (§ 1.656(b)(6)). It will be noted at this point, that the Board generally discourages the practice of incorporating an argument in one paper into a second paper. The reason is that the argument in the first paper can easily be overlooked in considering the second paper, i.e., when an administrative patent judge studies a motion, opposition, or reply at home only to find that the "incorporated paper" is not available.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.640(b) is revised to state that "[i]f the administrative patent judge determines that the interference shall proceed to final hearing on the issue of priority or derivation, a time shall be set for each party to file a paper identifying any decisions on motions or on matters raised sua sponte by the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed at final hearing as well as identifying any deferred motions that the party wishes to have considered at final hearing." One comment questioned why the statement of matters to be reviewed at final hearing is limited to final hearings on "priority or derivation." The reason is that final hearings on priority and/or derivation are the only types of final hearing that will be scheduled pursuant to § 1.640(b). Final hearings that are requested in response to show cause orders under § 1.640(d) are set pursuant to § 1.640(e), which, as amended likewise requires statements identifying the matters to be reviewed at final hearing.

Section 1.640(b) was also proposed to be revised by adding as the last sentence: "Any evidence that a party wishes to have considered with respect to the decisions and motions identified by the party or by an opponent for consideration or review at final hearing, including any affidavit filed by the party under § 1.608 or 1.639(b), shall be served on the opponent during the testimony-in-chief period of the party." In order to be consistent with the terminology in the preceding sentence of § 1.640(b), the phrase "decisions and motions" in the proposed last sentence is replaced by "decisions and deferred motions." Furthermore, the last sentence, as adopted, has been worded to takes into account the retention and amendment of § 1.671(e) to permit a party to file a notice of intent to rely on affidavits, patents and printed publications previously submitted under § 1.639(b). Accordingly, the last sentence, as adopted, reads: "Any evidence that a party wishes to have considered with respect to the decisions and deferred motions identified by the party or by an opponent for consideration or review at final hearing shall be filed or, if appropriate, noticed under § 1.671(e) during the testimony-in-chief period of the party."

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the last sentence of § 1.640(b)(1) ("After the time expires for filing any amendment and supplemental preliminary statement, the examiner-in-chief will, if necessary, redeclare the interference.") is changed to read: "At an appropriate time in the interference, and when necessary, an order will be entered redeclaring the interference." One comment requested clarification of the meaning of "when necessary" and suggested that redeclaration should be required when the order of parties is changed but the count remains the same, in order to make it clear who is junior and who is senior. The suggestion, which included no specific language for its implementation and is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. It will be considered in a future rulemaking effort.

Section 1.640(b)(2), which currently states that a preliminary motion filed after a decision is entered on preliminary motions under § 1.633 will not be considered except as provided by § 1.655(b), is revised to state that a preliminary motion filed after the time expires for filing preliminary motions will not be considered except as provided by § 1.645(b) by changing "1.655(b)" to "1.645(b)." Section 1.645(b) relates to consideration of belatedly filed papers in general.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend § 1.640(c), which currently requires an administrative patent judge or the Board to specifically authorize an opposition to a request for reconsideration of a decision by an administrative patent judge, to authorize an opponent to file an opposition, thereby saving the administrative patent judge or the Board the time it would otherwise take to determine whether to authorize an opposition. An opposition is normally required before the Board will modify the decision of an administrative patent judge. One comment suggested that because the Board frequently dismisses or denies requests for reconsideration without requesting an opposition, the proposed amendment will have the effect of unnecessarily increasing costs by encouraging the filing of oppositions that the Board may frequently find unnecessary to consider. The point is well taken and the proposal to amend § 1.640(c) to authorize oppositions to be filed without leave of the administrative patent judge is therefore withdrawn.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the last sentence of § 1.640(c) is removed in order to authorize a single individual administrative patent judge to decide a request for reconsideration and is also revised to require that a request for reconsideration be filed by hand or Express Mail. The amendment of the rule should not be construed as limiting the authority of the Board, in the discretion of an administrative patent judge or the Board, to decide a request for reconsideration.

One comment suggested amending the second sentence of § 1.640(c) to permit service by next-business-day courier, arguing that hand delivery is often impractical and Express Mail unduly difficult. The comment also suggested that paragraph (c) be revised to allow reconsideration of a decision on motions, which is currently limited to identifying points that have been "misapprehended or overlooked," on the additional ground that the decision is simply wrong on the merits, noting that decisions on reconsideration in several interferences agreed that a decision is wrong on the merits but refused to change it on the grounds that nothing was overlooked or misapprehended. Both of these suggestions are outside the scope of the present rulemaking and are not being adopted. However, pending a future rulemaking effort, the word "served by hand" in § 1.640(c) and elsewhere in the rules should be construed to include service by next-business-day courier. In using a next-business-day courier, a party is serving the paper by hand, the "hand" being the courier service. Hence, service by hand will be construed to include service by any commercial courier which performs a service essentially equivalent to the Express Mail service provided by the U.S. Postal Service. Pending further rulemaking, the date of service shall be the date of delivery to the courier.

Section 1.640(d)(1), which currently states that an order to show cause under that section may be based on a decision on a motion which is dispositive of the interference against a party as to any count, is revised, as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, to also include decisions on dispositive matters raised sua sponte by an administrative patent judge.

Section 1.640(e) is revised, as proposed, to incorporate the substance of the Notice of December 8, 1986, published as "Interference Practice: Response to Order to Show Cause Under 37 CFR 1.640," 1074 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 4 (Jan. 6, 1987), 1086 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 282 (Jan. 5, 1988). Specifically, § 1.640(e), as amended, provides that where the order to show cause was issued under § 1.640(d)(1), the party may file a paper (i) requesting that final hearing be set to review the decision which is the basis for the order and identifying every other decision of the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing, or (ii) fully explaining why judgment should not be entered. Any opponent is permitted to file a response to the paper within 20 days of the date of service of the paper. Where the order was issued under § 1.640(d)(1), and the paper includes a request for final hearing, the opponent's response must identify every decision of the administrative patent judge that the opponent wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing. Where the order was issued under § 1.640(d)(1) and the paper does not include a request for final hearing, the opponent's response may include a request for final hearing, which must identify every decision of the administrative patent judge that the opponent wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing. Where an opponent's response includes a request for a final hearing, the party who filed the paper shall have 14 days from the date of service of the opponent's response in which to file a supplemental paper identifying any other decision of the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing. The paper or the response thereto shall be accompanied by a motion (§ 1.635) requesting a testimony period if a party wishes to introduce any evidence to be considered at final hearing (§ 1.671), such as affidavits previously filed under § 1.639(b). A request for a testimony period will be construed as including a request for final hearing. If the paper contains an explanation of why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order and no party has requested a final hearing, the decision that is the basis for the order shall be reviewed based on the contents of the paper and the response. If the paper fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party against whom the order issued.

One comment suggested that in view of the proposed addition to § 1.640(b) to create a presumption of deferral of nondispositive preliminary motions, a provision should be added allowing the parties to request that the Board also consider deferred preliminary motions at a § 1.640(e) final hearing. The comment has merit and, while not being adopted specifically at this time, will be made the subject of future rulemaking. In the interim, and consistent with the second sentence of § 1.601, the rules should be construed to give the administrative patent judge the maximum discretion to determine what issues might be considered at any final hearing set as a result of entry of an order to show cause.

One comment suggested that § 1.640(e)(1) be revised to automatically authorize the party who filed a paper in response to a § 1.640(d) show cause order to file a reply to an opponent's response in order to avoid the need for motions to file such replies. The suggestion is outside the scope of the present rulemaking and is not being adopted. Another comment suggested adding a provision to § 1.640(e) similar to the last sentence of proposed § 1.640(b) so that parties can include § 1.639 preliminary motion proofs in the record for consideration at a § 1.640(e) final hearing. The suggestion is being adopted. Accordingly, the penultimate sentence of § 1.640(e)(3), as adopted, reads: "Any evidence that a party wishes to have considered with respect to the decisions and deferred motions identified by the party or by an opponent for consideration or review at final hearing shall be filed or, if appropriate, noticed under § 1.671(e) during the testimony period of the party."

One comment suggested modifying the first sentence of proposed § 1.640(e)(4) ("If the paper contains an explanation of why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order and no party has requested a final hearing . . . .") by changing "order and" to read "order, and if." The suggestion is being adopted.

Two comments suggested that interferences can be expedited and the costs reduced by amending the rules to formalize the procedure of having an administrative patent judge conduct a hearing after the filing of motions, oppositions and replies on issues that are potentially dispositive of the interference, as has been done on an experimental basis in several interferences. The comment indicates that such a procedure should reduce time and costs, encourage settlements, reduce issues, and help parties reach stipulations. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. The suggestion will be the subject of future rulemaking. In the interim, there is nothing in the rules to preclude a party from requesting a hearing on a dispositive motion. Whether a hearing is conducted is a matter within the discretion of the administrative patent judge.

Section 1.641 currently provides that an administrative patent judge who becomes aware of a reason why a claim designated to correspond to a count may not be patentable should notify the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views. After considering the views, the administrative patent judge determines how the interference shall proceed. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed to amend § 1.641 to state that a party's views "may include argument or appropriate preliminary motions under § 1.633(c), (d) or (h), including any supporting evidence." After the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published it became apparent that the proposed language is ambiguous as to (1) whether evidence can be submitted in support of argument as well as in support of appropriate motions and (2) as to whether a party who agrees with the administrative patent judge's determination of unpatentability is entitled to file motions under §§ 1.633(c), (d) and (h). These possible ambiguities are avoided by amending the rule to state that a party's views may include argument, including any supporting evidence, and in the case of the party whose claim may be unpatentable, may also include one or more appropriate preliminary motions under § 1.633(c), (d) and (h), including any supporting evidence. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed amending § 1.641 to state that "[a]fter considering any timely filed views, including any timely filed preliminary motions under § 1.633, the administrative patent judge shall decide how the interference shall proceed." Inasmuch as the proposed language fails to take into account any oppositions and replies for the motions, the rule is instead revised to read: "After considering any timely filed views, including any timely filed preliminary motions under § 1.633, oppositions and replies, the administrative patent judge shall decide how the interference shall proceed.

"One comment responded to the proposed amendments of § 1.641 as follows:

> The action taken by an administrative patent judge under this rule should be described as, in effect, a section 1.633(a) motion by the administrative patent judge. The action should point out that any party disagreeing with the administrative patent judge should respond in the same fashion as it would in opposing a section 1.633(a) motion including the submission of all available evidence underrule 1.639. By taking action under this rule, an administrative patent judge* becomes the (or an) adversary to at least one party in the interference and therefore any decision on such a motion by an administrative patent judge should be deferred to final hearing and the administrative patent judge who took the action should not be a member ofthe panel at final hearing. Other possibilities would be to remand the matter to the primary examiner for his or her decision as to whether there is any merit to the purported ground of unpatentability. If the purported ground of unpatentability applies to the claims of a patent involved in the interference, the primary examiner could determine whether the purported ground of unpatentability is sufficient to institute a reexamination proceeding with respect to the patent. If the primary examiner's decision is adverse to one or more of the parties, that party or those parties would have the burden of showing that the primary examiner's decision was incorrect. Another possibility would be for the administrative patent judge to merely notice the issue and provide the parties with a period of time within which to submit a motion under section 1.633(a). If none of the parties submits a section 1.633(a) motion and the administrative patent judge considers the matter to be of sufficient importance, he or she could then remand to the attention of the primary examiner for his or her decision as previously indicated.

* Cf. In re Van Geuns, 20 USPQ2d 1291, 1295 (Fed. Cir.1991)"[a]s in all ex parte cases, the entity adverse to Van Geuns is the PTO Commissioner."

The suggestion that § 1.641 be revised to characterize an administrative patent judge's determination that a party's claim may be unpatentable as, in effect, a § 1.633(a) motion is not being adopted. Section 1.641, as proposed to be revised by the comment, could be construed as precluding an opponent who agrees with the determination from submitting argument and appropriate motions, including evidence, in support of the determination. The suggestion that the administrative patent judge who initially made the determination of unpatentability be precluded from serving as a member of the reviewing panel at final hearing is not adopted. Judges in various courts and judges in administrative proceedings routinely issue orders to show cause and consider views presented in response to those orders. In the case of a dispositive matter which results in the issuance of an order to show cause, the party receiving the order to show cause knows that in addition to the administrative patent judge issuing the order, at least two other administrative patent judges will consider the response. Moreover, it should be noted that resolving patentability in an interference and in ex parte proceedings is not the same. In ex parte examination of a patent application, the statute specifically contemplates an administrative appeal to the Board. 35 U.S.C. 134. In the case of interferences, the statute authorizes the Board, in the first instance, to make a patentability determination. 35 U.S.C. 135(a). Hence, the statute does not require that an administrative patent judge issuing an order to show cause not participate in ruling on the sufficiency of any response to the order. Efficient administration of interferences in PTO dictates that the administrative patent judge most likely to be familiar with the record participate in evaluating responses to orders to show cause.

Another comment suggested that a § 1.641 order authorizing views be identified in the rule as an order to show cause. The suggestion is not being adopted. If, after considering the parties' arguments, motions, oppositions and replies, the administrative patent judge concludes that all of the involved claims or one or both parties are unpatentable, the administrative patent judge may issue an order to show cause pursuant to § 1.640(d)(1) as amended, which expressly provides for a show cause order based on a decision on a matter raised sua sponte by an administrative patent judge.

Section 1.643(b) is revised, as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, for clarification and also to change "ends of justice" to "interest of justice" to be consistent with the language used in other interference rules, including §§ 1.628(a) and 1.687(c).

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.644(a) is revised by changing "a panel consisting of more than one examiner-in-chief" to "the Board" and paragraphs (a)(1), (b) and (c) are revised by changing both occurrences of "panel" to "Board."

Section 1.644(a)(2) is revised by removing the statement concerning when parties are authorized to file a petition seeking to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner. The times for filing petitions are set out in § 1.644(b).

Section 1.644(b) is revised to provide that a petition seeking to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner shall not be filed prior to the party's brief for final hearing. Sections 1.644(a)(2) and (b) currently provide that such a petition shall not be filed "prior to the decision of the Board awarding judgment." Since promulgation of the "new" rules, 49 FR 48416 (Dec. 12, 1984), reprinted in 1050 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 385 (Jan. 29, 1985), there have been relatively few petitions filed in interference cases, particularly petitions seeking to invoke supervisory authority. Thus, a result sought to be achieved under the "new" rules has been, in fact, achieved, i.e., fewer petitions. Under the rules, there should be few. if any, petitions to invoke supervisory authority. Section 1.644(a)(1), which authorizes important questions to be certified to the Commissioner, should be sufficient in most cases to resolve questions of interpretation of the rules. Section 1.644(a)(2) provides a vehicle for rule interpretation in those cases where certification is declined by the administrative patent judge and there remains, at the time briefs are filed for final hearing, a need to resolve the interpretation. The time for filing a petition to invoke supervisory authority is believed to be more appropriate before the Board enters a final decision, as opposed to after entry of a final decision—as required by current practice. Parties should not file petitions seeking to invoke supervisory authority in cases involving routine interlocutory orders which do not involve an interpretation of a rule. As noted in the notice of final rule:

> [a] final decision of the Board is reviewable in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or an appropriate U.S. district court. Any reviewing court can review all aspects of the decision including patentability, priority, and all relevant interlocutory orders, such as denials of discovery.

49 FR 48416, 48418 (Dec. 12, 1984), reprinted in 1050 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 385, 387 (Jan. 29, 1985).

Section 1.644(b) is also revised, as proposed, by revising it to state that a petition under § 1.644(a) shall be considered timely if it is filed simultaneously with a proper motion under §§ 1.633, 1.634, or 1.635 when granting the motion would require waiver of a rule. In other words, a petition under § 1.644(a)(3) should seek waiver of a rule prospectively rather than retroactively. Parties should recognize that waiver of a rule is reserved for unusual circumstances. Myers v. Feigelman, 455 F.2d 596, 601, 172 USPQ 580, 584 (CCPA 1972) (waiver of rules on routine basis would defeat the purpose of the rules and substantially confuse interference practice). Nevertheless, since PTO cannot possibly contemplate all circumstances which can arise in interferences at the time a rule is promulgated, waiver of a rule may be entirely appropriate in unusual circumstances. By encouraging parties to file a petition when they know a rule must be waived, the opponent is put in the best position to address the matter and to take whatever action might be in the opponent's interest in the event a petition is granted. On the other hand, parties should not expect many petitions to be granted which seek to waive the rules.

The time for responding to a petition under § 1.644(a)(1) or (a)(2) is changed from (a) 15 to days (b) to 20 days. The time for responding to a petition under § 1.644(a)(3) is changed from (a) 15 days to (b) 20 days or the date an opposition is due to the accompanying motion, whichever is earlier. The change will permit an opponent to file an opposition to the motion and the petition on the same day and should eliminate different, but related, time periods from running concurrently.

Section 1.644(b), as proposed, would have authorized the petition to be made part of the motion, as does § 1.644(b) in its current form. Upon reflection, since the petition is decided by one PTO official and the motion by another, it will be more efficient for PTO if the petition and motion are filed as separate papers. Additionally, the fact that a petition has been filed is less likely to be inadvertently overlooked if the petition and motion appear in separate papers.

In § 1.644(d), the second sentence, as proposed, is removed as unnecessary. The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed amending this paragraph to provide that the statement of facts in a petition preferably should be in numbered paragraphs. One comment suggested that numbered paragraphs be required, rather than just preferred. The suggestion is being adopted. Another comment suggested inserting a comma after "Board" in the second sentence of § 1.644(d), as proposed to be revised. The suggestion is being adopted.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.644(f) is revised to change the "15 days" in which to request reconsideration of a decision by the Commissioner to "14 days."

In § 1.644(g), the quotation marks around "Express Mail" are removed, as proposed.

Section 1.645(b), which in its current form permits consideration of a belatedly filed paper only if accompanied by a motion under § 1.635 showing sufficient cause (§ 1.645(b)) for the belatedness, is revised in several respects, as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. First, "sufficient cause" is changed to "good cause" in order to provide a single "cause" standard throughout the interference rules. Second, paragraph (b) is revised to permit consideration of a belatedly filed paper if an administrative patent judge or the Board, sua sponte, is of the opinion that it would be in the interest of justice to consider the paper. An example would be where the delay is short (e.g., one day) and there is no prejudice to an opponent or where all parties and the Board act as though a paper is timely only to discover later that it was not. For purposes of sections other than § 1.645, a belatedly filed paper is considered "timely filed" if accompanied by a motion under § 1.635 to excuse the belatedness, which is granted.

Section 1.645(d) is revised, as proposed, by deleting "In an appropriate circumstance" as superfluous in view of the language "may stay proceedings," which indicates that the administrative patent judge has the discretion to stay an interference.

Section 1.646 is revised in the manner proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. Specifically, § 1.646(a)(2) is revised by deleting the reference to § 1.684, which is removed. Section 1.646(c)(1) is revised by inserting "or causing a copy of the paper to be handed" after "By handing a copy of the paper" to make it clear that the paper need not be personally delivered by the party, i.e., that delivery by hand can be effected by a commercial courier, for example. When a next-business-day commercial courier is used, it should be understood that the party normally will deliver the paper to the courier on one day and the paper will be delivered to the office of counsel for the opponent on the next day. A certificate of service that states that the paper is being served "via the following commercial courier: [insert name]" is deemed to be a proper service within the meaning of § 1.646(c)(1), as amended. Pending further rulemaking, the date of service will be considered the date the paper is delivered to the courier.

In § 1.646(c)(4), "mail" (second occurrence)"is changed to "first class mail" to make it clear that the service date specified in that paragraph applies only to first class mail.

Section 1.646(c)(5) is redesignated as § 1.646(c)(6) and a new § 1.646(c)(5) is added which explains that a party may serve by Express Mail and that when service is effected by Express Mail, the date of service is considered to be the date of deposit with the U.S. Postal Service.

Section 1.646(d) is revised by removing the quotation marks around "Express Mail."

Section 1.646(e) is revised to state that the due date for serving a paper is the same as the due date for filing the paper in the Patent and Trademark Office.

One comment suggested amending § 1.646 to authorize service by next-business-day courier, with the date of service being the day the paper is given to the courier. The suggestion is not being adopted at this time, but will be considered in future rulemaking. In the interim, for the reasons given above, service by a next-business-day courier may be regarded as service by hand.

Section 1.651(a)(2) is revised, as proposed, by removing "(testimony includes testimony to be taken abroad under § 1.684)" in order to be consistent with the proposal to remove and reserve § 1.684 and by amending §§ 1.651(c)(2) and (c)(3) to be consistent with the amendment to the definition of "effective filing date" in § 1.601(g).

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed further amending § 1.651(d) by changing "abroad under § 1.684" to "in a foreign country." One comment noted that the term "foreign country" is unduly restrictive in that it does not include a foreign place that is not part of a "country" and suggested that the phrase "in a place outside the United States" be used instead. The suggestion is being adopted.

Section 1.653(a) is revised as proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. First, the references to certain paragraphs of § 1.672 are revised to reflect the redesignation of those paragraphs. Second, "of fact" in the clause "agreed statements of fact under § 1.672(f)" is removed, because agreed statements under § 1.672(f), redesignated as § 1.672(h), can set forth either (1) how a particular witness would testify if called or (2) the facts in the case of one or more of the parties. Third, "under § 1.684(c)" is removed in view of the removal of § 1.684. Fourth, § 1.653(a) is revised to indicate that in addition to the types of testimony already set forth therein, testimony includes copies of written interrogatories and answers and written requests for admissions and answers, which might be obtained where a motion for additional discovery under § 1.687(c) is granted.

One comment suggested deleting "transcripts of interrogatories, cross interrogatories, and recorded answers" on the ground that this language is from § 1.684, which is removed. The suggestion is not being adopted, since there may be occasions when such testimony would be appropriate and authorized by an administrative patent judge or the Board.

Another comment suggested amending § 1.653 to provide that a party's record can include copies of videotapes of depositions and inter partes tests (in addition to the transcripts of the depositions), citing disparate treatment of this matter said to be occurring with different administrative patent judges. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. The matter of videotapes and other forms of proof will be considered in a future rulemaking effort.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.653(b) is revised to be consistent with the redesignation of certain paragraphs of § 1.672 and to remove the reference to § 1.684(c), which is removed. Section 1.653(b) is also revised for clarity, while §§ 1.653(c)(1) and (4) are revised to make it clear that the only testimony to be included in a party's record is testimony submitted on behalf of the party. Having copies of the same testimony appear in both parties' records unnecessarily encumbers the records and is confusing in that a given page of testimony will have different page numbers in the different records, with the result that the briefs of the parties will refer to different record pages for the same testimony.

One comment suggested that either § 1.653(b) or § 1.672(h) be revised to specify when an "an original agreed statement under § 1.672(h)" is to be filed, since the due date for filing such a statement is not provided in the current rules. The suggestion is outside the scope of the current rulemaking and is not being adopted. In the interim, parties should plan on filing an agreed statement as soon as practical after it is agreed to, but an administrative patent judge shall have discretion to accept the agreed statement at any reasonable time.

Section 1.653(c)(5), which currently requires that the record filed by each party include each notice, official record and printed publication relied upon by the party and filed under § 1.682(a), is removed and reserved, as proposed. The requirement is unnecessary because notices, official records and printed publications are in the nature of exhibits under § 1.653(i), which are submitted with but not included in the record. The inclusion of exhibits in the record merely increases the size of the record without serving any useful purpose.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.653(g) is revised, and §§ 1.653(f) and (h) removed and reserved, to eliminate the current distinction between typewritten and printed records. Specifically, § 1.653(g) is revised by changing "8 1/2 x 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)" to "21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 x 11 inches)" in order to emphasize the metric dimension, by removing the requirement for justified margins, by requiring that the records be bound with covers at their left edges in such manner as to lie flat when open to any page and in one or more volumes of convenient size (approximately 100 pages per volume is suggested) and by requiring that when there is more than one volume, the numbers of the pages contained in each volume must appear at the top of the cover for each volume. Section 1.653(i) is revised, as proposed, to state that exhibits include documents and things identified in affidavits or on the record during the taking of oral depositions as well as official records and publications submitted pursuant to § 1.682(a).

Section 1.654(a) is revised, as proposed, by changing "shall" in the second sentence to "may" for clarity and also to reduce the time for oral argument by a party from 60 minutes to 30 minutes. Most hearings require no more than 30 minutes per side. A panel hearing oral argument retains discretion to grant more time at a hearing.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending § 1.655(a) to state that the standard of review for interlocutory orders is "an abuse of discretion" rather than "erroneous or an abuse of discretion." As explained in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the recitation of a separate "error" standard is believed to be superfluous, because legal error is one of the alternative bases for finding an abuse of discretion. Specifically, an abuse of discretion may be found when (1) the decision of an administrative patent judge is clearly unreasonable, arbitrary or fanciful, (2) the decision is based on an erroneous conclusion of law, (3) the findings of the administrative patent judge are clearly erroneous, or (4) the record contains no evidence upon which the administrative patent judge rationally could have based the decision. Compare, e.g., Heat and Control, Inc. v. Hester Industries, Inc., 785 F.2d 1017, 1022, 228 USPQ 926, 930 (Fed. Cir. 1986); Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, 860 F.2d 428, 430-31, 8 USPQ2d 1853, 1855 (Fed. Cir. 1988); Abrutyn v. Giovanniello, 15 F.3d 1048, 1050-51, 29 USPQ2d 1615, 1617 (Fed. Cir. 1994), all of which define the phrase "abuse of discretion." One comment stated that the rule, as proposed to be amended, in effect raises the standard of review because "abuse of discretion" includes "clear error" but not mere "error." In view of the above-cited Federal Circuit decisions, it is believed that the statement in the comment is not correct.

One comment suggested inserting a comma after "correct" in the penultimate sentence of § 1.655(a). The suggestion is being adopted.

Section 1.655(b) is revised to clarify the language concerning matters that a party is not entitled to raise for consideration at final hearing. Specifically, § 1.655(b), as amended, provides that a party shall not be entitled to raise for consideration at final hearing any matter which properly could have been raised by a motion under § 1.633 or 1.634 unless (1) the matter was properly raised in a motion that was timely filed by the party under § 1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was denied or deferred to final hearing, (2) the matter was properly raised by the party in a timely filed opposition to a motion under § 1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was granted over the opposition or deferred to final hearing, or (3) the party shows good cause why the issue was not properly raised by a timely filed motion or opposition. It was proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking to amend § 1.655(b) to state that "[a] change of attorneys during the interference generally does not constitute good cause." For the reasons already given, it has been decided not to adopt the proposed amendment to § 1.655(b).

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking also proposed to amend § 1.655(b) to create a rebuttable presumption that all claims of a party that are designated as corresponding to a count are directed to the same patentable invention for the purpose of determining unpatentability in view of prior art. The Federal Circuit had interpreted the former rule to suggest that the presumption applied only where a party's claim corresponded exactly to a count and was anticipated by prior art. In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 1185, 26 USPQ2d 1057, 1060 (Fed. Cir. 1993). The proposed revised rule would have made it clear that the rebuttable presumption applies to all claims that are designated as corresponding to the count, regardless of whether the count is anticipated by (§ 102) or would have been obvious view of (§ 103) the prior art. Specifically, the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed adding the following sentence: "A party who fails to contest, by way of a timely filed preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count may not subsequently argue to an administrative patent judge or the Board the separate patentability or lack of separate patentability of claims designated to correspond to the count." Comments were filed in opposition to the proposed amendment. One comment, for example, stated that the proposed amendment, as well as the accompanying commentary in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, > falsely assumes that claims cannot be separately patentable merely because they have been designated as corresponding to the count, i.e., merely because the claims are patentably indistinct from each other. The falsity of this proposition is apparent from the practice of the Patent and Trademark Office of designating as corresponding to the count both the patentable and unpatentable claims of a party.

Two different comparisons are relevant: a party's claims with other claims of the party and the claims of a party with the prior art. The claims may be patentably indistinct from each other and, thus, provide no basis for a motion under § 1.633(c)(4), yet be separately patentable over the prior art.

Accordingly, for example, a party should be able to respond to a motion for judgment on grounds of unpatentability over the prior art by arguing that some, but not necessarily all, of the designated claims are patentable over the prior art, even though the party had not previously moved to designate the separately patentable claims as not corresponding to the count. Indeed, it is entirely possible that no basis existed for making such a previous motion. The proposed amended rule, however, forecloses a party from responding to an attack on patentability of its claims by arguing that some, but not all, of the claims are patentable over the prior art.

(Emphasis in original.) The comment included several illustrative examples, including the following example said to be from an actual interference:

The count is directed to a broad generic class of compounds. While the compounds are useful herbicides, the count and corresponding claims are directed to compounds per se. The applications of both parties contain designated claims substantially corresponding to the count as well as claims directed to species falling within the count.

The application of party A contains a designated claim directed specifically to a species with [sic; within] the genus that possesses ordinary activity for compounds of the claimed class; i.e., the species compound is not separately patentable over the genus. Thus, the claim to the species is not patentable over the count if the count were prior art and is properly designated as corresponding to the count.

Party B, during the motion period, moves for judgment under § 1.633(a) on the basis of a reference that is not prior art against party B, only against party A. That reference discloses a single compound falling squarely within the genus of the count * * *, but that is significantly different structurally from the species claimed in A's application. Furthermore, the reference does not indicate that the disclosed compound has herbicidal properties and it is shown in opposition to the motion for judgment that the compound, in fact, possesses virtually no herbicidal activity.

Under this set of facts, the compound of the reference anticipates party A's claim that corresponds * * * [exactly] to the count. Nevertheless, the reference has no significance with regard to the patentability of the species claim in party A's application.

In this particular case, the EIC [Examiner-in-Chief] had no difficulty in partially granting the motion for judgment against party A as to the generic claim, but denying the motion as to the species claim. The interference was continued with the count unchanged (because the reference was not prior art as to party B), with party A ultimately prevailing on the issue of priority. Thus, neither party received a generic claim, but party A ultimately obtained a species claim that was patentably indistinct from the genus of the count. Presumably under the new rules, party B would have retained all its claims while all of party A's claims would be found unpatentable.

This case clearly illustrates that a claim that is patentably indistinct from the count and from a claim corresponding * * * [exactly] to the count (i.e., a claim that cannot be designated as not corresponding to the count), nevertheless can be patentable over prior art that renders unpatentable a claim corresponding precisely to the count. This case also illustrates that failure to file a motion to designate certain claims as not corresponding to the count cannot be taken as a concession that all of the designated claims are unpatentable merely because the count (or a claim corresponding precisely to the count) is unpatentable over the prior art. Moreover, this situation is not an unusual one. It happens often in chemical cases, particularly chemical cases dealing with biologically active compounds.

Another comment questioned when a party that has failed to contest the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count would ever have occasion to later argue a lack of separate patentability.

The above comments are well taken. Accordingly, the proposal to amend § 1.655(b) to preclude a party from arguing separate patentability or a lack of separate patentability of claims over prior art in the absence of a § 1.633(c) motion is hereby withdrawn. Instead, the rule is revised to read as follows: "A party that fails to contest, by way of a timely filed preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count, or fails to timely argue the separate patentability of a particular claim when the ground for unpatentability is first raised, will not be permitted to later argue the separate patentability of that claim with respect to that ground." Thus, a party that fails to timely argue the separate patentability of a particular claim when the ground for unpatentability is first raised will not be permitted to later argue the separate patentability of that claim with respect to that ground. As noted in the comment, often the first opportunity to address patentability is in an opposition to a preliminary motion for judgment under § 1.633(a). In addition, inasmuch as a party filing a motion under § 1.633(a) must separately address each claim alleged to be unpatentable, the opponent will be in a position to know how to prepare an opposition, whereas under the current rules preparation of an opposition separately addressing each claim is not clearly required by the rules. The basic idea is that an opponent should have a fair opportunity to address the patentability of any of the opponent's claims when a patentability issue is first raised. Patentability can be raised, for example, by a preliminary motion under § 1.633(a) or sua sponte by an administrative patent judge. However, a party is not entitled to wait until the 11th hour in an interference to belatedly raise for the first time an issue of separate patentability of claims corresponding to a count.

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.655(c) is revised by changing "To prevent manifest injustice" to "In the interest of justice" to be consistent with the language used in other interference rules.

Section 1.656 is revised, as proposed, by redesignating paragraphs (b)(1) through (b)(6) as paragraphs (b)(3) through (b)(8), respectively, and adding new paragraphs (b)(1) and (b)(2) requiring the brief to include (1) a statement of interest identifying every party represented by the attorney in the interference and the real party in interest if the party named in the caption is not the real party in interest and (2) a statement of related cases indicating whether the interference was previously before the Board for final hearing and identifying any related appeal or interference which is pending before, or which has been decided by, the Board, or which is pending before, or which has been decided by, the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or a district court in a proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 146. A related appeal or interference is one which will directly affect or be directly affected by or have a bearing on the Board's decision in the pending interference. Appeals are mentioned because there have been numerous situations where related issues have been present before the Board simultaneously or sequentially in an ex parte appeal and an interference and vice versa. It was also proposed to amend current paragraph (b)(3), redesignated as paragraph (b)(5), to specify that statements of fact preferably should be presented in numbered paragraphs. One comment suggested that numbered paragraphs be required. The suggestion is being adopted.

As explained in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.656(b)(4), which is redesignated as § 1.656(b)(6), requires that the opening brief of the junior party contain the contentions of the party with respect to the "issues to be decided," which has been construed to include the matter of whether some of the senior party's evidence of conception was inadmissible hearsay. Suh v. Hoefle, 23 USPQ2d 1321, 1323 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1991). As support, the Board in Suh relied on Fisher v. Bouzard, 3 USPQ2d 1677 (Bd. Pat. App. & Int. 1987), and Moller v. Harding, 214 USPQ 730 (Bd. Pat. Int. 1982). Both of these cases concern interferences declared under the "old" interference rules (i.e., § 1.201 et seq.), of which § 1.254 specified that the opening brief of the junior party shall "present a full, fair statement of the questions involved, including his position with respect to the priority evidence on behalf of other parties." Current § 1.656(b)(4) does not expressly require, and was not intended to imply, that the opening brief of the junior party must address the evidence of any other party with respect to the issue of priority or any other issue. In order to clarify that the opening brief of a junior party need not address the evidence of the other parties, § 1.656(b)(6), as adopted, is revised to require only that the junior party's opening brief contain the contentions of the party "with respect to the issues it is raising for consideration at final hearing." These issues would include the junior party's case-in-chief for priority with respect to an opponent or derivation by an opponent as well as matters raised in any denied or deferred motions of the junior party that are to be reviewed or considered at final hearing. Where the reply brief of the junior party is believed to include a new argument in response to the case-in-chief of the senior party as presented in the senior party's opening brief, the senior party may move under § 1.635 for leave to file a reply to the junior party's reply brief. The motion must be accompanied by a copy of the senior party's reply.

Section 1.656(d) is revised, as proposed, to state that unless ordered otherwise by an administrative patent judge, briefs shall be double-spaced (except for footnotes, which may be single-spaced) and shall comply with the requirements of § 1.653(g) for records except the requirement for binding. As a result, the current distinctions between printed and typewritten briefs are eliminated. Recent briefs filed in interference cases have been fairly long, e.g., 150 pages. The parties should make every effort to file briefs which, to borrow the words in one section of the patent statute, 35 U.S.C. 112, are "full, clear, concise, and exact." Consideration will be given in a future rulemaking effort as to whether it might be appropriate to require a party to submit both (1) findings of fact and conclusions of law and (2) a brief, wherein it might be presumed that the reader of the brief is familiar with the proposed findings/conclusions. So that members of the bar practicing before the Board in interference cases can be apprised of how briefs are used at the Board, the following comments are made. Briefs serve two purposes. First, briefs enable all three panel members to prepare for oral argument. During the time a member prepares for oral argument, often there is not time to become fully familiar with the record, particularly where the brief is being read at a location outside PTO, e.g., home. Second, when an opinion is authored by one panel member and reviewed by the other two panel members, the brief serves as a road map during the necessarily more thorough and more complete review of the record. Whereas there may not be time to "check" the record during the preparation phase before oral argument, there is time to "check" the record during the opinion writing and review period. An effective brief, with or without proposed findings/conclusions, is one which permits the members of the Board to accomplish both purposes mentioned above.

In § 1.656, paragraphs (e), (g) and (h) are revised, as proposed, to require an original and four copies (currently an original and three copies are required) of each brief, any proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, any motion under 37 CFR 1.635 to suppress evidence and any opposition to a motion to suppress evidence.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking proposed amending the third sentence of § 1.656(g) to read as follows: "Any proposed findings of fact shall be in numbered paragraphs and supported by specific references to the record." One comment suggested that "and supported" be changed to "and shall be supported." The suggestion is being adopted.

Section 1.656(h) is revised, as proposed, to state that a party's failure to challenge the admissibility of the evidence of an opponent on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under §§ 1.672(c), 1.682(c), 1.683(b) or 1.688(b) constitutes a waiver of the right to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground at final hearing.

Section 1.656(i) currently provides that if a junior party fails to file an opening brief for final hearing, an order may be issued by the administrative patent judge requiring the junior party to show cause why the failure to file a brief should not be treated as a concession of priority, and further provides that judgment may be rendered against the junior party if the junior party "fails to respond" within a time period set in the order. The expression "fails to respond" has been misinterpreted by some junior parties as meaning that the mere filing of a response of any kind to the order to show cause should be sufficient to avoid the entry of judgment. Such an interpretation was not intended and, if adopted, would effectively nullify § 1.656(i). As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, "respond" is changed to "show good cause" to make it clear that a junior party's failure to file a timely opening brief will not be excused unless good cause is shown to explain or justify the failure to file a brief. The language of the rule will then be consistent with the other interference rules concerning orders to show cause, e.g., §§ 1.640(c) and 1.652.

Section 1.657 is revised, as proposed, to be consistent with the changes to the definition of "effective filing date" in § 1.601(g). As revised, § 1.657 will also state that in an interference involving an application and a patent where the effective filing date of the application is after the date the patent issued, a junior party has the burden of establishing priority by clear and convincing evidence. In other interferences the junior party has the burden of establishing priority by a preponderance of the evidence. The amendment codifies the holding of Price v. Symsek, 988 F.2d 1187, 1190-91, 26 USPQ2d 1031, 1033 (Fed. Cir. 1993), as clarified by Bosies v. Benedict, 27 F.3d 539, 541-42, 30 USPQ2d 1862, 1864 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

Section 1.658(a) is revised, as proposed, to state that when the Board enters a decision awarding judgment as to all counts, the decision shall be regarded as a final decision for the purpose of judicial review (35 U.S.C. 141-44, 146) unless a request for reconsideration under paragraph (b) of this section is timely filed.

Section 1.658(b) is revised, as proposed, by removing the phrases "[w]here reasonably possible" and "such that delivery is accomplished" as unnecessary, so that the sentence as revised reads as follows: "Service of the request for reconsideration shall be by hand or Express Mail." As proposed, a sentence is also added specifying that a decision on reconsideration is a final decision for the purpose of judicial review (35 U.S.C. 141-44, 146). Section 1.658(b) is further revised, as proposed, by changing "reply to a request for reconsideration" to "opposition to a request for reconsideration" in order to be consistent with the terminology employed in § 1.640(c), which concerns requests for reconsideration of decisions on preliminary motions.

One comment suggested amending § 1.658(b) to permit service of requests for reconsideration by next-business-day commercial courier. The suggestion is not being adopted at this time, but will be the subject of a future rulemaking effort. In the interim, see the discussion above concerning the interpretation to be given the phrase "service . . . by hand."

As proposed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, § 1.660 has been revised by adding a new paragraph (e) explaining that the failure of a party to comply with the notice provisions of § 1.660 may result in sanctions under § 1.616 and that knowledge by, or notice to, an employee of the Office other than an employee of the Board, of the existence of the reexamination, application for reissue, protest, or litigation shall not be sufficient. It was also proposed to provide that the notice contemplated by this section is notice addressed specifically to an administrative patent judge or the Board. One comment suggested that rather than requiring the notice to be "addressed specifically to an administrative patent judge or the Board," the rule require that it be "addressed to the administrative patent judge in charge of the interference in which the application or patent is involved." The suggestion is being adopted.

Section 1.662(a) is revised, as proposed, by changing "filing by an applicant or patentee" in the second sentence to "filing by a party" to make it clear that a request for adverse judgment, including a written disclaimer of the invention defined by a count, a concession of priority or unpatentability of the subject matter of a count, abandonment of the invention defined by a count and abandonment of the contest as to a count, can be signed by the party's attorney or agent of record. For the same reason, in the third sentence of paragraph (a), which concerns abandonment of an involved application "by an applicant" is removed and "applicant" is revised to read "application."

In § 1.662(b), the first sentence is revised, as proposed, by changing "omits all claims of the patent corresponding to the counts of the interference for the purpose of avoiding the interference" to read "does not include a claim that corresponds to a count" in order to make it clear that judgment may not be entered where the reissue application includes any claim that corresponds to a count, including a new or amended claim that should be designated as corresponding to the count. Similarly, "reissue other than for the purpose of avoiding the interference" is changed to "reissue which includes a claim that corresponds to a count," which means corresponds to the count or should be designated to correspond to the count.

Section 1.674(a), which specifies before whom depositions may be taken, the reference to "United States or a territory or insular possession of the United States" is removed, as proposed, in order to make the paragraph applicable to depositions for testimony compelled in foreign countries.

Section § 1.675(d), which concerns reading and signing of a transcript by the witness, is revised, as proposed, to take into account that the witness might refuse to read and/or sign the transcript of the deposition, in which case the circumstances under which the witness refused to sign must be noted on the certificate by the officer who prepared the certified transcript (§ 1.676(c)). One comment suggested that § 1.675 be revised to recognize the witness's right to make corrections to the transcript prior to signing, as in Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(e), second sentence. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted. The substance of the suggestion will be considered in a future rulemaking effort.

Section 1.676(a)(4) is revised, as proposed, by changing "opposing party" to "opponent."

Section 1.677(a), which in its current form specifies the required form for transcripts of depositions, is revised, as proposed, to also apply to affidavits, by removing the reference to "typewritten" matter, changing "pica-type" to "11 point type," and changing "8 1/2 x 11 inches (21.8 by 27.9 cm.)" to "21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 x 11 inches)." For the reasons given above in the discussion of a "developing record," § 1.677(b), which concerns numbering of exhibits submitted with affidavits and deposition transcripts, is revised to change "consecutively" to "consecutively to the extent possible."

In § 1.678, the section heading is changed, as proposed, from "Transcript of deposition must be filed" to "Time for filing transcript of deposition" for clarity. The text is revised by changing the time for filing the certified transcript from 45 days to one month after the deposition.

Section 1.679 is revised as proposed by changing "transcript" to "transcript of a deposition" for clarity and "for printing (§ 1.653(g))" is removed as unnecessary.

In § 1.682, paragraph (a) is revised, as proposed, in the "Miscellaneous Amendments" part of the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the following respects. First, "identified during the taking of testimony of a witness" is changed to "identified in an affidavit or on the record during an oral deposition of a witness" for clarity. Second, § 1.682(a)(4) ("where appropriate, be accompanied by a certified copy of the official record or a copy of the printed publication (§ 1.671(d))") is removed and reserved as superfluous in view of Rules 901 and 902 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, which apply to interference proceedings (§ 1.671(b), and require authentication of evidence that is not self-authenticating. Third, the first word in each of paragraphs (a)(2), (a)(3) and (a)(4) is capitalized.

Section 1.685(d) is revised, as proposed, for clarification.

Section 1.687(c) is revised, as proposed, to refer to § 1.647 concerning translations of documents in a foreign language.

One comment stated that the lack of discovery available under § 1.687(c) has prevented some interferences from reaching the "correct" result. According to the comment, a different result might have been reached if the discovery available under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure had been allowed. The comment suggests that PTO consider authorizing discovery similar to the Fed. R. Civ. P. in interferences. The suggestion, which is outside the scope of the present rulemaking, is not being adopted.

In § 1.690(a), "37 CFR, Subpart E of Part 1" is revised to read "this subpart."

Other Considerations: These rules conform with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Order 12866, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. The Office of Management and Budget has determined that these rule changes are not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The Assistant Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)), because the changes clarify existing rules setting forth the procedures used in patent appeals and interferences.

PTO has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes will not impose any additional burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and Patents.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, Part 1 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 is revised to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 and 23, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.11(e) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.11 Files open to the public.

• • • • •

(e) The file of any interference involving a patent, a statutory invention registration, a reissue application, or an application on which a patent has been issued or which has been published as a statutory invention registration, is open to inspection by the public, and copies may be obtained upon paying the fee therefor, if:

(1) The interference has terminated or

(2) An award of priority or judgment has been entered as to all parties and all counts.

3. In § 1.192, paragraphs (c)(1) through (c)(7) are redesignated as paragraphs (c)(3) through (c)(9); paragraphs (a), (c) introductory text, newly designated paragraph (c)(7), introductory text of (c)(8), and (c)(8)(v), and (d) are revised; and paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) are added to read as follows:

§ 1.192 Appellant's brief.

(a) Appellant shall, within 2 months from the date of the notice of appeal under § 1.191 or within the time allowed for response to the action appealed from, if such time is later, file a brief in triplicate. The brief must be accompanied by the requisite fee set forth in § 1.17(f) and must set forth the authorities and arguments on which appellant will rely to maintain the appeal. Any arguments or authorities not included in the brief will be refused consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, unless good cause is shown.

• • • • •

(c) The brief shall contain the following items under appropriate headings and in the order indicated below unless the brief is filed by an applicant who is not represented by a registered practitioner:

(1) Real party in interest. A statement identifying the real party in interest, if the party named in the caption of the brief is not the real party in interest.

(2) Related appeals and interferences. A statement identifying by number and filing date all other appeals or interferences known to appellant, the appellant's legal representative, or assignee which will directly affect or be directly affected by or have a bearing on the Board's decision in the pending appeal.

(3) Status of claims. A statement of the status of all the claims, pending or canceled, and identifying the claims appealed.

(4) Status of amendments. A statement of the status of any amendment filed subsequent to final rejection.

(5) Summary of invention. A concise explanation of the invention defined in the claims involved in the appeal, which shall refer to the specification by page and line number, and to the drawing, if any, by reference characters.

(6) Issues. A concise statement of the issues presented for review.

(7) Grouping of claims. For each ground of rejection which appellant contests and which applies to a group of two or more claims, the Board shall select a single claim from the group and shall decide the appeal as to the ground of rejection on the basis of that claim alone unless a statement is included that the claims of the group do not stand or fall together and, in the argument under paragraph (c)(8) of this section, appellant explains why the claims of the group are believed to be separately patentable. Merely pointing out differences in what the claims cover is not an argument as to why the claims are separately patentable.

(8) Argument. The contentions of appellant with respect to each of the issues presented for review in paragraph (c)(6) of this section, and the basis therefor, with citations of the authorities, statutes, and parts of the record relied on. Each issue should be treated under a separate heading.

• • • • •

(v) For any rejection other than those referred to in paragraphs (c)(8)(i) to (iv) of this section, the argument shall specify the errors in the rejection and the specific limitations in the rejected claims, if appropriate, or other reasons, which cause the rejection to be in error.

(9) Appendix. An appendix containing a copy of the claims involved in the appeal.

(d) If a brief is filed which does not comply with all the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section, appellant will be notified of the reasons for non-compliance and provided with a period of one month within which to file an amended brief. If appellant does not file an amended brief during the one-month period, or files an amended brief which does not overcome all the reasons for non-compliance stated in the notification, the appeal will stand dismissed.

4. Section 1.601 is amended by revising paragraphs (f), (g), (j), (k), (l), (m), (n), and (q) and adding new paragraphs (r) and (s) to read as follows:

§ 1.601 Scope of rules, definitions.

• • • • •

(f) A count defines the interfering subject matter between two or more applications or between one or more applications and one or more patents. At the time the interference is initially declared, a count should be broad enough to encompass all of the claims that are patentable over the prior art and designated to correspond to the count. When there is more than one count, each count shall define a separate patentable invention. Any claim of an application or patent that is designated to correspond to a count is a claim involved in the interference within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 135(a). A claim of a patent or application that is designated to correspond to a count and is identical to the count is said to correspond exactly to the count. A claim of a patent or application that is designated to correspond to a count but is not identical to the count is said to correspond substantially to the count. When a count is broader in scope than all claims which correspond to the count, the count is a phantom count.

(g) The effective filing date of an application is the filing date of an earlier application, benefit of which is accorded to the application under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121, or 365 or, if no benefit is accorded, the filing date of the application. The effective filing date of a patent is the filing date of an earlier application, benefit of which is accorded to the patent under 35 U.S.C. 119, 120, 121, or 365 or, if no benefit is accorded, the filing date of the application which issued as the patent.

• • • • •

(j) An interference-in-fact exists when at least one claim of a party that is designated to correspond to a count and at least one claim of an opponent that is designated to correspond to the count define the same patentable invention.

(k) A lead attorney or agent is a registered attorney or agent of record who is primarily responsible for prosecuting an interference on behalf of a party and is the attorney or agent whom an administrative patent judge may contact to set times and take other action in the interference.

(l) A party is an applicant or patentee involved in the interference or a legal representative or an assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office of an applicant or patentee involved in an interference. Where acts of a party are normally performed by an attorney or agent, "party" may be construed to mean the attorney or agent. An inventor is the individual named as inventor in an application involved in an interference or the individual named as inventor in a patent involved in an interference.

(m) A senior party is the party with the earliest effective filing date as to all counts or, if there is no party with the earliest effective filing date as to all counts, the party with the earliest filing date. A junior party is any other party.

(n) Invention "A" is the same patentable invention as an invention "B" when invention "A" is the same as (35 U.S.C. 102) or is obvious (35 U.S.C. 103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A". Invention "A" is a separate patentable invention with respect to invention "B" when invention "A" is new (35 U.S.C. 102) and non-obvious (35 U.S.C. 103) in view of invention "B" assuming invention "B" is prior art with respect to invention "A".

• • • • •

(q) A final decision is a decision awarding judgment as to all counts. An interlocutory order is any other action taken by an administrative patent judge or the Board in an interference, including the notice declaring an interference.

(r) NAFTA country means NAFTA country as defined in section 2(4) of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act, Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2060 (19 U.S.C. 3301).

5. Section 1.602 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.602 Interest in applications and patents involved in an interference.

• • • • •

(c) If a change of any right, title, and interest in any application or patent involved or relied upon in the interference occurs after notice is given declaring the interference and before the time expires for seeking judicial review of a final decision of the Board, the parties shall notify the Board of the change within 20 days after the change.

6. Section 1.603 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.603 Interference between applications; subject matter of the interference.

Before an interference is declared between two or more applications, the examiner must be of the opinion that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the applications which is patentable to each applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter shall be defined by one or more counts. Each application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim that is patentable over the prior art and corresponds to each count. All claims in the applications which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count.

7. Section 1.604(a)(1) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.604 Request for interference between applications by an applicant.

(a) * * *

(1) Suggesting a proposed count and presenting at least one claim corresponding to the proposed count or identifying at least one claim in its application that corresponds to the proposed count,

* * * * *

8. Section 1.605(a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.605 Suggestion of claim to applicant by examiner.

(a) If no claim in an application is drawn to the same patentable invention claimed in another application or patent, the examiner may suggest that an applicant present a claim drawn to an invention claimed in another application or patent for the purpose of an interference with another application or a patent. The applicant to whom the claim is suggested shall amend the application by presenting the suggested claim within a time specified by the examiner, not less than one month. Failure or refusal of an applicant to timely present the suggested claim shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by the applicant of the invention defined by the suggested claim. At the time the suggested claim is presented, the applicant may also call the examiner's attention to other claims already in the application or presented with the suggested claim and explain why the other claims would be more appropriate to be designated to correspond to a count in any interference which may be declared.

* * * * *

9. Section 1.606 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.606 Interference between an application and a patent; subject matter of the interference.

Before an interference is declared between an application and an unexpired patent, an examiner must determine that there is interfering subject matter claimed in the application and the patent which is patentable to the applicant subject to a judgment in the interference. The interfering subject matter will be defined by one or more counts. The application must contain, or be amended to contain, at least one claim that is patentable over the prior art and corresponds to each count. The claim in the application need not be, and most often will not be, identical to a claim in the patent. All claims in the application and patent which define the same patentable invention as a count shall be designated to correspond to the count. At the time an interference is initially declared (§ 1.611), a count shall not be narrower in scope than any application claim that is patentable over the prior art and designated to correspond to the count or any patent claim designated to correspond to the count. Any single patent claim designated to correspond to the count will be presumed, subject to a motion under § 1.633(c), not to contain separate patentable inventions.

10. Section 1.607 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(4) and adding a new paragraph (a)(6) to read as follows:

§ 1.607 Request by applicant for interference with patent.

(a) * * *

(4) Presenting at least one claim corresponding to the proposed count or identifying at least one claim already pending in its application that corresponds to the proposed count, and, if any claim of the patent or application identified as corresponding to the proposed count does not correspond exactly to the proposed count, explaining why each such claim corresponds to the proposed count, and

* * * * *

(6) Explaining how the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 135(b) are met, if the claim presented or identified under paragraph (a)(4) of this section was not present in the application until more than one year after the issue date of the patent.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.608 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.608 Interference between an application and a patent; prima facie showing by applicant.

(a) When the effective filing date of an application is three months or less after the effective filing date of a patent, before an interference will be declared, either the applicant or the applicant's attorney or agent of record shall file a statement alleging that there is a basis upon which the applicant is entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee.

(b) When the effective filing date of an application is more than three months after the effective filing date of a patent, the applicant, before an interference will be declared, shall file evidence which may consist of patents or printed publications, other documents, and one or more affidavits which demonstrate that applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee and an explanation stating with particularity the basis upon which the applicant is prima facie entitled to the judgment. Where the basis upon which an applicant is entitled to judgment relative to a patentee is priority of invention, the evidence shall include affidavits by the applicant, if possible, and one or more corroborating witnesses, supported by documentary evidence, if available, each setting out a factual description of acts and circumstances performed or observed by the affiant, which collectively would prima facie entitle the applicant to judgment on priority with respect to the effective filing date of the patent. To facilitate preparation of a record (§ 1.653(g)) for final hearing, an applicant should file affidavits on paper which is 21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 x 11 inches). The significance of any printed publication or other document which is self-authenticating within the meaning of Rule 902 of the Federal Rules of Evidence or § 1.671(d) and any patent shall be discussed in an affidavit or the explanation. Any printed publication or other document which is not self-authenticating shall be authenticated and discussed with particularity in an affidavit. Upon a showing of good cause, an affidavit may be based on information and belief. If an examiner finds an application to be in condition for declaration of an interference, the examiner will consider the evidence and explanation only to the extent of determining whether a basis upon which the application would be entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee is alleged and, if a basis is alleged, an interference may be declared.

12. Section 1.609 is amended by revising paragraphs (b)(1), (b)(2) and (b)(3) to read as follows:

§ 1.609 Preparation of interference papers by examiner.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(1) The proposed count or counts and, if there is more than one count proposed, explaining why the counts define different patentable inventions;

(2) The claims of any application or patent which correspond to each count, explaining why each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count;

(3) The claims in any application or patent which do not correspond to each count and explaining why each claim designated as not corresponding to any count is not directed to the same patentable invention as any count; and

* * * * *

13. Section 1.610 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.610 Assignment of interference to administrative patent judge, time period for completing interference.

(a) Each interference will be declared by an administrative patent judge who may enter all interlocutory orders in the interference, except that only the Board shall hear oral argument at final hearing, enter a decision under §§ 1.617, 1.640(e), 1.652, 1.656(i) or 1.658, or enter any other order which terminates the interference.

(b) As necessary, another administrative patent judge may act in place of the one who declared the interference. At the discretion of the administrative patent judge assigned to the interference, a panel consisting of two or more members of the Board may enter interlocutory orders.

(c) Unless otherwise provided in this subpart, times for taking action by a party in the interference will be set on a case-by-case basis by the administrative patent judge assigned to the interference. Times for taking action shall be set and the administrative patent judge shall exercise control over the interference such that the pendency of the interference before the Board does not normally exceed two years.

(d) An administrative patent judge may hold a conference with the parties to consider simplification of any issues, the necessity or desirability of amendments to counts, the possibility of obtaining admissions of fact and genuineness of documents which will avoid unnecessary proof, any limitations on the number of expert witnesses, the time and place for conducting a deposition (§ 1.673(g)), and any other matter as may aid in the disposition of the interference. After a conference, the administrative patent judge may enter any order which may be appropriate.

(e) The administrative patent judge may determine a proper course of conduct in an interference for any situation not specifically covered by this part.

14. Section 1.611 is amended by redesignating paragraph (c)(8) as paragraph (c)(9); adding a new paragraph (c)(8); and revising paragraphs (b), (c)(6), (c)(7), and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.611 Declaration of interference.

* * * * *

(b) When a notice of declaration is returned to the Patent and Trademark Office undelivered, or in any other circumstance where appropriate, an administrative patent judge may send a copy of the notice to a patentee named in a patent involved in an interference or the patentee's assignee of record in the Patent and Trademark Office or order publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(c) * * *

(6) The count or counts and, if there is more than one count, the examiner's explanation why the counts define different patentable inventions;

(7) The claim or claims of any application or any patent which correspond to each count;

(8) The examiner's explanation as to why each claim designated as corresponding to a count is directed to the same patentable invention as the count and why each claim designated as not corresponding to any count is not directed to the same patentable invention as any count; and

* * * * *

(d) The notice of declaration may also specify the time for:

(1) Filing a preliminary statement as provided in § 1.621(a);

(2) Serving notice that a preliminary statement has been filed as provided in § 1.621(b); and

(3) Filing preliminary motions authorized by § 1.633.

* * * * *

15. Section 1.612 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.612 Access to applications.

(a) After an interference is declared, each party shall have access to and may obtain copies of the files of any application set out in the notice declaring the interference, except for affidavits filed under § 1.131 and any evidence and explanation under § 1.608 filed separate from an amendment. A party seeking access to any abandoned or pending application referred to in the opponent's involved application or access to any pending application referred to in the opponent's patent must file a motion under § 1.635. See § 1.11(e) concerning public access to interference files.

* * * * *

16. Section 1.613 is amended by revising paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.613 Lead attorney, same attorney representing different parties in an interference, withdrawal of attorney or agent.

* * * * *

(c) An administrative patent judge may make necessary inquiry to determine whether an attorney or agent should be disqualified from representing a party in an interference. If an administrative patent judge is of the opinion that an attorney or agent should be disqualified, the administrative patent judge shall refer the matter to the Commissioner. The Commissioner will make a final decision as to whether any attorney or agent should be disqualified.

(d) No attorney or agent of record in an interference may withdraw as attorney or agent of record except with the approval of an administrative patent judge and after reasonable notice to the party on whose behalf the attorney or agent has appeared. A request to withdraw as attorney or agent of record in an interference shall be made by motion (§ 1.635).

17. Section 1.614 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.614 Jurisdiction over interference.

(a) The Board acquires jurisdiction over an interference when the interference is declared under § 1.611.

* * * * *

(c) The examiner shall have jurisdiction over any pending application until the interference is declared. An administrative patent judge may for a limited purpose restore jurisdiction to the examiner over any application involved in the interference.

18. Section 1.615 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.615 Suspension of ex parte prosecution.

(a) When an interference is declared, ex parte prosecution of an application involved in the interference is suspended. Amendments and other papers related to the application received during pendency of the interference will not be entered or considered in the interference without the consent of an administrative patent judge.

(b) Ex parte prosecution as to specified matters may be continued concurrently with the interference with the consent of the administrative patent judge.

19. Section 1.616 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.616 Sanctions for failure to comply with rules or order or for taking and maintaining a frivolous position.

(a) An administrative patent judge or the Board may impose an appropriate sanction against a party who fails to comply with the regulations of this part or any order entered by an administrative patent judge or the Board. An appropriate sanction may include among others entry of an order:

(1) Holding certain facts to have been established in the interference;

(2) Precluding a party from filing a paper;

(3) Precluding a party from presenting or contesting a particular issue;
(4) Precluding a party from requesting, obtaining, or opposing discovery;
(5) Awarding compensatory expenses and/or compensatory attorney fees; or
(6) Granting judgment in the interference.
(b) An administrative patent judge or the Board may impose a sanction, including a sanction in the form of compensatory expenses and/or compensatory attorney fees, against a party for taking and maintaining a frivolous position in papers filed in the interference.
(c) To the extent that an administrative patent judge or the Board has authorized a party to compel the taking of testimony or the production of documents or things from an individual or entity located in a NAFTA country or a WTO member country concerning knowledge, use, or other activity relevant to proving or disproving a date of invention (§ 1.671(h)), but the testimony, documents or things have not been produced for use in the interference to the same extent as such information could be made available in the United States, the administrative patent judge or the Board shall draw such adverse inferences as may be appropriate under the circumstances, or take such other action permitted by statute, rule, or regulation, in favor of the party that requested the information in the interference, including imposition of appropriate sanctions under paragraph (a) of this section.
(d) A party may file a motion (§ 1.635) for entry of an order imposing sanctions, the drawing of adverse inferences or other action under paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of this section. Where an administrative patent judge or the Board on its own initiative determines that a sanction, adverse inference or other action against a party may be appropriate under paragraph (a), (b) or (c) of this section, the administrative patent judge or the Board shall enter an order for the party to show cause why the sanction, adverse inference or other action is not appropriate. The Board shall take action in accordance with the order unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party files a paper which shows good cause why the sanction, adverse inference or other action would not be appropriate.

20. Section 1.617 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (d), (e), (g) and (h) to read as follows:

§ 1.617 Summary judgment against applicant.

(a) An administrative patent judge shall review any evidence filed by an applicant under § 1.608(b) to determine if the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the administrative patent judge determines that the evidence shows the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the interference shall proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this part. If in the opinion of the administrative patent judge the evidence fails to show that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the administrative patent judge shall, concurrently with the notice declaring the interference, enter an order stating the reasons for the opinion and directing the applicant, within a time set in the order, to show cause why summary judgment should not be entered against the applicant.
(b) The applicant may file a response to the order, which may include an appropriate preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), (f) or (g), and state any reasons why summary judgment should not be entered. Any request by the applicant for a hearing before the Board shall be made in the response. Additional evidence shall not be presented by the applicant or considered by the Board unless the applicant shows good cause why any additional evidence was not initially presented with the evidence filed under § 1.608(b). At the time an applicant files a response, the applicant shall serve a copy of any evidence filed under § 1.608(b) and this paragraph.

* * * * *

(d) If a response is timely filed by the applicant, all opponents may file a statement and may oppose any preliminary motion filed under § 1.633(c), (f) or (g) by the applicant within a time set by the administrative patent judge. The statement may set forth views as to why summary judgment should be granted against the applicant, but the statement shall be limited to discussing why all the evidence presented by the applicant does not overcome the reasons given by the administrative patent judge for issuing the order to show cause. Except as required to oppose a motion under § 1.633(c), (f) or (g) by the applicant, evidence shall not be filed by any opponent. An opponent may not request a hearing.
(e) Within a time authorized by the administrative patent judge, an applicant may file a reply to any statement or opposition filed by any opponent.

(g) If a response by the applicant is timely filed, the administrative patent judge or the Board shall decide whether the evidence submitted under § 1.608(b) and any additional evidence properly submitted under paragraphs (b) and (e) of this section shows that the applicant is prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee. If the applicant is not prima facie entitled to a judgment relative to the patentee, the Board shall enter a final decision granting summary judgment against the applicant. Otherwise, an interlocutory order shall be entered authorizing the interference to proceed in the normal manner under the regulations of this subpart.
(h) Only an applicant who filed evidence under § 1.608(b) may request a hearing. If that applicant requests a hearing, the Board may hold a hearing prior to entry of a decision under paragraph (g) of this section. The administrative patent judge shall set a date and time for the hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by the administrative patent judge or the Board, the applicant and any opponent will each be entitled to no more than 30 minutes of oral argument at the hearing.

21. Section 1.618 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.618 Return of unauthorized papers.

(a) An administrative patent judge or the Board shall return to a party any paper presented by the party when the filing of the paper is not authorized by, or is not in compliance with the requirements of, this subpart. Any paper returned will not thereafter be considered in the interference. A party may be permitted to file a corrected paper under such conditions as may be deemed appropriate by an administrative patent judge or the Board.

* * * * *

22. Section 1.621 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.621 Preliminary statement, time for filing, notice of filing.

* * * * *

(b) When a party files a preliminary statement, the party shall also simultaneously file and serve on all opponents in the interference a notice stating that a preliminary statement has been filed. A copy of the preliminary statement need not be served until ordered by the administrative patent judge.

23. Section 1.622 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.622 Preliminary statement, who made invention, where invention made.

* * * * *

(b) The preliminary statement shall state whether the invention was made in the United States, a NAFTA country (and, if so, which NAFTA country), a WTO member country (and if so, which WTO member country), or in a place other than the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country. If made in a place other than the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, the preliminary statement shall state whether the party is entitled to the benefit of 35 U.S.C. 104(a)(2).

24. Section 1.623 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraph (a) introductory text to read as follows:

§ 1.623 Preliminary statement; invention made in United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.

(a) When the invention was made in the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, or a party is entitled to the benefit of 35 U.S.C. 104(a)(2), the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:

* * * * *

25. Section 1.624 is amended by revising the section heading and paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.624 Preliminary statement; invention made in a place other than the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.

(a) When the invention was made in a place other than the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country and a party intends to rely on introduction of the invention into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, the preliminary statement must state the following facts as to the invention defined by each count:
(1) The date on which a drawing of the invention was first introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.
(2) The date on which a written description of the invention was first introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.
(3) The date on which the invention was first disclosed to another person in the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.
(4) The date on which the inventor's conception of the invention was first introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country.
(5) The date on which an actual reduction to practice of the invention was first introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country. If an actual reduction to practice of the invention was not introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, the preliminary amendment shall so state.
(6) The date after introduction of the inventor's conception into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country when active exercise of reasonable diligence in the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country toward reducing the invention to practice began.

* * * * *

(c) When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(1) of this section that a drawing was introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, a copy of that drawing shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. When a party alleges under paragraph (a)(2) of this section that a written description of the invention was introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country, a copy of that written description shall be filed with and identified in the preliminary statement. See § 1.628(b) when a copy of the first drawing or first written description introduced in the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country cannot be filed with the preliminary statement.

26. Section 1.625 is amended by revising paragraph (a) introductory text to read as follows:

§ 1.625 Preliminary statement; derivation by an opponent.

(a) When a party intends to prove derivation by an opponent from the party, the preliminary statement must state the following as to the invention defined by each count:

* * * * *

27. Section 1.626 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.626 Preliminary statement; earlier application.

When a party does not intend to present evidence to prove a conception or an actual reduction to practice and the party intends to rely solely on the filing date of an earlier filed application to prove a constructive reduction to practice, the preliminary statement may so state and identify the earlier filed application with particularity.

28. Section 1.627(b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.627 Preliminary statement; sealing before filing, opening of statement.

* * * * *

(b) A preliminary statement may be opened only at the direction of an administrative patent judge.

29. Section 1.628 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.628 Preliminary statement; correction of error.

(a) A material error arising through inadvertence or mistake in connection with a preliminary statement or drawings or a written description submitted therewith or omitted therefrom may be corrected by a motion (§ 1.635) for leave to file a corrected statement. The motion shall be supported by an affidavit stating the date the error was first discovered, shall be accompanied by the corrected statement and shall be filed as soon as practical after discovery of the error. If filed on or after the date set by the administrative patent judge for service of preliminary statements, the motion shall also show that correction of the error is essential to the interest of justice.
(b) When a party cannot attach a copy of a drawing or written description to the party's preliminary statement as required by § 1.623(c), § 1.624(c) or § 1.625(c), the party shall show good cause and explain in the preliminary statement why a copy of the drawing or written description cannot be attached to the preliminary statement and shall attach to the preliminary statement the earliest drawing or written description made in or introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country which is available. The party shall file a motion (§ 1.635) to amend its preliminary statement promptly after the first drawing, first written description, or drawing or written description first introduced into the United States, a NAFTA country, or a WTO member country becomes available. A copy of the drawing or written description may be obtained, where appropriate, by a motion (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under § 1.687 or during a testimony period.

30. Section 1.629 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c)(1) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.629 Effect of preliminary statement.

(a) A party shall be strictly held to any date alleged in the preliminary statement. Doubts as to definiteness or sufficiency of any allegation in a preliminary statement or compliance with formal requirements will be resolved against the party filing the statement by restricting the party to its effective filing date or to the latest date of a period alleged in the preliminary statement, as may be appropriate. A party may not correct a preliminary statement except as provided by § 1.628.

* * * * *

(c) * * *
(1) Shall be restricted to the party's effective filing date and

* * * * *

(d) If a party files a preliminary statement which contains an allegation of a date of first drawing or first written description and the party does not file a copy of the first drawing or written description with the preliminary statement as required by § 1.623(c), § 1.624(c), or § 1.625(c), the party will be restricted to the party's effective filing date as to that allegation unless the party complies with § 1.628(b). The content of any drawing or written description submitted with a preliminary statement will not normally be evaluated or considered by the Board.

* * * * *

31. Section 1.630 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.630 Reliance on earlier application.

A party shall not be entitled to rely on the filing date of an earlier filed application unless the earlier application is identified (§ 1.611(c)(5)) in the notice declaring the interference or the party files a preliminary motion under § 1.633 seeking the benefit of the filing date of the earlier application.

32. Section 1.631(a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.631 Access to preliminary statement, service of preliminary statement.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, concurrently with entry of a decision on preliminary motions filed under § 1.633 any preliminary statement filed under § 1.621(a) shall be opened to inspection by the senior party and any junior party who filed a preliminary statement. Within a time set by the administrative patent judge, a party shall serve a copy of its preliminary statement on each opponent who served a notice under § 1.621(b).

* * * * *

33. Section 1.632 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.632 Notice of intent to argue abandonment, suppression or concealment by opponent.

A notice shall be filed by a party who intends to argue that an opponent has abandoned, suppressed, or concealed an actual reduction to practice (35 U.S.C. 102(g)). A party will not be permitted to argue abandonment, suppression, or concealment by an opponent unless the notice is timely filed. Unless authorized otherwise by an administrative patent judge, a notice is timely when filed within ten (10) days after the close of the testimony-in-chief of the opponent.

34. Section 1.633 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (f), (g) and (i) to read as follows:

§ 1.633 Preliminary motions.

* * * * *

(a) A motion for judgment against an opponent's claim designated to correspond to a count on the ground that the claim is not patentable to the opponent. The motion shall separately address each claim alleged to be unpatentable. In deciding an issue raised in a motion filed under this paragraph (a), a claim will be construed in light of the specification of the application or patent in which it appears. A motion under this paragraph shall not be based on:

(1) Priority of invention by the moving party as against any opponent or

(2) Derivation of the invention by an opponent from the moving party. See § 1.637(a).

(b) A motion for judgment on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact. A motion under this paragraph is proper only if the interference involves a design application or patent or a plant application or patent or no claim of a party which corresponds to a count is identical to any claim of an opponent which corresponds to that count. See § 1.637(a). When claims of different parties are presented in "means plus function" format, it may be possible for the claims of the different parties not to define the same patentable invention even though the claims contain the same literal wording.

* * * * *

(f) A motion to be accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application. See § 1.637 (a) and (f).

(g) A motion to attack the benefit accorded an opponent in the notice declaring the interference of the filing date of an earlier filed application. See § 1.637 (a) and (g).

* * * * *

(i) When a motion is filed under paragraph (a), (b), or (g) of this section, an opponent, in addition to opposing the motion, may file a motion to redefine the interfering subject matter under paragraph (c) of this section, a motion to substitute a different application under paragraph (d) of this section, or a motion to add a reissue application to the interference under paragraph (h) of this section.

* * * * *

35. Section 1.636 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.636 Motions, time for filing.

(a) A preliminary motion under § 1.633 (a) through (h) shall be filed within a time period set by an administrative patent judge.

(b) A preliminary motion under § 1.633 (i) or (j) shall be filed within 20 days of the service of the preliminary motion under § 1.633 (a), (b), (c)(1), or (g) unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge.

(c) A motion under § 1.634 shall be diligently filed after an error is discovered in the inventorship of an application or patent involved in an interference unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge.

(d) A motion under § 1.635 shall be filed as specified in this subpart or when appropriate unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge.

36. Section 1.637 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c)(1)(v), (c)(1)(vi), (c)(2)(ii), (c)(2)(iii), (c)(3)(ii), (c)(4)(ii), (d) introductory text, (e)(1)(viii), (e)(2)(vii), (f)(2), and (h)(4); removing paragraphs (c)(2)(iv), (c)(3)(iii), and (d)(4); and adding paragraphs (c)(1)(vii), (e)(1)(ix), and (e)(2)(viii) to read as follows:

§ 1.637 Content of motions.

(a) A party filing a motion has the burden of proof to show that it is entitled to the relief sought in the motion. Each motion shall include a statement of the precise relief requested, a statement of the material facts in support of the motion, in numbered paragraphs, and a full statement of the reasons why the relief requested should be granted. If a party files a motion for judgment under § 1.633(a) against an opponent based on the ground of unpatentability over prior art, and the dates of the cited prior art are such that the prior art appears to be applicable to the party, it will be presumed, without regard to the dates alleged in the preliminary statement of the party, that the cited prior art is applicable to the party unless there is included with the motion an explanation, and evidence if appropriate, as to why the prior art does not apply to the party.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge or the Board, a motion under § 1.635 shall contain a certificate by the moving party stating that the moving party has conferred with all opponents in an effort in good faith to resolve by agreement the issues raised by the motion. The certificate shall indicate whether any opponent plans to oppose the motion. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a motion to suppress evidence (§ 1.656(h)).

(c) * * *

(1) * * *

(v) Show that each proposed count defines a separate patentable invention from every other count proposed to remain in the interference.

(vi) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier filed application, if benefit of the earlier filed application is desired with respect to a proposed count.

(vii) If an opponent is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application in the notice of declaration of the interference, show why the opponent is not also entitled to benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count. Otherwise, the opponent will be presumed to be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count.

(2) * * *

(ii) Show that the claim proposed to be amended or added defines the same patentable invention as the count.

(iii) Show the patentability to the applicant of each claim proposed to be amended or added and apply the terms of the claim proposed to be amended or added to the disclosure of the application; when necessary a moving party applicant shall file with the motion a proposed amendment to the application amending the claim corresponding to the count or adding the proposed additional claim to the application.

(3) * * *

(ii) Show the claim defines the same patentable invention as another claim whose designation as corresponding to the count the moving party does not dispute.

(4) * * *

(ii) Show that the claim does not define the same patentable invention as any other claim whose designation in the notice declaring the interference as corresponding to the count the party does not dispute.

* * * * *

(d) A preliminary motion under § 1.633(d) to substitute a different application of the moving party shall:

* * * * *

(e) * * *

(1) * * *

(viii) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application, if benefit is desired with respect to a proposed count.

(ix) If an opponent is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application in the notice of declaration of the interference, show why the opponent is not also entitled to benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count. Otherwise, the opponent will be presumed to be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count.

(2) * * *

(vii) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application, if benefit is desired with respect to a proposed count.

(viii) If an opponent is accorded the benefit of the filing date of an earlier filed application in the notice of declaration of the interference, show why the opponent is not also entitled to benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count. Otherwise, the opponent will be presumed to be entitled to the benefit of the earlier filed application with respect to the proposed count.

(f) * * *

(2) When the earlier application is an application filed in the United States, certify that a complete copy of the file of the earlier application, except for documents filed under § 1.131 or § 1.608, has been served on all opponents. When the earlier application is an application filed in a foreign country, certify that a copy of the application has been served on all opponents. If the earlier filed application is not in English, the requirements of § 1.647 must also be met.

* * * * *

(h) * * *

(4) Be accompanied by a motion under § 1.633(f) requesting the benefit of the filing date of any earlier filed application, if benefit is desired.

37. Section 1.638 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.638 Opposition and reply; time for filing opposition and reply.

(a) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, any opposition to any motion shall be filed within 20 days after service of the motion. An opposition shall identify any material fact set forth in the motion which is in dispute and include an argument why the relief requested in the motion should be denied.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, any reply shall be filed within 15 days after service of the opposition. A reply shall be directed only to new points raised in the opposition.

38. Section 1.639 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d)(1) to read as follows:

§ 1.639 Evidence in support of motion, opposition, or reply.

(a) Except as provided in paragraphs (c) through (g) of this section, proof of any material fact alleged in a motion, opposition, or reply must be filed and served with the motion, opposition, or reply unless the proof relied upon is part of the interference file or the file of any patent or application involved in the interference or any earlier application filed in the United States of which a party has been accorded or seeks to be accorded benefit.

(b) Proof may be in the form of patents, printed publications, and affidavits. The pages of any affidavits filed under this paragraph shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential numbers, which shall also serve as the record page numbers for the affidavits in the event they are included in the party's record (§ 1.653). Any patents and printed publications submitted under this paragraph and any exhibits identified in affidavits submitted under this paragraph shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential exhibit numbers, which shall also serve as the exhibit numbers in the event the patents, printed publications and exhibits are filed with the party's record (§ 1.653).

(c) If a party believes that additional evidence in the form of testimony that is unavailable to the party is necessary to support or oppose a preliminary motion under § 1.633 or a motion to correct inventorship under § 1.634, the party shall describe the nature of any proposed testimony as specified in paragraphs (d) through (g) of this section. If the administrative patent judge finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the administrative patent judge may grant appropriate interlocutory relief and enter an order authorizing the taking of testimony and deferring a decision on the motion to final hearing.

39. Section 1.640 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) introductory text, (d)(1), (d)(3) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.640 Motions, hearing and decision, redeclaration of interference, order to show cause.

(a) A hearing on a motion may be held in the discretion of the administrative patent judge. The administrative patent judge shall set the date and time for any hearing. The length of oral argument at a hearing on a motion is a matter within the discretion of the administrative patent judge. An administrative patent judge may direct that a hearing take place by telephone.

(b) Unless an administrative patent judge or the Board is of the opinion that an earlier decision on a preliminary motion would materially advance the resolution of the interference, decision on a preliminary motion shall be deferred to final hearing. Motions not deferred to final hearing will be decided by an administrative patent judge. An administrative patent judge may consult with an examiner in deciding motions. An administrative patent judge may take up motions for decision in any order, may grant, deny, or dismiss any motion, and may take such other action which will secure the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the interference. A matter raised by a party in support of or in opposition to a motion that is deferred to final hearing will not be entitled to consideration at final hearing unless the matter is raised in the party's brief at final hearing. If the administrative patent judge determines that the interference shall proceed to final hearing on the issue of priority or derivation, a time shall be set for each party to file a paper identifying any decisions on motions or on matters raised sua sponte by the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed at final hearing as well as identifying any deferred motions that the party wishes to have considered at final hearing. Any evidence that a party wishes to have considered with respect to the decisions and deferred motions identified by the party or by an opponent for consideration or review at final hearing shall be filed or, if appropriate, noticed under § 1.671(e) during the testimony-in-chief period of the party.

(1) When appropriate after the time expires for filing replies to oppositions to preliminary motions, the administrative patent judge will set a time for filing any amendment to an application involved in the interference and for filing a supplemental preliminary statement as to any new counts which may become involved in the interference if a preliminary motion to amend or substitute a count has been filed. Failure or refusal of a party to timely present an amendment required by an administrative patent judge shall be taken without further action as a disclaimer by that party of the invention involved. A supplemental preliminary statement shall meet the requirements specified in §§ 1.623, 1.624, 1.625, or 1.626, but need not be filed if a party states that it intends to rely on a preliminary statement previously filed under § 1.621(a). At an appropriate time in the interference, and when necessary, an order will be entered redeclaring the interference.

(2) After the time expires for filing preliminary motions, a further preliminary motion under § 1.633 will not be considered except as provided by § 1.645(b).

(c) When a decision on any motion under §§ 1.633, 1.634, or 1.635 or on any matter raised sua sponte by an administrative patent judge is entered which does not result in the issuance of an order to show cause under paragraph (d) of this section, a party may file a request for reconsideration within 14 days after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall be filed and served by hand or Express Mail. The filing of a request for reconsideration will not stay any time period set by the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by an administrative patent judge or the Board. A decision ordinarily will not be modified unless an opposition has been requested by an administrative patent judge or the Board. The request for reconsideration normally will be acted on by the administrative patent judge or the panel of the Board which issued the decision.

(d) An administrative patent judge may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against a party when:

(1) A decision on a motion or on a matter raised sua sponte by an administrative patent judge is entered which is dispositive of the interference against the party as to any count;

• • • • •

(3) The party is a junior party whose preliminary statement fails to overcome the effective filing date of another party.

(e) When an order to show cause is issued under paragraph (d) of this section, the Board shall enter judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 20 days after the date of the order, the party against whom the order issued files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order.

(1) If the order was issued under paragraph (d)(1) of this section, the paper may:

(i) Request that final hearing be set to review any decision which is the basis for the order as well as any other decision of the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed by the Board at final hearing or

(ii) Fully explain why judgment should not be entered.

(2) Any opponent may file a response to the paper within 20 days of the date of service of the paper. If the order was issued under paragraph (d)(1) of this section and the party's paper includes a request for final hearing, the opponent's response must identify every decision of the administrative patent judge that the opponent wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing. If the order was issued under paragraph (d)(1) of this section and the paper does not include a request for final hearing, the opponent's response may include a request for final hearing, which must identify every decision of the administrative patent judge that the opponent wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing. Where only the opponent's response includes a request for a final hearing, the party filing the paper shall, within 14 days from the date of service of the opponent's response, file a reply identifying any other decision of the administrative patent judge that the party wishes to have reviewed by the Board at a final hearing.

(3) The paper or the response should be accompanied by a motion (§ 1.635) requesting a testimony period if either party wishes to introduce any evidence to be considered at final hearing (§ 1.671). Any evidence that a party wishes to have considered with respect to the decisions and deferred motions identified for consideration or review at final hearing shall be filed or, if appropriate, noticed under § 1.671(e) during the testimony period of the party. A request for a testimony period shall be construed as including a request for final hearing.

(4) If the paper contains an explanation of why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order, and if no party has requested a final hearing, the decision that is the basis for the order shall be reviewed based on the contents of the paper and the response. If the paper fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party against whom the order issued.

40. Section 1.641 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.641 Unpatentability discovered by administrative patent judge.

(a) During the pendency of an interference, if the administrative patent judge becomes aware of a reason why a claim designated to correspond to a count may not be patentable, the administrative patent judge may enter an order notifying the parties of the reason and set a time within which each party may present its views, including any argument and any supporting evidence, and, in the case of the party whose claim may be unpatentable, any appropriate preliminary motions under §§ 1.633(c), (d) and (h).

(b) If a party timely files a preliminary motion in response to the order of the administrative patent judge, any opponent may file an opposition (§ 1.638(a)). If an opponent files an opposition, the party may reply (§ 1.638(b)).

(c) After considering any timely filed views, including any timely filed preliminary motions under § 1.633, oppositions and replies, the administrative patent judge shall decide how the interference shall proceed.

41. Section 1.642 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.642 Addition of application or patent to interference.

During the pendency of an interference, if the administrative patent judge becomes aware of an application or a patent not involved in the interference which claims the same patentable invention as a count in the interference, the administrative patent judge may add the application or patent to the interference on such terms as may be fair to all parties.

42. Section 1.643(b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.643 Prosecution of interference by assignee.

• • • • •

(b) An assignee of a part interest in an application or patent involved in an interference may file a motion (§ 1.635) for entry of an order authorizing it to prosecute the interference. The motion shall show the inability or refusal of the inventor to prosecute the interference or other cause why it is in the interest of justice to permit the assignee of a part interest to prosecute the interference. The administrative patent judge may allow the assignee of a part interest to prosecute the interference upon such terms as may be appropriate.

43. Section 1.644 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) introductory text, (a)(1), (a)(2), (b), (c), (d), (f) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 1.644 Petitions in interferences.

(a) There is no appeal to the Commissioner in an interference from a decision of an administrative patent judge or the Board. The Commissioner will not consider a petition in an interference unless:

(1) The petition is from a decision of an administrative patent judge or the Board and the administrative patent judge or the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision involves a controlling question of procedure or an interpretation of a rule as to which there is a substantial ground for a difference of opinion and that an immediate decision on petition by the Commissioner may materially advance the ultimate termination of the interference;

(2) The petition seeks to invoke the supervisory authority of the Commissioner and does not relate to the merits of priority of invention or patentability or the admissibility of evidence under the Federal Rules of Evidence; or

• • • • •

(b) A petition under paragraph (a)(1) of this section filed more than 15 days after the date of the decision of the administrative patent judge or the Board may be dismissed as untimely. A petition under paragraph (a)(2) of this section shall not be filed prior to the party's brief for final hearing (see § 1.656). Any petition under paragraph (a)(3) of this section shall be timely if it is filed simultaneously with a proper motion under §§ 1.633, 1.634, or 1.635 when granting the motion would require waiver of a rule. Any opposition to a petition under paragraphs (a)(1) or (a)(2) of this section shall be filed within 20 days of the date of service of the petition. Any opposition to a petition under paragraph (a)(3) of this section shall be filed within 20 days of the date of service of the petition or the date an opposition to the motion is due, whichever is earlier.

(c) The filing of a petition shall not stay the proceeding unless a stay is granted in the discretion of the administrative patent judge, the Board, or the Commissioner.

(d) Any petition must contain a statement of the facts involved, in numbered paragraphs, and the point or points to be reviewed and the action requested. The petition will be decided on the basis of the record made before the administrative patent judge or the Board, and no new evidence will be considered by the Commissioner in deciding the petition. Copies of documents already of record in the interference shall not be submitted with the petition or opposition.

• • • • •

(f) Any request for reconsideration of a decision by the Commissioner shall be filed within 14 days of the decision of the Commissioner and must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(h). No opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed unless requested by the Commissioner. The decision will not ordinarily be modified unless such an opposition has been requested by the Commissioner.

(g) Where reasonably possible, service of any petition, opposition, or request for reconsideration shall be such that delivery is accomplished within one working day. Service by hand or Express Mail complies with this paragraph.

• • • • •

44. Section 1.645 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.645 Extension of time, late papers, stay of proceedings.

(a) Except to extend the time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action, a party may file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking an extension of time to take action in an interference. See § 1.304(a) for extensions of time for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or for commencing a civil action. The motion shall be filed within sufficient time to actually reach the administrative patent judge before expiration of the time for taking action. A moving party should not assume that the motion will be granted even if there is no objection by any other party. The motion will be denied unless the moving party shows good cause why an extension should be granted. The press of other business arising after an administrative patent judge sets a time for taking action will not normally constitute good cause. A motion seeking additional time to take testimony because a party has not been able to procure the testimony of a witness shall set forth the name of the witness, any steps taken to procure the testimony of the witness, the dates on which the steps were taken, and the facts expected to be proved through the witness.

(b) Any paper belatedly filed will not be considered except upon motion (§ 1.635) which shows good cause why the paper was not timely filed, or where an administrative patent judge or the Board, sua sponte, is of the opinion that it would be in the interest of justice to consider the paper. See § 1.304(a) for exclusive procedures relating to belated filing of a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or belated commencement of a civil action.

• • • • •

(d) An administrative patent judge may stay proceedings in an interference.

45. Section 1.646 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(2), (b), (c) introductory text, (c)(1), (c)(4), (d) and (e); redesignating paragraph (c)(5) as paragraph (c)(6) and revising it; and adding a new paragraph (c)(5) to read as follows:

§ 1.646 Service of papers, proof of service.

(a) • • •

(1) Preliminary statements when filed under § 1.621; preliminary statements shall be served when service is ordered by an administrative patent judge.

(2) Certified transcripts and exhibits which accompany the transcripts filed under § 1.676; copies of transcripts shall be served as part of a party's record under § 1.653(c).

(b) Service shall be on an attorney or agent for a party. If there is no attorney or agent for the party, service shall be on the party. An administrative patent judge may order additional service or waive service where appropriate.

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, or except as otherwise provided by this subpart, service of a paper shall be made as follows:

(1) By handing a copy of the paper or causing a copy of the paper to be handed to the person served.

• • • • •

(4) By mailing a copy of the paper by first class mail; when service is by first class mail the date of mailing is regarded as the date of service.

(5) By mailing a copy of the paper by Express Mail; when service is by Express Mail the date of deposit with the U.S. Postal Service is regarded as the date of service.

(6) When it is shown to the satisfaction of an administrative patent judge that none of the above methods of obtaining or serving the copy of the paper was successful, the administrative patent judge may order service by publication of an appropriate notice in the Official Gazette.

(d) An administrative patent judge may order that a paper be served by hand or Express Mail.

(e) The due date for serving a paper is the same as the due date for filing the paper in the Patent and Trademark Office. Proof of service must be made before a paper will be considered in an interference. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the paper. Proof of service shall include the date and manner of service. In the case of personal service under paragraphs (c)(1) through (c)(3) of this section, proof of service shall include the names of any person served and the person who made the service. Proof of service may be made by an acknowledgment of service by or on behalf of the person served or a statement signed by the party or the party's attorney or agent containing the information required by this section. A statement of an attorney or agent attached to, or appearing in, the paper stating the date and manner of service will be accepted as prima facie proof of service.

46. Section 1.647 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.647 Translation of document in foreign language.

When a party relies on a document or is required to produce a document in a language other than English, a translation of the document into English and an affidavit attesting to the accuracy of the translation shall be filed with the document.

47. Section 1.651 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (c)(1), (c)(2), (c)(3) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.651 Setting times for discovery and taking testimony, parties entitled to take testimony.

(a) At an appropriate stage in an interference, an administrative patent judge shall set a time for filing motions (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under § 1.687(c) and testimony periods for taking any necessary testimony.

• • • • •

(c) • • •
(1) The administrative patent judge orders the taking of testimony under § 1.639(c);
(2) The party alleges in its preliminary statement a date of invention prior to the effective filing date of the senior party;
(3) A testimony period has been set to permit an opponent to prove a date of invention prior to the effective filing date of the party and the party has filed a preliminary statement alleging a date of invention prior to that date; or

• • • • •

(d) Testimony, including any testimony to be taken in a place outside the United States, shall be taken and completed during the testimony periods set under paragraph (a) of this section. A party seeking to extend the period for taking testimony must comply with §§ 1.635 and 1.645(a).

48. Section 1.652 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.652 Judgment for failure to take testimony or file record.

If a junior party fails to timely take testimony authorized under § 1.651, or file a record under § 1.653(c), an administrative patent judge, with or without a motion (§ 1.635) by another party, may issue an order to show cause why judgment should not be entered against the junior party. When an order is issued under this section, the Board shall enter judgment in accordance with the order unless, within 15 days after the date of the order, the junior party files a paper which shows good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order. Any other party may file a response to the paper within 15 days of the date of service of the paper. If the party against whom the order was issued fails to show good cause, the Board shall enter judgment against the party.

49. Section 1.653 is amended by removing and reserving paragraphs (c)(5), (f) and (h) and by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c) introductory text, (c)(1), (c)(4), (d), (g) and (i) to read as follows:

§ 1.653 Record and exhibits.

(a) Testimony shall consist of affidavits under §§ 1.672(b), (c) and (g), 1.682(c), 1.683(b) and 1.688(b), transcripts of depositions under §§ 1.671(g) and 1.672(a) when a deposition is authorized by an administrative patent judge, transcripts of depositions under §§ 1.672(d), 1.682(d), 1.683(c) and 1.688(c), agreed statements under § 1.672(h), transcripts of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers and copies of written interrogatories and answers and written requests for admissions and answers under § 1.688(a).
(b) An affidavit shall be filed as set forth in § 1.677. A certified transcript of a deposition, including a deposition cross-examining an affiant, shall be filed as set forth in §§ 1.676, 1.677 and 1.678. An original agreed statement shall be filed as set forth in § 1.672(h).
(c) In addition to the items specified in paragraph (b) of this section and within a time set by an administrative patent judge, each party shall file three copies and serve one copy of a record consisting of:
(1) An index of the names of the witnesses for the party, giving the pages of the record where the direct testimony and cross-examination of each witness begins.

• • • • •

(4) Each affidavit by a witness for the party, transcript, including transcripts of cross-examination of any affiant who testified for the party and transcripts of compelled deposition testimony by a witness for the party, agreed statement relied upon by the party, and transcript of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories and recorded answers.

• • • • •

(d) The pages of the record shall be consecutively numbered to the extent possible.

(g) The record may be produced by standard typographical printing or by any other process capable of producing a clear black permanent image. All printed matter except on covers must appear in at least 11 point type on opaque, unglazed paper. Footnotes may not be printed in type smaller than 9 point. The page size shall be 21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) (letter size) with printed matter 16.5 by 24.1 cm. (6 1/2 by 9 1/2 inches). The record shall be bound with covers at their left edges in such manner as to lie flat when open to any page and in one or more volumes of convenient size (approximately 100 pages per volume is suggested). When there is more than one volume, the numbers of the pages contained in each volume shall appear at the top of the cover for each volume.
(i) Each party shall file its exhibits with the record specified in paragraph (c) of this section. Exhibits include documents and things identified in affidavits or on the record during the taking of oral depositions as well as official records and publications filed by the party under § 1.682(a). One copy of each documentary exhibit shall be served. Documentary exhibits shall be filed in an envelope or folder and shall not be bound as part of the record. Physical exhibits, if not filed by an officer under § 1.676(d), shall be filed with the record. Each exhibit shall contain a label which identifies the party submitting the exhibit and an exhibit number, the style of the interference (e.g., Jones v. Smith), and the interference number. Where possible, the label should appear at the bottom right-hand corner of each documentary exhibit. Upon termination of an interference, an administrative patent judge may return an exhibit to the party filing the exhibit. When any exhibit is returned, an order shall be entered indicating that the exhibit has been returned.

50. Section 1.654 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.654 Final hearing.

(a) At an appropriate stage of the interference, the parties will be given an opportunity to appear before the Board to present oral argument at a final hearing. An administrative patent judge may set a date and time for final hearing. Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge or the Board, each party will be entitled to no more than 30 minutes of oral argument at final hearing. A party who does not file a brief for final hearing (§ 1.656(a)) shall not be entitled to appear at final hearing.

• • • • •

(d) After final hearing, the interference shall be taken under advisement by the Board. No further paper shall be filed except under § 1.658(b) or as authorized by an administrative patent judge or the Board. No additional oral argument shall be had unless ordered by the Board.

51. Section 1.655 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.655 Matters considered in rendering a final decision.

(a) In rendering a final decision, the Board may consider any properly raised issue, including priority of invention, derivation by an opponent from a party who filed a preliminary statement under § 1.625, patentability of the invention, admissibility of evidence, any interlocutory matter deferred to final hearing, and any other matter necessary to resolve the interference. The Board may also consider whether entry of any interlocutory order was an abuse of discretion. All interlocutory orders shall be presumed to have been correct, and the burden of showing an abuse of discretion shall be on the party attacking the order. When two or more interlocutory orders involve the same issue, the last entered order shall be presumed to have been correct.
(b) A party shall not be entitled to raise for consideration at final hearing any matter which properly could have been raised by a motion under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 unless the matter was properly raised in a motion that was timely filed by the party under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was denied or deferred to final hearing, the matter was properly raised by the party in a timely filed opposition to a motion under §§ 1.633 or 1.634 and the motion was granted over the opposition or deferred to final hearing, or the party shows good cause why the issue was not properly raised by a timely filed motion or opposition. A party that fails to contest, by way of a timely filed preliminary motion under § 1.633(c), the designation of a claim as corresponding to a count, or fails to timely argue the separate patentability of a particular claim when the ground for unpatentability is first raised, may not subsequently argue to an administrative patent judge or the Board the separate patentability of claims designated to correspond to the count with respect to that ground.
(c) In the interest of justice, the Board may exercise its discretion to consider an issue even though it would not otherwise be entitled to consideration under this section.

52. In § 1.656, paragraphs (a), (d), (e), (g), (h) and (i) are revised; paragraphs (b)(1) through (b)(6) are redesignated as paragraphs (b)(3) through (b)(8); newly designated paragraphs (b)(5) and (b)(6) are revised; and new paragraphs (b)(1) and (b)(2) are added to read as follows:

§ 1.656 Briefs for final hearing.

(a) Each party shall be entitled to file briefs for final hearing. The administrative patent judge shall determine the briefs needed and shall set the time and order for filing briefs.
(b) • • •
(1) A statement of interest indicating the full name of every party represented by the attorney in the interference and the name of the real party in interest if the party named in the caption is not the real party in interest.
(2) A statement of related cases indicating whether the interference was previously before the Board for final hearing and the name and number of any related appeal or interference which is pending before, or which has been decided by, the Board, or which is pending before, or which has been decided by, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or a district court in a proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 146. A related appeal or interference is one which will directly affect or be directly affected by or have a bearing on the Board's decision in the pending interference.

(5) A statement of the facts, in numbered paragraphs, relevant to the issues presented for decision with appropriate references to the record.

(6) An argument, which may be preceded by a summary, which shall contain the contentions of the party with respect to the issues it is raising for consideration at final hearing, and the reasons therefor, with citations to the cases, statutes, other authorities, and parts of the record relied on.

• • • • •

(d) Unless ordered otherwise by an administrative patent judge, briefs shall be double-spaced (except for footnotes, which may be single-spaced) and shall comply with the requirements of § 1.653(g) for records except the requirement for binding.
(e) An original and four copies of each brief must be filed.

(g) Any party, separate from its opening brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file an original and four copies of concise proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law. Any proposed findings of fact shall be in numbered paragraphs and shall be supported by specific references to the record. Any proposed conclusions of law shall be in numbered paragraphs and shall be supported by citation of cases, statutes, or other authority. Any opponent, separate from its opening or reply brief, but filed concurrently therewith, may file a paper accepting or objecting to any proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law; when objecting, a reason must be given. The Board may adopt the proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law in whole or in part.
(h) If a party wants the Board in rendering its final decision to rule on the admissibility of any evidence, the party shall file with its opening brief an original and four copies of a motion (§ 1.635) to suppress the evidence. The provisions of § 1.637(b) do not apply to a motion to suppress under this paragraph. Any objection previously made to the admissibility of the evidence of an opponent is waived unless the motion required by this paragraph is filed. A party that failed to challenge the admissibility of the evidence of an opponent on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under § 1.672(c), 1.682(c), 1.683(b) or 1.688(b) may not move under this paragraph to suppress the evidence on that ground at final hearing. An original and four copies of an opposition to the motion may be filed with an opponent's opening brief or reply brief as may be appropriate.
(i) When a junior party fails to timely file an opening brief, an order may issue requiring the junior party to show cause why the Board should not treat failure to file the brief as a concession of priority. If the junior party fails to show good cause within a time period set in the order, judgment may be entered against the junior party.

53. Section 1.657 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.657 Burden of proof as to date of invention.

(a) A rebuttable presumption shall exist that, as to each count, the inventors made their invention in the chronological order of their effective filing dates. The burden of proof shall be upon a party who contends otherwise.
(b) In an interference involving copending applications or involving a patent and an application having an effective filing date on or before the date the patent issued, a junior party shall have the burden of establishing priority by a preponderance of the evidence.
(c) In an interference involving an application and a patent and where the effective filing date of the application is after the date the patent issued, a junior party shall have the burden of establishing priority by clear and convincing evidence.

54. Section 1.658 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.658 Final decision.

(a) After final hearing, the Board shall enter a decision resolving the issues raised at final hearing. The decision may enter judgment, in whole or in part, remand the interference to an administrative patent judge for further proceedings, or take further action not inconsistent with law. A judgment as to a count shall state whether or not each party is entitled to a patent containing the claims in the party's patent or application which correspond to the count. When the Board enters a decision awarding judgment as to all counts, the decision shall be regarded as a final decision for the purpose of judicial review (35 U.S.C. 141-144, 146) unless a request for reconsideration under paragraph (b) of this section is timely filed.

(b) Any request for reconsideration of a decision under paragraph (a) of this section shall be filed within one month after the date of the decision. The request for reconsideration shall specify with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision. Any opposition to a request for reconsideration shall be filed within 14 days of the date of service of the request for reconsideration. Service of the request for reconsideration shall be by hand or Express Mail. The Board shall enter a decision on the request for reconsideration. If the Board shall be of the opinion that the decision on the request for reconsideration significantly modifies its original decision under paragraph (a) of this section, the Board may designate the decision on the request for reconsideration as a new decision. A decision on reconsideration is a final decision for the purpose of judicial review (35 U.S.C. 141-144, 146).

55. Section 1.660 is amended by adding paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.660 Notice of reexamination, reissue, protest, or litigation.

• • • • •

(e) The notice required by this section is designed to assist the administrative patent judge and the Board in efficiently handling interference cases. Failure of a party to comply with the provisions of this section may result in sanctions under § 1.616. Knowledge by, or notice to, an employee of the Office other than an employee of the Board, of the existence of the reexamination, application for reissue, protest, or litigation shall not be sufficient. The notice contemplated by this section is notice addressed to the administrative patent judge in charge of the interference in which the application or patent is involved.

56. Section 1.662 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.662 Request for entry of adverse judgment; reissue filed by patentee.

(a) A party may, at any time during an interference, request and agree to entry of an adverse judgment. The filing by a party of a written disclaimer of the invention defined by a count, concession of priority or unpatentability of the subject matter of a count, abandonment of the invention defined by a count, or abandonment of the contest as to a count will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant or patentee as to all claims which correspond to the count. Abandonment of an application, other than an application for reissue having a claim of the patent sought to be reissued involved in the interference, will be treated as a request for entry of an adverse judgment against the applicant as to all claims corresponding to all counts. Upon the filing by a party of a request for entry of an adverse judgment, the Board may enter judgment against the party.

(b) If a patentee involved in an interference files an application for reissue during the interference and the reissue application does not include a claim that corresponds to a count, judgment may be entered against the patentee. A patentee who files an application for reissue which includes a claim that corresponds to a count shall, in addition to complying with the provisions of § 1.660(b), timely file a preliminary motion under § 1.633(h) or show good cause why the motion could not have been timely filed or would not be appropriate.

• • • • •

57. Section 1.664 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.664 Action after interference.

(a) After termination of an interference, the examiner will promptly take such action in any application previously involved in the interference as may be necessary. Unless entered by order of an administrative patent judge, amendments presented during the interference shall not be entered, but may be subsequently presented by the applicant subject to the provisions of this subpart provided prosecution of the application is not otherwise closed.

(b) After judgment, the application of any party may be held subject to further examination, including an interference with another application.

58. Section 1.671 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) introductory text, (c)(1), (c)(2), (c)(6), (c)(7), (e), (f) and (g); redesignating paragraph (h) as paragraph (i) and revising it; and adding new paragraphs (h) and (j) to read as follows:

§ 1.671 Evidence must comply with rules.

(a) Evidence consists of testimony and referenced exhibits, official records and publications filed under § 1.682, testimony and referenced exhibits from another interference, proceeding, or action filed under § 1.683, discovery relied upon under § 1.688, and the specification (including claims) and drawings of any application or patent:

• • • • •

(c) • • •

(1) Courts of the United States, U.S. Magistrate, court, trial court, or trier of fact means administrative patent judge or Board as may be appropriate.

(2) Judge means administrative patent judge.

• • • • •

(6) Before the hearing in Rule 703 of the Federal Rules of Evidence means before giving testimony by affidavit or oral deposition.

(7) The trial or hearing in Rules 803(24) and 804(5) of the Federal Rules of Evidence means the taking of testimony by affidavit or oral deposition.

• • • • •

(e) A party may not rely on an affidavit (including any exhibits), patent or printed publication previously submitted by the party under § 1.639(b) unless a copy of the affidavit, patent or printed publication has been served and a written notice is filed prior to the close of the party's relevant testimony period stating that the party intends to rely on the affidavit, patent or printed publication. When proper notice is given under this paragraph, the affidavit, patent or printed publication shall be deemed as filed under §§ 1.640(b), 1.640(e)(3), 1.672(b) or 1.682(a), as appropriate.

(f) The significance of documentary and other exhibits identified by a witness in an affidavit or during oral deposition shall be discussed with particularity by a witness.

(g) A party must file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking permission from an administrative patent judge prior to compelling testimony or production of documents or things under 35 U.S.C. 24 or from an opposing party. The motion shall describe the general nature and the relevance of the testimony, document, or thing. If permission is granted, the party shall notice a deposition under § 1.673 and may proceed to take testimony.

(h) A party must file a motion (§ 1.635) seeking permission from an administrative patent judge prior to compelling testimony or production of documents or things in a foreign country.

(1) In the case of testimony, the motion shall:

(i) Describe the general nature and relevance of the testimony;

(ii) Identify the witness by name or title;

(iii) Identify the foreign country and explain why the party believes the witness can be compelled to testify in the foreign country, including a description of the procedures that will be used to compel the testimony in the foreign country and an estimate of the time it is expected to take to obtain the testimony; and

(iv) Demonstrate that the party has made reasonable efforts to secure the agreement of the witness to testify in the United States but has been unsuccessful in obtaining the agreement, even though the party has offered to pay the expenses of the witness to travel to and testify in the United States.

(2) In the case of production of a document or thing, the motion shall:

(i) Describe the general nature and relevance of the document or thing;

(ii) Identify the foreign country and explain why the party believes production of the document or thing can be compelled in the foreign country, including a description of the procedures that will be used to compel production of the document or thing in the foreign country and an estimate of the time it is expected to take to obtain production of the document or thing; and

(iii) Demonstrate that the party has made reasonable efforts to obtain the agreement of the individual or entity having possession, custody, or control of the document to produce the document or thing in the United States but has been unsuccessful in obtaining that agreement, even though the party has offered to pay the expenses of producing the document or thing in the United States.

(i) Evidence which is not taken or sought and filed in accordance with this subpart shall not be admissible.

(j) The weight to be given deposition testimony taken in a foreign country will be determined in view of all the circumstances, including the laws of the foreign country governing the testimony. Little, if any, weight may be given to deposition testimony taken in a foreign country unless the party taking the testimony proves by clear and convincing evidence, as a matter of fact, that knowingly giving false testimony in that country in connection with an interference proceeding in the United States Patent and Trademark Office is punishable under the laws of that country and that the punishment in that country for such false testimony is comparable to or greater than the punishment for perjury committed in the United States. The administrative patent judge and the Board, in determining foreign law, may consider any relevant material or source, including testimony, whether or not submitted by a party or admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence.

59. Section 1.672 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.672 Manner of taking testimony.

(a) Unless testimony must be compelled under 35 U.S.C. 24, compelled from a party, or compelled in a foreign country, testimony of a witness shall be taken by affidavit in accordance with this subpart. Testimony which must be compelled under 35 U.S.C. 24, compelled from a party, or compelled in a foreign country shall be taken by oral deposition.

(b) A party presenting testimony of a witness by affidavit shall, within the time set by the administrative patent judge for serving affidavits, file a copy of the affidavit or, if appropriate, notice under § 1.671(e). If the affidavit relates to a party's case-in-chief, it shall be filed or noticed no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits for its case-in-chief. If the affidavit relates to a party's case-in-rebuttal, it shall be filed or noticed no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits for its case-in-rebuttal. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any document referred to in the affidavit unless a copy of the document is filed with the affidavit. A party shall not be entitled to rely on any thing mentioned in the affidavit unless the opponent is given reasonable access to the thing. A thing is something other than a document. The pages of affidavits filed under this paragraph and of any other testimony filed therewith under §§ 1.683(a) and 1.688(a) shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential numbers which shall also serve as the record page numbers for the affidavits and other testimony in the party's record to be filed under § 1.653. Exhibits identified in the affidavits or in any other testimony filed under §§ 1.683(a) and 1.688(a) and any official records and printed publications filed under § 1.682(a) shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential exhibit numbers, which shall also serve as the exhibit numbers when the exhibits are filed with the party's record. The affidavits, testimony filed under §§ 1.683(a) and 1.688(a) and exhibits shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where the testimony of each witness begins, and by an index of the exhibits briefly describing the nature of each exhibit and giving the number of the page where each exhibit is first identified and offered into evidence.

(c) If an opponent objects to the admissibility of any evidence contained in or submitted with an affidavit filed under paragraph (b) of this section, the opponent must, no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for filing objections under this paragraph, file objections stating with particularity the nature of each objection. An opponent that fails to object to the admissibility of the evidence contained in or submitted with an affidavit on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under this paragraph will not be entitled to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground. If an opponent timely files objections, the party may, within 20 days of the due date for filing objections, file one or more supplemental affidavits, official records or printed publications to overcome the objections. No objection to the admissibility of the supplemental evidence shall be made, except as provided by § 1.656(h). The pages of supplemental affidavits filed under this paragraph shall, to the extent possible, be sequentially numbered beginning with the number following the last page number of the party's testimony submitted under paragraph (b) of this section. The page numbers assigned to the supplemental affidavits shall also serve as the record page numbers for the supplemental affidavits in the party's record filed under § 1.653. Additional exhibits identified in supplemental affidavits and any supplemental official records and printed publications shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential numbers beginning with the number following the last number of the exhibits submitted under paragraph (b) of this section. The exhibit numbers shall also serve as the exhibit numbers when the exhibits are filed with the party's record. The supplemental affidavits shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses and an index of exhibits of the type specified in paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) After the time expires for filing objections and supplemental affidavits, or earlier when appropriate, the administrative patent judge shall set a time within which any opponent may file a request to cross-examine an affiant on oral deposition. If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall notice a deposition at a reasonable location within the United States under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for providing a translator if the witness does not testify in English, for obtaining a court reporter, and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by § 1.676. Within 45 days of the close of the period for taking cross-examination, the party shall serve (but not file) a copy of each transcript on each opponent together with copies of any additional documentary exhibits identified by the witness during the deposition. The pages of the transcripts served under this paragraph shall, to the extent possible, be sequentially numbered beginning with the number following the last page number of the party's supplemental affidavits submitted under paragraph (c) of this section. The numbers assigned to the transcript pages shall also serve as the record page numbers for the transcripts in the party's record filed under § 1.653. Additional exhibits identified in the transcripts, shall, to the extent possible, be given sequential numbers beginning with the number following the last number of the exhibits submitted under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section. The exhibit numbers assigned to the additional exhibits shall also serve as the exhibit numbers when those exhibits are filed with the party's record. The deposition transcripts shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where cross-examination, redirect and recross of each witness begins, and an index of exhibits of the type specified in paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) [Reserved]

(f) When a deposition is authorized to be taken within the United States under this subpart and if the parties agree in writing, the deposition may be taken in any place within the United States, before any person authorized to administer oaths, upon any notice, and in any manner, and when so taken may be used like other depositions.

(g) If the parties agree in writing, the affidavit testimony of any witness may be submitted without opportunity for cross-examination.

(h) If the parties agree in writing, testimony may be submitted in the form of an agreed statement setting forth how a particular witness would testify, if called, or the facts in the case of one or more of the parties. The agreed statement shall be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. See § 1.653(a).

(i) In an unusual circumstance and upon a showing that testimony cannot be taken in accordance with the provisions of this subpart, an administrative patent judge upon motion (§ 1.635) may authorize testimony to be taken in another manner.

60. Section 1.673 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) introductory text, paragraphs (c) through (e) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 1.673 Notice of examination of witness.

(a) A party authorized to take testimony of a witness by deposition shall, after complying with paragraphs (b) and (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each deposition to be taken. Depositions to be taken in the United States may be noticed for a reasonable time and place in the United States. A deposition may not be noticed for any other place without approval of an administrative patent judge. The notice shall specify the name and address of each witness and the general nature of the testimony to be given by the witness. If the name of a witness is not known, a general description sufficient to identify the witness or a particular class or group to which the witness belongs may be given instead.

(b) Unless the parties agree or an administrative patent judge or the Board determine otherwise, a party shall serve, but not file, at least three working days prior to the conference required by paragraph (g) of this section, if service is made by hand or Express Mail, or at least 14 days prior to the conference if service is made by any other means, the following:

* * * * *

(c) A party shall not be permitted to rely on any witness not listed in the notice, or any document not served or any thing not listed as required by paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) Unless all opponents agree in writing or on the record to permit the party to rely on the witness, document or thing, or

(2) Except upon a motion (§ 1.635) promptly filed which is accompanied by any proposed notice, additional documents, or lists and which shows good cause why the notice, documents, or lists were not served in accordance with this section.

(d) Each opponent shall have a full opportunity to attend a deposition and cross-examine.

(e) A party who has presented testimony by affidavit and is required to notice depositions for the purpose of cross-examination under § 1.672(b), shall, after complying with paragraph (g) of this section, file and serve a single notice of deposition stating the time and place of each cross-examination deposition to be taken.

* * * * *

(g) Before serving a notice of deposition and after complying with paragraph (b) of this section, a party shall have an oral conference with all opponents to attempt to agree on a mutually acceptable time and place for conducting the deposition. A certificate shall appear in the notice stating that the oral conference took place or explaining why the conference could not be had. If the parties cannot agree to a mutually acceptable place and time for conducting the deposition at the conference, the parties shall contact an administrative patent judge who shall then designate the time and place for conducting the deposition.

* * * * *

61. Section 1.674 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.674 Persons before whom depositions may be taken.

(a) A deposition shall be taken before an officer authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the United States or of the place where the examination is held.

* * * * *

62. Section 1.675 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.675 Examination of witness, reading and signing transcript of deposition.

* * * * *

(d) Unless the parties agree in writing or waive reading and signature by the witness on the record at the deposition, when the testimony has been transcribed a transcript of the deposition shall, unless the witness refuses to read and/or sign the transcript of the deposition, be read by the witness and then signed by the witness in the form of:

(1) An affidavit in the presence of any notary or

(2) A declaration.

63. Section 1.676 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(4) to read as follows:

§ 1.676 Certification and filing by officer, marking exhibits.

(a) * * *

(4) The presence or absence of any opponent.

* * * * *

64. Section 1.677 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.677 Form of an affidavit or a transcript of deposition.

(a) An affidavit or a transcript of a deposition must be on opaque, unglazed, durable paper approximately 21.8 by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inches) in size (letter size). The printed matter shall be double-spaced on one side of the paper in not smaller than 11 point type with a margin of 3.8 cm. (1 1/2 inches) on the left-hand side of the page. The pages of each transcript must be consecutively numbered and the name of the witness shall appear at the top of each page (§ 1.653(e)). In transcripts of depositions, the questions propounded to each witness must be consecutively numbered unless paper with numbered lines is used and each question must be followed by its answer.

(b) Exhibits must be numbered consecutively to the extent possible and each must be marked as required by § 1.653(i).

65. Section 1.678 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.678 Time for filing transcript of deposition.

Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, a certified transcript of a deposition must be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within one month after the date of deposition. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, the administrative patent judge or the Board may take appropriate action under § 1.616. If a party refuses to file a certified transcript, any opponent may move for leave to file the certified transcript and include a copy of the transcript as part of the opponent's record.

66. Section 1.679 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.679 Inspection of transcript.

A certified transcript of a deposition filed in the Patent and Trademark Office may be inspected by any party. The certified transcript may not be removed from the Patent and Trademark Office unless authorized by an administrative patent judge upon such terms as may be appropriate.

67. Section 1.682 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.682 Official records and printed publications.

(a) A party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, an official record or printed publication not identified in an affidavit or on the record during an oral deposition of a witness, by filing a copy of the official record or printed publication or, if appropriate, a notice under § 1.671(e). If the official record or printed publication relates to the party's case-in-chief, it shall be filed or noticed together with any affidavits filed by the party under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief or, if the party does not serve any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief. If the official record or printed publication relates to rebuttal, it shall be filed or noticed together with any affidavits filed by the party under § 1.672(b) for the its case-in-rebuttal or, if the party does not file any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal. Official records and printed publications filed under this paragraph shall be assigned sequential exhibit numbers by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(b). The official record and printed publications shall be accompanied by a paper which shall:

(1) Identify the official record or printed publication;

(2) Identify the portion thereof to be introduced in evidence; and

(3) Indicate generally the relevance of the portion sought to be introduced in evidence.

(b) [Reserved]

(c) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, any written objection by an opponent to the paper or to the admissibility of the official record or printed publication shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file objections under § 1.672(c) to affidavits submitted by the party under § 1.672(b). An opponent who fails to object to the admissibility of the official record or printed publication on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under this paragraph will not be entitled to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground. If an opponent timely files an objection, the party may respond by filing one or more supplemental affidavits, official records or printed publications, which must be filed together with any supplemental evidence filed by the party under § 1.672(c) or, if the party does not file any supplemental evidence under § 1.672(c), no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file supplemental affidavits under § 1.672(c). No objection to the admissibility of the supplemental evidence shall be made, except as provided by § 1.656(h). The pages of supplemental affidavits and the exhibits filed under this section shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(c). The supplemental affidavits and exhibits shall be accompanied by an index of witnesses and an index of exhibits of the type required by § 1.672(b).

(d) Any request by an opponent to cross-examine on oral deposition the affiant of a supplemental affidavit submitted under paragraph (c) of this section shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file a request to cross-examine an affiant with respect to an affidavit served by the party under § 1.672(b) or (c). If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall file notice of a deposition for a reasonable location within the United States under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under this paragraph, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for providing a translator if the witness does not testify in English, for obtaining a court reporter, and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by § 1.676. Within 45 days of the close of the period for taking cross-examination, the party shall serve (but not file) a copy of each deposition transcript on each opponent together with copies of any additional documentary exhibits identified by the witness during the deposition. The pages of deposition transcripts and exhibits served under this paragraph shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(d). The deposition transcripts shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where cross-examination, redirect and recross of each witness begins, and an index of exhibits of the type specified in § 1.672(b).

68. Section 1.683 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.683 Testimony in another interference, proceeding, or action.

(a) A party may introduce into evidence, if otherwise admissible, testimony by affidavit or oral deposition and referenced exhibits from another interference, proceeding, or action involving the same parties by filing a copy of the affidavit or a copy of the transcript of the oral deposition and the referenced exhibits. If the testimony and referenced exhibits relate to the party's case-in-chief, they shall be filed together with any affidavits served by the party under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief or, if the party does not file any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief. If the testimony and referenced exhibits relate to rebuttal, they shall be filed together with any affidavits served by the party under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal or, if the party does not file any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal. Pages of affidavits and deposition transcripts served under this paragraph and any new exhibits served therewith shall be assigned sequential numbers by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(b). The testimony shall be accompanied by a paper which specifies with particularity the exact testimony to be used and demonstrates its relevance.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, any written objection by an opponent to the paper or the admissibility of the testimony and referenced exhibits filed under this section shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file any objections under § 1.672(c) to affidavits submitted by the party under § 1.672(b). An opponent who fails to challenge the admissibility of the testimony or referenced exhibits on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under this paragraph will not be entitled to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground. If an opponent timely files an objection, the party may respond with one or more supplemental affidavits, official records or printed publications, which must be filed together with any supplemental evidence filed by the party under § 1.672(c) or, if the party does not file any supplemental evidence under § 1.672(c), no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file supplemental evidence under § 1.672(c). No objection to the admissibility of the evidence contained in or submitted with a supplemental affidavit shall be made, except as provided by § 1.656(h). The pages of supplemental affidavits and the exhibits filed under this section shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(c). The supplemental affidavits and exhibits shall be accompanied by an index of witnesses and an index of exhibits of the type required by § 1.672(b).

(c) Any request by an opponent to cross-examine on oral deposition the affiant of an affidavit or supplemental affidavit submitted under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file a request to cross-examine an affiant with respect to an affidavit filed by the party under § 1.672(b) or (c). If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall file a notice of deposition for a reasonable location within the United States under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under this paragraph, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for providing a translator if the witness does not testify in English, for obtaining a court reporter, and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by § 1.676. Within 45 days of the close of the period for taking cross-examination, the party shall serve (but not file) a copy of each deposition transcript on each opponent together with copies of any additional documentary exhibits identified by the witness during the deposition. The pages of deposition transcripts and exhibits served under this paragraph shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(d). The deposition transcripts shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where cross-examination, redirect and recross of each witness begins, and an index of exhibits of the type specified in § 1.672(b).

69. Section 1.684 is removed and reserved.

70. Section 1.685 is amended by revising paragraphs (d) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.685 Errors and irregularities in depositions.

• • • • •

(d) An objection to the deposition on any grounds, such as the competency of a witness, admissibility of evidence, manner of taking the deposition, the form of questions and answers, any oath or affirmation, or conduct of any party at the deposition, is waived unless an objection is made on the record at the deposition stating the specific ground of objection. Any objection which a party wishes considered by the Board at final hearing shall be included in a motion to suppress under § 1.656(h).

(e) Nothing in this section precludes taking notice of plain errors affecting substantial rights although they were not brought to the attention of an administrative patent judge or the Board.

71. Section 1.687 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.687 Additional discovery.

• • • • •

(c) Upon a motion (§ 1.635) brought by a party within the time set by an administrative patent judge under § 1.651 or thereafter as authorized by § 1.645 and upon a showing that the interest of justice so requires, an administrative patent judge may order additional discovery, as to matters under the control of a party within the scope of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, specifying the terms and conditions of such additional discovery. See § 1.647 concerning translations of documents in a foreign language.

• • • • •

72. Section 1.688 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.688 Use of discovery.

(a) If otherwise admissible, a party may introduce into evidence an answer to a written request for an admission or an answer to a written interrogatory obtained by discovery under § 1.687 by filing a copy of the request for admission or the written interrogatory and the answer. If the answer relates to a party's case-in-chief, the answer shall be served together with any affidavits served by the party under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief or, if the party does not serve any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to serve affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-chief. If the answer relates to the party's rebuttal, the answer shall be served together with any affidavits served by the party under § 1.672(b) for the its case-in-rebuttal or, if the party does not serve any affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal, no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to serve affidavits under § 1.672(b) for its case-in-rebuttal.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, any written objection to the admissibility of an answer shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file any objections under § 1.672(c) to affidavits submitted by the party under § 1.672(b). An opponent who fails to challenge the admissibility of an answer on a ground that could have been raised in a timely objection under this paragraph will not be entitled to move under § 1.656(h) to suppress the evidence on that ground. If an opponent timely files an objection, the party may respond with one or more supplemental affidavits, which must be filed together with any supplemental evidence filed by the party under § 1.672(c) or, if the party does not file any supplemental evidence under § 1.672(c), no later than the date set by an administrative patent judge for the party to file supplemental affidavits under § 1.672(c). No objection to the admissibility of the evidence contained in or submitted with a supplemental affidavit shall be made, except as provided by § 1.656(h). The pages of supplemental affidavits and the exhibits filed under this section shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(c). The supplemental affidavits and exhibits shall be accompanied by an index of witnesses and an index of exhibits of the type required by § 1.672(b).

(c) Any request by an opponent to cross-examine on oral deposition the affiant of a supplemental affidavit submitted under paragraph (b) of this section shall be filed no later than the date set by the administrative patent judge for the opponent to file a request to cross-examine an affiant with respect to an affidavit filed by the party under § 1.672(b) or (c). If any opponent requests cross-examination of an affiant, the party shall file a notice of deposition for a reasonable location within the United States under § 1.673(e) for the purpose of cross-examination by any opponent. Any redirect and recross shall take place at the deposition. At any deposition for the purpose of cross-examination of a witness, the party shall not be entitled to rely on any document or thing not mentioned in one or more of the affidavits filed under this paragraph, except to the extent necessary to conduct proper redirect. The party who gives notice of a deposition shall be responsible for providing a translator if the witness does not testify in English, for obtaining a court reporter, and for filing a certified transcript of the deposition as required by § 1.676. Within 45 days of the close of the period for taking cross-examination, the party shall serve (but not file) a copy of each deposition transcript on each opponent together with copies of any additional documentary exhibits identified by the witness during the deposition. The pages of deposition transcripts and exhibits served under this paragraph shall be sequentially numbered by the party in the manner set forth in § 1.672(d). The deposition transcripts shall be accompanied by an index of the names of the witnesses, giving the number of the page where cross-examination, redirect and recross of each witness begins, and an index of exhibits of the type specified in § 1.672(b).

(d) A party may not rely upon any other matter obtained by discovery unless it is introduced into evidence under this subpart.

73. Section 1.690 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.690 Arbitration of interferences.

(a) Parties to a patent interference may determine the interference or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of Title 9, United States Code. The parties must notify the Board in writing of their intention to arbitrate. An agreement to arbitrate must be in writing, specify the issues to be arbitrated, the name of the arbitrator or a date not more than thirty (30) days after the execution of the agreement for the selection of the arbitrator, and provide that the arbitrator's award shall be binding on the parties and that judgment thereon can be entered by the Board. A copy of the agreement must be filed within twenty (20) days after its execution. The parties shall be solely responsible for the selection of the arbitrator and the rules for conducting proceedings before the arbitrator. Issues not disposed of by the arbitration will be resolved in accordance with the procedures established in this subpart, as determined by the administrative patent judge.

(b) An arbitration proceeding under this section shall be conducted within such time as may be authorized on a case-by-case basis by an administrative patent judge.

(c) An arbitration award will be given no consideration unless it is binding on the parties, is in writing and states in a clear and definite manner the issue or issues arbitrated and the disposition of each issue. The award may include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof. Unless otherwise ordered by an administrative patent judge, the parties shall give notice to the Board of an arbitration award by filing within twenty (20) days from the date of the award a copy of the award signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators. When an award is timely filed, the award shall, as to the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issue or issues to which it relates.

Patent Interference Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules of practice in patent interference cases. The U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia recently decided Kochler v. Mustonen, Civil Action No. 90-1074 (D.D.C. Apr. 23, 1991). The District Court held that PTO practice regarding taking of testimony abroad was not clear. PTO rules require that a testimony period be set. The rules also require that testimony be taken during the testimony period. Rule 684 authorizes testimony to be taken abroad. However, rule 684 requires that a motion be filed for leave to take testimony abroad and that the motion be filed before the close of a party's testimony period. The District Court suggested that a motion to take testimony abroad, filed in PTO on the last day of the testimony period, could be considered timely even though taking of the testimony might occur after the testimony period. By this amendment, PTO will continue to authorize the filing of a motion to take testimony abroad. However, a party will have to file the motion within a time such that the testimony can be taken during the testimony period set under PTO rule 651.
Effective Date: Sept. 27, 1991
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, DC 20231.
Supplementary Information: The PTO conducts interference proceedings to determine who as between two or more applicants for patent or one or more applicants and one or more patentees is the first inventor of a patentable invention. As part of its proofs in an interference, a party may request leave to take testimony abroad. 37 CFR § 1.684 (1990).

The U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia recently decided Kochler V. Mustonen, Civil Action No. 90-1074 (D.D.C. Apr. 23, 1991). The District Court held that PTO practice regarding taking of testimony abroad was not clear. PTO rule 651 (37 CFR § 1.651 (1990)) requires that a testimony period be set. Rule 651 also requires that testimony be taken during the testimony period. Rule 684 (37 CFR § 1.684 (1990)) authorizes testimony to be taken abroad. However, rule 684 requires that a motion be filed for leave to take testimony abroad and that the motion be filed before the close of a party's testimony period. The District Court suggested that a motion to take testimony abroad, filed in PTO on the last day of the testimony period, could be considered timely even though taking of the testimony might occur after the testimony period.

In a notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 12, 1991 56 FR 26949, paragraphs (a) and (d) of rule 651 and rule 684 were proposed to be revised to require a party to file the motion to take testimony abroad within a time such that the testimony could be taken during the testimony period set under PTO rule 651.

One written comment was submitted by a Chief Executive Officer who stated his support of the proposed amendment. An attorney commented that the proposed amendment of § 1.684 appeared to foreclose the taking of testimony beyond any original time set under § 1.651. The attorney suggested language be added to paragraph (c) stating the alternative that testimony abroad must be completed within the time set under § 1.651 or by the Examiner-in-Chief. This suggestion has been adopted.

Other Considerations: The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et. seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to clarify the need for taking testimony abroad during the testimony period. The rule changes include no additional or increased fees. Substantive rights are not adversely affected.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. Because most of the changes do not change burdens, there will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individual industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity or innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The rule change will not impose any additional burden under the paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501*et seq.*

The Office has also determined that this rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble and pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 135, the PTO is amending 37 CFR part 1 as follows:

Part 1 —Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR part 1, Suspart E, continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35. U.S.C. 6, 23, 41 and 135.

2. Section 1.651 is revised as follows:

§ 1.651 Setting times for discovery and taking testimony, parties entitled to take testimony.

(a) At an appropriate stage in an interference, an examiner-in-chief shall set (1) a time for filing motions (§ 1.635) for additional discovery under § 1.687(c) and (2) testimony periods for taking any necessary testimony (testimony includes testimony to be taken abroad under § 1.684).

(b) Where appropriate, testimony periods will be set to permit a party to:

(1) Present its case-in-chief and/or case-in-rebuttal and/or

(2) Cross-examine an opponent's case-in-chief and/or a case-in-rebuttal.

(c) A party is not entitled to take testimony to present a case-in-chief unless:

(1) The examiner-in-chief orders the taking of testimony under § 1.639(c);

(2) The party alleges in its preliminary statement a date of invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the senior party;

(3) A testimony period has been set to permit an opponent to prove a date of the invention prior to the earlier of the filing date or effective filing date of the party and the party has filed a preliminary statement alleging a date of invention prior to the date; or

(4) A motion (§ 1.635) is filed showing good cause why a testimony period should be set.

(d) Testimony, including any testimony to be taken abroad under § 1.684, shall be taken and completed during the testimony periods set under paragraph (a) of this section. A party seeking to extend the period for taking testimony must comply with § 1.635 and § 1.645(a).

3. Section 1.684 is revised as follows:

§ 1.684 Testimony in a foreign country.

(a) An examiner-in-chief may authorize testimony of a witness to be taken in a foreign country. A party seeking to take testimony in a foreign country shall, promptly after the testimony period is set, file a motion (§ 1.635):

(1) Naming the witness

(2) Describing the particular facts to which it is expected that the witness will testify.

(3) Stating the grounds on which the moving party believes that the witness will testify.

(4) Demonstrating that the expected testimony is relevant.

(5) Demonstrating that the testimony cannot be taken in this country at all or cannot be taken in this country without hardship to the moving party greatly exceeding the hardship to which all opposing parties will be exposed by the taking of the testimony in a foreign country.

(6) Accompanied by an affidavit stating that the motion is made in good faith and not for the purpose of delay or harassing any party.

(7) Accompanied by written interrogatories to be asked of the witness.

(b) Any opposition under § 1.638(a) shall state any objection to the written interrogatories and shall include any cross-interrogatories to be asked of the witness. A reply under § 1.638(b) may be filed and shall be limited to stating any objection to any cross-interrogatories proposed in the opposition.

(c) If the motion is granted, taking of the testimony abroad must be completed within the testimony period set under § 1.651 or within such time as may be set by the Examiner-in-Chief. The moving party shall be responsible for obtaining answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories before an officer qualified to administer oaths in the foreign country under the laws of the United States or the foreign country. The officer shall prepare a transcript of the interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, and recorded answers to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories and shall transmit the transcript to BOX INTERFERENCE, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, DC 20231, with a certificate signed and sealed by the officer and showing:

(1) The witness was duly sworn by the officer before answering the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(2) The recorded answers are a true record of the answers given by the witness to the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories.

(3) The name of the person by whom the answers were recorded and, if not recorded by the officer, whether the answers were recorded in the presence of the officer.

(4) The presence or absence of any party.

(5) The place, day, and hour that the answers were recorded.

(6) A copy of the recorded answers was read by or to the witness before the witness signed the recorded answers and that the witness signed the recorded answers in the presence of the officer. The officer shall state the circumstances under which a witness refuses to read or sign recorded answers.

(7) The officer is not disqualified under § 1.674.

(d) If the parties agree in writing, the testimony may be taken before the officer on oral deposition.

(e) A party taking testimony in a foreign country shall have the burden of proving that false swearing in the giving of testimony is punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country. Unless false swearing in the giving of testimony before the officer shall be punishable as perjury under the laws of the foreign country where testimony is taken, the testimony shall be entitled to the same weight as testimony taken in the United States. The weight of the testimony shall be determined in each case.

Patent Interference Practice Burden of Proof

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending its rules of practice in patent interference cases. The amended rules specify that a party filing a motion has the burden of proof for that motion. The amended rules also more clearly state the nature of expert-witness and fact-witness evidence that must accompany a preliminary motion. Moreover, a definition of "interlocutory order," as contrasted with a final decision, is added to clarify the meaning of "interlocutory order."
Effective Date: Oct. 25, 1993. These rules will apply to all papers filed with the PTO on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register (58 FR 528) on Jan. 6, 1993, and in the Official Gazette of the PTO (1147 Off. Gaz. 11) on Feb. 2, 1993. Comments were due Mar. 8, 1993. Four comments were received.

The PTO proposed moving the presumption of correctness of an interlocutory order, which is presently in 37 CFR § 1.655(a), to a proposed new subsection 1.601(q). The PTO also proposed to make explicit in 37 CFR § 1.637(a) that a party filing a motion has the burden of proving why it is entitled to the relief sought in the motion.

The PTO proposed to amend 37 CFR § 1.639 to incorporate guidance provided in Hanagan v. Kimura, 16 USPQ2d 1791, 1794 (Comm'r Pat. 1990). Subsection (c) of § 1.639 was proposed to be amended to refer to "additional evidence in the form of testimony" so as to distinguish the evidence needed under subsection (c) from evidence submitted under subsections (a) and (b). Subsection (d) to 37 CFR § 1.639 was proposed to be added to specify that the nature of evidence that must be submitted when an opinion of an expert is needed. Subsection (e) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of evidence that must be submitted when a statement of a fact witness is to be relied upon. Subsection (f) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of a showing that should be made when a statement of an opponent is needed or evidence in possession of an opponent is needed. Subsection (g) was proposed to be added to specify the nature of evidence that must be supplied if inter partes tests are to be conducted.

Present 37 CFR 1.655(a) was proposed to be amended by deleting the last sentence, which would be moved to and be included in the proposed definition of interlocutory order in proposed subsection 1.601(g).

The PTO received one comment that endorsed the proposed rulemaking, but was otherwise directed to an earlier rulemaking.

The PTO received two comments regarding proposed subsection 1.601(q). One comment suggested that procedural rules should not be placed in a definition. The comment suggested that the last two sentences of proposed subsection 1.601(q), which deal with the presumed correctness of interlocutory orders, be in a new subsection of section 1.655. This suggestion is adopted in part. The last two sentences of subsection 1.601(q) will be moved to the end of subsection 1.655(a).

A second comment challenged the sufficiency of the notice in the proposed rulemaking. The comment noted that the word "manifest" was omitted from the portion of existing subsection 1.655(a) that was moved to new subsection 1.601(q) and that the word "manifestly" was omitted from the remainder of subsection 1.655(a). The comment argued that the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking did not provide sufficient notice of these omissions, which the comment characterized as substantive changes, and thus violates the requirements of 5 U.S.C. § 553. This comment is not adopted.

The Notice of Proposed Rulemaking gave specific notice of the actual terms of the proposed rule. Cf. § 553(b) (requiring "[g]eneral notice" of "either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved.") In any case, no change actually occurs because the omitted words, "manifest" and "manifestly", in 37 CFR § 1.655(a) are unnecessary. No board decision is known to have relied on the distinction between "error", "clear error", and "manifest error". In appellate courts, manifest error is an extremely deferential standard of review that is closely tied to the abuse-of-discretion standard. See e.g., Datascope Corp. v. SMEC, Inc., 879 F.2d 820, 827-28, 11 USPQ2d 1321, 1326 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (finding no manifest error). Board review of an examiner-in-chief's interlocutory orders is not an independent review of a final decision by a lower tribunal. The board is the only entity that may decide interferences, 35 U.S.C. § 135(a), and the examiner-in-chief, who is a member of the board, 35 U.S.C. § 7(a), is almost always a member of the panel that ultimately decides the interference. Thus, an extremely deferential standard of appeal in this context is inappropriate.

The PTO received one comment regarding proposed subsection 1.637(a). The comment noted that subsection 1.637(a) had been misprinted so that the text "a statement of the precise relief requested, (2)" had been omitted following the "(1)". The comment is correct, the omission was a misprint, and the omitted text has been restored.

The PTO received one comment regarding 37 CFR § 1.639(b). The comment suggested that all proofs introduced under subsection 1.639(b) remain in the record after the decision on the preliminary motions unless the proofs are expressly withdrawn. The opposing party could treat such proofs as subsection 1.672(b) declarations and request an opportunity to cross examine the declarants. The suggestion is not adopted because it is beyond the scope of the present rulemaking.

The PTO received one comment regarding subsection 1.639(c). The comment assumed that the word "needed" had been intentionally deleted from the end of the first sentence of subsection 1.639(c), but noted that the deletion was not mentioned in the summary. The assumption is correct. This deletion is grammatically required after the addition of the text amending subsection 1.639(c).

The PTO received two comments regarding codification of the Hanagan guidelines in subsections 1.639(d)-(g). One comment endorsed codification of the Hanagan guidelines, but suggested that the codification be reformulated to increase flexibility. In particular, the comment pointed to the unusual case described in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking where an opponent to a preliminary motion was overwhelmed with evidence. The comment suggested that the mandatory requirements of subsection 1.639, as amended, be revised to state that the information required under the Hanagan guidelines "should ordinarily" be provided. The comment is not adopted.

When necessary, a party opposing a preliminary motion should request an extension of time to submit the information described in subsections 1.639(d) through (g), which do not require the submission of the actual testimony or evidence. In contrast, in the example discussed in the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the examiner-in-chief deferred consideration of the preliminary motion until the final hearing to allow the opponent time to prepare a full opposition, which included the actual evidence the opponent relied upon to support the opposition. As the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking pointed out, examiners-in-chief have, and should exercise, discretion to extend time or otherwise remedy problems that may arise when applying the requirements of section 1.639 in specific cases.

A second comment suggested that the requirements of subsections 1.639(d) and (e) duplicate the declarations submitted under 37 CFR § 1.672(b). The comment recommends that the rules be revised to require a subsection 1.672(b) declaration be submitted once, during the motions period, in support of an opposition to a preliminary motion. The recommendation is not adopted.

Subsection 1.672(b) is directed to the technical requirements for submitting affidavits or depositions for testimony that will not be compelled. Subsection 1.639(c), which invokes the requirements of subsections 1.639(d) and (e), requires a description of the proposed testimony, not an affidavit or deposition of the testimony itself. A request under subsection 1.639(c) must describe the nature of the testimony being sought so the examiner-in-chief can determine whether the testimony is actually needed. Hanagan, 16 USPQ2d at 1794. Subsection 1.639(c) is intended to address the situation where evidence in the form of testimony is not available to the party asserting a need for the evidence. The Hanagan guidelines require such a party to justify the delay and inconvenience that may result by explaining what the party expects the testimony to prove. To this end, subsection 1.639(c) is revised to clarify that it only applies to testimony that is unavailable to the party seeking the testimony.

OTHER CONSIDERATION

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C.601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et. seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principle impact of these changes would be to clarify procedure in patent interferences and thereby eliminate ambiguity that may exist in current rules.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no recordkeeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:
Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.601 is amended by adding paragraph (q) to read as follows:

§ 1.601 Scope of rules, definitions.

* * * * *

(q) A final decision is a decision awarding judgement as to all counts. An interlocutory order is any other action taken by an examiner-in-chief or a panel of the Board in an interference, including the notice declaring an interference.

3. Section 1.637 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.637 Content of motions.

(a) A party filing a motion has the burden of proof to show that it is entitled to the relief sought in the motion. Every motion shall include (1) a statement of the precise relief requested, (2) a statement of the material facts in support of the motion, and (3) a full statement of the reasons why the relief requested should be granted.

* * * * *

4. Section 1.639 is amended by revising paragraph (c) and by adding paragraphs (d) through (g) as follows:

§ 1.639 Evidence in support of motion, opposition, or reply.

* * * * *

(c) If a party believes that additional evidence in the form of testimony that is unavailable to the party is necessary to support or oppose a preliminary motion under § 1.633 or a motion to correct inventorship under § 1.634, the party shall describe the nature of any proposed testimony as specified in paragraphs (d) through (g) of this section. If the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief finds that testimony is needed to decide the motion, the examiner-in-chief may grant appropriate interlocutory relief and enter an order authorizing the taking of testimony and deferring a decision on the motion to final hearing.

(d) When additional evidence in the form of expert-witness testimony is needed in support of or opposition to a preliminary motion, the moving party or opponent should:

(1) identify the person whom it expects to call as an expert;

(2) state the field in which the person is alleged to be an expert; and

(3) state:

(i) the subject matter on which the person is expected to testify;

(ii) the facts and opinions to which the person is expected to testify: and

(iii) a summary of the grounds and basis for each opinion.

(e) When additional evidence in the form of fact-witness testimony is necessary, state the facts to which the witness is expected to testify.

(f) If the opponent is to be called, or if evidence in the possession of the opponent is necessary, explain the evidence sought, what it will show, and why it is needed.

(g) When inter partes tests are to be performed, describe the tests stating what they will be expected to show.

5. Section 1.655 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.655 Matters considered in rendering a final decision.

(a) In rendering a final decision, the Board may consider any properly raised issue including (1) priority of invention, (2) derivation by an opponent from a party who filed a preliminary statement under § 1.625, (3) patentability of the invention, (4) admissibility of evidence, (5) any interlocutory matter deferred to final hearing, and (6) any other matter necessary to resolve the interference. The Board may also consider whether any interlocutory order was erroneous or an abuse of discretion. All interlocutory orders shall be presumed to have been correct and the burden of showing error or an abuse of discretion shall be on the party attacking the order. When two or more interlocutory orders involve the same issue, the last entered order shall be presumed to have been correct.

(101) Interference Practice: Matters Relating to Belated Preliminary Motions

In some interference proceedings, evidence which would provide a basis for a preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633 does not come to light until after a decision on preliminary motions has been entered. For example, a party may conclude, after hearing the opponent's testimony, that the opponent's application or patent does not comply with the "best mode" requirement of 35 USC § 112, first paragraph; or a prior art reference may be found which the party could not previously have located. The purpose of this notice is to clarify the policy of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences as to what steps the party must take if it wishes to have an issue based on such evidence considered by the Board.

If the time for filing preliminary motions has expired, and then evidence comes to light which in the opinion of a party would provide basis for a preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633, that party may not simply raise the matter in its brief at final hearing for the Board's consideration. Rather, it is the policy of the Board that it will not consider the matter unless the party files promptly after the evidence becomes available:

(1) the appropriate preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633; and

(2) a motion under 37 CFR 1.635 showing sufficient cause why the preliminary motion was not timely filed, as required by 37 CFR 1.645(b). This motion must include the certificate required by 37 CFR 1.637(b).

If either party believes that additional evidence or discovery concerning the matter raised by the motion(s) is necessary, motions (1) and (2) should also be accompanied by or responded to by such other motions as may be appropriate, as for example, motions under 37 CFR 1.651(b) (4) or 1.687(c).

37 CFR Part 1
[Docket No. 50103-7058]

Arbitration of Patent Interference Cases

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is amending its rules to implement the arbitration provisions of section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-622.
Effective Date: May 27, 1987.
For Further Information Contact: Ian A. Calvert or Michael Sofocleous by telephone at (703) 557-4000 or by mail marked to the attention of either and addressed to Box Interference, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Section 105 of the Patent Law Amendments Act of 1984, enacted Nov. 8, 1984, provides for the arbitration of patent interference cases. Section 105, codified as 35 U.S.C. 135(d), provides:

Parties to a patent interference, within such time as may be specified by the Commissioner by regulation, may determine such contest or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of title 9 to the extent such title is not inconsistent with this section. The parties shall give notice of any arbitration award to the Commissioner, and such award shall, as between the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issues to which it relates. The arbitration award shall be unenforceable until such notice is given. Nothing in this subsection shall preclude the Commissioner from determining patentability of the invention involved in the interference.

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) conducts interference proceedings to determine any question of patentability and priority of invention between two or more parties claiming the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between two or more pending applications naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, the applications contain claims for the same patentable invention. An interference may be declared between one or more pending applications and one or more unexpired patents naming different inventors when, in the opinion of an examiner, any application and any unexpired patent contain claims for the same patentable invention. Patent interference cases can be quite expensive. Arbitration may prove useful to minimize expenses in interference cases. The arbitration rule applies to all pending interferences.

The PTO published an advance notice of rulemaking in the Federal Register of Jan. 16, 1985 (50 FR 2294-2296). The notice was also published in the Official Gazette on Feb. 12, 1985 (1051 O.G. 9-10). The notice also appeared in the Bureau of National Affairs' Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal, Vol. 29, p. 310 (Jan. 24, 1985), hereinafter "BNA." Five written comments were received in response to the advance notice.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Federal Register on Sept. 15, 1986 (51 FR 32756-32762), in the Official Gazette on Oct. 21, 1986 (1071 O.G. 25-31), and in BNA's Patent, Trademark and Copyright Journal, Vol. 32, pp. 552-558 (Sept. 18, 1986). In response to the notice, three comments, two in writing and one by telephone, were received. These comments are discussed herein.

All written comments are available for public inspection in Rm. 10C01, Crystal Gateway 2, 1225 Jefferson Davis Hwy., Arlington, Va.

Discussion of the Rule

Under § 1.690 the arbitrator can determine issues of patentability as between the parties but a determination by him or her that the subject matter is patentable would not be binding upon the PTO. If the arbitrator's award holds that a party's claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art or under 35 U.S.C. 112, that determination would be binding on that party vis-a-vis the party's opponent and would result in a judgment adverse to that party. The judgment, however, would not discharge the duty that each party has under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring to the attention of the examiner in charge of its respective application any prior art and/or reason relied upon by the arbitrator in the determination of unpatentability.

It is the longstanding practice of the PTO to favor the settlement of interferences and the PTO looks with favor on all proper efforts in that direction as being conducive to the termination of the proceeding. See 4 Revise and Caesar, Interference Law and Practice, section 861, p. 2956 (Michie Co. 1948) and the Commissioner's Notice of Nov. 9, 1976, titled, "Extensions of Time and Filing of Papers in Interferences;" 953 Official Gazette 2 (Dec. 7, 1976). In this regard, the notice states that:

* * * stipulation or motions for extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.245 will not henceforth be approved or granted, respectively, unless accompanied by a detailed showing of facts sufficient to establish that the action for which the extension is sought could not have been or cannot be taken or completed during the time previously set therefor, and that the entire extension appears necessary for the taking or completion of that action. Since the Office favors the amicable settlement of interferences, the foregoing requirement will be liberally applied in the case of a first request for extension of time for the purpose of negotiating settlement.

Consequently, the examiner-in-chief may give favorable consideration to a motion for an extension of time for purposes of settlement; however, a further motion for an extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it is accompanied by a schedule of specific dates showing that the parties will make a good faith effort to promptly terminate the proceeding. If preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 have not been filed, the examiner-in-chief would not normally extend the time for their filing merely for purposes of settlement. In these circumstances, the examiner-in-chief would require that the preliminary motions be filed or that their filing be waived.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage, the examiner-in-chief could grant the parties' motion to extend all the unexpired testimony times to close concurrently on the date the record is due provided they file a stipulation that any evidence to be submitted will be in one of the forms specified in 37 CFR 1.672(e) and (f), i.e., affidavit testimony or a stipulation either as to what a particular witness would testify to if called or the facts in the case of any party.

Analogously, the aforesaid practice would apply to arbitration. Section 1.690 requires that parties who intend to arbitrate an interference notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within 20 days of its execution. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 135(c) an agreement to arbitrate is considered to be one "made in connection with and in contemplation of the termination of the interference". The agreement must be in writing a copy filed in the PTO within 20 days after its execution. The notification of intention to arbitrate must be made in a separate paper. Merely incorporating the notification in the agreement is not sufficient to comply with § 1.690(a). The parties also will be required to adhere to a time schedule approved by the examiner-in-chief such that the interference proceeding can be expeditiously resolved so as to prevent the unnecessary postponement of the beginning of the running of the term of any patent resulting from an application involved in the interference. Pritchard v. Loughlin, 361 F.2d 483, 149 USPQ 841 (CCPA 1966).

If the parties desire to arbitrate an interference prior to the close of the motion period, the examiner-in-chief will not normally grant an extension of time for the purpose. The parties will be required to file their preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. After the motions are filed, the examiner-in-chief could grant an extension only upon compliance with 37 CFR 1.645 which requires a showing of "good cause." Such a "good cause" showing would normally include a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

Section 1.690(a) requires that an arbitration agreement include the following:

(1) The name of the arbitrator or a date certain (not more than 30 days after the execution of the agreement) for his or her selection.

(2) The issues to be decided by the arbitrator.

(3) A provisions that the arbitrator's award is binding on the parties and that the Board can enter a judgment based thereon.

Section 1.690(c) requires that a copy of the arbitration award be filed within 20 days from the date of the award or by a date set by the examiner-in-chief.

If the proceeding is in the testimony stage and the parties desire to arbitrate, the examiner-in-chief could grant a reasonable extension for that purpose. A motion for a further extension for that purpose would not be granted unless it were accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth, inter alia, the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority, and (3) terminating the interference. If the parties are to submit the required schedule, a motion for a further extension could be granted. If the parties file a copy of the arbitration agreement and they agree that any evidence submitted in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) or (f), the examiner-in-chief could give favorable consideration to the parties' motion that all the unexpired times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. By that date, the parties would be required to file the arbitrator's award and their records, if necessary for the resolution of any issue not decided by the arbitrator. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would set brief times so that parties could explain their evidence relating to any issues which the arbitrator did not, or was unable to decide. For example, the award might be dispositive of the issue of priority between the parties and leave for the Board's determination the question of substituting a new count raised in a preliminary motion under 37 CFR 1.633.

The arbitration award, filed by the parties, would be in the nature of a final decision and should include the following:

(1) The style (e.g., Jones v. Smith), the number of the interference and the names of the real parties in interest.

(2) The subject matter in issue, i.e., the counts and a table of counts, if necessary, indicating the relationship of the parties' claims corresponding to each count and those claims not corresponding thereto.

(3) The issues for decision before the arbitrator.

(4) The arbitrator's decision. The decision may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof.

(5) A summary, if appropriate, indicating, inter alia, that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties.

Any party to the arbitration can attack the award only in the manner provided by 9 U.S.C. 10 and 11.

9 U.S.C. 10 reads as follows:

In either of the following cases the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order vacating the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—

(a) Where the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means.

(b) Where there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators, or either of them.

(c) Where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in refusing to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy; or of any other misbehavior by which the rights of any part have been prejudiced.

(d) Where the arbitrators exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly execute them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made.

(e) Where an award is vacated and the time within which the agreement required the award to be made has not expired the court may, in its discretion, direct a rehearing by the arbitrators.

9 U.S.C. 11 reads as follows:

In either of the following cases, the United States court in and for the district wherein the award was made may make an order modifying or correcting the award upon the application of any party to the arbitration—

(a) Where there was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to in the award.

(b) Where the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them, unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matter submitted.

(c) Where the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy.

The order may modify and correct the award, so as to effect the intent thereof and promote justice between the parties.

See, for example, Fairchild and Co., Inc. v. Richmond, F. and P. R. Co., 516 F.Supp. 1305 (D.D.C. 1981). If such an attack were to be made by one of the parties while the interference is pending before the Board, the Board would not stay the interference. Rather, the Board would issue its judgment in accordance with the award. So long as the award is in compliance with § 1.690, it would carry the presumption that the arbitrator acted correctly in making his decision and accordingly, the party designated by the award as the prevailing party would be entitled prima facie to a judgment in its favor. If the dissatisfied party brings an action in an appropriate United States district court and if the court vacates, modifies or corrects the award, the Board would take action consistent with the court's findings. No action would lie in the PTO to vacate or correct an arbitration award, unless all parties agreed in writing.

The following examples illustrate the practice of the PTO concerning arbitration.

Example 1

Arbitration Practice-Preliminary Stage

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The parties decide to arbitrate the interference in accordance with § 1.690 and file a motion for an extension of time so that they can "freely" arbitrate the interference, but do not file a waiver of their right to file motions.

The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion because the parties' intention to arbitrate, in and of itself, does not constitute a showing of "good cause" within the meaning of 37 CFR 1.645(a). Even if the parties file an agreement to arbitrate, the PTO would not grant any extension of time to permit the parties to "freely" arbitrate an interference prior to the expiration of the time for filing preliminary motions.

Example 2

Arbitration Practice-Testimony Stage

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633. The parties file preliminary motions; the examiner-in-chief renders a decision thereon and sets the testimony times. The parties file a notice of intent to arbitrate the interference under § 1.690(a) and a motion for a one month extension of the testimony times. The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion, but would indicate that if the parties file another motion for an extension for that purpose, the motion must be accompanied by a schedule, agreed to by the parties, setting forth the dates for (1) executing the arbitration agreement, (2) determining priority and (3) terminating the interference.

The parties file a motion for an additional one month extension of time to permit the parties to arbitrate the interference. Accompanying the motion is a proposed schedule of times and a copy of the arbitration agreement which provides, inter alia, (i) the name of the arbitrator or a date certain for his selection, (ii) that the arbitrator's award will be binding on the parties, (iii) the issues to be decided by the arbitrator and (iv) that the award will be filed by the date the record is due. The parties also indicate that the evidence to be filed in the proceeding will be in one of the forms specified by 37 CFR 1.672(e) or (f). The examiner-in-chief could grant the motion and indicate that he will give favorable consideration to a motion to extend all the unexpired times to close concurrently on the date the record is due should the parties request such.

On the date for filing the record, the parties file the arbitrator's award and their evidentiary records, if necessary. The award states (i) the style and number of the interference and the real parties in interest, (ii) the subject matter in issue and the parties' claims which correspond thereto and which do not correspond thereto, (iii) the issues for decision before the arbitrator, (iv) the arbitrator's decision (which may include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof) and (v) that judgment should be awarded to one of the parties. The examiner-in-chief examines the award to ensure that it complies with § 1.690 and is dispositive of the issues in the interference which can be decided by the arbitrator. If the award is otherwise acceptable, the Board would issue a judgment based on the award. If the award is not dispositive of all the issues in the interference, the examiner-in-chief would determine how the interference will proceed.

Example 3

Arbitration Practice-Award Decides Interference-in-Fact Issue and Junior Party Takes No Testimony

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(b) on the ground that there is no interference-in-fact between his claims corresponding to the count and his opponent's claims corresponding thereto. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. On the date for filing the record, the junior party files the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. He does not file a record. In his award the arbitrator holds that no interfesence-in-fact exists between the parties' claims corresponding to the count.

The motion would be denied because the award decides a matter of patentability which would not result in a judgment adverse to one of the parties. Consequently, the junior party would be placed under an order to show cause why judgment under 37 CFR 1.652 should not be entered against him for his failure to file an evidentiary record by the time set therefore. In response to the order, the junior party requests final hearing to review the examiner-in-chief's denial of the motion for judgment and a testimony period to show no interference-in-fact. The examiner-in-chief would grant the junior party's request to the extent that final hearing is set and would deny the request for testimony because the junior party already had the opportunity to take testimony on the matter.

Arbitration Practice—Cannot Decide Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to the count are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to the count. In response to the order, the senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e) purportedly showing good cause why judgment should not be entered in accordance with the order and a motion requesting permission to arbitrate the patentability issue. The examiner-in-chief would deny the motion. The arbitrator is without authority to establish vis-a-vis the public that the subject matter of the court is patentable. Thus, the arbitration will serve no useful purpose. The Board would consider the senior party's paper and enter an appropriate order.

Example 5

Arbitration Practice—Award After Decision on Motions

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633(a) on the ground that the claims corresponding to counts 1 and 2 are unpatentable over prior art. In his decision on motions, the examiner-in-chief grants the motion with respect to count 1, denies the motion with respect to count 2 and places both parties under an order pursuant to 37 CFR 1.640(d)(1) to show cause why judgment should not be entered against them as to count 1. The senior party files a paper in accordance with 37 CFR 1.640(e); the junior party, a response thereto. The Board considers the paper and the response thereto and based on the record enters judgment adverse to both parties as to count 1. Thereafter, the examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets dates for taking testimony and filing the record.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator decides that judgment should be awarded to the junior party. On the date for filing the record, both parties file the award together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award. No record is filed.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to count 2.

Example 6

Arbitration Practice—Award Decides Patentability

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions for judgment under 37 CFR 1.633 are filed and after the examination of the preliminary statements, the examiner-in-chief sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. In his award, the arbitrator finds (1) that the evidence is insufficient to establish a prior public use bar under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) against the junior party, (2) that the claims of the junior party corresponding to the count are patentable under 35 U.S.C. 103 over the prior art cited by the senior party to the junior party, and (3) that judgment on priority should be awarded to junior party. On the date for filing together with a motion requesting that the interference be terminated in view of the award.

The motion would be granted and accordingly it would be held that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. After the termination of the proceeding, each party has the duty under 37 CFR 1.56 to bring before the primary examiner the evidence concerning the purported public use bar and the prior art cited by the senior party and/or considered by the arbitrator.

Example 7

Arbitration Practice—Award Grants Priority to Junior Party Contingent Upon Granting of Preliminary Motion Under 1.633(C)

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. The junior party files a motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute another count. The examiner-in-chief denies the motion, examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and enter into an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief. The agreement provides that any evidence to be submitted by the parties will be in the form of a stipulation under 37 CFR 1.672(e) and (f). The parties file a motion requesting that all the unexpired testimony times be extended to close concurrently on the date the record is due. The motion would be granted.

On the date for filing the record, the junior party files his record and the award. The award states, inter alia, that if the Board at final hearing should grant the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c)(1) to substitute a new count, judgment should be awarded to the junior party based on the evidence. Otherwise, the award states that judgment should be awarded to the senior party.

The examiner-in-chief sets the brief times and after the filing thereof the interference would be set for final hearing so that the Board can review the examinter-in-chief's denial of the junior party's motion under 37 CFR 1.633(c) and issue an appropriate judgment based on the award.

Example 8

Arbitration Practice—Award Attacked

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No preliminary motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference, notify the examiner-in-chief of their intention to arbitrate and file an arbitration agreement which is approved by the examiner-in-chief.

On the date for filing the record, both parties file their records. The junior party files the award which states that judgment should be awarded to him and a motion for judgment based on that award. The senior party files an opposition to the motion for judgment on the grounds (i) that the award contains errors of law, (ii) that the award was procured by "corruption, fraud or undue means" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(a), and (iii) that the arbitrator exhibited "evident partiality" in violation of 9 U.S.C. 10(b) and was "guilty of misconduct * * * in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material" to the interference, citing 9 U.S.C. 10(c).

The Board would grant the judgment based on the award, holding that the senior party is not entitled to a patent containing his claims corresponding to the count. So long as the award is in compliance with the provisions of § 1.690, it would carry a presumption that the arbitrator acted properly in all respects. Consequently, before the PTO the award is binding upon the parties and the junior party is prima facie entitled to a judgment in its favor. Thus, no action lies in the PTO as regards the matter raised by the senior party. The senior party's action lies in an appropriate United States district court and the PTO would take any action consistent with the court's decision.

Example 9

Arbitration Practice—Award Cannot Modify Board's Final Decision

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of their intent to arbitrate nor do they file a copy of the agreement in the interference. Both parties timely file their records and briefs. Both waive oral argument. The Board enters a final decision after consideration of the evidence in favor of the senior party.

The junior party requests reconsideration of the Board's final decision, submits a copy of the arbitration award and moves that the Board set aside its final decision and enter judgment in his favor based on the award. In support of its request, the junior party cites 9 U.S.C. 9, which provides that "any party to the arbitration may apply to the court so specified for an order confirming the award" and 35 U.S.C. 135(d) which provides that title 9 applies to interference arbitrations.

The Board would deny the motion to set aside. The parties did not comply with § 1.690(a), i.e., notify the examiner-in-chief in writing of their intention to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement within twenty (20) days of its execution. The denial of the motion is an appropriate sanction under 37 CFR 1.616. Such action by the Board is considered consistent with long-standing interference practice. Cf. Humphrey v. Fickert, 1904 Dec. Comm'r. Pat. 447 (Comm'r. 1904) wherein the Board, after it had considered the evidence, refused to set aside its award of priority to Fickert and act upon the Fickert's concession of priority in favor of Humphrey, the losing party.

Example 10

Arbitration Award Filed With Record—No Notice to Examiner-In-Chief

An interference is declared on or after Feb. 11, 1985. The examiner-in-chief sets a time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.611 for filing preliminary motions under 37 CFR 1.633 and preliminary statements. No motions are filed. The examiner-in-chief examines the preliminary statements and sets the testimony times.

During the testimony period, the parties decide to arbitrate the interference and enter into an arbitration agreement. Neither party notifies the examiner-in-chief of the agreement. The junior party timely files its record together with a copy of the arbitration award and a motion for judgment based on the award.

The motion would be denied. Under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.616, the examiner-in-chief would place both parties under an order to show cause why judgment should not be rendered against them for their failure to comply with 1.690(a), i.e., failing to notify him of their intent to arbitrate and file a copy of the arbitration agreement.

Discussion of Comments

One commentor suggested that the expression "An interference or any aspect thereof shall be arbitrated" in part (b) of proposed § 1.690 might be construed as going beyond the terms of the statute by authorizing an examiner-in-chief to require the parties to arbitrate an interference, and proposed that the quoted language be changed to "An arbitration proceeding under this section shall be conducted." To eliminate any possible misconstruction of the rule, this proposal has been adopted.

A second commentor suggested, by telephone, that a provision be added to proposed § 1.690 requiring that the arbitrator be familiar with United States interference practice, and that United States law be applied by the arbitrator in making the determination. He expressed the fear that a foreign arbitrator might reach a result contrary to established domestic law.

This suggestion has not been adopted. It is incumbent upon the parties to select the arbitrator, and to satisfy themselves as to his or her qualifications. Presumably if the arbitrator's decision is contrary to established law, any resulting patent would be subject to attack on that ground by a third party in subsequent litigation.

Another commentor stated that, with the arbitration rule, the PTO was "attempting to apply a band-aid to a system which cannot be cured by application of a band-aid," and that the first-to-file system should be adopted in place of the first-to-invent system. This suggestion is obviously far beyond the scope of the rule change under consideration. The first-to-invent system is mandated by statute and could not be replaced merely by a change in the rules. The purpose of § 1.690 is to establish a specific procedure governing the optional arbitration of interferences provided by section 105 of Pub. L. 98-622.

Other Considerations

This rule does not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of natural resources.

The rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Order 12291, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act. Pub. L. 96-354) because arbitration intended to minimize expenses in interference cases.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effects on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The rule will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Authority delegations, Conflicts of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority given to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 135, Part 1 of Title 37 CFR is amended as follows:

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. New § 1.690 is added to Subpart E to read as follows:

§ 1.690 Arbitration of Interferences.

(a) Parties to a patent interference may determine the interference or any aspect thereof by arbitration. Such arbitration shall be governed by the provisions of Title 9, United States Code. The parties must notify the Board in writing of their intention to arbitrate. An agreement to arbitrate must be in writing, specify the issues to be arbitrated, the name of the arbitrator or a date not more than thrity (30) days after the execution of the agreement for the selection of the arbitrator, and provide that the arbitrator's award shall be binding on the parties and that judgment thereon can be entered by the Board. A copy of the agreement must be filed within twenty (20) days after its execution. The parties shall be solely responsible for the selection of the arbitrator and the rules for conducting proceedings before the arbitrator. Issues not disposed of by arbitration will be resolved in accordance with the procedures established in 37 CFR, Subpart E of Part 1, as determined by the examiner-in-chief.

(b) An arbitration proceeding under this section shall be conducted within such time as may be authorized on a case-by-case basis by an examiner-in-chief.

(c) An arbitration award will be given no consideration unless it is binding on the parties, is in writing and states in a clear and definite manner (1) the issue or issues arbitrated and (2) the disposition of each issue. The award may also include a statement of the grounds and reasoning in support thereof. Unless otherwise ordered by an examiner-in-chief, the parties shall give notice to the Board of an arbitration award by filing within twenty (20) days from the date of the award a copy of the award signed by the arbitrator or arbitrators. When an award is timely filed, the award shall, as to the parties to the arbitration, be dispositive of the issue or issues to which it relates.

(d) An arbitration award shall not preclude the Office from determining patentability of any invention involved in the interference.

(103) Disclosure Document Program

This notice consolidates and supersedes the notices of Mar. 26, 1969 (862 O.G. 1) and Aug. 11, 1970 (878 O.G. 1) relating to the Patent Office Disclosure Document Program. Under this program the Patent Office accepts and preserves, for a period of two years, papers referred to as "Disclosure Documents." These papers may be used as evidence of the dates of conception of inventions.

The Program

A paper disclosing an invention and signed by the inventor or inventors may be forwarded to the Patent Office by the inventor (or by any one of the inventors when there are joint inventors), by the owner of the invention, or by the attorney or agent of the inventor(s) or owner. It will be retained for two years and then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application within said two years.

A Disclosure Document is not a patent application and the date of its receipt in the Patent Office will not become the effective filing date of any patent application subsequently filed. However, like patent applications, these documents will be kept in confidence by the Patent Office. If patent protection is desired, a patent application should be filed as soon as possible.

This program does not diminish the value of conventional witnessed and notarized records as evidence of conception of an invention, but it should provide a more credible form of evidence than that provided by the popular practice of mailing a disclosure to oneself or another person by registered mail. The program is made available as a service to those persons desiring to use it.

Content of Disclosure Document

Although there are no restrictions as to content and claims are not necessary, the benefits afforded by a Disclosure Document will depend directly upon the adequacy of the disclosure. Therefore, it is strongly urged that the document contain a clear and complete explanation of the manner and process of making and using the invention in sufficient detail to enable a person having ordinary knowledge in the field of the invention to make and use the invention. When the nature of the invention permits, a drawing or sketch should be included. The use or utility of the invention should be described, especially in chemical inventions.

The Disclosure Document must be limited to written matter or drawings on paper or other thin, flexible material, such as linen or plastic drafting material, having dimensions or being folded to dimensions not to exceed 8 1/2 by 13 inches. Photographs also are acceptable. Each page should be numbered. Text and drawings should be sufficiently dark to permit reproduction with commonly used office copying machines.

A $10 fee is charged for filing a Disclosure Document. Payment must accompany the Disclosure Document when it is submitted to the Patent Office.

In addition to the $10 fee, the Disclosure Document must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a separate paper in duplicate, signed by the inventor, stating that he is the inventor and requesting that the material be received for processing under the Disclosure Document Program. The papers will be stamped by the Patent Office with an identifying number and date of receipt, and the duplicate request will be returned in the self-addressed envelope together with a warning notice indicating that the Disclosure Document may be relied upon only as evidence and that a patent application should be diligently filed if patent protection is desired. The inventor's request may take the following form:

. "The undersigned, being the inventor of the disclosed invention, requests that the enclosed papers be accepted under the Disclosure Document Program, and that they be preserved for a period of two years."

Retention

The Disclosure Document will be preserved in the Patent Office for two years after its receipt and will then be destroyed unless it is referred to in a separate letter in a related patent application filed within the two-year period. The Disclosure Document must be referred to in the separate letter by title, number, and date of receipt. Acknowledgment of receipt of such letters will be made in the next official communication or in separate letter from the Patent Office. Unless it is desired to have the Patent Office retain the Disclosure Document beyond the two-year period, it is not required that it be referred to in a patent application.

Warning as to Limitations

The two-year retention period should not be considered to be a "grace period" during which the inventor can wait to file his patent application without possible loss of benefits. It should be recognized that in establishing priority of invention an affidavit or testimony referring to a Disclosure Document must usually also establish diligence in completing the invention or in filing the patent application since the filing of the Disclosure Document.

Inventors are also reminded that any public use or sale in the United States, or publication of the invention anywhere in the world, more than one year prior to the filing of a patent application on that invention will prohibit the granting of a patent on that invention.

If the inventor is not familiar with what is considered to be "diligence in completing the invention" or "reduction to practice" under the patent law, or if he has other questions about patent matters, the Patent Office advises him to consult an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent Office. Patent attorneys and agents may be found in the telephone directories of most major cities. Also, many large cities have associations of patent attorneys which may be consulted.

(104) Changes to Disclosure Document Program

The PTO is revising and clarifying the Disclosure Document Program to improve processing and to simplify customer requirements. The following changes to the Disclosure Document Program are effective upon publication:

• Duplicate copies of documents are no longer required. Only the original document is required for submission.

• The original Disclosure Document will not be returned to the customer.

• A self addressed, stamped envelope is no longer required.

• A standard format for the disclosure Document is required:

1) The document must be written on one side only, on white letter-size (21.6 cm x 27.9 cm or 8 1/2 by 11 inches) or DIN Size A4 (21.0 x 29.7 cm) paper. (Oversized paper, although foldable to the above dimensions, is not acceptable.) 2) Drawings or sketches must be on paper the same size as the rest of the document.

• The fee for filing a Disclosure Document is $10.00. Documents submitted without the full fee will be returned.

• A copy of a Disclosure Document will be furnished upon receipt of a written request (from the inventor or attorney/agent only) and with a fee of $25.00. 37 CFR § 1.19(b)(3).

Section 1706 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedures (MPEP) will be revised in accordance with this notice. The section also contains further information regarding the Disclosure Document Program.

(105) Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is adding Parts 15 and 15a to Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Part 15 concerns service of process on the Commsssioner, the Patent and Trademark Office, and employees of the Patent and Trademark Office in their official capacity. Part 15a concerns the testimony of PTO employees regarding official matters and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. Parts 15 and 15a were effective upon publication in the Federal Register. 54 FR 3976-8 (Jan. 26, 1989).

In addition, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are amended, as indicated below, effective immediately.

Parts 15 and 15a, §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure and §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure are published in this notice as a convenience to the public. In addition to these materials, the Patent and Trademark Office alerts the public to its position with respect to Standard Packaging Corp. v. Curwood, Inc., 365 F. Supp. 134, 180 USPQ 234 (N.D. Ill. 1973). In the past, parties have attempted, based on Standard Packaging, to obtain answers to questions which the Patent and Trademark Office has regarded to be improper. While the Patent and Trademark Office believes Standard Packaging accurately states the law, the Office believes that the court misapplied the law to the precise questions in issue. Accordingly, the Office agrees with the Federal Circuit's observation in Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, 860 F.2d 428, 432, 8 USPQ 2d 1853, 1857 (Fed. Cir. 1988), that there is considerable doubt whether Standard Packaging was correctly decided. The Patent and Trademark Office will not permit examiners to answer questions similar to those which the Standard Packaging court found acceptable.

37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a

[Docket No. 9106-9006]
Service of Process and Testimony of Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office and Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is adding 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a to supplement 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. These new parts prescribe policies and procedures to be followed with respect to service of process on the Patent and Trademark Office, the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and employees of the Office, the testimony of Office employees regarding official matters, and the production of official documents in legal proceedings. These regulations serve as a statement of Office policy and provide comprehensive guidelines for the Office and its employees, outside agencies, and other persons regarding the appropriate procedures for service of process, testimony, and production of documents.
Effective date: Jan. 26, 1989.
For Further Information Contact: Associate Solicitor John W. Dewhirst by mail at Box 8, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231 and by phone at (703) 557-4035.
Supplementary Information: These regulations are designed to supplement, and be construed consistent with, 15 CFR Parts 15 and 15a. The regulations in Part 15a state the views of the Office with respect to the permissible scope of testimony which may be given by Office employees in connection with their performance of quasi-judicial patent and trademark matters. These Office views are consistent with United States v. Morgan, 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941); Western Electric Co., Inc. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v. Quigg, No. 88-1216, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. Nov. 1, 1988); In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ

86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969), and Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970).

Because these regulations concern agency management and personnel, they are not rules or regulations within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291, and they are not subject to the requirements of that Order. Accordingly, no preliminary or final regulatory impact analysis has to be or will be prepared.

These regulations, relating to agency management and personnel, are exempt from all requirements of section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act [5 USC 553] (including a delayed effective date and therefore will be effective immediately upon publication in the Federal Register.

Because a notice of proposed rule making and an opportunity for public comments are not required to be given for these regulations by section 553 of the APA, or by any other law, no regulatory flexibility analysis has to be or will be prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Flexibility Act [5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)].

This final rule does not contain policies with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612.

This rule does not contain collections of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

List of subjects in 37 CFR Parts 15 and 15a:

Attorneys, Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Government employees.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR is amended as follows:

1. Part 15 is added to read as follows:

Part 15
Service of Process

Sec.
15.1 Scope and purpose
15.2 Definitions
15.3 Acceptance of service of process
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15.2(a).

§ 15.1 Scope and Purpose.

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15 and sets forth the procedures to be followed when a summons or complaint is served on the Office or the Commissioner or an employee of the Office in his or her official capacity. This part is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15.

(b) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding.

(c) This part does not apply to subpoenas. The procedures to be followed with respect to subpoenas are set out in Part 15a of this Title.

(d) This part does not apply to service of process made on an Office employee personally on matters not related to official business of the Office or to the official responsibilities of the Office employee.

§ 15.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part:

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(b) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, or an administrative law judge or hearing officer.

(c) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.

(d) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.

(e) "Official business" means the authorized business of the Office.

(f) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.

§ 15.3 Acceptance of service of process

(a) Any summons or complaint to be served in person or by registered or certified mail or as otherwise authorized by law on the Office or the Commissioner or an Office employee in his or her official capacity, shall be served on the Solicitor or an Office employee designated by the Solicitor.

(b) Any summons or complaint to be served by mail may be addressed to Solicitor, P.O. Box 15667, Arlington, Va. 22215. Any summons or complaint to be served by hand may be delivered to the Office of the Solicitor.

(c) Any Office employee served with a summons or complaint shall immediately notify and deliver the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(d) Any Office employee receiving a summons or complaint shall note on the summons or complaint the date, hour, and place of service and whether service was by personal delivery or by mail.

(e) When a legal proceeding is brought to hold an Office employee personally liable in connection with an action taken in the conduct of official business, rather than liable in an official capacity, the Office employee by law is to be served personally with process. Service of process in this case is inadequate when made upon the Solicitor or the Solicitor's designee. Any Office employee sued personally for an action taken in the conduct of official business shall immediately notify and deliver a copy of the summons or complaint to the Office of the Solicitor.

(f) An Office employee sued personally in connection with official business may be represented by the Department of Justice at its discretion. See 28 CFR 50.15 and 50.16 (1987).

(g) The Solicitor or Office employee designated by the Solicitor, when accepting service of process for an Office employee in an official capacity, shall endorse on the Marshal's or server's return of service form or receipt for registered or certified mail the following statement: "Service accepted in official capacity only." The statement may be placed on the form or receipt with a rubber stamp.

(h) Upon acceptance of service or receiving notification of service, as provided in this section, the Solicitor shall take appropriate steps to protect the rights of the Commissioner or Office employee involved.

2. Part 15a is added to read as follows:

Part 15a
Testimony by Employees and the Production of Documents in Legal Proceedings

Sec.
15a.1 Scope
15a.2 Definitions
15a.3 Office policy
15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule
15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States
15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants
15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 301; 15 U.S.C. 1501, 1512, 1513, 1515, and 1518; Reorganization Plan No. 5 of 1950; 44 U.S.C. 3101; 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and 15a.2(f).

§ 15a.1 Scope

(a) This part supplements 15 CFR Part 15a and prescribes the policies and procedures of the Office with respect to the testimony of Office employees as witnesses in legal proceedings and the production of documents of the Office for use in legal proceedings pursuant to a request, order, or subpoena. This part is issued pursuant to 15 CFR 15a.1(e) and is to be construed consistent with 15 CFR Part 15a.

(b) This part does not apply to any legal proceeding in which an Office employee is to testify, while on leave status, as to facts or events that are in no way related to the official business of the Office.

(c) This part is intended to ensure the orderly execution of the affairs of the Office and not to impede any legal proceeding and in no way affects the rights and procedures governing public access to records pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act or the Privacy Act. See 15 CFR 15a.4 and 37 CFR 1.15.

§ 15a.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of this part:

(a) "Commissioner" means Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.
(b) "Demand" means a request, order, or subpoena for testimony or documents for use in a legal proceeding.
(c) "Document" means any record, paper, and other property held by the Office, including without limitation official patent and trademark files, official letters, telegrams, memoranda, reports, studies, calendar and dairy entries, maps, graphs, pamphlets, notes, charts, tabulations, analyses, statistical or informational accumulations, any kind of summaries of meetings and conversations, film impressions, magnetic tapes, and sound or mechanical reproductions.
(d) "Legal proceeding" means a proceeding before a tribunal constituted by law, including a court, an administrative body or commission, an administrative law judge or hearing officer or any discovery proceeding in support thereof.
(e) "Office" means Patent and Trademark Office.
(f) "Office employee" means any officer or employee of the Office.
(g) "Official business" means the authorized business of the Office.
(h) "Solicitor" means the chief legal officer of the Office or other Office employee to whom the Solicitor has delegated authority to act under this part.
(i) "Testimony" means a statement given in person before a tribunal or by deposition for use before the tribunal or any other statement given for use before a tribunal in a legal proceeding, including an affidavit, declaration under 35 U.S.C. 25, or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746.
(j) "United States" means the Federal Government, its departments and agencies, and individuals acting on behalf of the Federal Government.

§ 15a.3 Office policy.

The Office policy is that its documents will not be voluntarily produced and Office employees will not voluntarily appear as witnesses or give testimony in a legal proceeding. The reasons for this policy include:

(a) To conserve the time of Office employees for conducting official business.
(b) To minimize the possibility of involving the Office in controversial or other issues which are not related to the mission of the Office.
(c) To prevent the possibility that the public will misconstrue variances between personal opinions of Office employees and Office policy.
(d) To avoid spending the time and money of the United States for private purposes.
(e) To preserve the integrity of the administrative process, minimize disruption of the decision-making process, and prevent interference with the Office's administrative functions.

§ 15a.4 Testimony or production of documents; general rule

(a) No Office employee shall give testimony concerning the official business of the Office or produce any document in any legal proceeding without the prior authorization of the Solicitor. Where appropriate, an Office employee may be instructed in writing by the Commissioner, Solicitor, or other appropriate Office employee not to give testimony or produce a document. Without prior approval, no Office employee shall answer inquiries from a person not employed by the Department of Commerce regarding testimony or documents subject to a demand or a potential demand under the provisions of this Part. All inquiries involving a demand or potential demand on an Office employee shall be referred to the Solicitor.

(b) A certified copy of a document, not otherwise available under Chapter I of this Title, will be provided for use in a legal proceeding upon written request and payment of applicable fees required by law.
(c)(1) Request for testimony or document. A request for testimony of an Office employee or document shall be mailed or hand-delivered to the Office of the Solicitor. The mailing address of the Office of the Solicitor is Box 8, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231.
(2) Subpoenas. A subpoena for testimony by an Office employee or a document shall be served in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil or Criminal Procedure as appropriate, or applicable state procedure, and a copy of the subpoena shall be sent to the Solicitor.
(3) Affidavit. Every request and subpoena shall be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration under 28 U.S.C. 1746 or, if an affidavit or declaration is not feasible, a written statement setting forth the title of the legal proceeding, the forum, the requesting party's interest in the legal proceeding, the reasons for the request or subpoena, a showing that the desired testimony or document is not reasonably available from any other source, and if testimony is requested, the intended use of the testimony, a general summary of the testimony desired, and a showing that no document could be provided and used in lieu of testimony. The purpose of this requirement is to permit the Solicitor to make an informed decision as to whether testimony or production of a document should be authorized.
(d) Any Office employee who is served with a demand shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor.
(e) The Solicitor may consult or negotiate with an attorney for a party or the party, if not represented by an attorney, to refine or limit a demand so that compliance is less burdensome or obtain information necessary to make the determination required by paragraph (c) of this section. Failure of the attorney or party to cooperate in good faith to enable an informed determination to be made under this part may serve as the basis for a determination not to comply with the demand.
(f) A determination under this part to comply or not to comply with a demand is not an assertion or waiver of privilege, lack of relevance, technical deficiencies or any other ground for noncompliance. The Commissioner reserves the right to oppose any demand on any legal ground independent of any determination under this part.

§ 15a.5 Testimony of Office employees in proceedings involving the United States.

(a) An Office employee may not testify as an expert or opinion witness for any party other than the United States.
(b) When appropriate, the Solicitor may authorize an Office employee to give testimony as an expert or opinion witness on behalf of the United States. Expert or opinion testimony on behalf of the United States will not be authorized in any legal proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of a patent or registered trademark.
(c) Whenever, in any legal proceeding involving the United States, a request is made by an attorney representing or acting under the authority of the United States, the Solicitor will make all necessary arrangements for the Office employee to give testimony on behalf of the United States. Where appropriate, the Solicitor may require reimbursement to the Office of the expenses associated with an Office employee giving testimony on behalf of the United States.

§ 15a.6 Legal proceedings between private litigants

(a) Testimony by an Office employee and production of documents in a legal proceeding not involving the United States shall be governed by § 15a.4.
(b) If an Office employee is authorized to give testimony in a legal proceeding, the testimony, if otherwise proper, shall be limited to facts within the personal knowledge of the Office employee. An Office employee is prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony, answering hypothetical or speculative questions, or giving testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. If an Office employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Office, that employee is further prohibited from giving testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:
(i) Background.
(ii) Expertise.
(iii) Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(iv) Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice in a particular case.
(v) Consultation with another Office employee.
(vi) Understanding of:
(A) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(B) Prior art.
(C) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or a trademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(D) Any Office manual of practice.
(E) Office regulations.
(F) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(G) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(vii) Reliance on particular facts or arguments.
(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing the quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

§ 15a.7 Procedures when an Office employee receives a subpoena.

(a) Any Office employee who receives a subpoena shall immediately forward the subpoena to the Office of the Solicitor. The Solicitor will determine the extent to which an Office employee will comply with the subpoena.
(b) If the Office employee is not authorized to comply with the subpoena, the Office employee shall appear at the time and place stated in the subpoena, produce a copy of Part 15a of Title 15 and a copy of this part, and respectfully refuse to provide any testimony or produce any document. United States ex rel. Touhy v. Ragen. 340 U.S. 462 (1951).
(c) When necessary or appropriate, the Solicitor will request assistance from the Department of Justice or a U.S. Attorney or otherwise assure the presence of an attorney to represent the interests of the Office or an Office employee.

DONALD J. QUIGG
Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Revisions to §§ 1701 and 1701.01 of MPEP

§ 1701 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity or patentability of patent

Every patent is presumed to be valid. 35 U.S.C. § 282, first sentence. Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity or invalidity of, or the patentability or unpatentability of any claim in any U.S. Patent, except to the extent necessary to carry out (a) examination of an application seeking to reissue the patent, (b) a reexamination proceeding to reexamine the patent, or (c) an interference involving the patent.

The question of validity or invalidity is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the patent examining corps are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular patent should not have issued.

When a field of search for an invention is requested, examiners should routinely inquire whether the invention has been patented in the United States. If the invention has been patented, no field of search should be suggested.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly patent examiners who examined an application which matured into a patent or a reissued patent or who conducted a reexamination proceeding, should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain reference or other particular evidence was considered during the examination or proceeding and whether or not a claim would have been allowed over that reference or other evidence had it been considered during the examination or proceeding. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the patent or reexamination file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a patent or reexamination proceeding must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the patent examining corps. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity be refused and such refusal should not be considered discourteous or an expression of opinion as to validity or patentability.

§ 1701.01 Office personnel not to testify

37 CFR 15a.3
37 CFR 15a.4

37 CFR 15a.7]

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including patent examiners, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed. The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a patent examiner, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. Inquiries requesting testimony shall be also referred immediately to the Office of the Solicitor.

Patent examiners and other Patent and Trademark Office employees performing or assisting in the performance of quasi-judicial functions, are forbidden to testify as experts or to express opinions as to the validity of any patent.

Any individual desiring the testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including the testimony of a patent examiner or other quasi-judicial employee, must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR Part 15a.

A request for testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office should be made to the Office of the Solicitor at least ten working days prior to the date of the expected testimony.

If an employee is authorized to testify, the employee will be limited to testifying about facts within the employee's personal knowledge. Employees are prohibited from giving expert or opinion testimony. Fischer & Porter Co. v. Corning Glass Works. 61 F.R.D. 321, 181 USPQ 329 (E.D. Pa. 1974). Likewise, employees are prohibited from answering hypothetical or speculative questions. In re Mayewsky, 162 USPQ 86, 89 (E.D. Va. 1969) (deposition of an examiner must be restricted to relevant matters of fact and must avoid any hypothetical or speculative questions or conclusions based thereon); Shaffer Tool Works v. Joy Mfg. Co., 167 USPQ 170 (S.D. Tex. 1970) (deposition of examiner should be limited to matters of fact and must not go into hypothetical or speculative areas or the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of the examiner in acting upon a patent application). Employees will not be permitted to give testimony with respect to subject matter which is privileged. Several court decisions limit testimony with respect to quasi-judicial functions performed by employees. Those decisions include United States v. Morgan, 313 U.S. 409, 422 (1941) (improper to inquire into mental processes of quasi-judicial officer or to examine the manner and extent to which the officer considered an administrative record); Western Electric Co. v. Piezo Technology, Inc. v.

Quigg, 860 F.2d 428, 8 USPQ 2d 1853 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (patent examiner may not be compelled to answer questions which probe the examiner's technical knowledge of the subject matter of a patent); McCulloch Gas Processing Co. v. Department of Energy, 650 F.2d 1216, 1229 (Temp. Emer. Ct. App. 1981) (discovery of degree of expertise of individuals performing governmental functions not permitted); In re Nilssen , 851 F.2d 1401, 7 USPQ 2d 1500 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (technical or scientific qualifications of examiners-in-chief are not legally relevant in appeal under 35 U.S.C. § 134 since board members need not be skilled in the art to render obviousness decision); Lange v. Commissioner, 352 F. Supp. 166, 176 USPQ 162 (D.D.C. 1972) (technical qualifications of examiners-in-chief not relevant in § 145 action).

In view of the discussion above, if an employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Patent and Trademark Office, the employee will not be permitted to give testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:
(A)Background.
(B)Expertise.
(C)Qualifications to examine or otherwise consider a particular patent or trademark application.
(D)Usual practice or whether the employee followed a procedure set out in any Office manual of practice (including the MPEP or TMEP) in a particular case.
(E) Consultation with another Office employee.
(F) Understanding of:
(i) A patented invention, an invention sought to be patented, or patent application, patent, reexamination or interference file.
(ii) Prior art.
(iii) Registered subject matter, subject matter sought to be registered, or a trademark application, registration, opposition, cancellation, interference or concurrent use file.
(iv) Any Office manual of practice.
(v) Office regulations.
(vi) Patent, trademark, or other law.
(vii) The responsibilities of another Office employee.
(G) reliance on particular facts or arguments.
(2) To inquire into the manner in and extent to which the employee considered or studied material in performing a quasi-judicial function.
(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

Any request for testimony addressed or delivered to the Office of the Solicitor shall comply with 37 CFR 15a.4(c). All requests must be in writing . The need for a subpoena may be obviated where the request complies with 37 CFR 15a.4(c) if the party requesting the testimony further meets the following conditions:

(1) The party requesting the testimony identifies the civil action or other legal proceeding for which the testimony is being taken. The identification shall include:

(a) the style of the case,
(b) the civil action number,
(c) the district in which the civil action is pending,
(d) the judge assigned to the case, and
(e) the name, address, and telephone number of counsel for all parties in the civil action.

(2) The party agrees not to ask questions seeking information which is precluded by 37 CFR 15a.6(b).
(3) The party shall comply with applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including Rule 30, and give ten working days notice to the Office of the Solicitor prior to the date a deposition is desired. Fifteen working days notice is required for any deposition which is desired to be taken between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15.
(4) The party agrees to notice the deposition at a place convenient to the Patent and Trademark Office. The Conference Room in the Office of the Solicitor is deemed to be a place convenient to the Office.
(5) The party agrees to supply a copy of the transcript of the deposition to the Patent and Trademark Office for its records.

Absent a written agreement meeting the conditions specified in paragraphs (1) through (5), a party must comply with the precise terms of 37 CFR 15a.4(c) and the Patent and Trademark Office will not permit a deposition without issuance of a subpoena.

Revisions to §§ 1801 and 1801.01 of TMEP

§ 1801 Office personnel not to express opinion on validity of registered trademark

A certificate of registration of a trademark on the Principal Register is prima facie evidence of the validity of the registration. 15 U.S.C. § 1057(b). Public policy demands that every employee of the Patent and Trademark Office refuse to express to any person any opinion as to the validity of any registered trademark, except to the extent necessary to carry out inter partes proceedings at the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board in cancellation and similar proceedings authorized by law.

The question of validity of a registered trademark is otherwise exclusively a matter to be determined by a court. Members of the trademark examining operation are cautioned to be especially wary of any inquiry from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office, including an employee of another Government agency, the answer to which might indicate that a particular registration should not have been published or issued.

Employees of the Patent and Trademark Office, particularly trademark examining attorneys who examined an application should not discuss or answer inquiries from any person outside the Patent and Trademark Office as to whether or not a certain registration or other particular evidence was considered during the examination of the application or whether a trademark would have been published or registered if the registration or other evidence had been considered during the examination. Likewise, employees are cautioned against answering any inquiry concerning any entry in the trademark registration file, including the extent of the field of search and any entry relating thereto. The record of the file of a trademark registration or inter partes proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board must speak for itself.

Practitioners can be of material assistance in this regard by refraining from making improper inquiries of members of the trademark examining operation. Inquiries from members of the public relating to the matters discussed above must of necessity be refused and such refusal should not be considered discourteous or an expression of opinion as to validity of any registration.

It is the policy of the Patent and Trademark Office that its employees, including trademark examining attorneys, will not appear as witnesses or give testimony in legal proceedings, except under the conditions specified in 37 CFR Part 15a. Any employee who testifies contrary to this policy will be dismissed or removed. The reasons for this policy are set out in 37 CFR 15a.3.

Whenever an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including a trademark examining attorney, is asked to testify or receives a subpoena, the employee shall immediately notify the Office of the Solicitor. Inquiries requesting testimony shall be also referred immediately to the Office of the Solicitor.

Trademark examining attorneys and other Patent and Trademark Office employees performing or assisting in the performance of quasi-judicial functions, are forbidden to testify as experts or to express opinions as to the validity of any registration.

Any individual desiring the testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office, including the testimony of a trademark examining attorney or other quasi-judicial employee, must comply with the provisions of 37 CFR Part 15a.

A request for testimony of an employee of the Patent and Trademark Office should be made to the Office of the Solicitor at least ten working days prior to the date of the expected testimony.

In view of the discussion above, if an employee is authorized to testify in connection with the employee's involvement or assistance in a quasi-judicial proceeding which took place before the Patent and Trademark Office, the employee will not be permitted to give testimony in response to questions which seek:

(1) Information about that employee's:

(3) To inquire into the bases, reasons, mental processes, analyses, or conclusions of that Office employee in performing the quasi-judicial function.

The need for a subpoena may be obviated where the request complies with 37 CFR 15a.4(c) only if the party requesting the testimony further meets the following conditions:

(1) The party requesting the testimony identifies the civil action or other legal proceeding for which the testimony is being taken. The identification shall include:
(a) the style of the case,
(b) the civil action number,
(c) the district in which the civil action is pending,
(d) the judge assigned to the case, and
(e) the name, address, and telephone number of counsel for all parties in the civil action.

(2) The party agrees not to ask questions seeking information which is precluded by 37 CFR 15a.6(b).
(3) The party shall comply with applicable provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including Rule 30, and give ten working days notice to the Office of the Solicitor prior to the date a deposition is desired.
Fifteen working days notice is required for any deposition which is desired to be taken between Nov. 15 and Jan. 15.

United States Adherence to the International Union for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (UPOV)

On Nov. 12, 1980, the United States deposited its instrument of acceptance of the 1978 text of the UPOV Convention. The United States was the second State to adhere to this text, New Zealand having earlier done so.

The UPOV Convention will take effect with respect to the United States and the other adherents to the 1978 text upon a total of five adherences, three of which must be by present member States (States adhering to the text of the Convention). We expect at least three present member States to adhere shortly and the 1978 text to take effect, therefore, during 1981.

The United States deposited its instrument of acceptance on the basis of the legal protection offered for asexually reproduced plants under the plant patent law (35 U.S.C. 161-164). Accordingly, the Convention will apply only to asexually reproduced plants protected under this law. Steps are now being taken, however, by the Plant Variety Protection Office of the Department of Agriculture to conform the implementation of the Plant Variety Protection Act (7 U.S.C. 2321 et seq.) to the Convention's requirements. When this is done, the United States will notify the UPOV Secretariat that the Convention is also applicable in the United States to sexually reproduced plants protected under that Act.

Questions concerning the UPOV Convention may be directed to the Office of Legislation and International Affairs of the Patent and Trademark Office. This Office may be addressed as follows: Box 4, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. The Office's telephone number is (703) 557-3065.

(107) Taking Effect in the United States of the International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants

The International Convention for the Protection of New Varieties of Plants (the UPOV Convention) will take effect in the United States on Nov. 8, 1981. It will apply to all applications for the patenting of plants under the provisions of Title 35, United States Code, which are filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981. The actual filing date will govern in determining whether the Convention will apply to an application, even though the application may be entitled to an earlier effective date under section 119 or 120 of Title 35, United States Code.

In addition to the United States, the UPOV Convention will be in effect as of Nov. 8, 1981, in the following fourteen States: Belgium, Denmark, Federal Republic of Germany, France, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Republic of South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

No changes in the patent law are needed to implement the UPOV Convention in the United States. An applicant for a plant patent will be required, however, to submit for registration a variety name for the plant to be patented. Registration is required by Article 13 of the UPOV Convention.

Registrability shall be determined in accordance with the International Code of Nomenclature for Cultivated Plants (1980). As an interim procedure pending the promulgation of an appropriate rule, inclusion of the variety name in the application will be accepted as a submission of the name for registration. No plant patent as a result of an application filed on or after Nov. 8, 1981, shall be issued without the registration of a variety name. Questions concerning this variety naming requirement or the UPOV Convention may be addressed to:

37 CFR Part 10
Cross Appeals in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of proposed rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposes to amend its rules of practice in practitioner disciplinary proceedings. The proposed rule change provides for a time period for a party to a disciplinary proceeding to file a cross-appeal, after the other party (the respondent or the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline) to the proceeding has appealed from an initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner. Currently, PTO rules do not provide for a time period for filing a cross-appeal in a disciplinary case. A party in a disciplinary case may be interested in appealing only if the other party has appealed. Allowing a time period for filing a cross-appeal will give parties to disciplinary cases more flexibility after an initial decision by the administrative law judge. A party need not file a contingent appeal simply to preserve rights in the event the other party files an appeal.
Dates: Written comments must be received on or before Aug. 20, 1993 to ensure consideration. An oral hearing will not be conducted.
Addresses: Address written comments to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Fred E. McKelvey, Solicitor. Written comments will be available for public inspection in suite 918, on the 9th floor of Crystal Park II, located at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.
For Further Information Contact: Fred E. McKelvey by telephone at (703) 305-9035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Pursuant to 37 CFR § 10.132 et seq., the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline within the PTO may initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a practitioner. If the proceeding is contested by the practitioner and the Director continues to prosecute, an administrative law judge for the Department of Commerce enters an initial decision which includes findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order. 37 CFR § 10.154.

Either party to the proceeding may appeal from the initial decision of the administrative law judge to the Commissioner with in thirty (30) days of the date of the decision. 37 CFR § 10.155(a). However, § 10.155(a) does not currently address the filing of a cross-appeal. That is, no period of time is specified for the non-appealing party to file a cross-appeal.

With regard to interference proceedings, 37 CFR § 1.304(a) addresses the filing of cross-appeals by stating in pertinent part that:

> the time for filing a cross-appeal [to the Court of Appeals for the FederalCircuit] or cross-action [in a district court] expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

The proposed rule change is similiar to the cross-appeal authorized in interference proceedings.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the proposed rule change will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principle impact of the proposed change is to provide a time period to file a cross-appeal in a PTO disciplinary proceeding.

The PTO has determined that the proposed rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individuals; industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of the United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The proposed rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 35 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 35 U.S.C. 6, the PTO proposes to amend 37 CFR part 10 as follows, wherein deletions are indicated by brackets ([]) and additions by arrows (cb):

PART 10-REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR part 10 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

2. Section 10.155 is proposed to be amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under § 10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. cIf an appeal is taken, the time for filing a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after service of the appeal or (2) 30 days after the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, whichever is later.b An appeal cor cross-appealb by the respondent will be filed with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal cor cross-appealb, the director shall serve a copy of the appeal cor cross-appealb. within thirty (30) days after receipt of an appeal c, cross-appealb or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief, in duplicate with the Director. If the Director files the reply brief, the Director shall serve a copy of the reply brief. Upon the filing of an appeal c, cross-appealb or copy thereof, the other party may file a reply brief, in duplicate with the Director. If the Director files the reply brief, the Director shall serve a copy of the reply brief. Upon the filing of an appeal c, cross-appeal, if any,b and [a] reply brief csb, if any, the Director shall transmit the entire record to the Commissioner.

Cross-Appeals in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Proposed Rulemaking.

Summary: On July 21, 1993, the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposed amending a rule of practice in practitioner disciplinary proceedings. 58 FR 38994. The proposed rule change provides for a time period for a party to a disciplinary proceeding to file a cross-appeal, after the other party (the respondent or the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline) to the proceeding has appealed from the initial decision of the administrative law judge (ALJ) to the Commissioner. Currently, PTO rules do not provide for such a time period. A party in a disciplinary proceeding may be interested in appealing only if the other party has appealed. Allowing a time period for filing a cross-appeal will give parties to disciplinary cases more flexibility after an initial decision by the administrative law judge and will avoid the necessity of filing a contingent appeal simply to preserve rights in the event the other party files an appeal.

One comment to the rule change proposed on July 21, 1993, was received suggesting substantive changes. This second notice adopts that suggested change.

Dates: Written comments must be received on or before [March 16, 1995] to ensure consideration. An oral hearing will not be conducted.

Addresses: Address written comments to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box OED, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Harry I. Moatz. Written comments will be available for public inspection in Suite 518, on the 5th floor of Crystal Park I, located at 2011 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

For Further Information Contact: Harry I. Moatz by telephone at (703) 308-5273 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box OED, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register (58 FR 38994) on July 21, 1993, and in the Official Gazette of the PTO (1153 Off. Gaz. 32) on August 10, 1993. Comments were due August 20, 1993. One comment was received. The comment suggested a substantive change to the original proposed rulemaking. The PTO has adopted the change and is now publishing a second notice requesting comments on the amended notice.

Pursuant to 37 CFR § 10.132 et seq., the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline within the PTO may initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a practitioner. If the proceeding is contested by the practitioner and the Director continues to prosecute, an ALJ for the Department of Commerce enters an initial decision which includes findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order. 37 CFR § 10.154.

Either party to the proceeding may appeal from the initial decision of the ALJ to the Commissioner within thirty (30) days of the date of the decision. 37 CFR § 10.155(a). However, prior to this proposed rule change, § 10.155(a) did not provide for the filing of a cross-appeal.

With regard to interference proceedings, 37 CFR § 1.304(a) addresses the filing of cross-appeals by stating in pertinent part that:

> the time for filing a cross-appeal [to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit] or cross-action [in a district court] expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

The proposed rule change is similar to the cross-appeal authorized in interference proceedings.

Response to and Analysis of Comment: The single comment suggested that the second sentence of the proposed § 10.155(a) be modified by adding "pursuant to § 10.142" after "(1) 14 days after service of the appeal" to make clear that the period for filing a cross-appeal or reply brief runs from service pursuant to § 10.142. The suggestion is being adopted. The comment further suggested that the fifth sentence in the rule proposed on July 21, 1993, be separated into three new sentences. The first and second new sentences make clear that "the other party to an appeal or cross-appeal may file a reply brief," and that a "reply brief by the respondent" is to be "served in duplicate with the Director." The third new sentence provides a date certain for filing any reply brief by avoiding uncertainty as to when "receipt" of an appeal, cross-appeal or copy thereof occurs, and by relying on the date of "service pursuant to § 10.142" of an appeal, cross-appeal, or a copy thereof. The suggestions have been adopted in the proposed rules.

Other Considerations: This rule change conforms with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12612 and 12866, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of the rule change is to provide a time period to file a cross-appeal in a PTO disciplinary proceeding. See the original notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register, 58 FR at 38996.

The PTO has determined that the rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612. The Office of Management and Budget has determined that the rule change is not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 35 U.S.C. 6, the PTO proposes to amend 37 CFR part 10 as follows, wherein deletions are indicated by brackets ([]) and additions by arrows (cb):

Part 10-Representation of Others Before The Patent and Trademark Office

2. Section 10.155 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under § 10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. cIf an appeal is taken, the time for filing a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after the date of service of the appeal pursuant to § 10.142 or (2) 30 days after the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, whichever is later.b An appeal cor cross appealb by the respondent will be filed and served with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. [Docket No. 80627-8127]

Uniform Patent Policy for Domestic Rights in Inventions Made by Government Employees

Agency: Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, Department of Commerce.
Action: Final rule.
Summary: Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930, sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights in Federal employee inventions with respect to the Federal employee and the Government employer. The Delegation of Authority from the Secretary of Commerce dated Sept. 15, 1988 and effective Nov. 1, 1988, transferred administration of the provisions of Executive Order 10096 as amended by Executive Order 10930 from the Commission of Patents and Trademarks to the under Secretary for Economic Affairs in the Department of Commerce. This final rule establishes 37 CFR Part 501 which sets forth this delegation of authority to the Under Secretary. In addition, each Government agency is authorized to determine whether the results of research, development or other activity constitute an invention with the purview of Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930 and to determine initially the rights therein in accordance with the provisions of section 501.6 and 501.7 herein. By separate notice in today's Federal Register the Patent and Trademark Office is deleting 37 CFR Part 100.
Effective Date: Nov. 1, 1988.

However, all rights, determinations, and appeals submitted to the Commissioner prior to the effective date, will be reviewed by the Commissioner under the procedures of 37 CFR Part 100.

Address: Comments may be sent to Mr. Joseph P. Allen, Acting Director, Federal Technology Management Division, Office of the Under Secretary for Economic Affairs, United States Department of Commerce, Room 4839, Herbert C. Hoover Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20230.
For Further Information Contact: Mr. Joseph P. Allen, by telephone at (202) 377-8100 or Robert B. Ellert by telephone at (202) 377-5394.
Supplementary Information: Executive Order 10096, as amended by Executive Order 10930, sets forth the policies and procedures for determining the rights in Federal Employee inventions with respect to the Federal employer and the Government employer. The Under Secretary for Economic Affairs of the Department of Commerce was delegated responsibility for oversight of the Executive Order on Sept. 15, 1988. Functions required by the Executive Order were previously performed by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. This final rule is substantially the same as the rule set out in 37 CFR Part 100, except, the Secretary of Commerce is substituted for the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, and advance approval is given to agency heads to make final determinations relating to determinations of rights decisions of Government employee inventions, subject to employee appeal to the Secretary.

President Reagan in Executive Order 12591, on April 10, 1987 directed all Government agencies to facilitate the transfer of technology developed at federal laboratories to the private sector and to promote its commercialization. To accomplish the goals of E.O. 12591 it is necessary that rights to inventions made by government employees by determined as expidiously as possible. Accordingly, the Secretary has reviewed the existing procedures and policies under 37 CFR Part 100 and concluded that administration of the functions thereunder could be performed on a more efficient basis by confining the role of the Department of Commerce to appeals by employees from disputed agency determinations. Accordingly, under 37 CFR Part 501, each Government agency is given the authority to determine whether the results of research, development or other activates within the agency constitute an invention by an employee, and to determine initially the rights relating to ownership within the provisions of Executive Order 10096 as amended by Executive Order 10930. If no appeal is taken to the secretary by an employee under section 501.8, the initial determination of the agency will be final.

Notwithstanding the fact that this is a final rule, comments are requested.

Because this rule concerns agency management and personnel, it is not a rule or regulation within the meaning of section 1(a) of Executive Order 12291, and it is not subject to the requirements of the Order. Accordingly, no preliminary or final regulatory impact analysis has to be or will be prepared.

Because notice of proposed rulemaking and an opportunity for public comments are not required to be given for this rule by section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 533), or by any other law, no regulatory flexibility analysis has to be or will be prepared for purposes of the Regulatory Act (5 U.S.C. 603(a) and 604(a)).

This final rule does not contain policies with Federalism implications sufficient to warrant preparation of a Federalism assessment under Executive Order 12612. This rule does not contain collections of information for purposes of the Paperwork Reduction Act.

The changes in the process of determining employee rights to inventions made by this rule do not have takings implications sufficient to require preparation of a Taking Implications Assessment under Executive Order 12630.

ROBERT ORTNER
Under Secretary for Economic Affairs

* * * * *

For reasons set forth in the preamble 37 CFR is amended by adding Chapter V, consisting of Part 501, to read as follows:

CHAPTER V UNDER SECRETARY FOR ECONOMIC AFFAIRS, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

PART 501 UNIFORM PATENT POLICY FOR DOMESTIC RIGHTS IN INVENTIONS MADE BY GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

Sec.

501.1 Purpose.
501.2 Scope.
501.3 Definitions.
501.4 Determination of Inventions and Rights therein.
501.5 Agency Liaison Officer.
501.6 Criteria for The Determination of Rights in andto Inventions.
501.7 Agency Determination.
501.8 Appeals by employees.
501.9 Patent protection.
501.10 Dissemination of this part and of implementing regulatioos.

Authority: Sec. 4, E.O. 10096, 3 CFR 1949-1953 Comp., p 292, as amended by E.O. 10930, 3 CFR 1959-1963 Comp., p. 456; and Delegation of Authority by the Secretary of Commerce, Sept. 15, 1988, DOO 10-9.

§ 501.1 Purpose

The purpose of this part is to provide for the administration of a uniform patent policy for the Government with respect to the domestic rights in inventions made by Government employees and to prescribe rules and regulations for implementing and effectuating such policy.

§ 501.2 Scope

This part applies to any invention made by a Government employee and to any action taken with respect thereto.

§ 501.3 Definitions

(a) The term "Secretary," as used in this part, means the Under Secretary of Commerce for Ecooomic Affairs.

(b) The term "Government agency" as used in this part, means and Executive department or independent establishment of the Executive branch of the Government (including any independent regulatory commission or board, any corporation wholly owned by the United States, and the Smithsonian Institution), but does not include the Department of Energy for inventions made or conceived under the provisions of 42 U.S.C 2182.

(c) The term "Government employee," as used in this part, means any officer or employee, civilian or military, of any Government agency, including any part-time consultant or part-time employee except as may otherwise be provided for by agency regulation approved by the Secretary.

(d) The term "invention," as used in this part, means any art, machine, manufacture, design or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, or any variety of plant, which is or may be patentable under the Patent laws of the United States.

§ 501.4 Determination of Inventions and rights therein.

Each Government agency has the approval of the Secretary to determine whether the results of research, development, or other activity in the agency constitute an invention within the purview of E.O. 10096, as amended by E.O. 19030 and to determine the rights therein in accordance with the provisions of § 501.6 and 501.7 herein.

§ 501.5 Agency Liaison Officer

Each Government agency shall designate a liaison officer to represent the agency before the secretary. Provided, however, that the Departments of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force may each designate a liaison officer.

§ 501.6 Criteria for the Determination of Rights In and To Inventions.

(a) The following rules shall be applied in determining the respective rights of the Government and of the inventor in and to any invention that is subject to the provisions of this part:

(1) The Government shall obtain, except as herein otherwise provided, the entire domeatic right, title and interest in and to any invention made be any Government employee:
(i) During working hours, or
(ii) With a contribution by the Government of facilities, equipment, materials, funds or information, or of time or services or other Government employees on official duty, or
(iii) Which bears a direct relation to or is made in consequence of the official duties of the inventor.

Foreign patent rights are governed by the provisions of 37 CFR Part 101.

(2) In any case where the contribution of the Government, as measured by any one or more of the criteria set forth in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, to the inventor is insufficient equitable to justify a requirement of assignment to the Government of the entire domestic right, title, and interest in and to such invention, or in any case where the Government has insufficient interest in an invention to obtain the entire domestic right, title, and interest therein (although the Government could obtain same under paragraph(a)(1) of this section), the Government agency concerned shall leave title to such invention in the employees subject however, to the reservation of the government of a non-exclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, such reservation, in the terms thereof, to appear, where practicable, in any patent, domestic or foreign, which may issue on such invention. Reference is made to section 15 of the Federal Technology Transfer Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3710d) which requires a Government agency to allow the inventor to retain title to any covered invention where the agency does not intend to file a patent application or otherwise promote commercialization.

(3) In applying the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) and (2) of this section to the facts and circumstances relating to the making of a particular invention it shall be presumed that an invention made by an employee who is employed or assigned:

(i) To invent or improve or perfect any art, machine, design, manufacture or composition of matter,
(ii) To conduct or perform research, development work, or both
(iii) To supervise, direct, coordinate, or review Government financed or conducted research, development work, or both, or
(iv) To act in a liaison capacity among governmental or non-governmental agencies or individuals engaged in such research or development work, falls within the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) of this section, and shall be presumed that any invention made by any other employee falls within the provision of paragraph (a)(2) of this section. Either presumption may be rebutted by a showing of the facts and circumstances in the case and shall not preclude a determination that these facts and circumstances justify leaving the entire right, title, and interest in and to the invention in the Government employees, subject to the law.

(4) In any case wherein the Government neither:

(i) Obtains the entire domestic right, title and interest in and to an invention pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a)(1) of this section nor
(ii) Reserves a non-exclusive, irrevocable, royalty-free license in the invention, with power to grant licenses for all governmental purposes, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

The Government shall leave the entire right, title and interest in and to the invention in the government employee, subject to law.

§ 501.7 Agency determination.

(a) If the agency determines that the Government is entitles to obtain title pursuant to § 501.6(a)(1) and the employee does not appeal, no further review is required.
(b) In the event that a Government agency determines, pursuant to paragraph (a)(2) or (a)(4) of § 501.6, that title to an invention shall be left with the employee, the agency shall notify the employee of this determination.
(c) In the case of a determination under either paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the agency shall promptly prepare, and preserve in appropriate files, accessible to the Secretary, a written, signed, and dated statement concerning the invention including the following:

(1) A description of the invention in sufficient detail to identify the invention and show its relationship to the employee's duties and work assignments;
(2) The name of the employee and employee status, including a detailed statement of official duties and responsibilities at the time the invention was made, and
(3) An explanation of the agency determination and reasons therefor. The agency shall, subject to considerations of national security, or public health, safety, or welfare, submit to the Secretary, if an appeal is taken, a copy of this written statement.

§ 501.8 Appeals by employees.

(a) Any Government employee who is aggrieved by a Government agency determination pursuant to § 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2), may obtain a review of any agency determination by filing, within 30 days (or such longer period as the Secretary may, for good cause shown in writing. fix in any case) after receiving notice of such determination, two copies of an appeal with the Secretary. The Secretary shall then forward one copy of the appeal to the Government agency.
(b) On receipt of a copy of an appeal filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the agency official who made the agency determination being appealed shall, subject to considerations of national security or public health, safety, or welfare, promptly furnish both the Secretary and the inventor with a copy of a report containing the following information about the invention involved in the appeal:

(1) A copy of a statement by the agency containing the information specified in § 501.7, and
(2) A detailed statement of the points of dispute or controversy, together with copies of any statements or written arguments filed with the agency, and of any other relevant evidence that the agency considered in making itsdetermination of Government interest. Within 25 days(or such longer periodthat the Secretary may, for good cause shown, fix in any case) after thetransmission of a copy of the agency report of the employee, the employeemay file a reply thereto with the Secretary and file one copy thereof withthe appropriate agency decision maker.

(c) After the time for the inventor's reply to the Government agency's report has expired and if the inventor has so requested in his or her appeal, a date will be set for hearing of oral arguments before the Secretary, by the employee (or by an attorney whom he or she designates by written power of attorney filed before, or at the hearing) and a representative of the Government agency involved. Unless it shall be otherwise ordered before the hearing begins, oral arguments shall be limited to thirty minutes for each side. The employee need not retain an attorney or request an oral hearing to secure full consideration of the facts and his or her arguments. The employee may expedite such consideration by notifying the Secretary when he or she doest not intend to file a reply to the agency report.
(d) After a hearing on the appeal, if a hearing was requested, or after expiration of the period for the inventor's reply to the agency report if no hearing is set, the Secretary shall issue a decision on the matter within 120 days, which decision shall be final after a thirty day period for requesting reconsideration expires or on the date that a decision on a petition for reconsideration is finally disposed of. Any request for reconsideration or modification of the decision must be filed within 30 days from the date of the original decision (or within such an extension thereof as may be set by the Secretary before the original period expires). The decision of the Secretary shall be made after consideration of the statements of fact in the employee's appeal, the agency's report, and the employee's reply, but the Secretary at his or her discretion and with due respect to the rights and convenience of the inventor and the Government agency, may call for further statements on specific questions of fact or may request additional evidence in the form of affidavits or depositions on specific facts in dispute.

§ 501.9 Patent protection.

(a) A Government agency, upon determination that an invention coming within the scope of § 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2) has been made, shall thereupon determine whether patent protection will be sought in the United States by the Agency for such invention. A controversy over the respective rights of the Government and the employee in any case shall not delay the taking of the actions provided for in this section. In cases coming within the scope of § 501.6(a)(2), agency action looking toward such patent protection shall be contingent upon the consent of the employee.
(b) Where there is an appealed dispute as to whether § 501.6(a)(1) or (a)(2) applies in determining the respective rights of the Government and of an employees in and to any invention, the agency will determine whether patent protection will be sought in the united States pending the Secretary's decision on the dispute and, if it decides that an application for patent should be filed, will take such rights as are specified in § 501.6(a)(2), but this shall be without prejudice to acquiring the rights specified in paragraph (a)(1) of that section should the Secretary so decide.
(c) Where an agency has determined to leave title to an invention with an employee under § 501.6(a)(2), the agency will, upon the filing of an application for patent take the rights specified in that paragraph without prejudice to the subsequent acquisition by the Government of the rights specified in paragraph (a)(1) of that section should the Secretary so decide.

§ 501.10 Dissemination of this part and of implementing regulations.

Each Government agency shall disseminate to its employees the provisions of this part, and any appropriate implementing agency regulations and decisions. Copies of any such regulations shall be sent to the Secretary. If the Secretary identifies an inconsistency between this part and the agency regulations or delegation, the agency, upon being informed by the Secretary of the inconsistency, shall take prompt action to correct it.

(111) Practitioner's Responsibility to Avoid Prejudice to the Rights of a Client/Patent Applicant

Under 37 CFR Part 10, a practitioner is responsible for taking reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of a client/patent applicant. This responsibility exists in all circumstances including those where the practitioner is operating through a corporate liaison or foreign agent and has no direct contact with the client/patent applicant, who in most cases is the one being represented.

This notice is intended to clarify the appropriate course of action for a practitioner to follow when the practitioner is operating through such a corporate liaison or foreign agent. In such arrangements, the registered practitioner may rely upon the advice of the corporate liaison or the client/patent applicant's foreign agent as to the action to be taken so long as the practitioner is aware that the client/patent applicant has consented after full disclosure to be represented by the liaison or agent. It will be assumed by the Patent and Trademark Office that the client/patent applicant has an agreement with the liaison or agent, arrived at after full disclosure, to be represented by the liaison or agent. Registered practitioners, if they wish, however, may maintain a copy of the agreement in this regard between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent in practitioner's file of the application or other proceeding before the Office. If there is, in fact, no such agreement between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent, the registered practitioner must communicate to the client/patent applicant.

In circumstances where the practitioner is aware that there is an agreement between the client/patent applicant and the liaison or agent, the practitioner may fully rely upon the advice of the liaison or agent as to the wishes of the client/patent applicant. For example, if the registered practitioner is instructed by the client/patent applicant's liaison or agent to allow an application to go abandoned rather than to respond to an Office action within a set period for response, the practitioner may properly do so without any further notice to the client/patent applicant.

It is assumed that withdrawal from employment by a practitioner will remain a relatively rare occurrence, particularly in view of this clarification. This notice should not be taken to require or encourage withdrawal. If a practitioner should decide to withdraw, however, the practitioner must take reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of the client/patent applicant including allowing time for employment of another practitioner (37 CFR 10.40). Therefore, at least thirty days would be required between the date of approval by the Office of the withdrawal and the later of the expiration date of the response period or the expiration date of the period which can be obtained by a petition for extension of time and fee under 37 CFR 1.136(a). This is necessary so that the client/patent applicant would have sufficient time to obtain other representation or to take other action. If a period has been set for response and the period may be extended without a showing of cause pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) by filing a petition for extension of time and fee, the practitioner will not be required to seek such extension of time for withdrawal to be approved. In such a situation, however, withdrawal will not be approved unless at least thirty days would remain between the date of approval and the last date on which such a petition for extension of time and fee could properly be filed.

(112) Responsibilities of Practitioners Representing Clients in Proceedings Before The Patent and Trademark Office

This notice is intended to remind practitioners of certain aspects of their responsibilities in representing clients in proceedings before the Office. The Notice is also intended to supplement the discussion set forth in the Official Gazette Notice published at 1086 Official Gazette 457 (Jan. 12, 1988) entitled "Practitioner's Responsibility to Avoid Prejudice to the Rights of a Client/Patent Applicant" and to amplify and supersede the Helpful Hint published at 1084 Official Gazette 34 (Nov. 24, 1987) titled "Correspondence Address and/or Fee Address of Maintenance Fees."

Part 10 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, sets forth the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) Code of Professional Responsibility. Each attorney or agent who practices before the PTO is subject to the rules set forth in Part 10 and should carefully study the rules promulgation originally published at 50 Federal Register 5158 (Feb. 6, 1985) and at 1052 Official Gazette 4 (Mar. 5, 1985) and reproduced as item number 172 in the Consolidated Listing of Official Gazette Notices, published at 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 3 (Jan. 5, 1988).

Practitioner's Client

During the promulgation of Part 10, 37 CFR, several individuals suggested that "it may be difficult to determine the identity of the 'client'. . ., particularly in corporate patent departments." The response to that suggestion was that "[t]he PTO will presume that practitioners know the identities of their clients . . ." 50 Federal Register 5163 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 356 (Jan. 5, 1988). For example, in a patent application, practitioner's client is ordinarily the inventor who gives practitioner a power of attorney to prosecute the application (37 CFR 1.31). A practitioner may represent only the assignee of the entire interest in a patent application if the assignee has filed a power of attorney and the assignee is conducting the prosecution of the application to the exclusion of the inventor. (37 CFR 1.32).

In the promulgation of Part 10, 37 CFR, a commenter raised a question of who is the client when an application is filed on behalf of an individual, but the individual's assignee pays practitioner's bill. The question was answered in the following manner:

"Practitioners are expected to know the identities of their clients. If a practitioner is hired by a corporation and wishes to make that fact plain on the record of a patent application, the practitioner may file an assignment and a power of attorney signed by the assignee. If a dispute should then occur between the individual and the assignee, the record would be clear that the assignee is the client." 50 Federal Register 5164 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 357 (Jan. 5, 1988).

In some instances, practitioners deal with a corporate liaison or foreign agent. Such arrangements do not automatically change the person whom practitioner represents, e.g., the inventor or trademark owner. The fact that a U.S. practitioner receives instructions from the inventor or trademark owner through a foreign attorney or agent does not change the fact that the client is still the inventor or trademark owner rather than the foreign attorney or agent. See Strojirenstvi v. Toyoda, 2 USPQ 2nd 1222 (Comm'r Pat. 1986), which at 1223 cited Yetter Manufacturing Co. v. Hiniker Co., 213 USPQ 119, 120 (D. Minn. 1981) for the principle that "when attorney served as local counsel for a law firm representing Hiniker Co., the attorney represented Hiniker and not the law firm" and also cited Toulmin v. Becker, 105 USPQ 511 (Ohio Ct. App. 1954) for the principle that "foreign patent agents or attorneys were not clients of U.S. patent attorney." The PTO expects practitioners to know the identities of their clients and to take reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of their clients.

Obtaining Instructions Through Persons Other Than The Client

In practice, it is common for instructions relating to the application of an inventor or trademark owner, who is the client of the U.S. practitioner, to be passed to the U.S. practitioner through intermediaries, such as corporate liaisons or foreign agents. Clearly, a client may choose to use a corporate liaison or a foreign agent to convey instructions, etc., to a practitioner. In such an arrangement, the practitioner may rely upon instructions of, and accept compensation from, the corporate liaison or the foreign agent as to the action to be taken in a proceeding before the Office so long as the practitioner is aware that the client has consented to have instructions conveyed through the liaison or agent. See 37 CFR 10.68(a) and (b). An agreement between the client and the liaison or agent establishes an agency relationship between the liaison or agent and the client such that the U.S. practitioner can rely upon the liaison or agent as the representative of the client for the purpose of communicating the client's instructions about the proceeding to the U.S. practitioner. The PTO will assume that the client has an agreement with the liaison or agent to be represented by the liaison or agent. It is the responsibility of the client to notify the practi tioner that the agency relationship between the client and the liaison or agent has ceased to exist and that instructions from the liaison or agent should no longer be accepted.

A practitioner could secure evidence that such an agreement exists by having a patent or trademark applicant sign a statement to that effect at the same time that the power of attorney is executed. For example, the following language could be inserted in an oath, declaration, or power of attorney form:

> "The undersigned hereby authorizes the U.S. attorney or agent named herein to accept and follow instructions from as to any action to be taken in the Patent and Trademark Office regarding this application without direct communication between the U.S. attorney or agent and the undersigned. In the event of a change in the persons from whom instructions may be taken, the U.S. attorney or agent named herein will be so notified by the undersigned."

Without an agency relationship between the liaison or agent and the client, a practitioner would be bound by 37 CFR 10.68(b) to "not permit a person who recommends, employs, or pays the practitioner to render legal services for another, to direct or regulate the practitioner's professional judgment in rendering such legal services."

Practitioner's Responsibility to a Client After the Client's Patent Issues or Trademark is Registered

The Office has received inquiries from practitioners as to their responsibilites to a client (patent or trademark applicant) after the client's patent was issued or trademark has been registered. In response thereto, it is pointed out that a power of attorney given during prosecution of a patent or trademark application is considered to be viable after the patent is issued or the trademark is registered. See 50 Federal Register 5164 (Feb. 6, 1985); 1086 Trademark Official Gazette 357 (Jan. 5, 1988). While the Office considers such a power of attorney to be viable for purposes of the practitioner taking actions in proceedings before the Office if practitioner and the client so desire, the existence of the power of attorney to file and/or prosecute the application through issuance of the patent or registration of the trademark does not establish whether practitioner has a responsibility, and a dutaffirmatively in a proceeding before the Office on behalf of the client after the patent issues or the trademark is registered.

Practitioner's responsibility to take affirmative action in a proceeding before the Office after the patent issues or the trademark is registered depends upon whether practitioner still has a practitioner-client relationship with the client which has continued after the patent issued or trademark is registered. The mere existence of the power of attorney to file and/or prosecute the application through issuance of the patent or registration of the trademark would not establish such a practitioner client relationship in the absence of other facts establishing such a relationship since the purpose for which the power of attorney was originally given has been accomplished.

Practitioner's Responsibility to a Former Client

While practitioner may no longer have a practitioner-client relationship with a client and therefore has no duty to represent the client in a proceeding before the Office, a practitioner nevertheless has certain obligations to a former client. These obligations are placed upon practitioner by the Office rules and are necessary for the proper conduct of proceedings before the Office. Under 37 CFR 10.23(c)(8), practitioners have a duty to inform a client or former client or timely notify the Office of an inability to notify a client or former client of certain correspondence received from the Office and also from the client's or former client's opponent in an inter partes proceeding before the Office. Practitioners have an obligation whether the client is a present client or a former client. Included among the items of correspondence of which practitioners have the obligation to inform clients or former clients are notices regarding maintenance fees, reexamination proceedings, and institution of inter partes patent and trademark proceedings.

Address to Which Correspondence is Sent Regarding Patent Maintenance Fees and Reexamination Proceedings

Under 37 CFR 1.33(d), a "correspondence address" or a change thereto may be filed with the Office during the enforceable life of a patent. This "correspondence address" will be used in any correspondence relating to maintenance fees unless a separate "fee address" has been specified solely for maintenance fee purposes as provided by 37 CFR 1.363. Practitioners who do not wish to receive correspondence relating to maintenance fees must change the correspondence address in the patented file or provide the PTO with a fee address to which the correspondence should be sent. It is not required that a practitioner file a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 solely for the purpose of changing the correspondence address in a patent even though a withdrawal of a practitioner would change the correspondence address.

Since 37 CFR 1.33(c) specifies that all notices, official letters and other communications for the patent owner or owners in a reexamination proceeding will be directed to the attorney or agent of record in the patent file, a request for permission to withdraw pursuant to 37 CFR 1.36 must be filed in the patent if the attorney or agent of record does not desire to receive correspondence relating to reexamination. For information on requests to withdraw, see the discussion in the Jan. 12, 1988 Official Gazette Notice cited above.

Contact Points For Information

If a practitioner has questions about the conduct of, or requirements relating to a particular proceeding before the Office, those questions should be directed to the particular area of the Office responsible for the proceeding. If practitioners have questions about their responsibilities to their clients, those questions should be directed to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline. The telephone number of that Office is (703) 557-2012.

Department of Commerce
Patent and Trademark Office
37 CFR § 1.15
[Docket No. 80515 - 8209]

Requests for Identifiable Records

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: This final rule sets forth changes that the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is making to the rules governing requests for records not disclosed to the public as part of the regular informational activity of the PTO. The prior rule sets out the PTO Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) procedures. The final rule updates these procedures and specifies that FOIA requests will be processed in accordance with Department of Commerce regulations contained in Part 4 of 15 CFR (Public Information).
Effective Date: Dec. 30, 1988.
For Further Information Contact: Albin F. Drost by telephone at (703) 557-4035 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: As presently written, 37 CFR 1.15 describes procedures for obtaining documents under the Freedom of Information Act that have been superseded. The purpose of this rule change is to bring the PTO FOIA procedures into conformity with the Department of Commerce FOIA rules. The final rule directly advises requesters that the PTO will follow the Department of Commerce rules for disclosure of information under FOIA.

A notice of proposed rulemaking was published on July 19, 1988 (53 Fed. Reg. 27 177). Interested parties were requested to submit written comments on or before Sept. 20, 1988. No comments were received.

Other Considerations

This rule change will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment or the conservation of energy resources. This rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Small Business Administration that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities [Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354] because no increase in fees or paperwork should result from this rule change.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12991. The annual effect to the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The PTO has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the states as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. § 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirement within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of Information, Records.

For the reasons set out in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. § 6, the Patent and Trademark Office amends Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: 35 U.S.C. § 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.15 is revised as follows:

§ 1.15 Requests for identifiable records.

(a) Requests for records, not disclosed to the public as part of the regular informational activity of the Patent and Trademark Office and which are not otherwise dealt with in the rules in this part, shall be made in writing, with the envelope and the letter clearly marked "Freedom of Information Request." Each such request, so marked, should be submitted by mail addressed to the "Patent and Trademark Office, Freedom of Information Request Control Desk, Box 8, Washington, D.C. 20231," or hand delivered to the Office of the Solicitor, Patent and Trademark Office, Arlington, Virginia. The request will be processed in accordance with the procedures set forth in Part 4 of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

(b) Any person whose request for records has been initially denied in whole or in part, or has not been timely determined, may submit a written appeal as provided in § 4.8 of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

(c) Procedures applicable in the event of service of process or in connection with testimony of employees on official matters and production of official documents of the Patent and Trademark Office in civil legal proceedings not involving the United States shall be those established in parts 15 and 15a of Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations.

Patent Cooperation Treaty Update

The International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization has informed the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office that, due to changes in the exchange rates of the U.S. dollar with regard to the Swiss franc and the German mark, the dollar amount of the international applications filed in the United States Receiving Office will increase, effective January 1, 1996. The PCT Assembly, in a meeting held from September 25 to October 3, 1995, decided that PCT designation fees would be due for the first 11 (instead of the present 10) countries or regions designated, also with effect from January 1, 1996.

Effective January 1, 1996, the amount of the international fees for international applications filed in the United States Receiving Office will be:

Basic fee (first 30 pages)	$677.00
Basic supplemental fee (for each page over 30)	$13.00
Designation fee (per country or region up to 11)	$164.00

Handling fee $207.00
Search fee required by European Patent Office (EPO) when acting as International Searching Authority $1700.00

Accession by Azerbaijan

The United States Patent and Trademark Office received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) that Azerbaijan deposited its instrument of accession to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) on September 25, 1995. Azerbaijan will become the 82nd Contracting State of the PCT on December 25, 1995. Consequently, nationals and residents of Azerbaijan are entitled to file international applications under the PCT on and after December 25, 1995, and from the same date it is possible to file international applications designating and electing Azerbaijan (country code: AZ).

Accession by Turkey

The United States Patent and Trademark Office received notification from the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) that Turkey deposited its instrument of accession to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) on October 1, 1995. Turkey will become the 83rd Contracting State of the PCT on January 1, 1996. Consequently, nationals and residents of Turkey are entitled to file international applications under the PCT on and after January 1, 1996, and from the same date it is possible to file international applications designating and electing Turkey (country code: TR).

(115) Minimum Requirements for Acceptance of Applications Under 35 U.S.C. 371 (the National Stage of PCT)

The Patent and Trademark Office is continuing to receive application papers which do not clearly identify whether the papers (1) are being submitted to enter the national stage of the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) under 35 U.S.C. 371 or (2) are being filed as a regular national application under 35 U.S.C. 111.

Attention is directed to the notice in the Official Gazette at 1070 O.G. 11 titled "Unity of Invention Practice in International Applications and National Phase Applications Entered Under 35 U.S.C. 371" wherein at item eight it is stated

"(8) Applicants should clearly indicate on all application papers filed forentry under 35 U.S.C. 371 and 37 CFR 1.61 that the filing is being made under § 35 U.S.C. 371. Otherwise, the application papers will be treated as having been filed under 35 U.S.C. 111."

To clearly indicate an international application is being filed under 35 U.S.C. 371 the applicant should use the "Transmittal Letter for United States Designated Office" (Form PTO-1390) as the transmittal letter.

Alternatively, one of the following indications may be used:

1) the applicant shall clearly state in the transmittal or cover letter that he or she is filing under 35 U.S.C. 371 or entering the national stage under the PCT; or

2) the applicant clearly identifies in the oath or declaration the specification to which it is directed by referring to a particular international application by PCT Serial Number and International Filing Date and that he or she is executing the declaration as, and seeking a U.S. Patent as, the inventor of the invention described in the identified international application.

Applicants are cautioned that the identification of the international application, in the oath or declaration or otherwise, as a prior filed application for priority purposes is not considered to be an indication of an intention to file under 35 U.S.C. 371.

If there are any conflicting instructions as to which section of the statute (371 or 111) is intended the application will be accepted under 35 U.S.C. 111. It is strongly recommended that applicant use the Form PTO-1390 in all cases where a filing under 35 U.S.C. 371 is intended.

Revision of Patent Cooperation Treaty Provisions

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice relating to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT): (1) to amend the rules in accordance with revised regulations under the PCT; (2) to bring the rules regarding applications entering the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371 more in line with existing regulations applicable to national applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111; and (3) to clarify existing practice under the PCT. The changes will result in more streamlined and simplified procedures for filing and prosecuting international and national stage applications under the PCT.
Effective Date: May 1, 1993.
For Further Information Contact: Vincent Turner by telephone at (703) 305-9384 or by mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231 and marked to the attention of Vincent Turner (Crystal Park 2, room 919).
Supplementary Information: The Office published a notice of proposed rulemaking relating to revision of the Patent Cooperation Treaty provisions, in the Federal Register, 57 Fed. Reg. 29248 (July 1, 1992) and in the Official Gazette, 1140 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 27 (July 14, 1992). No oral hearing was held. Eight individuals or organizations submitted written comments in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. The eight written comments are available for public inspection in the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, room 919, Crystal Park II, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

Familiarity with the notice of proposed rulemaking is assumed. Changes in the text of the rules published for comment in the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed. Comments received in writing in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking are discussed.

This rule change will improve filing and processing procedures for applicants both in the filing of international applications and in the filing of national stage applications under 35 U.S.C. 371.

Background

During the first 14 years under the PCT, the annual volume of international patent applications filed in the U.S Receiving Office has increased from just under 100 to almost 10,000 in fiscal year 1991. The volume of U.S. national stage applications has shown similar growth to the point that the U.S. is now designated more than 10,000 times each year by applicants filing international applications under the PCT. Historically, approximately 60% of those applicants that designate the U.S. enter the national stage in the United States.

On July 8 to 12, 1991, representatives of the patent offices of the member countries, in a series of meetings held in Geneva, Switzerland, agreed upon several changes to the PCT regulations which are designed to make the PCT more user-friendly. These adopted changes require corresponding changes in Title 37, CFR.

The practice under the revised PCT regulations will permit an applicant to provide, in addition to at least one specified designation, a precautionary designation of all other PCT member countries and regions so that any intended designation which may have been overlooked on filing can be corrected within 15 months of the priority date by confirmation of the designation. Applicants are cautioned, however, that in order for the confirmation of a designation of the U.S. to be valid, the inventor must have been named in the application papers as filed, 37 CFR 1.421(b).

International applications are searched and published prior to the 20-month deadline for entry into the national stage. If a demand for preliminary examination is filed before expiration of 19 months from the priority date the time for entry into the national stage is extended to 30 months from the priority date and the international application will be subject to preliminary examination under Chapter II of the PCT. The practice under the revised PCT regulations permits an applicant to indicate in the demand that preliminary examination is to be based on an accompanying PCT Article 34 amendment and, if the amendment is not received with the demand, the applicant will be notified and given a time period within which to file the missing amendment. This new procedure will ensure that examination will go forward based on the desired PCT Article 34 amendment.

Also, the Office is aware that certain applicants have had difficulty in properly filing national stage applications due to the different requirements in the rules for PCT and U.S. national applications. Some differences cannot be avoided due to different procedures required under the PCT from U.S. national practice. It is desirable, however, to minimize these differences and to simplify national stage filing procedures.

International applications have become abandoned for failure to timely provide an oath or declaration, a filing fee and/or an accurate translation. In national practice under 35 U.S.C. 111, if any of these items was not presented at the time of filing, a notice would be mailed to the applicant setting a period of time to provide the missing item(s) and to pay a fee. The amendments to the rules governing entering the national stage will establish a greater degree of uniformity of practice and requirements for filing an application under 35 U.S.C. 111 and entering the national stage in an international application under 35 U.S.C. 371.

Amending sections 1.494 and 1.495 results in regulations much like the present section 1.53. The major exception is that a notification of any missing parts in sections 1.494 and 1.495 will only be mailed in those instances where the applicant has paid the basic national fee within 20 or 30 months from the priority date depending on whether election of the U.S. under Chapter II of the PCT has been made prior to 19 months. Applicants can no longer pay the basic national fee with a surcharge after the 20/30 months deadline. Failure to pay the basic national fee within 20/30 months from the priority date will result in abandonment of the application. Paying the fee gives a clear indication to the Office that the applicant desires to enter the national stage. If the required oath, declaration or translation has not been filed within 20/30 months from the priority date, as appropriate, the Office will send applicant a notice and provide a period of time to supply the deficiency. Upon paying the basic national fee within 20/30 months from the priority date, the applicant will have the opportunity to inform the Office of a U.S. correspondence address, if any. Thus, the Office will avoid unnecessary handling of approximately 40% of those applications that designate the U.S. but do not enter the national stage, and will be able to send a notice to a U.S. correspondence address in most cases.

Often at 20 or 30 months from the priority date, the only communication which has been received by the Office is a copy of the international application from the International Bureau with the address of the foreign attorney or agent who represented the applicant in the international stage. The foreign attorney or agent may not be conversant in English or knowledgeable about U.S. practice, factors which often contribute to complicating the processing of applications. Thus, the new practice, which requires payment of the basic national fee on or before 20 or 30 months from the priority date, has several advantages: (1) it will enable the applicant to identify the U.S. attorney or agent for correspondence from the Office; (2) the Office, after a check of the national stage papers at 20 or 30 months, will mail a notice identifying any deficiencies and affording applicant a period for correction of those deficiencies; and (3) as in national practice under section 1.53, it will enable applicants to extend the period of time under section 1.136 for submission of a proper oath, declaration or translation.

The changes to sections 1.494 and 1.495 address the problems which have been most frequently encountered in entering the national stage in the United States. The new practice of notifying applicants of the omission of a proper oath, declaration or translation and setting an extendable period of time for correction will allow applicants greater flexibility in the time for submission of these documents, thus avoiding the consequence of abandonment and potential loss of rights in the United States.

Implementation

The rule changes which reflect corresponding amendments in the PCT regulations were implemented on 01 July 1992 when the amendments became effective. The remaining rule changes will be effective on 01 May 1993. Setting a date for the rules to take effect several months in the future will allow time for applicants to change their procedures to conform to these rules.

Those international applications entering the national stage under section 1.494 where 20 months from the priority date expires on, or before, 30 April 1993 are under the old rule (section 1.494 effective 01 July 1987) and those international applications entering the national stage under section 1.495 where 30 months from the priority date expires on, or before, 30 April 1993 are under the old rule (section 1.495 effective 01 July 1987). Those international applications entering the national stage under section 1.494 where 20 months from the priority date expires on, or after, 01 May 1993 are under the new rule (section 1.494 effective 01 May 1993) and those international applications entering the national stage under section 1.495 where 30 months from the priority date expires on, or after, 01 May 1993 are under the new rule (section 1.495 effective 01 May 1993). For example:

1) If a copy of an international application (which designates the U.S.) thathas a priority date of 30 August 1991 is filed in the Office by 30 April 1993(within 20 months from the priority date), applicant may enter the nationalstage under 37 CFR 1.494 by submitting any required English translation, thebasic national fee and the oath or declaration not later than 30 June 1993. Of course, the payment of the surcharge and processing fee (37 CFR 1.492(e) and (f)) would also be due.

2) If a copy of an international application (which elected the U.S. beforeexpiration of 19 months from the priority date) that has a priority date of 30 October 1990 is filed in the Office by 30 April 1993 (within 30 months from the priority date), applicant may enter the national stage by submitting any required English translation, the basic national fee and the oath ordeclaration not later than 30 June 1993. Of course, the payment of thesurcharge and processing fee (37 CFR 1.492(e) and (f)) would also be due.

3) If a copy of an international application (which designates the U.S.) thathas a priority date of 01 September 1991 is filed in the Office by 03 May 1993 (within 20 months from the priority date - 01-02 May 1993 being a Saturday and Sunday, respectively), then applicant must pay the basic national fee by 03 May 1993 to avoid abandonment of the application. If the basic national fee is timely paid, a notice will then be sent to applicant giving atime period within which to file the oath or declaration and any required translation (new section 1.494(c)).

4) Any international application having a priority date of 01 September 1991,or later, is under the new rule. Thus, if applicant files papers for thenational stage indicated to be under the procedure of the old rule (section1.494) in the Office before 01 May 1993 (i.e., before expiration of 20 monthsfrom the priority date) but omits the basic national fee, the application will, nonetheless, become abandoned at midnight on 03 May 1993 (after 20 months from the priority date - 01-02 May 1993 being a Saturday and Sunday, because applications where the 20-month deadline expires onafter 01 May 1993 come under the new practice. In accordance with newsection 1.494 (i) copy of the international application must be furnished to the Office, and (ii) the basic national fee must be paid before expiration of 20 months from the priority date.

Response to Comments on the Rules

Eight written comments were received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking. All of the comments were considered in adopting the changes set forth herein. The comments and responses to the comments follow.

Comment 1. One comment stated that "The proposed addition to section 1.431(b)(1) of 'and the papers filed at the time of receipt of the international application [so] indicate' goes beyond the requirements set forth in the PCT and is contrary to PCT Administrative Instructions, Section 329." Two other similar comments were received and urged, in effect, that section 1.431(b)(1) be revised to adopt the procedure set forth in Section 329 of the PCT Administrative Instructions.

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted. The provisions adopted in section 1.431(b)(1) are consistent with, and required by, Article 11 of the PCT as interpreted by the Office. Section 329 of the PCT Administrative Instructions was issued by the International Bureau after the Bureau was advised that the Office believed new section 329 to be inconsistent with requirements of Article 11 of the Treaty and inconsistent with over 13 years of practice in the United States. In the opinion of the Office, PCT Administrative Instruction 329 is inconsistent with PCT Article 11 and Rule 20.4(a), which require the Office to promptly determine whether the applicant does not obviously lack, by reasons of residence or nationality, the right to file an international application. In accordance with PCT Rule 89.1(b), "The Administrative Instructions shall not be in conflict with the provisions of the Treaty, these regulations, ..." The United States will not follow Administrative Instruction 329.

Comment 2. One comment stated that in section 1.431(c), the reference to "PCT Rule 15.2" should be to "PCT Rule 15" because PCT Rule 15.1 is also relevant, and the reference to section 1.445 "should be changed to refer to" PCT Rules 14 and 16.1" because section 1.445 does not cover the European Patent Office (EPO) search fee which is also paid to the USPTO."

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted. The references to Rule 15.2 and section 1.445 are considered proper in the context in which they are used. The references to Rule 15.2 and section 1.445 are not new and have worked well in directing applicants regarding international application requirements. The EPO search fee is not mentioned in section 1.431, but is published in each issue of the Official Gazette for applicant's information.

Comment 3. One comment stated that in section 1.431(d), the words "one designation fee" should be deleted since this is covered by section 1.432(b) and that "timely made" in line 5 be changed to "paid within the one-month period" for clarity.

Response: The first suggestion in the comment is not adopted. The reference to "one designation fee" in section 1.431(d) is repeated in section 1.432(b) to add clarity on this important point. The second suggestion in the comment is not adopted since it would introduce error into section 1.431(d). Indeed, all the fees must be paid timely, and need not be paid within the one-month period set pursuant to section 1.431(c), e.g., some fee(s) may be paid prior to the one-month period. Presumably the one-month period mentioned in the comment refers to a period set pursuant to section 1.431(c) which may not need to be set in every case.

Comment 4. One comment indicated that (in the fourth paragraph of the Supplementary Information section) the discussion of new section 1.432 includes a reference to a "generic" designation of all countries which, instead, should refer to a precautionary designation of all countries except the required specified designation(s).

Response: The appropriate change has been made to the discussion of section 1.432 to clarify that an applicant may provide, in addition to at least one specified designation, a precautionary designation of all other PCT member countries and regions so that any intended designation which may have been overlooked on filing can be corrected within 15 months of the priority date.

Comment 5. One comment stated that in section 1.432(a) and (b) the word "request" should be capitalized in view of section 1.401(d). A corresponding comment was made with respect to section 1.451(a).

Response: This suggestion is adopted since PCT Rule 4.10 requires the designations to appear on the Request (form RO/101) and section 1.432 continues to require that the designation(s) be indicated in the Request on filing. Similarly, with respect to section 1.451(a), the suggestion is adopted.

Comment 6. One comment stated that in section 1.432(a) "or regions" should be changed to "for the purpose of obtaining national or regional patents."

Response: The suggestion is adopted to the extent that section 1.432(a) has been changed by replacing "or regions" with "including an indication that applicant wishes to obtain a regional patent, where applicable." The adopted wording is preferable since it is the same as the wording of PCT Rule 4.9(a)(ii).

Comment 7. One comment objected to the requirement contained in section 1.432(a) that designations in the international application shall be stated as provided in PCT Rule 4.9(a) and Section 115 of the Administrative Instructions Under the PCT. Also, the comment urged that the PCT Administrative Instructions should be reproduced in sections 1.432 and 1.451 so that applicants have access to them.

Response: Section 115 of the PCT Administrative Instructions makes reference to the names and abbreviations of all countries. Inclusion of such a long list would unnecessarily encumber section 1.432(a). The Administrative Instructions are readily available, and a list of countries is provided in the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (Chapter 200). Applicants using a current Request form will inherently comply with PCT Rule 4.9(a) and Sections 110 and 115 of the PCT Administrative Instructions.

Comment 8. One comment asked "If an applicant does not pay the fee(s) set out in section 1.432(c)(2) or (3), will he/she be given an additional month to pay the fees described in section 1.432(b)(1) and (2)?"

Response: No extension of time is available to the 15-month deadline of section 1.432(c). The time period set under section 1.432(b) doesnot apply to section 1.432(c). If payment for the designations to be confirmed under section 1.432(c) is not received by 15 months from the priority date, those precautionary designations are considered to be withdrawn, PCT Rule 4.9(b).

Comment 9. One comment suggested adding references to PCT Rule 4.9(a) and (b) in various locations in section 1.432.

Response: The suggestion is adopted by adding appropriate references to PCT Rule 4.9(a) and (b).

Comment 10. One comment suggested that the last sentence in section 1.432(b) be moved to become the second sentence of section 1.432(b) and the third sentence be moved to become the last sentence of section 1.432(b).

Response: These suggestions are not adopted since they would not constitute an improvement to section 1.432(b).

Comment 11. One comment suggested that, in section 1.432(c)(3) unconfirmed designations indicated to be "considered withdrawn" should be changed to "regarded as withdrawn by the applicant."

Response: This suggestion has not been adopted because it does not further clarify section 1.432(c)(3). Unconfirmed designations are considered to be withdrawn by the applicant under PCT Rule 4.9(b)(ii) and are also considered to be withdrawn by the Office.

Comment 12. One comment suggested that section 1.446(d) should be expanded to indicate that a refund of the search fee will be given even after the search copy has been transmitted just so long as the withdrawal is effective before start of the international search.

Response: This suggestion has not been adopted since refunds may or may not be appropriate in the noted instance. For example, if the EPO acting as an international searching authority begins the search after withdrawal but before receipt of the withdrawal from the U.S. receiving office, a refund may not be made.

Comment 13. One comment suggested that in section 1.446(e) "demand" should be capitalized in view of section 1.401(g).

Response: This suggestion is adopted.

Comment 14. One comment suggested that the reference in section 1.451(a) to Section "201" of the Administrative Instructions should be changed to"115."

Response: This suggestion is adopted since Section "201" of the Administrative Instructions has been changed effective July 1, 1992, and is now Section "115.

Comment 15. One comment noted that the proposed change in section 1.455(a) does not reflect that a common representative need not be "appointed."

Response: A new sentence has been inserted into section 1.455(a) to address the situation where no common representative or agent has been appointed. Where no common representative or agent has been appointed, the first mentioned applicant who is entitled to file in the U.S receiving office is considered to be the common representative, PCT Rules 2.2bis and 90.2(b).

Comment 16. One comment noted that the proposed change in section 1.455(a) does not reflect that if a new common representative is appointed, the previous common representative is automatically revoked.

Response: The last sentence of section 1.455(a) has been changed to reflect that the later appointment of an attorney, agent or common representative revokes any earlier appointment unless otherwise indicated.

Comment 17. One comment suggested that "In sections 1.475(a), 1.488(a) and 1.499(e) reference should be added to PCT Rule 13, Administrative Instructions, Section 206, and possibly to Annex B of the Administrative Instructions."

Response: The suggestion is not adopted because it gives no reasons for the proposed change and it is not evident that the change is needed.

Comment 18. One comment stated that in the Supplementary Information discussion of section 1.475(b), the explanation of "specially adapted" was different from the explanation in Annex B, Part I of the Administrative Instructions.

Response: The discussion of section 1.475(b) has been revised to conform to Annex B, Part I of the Administrative Instructions.

Comment 19. One comment stated that in section 1.484(b) no need is seen for adding the last two sentences because "The provision relates only to International Searching Authority practice and is set forth in more detail by the PCT Rules."

Response: Section 1.484(b) is directed to conduct of the International Preliminary Examining Authority rather than theInternational Searching Authority. The explanation in section 1.484(b) is retained because, although it parallels PCT Rule 69.1(e), it informs applicants that delay in submission of an amendment will delay the start of examination. Applicants should be aware that, since the time for issuance of the final report is fixed by PCT Rule 69.2 and may not change, any delay in the start of examination may work to applicants' disadvantage. For example, the minimum time may have to be set for response to any opinions, there may be time for only one opinion and/or there may be less time for interviews.

Comment 20. One comment suggested that section 1.485 should be amended to take into account that amendments are permitted under PCT Rule 66.4b is even after the time period set by the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Response: This suggestion is not adopted. Section 1.485 sets forth when an amendment may be filed so that it will be considered. Amendments filed at other times may not be considered.

Comment 21. One comment suggested that the beginning of section 1.492 should be changed to reflect that, in view of H.R. 3531, the national stage fees are under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) rather than under 35 U.S.C. 376.

Response: H.R. 3531 was enacted into law (Public Law 102-204). Accordingly, the suggestion in the comment has been adopted by revising the introductory language in section 1.492 to remove the reference to 35 U.S.C. 376.

Comment 22. One comment urged that in the Discussion of Specific Rules for sections 1.494(b) and 1.495(b), the discussion should be modified to clarify that the applicant need only check "his or her" files to be sure that the Bureau's notice regarding transmittal of a copy of the international application has been received.

Response: The language has been revised to eliminate any ambiguity.

Comment 23. One comment suggested that "as filed" in section 1.494(c) should be set off by commas as in section 1.495(c).

Response: Section 1.494(c) has been changed as suggested.

Comment 24. One comment questioned the phrases "accurate translation" and "proper translation" as used in the Supplementary Information discussion and stated that these phrases do not further explain the word "translation" as used in the statute. Another comment suggested that the rule should provide for correction of errors in the translation without penalty of abandonment or surcharge.

Response: The statute (35 U.S.C. 371(c)(2)) requires that applicant file a translation of the international application to avoid abandonment (35 U.S.C. 371(d)). The Office has received purported translations which include amendments to the text of the international application and other inconsistencies with the text of the non-English language document. It is helpful to explain that a translation must be accurate and a proper translation. The Office does not inspect a purported translation for all errors, it only inspects for errors which are apparent on the face of the document. For example, where the non-English language international application has 6 claims and the purported translation has 8 claims, obviously the requirement for a proper translation has not been met. Submission of inaccurate translations require additional processing by the Office, thus the requirement for a processing fee is appropriate.

Comment 25. One comment stated that in the Supplementary Information discussion of sections 1.494 and 1.495 the reference to the U.S. correspondence address should be modified to add "if any" since none is required.

Response: The suggestion has been adopted.

Comment 26. One comment stated that in the preamble of section 1.495(e) there appears to be a contradiction in that the first sentence suggests a translation of the annex may be filed within the time period set under 1.495(c) whereas the second sentence suggests the translation of the annex must be filed by 30 months or "be considered cancelled."

Response: The sentences are compatible. The first sentence applies to the case where the translation, oath or declaration have not been submitted by 30 months. In such case, they (and any annex) may be submitted within the time period of paragraph (c). The second sentence applies to the case where the translation and oath or declaration have been submitted by 30 months, whereupon no additional time is set under paragraph (c). Thus, in the first instance, if applicants are given additional time to submit the translation or oath or declaration, they may also submit the annex in that same additional time. But where the translation and oath or declaration have been submitted by 30 months, an additional time period will not be provided simply for submitting a translation of the annex. Of course, applicant may submit a preliminary amendment under 37 CFR 1.121 including the subject matter of the annex.

Comment 27. One comment suggested that sections 1.494(b)(3) and 1.495(b)(3) should be amended to permit an extension of time for the basic national fee so that it may be submitted, like the declaration and translation, after 20 and 30 months.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. Submission of the basic national fee gives the Office a clear indication that applicant intends to enter the national stage. This helps the Office to avoid processing of those 40% of the international applications which designate the U.S. but do not enter the national stage. Also, filing of the basic national fee by 20 or 30 months will ordinarily provide the Office with the correspondence address of the person prosecuting the national stage application. Without this correspondence address, the Office would send any notice of missing parts to the correspondence address in the international application (e.g., the person who prosecuted the international stage and who may not be qualified to prosecute the U.S. national stage). The rules as amended address the greatest hurdle for entry into the national stage which has been submission of the oath or declaration by the 22 or 32-month deadline.

Comment 28. One comment suggested that sections 1.494(d) and 1.495(d) should indicate that the PCT Article 19 amendments (which have not been received) are not only considered to be cancelled, but are also "disregarded under PCT Rule 49.5(c-bis)."

Response: The suggestion is not adopted because this additional reference to PCT Rule 49.5(c-bis) is not helpful. The indication that the PCT Article 19 amendments are cancelled is in accordance with 35 U.S.C. 371(d). It is standard practice in the examination of a patent application in the United States to disregard amendments that have been cancelled.

Comment 29. One comment suggested that, with respect to section 1.494, "The proposed rules do not make clear the relationship between paragraphs (c) and (g) as to the time period set for later furnishing of the translation into English."

Response: Paragraph (c) provides that applicant will be provided a period of time to file the translation (if the requirements of paragraph (b) have been met) and paragraph (g) provides that the application becomes abandoned if any required translation is not filed within the time period set in paragraph (c). Thus, where the other requirements have been met but the translation has not been provided, paragraph (c) provides a time period for submission of the translation and paragraph (g) provides the sanction (abandonment) for failing to comply within the set period.

Comment 30. One comment questioned whether the time period for translation of any PCT Article 19 amendments shouldbe extendable with any extension for translation of the international application. A corresponding comment was made with respect to section 1.495.

Response: An extension of time for submission of the translation of any PCT Article 19 amendment is not possible in view of the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 371(d)

Comment 31. One comment suggested that sections 1.494(g) and 1.495(h) should be modified by replacing "the translation" with "any required translation."

Response: The suggestion is adopted. Translations are not required where the international application was filed in English.

Comment 32. One comment suggested that at the beginning of section 1.495(c) after "paragraph (b)" the word "of" should be added.

Response: The suggestion is adopted.

Comment 33. One comment suggested that section 1.495(d) could be deleted since under PCT Rules 70.16 and 74.1 relevant amendments under PCT Article 19 must be annexed to the international preliminary examining report and therefore must be translated under section 1.495(e). It was further noted that superseded PCT Article 19 amendments need not be translated.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. Section 1.495(d) covers the situation where the PCT Article 19 amendment is not annexed. For example, where applicant enters the national stage in the U.S. and withdraws the international application before issuance of the final report. In this instance, translation of the PCT Article 19 amendments would have to be submitted by the date of commencement of the national stage (which cannot be later than 30 months) or be considered cancelled.

Comment 34. One comment observed that under section 1.495(e) if there is no time period to be set for submission of the translation of the international application and/or the oath or declaration, there is no possibility for extra time (after the 30-month deadline) for submission of translation of the annex. It was suggested that section 1.495(e) be reworded to permit extra time (after the 30-month deadline) for submission of a translation of the annex even where the translation of the international application and/or the oath or declaration had been submitted by 30 months.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. Where the translation of the international application and/or the oath or declaration have been submitted by 30 months, it is appropriate to promptly forward the application for examination rather than delay examination for a translation of the annex (especially since often it appears that applicant does not wish to proceed on the basis of the annex). Some applicants prefer to submit preliminary amendments under section 1.121 (which may be done even after 30 months) rather than to submit a translation of the annex.

Comment 35. One comment urged that section 1.495(e) is inconsistent in that it states that the 30-month time limit may not be extended, and then states that if the translation of the international application is not filed within 30 months from the priority date additional time may be set under paragraph (c) of this section.

Response: The two statements are not contradictory. The time period for submission of the translation and oath or declaration is a new time period and is not a extension of the 30-month time limit. The fixed time limit for submission of the basic national fee is 30 months from the priority date. If the basic national fee is not paid by this 30-month deadline, the application is abandoned. If, on the other hand, the basic national fee is paid by 30 months from the priority date, the pendency of the international application continues past 30 months. If the translation or oath or declaration have not been filed by the 30-month deadline (but the basic national fee has been paid), the application is not abandoned and a time period is set for submission of the missing translation and oath or declaration.

Comment 36. One comment asked "Is it the intention of the Patent and Trademark Office to affect, in any way, the current practice of assigning a date on which the Section 371(c)(4) requirement (oath or declaration) will be deemed to have been met, if an applicant submits an oath or declaration in response to a Notice of Missing Parts, thereby ultimately affecting the Section 102(e) date to which the eventually granted U.S. patent will be entitled?"

Response: Nothing in the new rule will affect the 35 U.S.C. 102(e) date which will continue to be the date that the last of the 35 U.S.C. 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) requirements are fulfilled.

Comment 37. One comment suggested that section 1.821 be clarified to reflect that the notice requiring compliance with paragraphs (b) through (f) is sent by the international searching authority.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. Section 1.821 does not specify who will send the notice and there is no need to do so in the rule.

Comment 38. One comment questioned as to section 10.9 whether a pro se applicant from Brazil, who is either an individual or a company, would have the right to practice before the U.S. as an international searching or international preliminary examining authority.

Response: Section 10.9 has been amended to clarify that it is not directed to pro se applicants.

Discussion of Specific Rules

The following is a table correlating PCT Rule changes with the new 37 CFR changes. Sections 1.431(b)(1), 1.431(b)(3)(ii), 1.451(a), 1.482(a)(2)(i), 1.492(e), 1.494 and 1.495, which are also amended, are not shown in the table because they are changes that are not required by PCT Rule changes.

Section 1.431(b)(1) is amended to clarify that an international filing date will be accorded to an International application filed in the United States where at least one applicant is indicated to be a resident or national of the United States in the papers as filed. If the papers, as filed, indicate a residence or nationality for at least one applicant, the United States Receiving Office can promptly determine whether, as required by PCT Article 11, "the applicant does not obviously lack" the requisite residence or nationality to file an international application in the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.431(b)(3)(ii) is amended to add a cross-reference to section 1.432 which sets forth the requirements regarding designations.

Section 1.431(c) is amended to reflect that the United States Receiving Office, rather than the International Bureau, will be responsible for collecting fees not paid in full at the time of filing the international application or within one month thereafter. The change reflects the procedural-change under the new PCT Regulations that the Receiving Office, rather than the International Bureau, will be responsible for communicating deficiency notices to the applicant and collecting the necessary fees. Under the procedure in paragraph (c), a notice of any fee deficiency will be mailed by the Receiving Office setting a time period of one month for payment of the fee deficiency and a late payment fee equal to the greater of (1) 50% of the amount of the deficient fees up to a maximum amount equal to the basic fee, or (2) an amount equal to the transmittal fee. The time period of one month for response to this notice cannot be extended.

Section 1.431(d) is eliminated as unnecessary since the United States Receiving Office will take over the responsibility for collecting fees in place of the International Bureau.

Section 1.431(e) is redesignated as 1.431(d) and clarifies that the failure to timely pay the fees pursuant to paragraph (c) will result in the withdrawal of the international application.

Section 1.432(a) is amended to clarify that the applicant must specify, on filing, at least one national or regional designation in order to be granted a filing date for the international application. This specific designation is required whether or not all designations are indicated pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. The reference to Section 201 of the Administrative Instructions has been changed to Section 115 to correspond to the change in the Administrative Instructions.

Section 1.432(b) is amended to establish a procedure for the late payment of fees for designations that were specified on filing an international application, and a procedure, pursuant to PCT Rule 16bis.1(c), in accordance with section 321 of the PCT Administrative Instructions for allocating fees, where the amount paid is insufficient to cover all the fees. The payment of the designation fees with a late payment fee (previously termed a "surcharge") is not new. Under the revised PCT regulations, however, the Receiving Office, rather than the International Bureau, will be responsible for communicating deficiency notices to the applicant. The designation fees may be paid, without necessity for a late payment fee, within one year from the priority date or within one month from the date of receipt of the international application if that month expires after the expiration of one year from the priority date. The applicant will be notified and given one month within which to pay any deficient designation fees plus a late payment fee. The amount of the late payment fee is equal to 50% of the deficient fees, but will not be less than the amount of the transmittal fee (currently $200) and will not exceed the amount of the basic fee (currently $525). The one-month time limit for payment of the deficient designation fees and late payment fee may not be extended. If, after expiration of the one-month time period, at least one designation fee has not been paid (with any late payment fee which is due), the international application will be withdrawn. If, after expiration of the one-month time period, at least one designation fee has been paid (with any late payment fee which is due) but the amount paid is not sufficient to cover the late payment fee and all the designation fees, the amount paid will be allocated, pursuant to PCT Rule 16bis.1(c), in accordance with section 321 of the Administrative Instructions. Section 321 of the Administrative Instructions provides that theamount will be allocated in accordance with any instructions received from the applicant or, if no instructions have been received, in the order in which the designations appear in the request part of the international application. Designations for which no designation fee is timely filed will be withdrawn. In section 1.432(b), the reference to parenthetical numbers (1) and (2) used to describe the late payment fee as proposed has been deleted in the final rule to improve clarity.

New section 1.432(c) establishes a procedure wherein, in addition to the designation(s) under paragraph (a), the applicant could indicate, on filing, all designations permitted under the Treaty and confirm desired designations of countries or regions up to 15 months from the priority date. Section 1.432(c) as promulgated requires that applicant's indication of all designations permitted under the Treaty in addition to the designation(s) under paragraph (a) be made in the Request in accordance with PCT Rule 4.9(b). The confirmation must include both a written notice of the countries or regions being confirmed, the appropriate designation fees and a confirmation fee based on the number of countries or regions being confirmed. If the amount of the fees is insufficient, the Receiving Office will allocate the amount paid in accordance with any priority of designations specified by the applicant or, if no priority is specified, in accordance with section 321 of the Administrative Instructions. A notice reminding applicant of the 15-month deadline will not be provided. Unconfirmed designations will be considered withdrawn.

Section 1.434 is amended to allow applicants to develop their own computer-generated Request form so long as the forms comply with the requirements of sections 102(h) and (i) of the Administrative Instructions. Printed Request form will continue to be available from the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

New section 1.445(a)(4) defines the amount of the confirmation fee required for the designations confirmed under section 1.432(c). The confirmation fee is equal to 50% of the sum of the designation fees for the designations being confirmed. For example, a confirmation of four additional designations (at $127 per designation, or $508) would require a $254 confirmation fee. The total amount of the fees due would be $762, which is the sum of $508 and $254.

Section 1.446(d) is amended to clarify that the international (basic and designation, PCT Rule 15.1) and search fees may be refunded under certain circumstances linked to whether the record copy or search copy has been transmitted to the International Bureau or International Searching Authority, respectively. The transmittal fee and any late payment fees will not be refunded, but will be retained to cover Office processing costs. If the record copy or search copy has been transmitted, the Receiving Office cannot refund or authorize the refund of the international or search fees. Any request for a refund filed after the record copy or search copy has been transmitted should be directed to the International Bureau (for the international fee) or the International Searching Authority (for the international searchfee) for consideration of whether a refund should be made.

New section 1.446(e) indicates that a refund of the handling fee by the International Preliminary Examining Authority is permitted only in the situations where the demand is considered not to have been submitted or upon withdrawal of the demand before the demand has been sent to the International Bureau. If the demand has been sent to the International Bureau, requests for refund of the handling fee should be directed to the International Bureau.

Section 1.451(a) is amended to clarify that the applicant must specify, on filing, the priority of a previously filed application in order to be granted priority in the international application. The right to priority is not necessarily lost if the claim is not on the Request form, but will be lost if the claim does not appear in the papers presented on filing of the application.

Section 1.455(a) is amended to clarify that the term "common representative" means an applicant appointed by the other applicants or considered to be the representative of the other applicants. Further, since attorneys and agents are registered to practice before the Office rather than licensed, section 1.455(a) has been amended by replacing the word "licensed" with "registered." The paragraph also clarifies who can represent applicants in an international application before the U.S. International Searching Authority or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority, e.g., (1) an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Office, and (2) an attorney or agent not registered to practice before the Office, but authorized to practice before the national office with which the international application was filed and for which the United States is an International Searching Authority or International Preliminary Examining Authority. In the latter case, representation is restricted to practicing before the U.S. International Searching Authority and/or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority. For example, if an international application is filed in the Brazilian Patent Office, an agent authorized to practice before the Brazilian Patent Office may prosecute that application before the U.S. International Searching Authority or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority. Paragraph (a) also provides that, unless otherwise indicated, the appointment of an attorney, agent or common representative revokes any earlier appointment as specified in PCT Rule 90.6(b).

Section 1.475 is amended to adopt the unity of invention principles of PCT Rule 13, as amended. Section 1.475 is further amended to reflect that the same unity of invention principles are applied by the international searching and preliminary examining authorities and during the national stage. Duplicative provisions in sections 1.487 and 1.499 are deleted.

The principles of unity of invention are used to determine the types of claimed subject matter and the combinations of claims to different categories of invention that are permitted to be included in a single international or national stage patent application. The basic principle is that an application should relate to only one invention or, if there is more than one invention, that applicant would have a right to include in a single application only those inventions which are so linked as to form a single general inventive concept.

Section 1.475(a) is amended to contain both the definition of the requirement for unity of invention, and the unity of invention criteria that must be satisfied, where a group of inventions is claimed, in order to have a right to include multiple inventions in a single application. A group of inventions is linked to form a single general inventive concept where there is a technical relationship among the inventions that involves at least one common or corresponding special technical feature. The expression "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define the contribution which each claimed invention, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. For example, a compound is the common technical feature in an application claiming (1) the compound per se, (2) a method of making the compound and (3) a method of using the compound. A corresponding technical feature is exemplified by a key defined by certain claimed structural characteristics which correspond to the claimed features of a lock to be used with the claimed key.

Section 1.475(b) is amended to define several combinations of different categories of claims which always fulfill the unity of invention requirements of section 1.475(a) where the same or corresponding special technical feature is claimed. There may be other combinations of different categories of claims which fulfill the requirement for unity of invention, but the determination of unity must be made under section 1.475(a), not section 1.475(b).

In section 1.475(b), a process is "specially adapted" for the manufacture of a product if the claimed process inherently produces the claimed product with the technical relationship defined in section 1.475(a) being present between the claimed process and the claimed product. The expression "specially adapted" as used in this section does not imply that the product could not also be manufactured by a different process.

In section 1.475(b), an apparatus or means is "specifically designed" for carrying out the process when the apparatus or means is suitable for carrying out the process with the technical relationship defined in section 1.475(a) being present between the claimed apparatus or means and the claimed process. The expression "specifically designed" does not imply that the apparatus or means could not be used for carrying out another process, nor does it imply that the process could not be carried out using an alternative apparatus or means.

Section 1.475(c) is amended to require that unity of invention might not be present if a combination of categories of invention different from those described in section 1.475(b) are presented in an application. The requirements of section 1.475(a) are always met by the combinations described in section 1.475(b) where the same or corresponding special technical feature is claimed. All other combinations must be tested against the unity of invention standard of section 1.475(a).

Section 1.475(d) is amended by deleting reference to the different combinations of categories of invention that always meet the unity of invention standard (now set forth in section 1.475(b)), and to make reference to the determination of the main invention where multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed. The significance of determining the main invention is set forth in section 1.476(c).

Section 1.475(e) is amended to require that the determination regarding unity of invention be made without regard to whether a group of inventions is claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. The basic criteria for unity of invention are the same, regardless of the manner in which applicant chooses to draft a claim or claims.

Section 1.475(f) is deleted since PCT Rule 13 has been amended and the basic principles of unity of invention are incorporated into other portions of section 1.475.

Section 1.476(a) is amended to delete the reference to section 1.475(f) (which is deleted) and PCT Rule 13.

Section 1.480(b) is amended to allow applicants to develop their own computer-generated Demand form so long as the limitations in sections 102(h) and (i) of the Administrative Instructions are met. Printed Demand forms will continue to be available from the Office.

Section 1.482(a)(2)(i) is amended to clarify that an additional preliminary examination fee may be charged for lack of unity in Chapter II irrespective of whether there was a similar charge in Chapter I. Normally there will be a charge for lack of unity both in Chapter I and in Chapter II. In some instances, although a charge for the search of an additional invention is justified in Chapter I, the examiner chooses to proceed without charging for the search of the additional invention(s). However, circumstances may change (e.g., an amendment submitted with the Demand expanding the claims to the additional invention(s)) in Chapter II so as to warrant the examiner's requirement for an additional fee for examination of the additional invention(s).

Section 1.482(b) is amended to remove the reference to the supplement to the handling fee which had been collected for the benefit of the International Bureau and which has been deleted from the PCT regulations. At present, applicants must pay as many supplements to the handling fee as there are languages into which the elected Offices require translations of the international preliminary examination report. Under the new PCT regulations, all countries will accept an English translation of the international preliminary examination report, thus limiting the International Bureau's translation costs. Accordingly only one handling fee will need to be paid by the applicant, without any supplement, irrespective of the need for a translation of the report.

Section 1.484(b) is amended to permit an applicant to indicate in the demand that international preliminary examination is to begin based on the application as amended rather than on the application as filed. If a PCT Article 19 amendment is not received by the Office by 20 months from the priority date, preliminary examination will proceed. Where the demand indicates examination is to be based on an accompanying PCT Article 34 amendment, but the PCT Article 34 amendment has not been provided to the Office with the demand, the applicant will be notified and given a time period to submit the amendment. Thus, if the applicant wishes preliminary examination based on an amended version of the international application, the demand must so indicate and the amendment (PCT Article 19 or 34) must (1) accompany the demand; or (2) in the case of a PCT Article 19 amendment, be received by 20 months from the priority date; or (3) in the case of a PCT Article 34 amendment, be submitted within the non-extendable time period set by the Office.

Section 1.485 is amended to be consistent with section 1.484 and provides for amendments to be filed with the demand or within a time period set by the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Section 1.487 is removed as unnecessary because the amendments to section 1.475 address the unity of invention principles to be applied by the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Section 1.488(a) is amended to replace the reference to section 1.487, which is removed, with a reference to section 1.475.

Section 1.492 is amended to revise the introductory clause to eliminate the reference to 35 U.S.C. 376.

Section 1.492(e) is amended to eliminate the surcharge for filing the basic national fee after 20 or 30 months from the priority date. In accordance with the new practice under sections 1.494 and 1.495, the basic national fee must be filed no later than 20 months, or 30 months if a timely election was filed, from the priority date in order to avoid abandonment of the application.

Sections 1.494 and 1.495 is amended to modify the practice for entering the national stage as a designated or elected office by more closely aligning it with national application practice under section 1.53.

Section 1.494(a) is amended to clarify that absence of a Demand form is no longer the controlling event, but rather failure to elect the United States within 19 months of the priority date will trigger the time periods set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

Section 1.494(b) is amended to require that the basic national fee and a copy of the international application must be filed with the Office by 20 months from the priority date to avoid abandonment. The 22-month period for filing the basic national fee with a surcharge in previous rule 1.494(c) has been eliminated. The International Bureau normally provides the copy of the international application to the Office in accordance with PCT Article 20. At the same time, the International Bureau notifies the applicant of the communication to the Office. In accordance with PCT Rule 47.1, that notice shall be accepted by all designated offices as conclusive evidence that the communication has duly taken place. Thus, if the applicant desires to enter the national stage and applicant has received the notice from the International Bureau, applicant need only pay the basic national fee by 20 months from the priority date. The 20-month time limit for submission of the basic national fee and a copy of the international application is not extendable.

Section 1.494(c) is amended to provide that applicants who have provided the basic national fee and a copy of the international application by 20 months from the priority date but who omit a proper translation, oath or declaration will receive a notification setting a time period for submission of the omitted requirements. The time period set in the notice can be extended pursuant to section 1.136. Filing of the oath or declaration later than 20 months will require the payment of the surcharge set forth in section 1.492(e). Filing of the translation later than 20 months will require the payment of the processing fee set forth in section 1.492(f).

Section 1.494(d) is amended to clarify the existing practice that PCT Article 19 amendments must be submitted by 20 months from the priority date, which time may not be extended. Of course, the failure to do so does not result in loss of the subject matter of the PCT Article 19 amendments. The applicant may submit that subject matter in a preliminary amendment filed under section 1.121. In many cases, filing an amendment under section 1.121 is preferable since grammatical or idiomatic errors may be corrected.

Section 1.494(g) is removed in view of the amendments to sections (b), (c) and (d).

Section 1.494(h) is redesignated as 1.494(g) and is amended to specify when an application that fails to enter the national stage becomes abandoned. Abandonment occurs at 20 months from the priority date if the basic national fee and a copy of the international application have not been provided to the Office. If they have been provided to the Office within 20 months and the translation and/or oath or declaration are not filed timely, abandonment occurs upon expiration of the time limit set in the notification pursuant to paragraph (c). Thus, in the latter situation, abandonment would occur at the expiration of the time period set in the notice to file the missing translation, and/or oath or declaration. The phrase "where the United States has been designated but not elected prior to 19 months from the priority date" (emphasis added) has been changed to "where the United States has been designated but not elected by the expiration of 19 months from the priority date" (emphasis added) for clarity. A corresponding change has been made in section 1.495(h).

Section 1.495(a) is amended to clarify that the election of the U.S. need not be made in the Demand, but can be made subsequently if filed before expiration of 19 months from the priority date to start the time periods set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

Section 1.495(b) is amended to require that the basic national fee and a copy of the international application must be filed with the Office by 30 months from the priority date to avoid abandonment. The 32-month period for filing the basic national fee with a surcharge in previous rule 1.495(c) has been eliminated. The International Bureau normally provides the copy of the international application to the Office in accordance with PCT Article 20. At the same time the International Bureau notifies applicant of the communication to the Office. In accordance with PCT Rule 47.1, that notice shall be accepted by all designated offices as conclusive evidence that the communication has duly taken place. Thus, if the applicant desires to enter the national stage, the applicant normally need only check to be sure the notice from the International Bureau has been received and then pay the basic national fee by 30 months from the priority date. The 30-month time limit for submission of the basic national fee and a copy of the international application is not extendable.

Section 1.495(c) is amended to provide that applicants who have provided the basic national fee and a copy of the international application by 30 months from the priority date, but who omit a proper translation, oath or declaration, will receive a notification setting a time period for submission of the omitted requirements. The time period set in the notice can be extended pursuant to section 1.136. Filing of the oath or declaration later than 30 months will require the payment of the surcharge set forth in section 1.492(e). Filing of the translation later than 30 months will require the payment of the processing fee set forth in section 1.492(f).

Section 1.495(d) is amended to clarify the existing and continuing practice that the PCT Article 19 amendments must be submitted by 30 months from the priority date. The deadline for submitting PCT Article 19 amendments may not be extended. The failure to do so will not result in loss of the subject matter of the PCT Article 19 amendments. Applicant may submit that subject matter in a preliminary amendment filed under section 1.121. In many cases, filing an amendment under section 1.121 is preferable since grammatical or idiomatic errors may be corrected.

Section 1.495(e) is amended to specify that a translation into English of any annexes to the international preliminary examining report which are not received by 30 months from the priority date may only be submitted within the time period set in paragraph (c) for submission of any omitted translation of the international application, or oath or declaration. If any required translation of the international application and oath or declaration have been provided to the Office by 30 months, a notice under paragraph (c) will not be sent, and if the translation of annexes is not submitted within 30 months, the annexes will be considered cancelled.

Section 1.495(h) is removed in view of the amendments to sections (b), (c), (d) and (e).

Section 1.495(i) is redesignated as 1.495(h) and specifies when an application that fails to enter the national stage becomes abandoned if the United States was elected prior to 19 months from the priority date. Abandonment occurs at 30 months from the priority date if the basic national fee and a copy of the international application have not been provide to the Office. If they have been provided to the Office within 30 months and the translation and/or oath or declaration are not filed timely, abandonment occurs upon expiration of the time limit set in the notification pursuant to paragraph (c). Thus, in the latter situation, abandonment would occur at the expiration of the time period set in the notice to file the missing translation, and/or oath or declaration.

Section 1.499 is amended by removing paragraphs (a) through (e) because the amendments to section 1.475 address the unity of invention principles to be applied in the national stage. The reference to the official action being called a requirement for restriction has been eliminated as unnecessary.

Section 1.821(h) is amended to provide that if applicant fails to timely provide the required computer-readable form, the United States International Searching Authority shall search only to the extent that a meaningful search can be carried out.

Section 10.9 is amended to add a new paragraph (c) to be consistent with section 1.455, clarifying that an attorney or agent having the right to act before the national office with which the international application is filed may represent the applicant before the U.S International Searching Authority or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority. An individual who has the right to practice before the national office with which an international application is filed, and who is not registered under section 10.6, may not prosecute patent applications in the national stage in the Office.

Other Considerations:

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq., Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)), because the rules provide more streamlined and simplified procedures for filing and prosecuting international and national stage applications under the PCT.

The Patent and Trademark Office has determined that these rule changes are not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers; individual industries; Federal, state or local government agencies; or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Patent and Trademark Office has also determined that this notice has no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes will not impose any additional burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. The paperwork burden imposed by adherence to the PCT is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0651-0021.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6, the Patent and Trademark Office amends Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations as set forth below.

List of Subjects
37 CFR Part 1

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.431 is amended by removing paragraph (e) and revising paragraphs (b)(1) through (b)(3)(ii), (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.431 International application requirements

* * * * *

(b) An international filing date will be accorded by the United States Receiving Office, at the time of receipt of the international application, provided that:

(1) At least one applicant (§ 1.421) is a United States resident or national and the paper filed at the time of receipt of the international application so indicate (35 U.S.C. 361(a), PCT Art. 11(1)(i)).

(2) The international application is in the English language (35 U.S.C. 361(c), PCT Art. 11(1)(ii)).

(3) The international application contains at least the following elements (PCT Art. 11(1)(iii)):

(i) An indication that it is intended as an international application (PCT Rule 4.2);

(ii) The designation of at least one Contracting State of the International Patent Cooperation Union (§ 1.432);

* * * * *

(c) Payment of the basic portion of the international fee (PCT Rule 15.2) and the transmittal and search fees (§ 1.445) may be made in full at the time the international application papers required by paragraph (b) of this section are deposited or within one month thereafter. If the basic, transmittal and search fees are not pa-id within one month from the date of receipt of the international application, applicant will be notified and given one month within which to pay the deficient fees plus a late payment fee equal to the greater of (1) 50% of the amount of the defficient fees up to a maximum amount equal to the basic fee, or (2) an amount equal to the transmittal fee (PCT Rule 16bis). The one-month time limit set in the notice to pay deficient fees may not be extended.

(d) If the payment needed to cover the transmittal fee, the basic fee, the search fee, one designation fee and the late payment fee pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section is not timely made, the Receiving Office will declare the international application withdrawn under PCT Article 14(3)(a).

Section 1.432 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.432 Designation of States and payment of designation fees.

(a) The designation of States including an indication that applicant wishes to obtain a regional patent, where applicable, shall appear in the Request upon filing and must be indicated as set forth in PCT Rule 4.9 and Section 115 of the Administrative Instructions. Applicant must specify at least one national or regional designation on filing of the international application for a filing date to be granted.

(b) If the fees necessary to cover all the national and regional designations specified in the Request are not paid by the applicant within one year from the priority date or within one month from the date of receipt of the international application if that month expires after the expiration of one year from the priority date, applicant will be notified and given one month within which to pay the deficient designation fees plus a late payment fee equal to the greater of 50% of the amount of the deficient fees up to a maximum amount equal to the basic fee, or an amount equal to the transmittal fee (PCT Rule 16bis). The one-month time limit set in the notification of deficient designation fees may not be extended. Failure to timely pay at least one designation fee will result in the withdrawal of the international application. The one designation fee may be paid:

(1) within one year from the priority date,

(2) within one month from the date of receipt of the international application if that month expires after the expiration of one year from the priority date, or

(3) with the late payment fee defined in this paragraph within the time set in the notification of the deficient designation fees. If after notification of deficient designation fees the applicant makes timely payment, but the amount paid is not sufficient to cover the late payment fee and all designation fees, the Receiving Office will, after allocating payment for the basic, search, transmittal and late payment fees, allocate the amount paid in accordance with PCT Rule 16bis.1(c) and withdraw the unpaid designations. The notification of deficient designation fees pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to § 1.431(c).

(c) On filing the international application, in addition to specifying at least one national or regional designation under PCT Rule 4.9(a), applicant may also indicate under PCT Rule 4.9(b) that all other designations permitted under the Treaty are made. The latter indication under PCT Rule 4.9(b) must be made in a statement on the Request that any designation made under this paragraph is subject to confirmation (PCT Rule 4.9(c)) not later than the expiration of 15 months from the priority date by:

(1) filing a written notice with the United States Receiving Office specifying the national and/or regional designations being confirmed;

(2) paying the designation fee for each designation being confirmed; and

(3) paying the confirmation fee specified in § 1.445(a)(4). Unconfirmed designations will be considered withdrawn. If the amount submitted is not sufficient to cover the designation fee and the confirmation fee for each designation being confirmed, the Receiving Office will allocate the amount paid in accordance with any priority of designations specified by applicant. If applicant does not specify any priority of designations, the allocation of the amount paid will be made in accordance with PCT Rule 16bis.1(c).

4. Section 1.434 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.434 The request.

(a) The request shall be made on a standardized form (PCT Rules 3 and 4). Copies of printed Request forms are available from the Patent and Trademark Office. Letters requesting printed forms should be marked "Box PCT."

* * * * *

5. Section 1.445 is amended by adding new paragraph (a)(4) to read as follows:

§ 1.445 International application filing, processing and search fees.

(a) * * *

(4) A confirmation fee (PCT Rule 96) equal to 50% of the sum of designation fees for the national and regional designations being confirmed (§ 1.432(c)).

* * * * *

6. Section 1.446 is amended by revising paragraph (d) and adding paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.446 Refund of international application filing and processing fees.

* * * * *

(d) The international and search fees will be refunded if no international filing date is accorded or if the application is withdrawn before transmittal of the record copy to the International Bureau (PCT Rules 15.6 and 16.2). The search fee will be refunded if the application is withdrawn before transmittal of the search copy to the International Searching Authority. The transmittal fee will not be refunded.

(e) The handling fee (§ 1.482(b)) will be refunded (PCT Rule 57.6) only if:

(1) the Demand is withdrawn before the Demand has been sent by the International Preliminary Examining Authority to the International Bureau, or

(2) the Demand is considered not to have been submitted (PCT Rule 54.4(a)).

7. Section 1.451 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.451 The priority claim and priority document in an international application.

(a) The claim for priority must be made on the Request (PCT Rule 4.10) in a manner complying with Sections 110 and 115 of the Administrative Instructions.

* * * * *

8. Section 1.455 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.455 Representation in international applications.

(a) Applicants of international applications may be represented by attorneys or agents registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office or by an applicant appointed as a common representative (PCT Art. 49, Rules 4.8 and 90 and § 10.10). If applicants have not appointed an attorney or agent or one of the applicants to represent them, and there is more than one applicant, the applicant first named in the request and who is entitled to file in the U.S. Receiving Office shall be considered to be the common representative of all the applicants. An attorney or agent having the right to practice before a national office with which an international application is filed and for which the United States is an International Searching Authority or International Preliminary Examining Authority may be appointed to represent the applicants in the international application before that authority. An attorney or agent may appoint an associate attorney or agent who shall also then be of record (PCT Rule 90.1(d)). The appointment of an attorney or agent, or of a common representative, revokes any earlier appointment unless otherwise indicated (PCT Rule 90.6(b) and (c)).

9. Section 1.475 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.475 Unity of invention before the International Searching Authority, the International Preliminary Examining Authority and during the national stage.

(a) An international and a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

(b) An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

(1) a product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or

(2) a product and a process of use of said product; or

(3) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or

(4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process or

(5) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

(c) If an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combinations of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, unity of invention might not be present.

(d) If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each of the other categories relate thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims, see PCT Article 17(3)(a) and § 1.476(c).

(e) The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim.

10. Section 1.476 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.476 Determination of unity of invention before the International Searching Authority.

(a) Before establishing the international search report, the International Searching Authority will determine whether the international application complies with the requirement of unity of invention as set forth in § 1.475.

* * * * *

11. Section 1.480 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.480 Demand for international preliminary examination.

* * * * *

(b) The Demand shall be made on a standardized form. Copies of printed Demand forms are available from the Patent and Trademark Office. Letters requesting printed Demand forms should be marked "Box PCT".

* * * * *

12. Section 1.482 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(2)(i) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.482 International preliminary examination fees.

(a) * * *

(2) An additional preliminary examination fee when required, per additional invention:

(i) Where the International Searching Authority for the international application was the United States Patent and Trademark Office.....$140.00

* * * * *

(b) The handling fee is due on filing the Demand.

13. Section 1.484 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.484 Conduct of international preliminary examination.

* * * * *

(b) International preliminary examination will begin promptly upon receipt of a Demand which requests examination based on the application as filed, or as amended by an amendment which has been received by the United States International Preliminary Examining Authority. Where a Demand requests examination based on a PCT Article 19 amendment which has not been received, examination may begin at 20 months without receipt of a PCT Article 19 amendment. Where a Demand requests examination based on a PCT Article 34 amendment which has not been received, applicant will be notified and given a time period within which to submit the amendment. Examination will begin after the earliest of:

(1) receipt of the amendment;

(2) receipt of applicant's statement that no amendment will be made; or

(3) expiration of the time period set in the notification.

No international preliminary examination report will be established prior to issuance of an international search report.

* * * * *

14. Section 1.485 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.485 Amendments by applicant during international preliminary examination.

(a) The applicant may make amendments at the time of filing of the Demand and within the time limit set by the International Preliminary Examining Authority for response to any notification under § 1.484(b) or to any written opinion. Any such amendments must:

(1) Be made by submitting a replacement sheet for every sheet of the application which differs from the sheet it replaces unless an entire sheet is cancelled, and

(2) Include a description of how the replacement sheet differs from the replaced sheet.

(b) If an amendment cancels an entire sheet of the international application, that amendment shall be communicated in a letter.

15. Section 1.487 is removed.

§ 1.487 [Removed]

16. Section 1.488 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.488 Determination of unity of invention before the International Preliminary Examining Authority.

(a) Before establishing any written opinion or the international preliminary examination report, the International Preliminary Examining Authority will determine whether the international application complies with the requirement of unity of invention as set forth in § 1.475.

* * * * *

17. Section 1.492 is amended by revising the introductory clause and paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.492 National stage fees.

The following fees and charges are established for international applications entering the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371:

* * * * *

(e) Surcharge for filing the oath or declaration later than 20 months from the priority date pursuant to § 1.494(c) or later than 30 months from the priority date pursuant to § 1.495(c):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f))	$65.00
By other than a small entity	$130.00

* * * * *

18. Section 1.494 amended by removing paragraph (h) and by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 1.494 Entering the national stage in the United States of America as a Designated Office.

(a) Where the United States of America has not been elected by the expiration of 19 months from the priority date (see § 1.495), the applicant must fulfill the requirements of PCT Article 22 and 35 U.S.C. 371 within the time periods set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section in order to prevent the abandonment of the international application as to the United States of America. International applications for which those requirements are timely fulfilled will enter the national stage and obtain an examination as to the patentability of the invention in the United States of America.

(b) To avoid abandonment of the application, the applicant shall furnish to the United States Patent and Trademark Office not later than the expiration of 20 months from the priority date:

(1) a copy of the international application, unless it has been previously communicated by the International Bureau or unless it was originally filed in the United States Patent and Trademark Office; and

(2) the basic national fee (see § 1.492(a)).

The 20-month time limit may not be extended.

(c) If applicant complies with paragraph (b) of this section before expiration of 20 months from the priority date but omits (1) a translation of the international application, as filed, into the English language, if it was originally filed in another language (35 U.S.C. 371(c)(2)) and/or (2) the oath or declaration of the inventor (35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4); see § 1.497), applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the translation and/or oath or declaration in order to prevent abandonment of the application. The payment of the processing fee set forth in § 1.492(f) is required for acceptance of an English translation later than the expiration of 20 months after the priority date. The payment of the surcharge set forth in § 1.492(e) is required for acceptance of the oath or declaration of the inventor later than the expiration of 20 months after the priority date. A copy of the notification mailed to applicant should accompany any response thereto submitted to the Office.

(d) A copy of any amendments to the claims made under PCT Article 19, and a translation of those amendments into English, if they were made in another language, must be furnished not later than the expiration of 20 months from the priority date. Amendments under PCT Article 19 which are not received by the expiration of 20 months from the priority date will be considered to be cancelled. The 20-month time limit may not be extended.

* * * * *

(g) An international application becomes abandoned as to the United States 20 months from the priority date if the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section have not been complied with within 20 months from the priority date where the United States has been designated but not elected by the expiration of 19 months from the priority date. If the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section are complied with within 20 months from the priority date but any required translation of the international application as filed and/or the oath or declaration are not timely filed, an international application will become abandoned as to the United States upon expiration of the time period set pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

19. Section 1.495 is amended by removing paragraph (i) and by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (h) to read as follows:

§ 1.495 Entering the national stage in the United States of America as an Elected Office.

(a) Where the United States of America has been elected by the expiration of 19 months from the priority date, the applicant must fulfill the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 371 within the time periods set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section in order to prevent the abandonment of the international application as to the United States of America. International applications for which those requirements are timely fulfilled will enter the national stage and obtain an examination as to the patentability of the invention in the United States of America.

(b) To avoid abandonment of the application the applicant shall furnish to the United States Patent and Trademark Office not later than the expiration of 30 months from the priority date:

(1) a copy of the international application, unless it has been previously communicated by the International Bureau or unless it was originally filed in the United States Patent and Trademark Office; and

(2) the basic national fee (see § 1.492(a)).

The 30-month time limit may not be extended.

(c) If applicant complies with paragraph (b) of this section before expiration of 30 months from the priority date but omits:

(1) a translation of the international application, as filed, into the English language, if it was originally filed language (35 U.S.C. 371(c)(2)) and/or

(2) the oath in another or declaration of the inventor (35 U.S.C. 371(c)(4); see § 1.497), applicant will be so notified and given a period of time within which to file the translation and/or oath or declaration in order to prevent abandonment of the application. The payment of the processing fee set forth in § 1.492(f) is required for acceptance of an English translation later than the expiration of 30 months after the priority date. The payment of the surcharge set forth in § 1.492(e) is required for acceptance of the oath or declaration of the inventor later than the expiration of 30 months after the priority date. A copy of the notification mailed to applicant should accompany any response thereto submitted to the Office.

(d) A copy of any amendments to the claims made under PCT Article 19, and a translation of those amendments into English, if they were made in another language, must be furnished not later than the expiration of 30 months from the priority date. Amendments under PCT Article 19 which are not received by the expiration of 30 months from the priority date will be considered to be cancelled. The 30-month time limit may not be extended.

(e) A translation into English of any annexes to the international preliminary examination report, if the annexes were made in another language, must be furnished not later than the expiration of 30 months from the priority date. Translations of the annexes which are not received by the expiration of 30 months from the priority date may be submitted within any period set pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section accompanied by the processing fee set forth in § 1.492(f). Annexes for which translations are not timely received will be considered cancelled. The 30-month time limit may not be extended.

* * * * *

(h) An international application becomes abandoned as to the United States 30 months from the priority date if the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section have not been complied with within 30 months from the priority date and the United States has been elected by the expiration of 19 months from the priority date. If the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section are complied with within 30 months from the priority date but any required translation of the international application as filed and/or the oath or declaration are not timely filed, an international application will become abandoned as to the United States upon expiration of the time period set pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

20. Section 1.499 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.499 Unity of invention during the national stage.

If the examiner finds that a national stage application lacks unity of invention under § 1.475, the examiner may in an Office action require the applicant in the response to that action to elect the invention to which the claims shall be restricted. Such requirement may be made before any action on the merits but may be made at any time before the final action at the discretion of the examiner. Review of any such requirement is provided under § 1.143 and 1.144.

21. Section 1.821 is amended by revising paragraph (h) to read as follows:

§ 1.821 Nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosures in patent applications.

* * * * *

(h) If any of the requirements of paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section are not satisfied at the time of filing, in the United States Receiving Office, an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), applicant has one month from the date of a notice which will be sent requiring compliance with the requirements, or such other time as may be set by the Commissioner, in which to comply. Any submission in response to a requirement under this paragraph must be accompanied by a statement that the submission does not include new matter or go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed. Such a statement must be a verified statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Office. If applicant fails to timely provide the required computer readable form, the United States International Searching Authority shall search only to the extent that a meaningful search can be performed.

* * * * *

22. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 10 will continue to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

23. Section 10.9 is amended by adding new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

10.9 Limited recognition in patent cases.

* * * * *

(c) An individual not registered under § 10.6 may, if appointed by applicant to do so, prosecute an international application only before the U.S. International Searching Authority and the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority, provided: the individual has the right to practice before the national office with which the international application is filed (PCT Art. 49, Rule 90 and § 1.455).

(117) Information Disclosure Statements In PCT National Stage Applications

The purpose of this notice is to announce a change in practice with regard to the need for applicants in a national stage application to file an information disclosure statement with respect to documents cited in an international search report under certain circumstances.

When an international application is filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), prior art documents may be cited by the examiner in the international search report and/or the international preliminary examination report. When a national stage application is filed under 35 U.S.C. 371, or a national application is filed under 35 U.S.C. 111 claiming benefit of the filing date of the international application, it is often desirable to have the examiner consider the documents cited in the international application when examining the national application.

As a result of an agreement among the European Patent Office (EPO), Japanese Patent Office (JPO) and the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), copies of documents cited in the international search report issued by any one of these International Searching Authority Offices generally are being sent to the other Offices when designated in the international application. Accordingly, in many national stage applications where the international search was conducted by the EPO, JPO, or USPTO, copies of the documents cited in the international search report are made available to the examiner in the national stage application.

At this time, when all the requirements for a national stage application have been completed, applicant is notified (Form PCT/DO/EO/903) of the acceptance of the application under 35 U.S.C. 371, including an itemized list of the items received. The itemized list includes an indication of whether a copy of the international search report and copies of the references cited therein are present in the national stage file. The examiner will consider the documents cited in the international search report, without any further action by applicant under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98, when both the international search report and copies of the documents are indicated to be present in the national stage file. Otherwise, applicant must follow the procedures set forth in 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98 in order to ensure that the examiner considers the documents cited in the international search report.

This notice applies only to documents cited in the international search report relative to a national stage application filed under 35 U.S.C. 371. It does not apply to documents cited in an international preliminary examination report that are not cited in the search report. It does not apply to applications filed under 35 U.S.C. 111 claiming the benefit of an international application filing date.

Practice relating to documents cited in a search report in an international application filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty as set forth in § 609 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure will be modified in accordance with this notice.

Revisions of Patent Cooperation Treaty Provisions

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice relating to applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) in accordance with revised regulations under the PCT. The changes will result in a procedure whereby international applications improperly filed with the United States Receiving Office (RO/US) will, for a fee, be forwarded for processing to the International Bureau as Receiving Office.
Effective Date: June 1, 1995
For Further Information Contact: Charles Pearson at (703) 308-6515.
Supplementary Information: In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 59 FR 33707 (June 30, 1994) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1164 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 77 (July 26, 1994), the Office proposed to amend several rules of practice in patent cases. Recent changes to the PCT Regulations include the addition of a new section (PCT Rule 19.4) which provides for transmittal of an international application to the International Bureau, acting in its capacity as Receiving Office, in certain instances. Under the regulations currently in effect, at least one applicant is required, on filing the international application in the United States, to be a resident or national of the United States.

The practice under the revised PCT Regulations permits an international application filed with the United States Receiving Office to be forwarded to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office if the international application does not name an applicant who is indicated as being a U.S. resident or national, but names an applicant who is indicated as a resident or national of another PCT Contracting State or if the indication of residence or nationality of the applicant is missing. The Receiving Office of the International Bureau will consider the international application to be received as of the date accorded by the United States Receiving Office. This practice will avoid the loss of a filing date in those instances where the United States Receiving Office is not competent to act, but where the international application is filed by an applicant who is a national or resident of a PCT Contracting State. Where questions arise regarding residence and nationality, e.g., where residence and nationality are not clearly set forth, the application will be forwarded to the International Bureau as Receiving Office. If all applicants are indicated to be residents and nationals of non-PCT Contracting States, PCT Rule 19.4 does not apply and the application is denied an international filing date.

Discussion of Specific Rules

Section 1.412(c)(6) is added to reflect that the United States Receiving Office, where it is not a competent Receiving Office under PCT Rule 19.1 or 19.2, could transmit the international application to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office.

Section 1.421(a) is amended to clarify that applications filed by applicants who are not residents or nationals of the United States, but who are residents or nationals of a PCT Contracting State or who indicate no residence or nationality, will, upon timely payment of the proper fee, be forwarded to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office.

Section 1.445(a)(5) is added to establish a fee equivalent to the transmittal fee in paragraph (a)(1) of this section for transmittal of an international application to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office.

Section 10.9 is amended to add a new provision consistent with PCT Rule 90.1, clarifying that an attorney or agent having the right to practice before the International Bureau when acting as Receiving Office may represent the applicant before the U.S. International Searching Authority or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority. An individual who has the right to practice before the International Bureau when acting as Receiving Office, and who is not registered under § 10.6, may not prosecute patent applications in the national stage in the Office.

Response to Comments on The Rules

The comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking have been given careful consideration. The comments and responses are discussed below.

Comment: One comment was received which approved of the proposed rule changes but noted other aspects of the U.S. National Phase filing procedures that could be changed to make the PCT more user-friendly.

Response: The Office is interested in making the PCT more user-friendly. Amendments to §§ 1.494 and 1.495, which were effective on May 1, 1993, removed many of the differences in practice involving the filing of a regular U.S. application under 35 U.S.C. 111 and the entry of the national stage under 35 U.S.C. 371. These regulations now provide for a notice of missing requirements, similar to a notice under § 1.53(d), where a defective oath or declaration or a defective translation is filed.

Comment: Regarding § 1.412(c), one comment suggested that the proposed rule should be made consistent with PCT Rule 19.4(b) which provides for the transmittal of international applications to the International Bureau as Receiving Office "unless prescriptions concerning national security prevent the international application from being so transmitted" by incorporating such language into the proposed rule.

Response: The Office has adopted the suggestion and modified the rule by incorporating the suggested language from PCT Rule 19.4(b) in the regulation.

Comment: One comment regarding § 1.445(a)(5) mentioned that the word "competent" should be deleted because it is not "necessary and may be inaccurate" when no applicant in an international application is a "resident or national of a PCT Contracting State."

Response: The Office has adopted the suggestion and modified the rule by deleting "competent" from § 1.445(a)(5). The second occurrence of the word "competent" has also been deleted from 37 CFR § 1.412(c)(6), for the same reasons.

Comment: Regarding § 10.9(c), there were a few comments which focus on the wording. Specifically, one comment noted that the word "appointed" is confusing because it is not clear if it includes "an officer or employee of a legal-entity patent applicant" in cases where the United States of America is not designated. An example was provided which noted "if the only applicant was XYZ Company, would the president of the Company be authorized to prosecute the application before the USPTO as an International Searching and Preliminary Examining Authority? In countries permitting assignee filing it is normal for any authorized officer or employee of the company to be able to represent the company without regard as to whether he is authorized to practice as an agent or attorney before the patent office."

Response: The proposed regulation is sufficiently clear on this point. If a person has the authority to represent an applicant, either a legal entity applicant or a real person, before the International Bureau as Receiving Office, then that person has the right to represent that applicant before the United States International Searching Authority and the United States International Preliminary Examining Authority.

Comment: Another comment about Rule 10.9(c) is that the word "only" is overlimiting and should be deleted from the Rule because it excludes Article 19 amendments filed before the International Bureau. It was suggested that the Rule be changed as follows: –. . . prosecute an International Application before the United States Patent and Trademark Office acting as an International Searching or Preliminary examining Authority, . . .–.

Response: The Office will not adopt the suggestion. The word "only" in the Rule signifies that such persons may not prosecute an international application in the national stage before the USPTO. The rule is not meant to control who may practice before the International Bureau. Such a person would clearly be allowed to file Article 19 amendments with the International Bureau by virtue of PCT Rule 90.1(a)

Comment: A final comment made about Rule 10.9(c) is that the last phrase added is "too broad" because it does not recite who is entitled to act before the International Bureau. It was suggested that the rule should be changed to include the phrase –. . . for a national Office of a Contracting State of which an applicant is a resident or national– at the end of the rule.

Response: The Office has adopted the suggestion to the extent that an explicit reference to PCT Rule 83.1^{bis} has been inserted in the regulation. Since PCT Rule 83.1^{bis} clearly sets forth who may practice before the International Bureau, it is not necessary to repeat that information here. Thus, the regulation clearly sets forth who may practice before the United States International Searching and Preliminary Examining Authorities.

Other Considerations:

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. These rule changes have been determined to be not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)) , because the rules would affect only a small number of international applications and would provide more streamlined and simplified procedures for filing and prosecuting international applications under the PCT.

The Office has also determined that these rule changes have no federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes will not impose any additional burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. The paperwork burden imposed by adherence to the PCT is currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under control number 0651-0021.

List of Subjects
37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, 37 CFR Parts 1 and 10 are amended to read as follows:

Part 1 - Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6 unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.412 is amended by adding new paragraph (c)(6) to read as follows:

§ 1.412 The United States Receiving Office.

* * * * *

(c) * * *

(6) Reviewing and, where the United States Receiving Office is not the competent Receiving Office under § 1.421(a) and PCT Rule 19.1 or 19.2, transmitting the international application to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office unless prescriptions concerning national security prevent the application from being so transmitted (PCT Rule 19.4).

3. Section 1.421 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.421 Applicant for International Application.

(a) Only residents or nationals of the United States of America may file international applications in the United States Receiving Office. If an international application does not include an applicant who is indicated as being a resident or national of the United States of America, and at least one applicant:

(1) has indicated a residence or nationality in a PCT Contracting State, or

(2) has no residence or nationality indicated; applicant will be so notified and, if the international application includes a fee amount equivalent to that required by § 1.445(a)(5), the international application will be forwarded for processing to the International Bureau acting as a Receiving Office. (See also § 1.412(c)(6)).

4. Section 1.445 is amended by adding new paragraph (a)(5) to read as follows:

§ 1.445 International application filing, processing and search fees.

(a) * * *

(5) A fee equivalent to the transmittal fee in paragraph (a)(1) of this section for transmittal of an international application to the International Bureau for processing in its capacity as a Receiving Office (PCT Rule 19.4).

Proposed Changes in Procedures Relating to an Application Filing Date

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice; Request for Comments.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) requests written public comment on a proposed change in procedures relating to the treatment of prima facie incomplete applications. Currently, applications filed without all the pages of the specification or without all of the figures of the drawings are treated as prima facie incomplete and not accorded a filing date. The PTO is considering changing this procedure to accord a filing date to any application that contains something that can be construed as a written description, any necessary drawing, and a claim.
Dates: Written comments will be accepted by the PTO until January 12, 1996.
Addresses: Written comments should be addressed to Box DAC, Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231. Comments may also be sent by facsimile transmission to (703) 308-6916, with a confirmation copy mailed to the above address, or by electronic mail over the Internet to [filedate@uspto.gov].
For Further Information Contact: Robert W. Bahr by telephone at (703) 305-9285, by facsimile at (703) 308-6916, or Jeffrey V. Nase by telephone at (703) 305-9285, or by mail addressed as indicated above.

Supplementary Information

The PTO is considering changes in procedures relating to the treatment of prima facie incomplete applications. Currently, applications filed without all the pages of the specification (Section 608.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining procedure (MPEP)) (e.g., with page numbering revealing that page(s) are missing), or without all of the figures of the drawings (MPEP 608.02) (e.g., without drawing figures that are mentioned in the specification), are treated as prima facie incomplete and not accorded a filing date. The Initial Application Examination Division (formerly the Application Processing Division) in the Office of Initial Patent Examination (formerly the Office of National Application Review) mails a Notice of Incomplete Application indicating that a filing date has not been assigned to the application, and indicating that: (1) the filing date will be the date of receipt of the missing items, and (2) any assertion that the missing item was submitted, or not necessary for a filing date, must be by way of petition (with the $130 fee). MPEP 506.02. To obtain the date of deposit of the application as the filing date, the applicant must: (1) establish receipt in the PTO of the allegedly missing item (generally by way of postcard receipt in accordance with MPEP 503), in which case the petition fee is refunded, or (2) petition to have the application accepted as deposited, in which case the petition fee is not refunded.

A petition to have the application accepted as deposited requires: (a) an amendment deleting all references to the missing item and correcting the sequential numbering of the pages or drawings in the application, (b) a request to cancel the missing item, if such missing item has been submitted after the date of deposit, and (c) a supplemental oath or declaration by the applicant stating that the invention is adequately disclosed in, and a wish to rely on, the application as thus amended without the missing item and the references thereto in the specification, for purposes of an original disclosure and filing date. The supplemental oath or declaration by the applicant is a statement in writing evidencing that the applicant has been informed of the content of his or her application as filed on the original date of deposit and that the actual content has been reviewed and understood.

As a significant number of applicants are willing to accept the application without the "missing part," the procedure of requiring the applicant to file a petition to obtain the date of deposit as the filing date results in numerous filing date petitions. The preparation by applicants and the consideration by the PTO of some 3000 such petitions a year is time consuming and burdensome. In addition, in most instances there is no controversy as to the content of the prima facie incomplete application (i.e., a grantable petition requires only the above-mentioned corrective amendment(s) and supplemental oath or declaration). Finally, the $130 petition fee does not cover the administrative cost of treating such prima facie incomplete applications and petitions.

Accordingly, the PTO is considering changing the procedure for the treatment of applications filed without all the pages of the specification or without all of the figures of the drawings. These changes in practice would not require any amendment to the rules of practice.

The Initial Application Examination Division will continue to review application papers for completeness in the manner that such papers are currently reviewed.

Applications Filed Without All Drawings or Pages of Specification

There is no requirement in the statutes or regulations that an application include sequentially numbered pages, or all of the pages, or all of the drawings referred to in the specification to obtain a filing date. That is, while 37 CFR 1.52(b) provides that the pages of the application should be numbered consecutively, the regulations do not provide that compliance with 37 CFR 1.52 is necessary to obtain a filing date. Therefore, applications which contain something that can be construed as a written description, where drawing figure(s) are referred to in the written description, at least one drawing figure, and at least one claim, but are filed with page numbering revealing that page(s) are missing or without all of the drawing figures which are mentioned in the specification will be treated by mailing a notice that indicates that the application papers so deposited have been accorded a filing date, but are lacking some of the pages of specification or drawings described in the specification. The mailing of such a notice will permit applicants to either: (1) promptly establish prior receipt in the PTO of the item(s), or (2) promptly submit the omitted item(s) and request a later filing date.

The notice will also indicate that:

(a) an applicant asserting that the mentioned item was in fact deposited in the PTO with the application papers must file a petition (and $130 petition fee, which will be refunded if it is determined that the item was in fact received by the PTO) with evidence of such deposit within two months of the date of the notice (37 CFR 1.181(f)),

(b) an applicant desiring to "complete" the application and accept the date of completion as the filing date must file any missing items (with a supplemental declaration referring to such items) and a petition under 37 CFR 1.182 (with the $130 petition fee) requesting the later filing date within two months of the date of the notice (37 CFR 1.181(f)), and

(c) an applicant willing to accept the application as deposited in the PTO need not respond to the notice, and the failure to file a petition (and $130 petition fee) under options (a) or (b) above within two months of the date of the notice (37 CFR 1.181(f)) will be treated as a constructive acceptance by the applicant of the application as deposited in the PTO.

The application will be retained in the Initial Application Examination Division for a period of two months from the mailing date of such a notice to permit the applicant to either establish prior receipt in the PTO of the item(s), or submit the omitted item(s) and request a later filing date within this two-month time period. As an applicant may, but is not required to, respond to such a notice, extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136 will not be applicable to this two-month time period. At the expiration of this two-month non-extendable time period the application will be forwarded to the appropriate examining group for examination of the application. The application will be accorded a filing date as of the date of deposit of the application papers in the PTO. The original application papers (i.e., the original disclosure of the invention) will include only those application papers present in the PTO on the date of deposit.

Due to the effect that a loss of filing date can have on an application, currently the PTO generally treats untimely filing date petitions on their merits since the application, as incomplete, will have undergone no further processing or examination. In the procedure set forth in this notice, however, the PTO will strictly adhere to the two-month period set forth in 37 CFR 1.181(f), and dismiss as untimely any petition not filed within this two-month period. This strict adherence to the two-month period set forth in 37 CFR 1.181(f) is necessary since: (1) such applications will now be forwarded for examination at the end of this two-month period, (2) according the application a filing date later than the date of deposit may affect the date of expiration of any patent issuing on the application under Public Law 103-465, and (3) the filing of a continuation-in-part application is a sufficiently equivalent mechanism for adding additional subject matter to avoid the loss of patent rights.

Applications Filed Without at Least One Claim

35 U.S.C. 111(a)(2) provides, in part, that an "application shall include (A) a specification as prescribed by section 112 of this title; (B) a drawing as prescribed by section 113 of this title; and (C) an oath by the applicant as prescribed by section 115 of this title," and 35 U.S.C. 111(a)(4) provides that the "filing date of an application shall be the date on which the specification and any required drawing are received in the Patent and Trademark Office." 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, provides that "[t]he specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention." Therefore, 35 U.S.C. 111 and 112, second paragraph, provide that the filing date of an application is that date on which a specification including at least one claim(s) is filed in the PTO. In re Mattson, 208 USPQ 168 (Comm'r Pat 1980). since a claim is a statutory requirement for a filing date, applications filed without a claim will not be accorded a filing date. In situations in which an application is filed without a claim, the Initial Application Examination Division will continue to mail a notice of Incomplete Application, and the treatment of such applications will remain unchanged.

Applications Filed Without Any Drawings

35 U.S.C. 111(a)(2) provides, in part, that an "application shall include . . . a drawing as prescribed by section 113 of this title" and 35 U.S.C. 111(a)(4) provides, in part, that the "filing date of an application shall be the date on which the specification and any required drawing are received in the Patent and Trademark Office." 35 U.S.C. 113 in turn provides that an "applicant shall furnish a drawing where necessary for the understanding of the subject matter sought to be patented." Drawings are usually not necessary for an understanding of the subject matter in process and composition applications (i.e., applications having claims directed to a process or composition (MPEP 608.02)). As such, applications having at least one process or composition claim and describing drawing figures in the specification, but filed without drawings, will be treated as an application filed without all of the drawings referred to in the specification as discussed above and processed for examination. Applications having at least one process or composition claim which do not describe drawing figures in the specification will simply be processed for examination. In a situation in which the appropriate examining group determines that drawings are necessary under 35 U.S.C. 113, the filing date issue will then be reconsidered on reference from the examining group.

In design applications, the Initial Application Examination Division will continue to mail a notice of Incomplete Application indicating that the application lacks the drawings required under 35 U.S.C. 113, and the applicant may: (a) file a petition (and $130 fee) asserting that the missing item was submitted, or not necessary for a filing date, or (b) "complete" the application and accept the date of completion as the filing date.

(120) Training Materials on the Final Utility Examination Guidelines are Available

Copies of materials developed to train Examiners on how to apply the Final Utility guidelines are now available to the public.

On January 3, 1995 the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) published in the Federal Register (60 FR 97) proposed utility examination guidelines establishing the policies and procedures to be followed by Examiners when examining applications for compliance with the utility requirement of 35 U.S.C. § 101. Comments from interested members of the public were requested at that time. On July 14, 1995 the PTO published in the Federal Register (60 FR 36263) the final version of the guidelines to be used by Office personnel in their review of patent applications for compliance with the utility requirement of 35 U.S.C. § 101 and 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph.

Training materials to supplement the Legal Analysis and Utility Examination Guidelines are now available. The training materials include a brief synopsis designed to give quick generic guidance with regard to the most common situations where a question of utility under 35 U.S.C. § 101 and 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph might arise. Examples which are frequent in the examining groups are presented for each of the six categories identified and have been drafted as raising various questions concerning the utility examination guidelines.

Requests for paper copies submitted by mail should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, marked to the attention of Jeff Kushan, Box 4, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231. Requests in person may be submitted in Room 902, Two Crystal Park, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia. Requests may also be submitted by telephone at (703) 305-9300 and by telefax at (703) 305-8885.

The training materials are available for retrieval from the Internet (address: www.uspto.gov) or File Transfer Protocol (address: ftp.uspto.gov). This material can also be accessed on the PTO Bulletin Board System at (703) 305-8950 by using a computer with a modem and telecommunication software set at any speed from 1200 to 9600 baud, 8 character bits, no parity, and 1 start/stop bit.

(121) Patent Examiner Legal Training

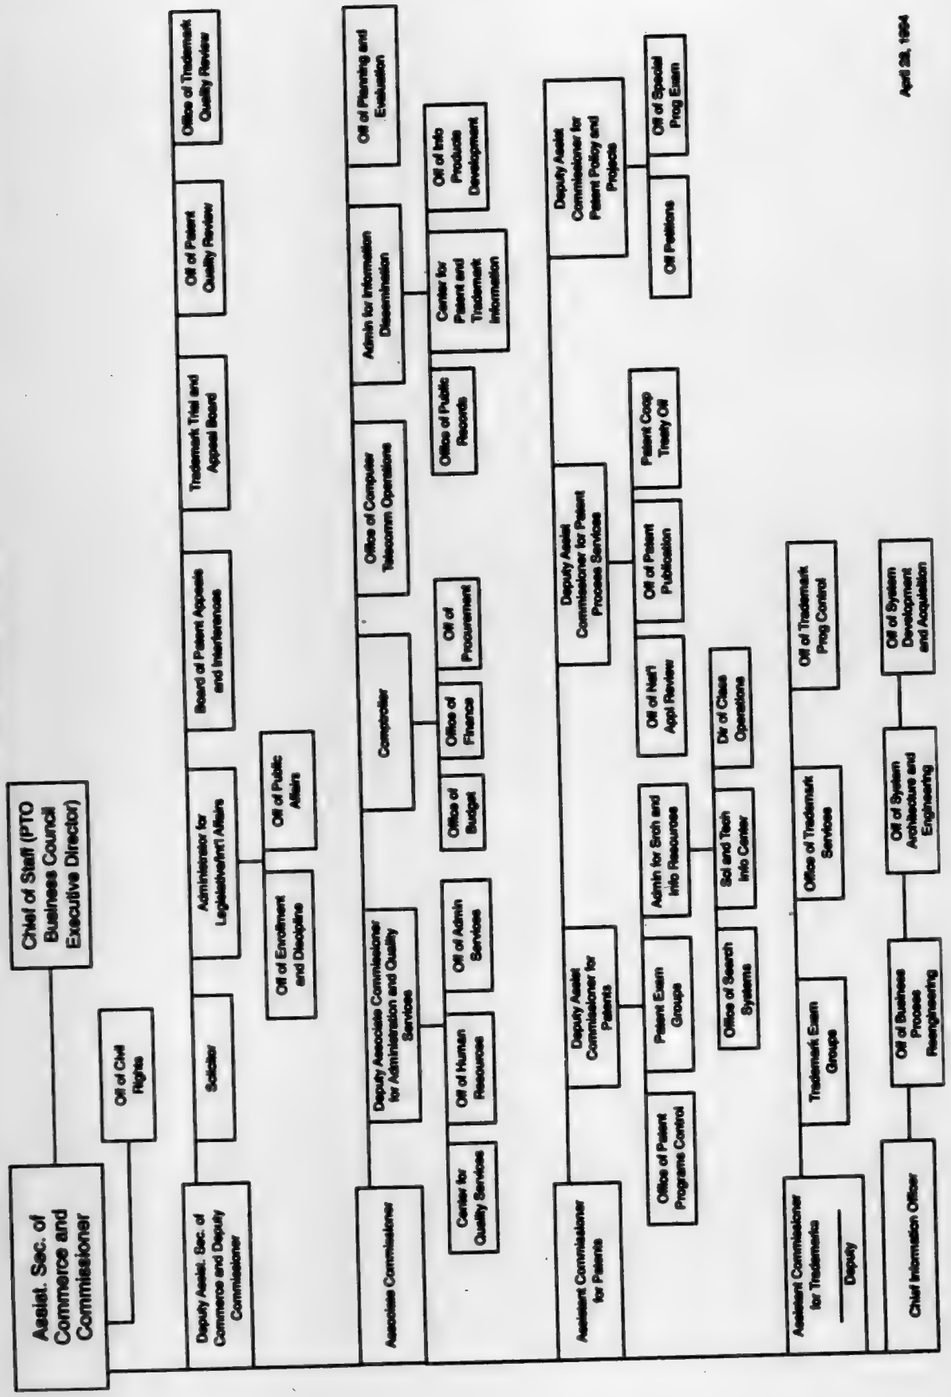
In a notice which first appeared in the Official Gazette dated April 25, 1995 (1173 OG 426), the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) set forth its intention to establish a Juris Masters (JM) Program to improve the legal competency of its patent professionals. That notice described the Program concept and requested public comment. In response to the notice, a total of four (4) written comments were received.

Based upon the comments received, PTO has determined that a legal studies program consisting of 6 or 7 core law school courses such as contracts, evidence and constitutional law should be offered as part of a JM Program. Consequently, the PTO has entered into an interagency agreement with the Department of Agriculture Graduate School (hereafter USDA) to arrange for an accredited law school to teach the courses and administer the JM Program.



Any accredited law school interested in participating in the Program or seeking further information should contact John Wells of the USDA Graduate School at (703) 308-5306 no later than October 31, 1995.

TRADEMARK APPLICATION EXAMINATION AND CONTENT

(122) Interviews Involving Trademark Application

Interviews frequently result in a better understanding of the issues involved, shorten the prosecution and facilitate disposal of applications.

Interviews for discussion of registrability of the mark of a pending application will not be had before the first official Office action thereon and ordinarily not before filing the first response. Arrangements for an interview should be made in advance so that the Examiner may review the case and be familiar with the details involved.

Interviews on Friday will no longer be prohibited as a matter of policy but all interviews should be set at a time satisfactory to all parties concerned.

A memorandum summarizing the conclusions reached at the interview should be prepared by the Examiner and placed in the application file. The memorandum will be retained in the application file until the prosecution is completed. Such procedure will not, however, relieve the applicant of the responsibility of complying with the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.62.

(123) Trademark Examining Procedure for Amended Applications; Reporting Oldest Dates of Amended Trademark Applications

Effective immediately, the order in which amendments to trademark applications are examined is changed. Previously, Examiners have usually acted on amended cases in order of filing date of the application which the amendment concerned, i.e., amended cases with the oldest filing date were examined first. Under the new procedure, amended cases will normally be examined in the order in which the amendment or other response is received, i.e., amendments that are received first will normally be examined first.

Effective with this issue of the Official Gazette (Trademark Section) in order to reflect more accurately the condition of division dockets, the column reporting the date of the oldest amended application in each division has been changed to indicate the date of receipt of the oldest filed amendment. Under this new method of reporting the oldest date of receipt of a filed amendment upon which no action has been taken by an Examiner will be indicated for each division of the Trademark Examining Operation.

(124) Trademark Office Actions

Effective immediately Applicants or their attorneys will be provided with only one carbon copy of any office action, and the mailing of an additional carbon copy will be discontinued.

This change is consistent with the current practice in the patent examining operations and should result in greater efficiency in the preparation and mailing of office actions.

Feb. 7, 1972 — ROBERT GOTTSCHALK, Commissioner of Patents

[895 O.G. TM 238]

(125) Petition to Make Trademark Applications Special

The practice of expediting the prosecution of new trademark applications on request of the applicant (accelerated prosecution) was rescinded, effective Aug. 1, 1971 (36 F.R. 13231, July 16, 1971; 825 O.G. 2). This action was taken after a careful study of the practice, including a recommendation of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs that the Patent Office terminate accelerated prosecution of trademark applications. The study considered both the effect of the procedure on the workload of the Trademark Operations and the broader interest of examining trademark applications in an order which is equitable to all applicants.

Since the termination of this practice, the Office has experienced some increase in the number of petitions requesting the Commissioner to invoke his supervisory authority pursuant to Rule 2.146 in order to advance the examination of applications out of their regular order. This was to be expected since applicants who might have been able to show special circumstances entitling them to advanced examination could previously achieve this special treatment without resorting to a petition. However, some of the petitions now being received are not considered sufficient to justify the extraordinary relief of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner for the purpose of advancing the applications out of their regular order.

In particular, a number of such petitions have been based on the ground that the applicant is about to embark on an advertising campaign or to commit advertising or promotional expenditures in which the mark applied for is material. Such a ground is not considered to constitute appropriate circumstances justifying the advancement of the application out of its regular turn and the petitions based on such ground have been and will continue to be denied. The principal reason for the denial is that these circumstances are applicable to a substantial portion of the trademark applications filed in the Patent Office. The supervisory authority of the Commissioner should be exercised only where an extraordinary reason for such action has been disclosed. See Anderson & Dyer v. Lewry, 89 O.G. 1861, 1899 C.D. 230, and Wilputte v. Van Ackeren, 103 USPQ 235. Thus, the extraordinary remedy of invoking the supervisory authority of the Commissioner is not considered appropriate under these circumstances.

In the interest of equitable treatment of all applicants, the policy of the Office in granting such petitions will be restricted to those cases in which particular and very special circumstances exist, such as a demonstrable possibility of loss of substantial rights, rather than circumstances which would be equally applicable to a large number of other applicants for trademark registration.

(126) Title 37-Patents, Trademarks, and Copyrights

Chapter I-Patent Office, Department of Commerce

Parts 2 and 6-Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases
International Trademark Classification

A proposal was published at 37 F.R. 6404 to revise § 6.1 of the Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases. The Patent Office proposed to establish the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (the subject of the "Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks" of 1957, as revised at Stockholm on July 14, 1967) as the primary classification of goods and services for registration of trademarks and service marks. Pursuant to the Notice, written comments have been received, and a public hearing was held on June 14, 1972. Full consideration has been given to all matter presented, and changes in the text of the original proposal have been made in view thereof. It has been determined that adoption of the international classification system is desirable.

The Patent Office has studied the international classification and, since Mar. 5, 1968, has indicated the appropriate international class in all publications and on all issued registrations and renewals as a subsidiary classification. Based on this experience and the comments received, it is now believed that adoption of the international schedule as the primary classification system is desirable. The international system is easier to administer because of fewer classes of goods and the availability of an alphabetical listing of goods and services.

The Nice Agreement provides for an International Committee of Experts whose objective is to keep the classification current. The classification of specific goods and services is set forth in the Alphabetical List entitled "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" (published by the World Intellectual Property Organization). In addition, the International Trademark Classification List contains the names of the classes setting forth the basic contents of each class. The Alphabetical List also comprises explanatory notes which serve as guidelines for determining the appropriate international class for a specific product or service.

The alphabetical listing within the International Trademark Classification Manual is currently used by the Office as a guideline for determining the degree of particularity of identification of goods. See "Identification of Goods and Services in Trademark Applications," 36 F.R. 13232; July 16, 1971.

Applications for registrations filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, and registrations issuing thereon, will be classified according to the international classification set forth in the new § 6.1. Accordingly, the international classification is adopted under Section 30 of the Trademark Act of all purposes under the statute and rules; and, therefore, will be the criterion for determining, inter alia, fees.

Applications for the registration of marks filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, appeals or petitions to revive or oppositions filed in connection with said applications, and affidavits, renewals and petitions for cancellation filed in connection with registrations issuing thereon, will continue to be processed under the classification system existing at the time the mark was registered.

All applications which are published and registrations which are issued will carry both the appropriate international classification and existing U.S. classification number.

An insufficient fee, in connection with an appeal or opposition on any application or in connection with an affidavit or renewal filed in connection with any registration, will not render the same unacceptable, if the proper fee is submitted within a time limit set forth in a notification of the defect, providing the proper fee for at least one class has been originally submitted within the applicable time limit. This will be the case even if the full fee is not received within the sixth year in the case of an affidavit filed under Section 8 or before the end of the twentieth year, including the grace period, in the case of renewal applications, or within the six-month statutory response period in the case of an appeal, or within the thirty-day opposition period, or any extension thereof in the case of the filing of an opposition.

The existing classification system will continue to be used for searching registered and pending marks until all documents in the search file are organized on the basis of the international system of classification. Until this changeover is effected, the U.S. class designation will continue to be printed on all published applications and registrations issued under the existing or the international classification system to facilitate searching on the basis of the existing U.S. system of classification.

Until all applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, have been disposed of, the trademark sections of the Official Gazette, which are organized by class, will include two sections: one for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or before Aug. 31, 1973, organized by class according to the U.S. schedule of classes; the other section for applications published or registrations issued on the basis of applications filed on or after Sept. 1, 1973, organized by class according to the new international schedule.

Certification marks and collective membership marks will continue to be classified as set forth in redesignated §§ 6.3 and 6.4.

Efforts will be made to have the International Trademark Classification List printed by the Government Printing Office or otherwise assure the availability of the List from local sources. Notification will appear in the Official Gazette when the List is available from local sources of the Government Printing Office.

The English edition of the "International Classification of Goods and Services to Which Trademarks Are Applied" can presently be ordered from:

Sales Branch, The Patent Office, Block C
Station Square House, St. Mary Cray
Orpington, Kent, England

Certain modifications and additions to the international trademark classification have been published as supplements and are also available from the British Office. In addition, and inasmuch as the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) has issued the List in several languages, it is anticipated that an English version will be published by that organization.

We have been advised by the Patent Office of the United Kingdom that the only acceptable methods of payment for the International Trademark Classification List are by International Postal Money Order or by banker's draft payable in sterling and drawn on a bank in the United Kingdom.

(127) Wording In Verification or Declaration of Trademark Application

Applicants and attorneys are requested to use the following wording in the part of the verification or declaration of the trademark application which indicates the signer's belief that the mark applied for does not resemble another person's mark:

> —that no other person, firm, corporation, or association, to the best of his knowledge and belief, has the right to use such mark in commerce either in the identical form thereof or in such near resemblance thereto as to be likely when applied to the goods of such other person, to cause confusion, or cause likely, mistake, or to deceive: —

The wording emphasized conforms to the language of both Sections 1(a)(1) and 2(d) of the Trademark Act of 1946.

Some applicants and attorneys, instead of using the wording emphasized above, are still using the now obsolete wording "as might be calculated to deceive" which was promulgated in the forms under the Trademark Act of 1905 and inadvertently continued by the Act of 1946 up to October 1962 in Section 1(a)(1) and in the forms connected with the Act. Section 1(a)(1) of the 1946 Act was amended by Act of October 9, 1962 (Public Law 772, 87th Congress, 76 Stat. 769) to conform it to the language of Section 2(d) of the 1946 Act, since the language of Section 2(d) reflects the thinking at the time the 1946 Act was written. The wording of the trademark forms for the 1946 Act has also been amended appropriately.

It is desirable that proper wording be used. However, since the differences in wording referred to above are considered to be differences of form rather than of substance. Examiners will not require new verifications or declarations. When the obsolete wording is observed and a letter is to be written for other reasons, Examiners will at that time call attention to the fact that the wording is obsolete and should be modified in applications in the future.

(128) Standardized Disclaimers

Beginning with the Nov. 9, 1982 issue of the Official Gazette, disclaimers in marks published for opposition and in those registered on the Supplemental Register will be printed in a standardized form, regardless of the text submitted. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Supplemental Register will also contain the standardized disclaimer as of that date. Certificates of registration for marks issued on the Principal Register will contain the uniform statement beginning Feb. 1, 1983. The disclaimed matter will be taken from the disclaimer of record and inserted into a standardized disclaimer for printing and data base purposes. The new disclaimer text will take the following form:

No claim is made to the exclusive right to use , apart from the mark as shown.

(129) Trademark "Revivals" and "Reinstatements"

It would be of great assistance to the Office if the heading or caption of "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications carried the following identifying data:

1. Address Paper to the Attention of:
   Office of Director, Trademark Examining Operation
2. Serial Number
3. Mark
4. Applicant's Name
5. A title indicating the nature of the paper

Use of this heading for "Petitions to Revive" or "Requests for Reinstatement" of abandoned trademark applications will help ensure that the papers are promptly routed to the proper Office, which will prevent needless delay in its consideration.

(130) T-Search Printouts as Section 2(d) References

As part of its ongoing automation program, the PTO is pleased to announce that on or about July 1, 1986, Trademark Examining Attorneys will use the automated Trademark search system (T-Search) exclusively for searching word marks. The Examining Attorneys will use computer printouts to advise applicants about Section 2(d) references. The printouts will include computer-generated facsimiles of the drawing where appropriate. The printouts will be used for word marks, whether the word is depicted in a typed drawing or in stylized form. Photocopies of certificates of registration will continue to be used for design marks.

The Patent and Trademark Office, in consultation with the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, has established accuracy standards for the computerized data. Data elements which are not essential for examiner searching are being systematically checked and corrected. The following data elements which are essential for examiner searching purposes are essentially complete:

1. MARK
2. SERIAL NUMBER
3. REGISTRATION NUMBER
4. FILING DATE
5. REGISTRATION DATE
6. GOODS AND SERVICES
7. INTERNATIONAL CLASS
8. U.S. CLASS

Subject to the above caveat, the printouts will contain all the information that appears on the certificate of registration with one exception. If an application for registration was based on Section 44, 15 U.S.C. 1126, the printout will indicate that the registration or application was filed under the provisions of Section 44 (using the notation "SECT 44"). The printout will also show the priority date if the application was filed under the provisions of Section 44(d). However, it will not indicate the country or certificate number of the foreign registration on which the U.S. registration was based.

The printouts will also contain additional registration information which was not provided under the non-automated system, as follows:

A. Change in registration—This will indicate that a registration was changed after registration, such as by an amendment of the mark or identification of goods/services. The current information will be displayed in the printout.

B. Affidavits—This indicates that a Section 8 affidavit of continued use was accepted, that a Section 15 affidavit of incontestability was acknowledged, or that a mark was republished under the provisions of Section 12(c).

C. Renewals—Applicable renewal information, such as "1st Renewal" or "2nd Renewal" will be shown.

D. Owner—In addition to listing the original registrant, the last known owner, as the change of ownership is acknowledged by the Office by virtue of examining an affidavit or renewal, will be included.

The following provides an explanation of the terms/symbols used in the printout:

1. Goods or services appearing in double parentheses "(( ))" were not included in a Section 15 affidavit.
2. Goods or services appearing in brackets "[ ]" were deleted after registration by amendment, correction, restriction or at the time of renewal.
3. Dates will appear as year, month and day. For example, June 20, 1983 will appear as 1983.06.20.
4. Goods and services will be indicated with the international class (IC), the prior U.S. classification (US), the identification, date of first use and date of first use in commerce.
5. Registrants (OWNER) will be listed showing the owner's name, entity designation (e.g., individual, partnership, corporation), country of citizenship or state or country of incorporation, and address.
6. Pseudo mark—This material is merely a search aid and has no bearing on the registration information.
7. Design search code—This is also merely an aid for computerized searching of design marks, by which a number is assigned to describe a particular design element. It has no bearing on the registration information.
8. Mark drawing code—This indicates the appearance of the mark, and again is not part of the registration data. There are six mark drawing codes.
   1—typed drawing
   2—design only
   3—words, letters and/or numbers and design

4—words, letters and/or number in block form (block letters; not typed drawing)
5—words, letters and/or numbers in a stylized form
6—sound marks

An example of a computer printout and a facsimile of a stylized word mark follow.

(131) Nonregistrability of Misleading Geographic Indications—Amendment of the Trademark Act by the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act

Article 1712 of the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) requires the United States, Canada and Mexico to prohibit the use or Trademark registration of geographical indications in connection with goods that do not originate in the indicated territory, region or locality, if the public would be misled as to the geographical origin of the goods.1

President Clinton signed the "North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act," Public Law 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057, on Dec. 8, 1993. The legislation. amending Sections 2(e), 2(f) and 23(a) of the Trademark Act, applies to applications filed on or after Dec. 8, 1993, and took effect on Jan. 1, 1994. The Act, entitled "An Act to provide for the registration and protection of trademarks in commerce, to carry out the provisions of certain international conventions, and for other purposes," approved July 5, 1946, commonly referred to as the Trademark Act of 1946, has been amended as indicated. Amendments are shown in italics:

I. Subsection 2(e) (15 U.S.C. 1052(e)):

"(e) Consists of a mark which (1) when used on or in connection with the goods of the applicant is merely descriptive or deceptively misdescriptive of them, (2) when used on or in connection with the goods of the applicant is primarily geographically descriptive of them, except as indications of regional origin may be registrable under section 4, (3) when used on or in connection with the goods of the applicant is primarily geographically deceptively misdescriptive of them, or (4) is primarily merely a surname."

II. Subsection (f) (15 U.S.C. 1052(f)):

"(f) Except as expressly excluded in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e)(3) of this section, nothing herein shall prevent the registration of a mark used by the applicant which has become distinctive of the applicant's goods in commerce. The Commissioner may accept as prima facie evidence that the mark has become distinctive, as used on or in connection with the applicant's goods in commerce, proof of substantially exclusive and continuous use thereof as a mark by the applicant in commerce for the five years before the date on which the claim of distinctiveness is made. Nothing in this section shall prevent the registration of a mark which, when used on or in connection with the goods of the goods of the applicant, is primarily geographically deceptively misdescriptive of them, and which became distinctive of the applicant's goods in commerce before the date of the enactment of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act."

III. Section 23(a)(15 U.S.C 1091(a)):

"(a) In addition to the principle register, the Commissioner shall keep a continuation of the register provided in paragraph (b) of section 1 of the Act of March 19, 1920, entitled "An Act to give effect to certain provisions of the convention for the protection of trademarks and commercial names, made and signed in the city of Buenos Aires, in the Argentine Republic, August 20, 1910, and for other purposes", to be called the supplemental register. All marks capable of distinguishing applicant's goods or services and not register herein provided, except those declared to be unregistrable under subsections (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e)(3) of section 2 of this Act, which are in lawful use in commerce by the owner thereof, on or in connection with any goods or services may be registered on the supplemental register upon the payment of the prescribed fee and compliance with the provisions of subsections (a) and (e) of section 1 so far as they are applicable. Nothing in this section shall prevent the registration on the supplemental register of a mark, capable of distinguishing the applicant's goods or services and not registrable on the principal register under this Act, that is declared to be unregistrable under section 2(e)(3), if such mark has been in lawful use in commerce by the owner thereof, on or in connection with any goods or services, since before the date of the enactment of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act."

A mark which is unregistrable on the Principal Register under 2(e)(3) of the Trademark Act, as amended, on the ground that it is primarily geographically deceptively misdescriptive of the goods or services, may be registered under 2(f) only if it became distinctive of the goods or services in commerce before December 8, 1993. Similarly, such a mark, capable of distinguishing the applicant's goods or services, may be registered on the Supplemental Register only if it has been in lawful use in commerce by the owner since before December 8, 1993. A mark that is unregistrable under 2 (e)(3) because it contains matter which is primarily geographically deceptively misdescriptive of the goods or services will not be rendered registrable by a disclaimer of the geographically deceptively misdescriptive component. Matter which is primarily geographically deceptively misdescrip- tive may be omitted or deleted from the drawing in appropriate cases.

1 The Article also prohibits any use constituting unfair competition within the meaning of Article 10bis (Unfair Competition) of the Paris Convention.

(132) Department of Commerce Patent and Trademark Office

U.S. Patent and Trademark Office Trademark Examining Groups

EXAMINATION GUIDE NO. 1 - 95

Issued April 14, 1995

A. Examiner's Amendments
B. Assertion of Use in "Interstate Commerce" by Foreign Applicants
C. Prior U.S. Classification
D. Disclaimers
E. Signatory Identified as Officer of Corporate Applicant
F. Apparent Discrepancies Between Dates of Use and Execution Dates

A. Examiner's Amendments

Previously, in order to initiate most examiners amendments, examining attorneys were required to contact the applicant or its attorney for approval. Examiner's amendments without the applicant's or attorney's authorization were permitted only for changes in classification prior to publication. TMEP §§ 1111 and 1111.02. Examining attorneys may now exercise discretion to amend applications by examiner's amendment without the applicant's prior approval in the following situations:

1. changes to international classification, except where the change is made after publication and the change would require republication of the mark;

2. deletion of "TM," "SM," "©" or "®" from the drawing;

3. addition of a formal description of the mark where it is necessary and where the record already contains an informal indication of what the mark comprises;

example: The cover letter with the application refers to the mark as a stylized golf ball design. If appropriate, the examining attorney could enter an amendment that "the mark consists of the stylized design of a golf ball."

4. amendment of the application to clarify that the mark is in typed form when the record clearly indicates that the drawing is supposed to be in typed form;

5. amendment of the method-of-use clause to insert a reference to the use shown by the specimens (including substitute specimens), when the application includes a method-of-use clause that does not refer to such use (The method-of-use clause need not be amended, however, if it specifies use "in other ways customary in the trade," and the specimens show a type of use customary in the trade, or if the clause includes other language that encompasses the use shown by the specimens.);

6. addition of lining and stippling statements, other than color lining statements, where such a statement is necessary, and where the significance of the lining or stippling is indicated by specimens or other information of record;

7. correction of obvious misspellings in the identification of goods and services.

example: The goods are recited as "T-shurtz." The examining attorney could amend to "T-shirts." However, "shirtz" could not be amended to "shirts" without calling the applicant, because "shirtz" might also be a misspelling of "shorts."

Disregard TMEP § 1111 to the extent that it conflicts with the above policy. Examining attorneys should continue to secure the applicant's approval for the above changes if calling the applicant on other matters, or if the record contains any ambiguity as to the applicant's intent.

Any applicant who disagrees with any of these changes should contact the examining attorney promptly after receipt of the examiner's amendment. See: TMEP § 804.10(d).

B. Assertion of Use in "Interstate Commerce" by Foreign Applicants

Examining Attorneys should discontinue issuing inquiries concerning the assertion of use in "interstate commerce" by foreign applicants under TMEP § 904.03(c).

C. Prior U.S. Classification

Examining attorneys no longer need to determine or enter the "correct" U.S. classes for goods and services. Effective March 2, 1995, all U.S. classes are automatically assigned by TRAM-2 based upon the International Class that has been assigned to the goods or services.

Whenever an International Class is added, dropped, or changed, TRAM-2 will update the U.S. Class with an automated table. Examining attorneys not only are not expected to modify the U.S. Class listing, but are not able to amend this field. This applies whether the amendment arises in a response or through an examiner's amendment.

D. Disclaimers

A disclaimer may be limited to pertain to only certain classes or certain goods or services.

E. Signatory Identified as Officer of Corporate Applicant

If the individual who signed an application or other document on behalf of a corporate applicant is identified as an officer of the applicant, the examining attorney need not require that the applicant specify the particular office held by that person. Disregard TMEP § 803.09 to the extent that it conflicts with this policy.

F. Apparent Discrepancies Between Dates of Use and Execution Dates

If an application, amendment to allege use or statement of use specifies a date of first use or first use in commerce only by the year, or by the month and year, and the date would be interpreted, according to TMEP § 904.07, as later than the date on which the document was signed, the Office will now presume that the date specified is the date of signing of the application, amendment to allege use or statement of use. In this case, it is unnecessary to amend to indicate the date more specifically or to secure a new declaration.

(133) Trademark Drawings

Effective July 3, 1989, the requirement of Trademark Rule 2.52(c) (37 CFR 2.52(c)) that drawings in trademark applications be limited in size to 4 inches by 4 inches will be strictly enforced for the purpose of assigning a filing date, pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(3) (37 CFR § 2.21(a)(3)). [This notice rescinds the prior notice concerning this issue in the Official Gazette of June 30, 1987, at 1079 TMOG 12.]

The drawing size limitation is necessary to permit entry of the drawing in the automated trademark search system (T-Search) as soon as possible after receipt of the application by the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO). Oversized or poor quality drawings require additional processing before they can be digitized (copied) and entered in T-Search. If the PTO must reduce a drawing, not only is there often a loss of detail and overall drawing quality, but drawing reduction processing lengthens the time before the mark and information about the application are available to the public. Furthermore, an oversized drawing that is not reduced by the PTO cannot be scanned in its entirety for entry in T-Search, resulting in the possible loss of portions of the mark.

Enforcement of the drawing size limitation rule as a requirement for receipt of a filing date will permit the PTO to expedite application processing and permit the applicant to control the reduction process and, thus, control the quality of the representation of the mark as it will appear in T-Search, in the Official Gazette, and on the registration certificate.

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U.S.C. 1051)] will be implemented on Nov. 16, 1989. Two important provisions of the new law are that (1) an application for registration of the Principal Register may be filed based upon a bona fide intention to use a mark in commerce (15 U.S.C. 1051(b), as amended), and (2) for all applications filed on or after Nov. 16, 1989, upon the registration of a mark on the Principal Register, the application filing date becomes a constructive date of first use of the mark (15 U.S.C. 1057(c), as amended). Therefore, expedited processing to permit timely public notification of the filing of an application on the Principal Register will be particularly important.

(134) Trademark Drawing Requirements Trademark Rule 2.52, 37 C.F.R. § 2.52

For an application to satisfy the filing date requirement under Trademark Rule 2.21(a)(3), 37 C.F.R. § 2.21(a)(3), it must include a drawing of the mark substantially meeting all the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.52, 37 C.F.R. § 2.52. Because the granting of a filing date to an application potentially establishes a date of constructive use of the mark, timely public notification of the filing of applications is important. Marks must be accurately and expeditiously entered into the automated search system and filed in the Trademark Search Library.

The purpose of this notice is to identify recurring problems which have resulted in the loss of filing dates for failure to comply with Rule 2.21(a)(3).

Color in the Mark

Rule 2.52(a) requires that every line and letter in a drawing, including color lining and lines used for shading, must be black. Color in a mark can be shown only by using the linings depicted in the color chart in Rule 2.52(e). This requirement is strictly enforced. The Office denies filing dates to applications where color appears on the drawing.

Drawing Size

The requirement of Rule 2.52(c) that the mark on a drawing be limited in size to 4 inches wide by 4 inches high continues to be strictly enforced. In re Fuller-Jeffrey Broadcasting Corp. of Santa Rosa, 16 USPQ2d 1456 (Comm'r Pats. 1990). See Official Gazette Notice at 1102 TMOG 6.

Two Drawings Submitted With One Application

A single application may seek registration of only one mark. Therefore, as a matter of policy, the Office denies a filing date to any application which is accompanied by two drawing, each displaying a different mark.

Heading

Rule 2.52(d) requires that the drawing include a heading which lists the applicant's name and address, the goods and services, the dates of first use of the mark for an application based on use in commerce under 15 U.S.C. § 1051(a), and the priority filing date for an application based upon a foreign application under 15 U.S.C § 1126(d). If the heading is ommitted in its entirety, a filing date is denied to the application. See In re Hackmack, 16 USPQ2d 1895 (Comm'r Pats. 1990).

Two Page Drawings in Trademark Applications

The Office denies a filing date to any application in which the mark does not appear on the first page of the drawing.

Rule 2.52(d) requires that the drawing include a heading which lists, among other things, the goods and services for which registration is sought; and Rule 2.52(c) requires that there be a margin of at least one inch on the sides and bottom of the paper, and at least one inch between the mark and the heading.

Implicit in Rule 2.52 is a requirement that the mark and heading appear on a single page, in all but the most exceptional circumstances. There is an administrative need for a filing system that utilizes single page drawings, to expedite filing of mark drawings in the Trademark Search Library and entry of accurate information into the automated database. More importantly, there is a risk that the individual pages from multi-page drawings might become detached and separated in the Index of Pending Applications.

Historically, the Office has permitted the filing of drawings in which the heading continues onto a second page only where the goods and services covered by the application are so numerous that they cannot be listed within the heading margins on a single page. Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure § 807.02.

Although the Office prefers that the identification of goods or services in such cases be abbreviated so that the entire drawing will fit onto one page, the Office will continue to accept drawings on which the list of goods or services continues onto a second page, in appropriate circumstances.

If the goods and services are abbreviated in the drawing heading, as recommened here, this will in no way limit the goods and services covered by the application. For purposes of determining the goods and services covered by an application, the written application is always controlling. See In re Tokiwa Mfg. Co. Ltd., 21 USPQ2d 1395 (Comm'r Pats. 1991).

If an applicant deems it to be necessary, the heading of a drawing may be continued onto a second page. However, in all cases, the mark and a portion of the heading must appear on the first sheet. The Office denies a filing date to any application which fails to display the mark, in accordance with the size and margin requirements of Rule 2.52(c), on the first page of the drawing. This requirement is strictly enforced.

(135) Waiver of Trademark Rule 2.76(a)

Trademark Rule 2.76(a) now provides that an intent-to-use application under Section 1(b) of the Trademark Act may be amended to allege use of the mark in commerce, under Section 1(c) of the Act, at any time between the filing date of the application and either (1) the date the examining attorney approves the mark for publication or (2) the date of the expiration of the six-month period after issuance of a final refusal. Thus, if the examining attorney issues a final refusal and the applicant files an appeal to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board six months thereafter, any amendment to allege use filed subsequently is considered untimely.

The Patent and Trademark Office has now had several years' experience with intent-to-use applications and with the filing of amendments to allege use and has had an opportunity to observe the effect of this rule in connection with the appeal process. We have found that the strict time limit set by the rule has forced some applicants to pursue appeals that might otherwise have been dismissed as moot. Thus, a Section 1(b) intent-to-use applicant cannot under the present rule, obtain a remand of its application from the Board to the examining attorney to allow consideration of an amendment to the Supplemental Register or a claim of acquired distinctiveness under Section 2(f). Even though such a remand is likely to lead to registration or to publication of the mark for opposition the Board may not grant the request for remand unless the applicant filed an amendment to allege use before the expiration of the unable to grant remand, because use of the mark is a prerequisite to registration on the Supplemental Register and Rule 2.76(a) precludes the applicant from filing an amendment to allege use. The same result would follow where an intent-to-use applicant sought to assert acquired distinctiveness under Section 2(f). Because the Board has no discretion to remand applications in such situations, the rule has worked to delay or frustrate the registration process.

Accordingly, application of Rule 2.76(a) is hereby waived, in pertinent part, to eliminate the time limit during which an amendment to allege use may be filed after the examining attorney's final refusal to register. It should be noted that, although an amendment to allege use will now be considered timely even if filed during the pendency of an ex parte appeal, the Board retains jurisdiction over the application once an appeal is filed. The Board may, in its discretion, suspend action on the appeal and remand the application to the examining attorney for consideration of the amendment to the allege use; or it may continue action on the appeal, thus deferring examination of the amendment to allege use until after disposition of the appeal.

The Patent and Trademark Office will, in due course, publish a notice of proposed rulemaking to amend Trademark Rule 2.76(a).

(136) Questions and Answers

I. New Trademark Application Filing Requirements

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, which was implemented on Nov. 16, 1989, contains the most significant amendments to the Lanham Act since its enactment in 1947. The Patent and Trademark Office has significantly revised the Trademark Rules of Practice to reflect the changes in the law. Additionally, the PTO has issued a supplement to Revision 7 of the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure that reflects the changes in the law, rules, and Office policy and is available from the Government Printing Office.

The PTO's Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks has prepared a series of "Questions and Answers" about Office practice under the new law and rules. This first in the series concerns the requirements for the initial filing of an application. Subsequent "Questions and Answers" will address various examination issues, the statement of use, requests for extension of time to file the statement of use, the amendment to allege use and notice of allowance.

Q. What is an intent-to-use application?

A. The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 became effective on Nov. 16, 1989. It amended the Trademark Act to add a new basis for filing an application for Federal trademark registration on the Principal Register. A party with a bona fide intention to use a specific mark in commerce in relation to specific goods or services may now file an application. However, before the mark will be registered, the applicant must use the mark in commerce in connection with the specified goods or services and submit specimens evidencing use and a verified allegation concerning that use.

First, an intent-to-use application will be examined in relation to all substantive and procedural requirements, except use-related issues, and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If there is no opposition, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the applicant will receive a notice of allowance.

The applicant must submit a statement of use within six months of that date, or request a six-month extension of time. The applicant may then request up to four additional six-month extensions of time in which to file the statement of use. The grant of such extensions is predicated, in part, upon the applicant's showing of "good cause" as to why the mark has not yet been used. Thus, an applicant may have up to 36 months from the mailing of the notice of allowance within which to file a statement of use. (See Trademark Rules 2.88 and 2.89 concerning the requirements for a statement of use and extension requests.) Upon filing, the statement of use will be examined and, if accepted, the mark will register.

Q. How does an intent-to-use application differ from an application based upon use in commerce?

A. The primary difference between the two types of applications is the basis for filing. Because of that difference, the filing requirements and processing of the two types of applications differ.

A party may not file an application based upon use of a mark in commerce until after that use has occured. Instead of asserting a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, the use-based application must include allegations concerning dates of use and specimens evidencing use as a filing requirement. The use-based application will be examined and, if acceptable, published for opposition. If the mark is not opposed, or any opposition is resolved in the applicant's favor, the mark will register. This procedure differs from the application procedure for an intent-to-use application, as noted above.

However, in all other respects the legal reasons for refusing registration (such as descriptiveness, likelihood of confusion, etc.) and the procedural requirements (such as specificity of identifications of goods, signature by applicant, etc.) are exactly the same for the two types of applications. Additionally, upon registration, the filing date of any application on the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark.

Q. What are the requirements for filing an intent-to-use application?

A. A complete intent-to-use application consists of a written application, a drawing of the mark, and the required filing fee for each class of goods. The requirements for a written intent-to-use application are set forth in Trademark Rule 2.33. The application must be made to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, must include a request for registration, and must be signed and verified (sworn to) by the applicant.

The application must specify: the name and address of the applicant; information about the applicant's legal entity; a claim that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce; the particular goods or services on or in connection with which the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark; the class of goods or services according to the official classification, if known to the applicant; and the intended mode, manner or method of applying, affixing or otherwise using the mark on or in connection with the goods or services specified.

The applicant must sign a verfication of the application which includes, in part, averments that the applicant is believed to be entitled to use the mark sought to be registered; that to the best of the declarant's knowledge and belief no other entity has the right to use the mark in commerce, either in the identical form or in such near resemblance as to be likely, when applied to the goods or services of such other entity, to cause confusion, or to cause mistake, or to deceive; and that the facts set forth in the application are true.

Please note that Rule 2.33 differs form section 1(b) of the Act because the rule requires the above verification to include a statement that "the applicant is the owner of the mark" rather than that "the applicant believes it is entitled to use the mark." This specific requirement of the rule should be disregarded to the extent that it differs from the statute. The rule will be amended in due course.

Q. What are the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for an intent-to-use application?

A. Trademark Rule 2.21 sets forth the minimum requirements for receipt of a filing date for intent-to-use applications, as well as other types of applications. These minimum formal requirements do not include all of the requirements which may ultimately be necessary to obtain registration, but merely those which must be satisified to receive a filing date.

An intent-to-use application must include the following elements in order to receive a filing date: the name of the applicant, the name and address to which communications can be directed, a drawing of the mark substantially meeting all of the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.52, an identification of goods or services, a claim of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, a verification or declaration under Trademark Rule 2.33(b) signed by the applicant, and the required filing fee for at least one class of goods or services. If an application lacks any one of these elements, it will be denied a filing date and all papers will be returned to the applicant as informal.

Q. Is there any change in the requirements for applications based upon either use in commerce or Section 44 of the Trademark Act?

A. Yes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application must be signed in order to receive a filing date. Trademark Rule 2.21 has been amended to require that an application include a verification or declaration in accordance with Trademark Rule 2.33(b), signed by the applicant, to receive a filing date. This requirement applies to all applications filed after Nov. 16, 1989, regardless of the basis for filing. Unsigned applications will be returned to the applicant as informal. A verified assertion, signed by the applicant, of the basis for filing, is believed to be essential because of the importance of the filing date as a constructive date of first use of the mark for registration of the Principal Register.

All other filing requirements for use-based applications remain unchanged.

Concerning Section 44 which permits, under certain circumstances, the filing of an application in the United States based upon an application or registration in another country, there are two additional changes. Effective Nov. 16, 1989, an application filed under Section 44(d) or Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act must include an allegation that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. However, Section 44 applicants will still be exempt from any use requirement as a condition to registration. In other words, Section 44 applicants are not required to file specimens evidencing use of the mark or an allegation of use in order to obtain registration.

As a requirement for obtaining a filing date, an application filed pursuant to Section 44(d) must include in the heading of the drawing the date of the foreign filing which forms the basis of its priority claim.

Q. Who can sign an application?

A. There are two issues that may arise with respect to the signature on an application: (1) whether the signature is sufficient for receipt of a filing date, and (2) whether the signature is that of the applicant.

The following persons can properly sign an application for an applicant: an individual applicant, a general partner of a partnership, or an officer of a corporation or association.

If an application is signed by an improper party, but the improper party had "color of authority" to act for applicant, the Office will require re-execution of the application, but will not invalidate the filing date. (See Trademark Rule 2.71(c) concerning "color of authority.") The Examining Attorney will determine whether the signatory had color of authority to sign the application for the applicant. A person has such color of authority if he or she has firsthand knowledge of the relevant facts and implied or actual authority to act on behalf of the applicant. A general manager may qualify under this standard. The applicant's attorney will not ordinarily be regarded as possessing color of authority to sign on behalf of a client. Attorneys, who are not employees of a corporate applicant, do not usually have firsthand knowledge of a client's business or the authority to act on behalf of a client, other than as legal representative.

If the signature is acceptable for the purpose of receiving a filing date (i.e., if the signatory had color of authority), but is not the signature of the applicant, a substitute verification by the applicant of the facts in the application will be required. If the person who signed did not have even color of authority, the Examining Attorney will refuse registration because the applicant did not meet the minimum requirements of Rule 2.21 for receipt of a filing date. An application signed by a party without color of authority is void ab initio and cannot be corrected by submission of a substitute declaration.

Q. Are "fax" copies of signatures acceptable?

A. The Trademark Operation does not have the equipment to accept documents transmitted by "fax" for purposes of receiving a filing date. However, the signature on a properly filed application may be a photocopy or "fax" copy of the original signature. The subsequent submission of the original document will be required by the Examining Attorney.

Q. What is the significance of the filing date?

A. Section 7 of the Trademark Act has been amended to provide that the filing date of an application of the Principal Register is a constructive date of first use of the mark in commerce, provided the application matures into a registration. Thus, filing affords the applicant nationwide priority over others, with the exception of parties who had used the mark before the applicant's filing date, parties who had filed before the applicant, or parties who are entitled to an earlier priority filing date based upon the filing of a foreign application under Section 44(d) of the Trademark Act.

Q. Can an application be based upon both use and intent-to-use?

A. No. Section 1(a) of the Trademark provides for the filing of applications based upon actual use in commerce, while Section 1(b) provides for the filing of applications based upon intent-to-use. Trademark Rule 2.33(d) states that an applicant may not file under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Act in a single application, nor may an applicant in an application under Section 1(a) of the Act amend to seek registration under Section 1(b). Any application filed under both Sections 1(a) and 1(b) of the Trademark Act will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant.

Q. Can an applicant assert both a Section 44 claim and an intent-to-use or use claim in the same application?

A. Yes. Section 44(d) provides for applications based upon an application for registration filed in an applicant's country of origin, and section 44(e) provides for applications based upon a registration in applicant's country of origin. An application may be based upon both a foreign application or registration under Section 44 and either use in commerce under Section 1(a) or intent-to-use under Section 1(b).

Q. Since a Section 44 application contains a statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, isn't this also an intent-to-use application?

A. No. The statement of a bona fide intent to use a mark is one of the statutory requirements for a Section 44 filing and the PTO will not consider the mere inclusion of such a statement to constitute the assertion of a basis for filing under Section 1(b) of the Act. In other words, once the requirements for Section 44 are met and the application successfully completes the opposition period, the mark will register (rather than a notice of allowance issuing in the application).

A Section 44 applicant may also assert an intent-to-use basis by explicitly stating, after its statement of a bona fide intent to use the mark in commerce, that it is also asserting a Section 1(b) basis for filing.

Q. Can an intent-to-use application be filed on the Supplemental Register?

A. No. An intent-to-use application initially filed on the Supplemental Register will be denied a filing date and returned to the applicant. No amendment of an intent-to-use application to the Supplemental Register will be accepted until after use has commenced and after the filing and acceptance of an amendment to allege use or a statement of use. In such a case, the effective filing date of the application will be changed to the date on which the applicant filed the amendment to allege use under Section 1(c) of the Trademark Act or the statement of use under Section 1(d) of the Act.

Q. Must an intent-to-use applicant begin using the mark before a registration will issue?

A. Yes. An intent-to-use application may not mature into a registration until use of the mark has begun. After use begins, the applicant must verify such use in either (1) an amendment to allege use or (2) a statement of use. In addition, applicant must submit specimens evidencing use and a fee of $100 per class of goods or services in the application.

Q. What is the difference between an amendment to allege use and a statement of use?

A. The primary difference between the amendment to allege use and the statement of use is the time of filing. The amendment to allege use may be filed during initial examination of the application, i.e., after the filing date of the application and before the date on which the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication. If the amendment to allege use is accepted, the application will then be processed for publication and issuance in the same manner as a use-based application.

If no amendment to allege use is filed before the Examining Attorney approves the mark for publication, the mark will be published for opposition. After the successful completion of the opposition period, the PTO will issue a notice of allowance. The applicant will then have six months from the date of the notice of allowance in which it must file a statement of use, or file a written request for an extension of time in which to file the statement of use. Successive extensions of time, aggregating no more than 36 months from the notice of allowance, may be obtained pursuant to Trademark Rule 2.89.

(137) Receipt of a Filing Date Under Section 44 of the Trademark Act - Claim of a Bona Fide Intention to Use the Mark in Commerce Required

For purposes of receiving a filing date, applications filed in the United States based on prior registrations in an applicant's country of origin under Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1126(e), and applications claiming the benefit of a priority filing date in the United States based on prior application in a Paris Convention country under Section 44(d) of the Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1126(d), must include a statement "that the applicant has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce." 15 U.S.C. 1126(d) and (e); Trademark Rules 2.21(a)(5)(ii) and (iii); 37 C.F.R. § 2.21(a)(5)(ii) and (iii).

The claim of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce is expressly required by the statute and cannot be waived by the Commissioner for any reason. The claim is required in all applications filed under Section 44, even if the applicant has commenced use of the mark in commerce, and even if the applicant is also filing on the basis of use in commerce under Section 1(a) of the Act.

Where a Section 44 applicant has used the mark in commerce, it may choose to submit for the record an additional statement regarding actual use. For example, an applicant could state that it "has a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, as evidenced by the fact that actual use in commerce with the United States has commenced." In this way, the application will contain the statutorily required language of a "bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce," as well as the additional clarifying language that, in this particular instance, the mark is actually in use in commerce.

(138) Reminders Concerning the Revised Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases

The Office offers the following reminders concerning certain requirements under the revised Rules of Practice in Trademark Cases to ensure proper and efficient processing of trademark papers.

1. Statement of A Bona Fide Intention to Use in Commerce

The Office has received a number of applications filed based on Trademark Act Section 44 which contain no claim of bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Sections 44(d)(2) and 44(e), and revised Trademark Rule 2.21 state the requirements for filing a trademark application based on a foreign application or registration. These sections require, among other things, that all applications filed pursuant to Section 44 state a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. Therefore if the application is filed based only on Section 44, and applicant has not recited a claim of bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce, the application will not be accorded a filing date and will be returned to the applicant.

This statement must include the words "in commerce." The statement should be set forth in its entirety prominently in the opening statement of the application to ensure that the application is accorded a filing date. The applicant may repeat the statement in the application declaration, if desired.

2. Assertion of Two Bases

If the applicant wishes to file based on both a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce under Trademark Act Section 1(b) and a foreign application or registration under Trademark Act Section 44, the applicant must clearly indicate its intention to do so. In a Section 44 filing the Office will not presume Trademark Act Section 1(b) as an additional basis for filing by the mere statement of a bona fide intention to use the mark in commerce. If the applicant wishes to claim an additional basis under Section 1(b) of the Act it should indicate its intention with a separate statement claiming a basis under Section 1(b).

3. Filing Papers Before Notification of Serial Number

The Office recommends that applicants wait until they have received the filing fee receipt before filing any papers related to a trademark application. The filing fee receipt includes the assigned application serial number. The applicant should refer to the serial number in filing any paper to ensure that the paper is associated with the correct application file. For example, if applicant has filed a photocopy of its application in order to receive a filing date and follows up the photocopy with an original document, the applicant should wait for the filing fee receipt in order to have a serial number with which to reference the second document. Without the reference number, the papers may be returned to the applicant or the papers may be identified as a new filing, and accorded a new serial number.

In the same manner, it is preferable that amendments to allege use under Trademark Act Section 1(c) should not be filed until a filing fee receipt has issued and applicant can reference the serial number of the appropriate application when it submits its amendment to allege use.

The filing of an amendment to allege use has important ramifications in the publication of the mark and production of the Official Gazette. Therefore it is especially important that the Office be able to identify and process those papers promptly.

If the applicant files an amendment to allege use along with other amendments, it would be helpful if the applicant provides some indication that the filing is both an amendment to allege use and other amendments.

4. Section 8 Affidavit Requirements

Trademark Act Section 8, as amended, and revised Trademark Rule 2.162 requires, among other things, that registrants set forth the "goods or services recited in the registration on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce." The goods and services must also be set forth in any affidavit asserting excusable nonuse. Formerly, applicants were not required to set forth the specific goods and services. Applicant may meet the requirement to specify the goods or services either by listing the goods or services or by incorporating the goods and services by reference, e.g., "The registered mark is in use in commerce with all the goods and services listed in the registration." The list of goods and services or applicant's incorporation of the goods and services by reference should appear somewhere in the body of the affidavit.

Applicants should also take note of the revised requirement for a specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services in the registration. The specimen or facsimile for each class must be filed prior to the end of the sixth year. Failure to meet these revised requirements may result in cancellation of all or part of a registration.

5. Filing of Miscellaneous Papers

Every paper filed with the Office which relates to an application or registration should include the serial number of the application or the registration number of the registration. The best practice would be to have the application number or registration number appear on every single sheet of paper which an applicant or registrant files with the Office, including any substitute specimens which applicant may file. Those papers filed with the Office which do not have the application serial number or the registration number reference on them must be identified by Office personnel using alternative means such as looking up the mark or owner in the automated search system. However, if papers become detached, the information which the Office needs to join a particular piece of correspondence to the correct file may not be available.

6. Time for Filing Corrections to Amendments to Allege Use

Applicants should note that Rule 2.76(a) provides that filing an amendment to allege use of a mark in commerce under section 1(c) is only permitted be- tween the time of filing the application and the time the examiner approves the mark for publication. If applicant's amendment to allege use fails to meet the minumum requirements for an amendment to allege use as set out in Rule 2.76(e)(3), applicant must correct those defects prior to approval of the mark for publication or the application will be published without any consideration of the amendment to allege use. If the file is approved for publication before applicant can correct its amendment to allege use, applicant will be required to wait until a notice of allowance issues before it can file its affidavit of use. In these circumstances the fee applicant submitted for its original amendment to allege use will not be refunded or applied to the later filed statement of use.

RIN 0651-AA74

Revision of Patent and Trademark Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1, 2 and 7 of title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to adjust certain patent and trademark fee amounts to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) and to recover costs of operation, and is amending the requirements for recording documents on the Government Register. This rule also includes information relating to the availability of patent and trademark information products provided by the PTO.
Effective Date: October 1, 1995.
For Further Information Contact: Robert Kopson by telephone at (703) 305-8510, fax at (703) 305-8525, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: This rule change is designed to adjust PTO fees in accordance with the applicable provisions of title 35, United States Code; section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946 (15 U.S.C. 1113); and section 10101 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (as amended by section 8001 of Public Law 103-66), all as amended by the Patent and Trademark Office Authorization Act of 1991 (Public Law 102-204).

The cover sheet referenced in 37 CFR 7.1 (c) must be in a format approved by the Office. The Office of Public Records will maintain a list of approved formats that will meet this requirement. Contact the Office of Public Records at (703) 308-9743 regarding specific questions relating to this requirement and to seek approval of additional formats.

BACKGROUND

Statutory Provisions

Patent fees are authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41 and 35 U.S.C. 376. A fifty percent reduction in the fees paid under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b) by independent inventors, small business concerns, and nonprofit organizations who meet prescribed definitions is required by 35 U.S.C. 41(h).

Subsection 41(f) of title 35, United States Code, provides that fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b) may be adjusted on October 1, 1992, and every year thereafter, to reflect fluctuations in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) over the previous 12 months.

Section 10101 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990 (amended by section 8001 of Public Law 103-66) provides that there shall be a surcharge on all fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b) to collect $111 million in fiscal year 1996.

Subsection 41(d) of title 35, United States Code, authorizes the Commissioner to establish fees for all other processing, services, or materials related to patents to recover the average cost of providing these services or materials, except for the fees for recording a document affecting title, for each photocopy, and for each black and white copy of a patent.

Section 376 of title 35, United States Code, authorizes the Commissioner to set fees for patent applications filed under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT).

Subsection 41(g) of title 35, United States Code, provides that new fee amounts established by the Commissioner under section 41 may take effect thirty days after notice in the Federal Register and the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), authorizes the Commissioner to establish fees for the filing and processing of an application for the registration of a trademark or other mark, and for all other services and materials relating to trademarks and other marks.

Section 31(a) of the Trademark (Lanham) Act of 1946 (15 U.S.C. 1113(a)), as amended, allows trademark fees to be adjusted once each year to reflect, in the aggregate, any fluctuations during the preceding 12 months in the CPI.

Section 31 also allows new trademark fee amounts to take effect thirty days after notice in the Federal Register and the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Recovery Level Determinations

This rule adjusts patent and trademark fees for a planned recovery of $643,014,000 in fiscal year 1996, as proposed in the Administration's budget request to the Congress.

The patent statutory fees established by 35 U.S.C. 41(a) and (b) are being adjusted on October 1, 1995, to reflect any fluctuations occurring during the previous 12 months in the Consumer Price Index (CPI-U). In calculating these fluctuations, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has determined that the PTO should use CPI-U data as determined by the Secretary of Labor. However, the Department of Labor does not make public the CPI-U until approximately 21 days after the end of the month being calculated. Therefore, the latest CPI-U information available is for the month of May 1995. In accordance with previous rulemaking methodology, the PTO uses the Administration's projected CPI-U for the 12-month period ending September 30, 1995, which is 3.2 percent. Based on this projection, patent statutory fees will be adjusted by 3.2 percent. Before the final fee schedule is published, the fees may be slightly adjusted based on actual data available from the Department of Labor.

Certain non-statutory patent processing fees established under 35 U.S.C. 41(d) and PCT processing fees established under 35 U.S.C. 376 are being adjusted to recover their estimated average costs in fiscal year 1996. Three patent service fees that are set by statute will not be adjusted. The three fees that are not being adjusted are assignment recording fees, printed patent copy fees and photocopy charge fees.

Certain trademark service fees established under 15 U.S.C. 1113 are being adjusted to recover their estimated average costs in fiscal year 1996.

The fee amounts were rounded by applying standard arithmetic rules so that the amounts rounded would be convenient to the user. Fees of $100 or more were rounded to the nearest $10. Fees between $2 and $99 were rounded to an even number so that the comparable small entity fee would be a whole number.

Workload Projections

Determination of workloads varies by fee. Principal workload projection techniques are as follows:

Patent application workloads are projected from statistical regression models using recent application filing trends. Patent issues are projected from an in-house patent production model and reflect examiner production achievements and goals. Patent maintenance fee workloads utilize patents issued 3.5, 7.5 and 11.5 years prior to payment and assume payment rates of 79 percent, 55 percent and 32 percent, respectively. Service fee workloads follow linear trends from prior years' activities.

General Procedures

Any fee amount that is paid on or after the effective date of the fee increase would be subject to the new fees then in effect. For purposes of determining the amount of the fee to be paid, the date of mailing indicated on a proper Certificate of Mailing or Transmission, where authorized under 37 CFR 1.8, will be considered to be the date of receipt in the PTO. A Certificate of Mailing or Transmission under Section 1.8 is not "proper" for items which are specifically excluded from the provisions of Section 1.8. Section 1.8 should be consulted for those items for which a Certificate of Mailing or Transmission is not "proper." Such items include, inter alia, the filing of national and international applications for patents and the filing of trademark applications. However, the provisions of 37 CFR 1.10 relating to filing papers and fees with an "Express Mail" certificate do apply to any paper or fee (including patent and trademark applications) to be filed in the PTO. If an application or fee is filed by "Express Mail" with a proper certificate dated on or after the effective date of the rules, as amended, the amount of the fee to be paid would be the fee established by the amended rules.

A notice of final rulemaking was published at 60 FR 20195 (April 25, 1995) wherein several new fee provisions were made to implement the 20-year patent term and provisional applications. Language changes were made in 37 CFR 1.16(a), (b), (d), (f), and (g) which are reproduced in this final rule package. In addition, fees involving 37 CFR 1.17(r) and (s) are being adjusted by changes in the CPI to remain equal to the basic filing fee for a utility patent application.

PTO Information Dissemination Products

The PTO provides information to the public in the Patent Search Room and the Trademark Search Library in Arlington, Virginia, and at 78 Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries around the country. A list of the libraries is included in each issue of the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark Office. In addition, a number of patent and trademark search tools and document-delivery products, published on paper and on various machine-readable media, are sold directly to the public.

Printed PTO publications may be ordered from the Government Printing Office (GPO) or one of its Book Stores located throughout the country. A list of patent and trademark-related publications with current prices and ordering information is available from the GPO (Subject Bibliography SB 021).

In order to ensure clarity in the implementation of the new fees, a discussion of specific sections is set forth below.

Discussion of Specific Rules

37 CFR 1.16 National application filing fees.

Section 1.16, paragraphs (a), (b), (d), and (f)-(i), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.16, paragraphs (a), (b), (d), and (g) include language changes relating to provisional patent applications (see 60 FR 20195, dated April 25, 1995).

37 CFR 1.17 Patent application processing fees.

Section 1.17, paragraphs (b)-(g) (m), (r), and (s), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

Section 1.17, paragraphs (j) and (n)-(p), is revised to adjust fees established therein to recover costs.

37 CFR 1.18 Patent issue fees.

Section 1.18, paragraphs (a)-(c), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR 1.19 Document supply fees.

Section 1.19, paragraphs (a)(1)(ii) and (a)(1)(iii), is revised to amend the language to reflect the PTO's most recent business practices.

Section 1.19, paragraph (b)(1), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR 1.20 Post-issuance fees.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (c), (i), and (j), is revised to adjust fees established therein to recover costs.

Section 1.20, paragraphs (e)-(g), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

Section 1.21, paragraph (a)(1), is revised to adjust fees established therein to recover costs.

37 CFR 1.445 International application filing, processing, and search fees.

Section 1.445, paragraph (a), is revised to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 to recover costs.

37 CFR 1.482 International preliminary examination fees.

Section 1.482, paragraphs (a)(1)(i), (a)(1)(ii), and (a)(2)(ii), is revised to adjust the fees authorized by 35 U.S.C. 376 to recover costs.

37 CFR 1.492 National stage fees.

Section 1.492, paragraphs (a), (b) and (d), is revised to adjust fees established therein to reflect fluctuations in the CPI.

37 CFR 2.6 Trademark fees.

Section 2.6, paragraphs (b)(1)(ii) and (b)(1)(iii), is revised to amend the language to reflect the PTO's most recent business practices.

Section 2.6, paragraph (b)(2), is revised to adjust fees therein to recover costs.

37 CFR 7.1 Requirements

Section 7.1, is revised to designate the current language as paragraph (a), and to add new paragraphs (b)-(j) to clarify that the requirements for patent and patent application assignment documents, including the requirement for the fee set forth in § 1.21(h), submitted for recording also apply to instruments submitted for recording on the Government Register. Sections 7.1(b)-(d) and (f)-(i) contain language similar to that in §§ 3.21, 3.28, 3.31, 3.34, 3.26, 3.27, and 3.41, respectively.

Section 7.1(b), is added to provide that an instrument relating to a patent must identify the patent by the patent number, that an instrument relating to a national patent application must identify the national patent application by the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g., 07/123,456) or the serial number and filing date, that an instrument relating to an international patent application which designates the United States of America must identify the international application by the international application number (e.g., PCT/US90/01234), and that if an assignment is executed concurrently with, or subsequent to, the execution of the patent application, but before the patent application is filed, it must identify the patent application by its date of execution, name of each inventor, and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the patent application intended.

Section 7.1(c), is added to provide that each instrument submitted to the PTO for recording must be accompanied by a cover sheet referring to those patent applications and patents against which the instrument is to be recorded, that one set of instruments and cover sheets to be recorded should be filed, and that if an instrument to be recorded is not accompanied by a completed cover sheet, the instrument and any incomplete cover sheet will be returned for proper completion of a cover sheet and resubmission of the instrument and a completed cover sheet.

Section 7.1(d), is added to provide that each cover sheet must contain: (1) the name of the party conveying the interest; (2) the name and address of the party receiving the interest; (3) a description of the interest conveyed or transaction to be recorded; (4) each application number or patent number against which the instrument is to be recorded, or an indication that the instrument is filed together with a patent application; (5) the name and address of the party to whom correspondence concerning the request to record the instrument should be mailed; (6) the number of applications or patents identified in the cover sheet and the total fee; (7) the date the instrument was executed; (8) a statement by the party submitting the instrument that to the best of the person's knowledge and belief, the information contained on the cover sheet is true and correct and any copy submitted is a true copy of the original instrument; and (9) the signature of the party submitting the instrument.

Section 7.1(e), is added that each patent cover sheet required by paragraph (c) of this section seeking to record a governmental interest as provided by paragraph (a) of this section must: (1) indicate that the instrument is to be recorded on the governmental register, and, if applicable, that the instrument is to be recorded on the Secret Register. See § 7.7, and (2) indicate, if applicable, that the instrument to be recorded is not an instrument affecting title. See paragraph (j) of this section.

Section 7.1 (f), is added to provide for the correction of errors in the cover sheet. Specifically, § 7.1(e), provides that an error in a cover sheet recorded pursuant to this Part will be corrected only if: (1) the error is apparent when the cover sheet is compared with the recorded instrument to which it pertains, and (2) a corrected cover sheet accompanied by the recording fee set forth in paragraph (i) of this section and either the original recorded instrument or a copy of the original recorded instrument is filed for recordation.

Section 7.1(g), is added to provide that the Office will accept and record non-English language instruments only if accompanied by a verified English translation signed by the individual making the translation.

Section 7.1(h), is added to provide that instruments and cover sheets to be recorded should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box Assignment, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Section 7.1(i), is added to provide that all requests, except as provided by paragraph (j) of this section, to record instruments must be accompanied by the recording fee set forth in § 1.21(h) of this chapter, and that the fee set forth in § 1.21(h) of this chapter is required for each application and patent against which the instrument is recorded as identified in the cover sheet.

Section 7.1 (j), is added to provide that no fee is required for each patent application and patent against which an instrument required by Executive Order 9424 (3 CFR 1943-1948 Comp.) to be filed if: (1) the instrument does not affect title and is so identified in the cover sheet (see paragraph (e) of this section); and (2) the cover sheet is filed in a format approved by the Office.

Response to Comments on the Rules

A notice of proposed rulemaking to adjust certain patent and trademark fee amounts and to amend the requirements for recording an assignment to apply to documents forwarded for recording on the Government Register was published in the Federal Register on May 26, 1995, at 60 FR 27934, and in the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office on May 30, 1995, at 1174 OG 134.

A public hearing was held June 29, 1995. Nine comments were received and considered in adopting the rules set forth herein. No oral testimony was presented.

Comments: Two respondents stated that the proposed inflationary increase of patent and trademark fees is unnecessary because the PTO is already operating at a surplus.

Response: Current PTO resources include carryover funds from fiscal year 1994. These carryover funds are partly unobligated balances to be carried forward, but primarily advanced fee payments for work to be done in fiscal year 1995. Furthermore, this carryover includes fee income generated from trademark-related products and services which, according to 35 U.S.C. 42(c), may be used only for trademark-related activities. Therefore, to recover all costs associated with the processing of patent applications, and to remain consistent with the current rate of inflation, the PTO is increasing certain patent fees by 3.2 percent as authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(f).

In addition, two trademark service fees were proposed to be increased. The adopted fee amounts will recover the average cost of providing the service as authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(d), and will also remain consistent with the equivalent patent service fee amounts.

Comments: Seven respondents objected to the proposal to amend the requirements for recording an assignment to apply to documents forwarded for recording on the Government Register. The respondents stated that not only are Government agencies required by Executive Order 9424 to forward an assignment to the PTO for recordation, but also the PTO lacks the authority under Title 35 of the United States Code to impose a fee for recording an assignment on the Government Register.

Response: 35 U.S.C. 41(d)(1) provides that the Commissioner shall charge a fee of $40 per property for recording any document affecting title. An assignment is a document affecting title. Therefore, the Office must require a $40 recording fee for recording any assignment, even those being recorded on the Government Register. If a document to be recorded on the Government Register does not affect title and if it is accompanied by the appropriate cover sheet, then no fee is required.

Other Considerations

This final rule change is in conformity with the requirements of Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. This rulemaking contains no information collection within the meaning of the Paperwork Reduction Act. This final rule has been determined not to be significant for purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The PTO has determined that this final rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the final rule change would not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The final rule change increases fees to reflect the change in the CPI as authorized by 35 U.S.C. 41(f). Further, the principal impact of the major patent fees has already been taken into account in 35 U.S.C. 41(h), which provides small entities with a 50-percent reduction in the major patent fees.

A comparison of existing and new fee amounts is included as an Appendix to this notice of final rulemaking.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, the PTO is amending title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, Part 1, as set forth below.

Part 1 - Rules of Practice in Patent Cases

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.16 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b), (d), and (f) through (i), to read as follows:

§ 1.16 National application filing fees.

(a) Basic fee for filing each application for an original patent, except provisional, design or plant applications:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $375.00
By other than a small entity $750.00

(b) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, except provisional applications, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim in excess of 3:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $39.00
By other than a small entity $78.00

(d) In addition to the basic filing fee in an original application, except provisional applications, if the application contains, or is amended to contain, a multiple dependent claim(s), per application:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $125.00
By other than a small entity $250.00

(If the additional fees required by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section are not paid on filing or on later presentation of the claims for which the additional fees are due, they must be paid or the claims canceled by amendment prior to the expiration of the time period set for response by the Office in any notice of fee deficiency.)

(f) Basic fee for filing each design application

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $155.00
By other than a small entity $310.00

(g) Basic fee for filing each plant application, except provisional applications:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $255.00
By other than a small entity $510.00

(h) Basic fee for filing each reissue application:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $375.00
By other than a small entity $750.00

(i) In addition to the basic filing fee in a reissue application, for filing or later presentation of each independent claim which is in excess of the number of independent claims in the original patent:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $39.00
By other than a small entity $78.00

3. Section 1.17 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) through (g), (j), (m) through (p), (r), and (s) to read as follows:

§ 1.17 Patent application processing fees.

(b) Extension fee for response within second month pursuant to § 1.136(a):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $190.00
By other than a small entity $380.00

(c) Extension fee for response within third month pursuant to § 1.136(a):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $450.00
By other than a small entity $900.00

(d) Extension fee for response within fourth month pursuant to § 1.136(a):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $700.00
By other than a small entity $1,400.00

(e) For filing a notice of appeal from the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $145.00
By other than a small entity $290.00

(f) In addition to the fee for filing a notice of appeal, for filing a brief in support of an appeal:

By a small entity (§ 1.9 (f)) $145.00
By other than a small entity $290.00

(g) For filing a request for an oral hearing before the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in an appeal under 35 U.S.C. 134:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $125.00
By other than a small entity $250.00

(j) For filing a petition to institute a public use proceeding under § 1.292 ..... $1,430.00

(m) For filing a petition:

(1) For revival of an unintentionally abandoned application, or

(2) For the unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing a patent:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $625.00
By other than a small entity $1,250.00

(n) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration prior to the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104—$870.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid.

(o) For requesting publication of a statutory invention registration after the mailing of the first examiner's action pursuant to § 1.104—$1,740.00 reduced by the amount of the application basic filing fee paid.

(p) For submission of an information disclosure statement under § 1.97(c) $220.00

(r) For entry of a submission after final rejection under §1.129(a):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $375.00
By other than a small entity $750.00

(s) For each additional invention requested to be examined under § 1.129(b):

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $375.00
By other than a small entity $750.00

4. Section 1.18 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.18 Patent issue fees.

(a) Issue fee for issuing each original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $625.00
By other than a small entity $1,250.00

(b) Issue fee for issuing a design patent:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $215.00
By other than a small entity $430.00

(c) Issue fee for issuing a plant patent:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $315.00

Part 7 - Register of Government Interests in Patents

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 7 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: E.O. 9424, February 18, 1944, 9 FR 1959; 3 CFR 1943-1948 Comp.

2. Section 7.1 is revised to read as follows:

a) Executive Order 9424 (3 CFR 1943-1948 Comp.) requires the several departments and other executive agencies of the Government, including Government-owned or Government-controlled corporations, to forward promptly to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks for recording all licenses, assignments, or other interests of the Government in or under patents or applications for patents.

(b) An instrument relating to a patent must identify the patent by the patent number. An instrument relating to a national patent application must identify the national patent application by the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g., 07/123,456) or the serial number and filing date. An instrument relating to an international patent application which designates the United States of America must identify the international application by the international application number (e.g., PCT/US90/01234). If an assignment is executed concurrently with, or subsequent to, the execution of the patent application, but before the patent application is filed, it must identify the patent application by its date of execution, name of each inventor, and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the patent application intended.

(c) Each instrument submitted to the Office for recording must be accompanied by at least one cover sheet as specified in paragraph (d) of this section referring to those patent applications and patents against which the instrument is to be recorded. Only one set of instruments and cover sheets to be recorded should be filed. If an instrument to be recorded is not accompanied by a completed cover sheet, the instrument and any incomplete cover sheet will be returned for proper completion of a cover sheet and resubmission of the instrument and a completed cover sheet.

(d) Each cover sheet required by paragraph (c) of this section must contain:

(1) the name of the party conveying the interest;
(2) the name and address of the party receiving the interest;
(3) a description of the interest conveyed or transaction to be recorded;
(4) each application number or patent number against which the instrument is to be recorded, or an indication that the instrument is filed together with a patent application;
(5) the name and address of the party to whom correspondence concerning the request to record the instrument should be mailed;
(6) the number of applications or patents identified in the cover sheet and the total fee;
(7) the date the instrument was executed;
(8) a statement by the party submitting the instrument that to the best of the person's knowledge and belief, the information contained on the cover sheet is true and correct and any copy submitted is a true copy of the original instrument; and
(9) the signature of the party submitting the instrument.

(e) Each patent cover sheet required by paragraph (c) of this section seeking to record a governmental interest as provided by paragraph (a) of this section must:

(1) indicate that the instrument is to be recorded on the governmental register, and, if applicable, that the instrument is to be recorded on the Secret Register. See § 7.7.
(2) indicate, if applicable, that the instrument to be recorded is not an instrument affecting title. See paragraph (j) of this section.

(f) An error in a cover sheet recorded pursuant to this Part will be corrected only if:

(1) the error is apparent when the cover sheet is compared with the recorded instrument to which it pertains, and
(2) a corrected cover sheet accompanied by the recording fee set forth in paragraph (i) of this section and either the original recorded instrument or a copy of the original recorded instrument is filed for recordation.

(g) The Office will accept and record non-English language instruments only if accompanied by a verified English translation signed by the individual making the translation.

(h) Instruments and cover sheets to be recorded should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box Assignment, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(i) All requests to record instruments must be accompanied by the appropriate fee. Except as provided in paragraph (j) of this section, a recording fee set forth in § 1.21(h) of this chapter fee is required for each application and patent against which the instrument is recorded as identified in the cover sheet.

(j) No fee is required for each patent application and patent against which an instrument required by Executive Order 9424 (3 CFR 1943 - 1948 Comp.) to be filed if:

(1) the instrument does not affect title and is so identified in the cover sheet (see paragraph (e) of this section); and
(2) the cover sheet is filed in a format approved by the Office.

TRADEMARK POST REGISTRATION

(140) Trademark Rule 2.165 Requirement Where A Section 8 Affidavit Or Declaration Is Held Insufficient

Several recent Petitions to the Commissioner have indicated a failure on the part of registrants and their attorneys to follow the requirements of Trademark Rule 2.165. Therefore, reviewing certain basic elements of this rule is considered timely so as to alert registrants and attorneys to technical errors which might lead to the cancellation of a valuable trademark registration.

Part (a) of Rule 2.165 indicates that the examiner will notify the registrant when an affidavit or declaration of use under Section 8 of the Statute is insufficient and the reasons therefor. When the registrant wishes the examiner to reconsider the affidavit or declaration, or when the registrant has taken additional steps to rectify the deficiencies and desires to have the examiner reconsider the affidavit or declaration in light of those steps, the request for reconsideration must be submitted within 6 months of the date of mailing of the notice of insufficiency.

Note, however, that a supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by Section 8 cannot be considered unless it is received before the expiration of the six year anniversary of the registration. Consequently, registrants should file their affidavits as early as possible during the sixth year following registration.

There are situations where correcting the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration requires recording an assignment with the Assignment Division of this Office. If the recording cannot be completed within 6 months, the registrant must at least respond to the examiner's notice of insufficiency within that period. The response must indicate the steps being taken to correct the deficiency. The examiner can then allow the registrant additional time or suspend action depending on the circumstances. Registrants must always observe the "six month response" period whenever responding to the examiner from an adverse action.

Part (b) of Rule 2.165 permits a registrant to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner when he is dissatisfied with that action. Review by the Commissioner should be sought only where it is believed that the examiner has erred in his action. In other words, the Commissioner's role is to review the correctness of the examiner's action and not to serve as an alter ego of the examiner before whom the registrant may seek to correct deficiencies.

When review by the Commissioner has been sought, the decision on that request constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office. If no review by the Commissioner is sought and if no request for reconsideration of an examiner's action is timely filed, the Commissioner will notify the registrant of the deficiency in the affidavit or declaration after the sixth year has expired. Such notice is never mailed prior to the expiration of the sixth year following registration nor until a reasonable time has elapsed following a six month period from the last action mailed by this Office. This notice constitutes the final action of the Patent and Trademark Office in those cases where the Commissioner's review has not been sought. Once this notice has been mailed, it is too late (under the Rules of Practice) to request the Commissioner to review the action of the examiner. Review would only be proper if an affiant could show circumstances sufficient to suspend the finality element of Rule 2.165(b) pursuant to Rule 2.148.

Registrants will be held to strict compliance with Rule 2.165 as it has been briefed above. Therefore, parties are urged to respond fully as soon as possible after an action is received from the examiner.

Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks.

(141) Late-Filed Renewal Fees

Sections 9 and 31 of the Lanham Act (15 U.S.C. §§ 1095 and 1113) require that an additional five dollar ($5.00) fee be submitted by a registrant who files a renewal application during the three-month period following expiration of its registration. The language of the statute requires that this additional fee be submitted within the three-month grace period. A number of registrants who have failed to submit the additional fee within the prescribed period have petitioned the Commissioner to allow their renewal applications. The Commissioner has granted petitions of this kind where the registrant or its attorney maintained a Patent and Trademark Office deposit account which contained, on the date the renewal application was filed, sufficient funds to cover the additional fee. Specifically, the Commissioner has exercised discretion under Trademark Rules 2.146(a)(3) and 2.147 to deem the authorizations to charge the deposit accounts to have taken place at the time the registrants filed their renewal applications, even though the authorizations were not confirmed until a later date. This Office policy was established by the Commissioner's decision in In re Ralston Purina Co., 191 USPQ154 (Comr. Pats. 1976).

The policy established by the Ralston Purina decision is being changed. Henceforth, the Commissioner will no longer exercise discretion to charge deposit accounts nunc pro tunc for trademark renewal application fees. To allow an authorization to charge a deposit account to relate back to a date on which no actual authorization existed is, in effect, to allow late payment. It is inequitable to permit those registrants who have deposit accounts (or those whose attorneys have such accounts) to make late payment of renewal fees, while those without deposit accounts may not.

Petitions relying on Ralston Purina will, after the date of this notice, be denied, unless the events that gave rise to those petitions occurred before publication of this notice.

(142) Renewal Applications and Section 8 Affidavits

There has been a noticeable increase in the number of petitions requesting provisional acceptance of defectively executed Section 8 Affidavits and Renewal Applications under 35 U.S.C. § 26, the most common problem being a lack of notarization or a Rule 2.20 declaration. Often, such petitions are necessitated by the failure of registration owners to file the documents early enough to leave time in which to correct should they prove defective.

Section 8 Affidavits may be filed beginning with the fifth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing expires on the sixth anniversary of the registration. The period for filing Renewal Applications begins six months before the twentieth anniversary of the registration and extends three months beyond the expiration of the twenty year term. While the Post Registration Division may allow up to six months to respond to a notice of defect, it may not allow corrective action beyond the period for filing established by the Trademark Act. It is therefore in the registrant's best interest to file such documents as close to the opening date as possible to allow time for correction, if necessary. Provisional acceptance under 35 U.S.C. § 26 has been, and will continue to be, given narrow application. Registrants should not rely on 35 U.S.C. § 26 as a means of acquiring an extension of time.

We have also become aware of many delays caused by defects in the chain of title. Registrants are encouraged to keep Patent and Trademark Office assignment records current with regard to ownership of registrations.

The filing of Post Registration documents at the earliest date and mainten ance of assignment records will help to avoid the cancellation or expiration of registrations of trademarks currently in use, and will result in a savings of time and expense for both the registrant and the Patent and Trademark Office.

(144) Helpful Hints

- Trademark Post Registration - Failure to Specify Type of Commerce in Section 8 Affidavits or Declarations—Section 8(a) of the Trademark Act requires that before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit must be filed showing that the "mark is in use in commerce." [15 U.S.C. 1058a].

  The Trademark Rules require that all Section 8(a) affidavits or declarations "state that the registered mark is in use in commerce and specify the nature of such commerce." [37 C.F.R. Section 2.162(e)].

  The affidavit or declaration must be filed between the fifth and sixth year following the date of registration and it must contain a statement that the "mark is in use in commerce," with evidence thereof. There may be no extensions of time beyond the sixth year for submission of this state- ment and evidence of use of the mark in commerce. However, if the timely-filed affidavit or declaration does not set forth the type of commerce, the registrant will be given six months to submit that information even though the sixth year may have expired. The rules do not provide for any further extensions of time beyond the six months. (Carlisle Walters, 703-557-3061)

- Backlogs in Trademark Renewals and Section 8 Affidavits and Declarations—Registrants are advised that a backlog currently exists in the processing of Trademark Renewals and Section 8 affidavits and declarations. While the Patent and Trademark Office conducts a preliminary review of critical elements in order to notify registrants of statutory deficiencies prior to the expiration of the statutory period for the submission of required documents, the ultimate responsibility for complying with the requirements of the statute and the rules rests with the registrant. (145) Section 8 Requirements For Trademark Registrations

Any registrant who files in the Patent and Trademark Office, on or after November 16, 1989, an affidavit or declaration under Section 8 of the Trademark Act will be required to comply with the requirements of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U. S. C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989. The Trademark Law Revision Act amends 15 U. S. C. 1058(a) by adding the requirement that a registrant submit an affidavit "setting forth those goods or services recited in the registration on or in connection with which the mark is in use in commerce and attaching to the affidavit a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark...."

For Section 8 affidavits or declarations filed on or after November 16, 1989, the Patent and Trademark Office will require registrants to specify the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains. The registrant may comply with the requirement for specification of its goods and services by listing each of the goods and services to which the Section 8 affidavit or declaration pertains or by making an all-encompassing reference to the goods and services recited in the registration (e.g., "The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration." or The mark is in use in connection with all the goods and services recited in the registration, with the exception of ...". The Patent and Trademark Office prefers that the registrant use an all-encompassing reference to its goods and services as the method of specification, especiallly where the mark is registered for numerous goods and services.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, a Section 8 affidavit or declaration that sets forth goods and services in connection with which the mark is in use, the registration will be cancelled. Similarly, those goods or services recited in the registration but not specified in a Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed before the end of the sixth year following registration will be deleted from the registration. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed to correct registrant's failure to specify, or to specify completely, the goods and services on or in connection with which the mark is in use.

A Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed on or after November 16, 1989 must include a specimen or facsimile showing current use of the registered mark. The registrant will be required to file one specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains. For a single-class registration covering multiple goods or services, only one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class will be required. Similarly, for a mulitiple-class registration, the registrant will be required to file, for each class of goods or services covered by the multiple-class registration, one specimen or facsimile showing current use of the mark on one of the goods or services in that class.

If the registrant fails to file, before the end of the sixth year following registration, an affidavit or declaration that includes a proper specimen or facsimile for each class of goods or services to which the registration pertains, the registration will be cancelled as to that class of goods or services. After the end of the sixth year following registration, the Patent and Trademark Office will not accept a substitute Section 8 affidavit or declaration filed to correct the omission of a proper specimen or facsimile.

(146) Renewal of Trademark Registrations (Revised)

This supersedes the notice that appeared in the Official Gazette on May 2, 1989; (1102 TMOG 5):

The Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 [Title 1 of Pub. L. 100-667, 102 Stat. 3935 (15 U.S.C. 1051)], which takes effect on November 16, 1989, amends 15 U.S.C. 1059(a) to reduce the renewal term of a registration from twenty years to ten years from the end of the expiring period of the registration.

Any registration whose expiration date is prior to November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, from the end of the expiring period for:

(a) twenty years if the renewal is granted prior to November 16, 1989, or
(b) ten years if the renewal is granted on or after November 16, 1989, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

Any registration whose expiration date is on or after November 16, 1989, shall be renewed, upon proper application, for ten years from the end of the expiring period, regardless of the renewal application filing date.

The present practice of notification of renewal will continue. However, the updated renewal certificate issued by the PTO will be modified to specifically indicate the length of the renewal period. The notice of renewal appearing in the Trademark Official Gazette will be modified to indicate the date of the acceptance of renewal.

(147) Powers of Attorney in Registered Trademark Files

On and after Feb. 1, 1967, communications advising of changes in the powers of attorney for registered trademarks will be placed in the registration files, but will not be acknowledged by the Patent Office. (148) Patent and Trademark Office Services

In order to provide improved services to trademark applicants, registrants, and the general public, the Patent and Trademark Office plans to implement a pilot program called the "Trademark Assistance Center." The Center will provide general information about the trademark registration process and will respond to inquiries pertaining to the status of specific trademark applications and registrations. The location of the Center is 2900 Crystal Drive, 4B10, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513. Assistance may be obtained in-person or by dialing (703) 308-9000, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Eastern time, except holidays. Opening of the Center is planned for October 3, 1994. Please note that personal assistance concerning trademark as well as patent matters will continue to be available at 308-HELP and recorded information will continue to be available at (703) 557-INFO. Also, automated information about the status of trademark applications and registrations will continue to be available at (703) 305-8747.

(149) Initial Processing of Application

On Feb. 1, 1972, the operations of the Trademark Application Section of the Patent Office will be reorganized. The purpose of the reorganization is to provide the public and applicants with more current information concerning newly filed applications.

The prompt initial processing of trademark applications is necessary in order to fulfill one of the main Patent Office functions, that of producing a record, accessible to the public, of new trademark activity to facilitate the clearance of new marks for use, determine the registrability of proposed marks, and avoid conflicts with the rights of others. In order to maintain a record of marks applied for which reflects the most current information available to the Office concerning them, the early processing of drawings in order to have them placed in the search room is considered as a first priority. The processing of these drawings includes the assignment of serial numbers, initial classification, duplication of the drawing and the forwarding of copies of the drawing to the search room. Other functions which are necessary in the processing of applications, such as the processing and mailing of filing receipts, are secondary to the processing of drawings.

In past years, there have been delays in processing applications and forwarding application drawings to the search room. These delays have varied from several weeks to several months. In view of the importance, both to applicants and the public, of recording essential information concerning newly filed applications as quickly as possible, a reorganization of the workflow in the Application Section is being effected.

There is no change in the processing of applications through the mail room and finance branch to the Application Section. However, under the new plan, upon receipt in the Trademark Application Section, all applications will be stamped with a serial number, and the drawing of the mark will be reproduced immediately and placed in the search file. This processing will occur as soon as the application files reach the Application Section. Such procedures as determining whether or not an application will receive a filing date, preparation of the file jackets, and mailing of the filing receipt will take place at a later time.

Applicants who wish to be notified promptly of the date their papers were received in the office and their serial number, may send two self-addressed postcards with their application papers. The mail room will stamp both postcards with the date of receipt and return one to the applicant; the second postcard will be stamped with the serial number and forwarded to the applicant from the Application Section. The postcards should contain the applicant's name and the trademark which is the subject of the application. When more than one set of application papers are forwarded under one cover, postcards should be attached to each set of papers for which a receipt is desired.

Under the new system of processing application papers, your particular attention is directed to the following changes as compared to the present procedure.

1. Application drawings will be placed in the public search file prior to the mailing of the filing receipt.

2. By using the postcard system described above, applicants will be notified sooner of the date of receipt of their papers and the serial number of their application. Applicants are encouraged to use the postcard system.

3. Additional papers sent in by the applicant or attorney should be identified by serial number, thereby enabling the office to process these papers quickly.

4. When an application is accompanied by a petition to the Commissioner under § 2.146, the petition will not be considered until processing by the Application Section is complete.

*Effective date.*The procedure outlined in this notice will become effective Feb. 1, 1972.

(151) Responsibility to Diligently Monitor Trademark Applications and Registrations

The purpose of this notice is to remind trademark applicants and registrants of their responsibility to monitor the status of their application or registration in cases where a notice or action from the PTO is expected; and to apprise these parties that the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure, (TMEP), will be revised to indicate that inquiries regarding the status of pending matters should be made within six months of the filing or receipt of any document for which further action by the Office is expected.

The TMEP is under revision in its entirety. As a part of that revision, Section 411, entitled "Status Inquiries," will be amended. The current language of § 411 indicates that a party awaiting action by the Office should file a status inquiry within eighteen months from the filing date of the application, or from the filing of a response to an Office action. This eighteen-month period was based on Office pendency in 1971, which was approximately fourteen months to mailing of the first Office action. Currently, the Office is mailing first actions within three months. Accordingly, the eighteen month period is no longer appropriate and is being reduced to six months to more realistically reflect Office pendency. Adoption of a six-month due diligence standard may have implications with respect to filing petitions and requests for other relief.

The Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks receives a number of requests to reactivate applications and registrations occasioned by the loss of papers mailed to or from the PTO. In many of these cases, the applicant or registrant may have proof that papers mailed to the PTO were actually received, or can aver that notices sent from the PTO were never received. However, in some of these cases the request will be denied because the party seeking relief has waited too long before investigating the problem. The rationale for denial is that third parties may have relied to their detriment on the information available in the PTO files and databases that an application was abandoned or that a registration has been cancelled or expired.

The PTO generally processes applications, responses and other papers in the order in which they are received in the Office. Accordingly, applicants and registrations can expect to receive notice concerning these filings within predictable time periods. For example, a party filing an application for registration should expect to receive a filing receipt within four to six weeks and, in most cases, a "first action" within four to five months of the date of filing. Similarly, a registrant should expect to receive a notice of acceptance or rejection of a Section 8 affidavit of use or excusable nonuse within four to five months of submission, and a notice of acceptance or rejection of a renewal application within two to three months of submission. Only in rare cases would any of these time periods be longer than six months.

Since it is reasonable to expect some notice from the PTO about a pending matter within six months of the filing or receipt of any document, a party who has not received the expected written action or telephone call from the PTO within that time frame should be put on notice that the filing may have become lost. The party awaiting notification has the burden of inquiring as to the cause of the delay. In order to be considered diligent in the monitoring of its application or registration, the party expecting notification from the PTO should inquire within six months. Waiting until the end of the six-month period is not recommended. Parties should inquire as soon as they suspect that a problem exists.

Written status inquiries are discouraged. Whenever possible, status inquiries should be made by calling the Trademark Status Line, at (703) 305-8747 through 8752. The Status Line provides the current status and status date of all active federal applications and registrations, and is available from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

Examples of Situations Requiring Diligent Action

Applicant/registrant files an application, Section 8 affidavit, or Section 9 renewal application, accompanied by an acknowledgment postcard:

(a) No acknowledgement postcard, filing receipt or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of mailing of the document to PTO.

(b) Acknowledgement post card received but no filing receipt or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of receipt of the acknowledgement postcard.

(c) A filing receipt for the application is received but no Office action, telephone call from the examining attorney, or notice of publication is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of receipt of the filing receipt.

(d) A response to an Office action is mailed to the PTO but no further Office action, telephone call, notice of publication, or other acknowledgment is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within six months of mailing of the response.

(e) A notice of publication is received for an application under Section 1(b), 15 U.S.C. § 1051(b) but no Notice of Allowance or notification of potential opposition is received within a reasonable time.

Diligent Action: Inquire within a six months of receipt of the notice of publication.

In the event that the party discovers that its application or registration is no longer active, or that a required paper has not been received by the PTO, the applicant or registrant should promptly file a petition to the Commissioner or take other appropriate action to rectify the situation. The time limits for filing petitions are strictly applied. A certificate of mailing in accordance with Trademark Rules 1.8 or 1.10, 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.8 or 1.10, is recommended.

To summarize, applicants and registrants have a duty to monitor the status of their applications and registrations. If nothing has been heard from the PTO within a six month period, the party awaiting notification has the burden of inquiring as to the status. Status inquiries should be made via the Trademark Status Line. Should the status inquiry reveal that the relevant document is lost, or some other problem exists, a petition to the Commissioner or other required action should be filed within 60 days. Trademark Rule 2.146(d), 37 C.F.R. § 2.146(d). Failure to act diligently and follow up with the appropriate action may result in denial of the requested relief.

(152) Availability of Trademark Status Line

Beginning on Feb. 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office provided access, via push button telephone, to current status and status date information for all federal trademark application and registration records maintained in the automated Trademark Reporting and Monitoring (TRAM) System. The Trademark Status Line will be available on (703)557-8747 from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

The Trademark Status Line may be used from any push button telephone by entering a seven-digit registration number and the "#" symbol or an eight-digit serial number and the "#" symbol after the welcoming message and the tone. All calls will be answered in the order received. Callers may request information for up to five serial number or registration number records per call.

When requesting information for registration numbers under one million, add sufficient leading zeros to the registration number so that a total of seven digits are entered. For example, to get status information for Reg. No. 88,725 enter 0088725#.

When requesting information for applications, enter an eight-digit serial number that consists of the two-digit series code followed by the six-digit serial number PTO. The series code is determined by the filing date of the application. All applications filed before Mar. 31, 1905 are series code 70. Applications filed between Apr. 1, 1905 and Dec. 31, 1955 are series code 71. Applications filed between Jan. 1, 1956 and Aug. 31, 1973 are series code 72. Applications filed between Sept. 1, 1973 and Nov. 15, 1989 are series code 73. All applications filed on or after November 16, 1989 are series code 74.

When requesting information for serial numbers under 100,000 in any series code, add sufficient leading zeros to the serial number so that a total of six digits are entered after the series code. For example, to get status information for serial number 92,132 in series code 73, enter 73092132#.

The TRAM System contains records for all active federal trademark registration and pending applications. The TRAM System also contains records for all federal trademark registrations and applications which became inactive after Mar. 31, 1982. Some earlier inactive records are also available.

The Trademark Status Line will provide current status information for all federal trademark application and registration records included in the TRAM System. The date that the record entered the current status is provided also. If additional information regarding the status of a trademark application or registration is required, call the Trademark Services division at (703)557-5249 and request a status check.

(153) New Telephone Numbers for the Trademark Status Line

On November 18, 1991, the local telephone company in Arlington, Va. will change many of the telephone numbers used by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, including the numbers for the Trademark Status Line. Effective on that date, the new telephone numbers for the Trademark Status Line will be (703) 305-8747 through (703) 305-8752.

The Trademark Status Line provides access, via touch tone telephone, to current status and status date information for all federal trademark application and registration records maintained in the automated Trademark Reporting and Monitoring (TRAM) System. The Trademark Status Line is available from 6:30 a.m. until midnight, Eastern Time, Monday through Friday.

The Trademark Status Line may be used from any touch tone telephone by entering a seven-digit registration number and the "#" symbol or an eight-digit serial number and the "#" symbol after the welcoming message and the tone. All calls will be answered in the order received. Callers may request information for up to five serial number or registration number records per call. (155) Transmittals for Use of Deposit Accounts

When statutory fees are to be charged to a deposit account, the processing of the application can be facilitated by submitting the applicant's transmittal letter or other correspondence specifying the account to be charged in triplicate. Submission of these documents in triplicate will eliminate the need for the Mail Room to photocopy the document and thereby reduce the processing time of incoming mail.

(156) Availability of Deposit Account Status Line

Beginning on February 20, 1990, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office will provide access, via push button telephone, to the current account balance information, and last deposit for the current month, if any. The Deposit Account status line will be available on (703)557-8735 or (703)557-8746 from 6:30 A.M. until midnight, Eastern time, Monday thru Friday.

The Deposit Account status line may be used from any push button telephone by entering your six digit account number and the pound sign after being told to do so by the greeting message that you receive whenever you dial in. All six digits and the pound sign must be entered.

Questions that may arise pertaining to the information received thru use of the status line must be referred to the Deposits Account Division at (703) 557-3227 during the hours 8 A.M. until 5 P.M. Eastern time, Monday thru Friday, except for Federal holidays.

(158) Notices of Abandonment

The Trademark Operation has begun notifying trademark applicants when their pending applications have been abandoned by the Office. Under this new procedure, a computer-generated post card bearing the notice, serial number, applicant name and abandonment date will be sent to the correspondence address designated by the applicant. The post cards will be mailed within 2 to 4 weeks after the application is declared abandoned.

(159) Change of Correspondence Address in Trademark Applications

Applicants are reminded that when an application is filed and a correspondence address is entered in the Official record, correspondence will continue to be sent to such address until the applicant or party, or the attorney-at-law or other authorized representative of the applicant or party, indicates in writing that correspondence is to be sent to another address. 37 CFR Section 2.18. The filing of a response to an Office action on letterhead stationery that indicates a different address from the correspondence address of record is insufficient notice that correspondence is to be sent to another address. Specific language is needed which can reasonably be interpreted to be a request to change the address. See TMEP Section 603.

If a power of attorney has been filed in an application, a subsequently filed power of attorney will be regarded as a written request to change the correspondence address, even if there is no specific language changing the address or revoking the prior power of attorney. See TMEP Section 603.

(160) Use of Restricted Deposit Account for Electronic Ordering of Patent and Trademark Copies

Effective July 1, 1986, the restricted deposit account will be made available to those members of the public who wish to use it for electronic ordering of patent and trademark copies. The restricted deposit account requires maintenance of a minimum balance of $300.00 at the end of each month, as compared to the unrestricted account which requires a minimum balance of $1,000.00

In FY 1986, the Office established the restricted deposit account for use in charging subscriptions for copies of newly issued patents by subject matter classification. Establishment of a PTO deposit account is a prerequisite for subscription service.

Recently, the Office established an electronic ordering service (EOS), a method of ordering copies of patents and trademarks through the use of a computer terminal and modem. EOS is available only to PTO deposit account holders.

Many people who are interested in using EOS to order copies of patents and trademarks and who do not have PTO deposit accounts find the $1,000.00 balance required for the unrestricted account prohibitive. Therefore, the use of restricted account is being expanded to incorporate EOS ordering. Subscriptions and EOS ordering are the only two services for which restricted accounts may be used. If you have any questions on subscriptions or EOS, please call Mary Brown on (703) 557-3236. If you have questions on deposit accounts, please call Delores Riley on (703) 557-3227.

(161) CD-ROM PRODUCTS NOW AVAILABLE FROM THE U.S. PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

Trademark Information on CD-ROM

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office is pleased to announce the availability of trademark information on Compact Disc-Read Only Memory (CD-ROM). These discs, previously available only at U. S. Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries, may now be purchased by the general public. Subscription to any trademark title below will begin with the first disc issued after October 1, 1994. Orders may be placed now.

Trademark Registrations: Contains the text of all active registered trademarks from 1884 through the date specified with each issue. Twenty-nine search fields are available, including Word Mark, International and U. S. Classifications, Goods & Services, Design Search Code, Dates of Filing, Publication for Oppositions, and Registration, and more. Cost: $300/subscription.

Trademarks Pending: Contains the text of trademark applications which have been filed but not yet approved for registration as of the date specified with each issue. Twenty-four search fields are available, including most of the same fields present on the Trademark Registrations disc. Cost: $300/subscription.

Trademark Assignments: Contains the text of bibliographic data from trademark assignment deeds recorded at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office from 1955 through the date specified with each issue. Ten search fields are available, including Assignor, Assignee, Mark, Date Recorded, and others. Cost: $300/subscription.

All Trademark CD-ROM products also currently contain the Trademark Manual of Examining Procedure and a Goods and Services manual which are updated when electronic versions of revisions are made available. All search results can be viewed on screen, printed, or downloaded to diskette.

Each product title will be sold individually on a yearly subscription basis consisting of approximately six discs. Updated discs issue approximately every two months. Back issues are not available once superseded by current issues.

SNAP (Serial Numbers for Allowed Patents) CD-ROM

This CD-ROM provides a concordance between U.S. patent numbers and their application serial number. Kinds of patent documents included are: utility, design, plant, reissue, Statutory Invention Registration and Defensive Publication, filed after December 31, 1976, which were granted by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office through the date specified with each disc. Search fields are: Serial Number, Application Year, Series Code, Patent Title and Patent Number. Updated discs issues on an irregular basis. Cost per disc: $50. Back issues are not available once superseded by an updated disc. Orders may be placed now for the next disc to issue.

USAPat

USAPat contains facsimile images on CD-RM of all documents issued weekly by the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. These include: utility patents, design patents, plant patents, reissue patents, reexamined patents, Statutory Invention Registrations, and Certificates of Correction. Each week's issue consists of 2 or 3 discs.

This product allows users to view and print all patents. Images shown on the screen can be "zoomed" for better viewing. Excellent copies can be obtained using a laser printer.

As a document delivery system, patents on CD-ROM offer advantages over traditional formats. Storage requirements will be reduced, fast retrieval of documents will be possible, and excellent laser-printed copies will be available immediately for your use.

USAPat will be sold on a calendar year subscription basis at a cost of $2,400. You may elect to begin your subscription with the first issue of 1995, or with the first issue of 1994.

The price for all CD-ROM products includes the discs, retrieval software, and appropriate printed user documentation, which are the only user support available from the PTO. The discs are mailed first class domestic or air mail overseas. Payment may be made by check or money order payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, or charged to your PTO deposit account. Cash, credit cards and purchase orders are not accepted.

(162) Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in the Patent And Trademark Office

This notice supersedes a notice entitled Filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Federal Circuit and Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks published at 1079 Off. Gaz. Office 72 (June 30, 1987).

A notice of appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office in any one of the following ways:

A. By first-class mail addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal must actually reach the Patent and Trademark Office by the due date:
Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

B. By "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed as follows, in which case the notice of appeal is deemed filed on the date of the Express Mail certificate:
Box 8
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
Washington, D.C. 20231
Attention: Office of the Solicitor

C. By hand (on or before the due date) to the Office of the Solicitor. The Office of the Solicitor is located at:
Crystal Park II
Suite 918
2121 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Va.

D. By facsimile transmission to the Office of the Solicitor. The telephone number for accessing the Office of the Solicitor facsimile machine is (703) 557-9373. A notice of appeal will be deemed timely filed on the date the facsimile transmission is received by the Office of the Solicitor, provided an original notice of appeal is subsequently received in either of the following ways:

(1) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is actually received in the Office of the Solicitor within five calendar days of the facsimile transmission; or,

(2) An original, signed copy of the notice of appeal is mailed by "Express Mail" (U.S. Postal Service only) under 37 CFR § 1.10 on the day of the facsimile transmission.

The facsimile machine for receiving a notice of appeal is located in the Office of the Solicitor and is staffed during the business hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Due to possible equipment failure or maintenance requirements, precautions must be taken when relying on the availability of this service near the end of the time for filing a notice of appeal.

(163) Service of Court Papers on the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

Court papers other than a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit may be served on the Commissioner in either of the following ways:

A. By hand between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at the Office of the Solicitor, located in Crystal Park II, Suite 918, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

B. By mail in an envelope addressed as follows:
Office of the Solicitor
P.O. Box 15667
Arlington, Va. 22215

While the above mail service address may be supplemented to include the name of the particular attorney assigned to the court case, it must not be supplemented to refer to either the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO).

Court papers mailed to an address other than the above mail service address and court papers delivered by hand are deemed to have been served on the Commissioner when actually received in the Office of the Solicitor.

Papers which are not court papers and are intended to be filed in the PTO in connection with an application or other proceeding pending in the Office shall not be mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address. Any such papers which are mailed to the Solicitor's mail service address will not be considered to have been filed in the PTO. Instead, all such papers will be returned. No exceptions will be made to this policy.

(164) Appeals to the Federal Circuit from the PTO

This notice was originally prepared by the Solicitor and Associate Solicitor Richard E. Schafer for presentation at the Eighth Annual Judicial Conference of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. The notice discusses litigation philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor of the Patent and Trademark Office and other matters which may be helpful to appellants and others seeking judicial review of PTO decisions in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

October 5, 1990 FRED E. McKELVEY
Solicitor

I. Introduction

This notice discusses the philosophy of the Office of the Solicitor when representing the Commissioner before the Federal Circuit and other courts. The notice is also designed to assist appellants and others seeking judicial review of Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) decisions in the Federal Circuit. Much of what is said in the notice is also applicable to those instances where judicial review is sought of PTO decisions in a district court.

II. Solicitor's litigation philosophy

The Office of the Solicitor and its attorneys start with the proposition that justice is done when the right result is reached. The Solicitor is not an advocate who needs to win to be satisfied. Rather, the public interest is served when:

(1) a patent issues on a patentable invention;
(2) a patent is refused on an unpatentable invention;
(3) a trademark is registered if entitled to registration under Title 15;
(4) a trademark is refused registration if not entitled to registration under Title 15; or
(5) PTO rules are properly applied within PTO and by reviewing courts.

Our litigation philosophy is expressed in Berger v. United States, 295 U.S. 78, 88 (1935):

> The . . . [Government attorney] is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy, but of a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as compelling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest . . . is not that it shall win a case, but that justice shall be done. As such, he is in a peculiar and very definite sense the servant of the law, the twofold aim of which is that guilt shall not escape or innocence suffer.

The Office of the Solicitor does more than simply "defend" an appeal. Rather, it will determine whether:

(a) appeals are ripe for judicial consideration;
(b) there are steps a party might take in PTO to obviate the appeal, e.g., amendments which might be made to claims to conform an argument to the subject matter being claimed - we often find that arguments in a brief are based on limitations which do not appear in the claims;
(c) there is material not in the record which might provide a full answer to an argument - particularly a new one - made in a brief; and/or
(d) the deciding official or board should be approached to see if it wishes to reevaluate its decision in view of a change in the law, acredible argument that the decision may not be correct, or a matter which may have been overlooked.

Most of the time, it takes more effort to implement this philosophy than it would take simply to brief and argue a matter.

Generally, in a Federal Circuit matter, the Office of the Solicitor - apart from designating an appendix -does not "get deeply into" a case until appellant's brief is filed. Exceptions occur, i.e., inter partes patent and trademark cases where the board opinion is reviewed to see if an amicus brief might be appropriate to assist the Federal Circuit with PTO practice.[1] This is not to say that an appellant should not feel free to discuss an appeal with an attorney in the Solicitor's Office. But, ordinarily in an ex parte case, we do not spend time until we see appellant's brief. The reason is that a large number of appeals are simply dismissed without the need for us to do much, if any, work.

Table 1, below, shows the disposition of appeals from October 1985 through April 1990. About 23%, i.e., 146, of the cases were dismissed with little, if any, work having been done by the Office of the Solicitor on the appeal. If we conducted a review of all appeals when filed, our Federal Circuit "workload" would increase about 23%. We do not have the resources to effectively carry on 23% more work.

We find a lot of cases are not ripe or otherwise ready for judicial review. When we determine that more work needs to be done before the Federal Circuit should consider a case, we generally move to remand. Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) provides that a remand generally should be requested prior to briefing. However, since we generally cannot efficiently take up cases until appellant's brief is filed, we now file motions to remand along with our brief. A merits panel is then in a position to evaluate whether it should hear the case on the merits or order a remand.

There are a variety of reasons why we seek remands.

A.

An appellant may argue that a certain feature of a claim is not shown in the prior art. Such an argument may prompt us to determine whether the feature is known. If we find the feature, we will probably ask for a remand for the purpose of making an additional rejection.[4] In like manner, based on our respective backgrounds or other cases handled by the Office of the Solicitor, we may know of prior art which strengthens a rejection.[5]

B.

Similarly, an appellant may argue that a certain fact is true. Upon looking into the matter, we have found literature from the appellant's assignee or other evidence which, in our opinion, demonstrates that the argument may not be factually correct.[6] Since the literature or other evidence is not part of the record, we have asked for a remand so that the case may be fully developed before a merits panel is required to consider the case. We have also filed a brief on the merits asking the Federal Circuit to take judicial notice of a fact while concurrently filing a contingent motion to remand in the event the merits panel believes that judicial notice is not appropriate.[7]

C.

We have had cases where the sole issue is whether a Rule 131, 37 CFR § 1.131, affidavit is sufficient to antedate a reference. When the sufficiency of a Rule 131 affidavit is in issue, we search for a foreign or other equivalent statutory bar. When an equivalent statutory bar is found, we move to remand suggesting that the issue on appeal may well be moot.[8]

D.

In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962), suggests that indefiniteness should be taken care of prior to considering obviousness. There have been cases in which the claims are so indefinite that judicial review of an obviousness issue simply would not make sense. Remands, over appellant's objection, have been ordered.[9]

E.

There have been occasions where the Board, TTAB, or the Commissioner decides to change or reconsider a decision. A change of decision can occur, inter alia, due to:

1. new "law" as announced in a court or administrative decision,[10] or
2. a deciding official or tribunal determines that:
   (a) a decision may not be correct,
   (b) a matter was overlooked,[11] or
   (c) a decision otherwise needs to be reconsidered.[12]

F.

There have been cases where, although not argued by the appellant, it did not make sense to apply existing law in a particular context. We have moved to remand. In one instance, the Board reconsidered its position, established new law, and granted relief.[13]

G.

In its opinion, the Board - without entering a new ground of rejection under Rule 196(b), 37 CFR § 1.196 - may suggest that if there is to be further prosecution, an examiner may wish to look into several possible rejections. Generally in such a case the appellant will abandon or refile under 35 U.S.C.§ 120. On occasion, however, an appellant will seek judicial review. Ordinarily, we seek remands in such a case in order to avoid piecemeal judicial review.[14]

H.

We had one case in which an appellant "dropped" an appeal as to all but a dependent claim -only the independent claim had been discussed in appellant's brief to the Board and the Board discussed only the independent claim. We sought a remand - after the appellant's brief had been filed - so that PTO could articulate a rationale as to the sole claim left in appeal.[15] Alternatively, we could have argued the appeal on the basis of the independent claim. However, in the context of the particular case, that alternative did not make sense.

I.

We had a case where the application on appeal was deemed to be abandoned. We moved to remand to clarify the status of the application.[16] We also had a trademark appeal in which registration in the United States could not occur until registration took place abroad.[17] Obviously, there was no reason to proceed in the Federal Circuit until registration occurred in the foreign country. When an appeal is taken in a trademark case, we always check to be sure that the registration relied upon is "alive." Appellant also should be sure that the registration has not expired. In one trademark appeal, the likelihood of confusion issue became moot on appeal when we discovered that the registration cited against the appellant expired without being renewed.

Most attorneys representing appellants will agree to a remand when approached by an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor - regardless of the time a suggestion to remand is made. A remand saves appellant, the Federal Circuit and our office time and money and in the long run contributes to the effective administration of justice within PTO and the Federal Circuit. In some cases, our motions to remand have been opposed. In one published opinion, an opposed motion was granted notwithstanding appellant has filed its principal brief;[18] in another opinion, relief was denied.[19] It appears the Federal Circuit has adopted, as a general rule, the latter opinion. See Fed. Cir. R. 27(c).

We will not attempt to reconcile Fed. Cir. R. 27(c) with what we regard to be the better policy expressed in In re Gould. We will point out, however, that if an appeal proceeds in the face of a motion to remand,

(a) an appellant will have to spend money to have its attorney appear for oral argument,

(b) the merits panel will have to spend time preparing for oral argument, holding oral argument, and writing an opinion,

(c) PTO will have to expend resources preparing for and presenting oral argument, and

(d) prosecution on the merits may be reopened after a mandate is entered if a viable rejection remains to be considered.

It is possible, of course, that we might prevail on the merits, thereby obviating any need for a remand. However, if we do not prevail, PTO can - and often does - reopen prosecution of the application upon entry of the Federal Circuit's mandate to consider the matter raised by a motion to remand.[20]

[1]Approximately 80% of the remands were ordered based on motions to remand filed by the Office of the Solicitor. See the discussion on remands, infra.

[2]All transfers were from a regional court of appeals to the Federal Circuit.

Sometimes an appellant will decide to file a second application, i.e., a continuation application or another trademark application, and simultaneously pursue the appeal. We believe appellant has a responsibility to call our attention to the fact that a second application has been filed. Knowledge of the second application is material to steps we might take.

First, perhaps any appeal (or civil action) should be suspended pending outcome of proceedings on the second application or dismissed without prejudice to another appeal in the event a final adverse Board decision is entered in the second application. In effect, by filing a second application, appellant admits that there are available administrative remedies and that those remedies have not been exhausted.

Second, it is in PTO's best interest that the examiner handling the second application be aware of the existence of an appeal. The examiner may ask our office for assistance, as may the Board, during prosecution of the second application.

III. Notice of appeal

Recent amendments have been made to conform PTO practice as much as possible to Fed. R. App. 4. See 54 Fed. Reg. 29548 (July 13, 1989), reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5 (Aug. 1, 1989).

A. Time for appeal

If an appeal from a PTO decision to the Federal Circuit is authorized by law, the time for filing a notice of appeal in PTO was changed in August 1989 to two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer. The time for seeking judicial review by civil action under 35 U.S.C. 145 or 146 is also two (2) months or 60 days, whichever is longer.

The filing of a request for reconsideration in PTO tolls the time for filing a notice of appeal. After a decision on re consideration is entered in PTO, the two month period begins to run.

The time for appeal to the Federal Circuit is set by the Commissioner. 35 U.S.C.§ 142; 15 U.S.C. § 1071(a)(2). The period for appeal must be at least 60 days. A notice of final rule was effective in August 1989 setting the time for appeal to two months or 60 days - whichever is longer. The dichotomy which used to exist between the 60-day period for initial decisions and the 30-day period for decisions on reconsideration[21] no longer exists.

B. Cross appeals

In inter partes cases, a cross-appeal may be filed within fourteen (14) days of service of an appeal or two months after the PTO decision being appealed, whichever is later.

C. Requests to extend time to appeal

A request for an extension of time to file a notice of appeal before the appeal period expires can be granted by the Commissioner upon a showing of good cause.

A request after the appeal period expires must establish excusable neglect. The "excusable neglect" standard applied by PTO is the same as that applied by the courts of appeals.

All requests for an extension of time to appeal should be directed to the attention of the Office of the Solicitor.

D. Where to file a notice of appeal

The original notice must be filed in PTO - filing only in the Federal Circuit does not perfect an appeal. However, a copy must also be filed in the Federal Circuit. Fed. Cir. R. 15. A copy of the decision being appealed, and any decision on reconsideration, should be attached to the copy of the notice of appeal filed in PTO and with the Federal Circuit.

The original notice may be filed in any of the following ways:

1. By hand-delivery to the Office of the Solicitor between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. at:
   Office of the Solicitor
   2121 Crystal Drive
   Suite 918
   Arlington, Virginia

2. By first-class mail addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

3. By Express Mail under 37 CFR § 1.10 addressed to:
   Box 8
   Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks
   Washington, D.C. 20231
   Attention: Office of the Solicitor

A certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 cannot be used to file a notice of appeal. A notice of appeal filed in PTO using a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR § 1.8 is deemed filed when received in PTO. In re Thrifty Corp., 231 USPQ 560 (Comm'r Pat. 1986).

A notice of appeal mailed to the Solicitor's Postal Box in Arlington, Virginia is deemed filed when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

E. Content of notice of appeal

A notice of appeal should identify all parties appealing. Fed. R. App. P. 15(a). See Torres v. Oakland Scavenger Co., 487 U.S. 312, 317 (1988) [construing similar requirement of Fed. R. App. P. 3(c)] .

Thus, in a case where there are joint inventors, the notice of appeal should identify all inventors. The notice of appeal should not identify John Doe et al. as appellants; rather, it should identify as appellants all named inventors, i.e., "John Doe and Richard Roe appeal . . . ."

A notice of appeal need simply state that:

John Doe and Richard Roe appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from a final decision entered by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences on June 15, 1990, and from a decision on reconsideration entered by the Board on July 15, 1990.

There is no need to give reasons in the notice of appeal. See 37 CFR §§ 1.4 and 1.5 for material which should appear in the "heading" of the notice of appeal.

IV. Transmittal of certified list

After a notice of appeal is received, a determination is made whether the notice was timely filed.

Appellant will be advised if the appeal is untimely. Fed. Cir. R. 15(b)(1) governs proceedings when a notice of appeal is not timely filed:

If the Commissioner notifies the clerk that the notice of appeal was not timely, the clerk shall order the appellant to show cause why the appeal should not be dismissed, and thereupon refer the response to the court.

In order to properly respond to the Federal Circuit, an appellant may wish to file a request for an extension of time, which should be filed in the Office of the Solicitor, and establish that the untimely filing of the notice of appeal was a result of excusable neglect. Any decision on the request will be copied to the Clerk of the Federal Circuit for such action as may be appropriate. A decision by the Commissioner granting a request to extend the time for filing the notice of appeal will discharge the show cause order entered by the Clerk.

A certified list, consisting of the contents of the application, interference, opposition, cancellation, or other proceeding is copied and forwarded to the Federal Circuit with a statement indicating whether the notice of appeal was considered timely filed. In ex parte patent appeals the certified list usually does not include the contents to any "parent" applications unless the application involved in the appeal is a "file wrapper continuation" under 37 CFR § 1.62.

A copy of the certified list is mailed to the appellant or, in the case of an inter partes proceeding, all parties.

In ex parte patent or trademark appeals, an attorney in the Office of the Solicitor is assigned to the appeal at the time the certified list is forwarded to the Federal Circuit. Counsel for appellant should initiate a discussion with the Solicitor's Office attorney assigned to the case to determine the contents of the appendix.

Upon receipt of the certified list, the appeal will be docketed by the Federal Circuit. An appeal number is assigned to each appeal by the Federal Circuit. Appellant's 60-day period for filing a brief runs from the later of the date the appeal is docketed by the Federal Circuit or the certified list is served.

[21]37 CFR§ 1.304(a) (1989); 37 CFR 2.145(d) (1989).

Fed. Cir. R. 31(a). Since the appeal is docketed after the certified list is served in the case of PTO appeals, the 60-day period almost always runs from the date the appeal is docketed.

V. Service of court papers on the Solicitor

The mail service address for the Solicitor is:

Office of the Solicitor
P. 0. Box 15667
Arlington, Virginia 22215

Only litigation papers should be mailed to the Post Office box address. Other papers intended for filing in PTO should be addressed as specified in 37 CFR § 1.1. Non-litigation papers will be returned and will not be forwarded to the Mail Room.

Litigation papers not served by hand must be mailed to our Post Office box. Litigation papers mailed or delivered to the Mail Room of PTO, left in PTO's night deposit box, or left with a PTO employee in an office other than the Office of the Solicitor, are deemed served when received in the Office of the Solicitor.

The Office of the Solicitor is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Litigation papers served by hand must be delivered between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. to:

Office of the Solicitor
2121 Crystal Drive
Suite 918
Arlington, Virginia

Unless permitted by court rules or order, delivery does not include facsimile transmission.

VI. Motions

Motions are inevitable in Federal Circuit and other court practice. Before a motion is filed, appellant should contact the Solicitor's Office to see if there is agreement on the requested relief and the proposed order. If there is no opposition to a procedural order, it can be entered by the Clerk, thereby obtaining prompt relief and obviating the need for a judge or motions panel to consider the matter.

VII. Appendix

A. Designation

The Office of the Solicitor typically designates the following items for inclusion in the appendix in addition to the mandatory items specified in Fed. Cir. R. 30.

In ex parte patent cases, we generally designate:

(1) the specification;
(2) any drawings;
(3) the prior art supporting the rejection;
(4) the final rejection and any Office action referenced in the final rejection;
(5) the examiner's answer; and
(6) any evidence submitted to support patentability.

In ex parte trademark cases, we generally designate:

(1) the trademark application, including the drawing;
(2) specimens;
(3) the trademark examining attorney's statement; and
(4) registrations supporting the refusal and any other evidencerelied upon by the examining attorney or the TTAB.

It should be noted that Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2)(iii) prohibits the inclusion of briefs filed by an applicant in PTO without leave of the court. However, the examiner's answer and examining attorney's statement may be designated and included without leave. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(2).

While the items in the appendix differ from case to case, a typical appendix in an ex parte patent appeal contains the following items in the following order:

(1) table of contents;
(2) the initial decision of the Board;
(3) any decision on reconsideration;
(4) a copy of the certified list, which corresponds to the docket entries mentioned in Fed. R. App. P. 29(a)(1)] ;
(5) the specification;
(6) the final rejection;
(7) the examiner's answer;
(8) any prior art relied upon by PTO;
(9) any rebuttal evidence, e.g., affidavits under Rule 131, 37 CFR§ 1.131, or Rule 132, 37 CFR § 1.132; and
(10) a copy of the rejected claims.

With respect to the last item, Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(3) provides:

> In appeals from . . . [PTO] , the appendix shall, unless the parties mutually agree to the contrary, include a copy of all rejected claims in an ex parte patent appeal, a copy of all counts in a patent interference appeal, and both a copy of the trademark sought to be registered or cancelled and a copy of any registration relied upon to refuse or oppose registration or to seek cancellation of a registered mark in an ex parte or an inter partes trademark appeal.

If the material designated as the appendix exceeds 100 pages, a draft copy of the appendix, with page numbers, should be sent to the Office of the Solicitor. Upon receipt, if we see any problem with the appendix, including any failure to comply with Federal Circuit rules, we promptly advise appellant. Preparation of a draft appendix will also insure that all briefs properly refer to pages of the appendix.

B. Page numbering

Fed. Cir. R. 30(c)(2) requires that page numbers be centered in the bottom margin of each page and that other pagination marks be redacted if necessary to avoid confusion. Numbering the appendix pages with a format such as "0001" generally avoids confusion with other page numbers.

If the designated appendix is less than 100 pages (which should be copied on both the front and back), the appendix is bound with appellant's principal brief. If the designated appendix is more than 100 pages, the appendix is filed separately within seven (7) days of the date the last reply brief is filed. Fed. Cir. R. 30(a)(4).

C. Legible materials

An appendix will often contain copies of materials which are illegible. In cases where counsel for an appellant does not have legible copies of materials which are available in PTO, contact the Office of the Solicitor and we will arrange to send a legible copy.

Handwritten notes in the margin of counsel's copy of Office actions should be removed. The proper place to argue a case is in a brief — not in notes in the margin.

VIII. Briefs

A. Statement of the facts

Fed. R. App. P. 28(a)(3) requires that an appellant file a statement of facts relevant to the issues presented for review. Fed. Cir. R. 28(b) provides that the appellee's statement of the case should be limited to the specific areas of disagreement with those of the appellant. Absent disagreement the appellee shall not include a statement of the case in his brief. Id. In our view these rules place the responsibility to provide a complete and neutral statement of facts on the appellant. Appellant should remember that it lost below. Hence, the "facts" are not those the appellant would like them to be; rather, the "facts" are those found by the Board. The statement of the facts in a brief is not the place to argue that the Board was clearly erroneous in making a finding of fact.

In our experience, appellants' statement of the facts invariably include argument; fail to describe all the facts relevant to the issues; state the facts in a light most favorable to appellant despite contrary findings below; or state conclusions - often without citation to the appendix. As a result, we typically find it necessary to include a detailed and, we believe, a complete and neutral statement of facts — with full citations to the appendix.

We particularly note that when "new" counsel is retained to handle the Federal Circuit appeal, the arguments on appeal often bear no resemblance to the arguments made to the Board. As a matter of logic, it would seem that the Board could not possibly have erred below on the basis of an argument made for the first time in the Federal Circuit. See Keebler Co. v. Murray Bakery Products, 866 F.2d 1386, 9 USPQ2d 1736 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (since Keebler failed to tell the TTAB it was interested in Murray's "intent," it could not use intent as a basis for showing "error" by the TTAB; prescience is not a required characteristic of the board and the board need not divine all possible afterthoughts of counsel that might be asserted for the first time on appeal).

B. References in brief to the appendix

All factual assertions made in the brief should be supported with citation to the appendix. How the Federal Circuit is supposed to know that an assertion is correct, when no reference is made to the appendix in support of the assertion, is something we have not been able to figure out. The Federal Circuit has often noted, with apparent disapproval, the absence of a citation to the appendix in support of a party's position.[22] Failure to cite to the appendix may affect an attorney's credibility before the Federal Circuit and diminish the impact of otherwise meritorious arguments. If counsel feels that it is necessary to make factual assertions and cannot point to the specific portion of the appendix supporting the assertion, consideration should be given to refiling the application. Argument which depends on factual assertions not supported by the record cannot have any relevance to any error in the decision under review.

Moreover, to the extent that we have influence within PTO to bring about a favorable result by way of settlement, we need to be convinced. Allegations, not supported by references to the appendix, are not likely to convince any attorney in the Office of the Solicitor of the merits of an appellant's position.

IX. Oral argument

A. When we appear

An attorney from the Solicitor's Office will appear and present argument in cases in which the appellant intends to present oral argument. We will submit on the briefs only (1) where appellant submits on brief and (2) no reply brief has been filed or we conclude that the reply brief does not require comment at the oral hearing. On the other hand, if a reply brief raises a substantial issue, particularly a "new" issue, we will appear even if appellant waives oral argument.

B. Discussing the [allegged] error

An appellant has a burden of showing that the Board erred in its decision.[23] Factual findings below must be shown to be clearly erroneous,[24] while legal conclusions are reviewed for correctness or error as a matter of law.[25] Having only a short time for oral hearing, typically fifteen minutes, appellants should direct their remarks to the purported errors in the Board's decision. Based upon the 60 to 80 cases we argue annually, we can assure appellants that Federal Circuit merits panels are familiar with the record and the proceedings under review. Counsel may not want to use part of the 15 minutes normally allocated for oral argument by:

(1) explaining that the case is an appeal from the Patent and Trademark Office (the merits panel already knows that because the briefs have been read),

(2) identifying the appellant or assignee (because it is essentially irrelevant),

(3) reviewing the facts of the case, etc.

However, counsel should be thoroughly familiar with the record and be prepared to identify the portions which support their arguments.

We suggest oral argument by an appellant should start by saying "The error below was . . ." and here's why.

C. Visual aides

Fed. Cir. R. 34(c) encourages the use of visual aids. If the visual aid was not used during the administrative proceeding, written notice of the proposed use must be given at least 15 days prior to the hearing. Any written objections must be filed at least 5 days before the hearing. The rule also provides that counsel may agree on the use of visual aids.

Whether or not we will agree depends on the particular facts. We ordinarily do not disagree with enlargements ("blow- ups") of portions of the record. Where the proposed visual aid is not part of the record, we will not agree until we have had an opportunity to see the visual aid.

X. Petitions for rehearing

Petitions for rehearing can be useful if properly used. But, in our experience, petitions for rehearing filed by appellants simply reargue the case. We do not believe this is a proper function of a petition for rehearing.

Generally we will file a petition for rehearing only when (a) we believe the merits panel has made a genuine mistake - not merely a "judgment" call which happens to differ from our judgment, or (b) even where the result is correct, an opinion contains language which we believe will seriously and adversely affect PTO's ability to properly and effectively administer the patent or trademark laws. See Markey, "Semantic Antics in Patent Cases," 88 F.R.D. 103, 108 (1980) (suggesting rehearing should be requested to modify opinion language which confuses the law of patents).

We suggest, and do not believe, that there is such a thing as a "routine" petition for rehearing. A truly extraordinary situation must exist before a petition for rehearing can be deemed proper.[26] The Office of the Solicitor has been relatively successful with petitions for rehearing. In a 20-year period before the CCPA and Federal Circuit, we can recall filing approximately 12 petitions for rehearing. Some form of relief has been granted in nine, i.e., claims found patentable in the original decision were found unpatentable on rehearing,[27] language was changed in the opinion,[28] relief was granted in part,[29] etc.

XI. Issuance of mandates/termination of proceedings

As provided in Fed. R. App. P. 41(a), the Court's mandate usually issues 21 days after the entry of its decision. A request for rehearing stays the mandate until seven days after an order by the merits panel denying rehearing. Unless there are allowable claims or the Court's decision requires further proceedings by the Office, the receipt of the mandate by PTO "terminates the proceedings" for purposes of continuity under 35 U.S.C. § 120. 37 CFR § 1.197(c), 54 Fed. Reg. 29548, 29552 (July 13, 1989) reprinted in, 1105 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 5, 9 (Aug. 1, 1989). If an appellant contemplates filing a "continuing" application, it should be filed prior to the receipt of the mandate by PTO to preserve the benefit of the filing date of the parent application. Proceedings terminate on receipt of the mandate, not upon the expiration of the period for applying for certiorari to the Supreme Court.[30]

XII. Costs

In ex parte patent and trademark appeals from PTO, costs are not awarded for or against the Commissioner. See Fed. Cir. Practice Note to Fed. Cir. R. 39.[31] Hence, we do not file bills of costs in ex parte cases.

(165) Waiver of Certificate of Mailing Requirement Under 37 CFR 1.10

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) will propose to amend 37 CFR 1.10, regarding the "Filing of papers and fees by 'Express Mail' with certificate" by, among other things, deleting the requirement for a "Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail" currently necessary to obtain the benefit of the date of deposit with the United States Postal Service (U.S.P.S.) as the filing date of the paper.

Background of 37 CFR 1.10 and Rationale for Amendment

35 U.S.C. § 21 authorizes the Commissioner "by rule [to] prescribe that any paper or fee required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office will be considered filed in the Office on the date on which it was deposited with the United States Postal Service." 37 CFR 1.10 was promulgated to implement this provision.

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.6, papers are stamped with the date of receipt in the PTO. An exception is made for papers filed in accordance with 37 CFR 1.10, which provides for the filing of papers and fees by Express Mail with a certificate. However, in order to claim the benefits of 37 CFR 1.10, a party must comply with its specific requirements that the papers have the number of the Express Mail label placed thereon prior to mailing, be properly addressed to the PTO (see "Change of Address For Trademark Applications and Trademark Related Papers," 1163 TMOG 80 (June 28, 1994), which waived 37 CFR 1.10 to the extent that certain trademark related papers could be addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513; and "Change of Address For Patent Applications and Patent Related Papers," 1173 OG 13 (April 4, 1995), which waived 37 CFR 1.10 to the extent that patent related papers could be addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231), and include a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail which states the date of mailing and is signed by the person mailing the papers.

37 CFR 1.10 was promulgated in response to concerns that mail service was sometimes subject to delay and, except for hand-delivery, that there was no way to ensure the timely filing of time-critical documents with the PTO. "Express Mail" was chosen because, among other things, a person other than the filer, that is a disinterested third party working for the U.S.P.S., enters the date of deposit on the Express Mail label.

Under the current rule, the filer is required to include a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail, certifying the date of deposit as Express Mail. Some papers filed with the PTO, although deposited as Express Mail with the U.S.P.S., have been denied the filing date of the date of deposit as Express Mail because the required Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail was omitted or deficient. The lost filing date for a significant number of these papers has resulted in the loss of substantive rights. For example, a trademark registration may be canceled if the required affidavit of continued use or excusable non-use is not filed by the end of the sixth year of registration. 15 U.S.C. § 1058.

In light of the problematic nature of the requirement for a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail and its apparent redundancy in purpose, inasmuch as the date of deposit has already been entered by a disinterested third party, the PTO will propose to delete this requirement from 37 CFR 1.10.

This notice applies only to correspondence actually received (not to papers lost or misplaced by the U.S.P.S.) at the PTO via Express Mail Post Office to Addressee service where there is a clear indication of the "date in" on the Express Mail label by the U.S.P.S. Filers are encouraged to continue the practice of placing a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail on papers filed in the PTO by Express Mail since, in some cases, the certificate may provide useful evidence.

Interim Waiver of 37 CFR 1.10 for Documents Filed without Certificate of Express Mail

Because a significant period of time will elapse before any final rule change can be promulgated, and because there appears to be no harmful consequence to any party, effective as of the publication date of this notice, the PTO will, sua sponte, waive 37 CFR 1.10 to the extent of granting a filing date as of the "date in" entered on the Express Mail label by the U.S.P.S. employee (unless the "date in" is a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia; see § 1.6(a)) for all papers actually received at the PTO via Express Mail, regardless of whether the requirement for a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail has been met provided all other requirements of 37 CFR 1.10 are met.

For all papers filed prior to the date of this notice, which were not in compliance with the Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail requirements under 37 CFR 1.10, a petition to the Commissioner will be required to request that the date of deposit as shown by the "date in" entered on the Express Mail label be accorded as the filing date of the paper. The petition should include a copy of the Express Mail label showing the "date in" entered by the U.S.P.S. employee and a declaration attesting to the contents of the envelope to which the Express Mail label was attached. See 37 CFR 1.183 or 2.146.

Summary

In summary, the PTO is waiving, sua sponte, the requirement of 37 CFR 1.10 for a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail and will propose to amend 37 CFR 1.10 to delete the requirement for a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail. This waiver becomes effective upon the publication of this notice. For all documents filed by Express Mail prior to this notice, but not in compliance with the Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail requirement, a petition to the Commissioner under either 37 CFR 1.183 or 2.146 must be filed to request that the date of deposit as shown by the "date in" entered on the Express Mail label be accorded as the filing date of the paper.

Communications with the Patent and Trademark Office

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is proposing to amend the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to: (1) require that patent-related mail be addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents; (2) require that most trademark-related mail be addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks; (3) specify a separate address for mail related to disciplinary proceedings pending before the Administrative Law Judge or the Commissioner in the Office of the Solicitor; (4) provide a definition of "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia"; and (5) delete the requirement for a certificate for "Express Mail" in section 1.10 and incorporate requirements for the resubmission of misplaced correspondence which parallel section 1.8.
Dates: Comments must be received by January 2, 1996. No hearing will be held.
Addresses: Address written comments to Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513, marked to the attention of Lynne G. Beresford. In addition, written comments may also be sent by facsimile transmission to (703) 308-7220 with a confirmation copy mailed to the above address, or by electronic mail messages over the Internet to mail-rule@uspto.gov.

Written comments will be available for public inspection on [Insert date 75 days after date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER], in the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks' suite on the 10th floor of the South Tower Building, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513.
For Further Information Contact: Lawrence E. Anderson (for patent-related matters) by telephone at (703) 305-9285, by electronic mail at landerso@uspto.gov, or by mail to his attention addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231; or Lynne G. Beresford (for trademark-related matters) by telephone at (703) 308-8900, extension 44, or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513.
Supplementary Information: Addresses for correspondence with the Office are proposed to be changed to reflect the creation of a mailroom site at the South Tower Building for processing most trademark-related mail; to distinguish correspondence intended for organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents from other correspondence; and to add a separate mailing address in the Office of the Solicitor for disciplinary matters.

The proposed rulemaking entitled "Changes in Requirements for Addressing Trademark Applications and Trademark-Related Papers" (0651-AA73) has been merged with this notice of proposed rulemaking.

The Office will now have three separate general mailing addresses: (1) Assistant Commissioner for Patents for correspondence processed by organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents; (2) Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks for all trademark-related mail, except for trademark documents sent to the Assignment Division for recordation and requests for certified and uncertified copies of trademark documents which should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks; and (3) Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks for all other correspondence. Notwithstanding the above, it is proposed that there will be separate mailing addresses in the Office of the Solicitor for certain disciplinary matters and cases involving pending litigation.

Those who correspond with the Office are requested to use separate envelopes directed to the different areas.

Because patent-related mail will be sent to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, the requirement to designate patent application correspondence as "PATENT APPLICATION" is proposed to be deleted from section 1.5(a).

In addition, it is proposed that "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia" be defined as including Official closings.

It is further proposed that a "Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail" (currently necessary to obtain the benefit of the date of deposit with the United States Postal Service (U.S.P.S.) as the filing date of the paper) no longer be required for correspondence actually received in the Office.

PATENT-RELATED MAIL

Section 1.1 is proposed to be amended to provide for correspondence which is processed by organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents to be addressed to the "Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231." The Office first announced the new address for patent-related mail in a notice (Change of Address for Patent Applications and Patent Related Papers) published in the Official Gazette at 1173 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 13 (April 4, 1995).

This change will affect correspondence such as: patent applications, responses to notices of informality, requests for extension of time, notices of appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (the Board), briefs in support of an appeal to the Board, requests for oral hearing before the Board, extensions of term of patent, requests for reexamination, statutory disclaimers, certificates of correction, petitions to the Commissioner, submission of information disclosure statements, petitions to institute a public use proceeding, petitions to revive abandoned patent applications, and other correspondence related to patent applications and patents which is processed by organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents. When patent-related documents are filed with a certificate of mailing, pursuant to section 1.8, the certificate of mailing should be completed with the new address: Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Unless otherwise specified, correspondence not processed by organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, such as communications with the Board, patent services including patent copy sales, assignments, requests for lists of patents and SIRs in a subclass, requests for the status of maintenance fee payments, as well as patent practitioner enrollment matters including admission to examination, registration to practice, certificates of good standing, and financial service matters including establishing a deposit account should continue to be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Documents to be recorded with the Assignment Division, except those filed with new applications, should be addressed to: Box Assignment, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Orders for certified and uncertified copies of Office documents should be addressed to: Box 10, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Special Office mail boxes as currently listed in each issue of the Official Gazette should continue to be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Use of special box designations will facilitate the Office's timely and accurate identification and processing of the designated correspondence.

Checks should continue to be made payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

TRADEMARK-RELATED MAIL

Most trademark-related mail should be sent directly to the Trademark Operation at: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513. When trademark-related documents are filed with a certificate of mailing, pursuant to section 1.8, the certificate of mailing should be completed with the new address: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513. Use of the correct address will avoid processing delays. Trademark documents to be recorded with the Assignment Division, except those filed with new applications, should be addressed to: Box Assignment, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. Orders for certified and uncertified copies of trademark documents should be addressed to: Box 10, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

The Office announced the new address for trademark-related mail in a notice (Change of Address for Trademark Applications and Trademark Related Papers) published in the Federal Register at 59 FR 29275 (June 6, 1994) and in the Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1163 Off. Gaz. Trademark Office 80 (June 28, 1994) (republished in 1170 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 303 (January 3, 1995)).

The Office will continue to maintain the special box designations and FEE/NO FEE indicators for trademark mail as currently listed in each issue of the Official Gazette. In addition to addressing trademark-related mail as set forth above, the boxes should also be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible.

Checks should continue to be made payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

Mail intended for the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board should be addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513, including BOX TTAB/FEE or BOX TTAB/NO FEE, whichever is applicable.

HAND-CARRIED CORRESPONDENCE

All correspondence with the Office, except for communications relating to pending litigation as specified currently in section 1.1(g), may continue to be filed directly at the Attorney's Window located in Room 1B03 of Crystal Plaza Building 2, 2011 South Clark Place, Arlington, Virginia. Trademark-related papers may also be filed at the "walk-up" window located on the third floor of the South Tower Building, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

FEDERAL HOLIDAYS WITHIN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

When the Patent and Trademark Office is officially closed for an entire day (for reasons due to weather or other causes), the Office will consider each such day a "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia" under 35 U.S.C. § 21. Any action or fee due on such a day may be taken, or fee paid, on the next succeeding business day the Office is open.

Legal holidays considered "Federal holidays within the District of Columbia" are New Year's Day (January 1), Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Birthday (third Monday in January), Presidential Inauguration Day, Washington's Birthday (third Monday in February), Memorial Day (last Monday in May), Independence Day (July 4), Labor Day (first Monday in September), Columbus Day (second Monday in October), Veterans Day (November 11), Thanksgiving Day (fourth Thursday in November) and Christmas Day (December 25). In the past, the Office has published notices concerning unscheduled closings. See, e.g., "Closing of Patent and Trademark Office on Thursday, January 20, 1994 and Friday, February 11, 1994," 1161 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 12 (April 5, 1994) (republished in 1170 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 8 (January 3, 1995)) and "Filing of Papers During Unscheduled Closings of the Patent and Trademark Office," 1097 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 53 (December 20, 1988) (republished in 1170 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 8 (January 3, 1995)). The proposed rule change will further implement the existing policy.

EXPRESS MAIL PROVISIONS

Section 1.10 is proposed to be amended by deleting the requirement for a "Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail" to obtain the benefit of the date of deposit with the United States Postal Service (U.S.P.S.) as the filing date of the paper. The title of section 1.10 is proposed to be revised and section 1.10 is also proposed to be amended to incorporate requirements for the resubmission of misplaced correspondence which parallel section 1.8.

Under the current rule, the filer is required to include a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail, certifying the date of deposit as Express Mail. Some papers filed with the Office, although deposited as Express Mail with the U.S.P.S., have been denied the filing date of the date of deposit as Express Mail because the required Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail was omitted or deficient. The lost filing date for a significant number of these papers has resulted in the loss of substantive rights. For example, a trademark registration may be canceled if the required affidavit of continued use or excusable non-use is not filed by the end of the sixth year of registration. 15 U.S.C. § 1058.

In light of the problematic nature of the requirement for a Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail, inasmuch as the date of deposit has already been entered by a disinterested third party, the Office proposes to delete this requirement from section 1.10.

MISCELLANEOUS CHANGES

Miscellaneous changes are proposed to change the word "communications" to "correspondence" for purposes of consistency. Also, since the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" will no longer be a requirement of the proposed rules, the provisions of Part 10 relating to misconduct are proposed to be amended to delete reference to this requirement.

DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC RULES

If revised as proposed, the heading of section 1.1 will be changed to state that the section contains the addresses for correspondence to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Section 1.1 is proposed to be revised to set out all pertinent Office mailing addresses in paragraph (a) and in added paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(3). It should be noted that the remaining paragraphs of section 1.1 contain directions for using box designations rather than addresses. Paragraph (a)(1) is proposed to be added to set out the new mailing address to which most patent-related documents should be sent. Paragraph (a)(2) is proposed to be added to set out the new mailing address to which most trademark-related documents should be sent. The Solicitor's mailing address, formerly set out in paragraph (g) of the section is moved to a new paragraph (a)(3). Paragraph 1.1(g) is proposed to be removed and reserved.

Sections 1.1 and 1.3 are proposed to be amended so that the word "communications" is changed to "correspondence."

Section 1.5(a) is proposed to be amended by removing the requirement of the words "PATENT APPLICATION" on letters concerning patent applications.

Section 1.8 (a) is proposed to be revised to state that papers and fees must be addressed as set out in section 1.1 (a). For the purposes of 1.8 (a) (1) (i) (A) , first class mail is interpreted as including "Express Mail" and "Priority Mail" deposited with the U.S.P.S.

Section 1.9 is proposed to be amended to add a definition of "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia" to include Federal holidays and days when the Patent and Trademark Office is officially closed for the entire day (for reasons due to adverse weather or other causes).

Section 1.10 is proposed to be revised to state that "Express Mail" must be addressed as set out in § 1.1(a). The title of section 1.10 is proposed to be revised to reflect this change. Further, for all correspondence actually received in the Office, the Office will consider the correspondence filed on the date shown by the "date in" notation on the "Express Mail" label unless the "date in" is a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. Because of the reliance on the "date in" marked by the Postal Service, correspondence should be deposited directly with a person at the United States Postal Service, rather than in a drop box, to ensure that the person making the deposit receives a copy of the "Express Mail" label at the time of making the deposit to verify that the "date in" is accurately and clearly written by the Postal Service employee. Persons using an Express mail receptacle (such as a drop box) do so at the risk of not receiving an accurate and legible copy of the Express mail label at the time of deposit from which the Office may determine the "Express mail" "date in," and, therefore, may not later argue that they should be entitled to the date on which they deposited the correspondence into a receptacle. Moreover, if the "date in" is found to be illegible or unclear, a person dealing directly with a Postal Service employee must take corrective action to ensure that a clear and accurate date is marked at the time of deposit. Persons choosing to use a receptacle (or the like) obviously do not oversee the marking by a Postal Service employee and thus may not later argue for the benefit of a section 1.10 filing date if the "date in" on the "Express Mail" label is improperly or not clearly marked. The determinative factor is when the Postal Service marks the "date in" and the mere deposit into a receptacle does not entitle one to an "Express Mail" "date in" under section 1.10.

Paragraph (b) of section 1.10 is proposed to be amended by deleting the requirement for a "Certificate of Mailing by Express Mail" currently necessary to obtain the benefit of the date of deposit with the United States Postal Service (U.S.P.S.) express mail service as the filing date of the paper.

Paragraph (c) of section 1.10 is proposed to be amended to set forth the requirements for the treatment of correspondence not received by the Office for which the "Express Mail" procedure was utilized. Correspondence not received by the Office will be considered filed in the Office on the date shown by the "date in" notation entered by the Postal Service if the party who forwards the correspondence:

(1) Places the number of the "Express Mail" mailing label on the correspondence prior to the original mailing by "Express Mail,"

(2) Informs the Office of the previous deposit of the correspondence promptly after becoming aware that the Office has no evidence of receipt of the correspondence,

(3) Supplies an additional copy of the previously deposited correspondence showing the number of the "Express Mail" label thereon,

(4) Supplies a copy of the "Express Mail" label clearly displaying the "date in" entered by the United States Postal Service, and

(5) Includes a statement which establishes, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, the previous deposit and that the copies of the correspondence and "Express Mail" label are true copies of the original correspondence and "Express Mail" label. Such statement must be on the basis of personal knowledge, whenever possible, and must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in section 10.1(r) of this chapter.

In addition, although the requirement for a certificate of express mail has been proposed to be eliminated from section 1.10, applicants are strongly encouraged to continue using the certificate of express mail, as well as the placement of the Express Mail label number in the upper right corner of the first page of each separate piece of correspondence and to retain a clearly marked Express Mail label, to facilitate complying with the requirements of paragraph (c) if the correspondence is not received in the Office or if reliance on the U.S.P.S. "date in" is not possible. Moreover, paragraph (d) is proposed to be added so that additional evidence may be required if the Office so determines.

Section 5.33 (entitled "Correspondence") is proposed to be amended to change the correspondence address to "Assistant Commissioner for Patents (Attention: Licensing and Review), Washington, D.C. 20231."

Section 10.23(c)(9) is proposed to be revised to reflect the proposed change to section 1.10 that the certificate of mailing by "Express Mail" is no longer a requirement of the rules.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Order 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. Information collection requirements are not affected by the change of address. This proposed rule has been determined to not be significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The Office has determined that this proposed rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the proposed rule changes would not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The proposed rule change has no effect on patent fees.

These proposed rule changes contain collections of information subject to the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., which are currently approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control No. 0651-0009 and 0651-0031. The public reporting burden for these collections of information for certificate of mailing is estimated to average six minutes per response, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden to the Office of System Quality and Enhancement Division, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503. (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Projects 0651-0009 and 0651-0031).

For the reasons set forth in the preamble and under the authority granted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks by 35 U.S.C. 6 and 15 U.S.C. 1123, 37 CFR Parts 1, 5 and 10 are proposed to be amended as follows:

PART 1--RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.1 is proposed to be amended by removing and reserving paragraph (g) and by revising the title and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.1 Addresses for correspondence with the Patent and Trademark Office.

(a) Except for those documents identified in paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) of this section, all correspondence intended for the Patent and Trademark Office must be addressed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231." When appropriate, correspondence should also be marked for the attention of a particular office or individual.

(1) Patent correspondence. All correspondence concerning patent matters processed by organizations reporting to the Assistant Commissioner for Patents should be addressed to "Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Washington, D.C. 20231."

(2) Trademark correspondence. All correspondence concerning trademark matters, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Division for recordation and requests for certified and uncertified copies of trademark application and registration documents, should be addressed to "Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513." This includes correspondence intended for the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board.

(3) Office of Solicitor correspondence.

(i) Correspondence relating to pending litigation required by court rule or order to be served on the Solicitor shall be hand-delivered to the Office of the Solicitor or shall be mailed to: Office of the Solicitor, P.O. Box 15667, Arlington, Virginia 22215; or such other address as may be designated in writing in the litigation. See §§ 1.302(c) and 2.145(b)(3) for filing a notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit.

(ii) Correspondence relating to disciplinary proceedings pending before an Administrative Law Judge or the Commissioner shall be mailed to: Office of the Solicitor, P.O. Box 16116, Arlington, Virginia 22215.

(iii) All other correspondence to the Office of the Solicitor shall be addressed to: Box 8, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(iv) Correspondence addressed to the wrong Post Office Box will not be filed elsewhere in the Patent and Trademark Office and might be returned.

3. Section 1.3 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.3 Business to be conducted with decorum and courtesy.

Applicants and their attorneys or agents are required to conduct their business with the Patent and Trademark Office with decorum and courtesy. Papers presented in violation of this requirement will be submitted to the Commissioner and will be returned by the Commissioner's direct order. Complaints against examiners and other employees must be made in correspondence separate from other papers.

4. Section 1.5(a) is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.5 Identification of application, patent, or registration.

(a) No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office. When a letter directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerns a previously filed application for a patent, it must identify on the top page in a conspicuous location, the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number; e.g., 07/123,456), or the serial number and filing date assigned to that application by the Patent and Trademark Office, or the international application number of the international application. Any correspondence not containing such identification will be returned to the sender where a return address is available. The returned correspondence will be accompanied with a cover letter which will indicate to the sender that if the returned correspondence is resubmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office within two weeks of the mail date on the cover letter, the original date of receipt of the correspondence will be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office as the date of receipt of the correspondence. Applicants may use either the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure under § 1.8 or the Express Mail procedure under § 1.10 for resubmissions of returned correspondence if they desire to have the benefit of the date of deposit in the United States Postal Service. If the returned correspondence is not resubmitted within the two-week period, the date of receipt of the resubmission will be considered to be the date of receipt of the correspondence. The two-week period to resubmit the returned correspondence will not be extended. If for some reason returned correspondence is resubmitted with proper identification later than two weeks after the return mailing by the Patent and Trademark Office, the resubmitted correspondence will be accepted but given its date of receipt. In addition to the application number, all letters directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerning applications for patent should also state the name of the applicant, the title of the invention, the date of filing the same, and, if known, the group art unit or other unit within the Patent and Trademark Office responsible for considering the letter and the name of the examiner or other person to which it has been assigned.

5. Section 1.8(a)(1)(i)(A) is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.8 Certificate of mailing or transmission.

6. Section 1.9 is proposed to be revised by adding a new paragraph (h) to read as follows:

§ 1.9 Definitions.

(h) A "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia" as used in this chapter means any day, except Saturdays and Sundays, when the Patent and Trademark Office is officially closed for business.

7. Section 1.10 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 1.10 Filing of correspondence by "Express Mail."

(a) Any correspondence received by the Patent and Trademark Office utilizing the "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service of the United States Postal Service will be considered filed in the Office on the date shown by the "date in" notation entered by the United States Postal Service on the "Express Mail" label, unless the "date in" is a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See § 1.6(a). This procedure can be used to file any correspondence in the Office.

(b) Any correspondence filed by "Express Mail" must be addressed as set out in § 1.1(a) and should be deposited directly with the United States Postal Service to ensure that the person depositing the correspondence receives a copy of the "Express Mail" label at the time of deposit with the "date in" clearly marked thereon. Persons dealing indirectly with the United States Postal Service (such as by deposit in an Express Mail drop box) do so at the risk of not receiving their copy of the "Express Mail" label with the "date in" clearly marked.

(c) Any correspondence mailed to the Patent and Trademark Office utilizing the "Express Mail Post Office to Addressee" service of the United States Postal Service, but not received by the Office, will be considered filed in the Office on the date shown by the "date in" notation entered by the United States Postal Service on the "Express Mail" label, unless the "date in" is a Saturday, Sunday or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia (see § 1.6(a)), if the party who forwarded such correspondence:

(1) Places the number of the "Express Mail" mailing label on the correspondence prior to the original mailing by "Express Mail,"

(2) Informs the Office of the previous deposit of the correspondence promptly after becoming aware that the Office has no evidence of receipt of the correspondence,

(3) Supplies a copy of the previously deposited correspondence showing the number of the "Express Mail" label thereon,

(4) Supplies a copy of the "Express Mail" label clearly displaying the "date in" entered by the United States Postal Service, and

(5) Includes a statement which establishes, to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, to the previous deposit and that the copies of the correspondence and "Express Mail" label are true copies of the original correspondence and "Express Mail" label. Such statement must be on the basis of personal knowledge, whenever possible, and must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in § 10.1(r) of this chapter.

(d) The Office may require additional evidence to determine if the correspondence was deposited as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service on the date in question.

Part 5 - SECRECY OF CERTAIN INVENTIONS AND LICENSES TO EXPORT AND FILE APPLICATIONS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

8. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 5 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, 41, 181-188, as amended by the Patent Law Foreign Filing Amendments Act of 1988, Pub. L. 100-418, 102 Stat. 1567; the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, 22 U.S.C. 2751 et seq., the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 2011 et seq., and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, 22 U.S.C. 3201 et seq., and the delegations in the regulations under these acts to the Commissioner (15 CFR 370.10(j), 22 CFR 125.04, and 10 CFR 810.7).

9. Section 5.33 is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

§ 5.33 Correspondence.

All correspondence in connection with this part, including petitions, should be addressed to "Assistant Commissioner for Patents (Attention: Licensing and Review), Washington, D.C. 20231."

Part 10 - REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

10. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 10 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

11. Section 10.23(c)(9) is proposed to be revised to read as follows:

(167) Helpful Hints

• Correspondence with Certificate of Mailing Delivered by Commerical Carrier—The benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 apply only to documents delivered to the PTO by the U.S. Postal Service.

A number of instances have been uncovered where individuals are certifying that documents were deposited with the U.S. Postal Service when, in fact, the documents were hand carried or delivered to the PTO via commerical mail service, e.g., "Federal Express," "DHL," "Purolator," "Air Borne," "UPS'," etc. In those instances where documents include a certificate of mailing under 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10, but were delivered to the PTO by other than U.S. Postal Service, Mail Room personnel are placing a notice indicating that fact on the correspondence involved to alert PTO personnel that the benefits of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 do not apply.

(168) Helpful Hints

• Certificate of Mailing AND Return Post Card—Use of the Certificate of Mailing Procedure is strongly encouraged.

37 CFR 1.8(a) provides for the use of a Certificate of Mailing on most correspondence with the PTO, whereby the correspondence (and/or fee) will be considered as timely filed if deposited with the U.S. Postal Service within the set time period. Consistent use of this procedure is extremely beneficial to practitioners, whether or not the Post Card Receipt provision of MPEP 503 is used.

In those instances where the PTO never receives the correspondence, no post card receipt will be available to evidence the filing and/or timeliness of the correspondence. However, in those instances where a Certificate of Mailing is properly used, 37 CFR 1.8(b) provides relief, even if the correspondence is not received in the PTO at all. Under 37 CFR 1.8(b) the party who forwarded the correspondence need only (1) inform the PTO of the previous mailing of the correspondence, (2) supply a copy of the previously mailed correspondence and Certificate, and (3) include a declaration which adequately attests to the previous timely mailing.

Patent and Trademark Office

Change of Address For Trademark Applications and Trademark Related Papers

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Notice.
Summary: Commencing July 5, 1994, trademark applications and other trademark-related mail, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Branch for recordation and requests for certified copies of trademark documents, should be addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513.
Dates: This new address will be effective July 5, 1994.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne G. Beresford at (703) 305-9464 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. After July 5, 1994, mail should be addressed to: Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513.
Supplemental Information: As part of its emphasis on better service for trademark applicants and registrants, the responsibilty for receiving, opening and routing of trademark mail is being transferred to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks. In order to more efficiently process the mail, the Assistant Commissioner has determined that trademark-related mail, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Branch for recordation and requests for certified copies of trademark application and registration documents, should be sent directly to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513, which is the location of the Trademark Operation. Having mail sent directly to that address should speed up processing and reduce the amount of lost or misrouted mail. The mail room at the South Tower Building will begin to receive and process mail on July 5, 1994. For a period after July 5, 1994, the Patent and Trademark Office (Office) will receive trademark-related mail at both the old address, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, and at the new address, Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va., 22205-3513. The Office is currently preparing a notice of proposed rulemaking to formally change the address for trademark-related papers. The Office will continue to maintain the following special boxes, Box Trademark Application, Box ITU, Box AAU, and Box 5, for expedited processing and distribution of specific types of documents. The Office encourages the continued use of these boxes with the new address.

People may continue to file both patent and trademark-related papers directly at the Attorneys' Window located in Room 1B03 of Crystal Plaza Building 2, Arlington, Va.

Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of Title 2 of Section 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are waived, to the extent that, on or after July 5, 1994, a certificate of mailing under §§ 1.8 or 1.10, for trademark applications and other trademark-related mail, except for trademark-related documents sent to the Assignment Branch for recordation and requests for certified copies of trademark application and registration documents, may be addressed either to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, or to the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va., 22202-3513. Patent-related mail should continue to be sent to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(170) Special Boxes And "Fee/No Fee" Indicators For Trademark-Related Mail And Guidelines For Filing Requests To Extend Time To Oppose With The Trademark Trial And Appeal Board (TTAB)

On July 5, 1994, the Patent and Trademark Office opened a mailroom to receive mail related to trademark applications, registrations and matters before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board at the following addresses:

Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks
2900 Crystal Drive
Arlington, Virginia 22202-3513

To facilitate mail-handling in the new mailroom, the special box designations have been expanded so that incoming mail can be presorted more efficiently. In addition to these box designations, filers are encouraged to indicate whether the contents of an envelope contain a "FEE" or "NO FEE." As shown below, the "FEE" and "NO FEE" indicators should be set forth on the line below the box designation for easy visibility. Envelopes will be batched based on the "FEE/NO FEE" indicator and box designation and sent unopened to the appropriate employee in the Pre-exam area for processing.

The "SPECIAL BOXES FOR MAIL" page in the Official Gazette will be changed. Please note that the "BOX 5" designation for "'No fee' mail related to trademarks" has been discontinued. Furthermore, the box designation "Box Trademark Application" has been changed to "BOX NEW APP."

The following box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators will now be available:

BOX NEW APP FEE	for any new trademark application. [All applications require fees; therefore a "NO FEE" indicator should not be used.]
BOX ITU FEE	for papers such as Statements of Use (SOU), and extensions requests therefor, to be filled with the Intent to Use (ITU) Unit. [All ITU papers require fees; therefore a "NO FEE" indicator should not be used.]
BOX TTAB FEE	for papers such as oppositions, cancellation petitions and ex parte appeals filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (TTAB).
BOX TTAB NO FEE	for TTAB papers with no fee, such as extension requests, interferences and motions.
BOX STATUS NO FEE	for written status inquiries. [Status inquiries do not require a fee; therefore a "FEE" indicator should not be used.]
BOX POST REG FEE	for post registration documents such as Section 8 affidavits and Section 9 renewals.
BOX RESPONSES NO FEE	for responses to Examining Attorneys' Office actions; and for responses to Post Registration Examiners' rejections.

For best results, these box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators should appear on the envelope as well as on the cover sheet or first page of any document. However, although not preferred procedure, filers may continue to include documents destined for more than one location in a single envelope, provided each document references the box designation and "FEE/NO FEE" indicator on the cover sheet or first page of the document; and provided each complete filing is stapled or secured in some fashion. The envelope should list all the box designations and "FEE/NO FEE" indicators for its contents.

This notice does not apply to trademark-related documents intended for recordation with the Assignment Branch or for requests for certified and uncertified copies of trademark application and registration documents. These papers and patent-related mail should continue to be sent to:
Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Labeling First Requests for Extensions of Time to Oppose

Although the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board reports to the Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Deputy Assistant Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, it is located and receives its mail at the Arlington address of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks. As noted above, requests for extensions of time to oppose should be sent to BOX TTAB, including the "NO FEE" indicator.

Because first requests for extensions of time to oppose are critically time-sensitive documents, filers are encouraged to indicate on the cover sheet or first page of the extension request that the paper is a first request. The suggested title for these documents is: First Request for Extension of Time to File a Notice of Oppositions.

(171) Changes in How Papers May be Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office

Beginning April 21, 1992, an improved service will be offered to people who wish to file papers directly with the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) by extending the hours of operation for the Attorneys' Window located in Room 1B03 of Crystal Plaza Building 2, Arlington, Virginia. The current hours of operation are from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays within the District of Columbia. The change will extend the hours of operation until 12:00 midnight on Monday through Friday, except holidays, on a trial basis. If, after six months, usage does not warrant retaining operations until midnight, the hours of operation will be reduced.

This change will provide walk-up, personalized service to firms and individuals who are filing documents with the PTO. The PTO will continue to stamp postcard-type receipts to acknowledge the receipt of papers filed at the Attorneys' Window.

Also, effective on April 21, 1992, the PTO is discontinuing the use of drop boxes in the lobby of Crystal Plaza Building 3, Arlington, Virginia, and at the main entrance of the Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D.C. (37 CFR 1.6(c)) as means for receiving papers.

These changes will provide improved services with respect to receipt and processing of documents while, at the same time, overcoming problems with the present arrangement.

Problems encountered with the present arrangement for the drop boxes have occasionally made it difficult to determine the dates of actual deposit of papers. For example, there have been many incidents of papers being found outside of the drop boxes (e.g., on the floor of the main lobby of the Department of Commerce Building, on the guard's desk, on a nearby table, etc.). On occasion, the PTO and/or filers have been denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce by building security guards due to a special event taking place in the lobby.

Provisions are also available for filing papers through the use of the certificate of mailing (37 CFR 1.8) and the Expreas Mail (37 CFR 1.10) procedures.

[Docket No. 90671-3225]
RIN: 0651-AA55

Changes in Signature and Filing Requirements for Correspondence Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.
Action: Final Rule.
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to: specify the types of correspondence which will no longer require original signatures; provide for facsimile transmission of certain correspondence to the Office; discontinue use of the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and at the Department of Commerce building in Washington, D.C.; and clarify other provisions with respect to practice before the Office.
Effective Date: November 22, 1993. These rules will be applicable to all correspondence filed with the Office on or after the effective date.
For Further Information Contact: Abraham Hershkovitz by telephone at (703) 305-9282, by facsimile transmission at (703) 305-8825, or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: In a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Federal Register at 57 FR 36034 (August 12, 1992) and in the Patent and Trademark Office Official Gazette at 1142 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 8-13 (September 1, 1992), the Office proposed to amend the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases to simplify the manner in which correspondence may be transmitted to the Office and clarify other provisions with respect to practice before the Office. This rulemaking includes changes to expand those situations where a party can use the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure, and minor technical modifications in Part 2 of Title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations which were not part of the proposed rulemaking. This rule making also expands the acceptability of facsimile transmissions to certain trademark documents which were not part of the proposed rulemaking.

Written comments were submitted by twenty-two law firms, five individuals, nine corporations, two organizations and three agencies. An oral hearing was not conducted.

The following includes a discussion of the rules being changed and the reasons for those changes, and an analysis of the comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking.

Discussion of Specific Sections to be Changed or Added:

(1) Types of Correspondence No longer Requiring Original Signatures (Section 1.4)

Section 1.4 is amended to include a new paragraph (d) to specify that most correspondence filed in the Office, which requires a person's signature, may be an original, or a copy thereof. See §§ 1.4 (e) and (f) for types of correspondence where the original must be filed in the Office. The word original, as used in this rulemaking, is defined as correspondence which is personally signed in permanent ink by the person whose signature appears thereon. Where copies of correspondence are acceptable, photocopies or facsimile transmissions may be filed. For example, a photocopy or facsimile transmission of an original of an amendment, declaration, petition, issue fee transmittal form, authorization to charge a deposit account, etc., may be submitted in a patent or trademark application. Furthermore, where copies are permitted, second and further generation copies (i.e., copy of a copy) are acceptable. The original, if not submitted to the Office, should be retained as evidence of proper execution in the event that questions arise as to the authenticity of the signature reproduced on the photocopy or facsimile-transmitted correspondence. If a question of authenticity arises, the Office may require submission of the original.

Section 1.4(e) identifies types of correspondence in which an original must be submitted to the Office. Where an original is required, copies are not acceptable and will not be accorded a receipt date. Correspondence, as referred to in this section, includes application forms for registration to practice before the Office and data sheets for the register of patent attorneys and agents.

Section 1.4(f) provides that when a document that is required by statute to be certified must be filed (such as a certified copy of a foreign patent application, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 119; a certified copy of an international application, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 365; a certified copy of a foreign trademark registration, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1126(e); a certified copy of a final court order, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1119; or a certified copy of a U.S. trademark registration), a copy of the certification, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, will not be acceptable. The requirement for an original certification does not apply to certifications such as required under §§ 1.8, 1.10, 1.60, 1.97(e) and 3.73(b), since these certifications are not required by statute.

(2) Identification of Applications (Section 1.5)

Section 1.5(a) is amended to make reference to the certificate procedure under § 1.8 consistent with the new title for § 1.8.

(3) Receipt of Correspondence (Section 1.6)

A descriptive heading is added to each paragraph of § 1.6 to identify the content of that paragraph.

The phrase "correspondence" is used in § 1.6 since the terms "papers", "letters" and "fees" all fall within the generic definition of "correspondence".

Section 1.6(a) is amended to clarify that correspondence transmitted by facsimile on weekends or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia, will be accorded the next business day as the date of receipt.

Sections 1.6 (b) and (c) are amended to clarify that weekdays refer to any day except a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia.

Section 1.6(c) is amended to delete reference to the box locations in the lobby of Crystal Plaza Building 3, Arlington, Virginia, and at the Department of Commerce Building in Washington, D.C. The use of the drop boxes was discontinued on April 21, 1992, and the hours of operation for the attorney's window were extended to midnight, the same hours the drop boxes were available. The public can now deposit correspondence with the Office and obtain an acknowledgment of receipt after normal business hours. See "Changes in How Papers May Be Filed in the Patent and Trademark Office", 1137 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 7 (April 7, 1992).

Use of the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and Department of Commerce Building locations had caused problems for both the public and the Office. Occasionally, it had been difficult to determine the dates of actual deposit of correspondence in the boxes. On occasion, Office employees and/or members of the public had been denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce by building security guards due to a special event taking place at the Department. Additionally, there were instances of correspondence being found outside of the drop boxes (e.g., on the floor of the main lobby of the Department of Commerce Building, on the guard's desk, on a nearby table, etc.). As a result, on occasion, the Office lacked confidence in assigning correct dates of receipt to correspondence deposited in the boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and at the Department of Commerce Building. Given these difficulties, and the fact that the necessity for these boxes has been greatly diminished as a result of the facsimile transmission and certificate of mailing procedures, § 1.6(c) is amended by deleting reference to the drop boxes at Crystal Plaza Building 3 and the Department of Commerce Building.

A new section 1.6(d) is added to specify the types of correspondence which may be transmitted by facsimile and former § 1.6(d) is revised to be consistent with § 1.8(b) and redesignated as § 1.6(e). The widespread use of facsimile transmission and the resulting time saved in correspondence between applicants and the Office prompted the Office to establish a trial program to accept facsimile transmission of certain correspondence. The policy on "Filing of Certain Papers and Authorizations to Charge Deposit Accounts by Facsimile Transmission" was published at 1096 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 30 (November 15, 1988) and was supplemented in the notice "Filing of Certain Papers with the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences by Facsimile Transmission" published at 1108 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 15 (November 14, 1989). The policy on "Filing of Certain Trademark Papers and Authorizations to Charge Deposit Accounts by Facsimile Transmission" was published at 1123 Off. Gaz. TM. Office 18 (February 12, 1991). In light of the success of the trial program, a policy on acceptance of facsimile transmission is incorporated into § 1.6(d). The situations where transmission of correspondence by facsimile is permitted have been increased over those permissible under the trial program outlined above. The situations where transmissions by facsimile remain prohibited are identified in § 1.6(d)(1)-(9). Prohibitions cover situations where originals are required as specified in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), and situations where accepting a facsimile transmission would be unduly burdensome on the Office. As a courtesy, the Office will attempt to notify senders whenever correspondence is sent to the Office by facsimile transmission that falls within one of these prohibitions. Senders are cautioned against submitting correspondence by facsimile transmission which is not permitted under § 1.6(d) since such correspondence will not be accorded a receipt date.

This final rulemaking expands the acceptability of facsimile transmission to certain patent interference proceedings, not included in the proposed rulemaking, to reflect the practice set forth at 1108 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 15 (November 14, 1989).

This final rulemaking also expands the acceptability of facsimile transmission to certain trademark documents, not include in the proposed rulemaking. These addditional documents are:

(1) An affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or section 12(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c);

(2) An application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059;

(3) In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(1).

The Certificate of Mailing or Transmission provisions of § 1.8 do not apply to correspondence listed in (1)-(3) above, nor to the filing of correspondence in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority or to the filing, in an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), of a request under section 1(d)(2) of the Trademark act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(2), for an extension of time to file a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(1). See § 1.8 (a)(2)(i)(E) and 1.8 (a)(2)(ii)(B), (C), (E) and (F). If the transmission of any of these documents is completed after midnight (Eastern time) of the due date, the papers are untimely.

Under § 1.6(d)(4) as adopted in this final rulemaking, drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, or 2.21 may not be filed by facsimile in patent and trademark applications. The experience of the Office is that the quality of the drawings received by facsimile transmission is generally not sufficient to comply with the drawing requirements set forth in these rules. However, applicants may submit by facsimile transmission proposed drawing corrections for approval by the Office.

In trademark proceedings, the facsimile transmission of specimens in response to an Office action will be permitted. Facsimile-transmitted specimens must be legible in order to be accepted and examined as specimens. This final rulemaking also expands the acceptability of specimens filed in conjunction with amendments to allege use under section 1(c); statements of use under section 1(d); affidavits of use or excusable nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or 12(c); and applications for renewal under section 9 of the Trademark Act. 15 U.S.C. 1051 (c) and (d); 1058 (a) and (b); 1062(c) and 1059.

The date of receipt accorded to any correspondence permitted to be sent by facsimile transmission is the date the complete transmission is received by an Office facsimile unit, unless the transmission is completed on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. Correspondence for which transmission was completed on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, will be accorded a receipt date of the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. For example, a facsimile transmission to the Office from California starting on a Friday at 8:45 p.m. Pacific time and taking 20 minutes, would be completed at 9:05 p.m. Pacific time. The complete transmission would be received in the Office around 12:05 a.m. Eastern time on Saturday. The receipt date accorded to the correspondence is the date of the following business day, which in this case, would be Monday (assuming that Monday was not a Federal holiday within the District of Columbia).

The following lists itemize types of correspondence which may not be filed by facsimile transmission, and, if submitted by facsimile, will not be accorded a date of receipt:

Correspondence Relative to Patents and Patent Applications Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not permitted

(1) A document that is required by statute to be certified;

(2) A national patent application specification and drawing or other correspondence for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date;

(3) Drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, or 1.437;

(4) Correspondence in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail";

(5) Agreements between parties to an interference under 35 U.S.C. 135(c);

(6) Correspondence to be filed in an interference proceeding which consists of a preliminary statement under § 1.621; a transcript of a deposition under § 1.676 or of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, or recorded answers under § 1.684(c); or an evidentiary record and exhibits under § 1.653;

(7) Correspondence to be filed in a patent application subject to a secrecy order under §§ 5.1-5.8 of this chapter and directly related to the secrecy order content of the application;

(8) An international application for patent;

(9) A copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in § 1.494(b) or § 1.495(b);

(10) A request for reexamination under § 1.510.

Correspondence Relative to Trademark Registrations and Trademark Applications Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not Permitted

(1) The filing of a trademark application;

(2) Drawings submitted under § 2.21;

(3) A petition to cancel a registration of a mark under section 14, subsection (1) or (2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064;

(4) Request for cancellation or amendment of a registration under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e); and certificates of registration surrendered for cancellation or amendment under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e);

(5) Correspondence to be filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, except the notice of ex parte appeal.

Correspondence Relative to Practitioner Registrations, Investigations, and Disciplinary Proceedings Where Filing by Facsimile Transmission is Not Permitted

Correspondence requiring a person's signature and relating to:

(1) Registration to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases;

(2) Enrollment and disciplinary investigations; or

(3) Disciplinary proceedings.

(4) Certificate of Mailing or Transmission Procedure (Section 1.8)

The title of § 1.8 is changed from Certificate of Mailing to Certificate of Mailing or Transmission so as to include facsimile transmission.

Section 1.8(a) prescribes procedures for the use of a certificate of mailing or transmission to file papers or fees in the Office by first class mail or by facsimile transmission. The description of the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission practice is set forth in § 1.8(a)(1), and the list of exceptions to the certificate practice is found in § 1.8(a)(2). The phrase "papers or fees" in § 1.8(a) is changed to "correspondence" since both "papers" and "fees" fall within the generic definition of "correspondence". Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1.8 are amended to include correspondence transmitted by facsimile. In the event that correspondence is filed by facsimile transmission, it is recommended that the sending facsimile machine generate a report confirming transmission for each transmission session. This report should be retained by the applicant, along with the correspondence used as the original, as evidence of content and date of transmission. Paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.8 is amended to include separate headings for correspondence which relate to patents, trademarks and disciplinary proceedings. The sequence of some of the paragraphs found in § 1.8(a)(2) has been changed in order to have those paragraphs listed under the appropriate heading. The ability to use the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedures has been expanded to the filing of an affidavit under section 15, subsection (3) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1065(3), the filing of a notice of election to proceed by civil action in an inter partes proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 141 or 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(1), in response to another party's appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the filing of a notice and reasons of appeal under 35 U. S.C. 142 or a notice of appeal under 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(2), and the filing of a statement under 42 U.S.C. 2182 or 42 U.S.C. 2457(c).

Paragraph (a)(2)(vi) of § 1.8 is redesignated as paragraph (a)(2)(x) and amended to refer to section 14(1) or 14(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064, to conform with the numbering of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988. Other sections of paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.8 are amended to identify the types of correspondence which will not receive the benefit of a certificate of mailing or transmission.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.8 outlines procedures to be followed to document the timely filing of correspondence in accordance with § 1.8(a) where such correspondence is not received by the Office. The phrase "correspondence or fees" in § 1.8(b) is changed to "correspondence" since "fees" fall within the generic definition of "correspondence". Before adoption of this final rule, § 1.8(b) required that the party forwarding the correspondence or fee include a declaration, under §§ 1.68 or 2.20 of this chapter, attesting to the previous timely mailing or transmission. In order to be consistent with other sections in Parts 1 and 2 of this chapter, the practice under § 1.8(b) is amended to permit a practitioner, as defined in § 10.1(r), to submit a statement rather than an oath or declaration under §§ 1.68 or 2.20 of this chapter. New paragraph (c) of § 1.8 is added to explicitly provide for a requirement for additional evidence relating to the mailing or transmission of correspondence in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section. The Office may invoke this requirement when it is deemed appropriate to establish an actual date of mailing or transmission. See, e.g., In re Klein, 6 USPQ2d 1547 (Comm'r Pat. 1987), aff'd sub nom. Klein v. Peterson, 696 F. Supp. 695, 8 USPQ2d 1434 (D.D.C. 1988), aff'd 866 F.2d 412, 9 USPQ2d 1558 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 490 U.S. 1091 (1989).

(5) Time for Appeal or Civil Action (Section 1.304) In section 1.304. paragraphs (a) and (c) are amended to delete a statement that use of the certificate procedure under § 1.8 is prohibited so as to be consistent with changes to § 1.8. Also, a cross reference to 1.658 in paragraph (a) is clarified.

(6) Submission of Maintenance Fees (Section 1.366) Section 1.366(b) is amended by deleting the words "of mailing" to conform with the new title for § 1.8.

(7) Filing Date of Application for Extension of Patent Term Section 1.741(a)Section 1.741(a) is amended to conform with the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8.

(8) Appeal to Court and Civil Action (Section 2.145) Sections 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) are amended to conform with the revised list of types of correspondence excluded from the certificate of mailing or transmission procedure set out in § 1.8. Formerly, the notice of election to proceed by civil action in an inter partes proceeding under 35 U.S.C. 141 or section 21(a)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(1), and the filing of notice and reasons of appeal under 35 U.S.C. 142 or a notice of appeal under section 21(a)(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1071(a)(2), were specifically excluded, under §§ 1.8(a)(2) (viii) and (ix), respectively, from the certificate of mailing procedure. Since these notices are no longer excluded under amended § 1.8(a)(2), sections 2.145(c)(3) and 2.145(d)(1) are amended to conform with § 1.8 by deleting the last sentence which provided that the certificate of mailing procedure was not available.

(9) Reconsideration of Affidavit or Declaration (Section 2.165) Section 2.165(a)(1) is amended to refer to the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8 of this chapter.

(10) Signature and Certificate of Practitioner (Section 10.18) Section 10.18 is modified to clarify signature requirements for correspondence signed by practitioners. The reference to § 1.4 of this chapter will make it apparent that copies, including photocopies or facsimile transmissions, of correspondence signed by practitioners will be accepted under appropriate circumstances.

(11) Misconduct (Section 10.23(c)) Section 10.23(c) is amended to refer to the new title for the certificate procedure under § 1.8 of this chapter.

Response to Comments on the Rules

The comments received in response to the notice of proposed rulemaking have been given careful consideration and a number of the suggested modifications have been adopted. The comments and responses are discussed below.

Comment: In order to clarify how the Office will treat a copy of a paper, one comment suggested changing the second sentence in proposed § 1.4(d) to indicate that, except as provided in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), a copy would be treated by the Office as if the original had been filed.

Response: While the suggested language was not adopted, the rule was modified to clarify that, except as provided in §§ 1.4 (e) and (f), an original or a copy thereof may be filed. The rules as stated in this final rulemaking are clear that, where an original is not required, a paper filed will be treated in the same way regardless of whether it is an original or a copy.

Comment: Five comments objected to a perceived requirement in § 1.4(d) that the color of ink used for signing a paper be different from the printing on the paper.

Response: Proposed § 1.4(d) did not require that the color of ink used for signing a paper be different from the printing on the paper. The suggested use of different colors of ink is a preferred procedure for distinguishing between an original and a copy. However, in order to avoid further confusion, the suggestion that a different color of ink be used has been deleted.

Comment: One comment recommended that the issue of signature authenticity end upon issuance of a patent in order to reduce the need to keep files in storage for long periods of time and to remove the burden on applicants of having to retrieve files from storage.

Response: Once a patent issues, the Office is not likely to inquire into any matters related to signature authenticity of correspondence filed in that patent application. Nevertheless, on rare occasions, a question of signature authenticity might arise after issuance of a patent. Applicants must therefore make their own decisions as to how long to retain originals.

Comment: Two comments questioned the justification for proposed § 1.4(e) requiring originals to be submitted in international patent applications.

Response: Section 1.4(e), as adopted, does not prohibit the filing of photocopies in an international patent application. With regard to facsimile transmissions, Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) Rule 92.4, as revised on July 1, 1992, permits the filing by facsimile of certain correspondence related to an international patent application. However, as indicated in §§ 1.6(d)(3), 1.8(a)(2)(iv) and 1.8(a)(2)(vi), the filing by facsimile is not permitted in the following situations relative to international applications for patent: (1) the filing of an international application for patent and (2) the filing of a copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in §§ 1.494(b) or 1.495(b).

Applicants are cautioned, however, that the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission provisions of § 1.8 do not apply to correspondence filed in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority, regardless of whether the correspondence was filed by mail or facsimile transmission. See § 1.8(a)(2)(5).

Comment: One comment suggested that, in applications filed under § 1.60, the certification that the application and papers being filed are true copies of those filed in the parent application should be excluded from the original signature requirement.

Response: Filing of copies of statements under § 1.60 as well as certifications under §§ 1.8, 1.10, 1.97(e) and 3.73(b) will be permitted. The certified documents referred to in § 1.4(f) are those which are required to be certified by statute (e.g., certified documents under 35 U.S.C. 119).

Comment: One comment questioned whether routine papers could be photocopied with a practitioner's signature thereon with appropriate information being filled in later by another person.

Response: Section 10.18(a) states that the signature of a practitioner, on correspondence filed, constitutes a certificate that the correspondence has been read by the practitioner. Accordingly, the photocopying of papers with a practitioner's signature thereon and subsequently having appropriate information filled in by another person, is not authorized or permitted under the rules.

Comment: One comment questioned whether a docket clerk could use a signature stamp of a registered attorney on a transmittal letter.

Response: Section 10.18(a) states that correspondence filed by a practitioner must be personally signed by that practitioner. Accordingly, use of a signature stamp of a registered attorney by a docket clerk would not be permitted.

Comment: Two comments suggested that the facsimile transmission practice be further liberalized to permit scanned-in signatures to be affixed to facsimile or electronically transmitted correspondence. The personal, handwritten signature would be affixed on a copy of the transmitted correspondence which would be kept by the applicant or his or her representative.

Response: The Office is actively considering acceptance of electronically filed applications and papers related thereto. See "Electronic Filing of Patent and Trademark Applications" published at 57 FR 56537 (November 30, 1992) and 1145 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 378 (December 22, 1992). Until an acceptable program is established, every paper, requiring a signature, filed in the Office, regardless of the manner in which it was transmitted, will have to be a paper which was signed by the person whose signature appears thereon, or be a copy thereof. Scanned signatures affixed to papers which were not personally signed will not be permitted at this time.

Comment: One comment indicated that proposed § 1.5(a) appeared to be contrary to PCT Article 27(1) in that it added the additional requirement not set forth in the PCT of requiring correspondence concerning an international application to identify the international application number.

Response: PCT Rule 92.1 requires any paper relating to an international application to identify the international application to which it relates. In order to ensure prompt and proper association of correspondence with the intended application file, it is essential to use the application number on all papers. The practice (which was not a new one added in this rulemaking) is a mere implementation of the requirement in PCT Rule 92.1 and is not contrary to PCT Article 27(1) as no additional requirement is being placed on applicants.

Comment: Two comments recommended an increase from two weeks to 30 days or one month in the period provided in § 1.5(a) for resubmission of correspondence.

Response: The two-week period provided in § 1.5(a) is to enable applicants to provide the necessary identifying data where such data was not provided during the original submission. This is intended to permit immediate resubmission and no additional time is deemed to be necessary. Extending this period to 30 days would unnecessarily delay prosecution of applications.

Comment: Section 1.5(a) suggests that all letters directed to the Office concerning applications for patents should also state "Patent Application". One comment suggested that § 1.5(a) be amended to replace the restrictive reference to a "Patent Application" to read "identifying the correspondence a relating to a patent application".

Response: In order to make it easier for Office employees handling incoming correspondence to direct mail, § 1.5(a) recommends that letters relating to a patent application should state "Patent Application". The suggestion in the comment was not adopted since uniformity in the reference to "Patent Application" is desirable. Furthermore, this suggested labeling is not a requirement as evidenced by the use of the word "should" rather than "must".

Comment: Section 1.5(a) states that "No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office". One comment suggested that the phrase "notification of the application number" was not adequately defined as it was not clear if applicants had to wait for the official filing receipt before information disclosure statements or other papers could be filed.

Response: The phrase "notification of the application number" as used in § 1.5(a) includes any manner in which an applicant becomes aware of the application number. The phrase is purposely broad and is not limited to the mailing of an official filing receipt. Rather, it includes a return post card which has an application number stamped thereon. The reasoning behind the statement in § 1.5(a) that no correspondence should be filed prior to notification of the application number is that correspondence received without an application number is difficult to match with the appropriate file. Further defining the phrase "notification of the application number" in § 1.5(a) is not warranted.

Comment: One comment suggested defining a business day as Monday through Friday, except for Federal holidays in the District of Columbia.

Response: It is not clear which section the comment was directed to, but § 1.6 indicates that no correspondence will be received by the Office on Saturdays, Sundays or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia. Since the language has not created problems in the past, the suggestion will not be adopted.

Comment: Two comments suggested amending § 1.6(c) to indicate the hour of operation of the "walk-up window".

Response: Specifying in the regulations the hours of operation of the "walk-up window" is unnecessary. The hours of operation have been published in Official Gazette announcements and if those hours are changed in the future, the new schedule will published. Should the hours of operation of the "walk-up window" be changed due to unforeseen circumstances (i.e., snow emergency, etc.), a sign will be posted at the "walk-up window" giving an alternate location to deposit correspondence for the Office.

Comment: Two comments requested that the Office reconsider and withdraw the proposal to eliminate the mail drop box at the guard's desk at the Department of Commerce Building in Washington, D. C.

Response: As indicated in the notice of proposed rulemaking, members of the public were occasionally denied access to the drop box at the Department of Commerce. Additionally, the Office lacked confidence in assigning correct dates of receipt to correspondence deposited in the box as a result of instances when correspondence was found outside of the drop box. Further, since there are many ways to file papers with the Office (i.e., certificate of mailing or transmission, Express Mail, facsimile transmission, longer hours at the "walk-up-window"), there is no need to maintain an off-site drop box.

Comment: One comment suggested that the Office publish phone numbers for facsimile machines at various locations, (i.e., Publishing Division, various examining groups, etc.), in order to enable the public to direct their transmissions to a particular location, rather than a central location.

Response: The suggestion has been adopted. See "Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) Information Contacts", 1149 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 67 (April 27, 1993). The Office will publish in the Official Gazette periodic updates of this list.

Comment: Three comments advocated a further expansion of the facsimile transmission practice to permit transmission of any paper which did not require an original signature. According to the comment, it was difficult to understand why the Office would not permit facsimile transmission of certain papers directly to the Office, but would accept those same papers if transmitted by facsimile to a third party who then hand-delivered the papers to the Office.

Response: The only papers, not requiring an original signature or certification, which the Office will not accept by facsimile transmission are those which, for various reasons, would cause an undue burden on the Office. For example, papers submitted for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date are often rather voluminous difficult to collate and would create inefficiencies in tying up the Office facsimile machines for long periods of time. In addition, there is a time and content criticality to papers filed for the purpose of obtaining a filing date which is not shared by other types of papers. Another example would be drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83-1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, or 2.21. Experience has shown that the quality of drawings received by facsimile transmission would typically result in an objection by the Official Draftsman. Disputes might arise at that point as to whether the cause of the poor quality was applicant's transmitting unit or the receiving unit of the Office. Hence, the Office will continue to prohibit facsimile transmission of certain papers as specified in § 1.6(d). However, the suggestion has been adopted to the extent that the office will accept, via facsimile transmission, an affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8(a) or (b) or section 12 (c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c); an application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059; and in an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051 (d)(1).

Comment: Section 1.6(d) states that the receipt date accorded to a paper transmitted by facsimile will be the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Office. Three comments objected to this language by arguing that this practice discriminated against West Coast practitioners and gave an advantage to East Coast practitioners because the West Coast prac-titioners had only until 9 P.M. to complete a transmission in order to receive the benefit of that day's filing.

Response: The facsimile transmission practice is similar to regular mail practice. Thus, a West Coast practitioner depositing correspondence with the local postal service without a certificate of mailing will receive as a receipt date the date on which the Office receives the correspondence, rather than the date on which the correspondence was deposited. Similarly, a paper transmitted by facsimile will be accorded, as the date of receipt, the date on which the complete transmission was received in the Office, unless the date of receipt is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case, the date of receipt will be the next business day.

The certificate practice provided in § 1.8, on the other hand, permits the sender to indicate on the correspondence the date of mailing or transmission from the sender's perspective, which date would then be effective to meet a deadline set for response. Use of the certificate of mail or transmission is applicable to correspondence submitted by mail and correspondence transmitted by facsimile. If transmitted by facsimile, the person signing the certificate certifies the expectation that the transmission would be initiated before midnight, local time.

By way of example, a West Coast practitioner preparing a response on the last day of the period for response would have to use the § 1.8 certificate of mailing procedure or the § 1.10 Express Mail procedure, for the response to be considered timely, if the correspondence was sent by way of the U. S. Postal Service. If the practitioner chose to send the correspondence by facsimile on the last day for response and the transmission was started before 9:00 p.m. Pacific time, but was completed after 9:00 p.m. Pacific time, the Office would accord that correspondence a receipt date as of the next business day, which would be after the period for response expired because the Office would have received the correspondence after midnight Eastern time of the last day for response. However, if the practitioner affixed a certificate of transmission to the correspondence sent by facsimile transmission, indicating that the correspondence was being transmitted on the last day in the period for response, then the correspondence would be considered timely filed.

As another example, a transmission started before midnight, Pacific time, on the last day for response and having a certificate of transmission affixed thereto, would be considered timely filed even though the transmission was completed after midnight, Pacific time and was received in the Office the day after the deadline for response.

Comment: One comment suggested replacing "drawings" in § 1.6(d)(4) with "formal drawings" for clarity.

Response: The suggestion has not been adopted because the phrase "formal drawings" does not find support or antecedent basis in sections referred to in § 1.6(d)(4).

Comment: One comment objected to the perceived requirement for a certificate of transmission in order for a facsimile-transmitted document to be accorded a date of receipt.

Response: The receipt date accorded to correspondence eligible for facsimile transmission, whether containing a certificate of transmission or not, will be the date of receipt in the Office of the complete transmission (unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case the date accorded will be the next business day). The certificate of transmission, if used, is for purposes of establishing timely filing if the correspondence is transmitted within the period for response but is (1) received in the Office after expiration of the period for response, or (2) lost or (3) not received by the Office.

Comment: One comment requested clarification as to what constituted a "complete transmission" as used in §§ 1.6(d).

Response: The context in which the phrase "complete transmission" was used in § 1.6(d) was to indicate that the transmission was finished. For example, if page 1 of a ten-page facsimile transmission is received in the Office at 11:55 p.m. on a Tuesday and page 10 of that transmission is received at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday, the receipt date accorded to that correspondence will be the date of that Wednesday. (This example assumes that Wednesday is not a Federal holiday within the District of Columbia).

Comment: One comment questioned whether a confirmation in the sender's facsimile machine that the entire facsimile was received constituted sufficient proof that a transmission was complete.

Response: A confirmation by the sender's facsimile machine is evidence that a transmission was made. As such, the confirmation will be considered together with any other evidence presented when questions of filing by facsimile transmission arise. It is therefore suggested that a certificate of transmission be used to enable the sender to rely on the procedures set forth in § 1.8(b).

Comment: One comment requested clarification as to what constituted an incomplete, faulty or illegible facsimile. Also, if an incomplete transmission was sent near the end of the period for response, will the sender be able to rely on the date the facsimile was initially transmitted, or would the sender have to rely on § 1.137 to revive the application if it became abandoned?

Response: If an incomplete, faulty or illegible facsimile transmission is received, that correspondence will be treated by the Office in the same manner that a comparably incomplete, faulty or illegible piece of correspondence would be treated if the correspondence were hand-delivered or mailed to the Office. Whether the application would be held abandoned upon receipt of an incomplete facsimile transmission or whether an opportunity would be provided to complete the transmission will be decided on a case-by-case basis using the same standards that are currently used - for example, for incomplete responses to Office actions, see § 1.135(c).

Comment: One comment indicated that the proposed practice of not accepting papers related to international applications if transmitted by facsimile and the indication that papers transmitted by facsimile, when prohibited, may be disposed of is contrary to PCT practice wherein PCT expressly provides for facsimile transmission of such papers and when not acceptable, an opportunity to correct is provided.

Response: PCT does not mandate acceptance of facsimile transmissions; it merely authorizes their acceptance. See PCT Rule 92.4(h). Additionally, as indicated above, the suggestion that the Office permit facsimile transmission of correspondence relative to an already filed international application has been adopted to a large extent.

There is no provision in PCT to provide an opportunity for correction when correspondence is filed by facsimile in spite of a refusal by a national Office to accept that type of correspondence by facsimile. As with national applications, the Office will attempt to notify senders whenever a facsimile transmission received is of a type which the Office has not agreed to accept by facsimile. Senders are cautioned against submitting such correspondence by facsimile transmission since the correspondence will not be accorded a filing date or date of receipt in the Office.

Comment: One comment suggested changing the phrase "Certificate of Transfer" in § 1.8 to "Certificate of Transmittal" or "Certificate of Sending" because "transfer" typically implies transfer of ownership interest in patents or trademarks.

Response: While each phrase has its own advantages and drawbacks, the suggestion will not be adopted. Nevertheless, in order to avoid confusion, this rulemaking leaves the old "Certificate of Mailing" intact, while adding "or Transmission" to include correspondence filed by facsimile transmission.

Comment: In the notice of proposed rulemaking, it was recommended that the facsimile machine transmission report be retained by the sender along with the correspondence used as the original, as evidence of content and date of transfer. One comment indicated that the correspondence used as the original can only be retained using the older stand-alone type of facsimile machine, since there is no such physical document with the newer in-computer facsimile cards.

Response: Section 1.4(d)(2) provides for submission of copies, e.g., by facsimile, of originals as defined in § 1.4(d)(1). Section 1.4(d)(2) does not provide for transmission of unsigned correspondence from a computer. While § 1.4(d)(2) does not require the sender to retain the original, there may be occasions when the sender will have to document the date and content of a document previously filed by facsimile transmission. The recommendation made in the notice of proposed rulemaking will apply to any situation where a paper document served as the original from which a facsimile was transmitted. If a facsimile transmission by using a computer is desired, a paper copy of the document to be transmitted may be printed out, signed and retained by the sender as evidence of content of the document transmitted. Once signed, if filing of a copy is permitted, the document could be scanned into the computer and facsimile transmitted to the Office.

Comment: In proposed section 1.8(a)(1) published in the Federal Register, paragraphs (i) and (ii) were joined with the alternative "or" to indicate that correspondence could be filed by being deposited with the U. S. Postal Service or transmitted by facsimile. This same section was published in the Official Gazette, by having paragraphs (i) and (ii) joined with the connective "and". Numerous comments, received apparently from individuals who saw the proposed rules in the Official Gazette, objected to the requirement that, in order to receive benefits under § 1.8, correspondence transmitted by facsimile also had to be mailed.

Response: Section 1.8(a)(1) as published in the Federal Register was correct, while the version published in the Official Gazette contained a typographical error. Hence, §§ 1.8(a)(1)(i) (A) and (B), as adopted in this rulemaking, make clear that the certificate of mailing or transmission practice will be applicable to correspondence mailed or sent by facsimile. The Office discourages the practice of having the same papers submitted by both methods as this practice would result in unnecessary duplication of papers and processing requirements.

Comment: One comment indicated that since all facsimile transmissions include the date and time of the actual facsimile transmission, the Office should not require a certificate of transmission, in order to get the benefit of an earlier filing date under § 1.8(a), when correspondence is transmitted by facsimile.

Response: The Office is concerned that some older machines may not print the date and time of the actual transmission. Furthermore, even on the new machines the date and time printed by the sending unit may not always be correct, particularly after a temporary electrical disconnection, change in time, etc. Hence, for purposes of being considered timely filed, if the sender wishes to obtain the benefits of a date earlier than the date the complete transmission is received in the Office, the correspondence must include a certification in accordance with § 1.8(a). A suggested format for a Certificate of Mailing and a Certificate of Transmission under § 1.8, to be included with the correspondence, is reproduced below:

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

The rule changes are in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612 and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et Seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that these rule changes will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of these changes is to incorporate existing Office policy into the regulations, permit the filing of certain correspondence without an original signature and permit the filing of certain correspondence by facsimile transmission.

The Office has determined that these rule changes are not major rules under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individuals, industries, Federal, state or local government agencies, or geographic regions because most of the changes reduce procedural burdens. There will be no significant effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The Office has also determined that these changes have no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

These rule changes contain collection-of-information requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S C. 3501 et seq., which have previously been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Control Nos. 0651-0009 and 0651-0011. The public reporting burden for these collections of information for Certificates of Mailing or Transmission is estimated to average 0.1 hours each, including the time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collections of information. Send comments regarding these burden estimates, or any other aspect of these collections of information, including suggestions for reducing the burden, to Abraham Hershkovitz, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Patents, Box DAC, Washington, D.C. 20231, and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D.C. 20503 (ATTN: Paperwork Reduction Act Projects 0651-0009 and 0651-0011).

List of Subjects

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Freedom of information, Inventions and patents, Reporting and record keeping requirements.

37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

37 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Conflicts of interest, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 15 U.S.C. 1123 and 35 U.S.C. 6, parts 1, 2 and 10 of title 37 of the Code of Federal Regulations are amended as set forth below:

PART 1 - RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. In Section 1.4, the title is revised and paragraphs (d) through (f) are added to read as follows:

§ 1.4 Nature of correspondence and signature requirements.

(d) Each piece of correspondence, except as provided in paragraphs (e) and (f) of this section, filed in a patent or trademark application, reexamination proceeding, patent or trademark interference proceeding, patent file or trademark registration file, trademark opposition proceeding, trademark cancellation proceeding, or trademark concurrent use proceeding, which requires a person's signature, must either:

(1) be an original, that is, have an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by that person; or

(2) be a copy, such as a photocopy or facsimile transmission (§ 1.6(d)), of an original. In the event that a copy of the original is filed, the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity. If a question of authenticity arises, the Patent and Trademark Office may require submission of the original.

(e) Correspondence requiring person's signature and relating to registration to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office in patent cases, enrollment and disciplinary investigations, or disciplinary proceedings must be submitted with an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by that person.

(f) When a document that is required by statute to be certified must be filed, a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of the certification is not acceptable.

3. Section 1.5(a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.5 Identification of application, patent or registration.

(a) No correspondence relating to an application should be filed prior to when notification of the application number is received from the Patent and Trademark Office. When a letter directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerns a previously filed application for a patent, it must identify on the top page in a conspicuous location, the application number (consisting of the series code and the serial number, e.g., 07/123,456), or the serial number and filing date assigned to that application by the Patent and Trademark Office, or the international application number of the international application. Any correspondence not containing such identification will be returned to the sender where a return address is available. The returned correspondence will be accompanied with a cover letter which will indicate to the sender that if the returned correspondence is resubmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office within two weeks of the mail date on the cover letter, the original date of receipt of the correspondence will be considered by the Patent and Trademark Office as the date of receipt of the correspondence. Applicants may use either the Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure under § 1.8 or the Express Mail procedure under § 1.10 for resubmissions of returned correspondence if they desire to have the benefit of the date of deposit in the United States Postal Service. If the returned correspondence is not resubmitted within the two-week period, the date of receipt of resubmission will be considered to be the date of receipt of the correspondence. The two-week period to resubmit the returned correspondence will not be extended. If for some reason returned correspondence is resubmitted with proper identification later than two weeks after the return mailing by the Patent and Trademark Office, the resubmitted correspondence will be accepted but given its date of receipt. In addition to the application number, all letters directed to the Patent and Trademark Office concerning applications for patent should also state "PATENT APPLICATION," the name of the applicant, the title of the invention, the date of filing the same, and if known, the group art unit or other unit within the Patent and Trademark Office responsible for considering the letter and the name of the examiner or other person to which it has been assigned.

4. In section 1.6, is revised, to read as follows:

§ 1.6 Receipt of correspondence.

(a) Date of receipt and Express Mail date of deposit.

Correspondence received in the Patent and Trademark Office is stamped with the date of receipt except as follows:

(1) No correspondence is received in the Patent and Trademark Office on Saturdays, Sundays or Federal holidays within the District of Columbia;

(2) Correspondence filed in accordance with § 1.10 will be stamped with the date of deposit as "Express Mail" with the United States Postal Service unless the date of deposit is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia;

(3) Correspondence transmitted by facsimile to the Patent and Trademark Office will be stamped with the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Patent and Trademark Office unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia, in which case the date stamped will be the next succeeding day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia.

(b) Patent and Trademark Office Post Office pouch.

Mail placed in the Patent and Trademark Office pouch up to midnight on any day, except Saturdays, Sundays and Federal holidays within the District of Columbia, by the post office at Washington, D.C., serving the Patent and Trademark Office, is considered as having been received in the Patent and Trademark Office on the day it was so placed in the pouch by the U.S. Postal Service.

(c) Correspondence delivered by hand.

In addition to being mailed, correspondence may be delivered by hand during hours the Office is open to receive correspondence.

(d) Facsimile transmission.

Except in the cases enumerated below, correspondence, including authorizations to charge a deposit account, may be transmitted by facsimile. The receipt date accorded to the correspondence will be the date on which the complete transmission is received in the Patent and Trademark Office, unless that date is a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia. See § 1.6(a)(3). To facilitate proper processing, each transmission session should be limited to correspondence to be filed in a single application or other proceeding before the Patent and Trademark Office. The application number of a patent or trademark application, the control number of a reexamination proceeding, the interference number of an interference proceeding, the patent number of a patent, or the registration number of a trademark should be entered as a part of the sender's identification on a facsimile cover sheet. Facsimile transmissions are not permitted and if submitted, will not be accorded a date of receipt, in the following situations:

(1) Correspondence as specified in § 1.4(e), requiring an original signature;

(2) Certified documents as specified in § 1.4(f);

(3) Correspondence which cannot receive the benefit of the certificate of mailing or transmission as specified in § 1.8(a)(2)(i)(A) through (D) and (F); 1.8 (a)(2)(ii)(A) and (D); and 1.8 (a)(2)(iii)(A);

(4) Drawings submitted under §§ 1.81, 1.83 through 1.85, 1.152, 1.165, 1.174, 1.437, 2.51, 2.52, or 2.72;

(5) A request for reexamination under § 1.510;

(6) Correspondence to be filed in a patent application subject to a secrecy order under §§ 5.1 through 5.8 of this chapter and directly related to the secrecy order content of the application;

(7) Requests for cancellation or amendment of a registration under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e); and certificates of registration surrendered for cancellation or amendment under section 7(e) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1057(e);

(8) Correspondence to be filed with the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, except the notice of ex parte appeal;

(9) Correspondence to be filed in an interference proceeding which consists of a preliminary statement under § 1.621; a transcript of a deposition under § 1.676 or of interrogatories, cross-interrogatories, or recorded answers under § 1.684(c); or an evidentiary record and exhibits under § 1.653.

(e) Interruptions in U.S. Postal Service.

If interruptions or emergencies in the United States Postal Service which have been so designated by the Commissioner occur, the Patent and Trademark Office will consider as filed on a particular date in the Office any correspondence which is:

(1) Promptly filed after the ending of the designated interruption or emergency; and

(2) Accompanied by a statement indicating that such correspondence would have been filed on that particular date if it were not for the designated interruption or emergency in the United States Postal Service. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in § 10.1(r) of this chapter.

5. Section 1.8 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.8 Certificate of mailing or transmission.

(a) Except in the cases enumerated in paragraph (a)(2) of this section, correspondence required to be filed in the Patent and Trademark Office within a set period of time will be considered as being timely filed if the procedure described in this section is followed. The actual date of receipt will be used for all other purposes.

(1) Correspondence will be considered as being timely filed if:

(i) the correspondence is mailed or transmitted prior to expiration of the set period of time by being:

(A) deposited with the U.S. Postal Service with sufficient postage as first class mail addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231; or

(B) transmitted by facsimile to the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with § 1.6(d); and

(ii) the correspondence includes a certificate for each piece of correspondence stating the date of deposit or transmission. The person signing the certificate should have reasonable basis to expect that the correspondence would be mailed or transmitted on or before the date indicated.

(2) The procedure described in paragraph (a)(1) of this section does not apply to, and no benefit will be given to a Certificate of Mailing or Transmission on the following:

(i) Relative to Patents and Patent Applications

A. The filing of a national patent application specification and drawing or other correspondence for the purpose of obtaining an application filing date;

B. The filing of correspondence in an interference which an examiner-in-chief orders to be filed by hand or "Express Mail";

C. The filing of agreements between parties to an interference under 35 U.S.C. 135(c);

D. The filing of an international application for patent;

E. The filing of correspondence in an international application before the U.S. Receiving Office, the U.S. International Searching Authority, or the U.S. International Preliminary Examining Authority;

F. The filing of a copy of the international application and the basic national fee necessary to enter the national stage, as specified in § 1.494(b) or § 1.495(b).

(ii) Relative to Trademark Registrations and Trademark Applications

A. The filing of a trademark application;

B. The filing of an affidavit showing that a mark is still in use or containing an excuse for nonuse under section 8 (a) or (b) or section 12(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1058(a), 1058(b), 1062(c);

C. The filing of an application for renewal of a registration under section 9 of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1059;

D. The filing of a petition to cancel a registration of a mark under section 14, subsection (1) or (2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1064;

E. In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of an amendment to allege use in commerce under section 1(c) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(c); or the filing of a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(1);

F. In an application under section 1(b) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), the filing of a request under section 1(d)(2) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(2), for an extension of time to file a statement of use under section 1(d)(1) of the Trademark Act, 15 U.S.C. 1051(d)(l).

(iii) Relative to Disciplinary Proceedings

A. Correspondence filed in connection with a disciplinary proceeding under Part 10 of this chapter.

B. Reserved.

(b) In the event that correspondence is considered timely filed by being mailed or transmitted in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, but not received in the Patent and Trademark Office, and the application is held to be abandoned or the proceeding dismissed, terminated, or decided with prejudice, the correspondence will be considered timely if the party who forwarded such correspondence:

(1) informs the Office of the previous mailing or transmission of the correspondence promptly after becoming aware that the Office has no evidence of receipt of the correspondence,

(2) supplies an additional copy of the previously mailed or transmitted correspondence and certificate, and

(3) includes a statement which attests on a personal knowledge basis or to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to the previous timely mailing or transmission. Such statement must be a verified statement if made by a person other than a practitioner as defined in § 10.1(r) of this chapter. If the correspondence was sent by facsimile transmission, a copy of the sending unit's report confirming transmission may be used to support this statement.

(c) The Office may require additional evidence to determine if the correspondence was timely filed.

6. Section 1.304 paragraphs (a) and (c) are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a)(1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time period provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires:

(i) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint, or

(ii) Two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

(a)(2) The time periods set forth in this section are not subject to the provisions of §§ 1.136, 1.550(c) or § 1.645 (a) or (b).

(a)(3) The Commissioner may extend the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action:

(i) For good cause shown if requested in writing before the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action, or

(ii) Upon written request after the expiration of the period for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action upon a showing that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

(c) If a defeated party to an interference has taken an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit and an adverse party has filed notice under 35 U.S.C. 141 electing to have all further proceedings conducted under 35 U.S.C. 146 (§ 1.303(c)), the time for filing a civil action thereafter is specified in 35 U.S.C. 141. The time for filing a cross-action expires 14 days after service of the summons and complaint.

7. Section 1.366(b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.366 Submission of maintenance fees.

(b) A maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge submitted for a patent must be submitted in the amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid and may be paid in the manner set forth in § 1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account established pursuant to § 1.25. Payment of a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge or the authorization to charge a deposit account must be submitted within the periods set forth in § 1.362 (d), (e) or (f). Any payment or authorization of maintenance fees and surcharges filed at any other time will not be accepted and will not serve as a payment of the maintenance fee except insofar as a delayed payment of the maintenance fee is accepted by the Commissioner in an expired patent pursuant to a petition filed under § 1.378. Any authorization to charge a deposit account must authorize the immediate charging of the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge to the deposit account. Payment of less than the required amount, payment in a manner other than that set forth in § 1.23, or the filing of an authorization to charge a deposit account having insufficient funds will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee or surcharge on a patent. The certificate procedures of either § 1.8 or § 1.10 may be utilized in paying maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges.

8. Section 1.741, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.741 Filing date of application.

(a) The filing date of an application for extension of patent term is the date on which a complete application is received in the Patent and Trademark Office or filed pursuant to the "Certificate of Mailing or Transmission" provisions of 37 CFR 1.8 or "Express Mail" provisions of 37 CFR 1.10.

PART 2- RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

9. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 2 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

10. Section 2.145 is amended by revising Paragraphs C(3) and D(1) to read as follows:

§ 2.145 Appeal to Court and Civil Action.

(c) ***

(3) Any adverse party to an appeal taken to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit by a defeated party in an inter partes proceeding may file a notice with the Commissioner within twenty days after the filing of the defeated party's notice of appeal to the court (paragraph (b) of this section), electing to have all further proceedings conducted as provided in section 21(b) of the Act. The notice of election must be served as provided in § 2.119.

(d) Time for appeal or civil action.

(1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (paragraph (b) of this section), or for commencing a civil action (paragraph (c) of this section), is two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration or modification of the decision is filed within the time specified in §§ 2.127(b), 2.129(c) or § 2.144, or within any extension of time granted thereunder, the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In inter partes cases, the time for filing a cross-action or a notice of a cross-appeal expires (i) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint; or

(ii) two months from the date of the decision of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board or the Commissioner, whichever is later.

11. Section 2.165(a)(1) is revised to read as follows:

§ 2.165 Reconsideration of Affidavit or Declaration

(a)(l) If the affidavit or declaration filed pursuant to § 2.162 is insufficient or defective, the affidavit or declaration will be refused and the registrant will be notified of the reason. Reconsideration of the refusal may be requested within six months from the date of the mailing of the action. The request for reconsideration must state the grounds for the request. A supplemental or substitute affidavit or declaration required by section 8 of the Act of 1946 cannot be considered unless it is filed before the expiration of six years from the date of the registration or from the date of publication under section 12(c) of the Act. The Certificate of Mailing or Transmission procedure provided by § 1.8 does not apply to affidavits or declarations or to supplemental or substitute affidavits or declarations filed under section 8(a) or (b) of the Act, but the certificate by "Express Mail" procedure provided by § 1.10 does apply thereto.

PART 10- REPRESENTATION OF OTHERS BEFORE THE PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE

12. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 10 continues to read as follows:
Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32 41.

13. Section 10.18, is revised to read as follows:

§ 10.18 Signature and certificate of practitioner.

(a) Except where a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of a personally signed piece of correspondence is permitted to be filed pursuant to § 1.4 of this chapter, every piece of correspondence filed by a practitioner on behalf of himself or herself or representing an applicant or a party to a proceeding in the Patent and Trademark Office must bear an original signature personally signed in permanent ink by such practitioner except for correspondence which is required to be signed by the applicant or party. The signature of a practitioner on correspondence filed by the practitioner, regardless of whether the correspondence has an original signature or is a copy, including a photocopy or facsimile transmission, of correspondence bearing an original signature, constitutes a certificate that:

(1) The correspondence has been read by the practitioner;

(2) The filing of the correspondence is authorized;

(3) To the best of practitioner's knowledge, information, and belief, there is good ground to support the correspondence, including any allegations of improper conduct contained or alleged therein; and

(4) The correspondence is not interposed for delay.

(b) Any practitioner knowingly violating the provisions of this section is subject to disciplinary action. See § 10.23(c)(15).

14. Section 10.23, paragraph (c)(9), is revised to read as follows:

§ 10.23 Misconduct

(c) ***

(9) Knowingly misusing a "Certificate of Mailing or Transmission" under § 1.8 of this chapter or a certificate of "Express Mail" under § 1.10 of this chapter.

Unpaid Fee Checks

Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office will change the procedure for handling fee checks of attorneys and agents that are returned to the Office unpaid. Presently, when a check submitted as payment for an application, a processing, an issue or any other fee is returned to the Office unpaid, the Office of Finance sends a letter to the attorney or agent who represents the applicant, or to the applicant if unrepresented by an attorney or agent, enclosing the check and calling attention to the fact that the check was returned unpaid. Beginning Dec. 1, 1987, the Office of Finance will send a copy of its letter to the applicant if the letter is addressed to an attorney or agent. The prohibition of 37 CFR §§ 1.33 and 2.18 against double correspondence is waived in view of the submission of a check that is returned unpaid to the Office.

A registered patent attorney or agent who repeatedly submits checks that are returned unpaid through no fault of the bank may expect to have the matter referred to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline.

(175) Filing Receipt for Trademark Applications

Effective immediately, the Trademark Examining Operation will replace its existing "FILING RECEIPT FOR TRADEMARK APPLICATIONS," PTO Form 100 (Rev. 8/78), with a filing receipt using a new format. The revised filing receipt will be printed on a single sheet of 8 1/2" x 11" paper and will contain information regarding the mark, applicant, International and U.S. classes, goods and/or services, and dates of use. If all of the information relating to a new application cannot be printed on the 8 1/2" x 11" filing receipt, it will be noted that additional information was contained in the application but was not printed. The addressee's name and address will be printed on the back of the filing receipt.

Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Final Rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) is amending the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, to set forth fees for public access to the text data bases resident on the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for on-line access to the automated search systems.

The Office will provide on-line access to its USPAT data base (full text of U.S. patents issued after 1974), the U.S. classification data from 1790 to the present, and to English abstracts of Japanese and Chinese patents (to the extent they are available), hereinafter referred to as APS-Text, in its Patent Search Room and to T-Search in its Trademark Search Library, located in Arlington, Virginia. Except for a series of pilot experiments which may occur over the next one or two years, the Office does not plan to provide routine remote on-line access to these data bases at any other facilities at the present time. A separate rulemaking process will be followed when the Office determines to provide such remote on-line access.

Both search systems have been made available to the public free of charge since April 3, 1989, for the purposes of education and training (familiarization).

The paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patents documents and U.S. trademark registrations continue to be available to the public free of charge, as provided by section 104(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. The Office reaffirms its commitment to hold a public hearing prior to making any decision concerning the elimination of the paper files.

This final rule establishes fees for use of the on-line automated search systems. In addition, procedures for public use of the automated search systems, including training and charging of fees, are presented.

In response to the notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989 (54 FR 18907), and at a public hearing held on June 30, 1989, the Office received many comments regarding problems encountered by the public in the use of T-Search. The Office believes that T-Search has proven effective for searches performed by Trademark examining attorneys in connection with their examination of applications for the registration of marks. Although the Office is establishing a fee for accessing the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee to provide additional time for the public to familiarize themselves with T-Search. The Office will provide the public with sixty days notice before starting to collect the fee.

Effective Date: February 12, 1990. Rule 2.6(w) will take effect February 12, 1990 but immediately be suspended by the Commissioner. The Office will provide written notice in the Federal Register sixty days before starting to collect fees for accessing T-Search.

For Further Information: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail marked to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: The purpose of this final rule is to establish new fees for the on-line use by the public of APS-Text, and T-Search that are to be provided in the Office's facilities in Arlington, Virginia. This final rule is consistent with the Office's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines, which were published in final form in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18920. Establishment and adjustment of patent fees is provided for by section 6 and section 41 of Title 35, United States Code, and section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703. Establishment and adjustment of trademark fees is authorized by section 31 of the Trademark (Lanham) Act 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1113), and section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703. Information on the procedures for public use of the automated systems, including training, waivers, and the charging of fees, also is presented.

Background: In response to Pub. L. 96-517, the 1980 legislation which amended patent and trademark laws, the Office prepared and submitted a plan for the automation of its operations to Congress on December 13, 1982. The plan centered on two basic concepts: the creation of electronic data bases that (1) would eventually replace the Office's all-paper patent and trademark files, and thereby improve the integrity and quality of Office records; and (2) would support searches, examinations, Office actions and other Office functions through electronic workstations which would provide text and image retrieval capabilities and perform other automation functions.

Over 700,000 active Federal trademark registations have been converted to an electronic data base of textual and digital image data. A computer system has been installed to enable trademark examining attorneys to search the data base for registered and pending trademarks and associated textual data, including marks containing designs, and to retrieve, display and print all information as a substitute for paper file searches. Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search exclusively since January 1988 via a network of approximately 40 terminals. After a six-month experimental T-Search evaluation program conducted between June and December 1988, the capability was deployed for public use in the Trademark Search Library on April 3, 1989.

The T-Search "dead data base", trademarks cancelled, expired or abandoned since March 1984, also is available to the public, but approximately 17,000 images are missing and an additional 184,000 registrations and applications have not been quality checked. Trademark examining attorneys do not search this data base in connection with examining activities.

An Automated Patent System (APS) was installed for test and evaluation purposes, using one patent examining group as an operational testbed. Major operational components of APS, that is, large scale computers with conventional magnetic storage devices, a high-speed local data communications network, and electronic workstations equipped with two high resolution graphic displays and laser printers were interconnected on July 1, 1986, to enable system test and evaluation to begin in the testbed group.

On-line access to the full-text of all U.S. patents granted after 1974 and then to English language abstracts of Japanese patents was deployed to the patent examining staff beginning in 1986. On-line access to APS-Text permits examiners to search the text of approximately one million U.S. patents containing more than five billion words. Today, all examiners have been trained in the use of the full-text searching tool, and it has become a routine part of the patent examination process for many examiners. Searches are conducted from approximately 71 single screen text terminals located throughout the Office. The APS-Text capability was deployed to the public in the Patent Search Room on April 3, 1989.

The Office intends to enter the text of virtually all U.S. patents issued after 1970. In addition, selected tubular data and chemical and mathematical equations will be added to the current full text file. Ultimately, approximately 1.2 million U.S. patents will be available to both patent examiners and the public for search in full text form.

Public evaluation of the APS full-text search capability was conducted between January 11 and April 15, 1988. Forty-two (42) public users were trained an APS-Text during January 1988, and allowed first-come/first-serve access to several terminals. Reactions of public users to APS-Text were positive. Public users found APS-Text useful for pre-application and state-of-the-art searches. A total of 38 public users were trained on T-Search during a public evaluation period conducted between June and December 1988. Preliminary review indicated that public users considered T-Search to be useful both as a source for registrability searching and for verifying paper searches. In addition, T-Search was found to facilitate searches by class and ownership.

Pub. L. 100-703, enacted on November 19, 1988, allows the Commissioner to establish reasonable fees for public access to the automated search systems while it continues the requirements that no more than 30 percent of automation resources may be from user fees and that the Office may not enter into exchange agreements relating to automatic data processing resources.

Section 104(c) of Pub. L. 100-703 allows the Commissioner to waive the payment by an individual of fees for accessing the automated search systems upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest.

The information contained in the automated data bases, which will be available to the public at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, is available free of charge at that location in paper form, and is substantially available through commercial vendors. The Office believes it to be in the public interest to waive the fee for public access to its text data bases in situations where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user.

A personal, educational purpose is one in which the person using the data base is attempting to satisfy a personal need, and is not conducting a search or otherwise using the data base for compensation in any form. Examples of appropriate waiver situations would include students or teachers doing a term paper, a university professor collecting background information for the preparation of an application for a research grant. An example of a situation where a waiver would not be appropriate would include an individual doing work for renumeration - e.g., a law student doing a pre-examination or infringement search for a law firm.

The Commissioner will further consider a fee waiver based on a genuine financial hardship. The person requesting a waiver will be required to provide information that would demonstrate a clear inability to pay the fee.

A waiver for the payment of fees is intended to be granted sparingly, and generally only when terminals are available. It is not anticipated that fees will be waived for any one individual more than once or twice each year. The Commissioner reserves the authority to control access to the data bases and deny a waiver to any individual. The waiver policy would apply only to use of the automated system, and not to the printing or sale of copies. Any abuse of the waiver policy could lead to a ban on the use of any public search facility for that individual.

Cost Calculations: The Office calculated unit costs for all fees based on OMB Circular A-25 "User Fees", and OMB Circular A-130, "Management of Federal Information Resources." Costs were determined from the best available records (for example, financial statements for the Office) and included direct and indirect costs to the Office of carrying out the activity, as directed by OMB Circular A-25. User charges for both APS-Text and T-Search were based on the marginal costs of providing these services to the public.

In calculating the costs of providing access to T-Search and APS-Text to the public, the Office followed Congressional direction that fees be resonable by reflecting the marginal cost for providing the new service and not include the costs of designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems.

Prior to preparation of this final rule, all of the cost assumptions and cost calculations were reviewed and modified to ensure that they included the Office's best estimates and projections.

APS-Text

The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on APS-Text. The marginal costs for one hour terminal session time on APS-Text include a portion of the lease cost of a new computer mainframe which originally was to be acquired in fiscal year 1990 for use by Office patent examiners. To meet public search requirements, the mainframe is being leased earlier than originally planned. That portion of lease costs for the three (3) month period March 1990 through May 1990 over and above the lease costs for a mainframe sized to meet only examiner needs is being passed on to the user. After May 1990, the mainframe was intended to be procured and installed to support APS. Therefore, no costs are being passed on to the public user after that time. When public usage reaches the level where a mainframe dedicated for public use is required, fee adjustments will be proposed to pass all of the costs of that mainframe on to the public.

The level of public use will affect the amount of main memory needed to support the additional search sessions. It is projected than an additional increment of main memory will be required in fiscal years 1991 and 1992. This increment would not be required to support the examiner workload alone.

The fee calculations for public access also include the costs for equipment: network interface units, text terminals, printer noise dampeners and text terminal printers.

Other costs include a portion of the license fees that must be paid to Chemical Abstracts Service for its proprietary text and structure search software; additional personnel for the Patent Search Room, and the Office of Information Systems; computer installation costs; supplies and equipment dedicated to public use; and general and administrative overhead.

The Office is providing free access time during training on the automated search systems in accordance with 104(c) of Public Law 100-703 which reads. "...a limited amount of free access shall be made available to all users of the systems for purposes of education and training."

The usage rate estimates are based on the three-month public user study performed from January through March 1988. For this study, 42 frequent Patent Search Room users were selected to be trained in the use of APS-Text. Three text terminals were made available to the trained public users at no charge. During the three-month study period, use of the three terminals averaged approximately 50 percent. While it is impossible to accurately predict future use by a more diverse group of public users, the cost calculations attempted to take into account the following factors and assumptions:

1. Future public users, on average, would use APS-Text less frequently than the 42 frequent users selected for the 1988 study, many of whom routinely used commercially available automated text search tools.

2. Collection of a fee for use (as opposed to the absence of any charge during the study) would reduce demand for text search services when compared with usage data obtained during the study period.

3. The potential universe of public users is expected to average no more than 300 per day.

4. The average length of a public user search session is projected to be approximately 22 minutes - the average length of a search session during the 1988 test of public use.

5. Based on the preceding assumptions, if all 300 potential public users conducted a single search session during a workday, a total of 110 hours of access would be required. Twenty-five text terminals available five days a week, twelve hours a day, would provide a maximum potential of 300 hours of available text search time. Under these assumptions, the number of text terminals appeared to be adequate for the foreseeable future.

6. For purposes of actual use of available text terminals, the following estimates were used:

(a) In fiscal year 1990, between four (4) and six (6) terminals would be available during the first quarter. An estimate of 45 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 10 in January 1990 and 20 in April 1990, an estimate of 40 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected. By increasing the number of text terminals to 25 in July 1990, an estimate of 35 percent utilization of available text terminal time was projected.

(b) During fiscal year 1991 and beyond, stable levels of usage were projected to be achieved, yielding an estimated 35 percent average utilization of the 25 available terminals. This utilization rate equates to 105 session hours per day, or an average of 4.2 session hours per terminal per day. At an average of 22 minutes per session, a total of 286 search sessions per day.

Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher than projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations is as follows:

T-Search

The marginal cost for one hour of terminal session time on T-Search includes the costs of personnel in the Trademark Search Library, maintenance of the T-Search terminals, routine site preparation, supplies and forms, and general and administrative overhead. The Office is establishing the $40.00 fee for each hour of terminal session time on T-Search, but is immediately suspending collection of that fee in order to provide public users additional time to familiarize themselves with the system.

The comments submitted in response to the proposed rulemaking indicate that the public users have not adequately adjusted to the T-Search system. During the period collection of the fee is suspended, the public will have an opportunity to better learn the system so as to perform more effective searches than they may be experiencing now. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register sixty days before it begins collecting a fee for public access to T-Search.

Usage rates for T-Search during fiscal years 1990-1992 were projected to be 28 percent of the hours the system would be available to the public. This rate was extrapolated from actual usage rates during the T-Search public user pilot program which was conducted from June through December 1988. A total of 38 members of the public were trained on T-Search, and about 24 to 28 public users were active on T-Search each month. The overall usage rate of these active users was 14 percent of the hours the system was available to the public. In projecting usage rates on which to base a fee amount, it was anticipated that the overall number of users and the usage rate would double once T-Search was made available in the Trademark Search Library to all users of that search facility and training was provided on a routine basis. Although usage rates since the system was made available to the public in April 1989 have been higher projected, the Office believes these projections are valid for the three-year fee cycle.

A summary of the fee calculations are as follows:

T-Search
Marginal Cost of One-Hour of

The proposed fee of $25.00 for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search has been withdrawn. The T-Search system can be used by the public with routine assistance provided by the regular staff of the Trademark Search Library. This is similar to assistance on how to use the paper files now provided free of charge by the Trademark Search Library staff. Office employees will neither work one-on-one with members of the public in conducting searches, nor conducted searches for members of the public.

Rounding Procedures: Fee amounts were rounded so that the amount rounded would be de minimis and convenient to the user. This procedure is consistent with section 103(b) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust patent fees in the aggregate, and with section 103(a) of Pub. L. 100-703 which allows the Office to adjust trademark fees in the aggregate. The Office has detailed cost calculation worksheets for each fee item, which are available for public inspection in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

PROCEDURES FOR PUBLIC USE OF APS-TEXT AND T-SEARCH

Patent Search Room Configuration

Initially four (4) text search terminals will be installed and available for public use in the Patent Search Room. A printer will be associated with each text search terminal. An additional terminal will be located in Patent Search Room employee office space for control and adminstrative activities. Up to twenty-one (21) more terminals and printers are planned to be added for public use during fiscal year 1990, if necessary.

Trademark Search Library Configuration

Initially three (3) T-Search terminals with associated printers all be installed and available for public use in the Trademark Search Library. The terminals will be clustered in one area of the Trademark Search Library. An additional terminal will be located in Trademark Search Library employee office space for control and administration activities. Additional terminals and printers will be added as demand warrants and space permits.

Training

To enable prospective public users to become effective on APS-Text, approximately fourteen (14) hours of free basic training is being offered. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of six (6) hours is provided. Ten (10) members of the public can be trained during each class. Training is being held at the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during normal work hours.

Four (4) hours of basic training is being offered on the use of T-Search. For those familiar with automated search systems, a shorter course of one (1) hour is available. T-Search training is being held in the Office's Arlington, Va. complex during morning, evening and weekend hours.

Enrollment in all training classes initially was on a lottery basis. Public users who wished to be trained on APS-Text or T-Search were required to submit an application form. The Office is now accepting requests for training and adding the names to the list. As of August 31, 1989, 696 people or 70 percent of all those requesting training have been trained.

System Use and Fee Procedures

To ensure equity of public access to the automated systems, as well an efficient operations, rules for use will be posted at the terminals. Users of the systems will be expected to comply with the rules and with all other regulations regarding the use of facilities.

Users are strongly encouraged to register in advance for system use. Each week, the next week's schedule will be available in the Patent Search room and the Trademark Search Library. Should requests for blocks of terminal time exceed the availability of terminals, limits on the amount of reserved time may be instituted. Up to three (3) of the initial four (4) terminals in the Patent Search Room and up to two (2) of the initial three (3) terminals in the Trademark Search Library will be allocated to public users with advance reserved times. The remaining terminal in the Patent Search Room will be available for walk-up users and for assisted searches for infrequent users. The remaining terminal in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The terminal time reservation system and the number of terminals available for walk-up public use and for assisted searches (in the Patent Search Room) is subject to change based upon operational experience.

All public use of APS-Text and T-Search, with the exception of scheduled training classes, is on a pre-payment basis. In pre-paying for use of the systems, the public may use a blank signed check, major credit card or charge to a deposit account. At the end of the search or the pre-paid amount of time, users will receive an accounting from Patent Search Room or Trademark Search Library staff for terminal time used and prints produced. The user must then finalized payment.

Discussion of Specific Rules

37 CFR 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (o) to set the fees for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (p) to set the fees for APS-Text search assistance by Office staff.

Section 1.21 is amended to add new paragraph (q) to set the fee for a printed copy from APS-Text.

37 CFR 2.6 Trademark fees

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (w) to set the fees for access to the automated trademark search system (T-Search) and to provide for the waiver of fees under certain circumstances.

Section 2.6 is amended to add new paragraph (x) to set the fee for a printed copy from T-Search.

A final rule package establishing two new fees under the provisions of Pub. L. 100-667, the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988, has been published which added paragraphs (u) and (v) to section 2.6. Therefore, the rule has been modified from the proposal to add paragraphs (w) and (x) instead of paragraphs (u), (v) and (w).

Response to Comments on the Rules

A notice of proposed rulemaking to establish a basis for the charges for use of the on-line automated search systems in the Patent Search Room and Trademark Search Library located at the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia was published in the Federal Register on May 3, 1989, at 54 FR 18907. Corrections were published in the Federal Register on May 12, 1989, at 54 FR 20670. A notice also was published on May 30, 1989, in volume 1102 of the Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, pages 94 through 98 for patents, and pages 96 through 100 for trademarks.

A public hearing was conducted on June 30, 1989. A total of 25 comments were received: 24 respondents submitted written comments and five people presented oral testimony (four of whom also submitted written comments) at the public hearing. On the 25 comments, twelve (12) were from individuals, seven (7) from libraries, five (5) from organizations and one (1) from business. All of the written and oral comments were considered in adopting the rules set forth herein.

Many of the comments from the representatives of the Patent Depository Libraries raised questions or commented on the proposed rules from the perspective of their impact on Patent Depository Libraries. The proposed rules and policies set forth in the Federal Register Notice of May 3, 1989 are applicable only to the automated search systems provided in PTO's facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. When the Office is prepared to offer the automated search systems at the Patent Depository Libraries, a proposed notice will be published for public comment. Therefore, any comments relating to procedures for accessing the automated search systems in the Patent Depository Libraries will not be addressed at this time.

Comment: Overall, nine respondents acknowledged the usefulness of the automated search systems, particularly APS-Text. Although seven respondents alleged that T-Search is not adequate to meet the needs of the public, that its response time is too slow, and that it is not sufficiently accurate to meet the specific needs of the commentor, most of these respondents acknowledged that T-Search had the potential for being a useful tool. Documentaton of specific problems, for example, those associated with conducting a phonetic search, were provided. Two respondents said that T-Search is flawed and the decision to require examiners to use the system on an exclusive basis was ill-advised and regrettable.

Response: Trademark examining attorneys have been using T-Search for word mark searches since August 1987, and for word mark and design searches since January 1988. The public has been using the system since April 3, 1989.

The minutes to the September 27, 1988, meeting of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs, express the view that: "...T-Search searches are more thorough than manual searches." The transcript to that meeting contains the following comments: "I don't think there is any question, but a T-Search [sic] properly done gives an excellent result" and "...from the corporate point of view, ... I am pleased to say that I like what I see. I like the very fast action we're getting on the first action." From the transcript to the February 23, 1988 meeting: "I'd like to start with a glowing report. I think that the registration process is working very well. From my own personal experience in terms of what the examiners are doing, they get an A plus. They're really doing a good job."

The concensus of the management of the Trademark Examining Operation is that the T-Search system meets the needs of the Office at this time. There is no indication in any records or activities in the PTO which would indicate that the use of T-Search has caused a deterioration in the quality of searches conducted by Trademark examining attorneys.

The difference between the perceptions of the Trademark examining attorneys and the public may be attributed to several factors; Trademark examining attorneys use the system on a daily basis; they know what the system can do and what it cannot do and avoid the latter; and they know how to utilize the system's functionalities to perform the best search possible. Further, Trademark examining attorneys do different types of searches, and have different needs, than the public. T-Search use statistics for the period April 1989 through August 1989 demonstrate that the public is making extensive use of the system. Following is a summary of those statistics:

Month	Available Hours	Hours Used By Public	Rate of Usage	Average Session Time
April	513	108	21%	13.02 min.
May	513	126	24%	12.25 min.
June	627	183	29%	10.84 min.
July	570	186	33%	12.51 min.
August	656	217	33%	9.66 min.

This usage rate compares favorably to the projected usage rate of 28 percent.

Comment: Seven respondents claimed that the paper Trademark files have been allowed to deteriorate and, therefore, are not reliable for use by the public.

Response: The Office contracts for file maintenance sevices in both the Trademark Search Library and the Patent Search Room. Among the tasks performed by the contractor in the Trademark Search Library are maintaining the pending files, filing newly registered Trademarks, pulling erroneous registrations from the file, etc. The contract for the Trademark Search Library includes a monitoring system based on MIL-STD 105, which is a sampling plan that provides a 97 percent accuracy level. Once the contractor completes a task, Office staff check the required sample levels to ensure that filing was performed accurately. The Office is constantly monitoring the status of the paper files, but notes that maintenance of paper file integrity is subject to inherent limitations.

Comment: In view of the above comments about the inadequacy of the Trademark paper search files and T-Search, six respondents advocated the need for T-Search, at no charge to the user, as an adjunct or back-up to the paper files. One respondent suggested a similar arrangement in the Patent Search Room.

Response: The Office has adopted the $40.00 fee amount for one hour of terminal session time on both APS-Text and T-Search. In order to give the public more time to become familiar with the T-Search system, the Commissioner is immediately suspending collection of that fee. This will enable users to learn the system so as to perform more effective searches. The Office will publish a notice in the Federal Register announcing its decision regarding the imposition of the fee at least 60 days before starting to collect the fee amount. At that time, the Office also will publish validated cost estimates based on usage rates and actual costs documented from the present time to the time the decision to collect a fee is made.

Comment: Two respondents claimed that the objective of automation necessarily comtemplated a free search system to give meaning to the constructive notice provisions of the Trademark Act.

Response: Registration of a trademark constitutes constructuve notice and records of all active trademark registrations and pending applications are available for searching free of charge in the paper file and on TRAM (Trademark Reporting and Monitoring System) data base.

Comment: One respondent claimed that PTO is required to provide access to disclosed patent information as the information is made public; four respondents were opposed to the Office charging fees for accessing the automated search systms; two other respondents commented that the Office should not charge fees for using systems designed to be the sole searching source of the public records which the Office is charged by law to provide; and one respondent commented that the proposal to limit access to the automated data bases only to those who can pay a fee is deplorable policy at a time when there is concern about industrial competitiveness with Japan.

Response: The Office will continue to make the paper and/or microfilm collections of U.S. patents, foreign patent documents and U.S. trademark registrations available for pubic access free of charge. The Office also has adopted a policy whereby the hourly terminal session fee for access to the data base can be waived when it is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. In this way, the Office will continue to provide public access to all available information free of charge.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees for electronic data is a form of dual taxation when information was gathered, organized and produced at taxpayers expense; and two respondents claimed that users of information have contributed up to 30 percent of the $120 milllion for development of the APS system to date — in other words, the public already has paid for APS.

Response: In calculating the proposed fees, the Office is consistent with the Office of Management and Budget's proposed policy on user charges for Government information products, as clarified in the June 15, 1989 Federal Register notice entitled "Second Advance Notice of Further Policy Development on Dissemination of Information." In that notice, OMB's stated policy is that user charges for Government Information products should be no higher than a level sufficient to recover the costs of disseminating, not collecting, the information.

The costs associated with the fees for accessing APS-Text and T-Search are directly related to the public's use of the systems; for example, the costs associated with the acquisition of the APS-Text terminals that are being used by the public. No costs associated with designing or installing the automated system for use by Office examiners, or the development of the new systems have been included. Neither have costs been included for gathering, organizing or producing information.

The Federal Register notice of June 15, 1989 (54 FR 25554, 25558) dealing with policy development on dissemination of information states that: "As to double taxation, OMB notes that user charges policy has a basis in statute (31 U.S.C. 9701), and the Congress has not viewed user charges as double taxation because they are applied when the recipient receives special benefits."

Comment: Two respondents stated that Government information is the same, whether it is provided in printed or electronic form.

Response: Charging fees for access to the automated search systems is consistent with PTO's fee policy. For example, fees are charged for manual search services (e.g., for a search of Office records or for a search of assignment records), and for printed copies of patents and trademarks and for copies of Office documents.

Comment: The Japanese system is available at four locations at no cost, and includes U.S. information made available at U.S. taxpayer expense.

Response: The Japanese automated search system, like the automated search systems in the PTO's search facilities, is being made available free of charge at the present time. The costs of such use, however, are being paid from general fee revenues collected by the Japanese Patent Office. Additionally, the APS-Text system currently includes Japanese English language abstracts and the Office is in the process of acquiring Japanese patent information in digital facsimile form.

Comment: One respondent commented that PTO has no responsibility to provide an expensive, complex, internal Government on-line value-added computer service, that this is far beyond the requirements of public access to patent files; and another respondent commented that it is in the public interest to have the same system that is being used by the examiners also available to the public.

Response: The Office agrees that it is in the public interest to provide the same search system capability to the public that is being used by the examiners.

Comment: One respondent stated that providing free access is not competing with the private sector, and that there always is a place for the private sector to provide value-added information.

Response: The user charges adopted for public access to the APS-Test and T-Search systems are consistent with OMB Circulars A-25 "User Charges" and A-130 "Management of Federal Information Resources", and with the PTO's Electronic Data Dissemination Policies and Guidelines. The PTO's user's fees are designed to recover the marginal costs associated with providing access to the automated search systems to the public.

Comment: Five respondents stated that the proposed fees are not "reasonable" and the Office does not have documented cost estimates and usage rates to support the proposed fee amounts.

Response: The Office is meeting Congressional direction to establish "reasonable" fees by recovering only the marginal costs associated with providing public access to the automated search systems. Costs and projected usage rates were determined from the best available records, for example, financial statements for the Office and the results of the public evaluations of the APS-Text and T-Search systems. A summary of the costs used in the fee calculations is included above under "Cost Calculations." Full details of these cost calculations are available for public inspection at the Patent and Trademark Office in Suite 904 of Building 2, Crystal Park, at 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

Comment: Two respondents questioned the proposed fees for search assistance. If the search assistance is similar to that which is provided free now, there should be no fee. If the search assistance entails doing searches, the Office should not be getting into that business.

Response: The PTO is withdrawing the proposed fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using T-Search capabilities. The fee for staff search assistance to conduct a search using APS-Text capabilities is being adopted, because an untrained user cannot conduct a search without significant help from Office staff. Users of course, have the option of obtaining free training on the system.

Comment: One respondent commented that user fees cannot be justified under the theory that electronic search provides a new service or offers an enhancement to the public's ability to search the patent data base, and that the public has an option of paying the fee or using the paper files. Another respondent commented that APS-Text and T-Search represent enhancements to services already provided.

Response: The fees are specifically authorized under § 104 (c) of Pub. L. 100-703 and are calculated to allow recovery of only the marginal cost for providing the system to the public.

Comment: Two respoadents claimed that the Office should ask Congress for funding to offer free access here and at the PDLs.

Response: It continues to be PTO policy, consistent with OMB Circular A-130, that costs for access to the automated search systems be borne by those who actually use the automated search systems.

Comment: One respondent claimed that the accuracy of the trademark data base is suspect.

Response: All of the backfile data base elements (registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980) have been corrected except owner information. As originally planned, the owner field will be cleaned up the active registrations issued prior to September 9, 1980. It is projected that this owner field will be cleaned up by the third quarter of fiscal year 1991.

Comment: Three respondents claimed that the public requires access to the dead data base.

Response: The Office will consider this proposal further. The dead data base is now available in electronic format for all applications and registrations that were active on January 1, 1983 and are now inactive. However, many of these records are of poor quality. Costs for cleaning up these records would be significant, and those costs would likely be reflected in the T-Search user fee.

Comment: Four respondents addressed the fee waiver policy. The proposal to waive fee appears inconsistent wih PTO's position that the free paper search files provide an equal and viable resource to anyone not wanting to pay for the automated files. If paper records are inferior, then anyone seeking access to T-Search should be able to qualify for the fee waiver. If the paper records are adequate, then there should be no need to waive the access fee for anyone.

Response: The waiver policy authorized by Pub. L. 100-703 is designed for those individuals who, for some reason in the public interest, such as an educational purpose, need the capabilities of the automated system, for example, to manipulate the data.

Comment: One respondent commented that the procedure to enroll people in training classes by the use of a lottery was unfair and that everyone who wants to be trained should be enrolled.

Response: The lottery was a method for establishing the initial schedules to provide training. Everyone who requests training will be trained. As of August 31, 1989, 449 out of 623 people requesting training on APS-Text, and 247 out of 376 people requesting training on T-Search have been trained.

Comment: One respondent commented that advance registration is an unrealistic approach for many searchers.

Response: At least one terminal in the Patent Search Room and one in the Trademark Search Library will be available for walk-up users. The other terminals will be available first for users with a reservation and then, if needed, for walk-up users. The system is designed to ensure equity of public access to the automated systems.

Comment: Two respondents asked for information justifying that this is not a "Major Rule" as defined by Executive Order 12291, and that the rule will not have a significant adverse impact on small entities.

Response: The no "major rule" determination and no significant adverse impact on small entities was based on the fact that the automated systems are being offered only at the Patent and Trademark Office's public search facilities located in Arlington, Virginia. The total number of users of these facilities averages less than 400 a day, and many of these users are members of law firms or commercial search services. The annual effect on the economy is expected to be about $1 million, far less than the $100 million annual threshold specified in the Executive Order. The fees for accessing the automated search systems are reasonable and should not burden small entities and, at the same time, the Office is continuing to maintain the paper search files which are available to the public free of charge. Finally, there should be no significant adverse effects on competition, because the systems are being offered only at one location, the Patent and Trademark Office in Arlington, Virginia, and the public may continue to use paper files without payment of any fee.

Comment: Five respondents commented that user fees burden small entities and run counter to a fundamental objective of the patent system which is to advance technology through dissemination of the technical information contained in patents.

Response: The Office does not believe that the fee amounts adopted will burden small entities or negatively impact the dissemination of technical information. The Office also will continue to maintain the paper search files using taxpayer funds, and provide access to the public free of charge. Further, the Office has adopted a fee waiver policy whereby the fee amount can be waived where access to the data base is needed for a personal, educational purpose by an individual or member of an educational or non-profit organization, or where payment of the fee would pose a genuine financial hardship to the user. Full details are included above under "Background".

Comment: One respondent commented that the Office needs a policy to ensure that no user of the patent and trademark information is disenfranchised due to an inability to pay for the services necessary to its access.

Response: The Commissioner will consider a fee waiver for users with a genuine financial hardship.

Other Considerations:

The rule change is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), Executive Orders 12291 and 12612, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501, et seq. There are no information collection requirements relating to patent and trademark fee rules.

The Office has determined that this notice has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant adverse economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354). The rules make the Office's on-line, automated patent full-text search and trademark search systems available to the public at rates significantly less than commercial systems.

The Office has determined that this rule change is not a major rule under Executive Order 12291. The annual effect on the economy will be less than $100 million. There will be no major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions. There will be no significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Parts 1 and 2

37 CFR Part 1

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and record keeping requirements, Small businesses.

37 CFR Part 2

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Lawyers, Trademarks.

For the reasons set forth in the permeable, the Office is proposing to amend Title 37 of the code of Federal Regulations, Chapter 1, as set forth below.

PART 1-RULES OF PRACTICE IN PATENT CASES.

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR Part 1 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 1.21 is amended by adding new paragraphs (o)-(q).

§ 1.21 Miscellaneous fees and charges.

* * * * *

(o) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waiver the payment by an individual for access to the Automated Patent System full-text search capability (APS-Text) upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(p) Marginal cost, paid advance, for each hour of Office staff search assistance to conduct a search using Automated Patent System full-text search capabilities (APS-Text), prorated for the actual time used $25.00

(q) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the Automated Patent System text terminal $0.10

PART 2-RULES OF PRACTICE IN TRADEMARK CASES

1. The authority citation for Part 2 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 2.6 is amended by adding new paragraphs (w)-(x).

§ 2.6 Trademark fees

* * * * *

(w) Marginal cost, paid in advance, for each hour of terminal session time, including print time, using T-Search capabilities, prorated for the actual time used. The Commissioner may waive the payment by an individual for access to T-Search upon a showing of need or hardship, and if such waiver is in the public interest $40.00

(x) Marginal cost, for each printed page generated from the T-Search terminal $0.10

37 CFR Part 2
Patent and Trademark Automated Search System Fees

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Listing of suspension of final rule
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office (Office), on December 11, 1989, amended the rules of practice in patent and trademark cases, Parts 1 and 2 of Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, setting forth the fees for public access to the Office's text data bases: the Automated Patent System (APS) and the automated trademark search system (T-Search). 54 FR 50942. That final rule became effective on February 12, 1990. On that date, 37 CFR 2.6(w), dealing with T-Search fees, took effect, but was immediately suspended by the Commissioner.

The collection of the fee was initially suspended to permit users to become familiar with the T-Search system. The T-Search system has been available to the public since April 1989, a sufficient time for users to become familiar with the system. Therefore, as provided in the final rule, the Office now gives notice that the suspension is lifted. The Office will begin to collect the fees set forth in 37 CFR 2.6(w) sixty (60) days from the date of this notice. Cost estimates based on usage and actual costs are available for inspection in the Office of Long-Range Planning and Evaluation, Room 507, Crystal Park 1, Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.
Dates: The suspension of 37 CFR 2.6(w) is lifted as of Nov. 13, 1990. The collection of fees under 37 CFR 2.6(w) will begin on November 13, 1990
For Further Information Contact: Frances Michalkewicz by telephone at (703) 557-1610 or by mail to her attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(178) Automated Trademark System (X-Search) Training for Public Users

X-Search, an enhanced automated trademark searching system, is scheduled to become available in July 1993.

Several free training classes will be offered to the public. A four-hour class, consisting of a lecture session and hands-on instruction, will be conducted once a month from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. This class is for users who have no experience with automated trademark seraching. A two-hour class will be conducted three times a week for users who have experience with automated trademark searching techniques. These classes will be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. on Saturdays.

Space in all sessions will be limited. A lottery-type drawing will be held to determine specific class assignments. To enter the lottery drawing, a completed application form including all information shown below may be deposited in the Trademark Search Library or submitted via mail or telefax. Applications received on or before June 25, 1993, will be included in the lottery for classes beginning in July.

Trainees who fail to appear at their scheduled class will not be reassigned until all persons scheduled on the original lottery have been accommodated. Subsequent lotteries will be offered periodically if demand requires.

Training for the new system is recommended, but not required. In addition to the formal training described above, informal demonstrations will take place during business hours in the Trademark Search Library, 2900 Crystal Drive, room 2B30. These sessions will be available for the first ten days following introduction of the X-Search system and will not require a reservation. Specific dates will be posted in the Trademark Search Library.

Electronic Filing of Patent and Trademark Applications

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office Commerce
Action: Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking
Summary: This advance notice of proposed rulemaking is to inform the public that the Patent and Trademark office (PTO) is considering amending its rules of practice: (1) to allow for electronic filing of patent applications and trademark applications; and (2) to require applications filed in paper form to follow a prescribed order and format.

The PTO anticipates that permitting electronic filing of applications will improve the accuracy of the information relied upon in the examination of patent and trademark applications, eliminate delays caused by mailing and data entry, and, as a first step toward a fully-automated processing system, ultimately provide considerable cost savings. The cost savings realized could be used to help reduce the need for future fee adjustments and/or fund improvements in the delivery of services. Requiring applications filed on paper to follow a prescribed order and format will enable the PTO to convert these applications to electronic format.

The purposes of this notice are to: (1) invite interested parties to participate in pilot programs involving electronic filing of patent and trademark applications; and (2) encourage comments on this topic, in the form of responses to the questions posed in this notice, from industry, the patent and trademark bars, and members of the public.
Dates: Comments should be received on or before Feb. 28, 1993.
Addresses: Written comments should be addressed, if sent by mail, to the attention of Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, c/o Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. If delivered by hand, comments should be brought to the Office of the Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, Room 906, Crystal Park 2, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va.

For Further Information Contact: Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, (703) 305-8600.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Pilot Programs

Currently, the PTO accepts patent and trademark applications delivered by mail or in person. These applications are in paper form or, in the case of patent applications for nucleotide sequences, a combination of computer-readable (see 37 CFR 1.821-1.825) and paper form.

The PTO is initiating a pilot program that would permit electronic filing of patent and trademark applications, using software now under consideration by the PTO. Initially, it is anticipated that participants in the pilot program would be required to use the PTO software to create a diskette, which would then be mailed to the PTO along with the paper application generated by the diskette. The diskette would serve the limited function of eliminating the initial data entry of applications into the PTO databases.

As part of a second pilot program, a separate group of participants is being solicited to file paper applications following a prescribed order and format. The paper applications would then be scanned and converted to electronic format. Data collected from the pilot programs will be evaluated to determine whether requiring submission of a paper application in a certain order and format facilitates data entry; whether any modifications to the electronic filing software are required; and more fundamentally, whether electronic filing is a feasible, cost-effective alternative to filing in paper form.

2. Paper Applications

The PTO contemplates that paper applications will be required to follow the order and format of the data elements (e.g., inventor, foreign priority information, in the case of a patent application; applicant, mark, in the case of a trademark application) entered in the electronic filing system. This would enable the PTO to scan and convert paper applications to electronic applications upon receipt at the PTO. Once the paper application is converted into electronic form, processing of the application will be done in a purely electronic format. The electronic form of the application would become the official file.

3. Electronic Filing

The PTO contemplates that applicants filing by electronic means would be required to use an "Authoring Program" developed by the PTO, which will be available to facilitate the preparation of an electronic submission and record the submission on electronic media. This "Authoring Program" will include a validation feature so that applicants, themselves, can test whether an electronic submission complies with all requirements.

The "Authoring Program" software under consideration by the PTO will be designed to be compatible with computers capable of creating files of standard ASCII (American Standard Code for Information interchange) text within one or more of the major operating systems environments (e.g., DOS, Windowsr, Unix®, and Apple MacIntosh®).

The format for text in patent applications will specify a set of mandatory data elements, similar to those required under the Patent Cooperation Treaty. The format for text in trademark applications will specify a set of mandatory data elements, similar to those required of a "written application" under 15 U.S.C. 1051. In both the patent and trademark software, specific formats will be required for non-textual elements, such as drawings, formulas, tables and specimens. These non-textual elements would be submitted in separate computer files called "Presentations," similar to the presentation of nucleotide sequence information in accordance with 37 CFR 1.821-1.825.

The PTO also contemplates that certain individuals be designated by the agency as qualified "electronic application transmitters." Upon application to the PTO, unlimited parties meeting specified requirements may be issued Personal Identification Numbers to enable them to transmit applications in electronic form on behalf of themselves or other individuals.

In an effort to facilitate public comment to the questions set forth below, the following background information is provided:

4. Background Specific to Electronic Patent Applications

Signature

Under 35 U.S.C. 111, a patent application must include an oath by the applicant. 35 U.S.C. 25 permits a declaration in lieu of oath. The applicant's signed oath or declaration is not required for receipt of a filing date, but may be submitted, upon payment of a surcharge, within a prescribed period.

Certified Copy of Foreign Patent Application

Under 35 U.S.C. 119, a U.S. patent application may be based on a foreign patent application, thus, potentially, conferring the benefit of the earlier foreign patent application's filing date. A certified copy of the foreign patent application is required to be filed in the PTO before the patent is granted.

5. Background Specific to Electronic trademark Applications

Signature

Under 15 U.S.C. 1051, a trademark application must be verified by the applicant. Prior to implementation of the Trademark Law Revision Act of 1988 (TLRA) on Nov. 16, 1989, the PTO permitted verification of the application to be provided at any time during the examination process. With implementation of the TLRA, the PTO amended its regulations with respect to the verification of an application. 37 CFR 2.21, which sets forth the minimum requirements for an application to receive a filing date, was amended to require that the application be signed by the applicant at the time of filing.

Specimen

Under 15 U.S.C. 1051, a trademark application based on "use in commerce" must include specimens or facsimiles of the mark as used. 37 CFR 2.21(a)(5) requires at least one specimen or facsimile to be included with the "use" application in order to receive a filing date. Applications filed based upon a "bona fide" intention to use the mark in commerce, under 15 U.S.C. 1051(b), must be supplemented with specimens or facsimiles before the registration issues. In order to meet the minimum requirements for filing an amendment to allege use or statement of use, one specimen or facsimile must be submitted. 37 CFR 2.76(e)(2) and 2.88(e)(2).

Certification or Certified Copy of Foreign Registration

Under 15 U.S.C. 1126(e), "an application [based on a foreign registration] shall be accompanied by a certification or a certified copy of the registration of the country of origin of the applicant." 37 CFR 2.21(a)(5) requires the certification or certified copy to be included with the application in order to receive a filing date.

6. Comments on the following Questions and Any Other Related Matters Are Solicited

Questions Common to Patent and Trademark Applications

a. What benefits do you foresee for the applicant if electronic filing is adopted? What disadvantages do you foresee?
b. Should the PTO require paper applications to be filed in a specific order and format to facilitate conversion to electronic format? What advantages and disadvantages do you foresee?
c. Should the electronic file become the official agency file?
d. Should electronic filing be expanded to encompass amendments and other submissions to the PTO?
e. Should paper or electronic application filings receive a filing date only if they meet order and format requirements, or should compliance be subject to a surcharge?
f. Should the PTO accept electronic filing by diskette, on-line, or both?
g. Should applications filed in paper form be converted to electronic form by the PTO? Should the PTO charge a fee for this service?
h. If paper applications are converted to electronic form by the PTO, should the PTO destroy or retain the paper applications?
i. Should fees be processed electronically?
j. Should the PTO create a registry of "electronic application transmitters" capable of transmitting patent and trademark applications for others? If so, what, if any, criteria should be established before one could be "registered" as an "electronic application transmitter?"

Questions Related Solely to Patent Issues

k. Should the PTO require the oath or declaration to an electronically filed patent application be filed on paper to authenticate that applicants believe themselves to be original and first inventors of the subject matter of the electronically filed application?

If not, how should the filing of the oath or declaration be accomplished?

l. How should the filing of certified copies of foreign patent applications be accomplished for an electronically filed patent application?

Questions Related Solely to Trademark Issues

m. Should the PTO require electronically filed applications to include a scanned, signed declaration in order to receive a filing date? Should the PTO accept declarations in electronic form with some type of electronic signature?

If not, should 37 CFR 2.21 be amended to permit unverified applications to be accorded a filing date? if so, within what time period must an unverified application be ratified by the submission of a signed declaration?

How long should the PTO retain the signed declaration after it has been scanned and merged into the electronic file?

n. Should "use" applications submitted without a specimen be given a filing date?

If so, within what time period after filing must the specimens be submitted?

Should the number of required specimens be reduced?

How long should the PTO keep the specimens after they are scanned and merged into the electronic file?

o. Should Section 44(e) of the Trademark Act (15 U.S.C 1126(e)) beamended to permit applicants to submit a facsimile of the certification or certified copy of the foreign registration?

Alternatively, should the statute be amended to permit Section 44(e) applicants to obtain a filing date absent a certification or certified copy of the foreign registration? If so, within what time period must a Section 44(e) application be supplemented with a certificate or certified copy of the foreign registration?

How long should the PTO retain the certification or certified copy after it has been scanned and merged into the electronic application?

7. Candidates for the Pilot Programs

Any person interested in participating in one of the pilot programs identified above is requested to contact Edward R. Kazenske, Executive Assistant to the Commissioner and Director of Interdisciplinary Programs, c/o Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231. If delivered by hand, written statements of interest should be brought to Suite 906, Crystal Park 2, 2121 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202. Telephone: (703) 305-8600. Please indicate which pilot program you wish to participate in and please be certain to include a telephone number where you may be reached.

(180) United States Postal Service Interruption and Emergency in the State of California

A service interruption in United States Postal Service (USPS) in the State of California occurred on June 29, 1995, due to the action of the UNABOM bomber. The USPS will maintain heightened security procedures for mail originating in the State of California. These procedures will be in effect until further notice and are as follows:

Mail destined for California is not affected by these procedures.

For Express Mail, Priority Mail, First-Class Mail, international air mail and military mail items weighing less than 12 ounces, normal collection, distribution, and transportation will remain in effect.

Mail weighing 12 ounces or more which has been placed into California collection boxes will be returned to the sender. Postal Service window clerks will not accept Express Mail, Priority Mail, First-Class Mail, international air mail or military mail weighing 12 ounces or more.

Postal Service marketing and sales managers will work with known shippers to accept mail pieces weighing 12 ounces or more, but this mail will not be transported on scheduled passenger airlines.

Parcel post and international surface mail originating in California are not affected by these procedures.

The Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) is designating the interruption in the service of the USPS in the State of California caused by the UNABOM bomber as a postal service interruption and an emergency within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 21(a). Any request to accept a paper or fee delayed by this emergency should be directed to Jeffrey V. Nase, Patent Legal Administrator, (703) 305-9285, PK1-520, for patent-related matters, and to Lynne G. Beresford, Trademark Legal Administrator, (703) 308-8900, 10B10 ST, for trademark-related matters.

TRADEMARK PUBLICATIONS

(181) Separation of the Patent and Trademark Sections of the Official Gazette

Effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will be separated into two parts to be known as the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette

* * * * *

Orders for subscriptions should be addressed to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Also effective February 2, 1971, the Official Gazette will no longer contain "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases." Decisions of the type heretofore found in the "Decisions in Patent and Trademark Cases" are published by non-Federal organizations such as, for example, the Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., 1231 25th St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20037, and West Publishing Co., 50 Kellogg Blvd., St. Paul, Minn. 55102.

Finally, the "Decisions Leaflet" of the Official Gazette will no longer be supplied as a separate subscription item after January 26, 1971. According to present plans, however, both the Patent Official Gazette and the Trademark Official Gazette will have identical "Patent Office Notices" sections containing notices of the various types heretofore published in the Gazette decision leaflet and Trademark Section. Those notices of particular interest to Patent Office employees will be accumulated and published approximately every fourth week, and distributed separately to employees.

(182) Changes in Format for Publishing Trademarks for Opposition

Because of the adoption of the International classification of goods and services by the United States as of September 1, 1973 (see Official Gazette of June 26, 1973, 911 O.G. TM 210), it is necessary to change the arrangement in the Official Gazette of the marks published for opposition.

Beginning with the issue of May 7, 1974, the section of the Official Gazette entitled "Marks Published for Opposition" will be divided into four sections instead of the present two sections. (For the preceding change from one to two sections, see Official Gazette of October 13, 1964, 807 O.G. TM 51.) Sections 1 and 2 will be according to international classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973, and Sections 3 and 4 will be according to prior United States classification and will contain marks in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973.

In Section 1, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in more than one international class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the international class numbers, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In Section 2, all marks presented in applications filed on or after September 1, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in international class order.

In Section 3, all marks presented in combined applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in more than one prior United States class will be published with only one reproduction of each mark. The reproduction of the mark will be followed by the prior United States class numbers and titles, and under each class will appear the goods or services in connection with which the mark is used. If the date of first use applies to all classes, it will appear following the last class; otherwise, the dates of use will appear after each class.

In section 4, all marks presented in applications filed on or before August 31, 1973 for registration in a single class will be published in the prior United States class order.

The following explanation will appear under the heading "Marks Published for Opposition":

> The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under Section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See Rules 2.101 to 2.105.
> A separate fee of twenty-five dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

Sections 1 through 4 will appear immediately after the above explanation, the sections being designated as follows:

Section 1. International classification-Application in more than one class
Section 2. International classification-Application in one class
Section 3. Prior United States classification-Application in more than one class
Section 4. Prior United States classification-Application in one class

The same procedure of dividing into four sections will be followed in the notice of the issuance of registrations on the Supplemental Register.

(183) Change in Official Gazette Entry to Show Cancellation of Fewer Than All Classes in a Multiple Class Registration

Effective with the Official Gazette issue of December 16, 1980, there will be a change in the Official Gazette listing entitled "Trademark Registrations Cancelled." Beginning with that issue, "Trademark Registrations Cancelled" will list:

(1) single class registrations cancelled;
(2) multiple class registrations cancelled in all classes;
(3) multiple class registrations cancelled in fewer than all classes.

For every entry in the listing, the specific classes cancelled will be included in parentheses, next to the registration number and mark.

For a single class registration and for a multiple class registration in which every class has been cancelled, the class number(s) shown in parentheses will represent every class to which the registration applied.

For a multiple class registration in which fewer than all classes have been cancelled, the Official Gazette entry will include the word "only" following the notation of classes in parentheses, for example: (Int. Cls. 12 and 20, only). In this example, the addition of the word "only" would indicate that there are classes in the registration in addition to Classes 12 and 20, but only Classes 12 and 20 have been cancelled.

(184) Single Copies of the Trademark Official Gazette

Members of the public ordering single copies of the Trademark Official Gazette from the Superintendent of Documents are reminded they must specify the date of the issue being ordered.

The date of the issue in which a mark will be published for opposition is shown on The Notice of Publication form mailed to applicants approximately two weeks before the publication date. This date must be included on each single copy order.

Orders received without an issue date may be filled from current weekly stock. The Superintendent of Documents cannot check on whether a particular mark is published in the issue then in stock. If the stock is exhausted at the time the order is received, the order will be returned unfilled.

Effective Jan. 3, 1984, a new sub-section identified as "Inadvertently Issued Registration Numbers" will exist as the last category of cancellations listed under the "Trademark Registrations Canceled" section of the Official Gazette.

This new sub-section will provide public notice of the cancellation of registration numbers which have been inadvertently issued by the Patent and Trademark Office.

The Patent and Trademark Office announces a change in the point of contact for subscribers who have not been receiving all of their copies of the Official Gazette, Manual of Patent Examining Procedures Revisions, Annual Indices, or other patent and trademark publications. All correspondence and inquiries concerning subscription services including requests for reinstatement or renewal of subscriptions should be directed to:

Mr. Michael F. DiMario
Assistant Public Printer
Superintendent of Documents (SD)
U.S. Government Printing Office
Washington, D.C. 20401

Furthermore, the Superintendent of Documents advises that expiration notices are sent out approximately three months before the expiration date. However, subscribers should not rely on this schedule. If a notice is not received within two months of the expiration date, the subscriber should renew the subscription with the Superintendent of Documents. Attach a label from the envelope in which the publication is received, together with a check covering the amount of the subscription. if a deposit account with the Superintendent of Documents is to be used, include the deposit account number with the renewal.

This notice is effective with the publication date and supersedes the notice published on this subject in 969 O.G. 2, dated Mar. 14, 1978.

(189) Recording of Documents Affecting Title

The Patent Office is liberalizing its policy concerning the recording of documents, other than assignments, which affect title to trademark registrations and applications. Under Rule 2.185 of the Trademark Rules of Practice, instruments affecting title to a trademark registration or application, and licenses of trademarks which are the subject of trademark registrations or applications, will be recorded even though the recording thereof may not serve as constructive notice under Section 10 of the Trademark Act of 1946, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1060).

(190) International Protection of Government Emblems and Seals

Change of Intent

The Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce, intends to forward only the 50 State seals plus one department seal for each department listed in the publication "Seals and Other Devices in Use at the Government Printing Office" ("Seals") instead of the entire publication, as indicated on page 59366 of the Federal Register of Dec. 23, 1975.

Since the publication had been printed in 1975, it was assumed that few deletions and additions would be necessary. However, the response to the above notice, along with some necessary deletions, resulted in a large number of seals in the publication requiring deletion. This rendered the publication unacceptable for submission to the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Therefore, the Patent and Trademark Office now intends to forward only the 50 State seals along with the departmental seal denoted "No. 1" for each department listed in the "Seals" publication. If this is not the preferred departmental or State seal, the department or State involved is requested to notify the Patent and Trademark Office by Sept. 21, 1976. This notification should either specify the number of the preferred seal, as it appears in the "Seals" publication, or provide a clear, black and white photograph, suitable for reproduction, of the preferred seal. The seal must be no larger than 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

These seals will then be forwarded to WIPO for protection under Article 6 of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.

Address all correspondence to: Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(191) Recording of "Territorial Assignments" in the Assignment Division of the Patent and Trademark Office

It has been the practice of the Assignment Division for many years to refuse to record "territorial assignments," that is, assignments purporting to transfer rights in a trademark registration (not a concurrent use registration) for less than the entire United States. Hereinafter, such documents will be recorded as long as the requirements of the Rules of Practice are met by the documents submitted.

The Office is not addressing the validity or effect of such documents by recording same, but is merely recognizing that such transfers may affect title to a registered mark and therefore ought to be recorded. At the time a Section 8 affidavit or declaration or an application for renewal is filed, the Examiner of Trademarks will consider the effect of such a document.

(192) Helpful Hints

Assignment Cover Sheets

The Office developed PTO Form 1594, Recordation Form Cover Sheet (Trademarks), and PTO Form 1595, Recordation Form Cover Sheet (Patents), to facilitate submitting data required to record an assignment. The first versions of these forms have been available since Sept. 1992, and most assignments are now received with them. Both forms and their instructions will be updated later this year to remove ambiguities and incorporate suggestions received from customers. Until the revisions are completed, the Office will continue to work with practitioners to improve the utility of the current forms.

A practitioner recently noted that the current cover sheets, for both patent and trademark assignments are not clear as to the proper entry of different execution dates (Item 3) when there are multiple assignors shown (Item 1). Pending redesign of the forms, the Office suggests when there are multiple assignors named in Item 1, number each assignor, and in Item 3, preface each execution date with the corresponding number. if all assignor information cannot be entered in the space provided for Item 1, enter "See Attached List" and proceed in the same manner. This will enable Assignment Branch staff to associate the correct date with the appropriate assignor.

Another practitioner called to our attention the fact that although the forms indicate "Total number of pages comprising cover sheet" (Item 9), Assignment Branch staff frequently cross out that entry and replace it with the total number of pages submitted, both in cover sheets and the assignment instrument itself. Soon after the forms were printed, Assignment Branch staff found they were better able to verify document integrity by using the total number of pages per submission. This number is then used as a cross-check as the assignment moves through the recordation process, receives reel and frame numbers, is microfilmed, and returned to the customer. Pending revisions to the forms, the preferred procedure is to indicate the total number of pages submitted, both in cover sheets and the attached assignment.

Additional comments or suggestions for improving either or both assignment cover sheets should be directed to Audrey Britt, Chief, Assignment Branch, at (703) 308-9706.

Destroy when no longer needed or when three years old, whichever is earlier.

International Patent and Trademark Activities Case Files. Project case files showing Patent and Trademark Office activity relating to international patent and trademark programs.

PERMANENT. Transfer to office responsible for international affairs after case is closed.

a. Records that supplement the International Property Activities Case Files (Item 103).

Destroy 5 years after close of case or sooner if no longer needed.

b. Other materials.

PERMANENT. Transfer to FRC 5 years after close of case. Offer to National Archives when 25 years old.

International Intellectual Property Activities Case Files. Project case files showing Patent and Trademark Office activity relating to problems concerning the protection of intellectual property throughout the world. Includes correspondence with private individuals, the Department of State and other countries; reports; records of international meetings concerning patents, trademarks and other matters pertaining to the protection of intellectual property throughout the world; and other materials relating to international affairs.

PERMANENT. Transfer to FRC after 5 years. Offer to National Archives when 25 years old.

Proposed Intellectual Property Legislation Files. Documents accumulated in the preparation and processing of legislation proposed by or in the interest of the Patent and Trademark Office. Includes drafts or legislation, reports to committees on introduced legislation, and comments on legislative proposals.

Bulky Trademark Specimens. Trademark applications specimens which do not strictly meet the basic requirements for physical form of specimens which state:

1. That they be made of material suitable for being placed inside a manila file wrapper.
2. That they be capable of being arranged flat, such as being folded.
3. That they be of a size not to exceed 8 1/2 inches wide by 13 inches long. (Rule 2.56).

These requirements provide for specimens which will fit inside the application file wrapper, which is 9 x 14 inches in size and which will conveniently expand to about one inch thickness.

Specimens which do not meet the above requirements are referred to as "bulky" specimens and the Examiner must require that they be replaced by specimens of acceptable size and shape.

Destroy 30 days after applicant is notified that the specimens are unacceptable, unless picked up sooner by the applicant.

Office of the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks

PUBLIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR TRADEMARK AFFAIRS

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Comerce
Action: Notice of Committee Charter Amendment
Summary: In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 5 U.S.C. App. (1976), and after consultation with GSA, it has been determined that an amendment of the charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law. The charter amendment was signed on December 3, 1990.

The charter has been amended as follows to: (1) broaden the topics that the Committee may address to include international trademark law, (2) allow the membership of the Committee to be drawn from a wider range of the trademark community rather than soley from the regular, associate and supplementary membership of the United States Trademark Association (USTA), (3) increase the number of members on the Committee fron 15 to 18, (4) provide for the direct selection of the members and appointment of the chairman of the Committee by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks rather than by the president of the USTA, and (5) set the term of membership at two years.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne Beresford, Committee Control Officer, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone: (703) 557-7464, or Jan Jivatodi, Committee Management Analyst, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, telephone: (202) 377-4217.
Supplementary Information: The Committee was first established in September 1970, and the latest charter renewal was signed on April 4, 1990. The charter amendment was approved on December 3, 1990, and provides for the following:

(1) The amendment broadens the objectives and duties of the Committee to specifically embrace international trademark law. The previous charter permitted the Committee to advise the Patent and Trademark Office only on the steps which could be taken to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the administration of the Trademark Act and to provide a continuing source of knowledge from the private sector to the Government. Given the increased interest within the trademark community and the Patent and Trademark Office in international trademark law, especially in the Madrid Protocol and harmonization, it is desirable that the charter refer explicitly to international trademark law.

(2) Section 5(b)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act requires that the membership of advisory committees be "fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented...." The amendment furthers that goal by permitting the membership to be drawn from a wide range of the trademark community including users of the public search room, academia, members of the public at large, and the business community.

(3) The amendment increases the number of members on the Committee from 15 to 18. The increase was needed to permit additional members, from different sectors of the trademark community, to be added to the Committee without having to displace any of the current Committee members.

(4) Section 5(b)(2) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act requires that "the membership be fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented..." The amendment futhers that goal by permitting the chairman to be appointed, and the members of the Committee to be selected by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(5) The charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs did not set terms for members. In order to promote more orderly administration of the Committee, the amendment sets the terms of the members at two years. Members will serve at the discretion of the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. Appointements, when vacancies occur, shall be for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of Renewal
Summary: In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 5 U.S.C. App. (1976), and after consultation with GSA, it has been determined that the renewal of the charter of the Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.
Supplementary Information: The Committee was first established in September 1970, and its latest renewal was signed on April 3, 1992. The Committee's purpose is to advise the Patent and Trademark Office concerning steps which can be taken to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of administration of the Trademark Act and to provide a continuing source of knowledge from the private sector to the Government in the area of international and domestic trademark law.

Committee members are drawn from the trademark bar, business and industry, academia, the public at large, and users of the public search room, and are selected by the Assistant Secretary of Commerce and the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to assure a balanced representation among members of the trademark community. The Committee will function solely as an advisory body, and in compliance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act.
For Further Information Contact: Lynne Beresford, Committee Control Officer, Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone: (703) 305-9464, or Jan Jivatodi, Committee Management Analyst, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, telephone: (202) 377-4299.

(199) Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks; Establishment

In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. 2.) and General Services Administration Interim Rule on Federal Advisory Committee Management, 41 CFR Part 101-6, as amended, and after consultation with GSA, the Secretary of Commerce has determined that the establishment of the Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks is in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on the Department by law.

1. The Committee will advise the Patent and Trademark Office on broad policy issues involving both patents and trademarks, and the overall operation of the Office including matters concerning office-wide Automation programs.

2. The Committee will consist of at least 10 but no more than 18 members to be appointed by the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks to assure a balanced representation among patent and trademark attorneys, corporate executives, technical research directors, inventors, the judiciary, professional patent and trademark searchers, information specialists and publishers, automation experts, consumer groups, entrepreneurs, and educators. The Committee will function solely as an advisory body and in compliance with the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act. Its charter will be filed under the Act, 15 days from the date of the publication of this notice.

Interested persons are invited to submit comments regarding the establishment of the Advisory Committee for Patents and Trademarks. Such comments, as well as any inquiries, may be addressed to the Executive Assistant to the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20231, phone: 703-557-3071, or the Department's Committee Management Analyst, phone: 202-377-4217.

(203) Temporary Suspension of "At Cost" Services for Orders for Certified Copies

Effective immediately, and until further notice, the Certification Division, Office of Public Records, will temporarily suspend accepting requests for "at cost" service for orders of certified copies of PTO documents except where the requester provides documentation that the copy is required for pending litigation.

The Certification Division's ability to provide "at cost" services is based upon the ready availability of source documents either on microform or via access to electronic images. Increased filings of both patent and trademark applications have resulted in more instances where requested documents are not yet available on film or electronic media to fill customer orders on an "at cost" basis efficiently and for a reasonable fee.

Orders for expedited service for certified copies of both patent and trademark applications-as-filed and trademark registrations will continue to be accepted. Customers will be advised within three working days if microform or electronic images are not available to fill their orders on an expedited basis, and the order will be filled as a request for regular service with an appropriate adjustment and/or credit for fees paid.

Customers are reminded that expedited service is provided on a "local basis" for those orders: (1) placed through the PTO's Public Service Windows located in the Patent Search Room and the Trademark Search Library; (2) hand-delivered to the Office of Public Records' (OPR) Service Counter in the North Tower building; (3) transmitted via fax directly to the Certification Division; or (4) received from an overnight delivery service at the OPR Service Counter. Requests for expedited service received through the US mail will be processed as regular orders.

In those cases where Certification Division cannot fill a customer order within 30 days of receipt due to unavailability of media or the source document itself, customers will be provided with a certified letter documenting their request and the Office's inability to fill the order as requested. These letters will be provided at no charge. The order itself will be closed and a full refund or credit made to the customer.

Customers placing orders for certified copies may use the following as guidelines for expected turnaround times from initial receipt of an order in PTO to mailing date from the Office:

Certified Product	Days to Mail
Patent Application-As-Filed, Expedited (microfiche available)	7
Patent Applications-As-Filed, Regular	17
Patent Related File Wrapper	25
Patent Copy	10
Trademark Application-As-Filed, Expedited (microfiche available)	7
Trademark Application-As-Filed, Regular	17
Trademark Related File Wrapper	25
Trademark Registration	10
Trademark Registration, Expedited	3

Delivery of any specific copy will vary based on the availability of microfilm products and/or file accessiblity. Customers are encouraged to fax orders for copies directly to Certification Division at (703) 308-9759 and to pay by PTO Deposit Account, MasterCard, or Visa to minimize processing time. Information on the status of pending orders may be obtained by calling (703) 308-9726 or 1 (800) 972-6382 (outside the Washington, D.C. Metro area).

(204) Change in Legal Holidays

The Commissioner's Notice of Sept. 25, 1979, "Change in Legal Holidays," is hereby rescinded in view of Public Law 98-144, enacted Nov. 2, 1983, which amended the listing of legal public holidays in 5 USC § 6103. That amendment took effect in 1986 and added a new legal holiday relating to the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. This new holiday is designated for the third Mon. in Jan.

Section 6103, as amended, reads as follows:

New Year's Day, Jan. 1
Birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr., the third Mon. in Jan.
Washington's Birthday, the third Mon. in Feb.
Memorial Day, the last Mon. in May Independence Day, July 4
Labor Day, the first Mon. in Sept.
Columbus Day, the second Mon. in Oct.
Veterans Day, Nov. 11
Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thurs. in Nov.
Christmas Day, Dec. 25.

Each of the holidays enumerated will constitute a "Federal holiday within the District of Columbia," as referred to in Section 21, Title 35, United States Code. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.6(a) and 1.10(a), the Patent and Trademark Office will not receive papers on these holidays. Actions required to be taken on such days may be taken on the next succeeding day that the Office is open for business in accordance with 37 CFR 1.7.

(205) Filing of Papers During Unscheduled Closings of the Patent and Trademark Office

When the Patent and Trademark Office is officially closed by Executive Order of the President or by the Office of Personnel Management for an entire day because of some unscheduled event, such as adverse weather conditions, the Patent and Trademark Office will consider that day as a "federal holiday within the District of Columbia" under 35 U.S.C. § 21. Any action or fee due that day will be considered as timely for the purposes of, e.g., 35 U.S.C. §§ 119, 133 and 151, if the action is taken, or fee paid, on the next succeeding business day on which the Patent and Trademark Office is open. When the Patent and Trademark Office is open for business during any part of a business day between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., papers are due on that day even though the Office may be officially closed for some period of time during the business day because of an unscheduled event. The procedures of 37 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 may be used, as appropriate, for the filing of papers. On any day the Office is open for at least part of the day, papers may also be deposited up to midnight in any boxes which are provided by the Patent and Trademark Office under 37 CFR 1.6(c).

(206) Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities and Enforcement Procedures

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Department of Commerce
Action: Notice
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office is revising its regulations relating to use of Patent and Trademark Office records or search facilities and procedures for enforcing these regulations. These regulations and their enforcement are necessary to promote an atmosphere conducive to research and to maintain the integrity of the files and records in the Patent and Trademark Office.
Effective Date: July 1, 1987
For Further Information Contact: Theresa A. Brelsford, Assistant Commissioner for Administration, Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231, (703) 557-2290.
Supplementary Information: The procedures will apply to all visitors to the Patent and Trademark Office.

Visitors are reminded that unauthorized removal of government material or property may be prosecuted as a criminal felony under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 2071, in addition to the imposition of administrative sanctions contained in these procedures.

Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities

These regulations are established for all persons using the facilities of the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO), and will be appropriately enforced as specified herein.

Smoking within PTO is prohibited except in designated areas (41 CFR 101-20.109-10).

All persons using the facilities of the PTO are subject to regulations governing conduct on property under the charge of the General Services Administration which appear in 41 CFR Subpart 101-20.3 (41 CFR §§ 101-20.300 through 101-20.315).

Packages, briefcases and other personal effects brought into the PTO, as well as storage lockers provided for general use, are subject to search by authorized personnel for reasonable cause under the provisions of 41 CFR 101-20.301.

Unauthorized removal of PTO files, documents, reference materials, or any government property is prohibited. In addition to the administrative sanctions specified in these regulations, violators may also be subject to arrest and prosecution under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 2071 which carries a possible "fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both", and/or the violator may be subject to discipline under the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility if he or she is a practitioner as defined in 37 CFR 10.1(r).

All persons must comply with posted Official Notices and with verbal requests made by PTO personnel for compliance with these regulations.

1. User Passes

a. Individuals visiting any area of the PTO must obtain a valid, non-transferable user pass and wear it visibly displayed at all times while on the premises.
b. Permanent User Passes may be obtained from the Manager of the Patent Public Search Room. The first Permanent User Pass is issued at no charge. Permanent User Passes subsequently issued as replacements will be provided at a charge of $5.00 per Pass. The holder of a Permanent User Pass may be issued one (1) Temporary User Pass, within a ninety (90) day period at no charge. A request for a second Temporary User Pass during the same ninety day period will require the purchase of a Permanent User Pass at the required replacement fee.
c. Temporary User Passes may be obtained by visitors at no charge from the managers of the Patent or Trademark Public Search Rooms and are valid through the expiration date stamped thereon.
d. Permanent and Temporary User Passes must be surrendered to the PTO upon request for cause.

2. Use of Search Areas

a. The Patent and Trademark Office facilities may be used by visitors only during the hours specified, Monday through Friday, and are closed to the public on Saturdays, Sundays and Legal Holidays:

Patent Public Search Rm., Mezzanine and Microfilm Center	8:00 a.m.-8:00 p.m.*
Trademark Public Search Rm.	8:00 a.m.-5:30 p.m.*
Assignment Search Rm., Public Service Center, and Scientific Library	8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.*
Patent Examining Organizations Trademark Examining Law Offices and all other public access areas of the PTO	8:30 a.m.-5:00 p.m.*

* Clearing of these areas would begin prior to this time to ensureall visitors are out of the building by the time designated.

b. Materials available for search purposes in the Patent and Assignment Search Rooms and patent application file histories shall not be removed from those areas.
c. Trademark registrations in the Trademark Search Library shall not be removed from the secured bundles in the registered file. Photocopying from bound volumes of trademarks is prohibited.
d. Trademark files shall not be removed from PTO space in Crystal Plz. Bldg. 2.
e. Use of Patent Examining Group search areas is strictly limited to searching materials unavailable in the Patent Public Search Room or the Scientific Library. Examining Group search areas may be used only when such use does not conflict with the regular business of the organization.
f. Visitors to a Patent Examining Group Search Area must register with the designated Group Search Area representative indicating the times entering and leaving the area, User Pass number, and the class(es) and subclass(es) to be searched.
g. Documents removed from the files of Patent Examining Group search areas must be immediately returned to their proper location after use. Documents shall not be removed from the area in which they were obtained without specific written authorization from a Group Director or Supervisory Patent Examiner in the Examining Group where the material(s) reside. Such authorization will not be given for U.S. Patents and other material readily available through the Scientific Library.

3. PROHIBITIONS

The following are prohibited:

a. Conduct which is rude or abusive to PTO employees or others.
b. Smoking and consumption of food or beverages in other than designated areas.
c. Loud talking or any conduct which may be disruptive to others.
d. Use of radios, televisions, typewriters, photographic equipment, dictation equipment and other mechanical, electrical or electronic items without specific authorization from an Assistant Commissioner of the PTO.
e. Improper use, mutilation, destruction or unauthorized removal of PTO records, documents or government property.
f. Reserving seats or work areas.
g. Affixing messages to walls, telephone booths or other government property, except designated message boards.
h. Use of the PTO as a mailing address, use of PTO stationery, and use of PTO emblem or seal.
i. Use of PTO telephones and other office equipment, such as copiers, etc., except where specifically provided for public use. This includes the use of PTO telephones to receive incoming calls.
j. Use of any computer terminal other than the TRAM terminals provided for public use in the Trademark Search Library, and the CASPIR and FOUR-PHASE terminals (or CASSIS terminal if the FOUR-PHASE terminals are not operating) provided in the Patent Public Search Room for public use.
k. Placing PTO files or documents, government property or government owned reference materials in rental storage lockers.
l. Use of rental storage lockers without depositing the required fee or holding the key to a storage locker beyond the specified maximum period of use.

(207) Procedures for Enforcement of the Regulations Relating to the Use of Patent and Trademark Office Records or Search Facilities

Under applicable statutes and regulations, including 40 U.S.C. 486(c), 41 CFR 101-20.3, and appropriate sections of Department Organization Orders 10-14 and 30-3 of the Department of Commerce, the procedures appearing below are established.

1. Violations involving unauthorized removal of PTO files, documents, records or government property.

a. Each observed or reported violation will be investigated.
b. Persons found in possession of PTO material or government property, other than in areas or under circumstances where possession is specifically authorized, shall be required to immediately surrender the material or property and if appropriate, their User Pass. An oral explanation for the possession of such material or property will be requested by the PTO.
c. Each incident involving unauthorized possession of PTO material or government property shall be immediately reported by telephone or in person to the Office or Group Director of the area from which the material or property was taken.

d. If it appears to the Office or Group Director that possession of the materials was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional, no further action will be taken. The materials will be replaced appropriately and the person's User Pass will be returned.

e. If it appears to the Office or Group Director that possession of the materials was intentional, all persons involved shall be required to submit written statements detailing the circumstances and, in the case of a PTO User/visitor, show cause why the User Pass and visitor privileges should not be suspended or revoked. Statements will also be obtained from other witnesses where appropriate. The material or property shall be secured for possible use as evidence by the Office or Group Director, if appropriate.

f. If the involved person possesses a Permanent User Pass, it shall be retained and forwarded with the written statements to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration. A Temporary User Pass may be issued as replacement by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration, pending action on an alleged violation.

g. If the involved person possesses only a Temporary User Pass it shall be retained and forwarded with the written statements to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration within two weeks of the incident. No replacement will be provided pending action by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

2. Other violations of public use regulations.

a. Each observed or reported violation will be investigated. The persons involved shall be informed of the nature of the violation and requested to comply with regulations.

b. If it appears that the violation was inadvertent or otherwise unintentional and the involved person immediately conforms to the regulations, no further action will be taken.

c. If the violation appears to be intentional or if the person involved refuses to comply with a verbal request from a PTO employee or continues to violate the regulations after being requested to comply, the person shall be required to surrender his or her User Pass to the PTO. A written report of each violation and the User Pass will be submitted to the Assistant Commissioner for Administration for a final decision. User Pass replacement procedures shall be as specified in paragraphs 1.f. or 1.g.

d. If the Assistant Commissioner for Administration determines that a reported violation was inadvertent or otherwise not intentional, the User Pass will be returned and no further action will be taken. In all other cases, the Assistant Commissioner for Administration will request the person involved to show cause in writing why his or her User Pass and visitor privileges should not be suspended or revoked.

e. A written decision will be rendered by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration after consideration of any timely submitted response.

f. In the case of a written decision by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration adverse to a practitioner as defined by 37 CFR 10.1(r), a copy of the written decision will be forwarded to the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline for whatever further action, including sanctions, as may be appropriate under the PTO Code of Professional Responsibility.

3. Factors to be Considered in Assessing Penalties.

a. Penalties will be determined on a case by case basis.

b. Prior violations of regulations will be considered when assessing whether any violation is willful, deliberate or intentional, and when determining the penalty to be imposed.

c. Penalties may be assessed as follows, depending on circumstances:

(1) For a first offense: from a written warning to a 30 day suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges.

(2) For a second offense: a suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges from 5 days to one year.

(3) For a third or subsequent offense: from a suspension of 30 days to permanent revocation of the User Pass and visitor privileges.

(4) For any single serious or aggravated violation: suspension of the User Pass and visitor privileges for up to one year or permanent revocation of the User Pass and visitor privileges. A serious or aggravated violation is defined as any instance involving multiple violations of regulations during a single event or acts which also constitute a violation of Federal or local criminal law.

4. Record of Penalties Imposed.

A record of penalties imposed for given violations will be maintained by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration. These records will be made available to the public upon request.

5. Use of Public Facilities During Suspension or After Revocation of User Pass.

No individual will be permitted to use the facilities specified in these regulations while his or her User Pass is suspended or revoked.

6. Absence of Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

In the absence of the Assistant Commissioner for Administration, the Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Administration will carry out the responsibilities assigned by these regulations.

7. Absence of Designated PTO Officials.

In the absence of any Designated PTO Official, a Deputy or Acting Official will carry out the responsibilities assigned by these regulations.

8. Assistance.

PTO employees may, when necessary, request the Security Officer of the Patent and Trademark Office or the Federal Protective Service or their contractors to provide assistance in carrying out their assigned responsibilities in paragraphs 1 and 2.

9. Appeals.

Decisions rendered by the Assistant Commissioner for Administration may be reviewed on petition to the Commissioner.

(208) Rules Concerning Conduct on Patent and Trademark Premises

1. Applicability

These rules apply to all premises under the charge and control of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) through the General Services Administration and to all persons entering such premises.

2. Admission to Property

Patent and Trademark Office facilities are closed to the public outside of normal working hours. During normal working hours, a valid User Pass is required to enter PTO premises.

The individual's User Pass must be displayed at all times while on PTO premises.

3. Preservation of Property/Conduct on PTO Premises

The following activities are prohibited on PTO premises:

a. Improperly disposing of rubbish; willfully destroying or damaging property; theft of property; creating a hazard to persons or things; and placing Government documents or materials in storage lockers.

b. The willfull and unlawfull concealment, removal, mutilation, obliteration or destruction, or attempts to do so, or, with intent to do so, or taking and carrying away of any record, book, paper, document, or other things from the facilities shall result in a fine of not more than $2,000 or imprisonment of not more than 3 years, or both. See 18 U.S.C. § 2071.

c. Removal of papers, materials, or other Government property from designated areas. Within a designated area, papers or other Government property must be returned to its proper location after use, unless otherwise posted.

d. Using PTO premises and facilities as a place of business. It is prohibited to reserve work areas, use PTO as a mailing address, use PTO stationery, or a PTO telephone number as a personal telephone number.

4. Inspection

Packages, briefcases, storage lockers and other containers in the possession of visitors, employees, or other persons arriving at, working at, visiting, or departing from the PTO are subject to inspection. See 41 CFR § 101-20.301.

5. Disturbances

Disorderly conduct or other conduct which creates a loud or unusual noise or a nuisance which impedes or disrupts the performance of official duties by Government employees or which prevents the public from obtaining the administrative services provided on the property in a timely manner is prohibited. See 41 CFR § 101-20.305.

6. Conformity with signs and directions

Persons on the PTO premises shall at all times comply with the official signs of a prohibitory, regulatory or directory nature and with the lawful direction of PTO employees.

No rude or abusive conduct to PTO employees and fellow users.

No food or beverages are permitted.

No smoking except in designated areas.

No mechanical or electronic equipment such as radios, televisions, typewriters, computers, or photographic equipment may be used without prior permission from the Assistant Commissioner for Administration.

No use of PTO telephone and office equipment, except as specifically designated for public use.

7. Penalties and other laws.

Nothing in these rules shall be construed to abrogate any other Federal laws or regulations or any State and local laws and regulations applicable to any area in which property under the charge and control of the PTO through the U.S. General Services Administration is situated. See 40 U.S.C. §§ 318(c) and 486(c).

41 CFR § 101-20.315 provides that whoever is found guilty of violating the rules of conduct on Federal property contained in 41 CFR § 101-20.3 while on any property under the charge and control of the U.S. General Services Administration is subject to a fine of not more than $50, imprisonment of not more than 30 days, or both. See 40 U.S.C. § 318c.

Failure to follow these rules may result in immediate removal from the premises, suspension of user privileges, and/or enforcement of any criminal sanctions that may apply.

Changes in Practice Concerning Letters of Protest

After April 1, 1995, Letters of Protest filed prior to the publication of a mark for opposition will be granted only if there is sufficient evidence in the Letter of Protest to establish a prima facie case which supports a refusal of registration. In such a case, publication of the mark for opposition, without consideration of the issue and evidence presented in the Letter of Protest, might result in a clear error by the Office. Further, after April 1, 1995, FOIA requests for copies of letters of protest should be directed to the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks, rather than to the Solicitor's Office.

Letter of Protest practice will change as follows: Under current practice, when a Letter of Protest is filed prior to the publication of a mark, the evidence in the letter is forwarded to the Examining Attorney whenever such evidence can properly be considered by an examining attorney during ex parte examination and the evidence supports any reasonable ground for refusal.

Under the revised practice, when a Letter of Protest is filed prior to the publication of a mark, the evidence in the letter will be forwarded to the Examining Attorney only if there is sufficient evidence in the Letter of Protest to establish a prima facie case which supports a refusal of registration such that publication of the mark for opposition, without consideration of the issue and evidence presented in the Letter of Protest, might result in a clear error by the Office.

The standard for the granting of a Letter of Protest filed or considered after publication of the mark in the Official Gazette is not changing. The standard is whether publication of the mark constituted clear error and whether the Letter of Protest was filed within thirty days of the publication of the mark. In re Pohn, 3 USPQ2d 1700 (Comm'r Pats. 1987), and In re BPJ Enterprises Ltd., 7 USPQ2d 1375 (Comm'r Pats. 1988).

Because the Letter of Protest procedure, which permits a third party to introduce evidence during the ex parte examination of an application, is not mandated by statute or rule, the Office wants to clearly define the standards used for granting Letters of Protest and harmonize the standards used for granting these letters before and after publication of the mark. The new standard for prepublication Letters of Protest will discourage the filing of Letters of Protest which do not present sufficient evidence to support a prima facie case for refusal to register. As a result, fewer applications will be taken out of the normal order of processing for consideration of evidence in a Letter of Protest.

Requests for Copies of Letters of Protest

At the present time, copies of documents relating to Letters of Protest are requested pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) from the Solicitor's Office of the Patent and Trademark Office. After April 1, 1995, any party making a FOIA request for a complete copy of the Letter of Protest should file that request directly with the Office of the Assistant Commissioner for Trademarks by mailing it to 2900 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Va. 22202-3513 or by faxing it to (703) 308-7220. Such a request should be directed to the attention of the Administrator for Classification and Practice. Upon review of the Letter of Protest material, the Administator will usually forward a copy of the Letter of Protest and its attachment to the requester. Only in cases where the Letter of Protest or its attachments contain material that would potentially be expected from disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act will the Administrator not forward the requested material. If, in the opinion of the Administrator, any part of the Letter of Protest materials should be excepted from disclosure under FOIA, the matter will be forwarded to the Office of the Solicitor for further review.

(210) Notice of Change in the Method of Assigning Registration Numbers to Trademark Registrations

As of October 10, 1995, in the Trademark Official Gazette sections titled TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS ISSUED, TRADEMARK REGISTRATIONS ISSUED UNDER SECTION 1(D), and SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTER, registration numbers will be assigned in ascending serial number order. Currently registration numbers are assigned in ascending class order by ascending serial number inside each class, e.g., in Class 1, Ser. No. 100,000 might be assigned Reg. No. 1,900,001; and in Class 42, Ser. No. 000,001 might be assigned Reg. No. 1,903,456. Under the new system, registration numbers will be assigned in ascending serial number order regardless of class, e.g., Ser. No. 000,001 would be assigned Reg. No. 1,900,001; and Ser. No. 100,000 would be assigned Reg. No. 1,903,456.

(211) DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Patent and Trademark Office

Effect of December 1, 1993 Amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures on Trademark Trial and Appeal Board Inter Partes Proceedings

Trademark Rule 2.116(a) provides that, except as otherwise provided, and wherever applicable and appropriate, procedure and practice in Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (Board) inter partes proceedings shall be governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures. Trademark Rule 2.120(a) provides, in part, that the provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure relating to discovery shall apply in opposition, cancellation, interference, and concurrent use registration proceedings except as otherwise provided in Trademark Rule 2.120; and that the opening of discovery is governed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Thus, where the Board has its own rule concerning a particular matter of practice or procedure, that rule governs; if there is no Board rule concerning the matter, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure apply, where applicable and appropriate.

On December 1, 1993, certain of the rules in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures were amended, and one new rule was added. Specifically, Rules 1, 4, 5, 11, 12, 15, 16, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 36, 37, 38, 50, 52, 53, 54, 58, 71A, 72, 73, 74, 75, and 76 were amended, and new Rule 4.1 was added. Included in the amendments are changes in the discovery rules to require that the parties to a civil action: (1) make a series of automatic disclosures, during the pretrial stages of the proceedings, of certain evidence; (2) file the disclosures with the court; (3) meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery; and, (4) transmit to the court a written report outlining the discovery plan. The timing of some of these matters is tied to the timing of a scheduling conference to be held, or a scheduling order to be issued, by the court. The timing and sequence of other of the matters depends upon the direction of the court. Further, parties are prohibited from seeking any of the traditional forms of discovery until after they have met and developed their discovery plan.

The Patent and Trademark Office (Office) believes that the application of the cited provisions in inter partes proceedings before the Board would increase the complexity and cost of the proceedings and would be unduly burdensome both to the Board and the parties. For these reasons, the Office is now of the opinion that these provisions would have a detrimental effect on, and are not appropriate for, Board proceedings. Moreover, the Office's Public Advisory Committee for Trademark Affairs has recommended that incorporation of the amendments in Board practice be deferred until the Office can evaluate the effects of the amendments on civil actions. On the other hand, some of the provisions added by the amendments are not objectionable, and others so clearly do not apply in, and/or are not appropriate for, Board proceedings that they need not be mentioned.

Accordingly, application of Rule 2.120(a) is hereby waived, in pertinent part, to the extent that the following provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as amended, which otherwise arguably would apply in Board proceedings, and which would, in the opinion of the Office, have a detrimental effect on those proceedings, shall not be applied therein unless and until further notice is given:

1. Rule 16(b) [requirement that court issue a scheduling order, after consulting with parties by scheduling conference, telephone, mail, or other suitable means]

2. Rules 26(a)(1)-26(a)(4) [requirements for series of automatic disclosures of evidence]

3. Rule 26(b)(4) [requirements for taking discovery from a person identified, in automatic disclosure, as an expert whose opinions may be presented at trial]

4. Rule 26(d), first sentence [prohibition against the taking of discovery before the parties have met to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosures and to develop a plan for discovery]

5. Rule 26(e)(1) [requirement for supplementation of automatic disclosures]

6. Rule 26(f) [requirement that the parties meet, early in the proceeding, to discuss, inter alia, the automatic disclosure and to develop a plan for discovery]

7. Rule 26(g)(1) [signature requirements for automatic disclosures]

8.Rule 30(a)(2)(C) [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to take a deposition prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

9. Rule 33(a), last sentence [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve interrogatories prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

10. Rule 34(b), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for production of documents and things prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

11. Rule 36(a), last sentence of first paragraph [requirement that a party obtain leave of court or written stipulation to serve request for admission prior to the Rule 26(f) meeting of the parties]

12. Rule 37(a)(2)(A) [provision of motion to compel disclosure and for sanctions for failure to make automatic disclosure]

13. Rule 37(c)(1) [description of sanctions which may be imposed for failure to make, or supplement, automatic disclosure]

14. Rule 37(g) [provision of sanctions for failure to participate in good faith in the framing of a discovery plan]

Discovery in Board inter partes proceedings will continue to open as it did prior to December 1, 1993 amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that is, as provided in those rules as they existed on November 30, 1993. Thus, interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission may be served upon the plaintiff after the proceeding commences (i.e., after the notice of opposition or petition for cancellation is filed, and after the mailing by the Board of the notice of institution in an interference or concurrent use proceeding), and upon the defendant with or after service of the complaint by the Board. Discovery depositions generally may be taken by any party after commencement of the proceeding. Board's permission to take a discovery deposition must be obtained in certain situations, including a situation in which the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of 30 days after service of the complaint by the Board upon any defendant, except where a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery or where the notice of deposition: (1) states that the proposed deponent is about to go out of the United States and will be unavailable for examination unless the person's deposition is taken before expiration of the 30-day period, and, (2) sets forth facts to support the statement.

Similarly, the practice embodied in Rules 33(a), 34(b), and 36(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, as they read on November 30, 1993, that a defendant may serve responses to interrogatories, requests for production of documents and things, and requests for admission either within 30 days after service of a discovery request [35 days if service of the request for discovery is made by first-class mail, "Express Mail," or overnight courier—Trademark Rule 2.119(c)], or within 45 days after service of the complaint upon it by the Board, whichever is later, will continue to be followed in Board proceedings.

The Patent and Trademark Office will, in due course, publish a notice of proposed rule making to amend, as may be necessary, the trademark rules governing practice and procedure in inter partes proceedings before the Board.

(212) Interlocutory Decisions by the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board

Only final decisions of the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board are subject to judicial review. Some confusion may exist in inter partes trademark proceedings as to whether certain decisions of the Board are "final" fort purpose of judicial review.

An example where confusion may arise is a case in which (1) an opposition is filed, (2) applicant counterclaims for cancellation of a registration relied upon by an opposer, and (3) the Board renders a dicision (generally on summary judgment) on the opposition, but sets the counterclaim for trial. Under these circumstances, there is no final order of the Board, because a decision has not been entered on the counterclaim.

The party losing the opposition may feel compelled to seek judicial review within two months of the Board's decision to "prserve" its rights. But such an appeal appears to be premature under Copeland's Enterprises, Inc. v. CNV, Inc. 887 F.2d 1065, 12 USPQ2d 1563 (fed. Cir. 1989) (in banc). Copeland's is not the only appeal which has been dismissed because it was taken from an interlocutory decision of the Board. See Cortex Corporation v. W.L. Gore & Associates, Inc., No. 91-1016 (Fed. Cir. January 14, 1991)(unpublished), and Kellogg Co. v. Pack'em Enterprises, Inc., No. 90-1336 (Fed. Cir. Sept. 27, 1990) (unpublished).

In an effort to (1) minimize disruption in proceeding pending before the Board, (2) eliminate unnecessary appeals and filing of civil actions, only to have the appeal or civil action dismissed as premature, and (3) provide some certainty to parties and their attorneys as to when an appeal is timely, the Board will, when resolving a merits issue prior to final judgement, generally indicate that it has entered an "interlocutory" order in the proceeding and further set the time for seeking judicial review of the "interlocutory" order to expire two months from the date a final order is entered in the proceeding.

RIN 0651-AA65

Cross-Appeals in Patent and Trademark Office Disciplinary Proceedings

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce.

Action: Proposed Rulemaking.

Summary: On July 21, 1993, the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) proposed amending a rule of practice in practitioner disciplinary proceedings. 58 FR 38994. The proposed rule change provides for a time period for a party to a disciplinary proceeding to file a cross-appeal, after the other party (the respondent or the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline) to the proceeding has appealed from the initial decision of the administrative law judge (ALJ) to the Commissioner. Currently, PTO rules do not provide for such a time period. A party in a disciplinary proceeding may be interested in appealing only if the other party has appealed. Allowing a time period for filing a cross-appeal will give parties to disciplinary cases more flexibility after an initial decision by the administrative law judge and will avoid the necessity of filing a contingent appeal simply to preserve rights in the event the other party files an appeal.

One comment to the rule change proposed on July 21, 1993, was received suggesting substantive changes. This second notice adopts that suggested change.

Dates: Written comments must be received on or before [March 16, 1995] to ensure consideration. An oral hearing will not be conducted.

Addresses: Address written comments to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box OED, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Harry I. Moatz. Written comments will be available for public inspection in Suite 518, on the 5th floor of Crystal Park I, located at 2011 Crystal Drive, Arlington, Virginia.

For Further Information Contact: Harry I. Moatz by telephone at (703) 308-5273 or by mail marked to his attention and addressed to Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box OED, Washington, D.C. 20231.

Supplementary Information: A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking was published in the Federal Register (58 FR 38994) on July 21, 1993, and in the Official Gazette of the PTO (1153 Off. Gaz. 32) on August 10, 1993. Comments were due August 20, 1993. One comment was received. The comment suggested a substantive change to the original proposed rulemaking. The PTO has adopted the change and is now publishing a second notice requesting comments on the amended notice.

Pursuant to 37 CFR § 10.132 et seq., the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline within the PTO may initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a practitioner. If the proceeding is contested by the practitioner and the Director continues to prosecute, an ALJ for the Department of Commerce enters an initial decision which includes findings of fact, conclusions of law and an order. 37 CFR § 10.154.

Either party to the proceeding may appeal from the initial decision of the ALJ to the Commissioner within thirty (30) days of the date of the decision. 37 CFR § 10.155(a). However, prior to this proposed rule change, § 10.155(a) did not provide for the filing of a cross-appeal.

With regard to interference proceedings, 37 CFR § 1.304(a) addresses the filing of cross-appeals by stating in pertinent part that:

> the time for filing a cross-appeal [to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit] or cross-action [in a district court] expires (1) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint or (2) two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

The proposed rule change is similar to the cross-appeal authorized in interference proceedings.

Response to and Analysis of Comment: The single comment suggested that the second sentence of the proposed § 10.155(a) be modified by adding "pursuant to § 10.142" after "(1) 14 days after service of the appeal" to make clear that the period for filing a cross-appeal or reply brief runs from service pursuant to § 10.142. The suggestion is being adopted. The comment further suggested that the fifth sentence in the rule proposed on July 21, 1993, be separated into three new sentences. The first and second new sentences make clear that "the other party to an appeal or cross-appeal may file a reply brief," and that a "reply brief by the respondent" is to be "served in duplicate with the Director." The third new sentence provides a date certain for filing any reply brief by avoiding uncertainty as to when "receipt" of an appeal, cross-appeal or copy thereof occurs, and by relying on the date of "service pursuant to § 10.142" of an appeal, cross-appeal, or a copy thereof. The suggestions have been adopted in the proposed rules.

Other Considerations: This rule change conforms with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Orders 12612 and 12866, and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.

The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration, that the rule change will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of the rule change is to provide a time period to file a cross-appeal in a PTO disciplinary proceeding. See the original notice of proposed rulemaking published in the Federal Register, 58 FR at 38996.

The PTO has determined that the rule change has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612. The Office of Management and Budget has determined that the rule change is not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866.

The rule change will not impose a burden under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq., since no record keeping or reporting requirements within the coverage of the Act are placed upon the public.

List of Subjects in 37 CFR Part 10

Administrative practice and procedure, Inventions and patents, Lawyers, Reporting and recordkeeping requirements.

For the reasons set out in the preamble, and pursuant to the authority contained in 35 U.S.C. 6, the PTO proposes to amend 37 CFR part 10 as follows, wherein deletions are indicated by brackets ([]) and additions by arrows (▶◀):

Part 10-Representation of Others Before The Patent and Trademark Office

1. The authority citation for 37 CFR part 10 would continue to read as follows:

Authority: 5 U.S.C. 500; 15 U.S.C. 1123; 35 U.S.C. 6, 31, 32, 41.

2. Section 10.155 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 10.155 Appeal to the Commissioner.

(a) Within thirty (30) days from the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge under § 10.154, either party may appeal to the Commissioner. ▶If an appeal is taken, the time for filing a cross-appeal expires (1) 14 days after the date of service of the appeal pursuant to § 10.142 or (2) 30 days after the date of the initial decision of the administrative law judge, whichever is later.◀ An appeal ▶or cross appeal◀ by the respondent will be filed and served with the Director in duplicate and will include exceptions to the decisions of the administrative law judge and supporting reasons for those exceptions. If the Director files the appeal ▶or cross-appeal◀, the Director shall serve ▶on the other party◀ a copy of the appeal ▶or cross-appeal◀. ▶The other party to an appeal or cross-appeal may file a reply brief. A respondent's reply brief shall be filed and served in duplicate with the Director. The time for filing any reply brief expires◀ [Within] thirty (30) days after ▶the date of◀ [receipt] ▶service pursuant to § 10.142◀ of an appeal ▶,cross-appeal◀ or copy thereof[, the other party may file a reply brief, in duplicate with the Director]. (215) Request for Information to Aid in the Implementation of the Recordation Requirements of Section 8 of the Fastener Quality Act

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice; Request for Information
Summary: The Patent and Trademark Office(PTO) is seeking information concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use by manufacturers or distributors of industrial fasteners. These alphanumeric designations may be used to signify the physical characteristics, strength, chemical content, size or other information about the fastener upon which they appear or they may be used as common law trademarks to identify and distinguish the manufacturer or distributor of such fasteners. The PTO needs information concerning these alphanumeric designations in order to administer the proposed fastener recordal system published on Aug. 17, 1992, at 57 F.R. 37060, 37061 to implement the requirements of Section 8 of the Fastener Quality Act, Public Law 101-592. Therefore, the PTO is requesting from fastener industry associations, standards bodies, or individual manufacturers or distributors, any general or specific information available concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use within the industry, whether as unregistered trademarks, as marks required by a standard, or for any other purpose.

Date: Comments should be submitted on or before Sept. 27,1993. Comments received after this date will be considered if possible.

Addresses: All comments concerning alphanumeric designations should be addressed to Lynne G. Beresford, Trademark Legal Administrator, Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231, telephone number (703) 305-9464.

For Further Information Contact: Lynne G. Beresford, Trademark Legal Administrator, (703) 305-9464.

Supplementary Information: In 1990, Congress enacted the Fastener Quality Act, Public Law 101-592 (the Act) to protect public safety, deter introduction of non-conforming fasteners into commerce, improve the tracing of fasteners used in critical applications, and provide customers with greater assurance that fasteners meet stated specifications. The Act requires that certain fasteners sold in commerce conform to the specifications to which they are represented to be manufactured; provides for accreditation of laboratories engaged in fastener testing; and requires the inspection, testing and certification (in accordance with standardized methods) of fasteners covered by the Act.

Section 8 of the Act prohibits offering fasteners for sale that are required by an applicable standard or specification to bear a raised or depressed insignia identifying the manufacturer or private label distributor unless such manufacturer or distributor has complied with the requirements of a program of the Secretary of Commerce for the recordation of such insignia in order to ensure that the fasteners can be traced to the manufacturer or distributor.

The program for recordation of fastener insignias, established by the Secretary of Commerce and administered by the Patent and Trademark Office, will allow the owner of a mark, which is the subject of a duly filed trademark application or registration, to apply for recordal of that mark as its fastener insignia. However, if the manufacturer or private label distributor does not wish to use a trademark as its fastener insignia, it will be permitted to apply for a unique alphanumeric designation for that purpose.

The PTO wants to ensure that it does not inadvertently issue an alphanumeric designation that is either already in use by a manufacturer or distributor as its identifying insignia, or a designation already in use by the industry to signify the physical characteristics, strength, chemical content, size or other information about the fastener. For that reason, the PTO is requesting from fastener industry associations, standards bodies, or individual manufacturers or distributors, any general or specific information available concerning alphanumeric designations currently in use within the industry, whether as unregistered trademarks, as marks required by a standard, or for any other purpose. The PTO does not need information concerning specific registered alphanumeric trademarks, as that information is readily available from the PTO's database.

Notice of Hearings and Request for Comments on Preliminary Draft of the Report of the Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of hearings and request for public comments
Summary: The Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights of the White House Information Infrastructure Task Force has issued a preliminary draft of its report, "Intellectual Property and the National Information Infrastructure," and is soliciting public comment. Copies of the preliminary report may be obtained by calling the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office at (703) 305-9300 or by sending a written request to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Terri A. Southwick, Office of Legislative and International Affairs. The Working Group will hold public hearings on the preliminary report in Washington, D.C., Chicago and Los Angeles.
Dates: The public hearing in Chicago will be held on September 14, 1994, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public hearing in Los Angeles will be held on September 16, 1994, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public hearing in Washington, D.C., will be held on September 22 and 23, 1994 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Requests to present oral testimony at the Chicago or Los Angeles hearings must be received on or before September 7, 1994. Requests to present oral testimony at the Washington, D.C., hearings must be received on or before September 15, 1994. As announced in the previous notice regarding the submission of written comments on the preliminary report, published at 59 Fed. Reg. 35912 (July 14, 1994), all written comments must be submitted on or before September 7, 1994. Comments in reply to initial written comments may be submitted no later than September 28, 1994.
Addresses: The hearing in Chicago will be held at the University of Chicago, Ida Noyes Hall, 1212 East 591h Street, Chicago, Illinois. The hearing in Los Angeles will be held at the University of California at Los Angeles, 1100 Schoenberg Hall, 405 Hilgard Avenue (Southeast side of UCLA Campus), Los Angeles, California. The hearings in Washington, D.C. will be held at the Andrew W. Mellon Auditorium, Constitution Avenue between 12th and 14th Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. Requests to present oral testimony should be submitted to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231, marked to the attention of Terri A. Southwick, Attorney-Advisor, Office of Legislative and International Affairs. Requests should specify the date and location of the hearing at which the requester wishes to present oral testimony, and should include the name, address, telephone number, fax number and professional affiliation, if any, of the requester.

The transcripts of the hearings will be made available for public inspection 10 days after the hearings at the Scientific and Technical Information Center of the Patent and Trademark Office, Room 2C01, Crystal Plaza 3/4, 2021 Jefferson Davis Highway, Arlington, Virginia, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Information about obtaining copies of transcripts of the hearings may be obtained by calling (703) 305-9300 no sooner than 10 days after the hearings.
For Further Information Contact: Terri A. Southwick or Michael O'Neil, Office of Legislative and International Affairs, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231. Telephone: (703) 305-9300; Fax: (703) 305-8885.
Supplementary Information: The Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights, chaired by Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks Bruce A. Lehman, was established as part of the White House Information Infrastructure Task Force. The Task Force, chaired by Secretary of Commerce Ronald H. Brown, was created to work with Congress and the private sector to develop comprehensive telecommunications and information policies aimed at articulating and implementing the Administration's vision for the National Information Infrastructure (NII).

"Intellectual Property and the National Information Infrastructure: A Preliminary Draft of the Report of the Working Group on Intellectual Property Rights" represents the Working Group's examination and analysis to date of the intellectual property implications of the NII, and includes the Group's draft findings and recommendations. While it addresses each of the major areas of intellectual property law, including patent, trademark and trade secret, the preliminary report focuses primarily on copyright law and its application and effectiveness in the context of the NII.

The Working Group solicited written comments from the public on the preliminary report in a notice published at 59 Fed. Reg. 35912 on July 14, 1994.

(217) Iraqi Sanctions Regulations

On Jan. 18, 1991, the Department of the Treasury, Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC), published the Iraqi Sanctions Regulations (Regulations) (31 CFR Part 575). 56 Fed. Reg. 2112. The regulations implement Executive Orders 12722 (Aug. 2, 1990) and 12724 (Aug. 9, 1990) relating to certain property and transactions in which the Government of Iraq and persons in Iraq may have an interest.

It appears that the provisions of the Executive Orders and Regulations prohibit transactions relating to the filing or prosecution of applications for patents or for registration of trademarks, where an Iraqi interest is involved. The prohibited transactions, however, may be authorized by a specific license issued pursuant to the proceedures described in Section 575.801 of Subpart H of the Regulations.

This notice is intended to alert practitioners and applicants to the prohibitions which may apply to matters before the Patent and Trademark Office, (PTO) if Iraqi interests are involved. this notice is further intended to advise that where such interests or potential interests come to the attention of the PTO, an appropriate specific license from OFAC may be required.

(218) Notice Regarding Patent and Trademark Rights in the Russian Federation

Representatives of the Russian Federation met with representatives of the U.S. Government on Monday, February 24, 1992, at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The Russian delegation sought information about the operation of the U.S. patent and trademark systems and provided information about the treatment of inventions, industrial designs, utility models, trademarks, service marks, and appellations of origin in the Russian Federation.

Following is the text of a statement from the Chairman of the Committee for Patents and Trademarks (ROSPATENT), outlining the status of industrial property protection in the Russian Federation and the plans for the future.

INFORMATION

by the Committee for Patents and Trademarks

Due to the fact that the draft laws on patents and on trademarks were approved in the first hearing by the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Federation and taking into account numerous questions of domestic inventors, foreign patent offices and patent attorneys, the Committee for Patents and Trademarks (Rospatent) of the Ministry of Science, Higher School and Technical Policy of the Russian Federation hereby informs that:

1. Until the Patent Law and Trademark Law become effective, the provisions of the USSR Laws on Inventions, Industrial Designs and Trademarks, that are adopted as the normative base by the States party to the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection, as signed in Minsk on Dec. 27, 1991, are applied in the territory of the Russian Federation.

According to the Provisional Agreement, the Russian Federation, as well as the other States party to it, recognizes the validity of titles of protection issued earlier pursuant to the USSR Laws in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Rospatent has submitted to the Government of the Russian Federation its proposals on issuing a normative act which is to certify the adoption by the Russian Federation of the said obligations arising out of the Provisional Agreement.

2. The applicants, who have filed applications for inventions, industrial designs and trademarks with the former USSR Gospatent, may, without losing the priority dates, wait until the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection becomes effective, the Interstate Patent Office is established and its working procedures for issuing interstate titles of protection are elaborated.

3. In accordance with the abovesaid proposals by Rospatent, as submitted to the Government of the Russian Federation, any applicant wishing to obtain a patent (a trademark certificate) of the Russian Federation will be given the right to seek, on the basis of an application filed, for provisional protection in the territory of the Russian Federation.

Such provisional protection will be granted to inventions, industrial designs and trademarks claimed in the applications in respect of which the examiners have taken decisions on the possibility of issuing patents (certificates), and will last from the date when the data on an application are published in a special gazette to the date of issuance of a patent (certificate) of the Russian Federation.

The provisional protection in the territory of the Russian Federation will not impose legal barriers to obtaining, by the applicant, an interstate patent (certificate) after the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection becomes effective. The priority date will still be considered as the date of filing the application either with the former USSR Gospatent or with Rospatent, with due regard to the conventional priority.

4. According to the Provisional Agreement on the Industrial Property Protection signed on Dec. 27, 1991, an inventor's certificate issued in the former USSR may not be exchanged for patents of the individual States party to the Provisional Agreement. The question of exchanging inventor's certificates for interstate patents will be finally resolved in the course of developing and concluding an Interstate Convention.

In this connection, Rospatent does not exchange inventors' certificates for patents if a petition to this extent was filed after Dec. 27, 1991.

V. Rassokhin
Chairman of Rospatent

Copies of unofficial translations of the draft laws referred to in the statement are available from Box 4, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, DC 20231. the charge is $4.00 to cover the cost of duplication. Checks should be made payable to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks.

(219) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Ukraine

The following announcement of Ukraine was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE PROVISIONAL REGULATION CONCERNING THE LEGAL PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN UKRAINE

The President of Ukraine, by his Decree of Sept. 18, 1992, approved the Provisional Regulation on Legal Protection of Objects of Industrial Property and Rationalization Proposals in Ukraine ("Regulation"). The Regulation entered into force on Sept. 18, 1992.

The situation of industrial property protection in Ukraine, as resulting in particular from the transitional provisions of the Regulation, is summarized below.

I. The Transitional Provisions Concerning Priority and, in Respect of Applications for Patents of Inventions, the Carrying Out of Examination

(1) Any priority claimed within six months from the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e. until Mar. 18, 1993, on the basis of the first filing in a State party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, will be recognized even if it is claimed after twelve months from the first filing in the case of patents for inventions, or six months from the first filing in the case of industrial designs or trademarks, provided that it is claimed not later than twenty-seven months from the first filing in the case of patents for inventions, or not later than twenty-one months from the first filing in the case of industrial designs and trademarks.

(2) The applicant or any other person may submit to the State Patent Office of Ukraine within five years from the filing date a request for the substantive examination of an application for a patent for invention. The request must be accompanied by a search report established by an International Searching Authority under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) or an organization registered with the State Patent Office of Ukraine as a Searching Authority, or by evidence that an action to grant a patent has been taken by a Patent Office which has a substantive examination system for granting patents.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(3) An applicant of an application for a patent for invention, for an inventor's certificate, for an industrial design patent or certificate or for a trademark certificate filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may request the State Patent Office of Ukraine within six months from the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Mar. 18, 1993, that the said application be further processed according to the Regulation. The request must be accompanied by a copy of said application, including a copy of the request showing the filing date as sent back by the Patent office of the Soviet Union to the applicant, and by any available evidence showing that the said application still had effect on Dec. 24, 1991. The filing date and any priority date of the said application will be maintained.

III. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(4) Patents for inventions, industrial design patents and trademark certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union prior to Dec. 25, 1991, will, after their registration by the State Patent Office of Ukraine at the request of the owner and upon furnishing of a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph (11), below), be considered as having the same effects for the remaining period of their validity as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate granted in accordance with the Regulation by the State Patent Office of Ukraine. The duration of the said validity is 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of a patent for invention, 15 years from the filing date of the application in the case of an industrial design patent and, in the case of a trademark certificate, 10 years from the filing date of the application (if the period of validity of the certificate had not yet been extended by Dec. 24, 1991) or from the date of the request for extension of the period of validity (if the period of validity of the certificate had already been extended by Dec. 24, 1991). The request must be filed within six months from the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Mar. 18, 1993, and must be accompanied by a copy of the patent or certificate granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union.

(5) As regards inventors' certificates and industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in relation to which a 20-year term in the case of inventions, or a 15-year term in the case of industrial designs, both counted from the filing date of the application, has not expired before the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., prior to Sept. 18, 1992, the State Patent Office of Ukraine will grant, at the request of the inventor (inventors) and with the consent of the applicant, a Ukrainian patent to the inventor himself, or to any other physical or legal person, with their consent, indicated in the request, or to the Ukrainian Inventions Foundation. In the case of inventions, if the said request is not made within the period of one year after the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., until Sept. 18, 1993, inventors' certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union shall be exchanged for Ukrainian patents granted to the Ukrainian Inventions Foundation. Any Ukrainian patent to which this paragraph applies will be valid until the expiration of 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of inventions, and 10 years from the filing date of the application, with an opportunity of subsequent extension, upon request of the owner, but not longer than for another 5-year period in the case of industrial designs.

IV. Effects in Ukraine of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(6)(a) On Sept. 21, 1992, Ukraine deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Ukraine. Nationals and residents of Ukraine can therefore file international applications, and Ukraine can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from that date.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the PCT Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, new Rules 32.1 and 32.2 in the Regulations under the PCT, concerning the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Ukraine, one has to distinguish between

(i) international applications designating the Soviet Union whichwere filed prior to Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications—irrespective of the designations, they contain—which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and Nov. 23, 1992 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications designating Ukraine filed on or after Sept. 21, 1992 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Ukraine of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Ukraine (provided that the international-application has not lost its effect in the Soviet Union by Dec. 24, 1991). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union, may continue to have effect in Ukraine are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union on the basis of the international application, the conditions described in paragraphs (4) and (5), above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate had not been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union without the application having been rejected by that Office, the applicant must, until Mar. 18, 1993,

—furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a copy of the Russian translation submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and any available evidence showing that the application still had effect on Dec. 24, 1991,

—file the request referred to in paragraph (3), above, with the State Patent Office of Ukraine, and —furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below);

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and the time limit for entering the national phase before that Office had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must, until Mar. 18, 1993, furnish to the State Patent Office of Ukraine a translation of the international application into Ukrainian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below).

(e) As regards any international application whose filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and earlier than Nov. 24, 1992[1], its effects may be extended to Ukraine (irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written requests for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Ukraine. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. the request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to Ukraine will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Ukraine will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the State Patent Office of Ukraine, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into Ukranian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below) until Dec. 31, 1993, or within the following time limit if that time limit expires after Dec. 31, 1993:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Ukraine is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Sept. 20, 1992, and in which Ukraine has been designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Ukraine, must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into Ukrainian or Russian and a document for payment of the prescribed fee (see paragraph 11, below) to that Office within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Ukraine is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

[1]With the exception of any such international application whose international filing date is later than Sept. 21, 1992, and in which Ukraine has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) is applicable. It should be noted that only those international applications filed on or after Sept. 21, 1992, can specifically designate Ukraine.

V. Effects in Ukraine of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(7)(a) On Sept. 21, 1992, Ukraine deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Ukraine.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of Madrid Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, a new Rule 38 in the Regulations under the Madrid agreement, concerning the effect of international registrations in certain successor States.

(c) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to the decision of the Assembly, certain international registrations may have effect in Ukraine subject to the conditions described below. Those international registrations are those which have territorial extension to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(d) The conditions referred to above are the following:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(e) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, continue the effect of the international registration to Ukraine. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(f) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Ukraine, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(g) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, protection in Ukraine can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. it is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to Ukraine are possible at present.

VI. Prior User Right

(8) Enterprises, organizations and institutions which have already started to use inventions or industrial designs for which protection can be obtained according to paragraph (5), above, prior to the entry into force of the Regulation, i.e., prior to Sept. 18, 1992, will have the right to a continued use of such inventions and industrial designs, but without increasing the volume of their utilization.

VII. New Applications

(9) From the date of entry into force of the Regulation, i.e. from Sept. 18, 1992, onward, applications for patents for inventions, for industrial design patents and for trademark certificates can be filed with the State Patent Office of Ukraine. The request as a part of the application must be filed in Ukrainian and be accompanied on the filing date by the prescribed fees. Other parts of the application may be presented in Ukrainian or Russian. they may also be presented in English, French or German, provided that a translation into Ukrainian is presented upon request of the state Patent Office of Ukraine

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(10) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place of business in Ukraine, he must authorize a representative in Ukraine, and all applications and requests referred to in the present announcement must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of the persons who can act as representatives is available at the State Patent Office of Ukraine.

(11) The amounts of the fees which are referred to as "prescribed fees" in the present announcement as well as the kind of document which constitutes a "document for payment of the prescribed fee" will be published in a separate announcement.

(220) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic

The following announcements concerning industrial property protection in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic were furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

Announcement on the Protection of Industrial Property in the Czech Republic

In view of the fact that Czechoslovakia ceased to exist on Dec. 31, 1992, and that the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic became independent States on Jan. 1, 1993, the situation of industrial property protection in the Czech Republic is summarized below.

I. Legal Basis

(1) The respective legal acts on the protection of industrial property of Czechoslovakia remain applicable in the Czech Republic.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and Industrial Property Rights Granted by that Office,

(2) Applications for industrial property rights filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and industrial property rights granted by that Office maintain their legal effect in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, it being understood that the next fees which are to be paid must be paid, for protection in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, to both the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic and the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

III. International Treaties

(3) The Czech Republic has deposited, with effect on Jan. 1, 1993, a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Czechoslovakia was party continue to be applicable as far as the Czech Republic is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement for the Repression of False or Deceptive Indications of Source on Goods, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Lisbon Agreement for the Protection of Appellations of Origin and their International Registration, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs, the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), the Strasbourg Agreement Concerning the International Patent Classification, the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, and the Treaty on the International Registration of Audiovisual Works.

IV. Effects in the Czech Republic of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(4)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, nationals and residents of the Czech Republic can file international applications, and the Czech Republic can be designated and elected in international applications filed, on or after Jan. 1, 1993.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT permit the extension of international applications to the Czech Republic.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to the Czech Republic, one has to distinguish between

(i) international applications specifically[1] designating Czechoslovakia which were filed prior to Jan. 1, 1993(see(d), below);

(ii) international applications not specifically1 designating the Czech Republic—irrespective of the other designations they contain—filed between Jan. 1, 1993, and Feb. 21, 1993 (see (e) to (g) below);

(iii) international applications specifically[1] designating the Czech Republic filed on or after Jan. 1, 1993 (see (h) below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Jan. 1, 1993, and in which Czechoslovakia is specifically designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by the Czech Republic of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in the Czech Republic (provided that the international application had not lost its effect in Czechoslovakia by Dec. 31, 1992). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent resulting therefrom and granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia, may continue to have effect in the Czech Republic are the following:

(i) if a patent has been granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia on the basis of the international applications, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia but a patent for invention has not been granted by the Office without the application having been rejected by it, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 31, 1992, the applicant must, before the expiration of the applicable time limit under PCT Article 22 or 39(1), furnish to the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic a translation of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and earlier than Feb. 22, 1993,[2] and in which the Czech Republic is not specifically designated, its effects may be extended to the Czech

[1]In this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating a State either if that State has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of that State has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

[2]With the exception of any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and in which the Czech Republic is specifically designated: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) is applicable.

Republic (irrespective of the other designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to the Czech Republic. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to the Czech Republic will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the condition described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, the Czech Republic will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee within three months from the date of the request for extension or, if it expires later, within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and in which the Czech Republic is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic, must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Czech language and pay the prescribed fee to that Office within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Czech Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

V. Effects in the Czech Republic of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks.

(5)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, and pursuant to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, any international registration with a territorial extension to Czechoslovakia effective from a date prior to Jan. 1, 1993, may have effect in the Czech Republic subject to the following conditions:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(b) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain a continuation of the effect of the international registration in the Czech Republic. The notice will contain a request form (in French) and specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. The request must be made in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(c) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to the Czech Republic, have effect as from the effective date of territorial extension to Czechoslovakia and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(d) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to Czechoslovakia or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, protection in the Czech Republic can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to the Czech Republic are possible at present.

VI. New Applications for Industrial Property Rights

(6) Applications for industrial property rights filed from Jan. 1, 1993, with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic have no effect in the Slovak Republic. However, unless it is clear that the applicant does not seek protection in the Slovak Republic, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will, during a transitory period of a few months, invite the applicant to specify, within a time limit which will be fixed in the invitation, whether he wants to obtain protection in the Czech Republic only or both in the Czech Republic and in the Slovak Republic. In the latter case, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will transmit a copy of the application to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic and the filing date of the application with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will be recognized by the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(7) Applications requesting protection in the Czech Republic must be filed in the Czech language.

VII. General Provisions

(8) The fees to be paid to the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic are of the same amount as the fees which were payable to the Office of Czechoslovakia before Jan. 1, 1993.

(9) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principle place of business in the Czech Republic, he must authorize a representative in the Czech Republic, and all applications to be filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of persons who can act as representatives is available at the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic.

Announcement on the Protection of Industrial Property in the Slovak Republic

In view of the fact that Czechoslovakia ceased to exist on Dec. 31, 1992, and that the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic became independent States on Jan. 1, 1993, the situation of industrial property protection in the Slovak Republic is summarized below.

I. Legal Basis

(1) Pending the enactment of new legislation, the respective legal acts on the protection of industrial property of Czechoslovakia remain applicable in the Slovak Republic.

II. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and Industrial Property Rights Granted by that Office

(2) Applications for industrial property rights filed with the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and industrial property rights granted by that Office maintain their legal effect in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, it being understood that the next fees which are to be paid must be paid, for protection in both the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic, to both the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic.

III. International Treaties

(3) The Slovak Republic has deposited, with effect on Jan. 1, 1993, a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Czechoslovakia was party continue to be applicable as far as the Slovak Republic is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement for the Repression of False or Deceptive Indications of Source on Goods, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registrations of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Lisbon Agreement for the Protection of Appellations of Origin and their International Registration, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs, the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT), the Strasbourg Agreement Concerning the International Patent Classification, the Budapest Treaty on the International Recognition of the Deposit of Microorganisms for the Purposes of Patent Procedure, the Berne Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works, and the Treaty on the International Registration of Audiovisual Works.

IV. Effects in the Slovak Republic of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(4)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, national and residents of the Slovak Republic can file international applications, and the Slovak Republic can be designated and elected in international applications filed, on or after Jan. 1, 1993.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT permit the extension of international applications to the Slovak Republic.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to the Slovak Republic, one has to distinguish between

(i) international applications specifically[1] designating Czechoslovakia which were filed prior to Jan. 1, 1993 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications not specifically[1]designating the Slovak Republic—irrespective of the other designations they contain—filed between Jan. 1, 1993 and Mar. 6, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically[1] designating the Slovak Republic filed on or after Jan. 1, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is prior to Jan. 1, 1993, and in which Czechoslovakia is specifically designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by the Slovak Republic of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in the Slovak Republic (provided that the international application had not lost its effect in Czechoslovakia by Dec. 31, 1992). The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent resulting therefrom and granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia, may continue to have effect in the Slovak Republic are the following:

(i) if a patent has been granted by the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia on the basis of the international application, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia but a patent for invention has not been granted by the Office without the application having been rejected by it, paragraph (2), above, is applicable;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Federal Office for Inventions of Czechoslovakia and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 31, 1992, the applicant must, before the expiration of the applicable time limit under PCT Article 22 or 39(1),furnish to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic a translation of the international application into the Slovak language and pay the proscribed fee.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and earlier than Mar. 7, 1993,[2] and in which the Slovak Republic is not specifically designated, its effects may be extended to the Slovak Republic (irrespective of the other designations it contains) through the performance of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to the Slovak Republic. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment for the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be used for the purpose of requesting the extension to the Slovak Republic will be attached to the notification. The request for the extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO;if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the condition described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, the Slovak Republic will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic, the applicant must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Slovak language and pay the proscribed fee within three months from the date of the request for the extension or, if it expires later, within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Slovak Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Slovak Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, and in which the Slovak Republic is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic, must furnish to that Office a translation of the international application into the Slovak language and pay the prescribed fee to that Office within the following time limit:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if the Slovak Republic is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 30 months from the priority date if the Slovak Republic is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

V. Effects in the Slovak Republic of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(5)(a) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation referred to in paragraph (3), above, and pursuant to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, any international registration with a territorial extension to Czechoslovakia effective from a date prior to Jan. 1, 1993, mayhave effect in the Slovak Republic subject to the following conditions:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(b) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain a continuation of the effect of the international registration in the Slovak Republic. The notice will contain a request form (in French) and specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. The request must be made in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(c) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to the Slovak Republic, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to Czechoslovakia and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard to such extension.

(d) For each international registration which has no territorial extension to Czechoslovakia or whose international registration date is later than Dec. 31, 1992, protection in the Slovak Republic can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is to be noted that requests for territorial extension to the Slovak Republic are possible at present.

VI. New Applications for Industrial Property Rights

(6) From Jan. 1, 1993, it is possible to file applications for industrial property rights with the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic. Applications filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic have no effect in the Slovak Republic. However, the following procedure will apply, during a transitory period of a few months, to applications filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic: unless it is clear that the applicant does not seek protection in the Slovak Republic, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech office will invite the applicant to specify, within a time limit which will be fixed in the invitation, whether he wants to obtain protection in the Czech Republic only or both in the Czech Republic and the Slovak Republic. In the latter case, the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will transmit a copy of the application to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic and the filing date of the application with the Industrial Property Office of the Czech Republic will be recognized by the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(7) Applications requesting protection in the Slovak Republic must be filed in the Slovak language.

VII General Provisions

(8) The fees to be paid to the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic are of the same amount as the fees whichwere payable to the Office of Czechoslovakia before Jan. 1, 1993.

(9) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place of business in the Slovak Republic, he must authorize a representative in the Slovak Republic, and all applications to be filed with the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative. The list of persons who can act as representatives is available at the Industrial Property Office of the Slovak Republic.

(221) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Kazakhstan

The following announcement was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN KAZAKHSTAN

The situation of industrial property protection in Kazakhstan is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On Aug. 5, 1992, the Patent Law of Kazakhstan entered into force. This Law deals with preliminary patents and patents for inventions, preliminary patents and patents for industrial designs and patents for utility models.

(2) The Law on Trade Marks, Service Marks and Appellations of Origin of Kazakhstan was adopted on Jan. 18, 1993. This said Law entered into force on Feb. 23, 1993.

(3) The National Patent Office of Kazakhstan was established on June 23, 1992. It is under the supervision of the Cabinet of Ministers.

II. Membership in Treaties

(4) The Government of Kazakhstan deposited on Feb. 16, 1993, a declaration to the effect that the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks and the Patent Cooperation Treaty continue to be applicable to Kazakhstan.

III. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan

(5) Applications for the grant of patents for inventions, patents for industrial designs and patents for utility models and applications for the registration of marks and appellations of origin have been able to be filed with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan since Aug. 27, 1992.

IV. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(6) A patent for invention or inventor's certificate, an industrial design patent or industrial design certificate, or a trademark certificate, which was issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may be registered by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan at the request of the owner. Upon registration, such industrial property rights will be considered as having the same effects as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate issued by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan. The duration is 20 years from the filing date of the application in the case of a patent for invention, 10 years from the filing date of the application in the case of an industrial design patent with the right to extend registration in the case of a trademark certificate. The filing date and any Dec. 1, 1993, in the case of inventions and industrial designs, and before Nov. 1, 1993, in the case of trademarks. It must be accompanied by the original or a copy, certified by a notary or any other competent authority, of the patent or certificate issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and evidence that the prescribed fees have been paid to the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

V. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation Before Oct. 14, 1992

(7) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate or for a trademark certificate which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Oct. 14, 1992, may request the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan before Dec. 1, 1993, in the case of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, or for an industrial design patent or certificate, and before Nov. 1, 1993, in the case of an application for a trademark certificate, that the said application be further processed according to the Kazakh legislation. The request for further processing by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan must be accompanied by a copy of the said application, including a copy of the request part of the said application showing the filing date as sent back to the applicant by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, by a declaration that the said application is, to the best knowledge of the applicant, still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Kazakh legislation.

(8) If the applicant has received from the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or from the Patent Office of the Russian Federation in respect of an application filed before Oct. 14, 1992, a decision on grant of protection, the request needs only to be accompanied by a copy, certified by a notary or any other competent authority, of the said decision, as well as, in the case of inventions, by the description, any drawings and the claims on which the decision is based and an abstract of the invention or, in the case of industrial designs, by five photographs, one of which must be certified by a notary or any other competent authority, and any drawings. The filing date and any priority date of the application filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation will be maintained.

VI. Effects in Kazakhstan of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(9) (a) On Feb. 16, 1993, Kazakhstan deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Kazakhstan. Nationals and residents of Kazakhstan can therefore file international applications, and Kazakhstan can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from the date.

(b) On Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the PCT Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, new Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT, concerning the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Kazakhstan, one has to distinguish between:

(i) international applications designating the Soviet Union which were filed before Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications—irrespective of the designations they contain—which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and Apr. 16, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically* designating Kazakhstan filed on or after Feb. 16, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is before Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Kazakhstan of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Kazakhstan. The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, may continue to have effect in Kazakhstan are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation on the basis of international application, the conditions referred to in paragraph (6) above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has not been granted by any of those Offices, the conditions referred to in paragraph (7), above, are applicable, provided that the applicant must, before Dec. 1, 1993, file with the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan a request that the international application be further processed according to the Kazakh legislation; the request must be accompanied by a copy of the Russian translation of the international application submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and a declaration that the application is still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation; however where a decision to grant a patent has issued, only the requirements referred to in paragraph (8), above, apply;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must, before Dec. 1, 1993, or, if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date, before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date whichever is later, furnish to the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) has been paid to the latter Office.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and earlier than Apr. 17, 1993, its effect may be extended to Kazakhstan (irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification form the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Kazakhstan. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment

*In this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating Kazakhstan either if Kazakhstan has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of Kazakhstan has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

With the exception of any such international application international filing date is on or after Feb. 16, 1993, and in which Kazakhstan is specifically designated;in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) applies. It should be noted that Kazakhstan cab be specifically designated only in those international applications filed on or after Feb. 16, 1993.

of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the international application by its international application number. A form which may be issued for the purpose of requesting the extension to Kazakhstan will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be English or French, and may be sent be telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Kazakhstan will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. For entering the national phase before the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan, the applicant must furnish, within the following time limit, to that Office both a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) was paid:

(i) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Kazakhstan is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT before the expiration of 19 months from the priority date and item (iii) does not apply;

(ii) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT before the expiration of 19 months from the priority date;

(iii) before Dec. 1, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if a request for extension to Kazakhstan is made after, but the demand was made before, the expiration of 19 months from the priority date, and a later election of Kazakhstan is made together with the request for extension or within three months from the date of the request for extension.

(h) As regards any international application whose international filing date is on or after Feb. 16, 1993, and in which Kazakhstan is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan, must furnish, within the following time limit, to that Office both a translation of the international application into Kazakh or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (12), below) has been paid to the said Office:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Kazakhstan is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT with 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Kazakhstan is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the Priority date.

VII. Effects in Kazakhstan of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(10) (a) On Feb. 16, 1993, Kazakhstan deposited a declaration of continuation the effect of which is that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Kazakhstan.

(b) on Sept. 29, 1992, the Assembly of the Madrid Union adopted, with effect on Oct. 1, 1992, a new Rule 38 in Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, concerning the effect of international registrations in certain successor States.

(c) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to the decision of the Assembly, certain international registrations may have effect in Kazakhstan subject to the conditions described below. Those international registrations are those which have territorial extensions to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(d) The conditions referred to above are the following:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(e) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO calling his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain the continuation of the effect of the international registration in Kazakhstan. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made without waiting for the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(f) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Kazakhstan, have effect as from the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed in regard such extension.

(g) For each international registration which has territorial extension to the Russian Federation effective from a date prior to Apr. 17, 1993, the owner may request the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan before Nov. 1, 1993, that the said registration be processed as an application under the Kazakh legislation. The request must be accompanied by an extract from the International Register established by the International Bureau of WIPO, by a declaration that, to the best knowledge of the owner, the international registration still has effect in the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Kazakh legislation.

(h) For each international registration not covered by (c) or (g), above, namely, for each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or to the Russian Federation or whose international registration date is later than Apr. 16, 1993, protection in Kazakhstan can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is noted that requests for territorial extension to Kazakhstan are possible at present.

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(11) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place in business in Kazakhstan, he must authorize a representative in Kazakhstan, and all requests, applications and other documents must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative.

(12) The list of the persons who can act as representatives and the official fees applicable to the procedures referred to under paragraphs (5), (6), (7), (8), (9) and (10)(g) are available from the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

(13) The request part of any application referred to under paragraph (5), above, any request referred to under paragraphs (6), (7), (9)(d)(ii) and (10)(g), above, and any declaration referred to under paragraphs (7), (9)(d)(ii) and (10)(g), above, must be filed in Kazakh or Russian. Other parts of any application referred to under paragraph (5), above, may be presented in other languages, provided that a translation into Kazakh or Russian is presented within two months from the filing date.

(14) If an applicant, due to circumstances beyond his control, was unable to observe a time limit applicable under paragraph (6), (7), (9)(d), 10(g) or (13), above, the time limit may, upon request, be extended by two months by the National Patent Office of Kazakhstan.

(222) Regarding Industrial Property Protection in Belarus

The following announcement was furnished by the World Intellectual Property Organization of Geneva, Switzerland.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN BELARUS

The situation of industrial property protection in Belarus is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On Feb. 5, 1993, the Law on Patents for Inventions, the Law on Patents for Industrial Designs and the Law on Trademarks and Service Marks of Belarus and the respective Parliamentary Decrees putting the said laws into effect were adopted and entered into force.

II. Membership in Treaties

(2) The Government of Belarus deposited on Apr. 14, 1993, a declaration to the effect that the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks and the Patent Cooperation Treaty continue to be applicable to Belarus. Belarus was already party to the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization.

III. Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union

(3) A patent for invention, an industrial design patent or trademark certificate, which was issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union may be registered by the State Patent Office of Belarus at the request of the owner. Upon registration, such industrial property rights will be considered as having the same effects as a patent for invention, industrial design patent or trademark certificate issued by the State Patent Office of Belarus. The duration is 20 years from the filing date of the application with the patent Office of the Soviet Union in the case of a patent for invention, 15 years from the filing date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in the case of an industrial design patent, and 10 years from the filing date of the request for registration by the State Patent Office of Belarus in the case of a trademark certificate, the latter request to be filed before the expiry of the 10-year term from the filing date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union. The filing date and any priority date of the application with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union will be maintained.

(4) As regards inventors' certificates and industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union in relation to which a 20-year term in the case of inventions, or a 15-year term in the case of industrial designs, both counted from the filing date of the application, has not expired, the State Patent Office of Belarus will grant for the remaining term a Belarusian patent for invention or industrial design patent upon the joint request of the applicant and the inventor (inventors). Failing the agreement between the applicant and the inventor (inventors), no patent will be granted.

(5) The request for registration by the State Patent Office of Belarus must be filed before Feb. 5, 1994, in the case of inventions and industrial designs, and before Oct. 5, 1993, in the case of trademarks. It must be accompanied by the original or a copy, certified by a the patent owner, or the applicant, or the patent attorney, of the patent or certificate issued by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union, and also by a copy of the document attesting that the fee for the preceding term has been paid.

(6) Any inventor's certificate which is not exchanged for a patent for invention will enjoy the legal status which had been applicable to the invention in question in the Soviet Union before July 1, 1991.

IV. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation Before Feb. 5, 1993

(7) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, or of an application for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Feb. 5, 1993, and in respect of which a decision to grant has been taken, may request the State Patent Office of Belarus to issue a Belarusian patent for invention or industrial design patent. The request must be filed before Aug. 5, 1993.

(8) The applicant of an application for a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate, of an application for an industrial design patent or an industrial design certificate, or of an application for a trademark certificate, which had been filed with the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation before Feb. 5, 1993, and the processing of which has not been completed and in respect of which patents or certificates have not been granted, may request the State Patent Office of Belarus before Aug. 5, 1993, that the said application be further processed according to the Belarusian legislation and that the priority date of the said application be maintained, provided that the request is filed before the expiry of 27 months from the filing date of the first application in the case of inventions, and before the expiry of 21 months from the filing date of the first application in the case of industrial designs and trademarks.

V. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Filed, Before Apr. 14, 1993, with the Industrial Property Offices of States Party to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property

(9) The State Patent Office of Belarus will recognize the priority date of the first application filed in a State party to the Paris Convention, provided that, in the case of inventions, the request for the grant of a Belarusian patent based on the said application is filed with the State Patent Office of Belarus before the expiry of 27 months from the filing date of the first application or, in the case of industrial designs and trademarks, the request for the grant of a Belarusian industrial design patent, or for the grant of a Belarusian trademark certificate, based on said application, is filed with the State Patent Office of Belarus before the expiry of 21 months from the filing date of the first application.

VI. Effects in Belarus of International Applications under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT)

(10) (a) As mentioned in paragraph (2), above, on Apr. 14, 1993, Belarus deposited a declaration of continuation, the effect of which is that the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) is applied by Belarus. Nationals and residents of Belarus can therefore file international applications, and Belarus can be designated and elected in international applications filed, from that date.

(b) Rules 32.1 and 32.2 of the Regulations under the PCT, allow the extension of international applications to certain successor States.

(c) For the purpose of determining the status of international applications with respect to Belarus, one has to distinguish between:

(i) international applications designated the Soviet Union which were filed before Dec. 25, 1991 (see (d), below);

(ii) international applications-irrespective of the designations they contain-which were filed between Dec. 25, 1991, and June 22, 1993 (see (e) to (g), below);

(iii) international applications specifically* designated Belarus filed on or after Apr. 14, 1993 (see (h), below).

(d) As regards any international application whose international filing date is before Dec. 25, 1991, and in which the Soviet Union has been designated, the "national filing effect" of any such application under Article 11(4) of the PCT will, pursuant to the deposit by Belarus of its declaration of continuation, be recognized in Belarus. The conditions under which any such international application, or any patent or inventor's certificate resulting therefrom and granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, may continue to have effect in Belarus are the following:

(i) if a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has been granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or by the Patent Office of the Russian Federation on the basis of international application, the conditions referred to in paragraph (3) to (6) above, are applicable;

(ii) if the applicant has entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation but a patent for invention or an inventor's certificate has not been granted by either of those Offices, the conditions referred to in paragraphs (7) and (8), above, are applicable, provided that the applicant, before Aug. 5, 1993, files with the State Patent Office of Belarus a request that the international application be further processed according to the Belarusian legislation; the request must be accompanied by a copy of the Russian translation of the international application submitted to the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and a declaration that the application is still pending before the Patent Office of the Russian Federation, except where a decision to grant a patent has been made, in which case only the requirements referred to in paragraph (7), above, apply;

(iii) if the applicant has not entered the national phase before the Patent Office of the Soviet Union or the Patent Office of the Russian Federation and the time limit for entering the national phase had not expired on Dec. 24, 1991, the applicant must furnish to the State Patent Office of Belarus,within the following time limit, a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid to the latter Office.

—before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

—before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date.

(e) As regards any international application whose international filing date is later than Dec. 24, 1991, and not later than June 22, 1993, its effect may be extended to Belarus (irrespective of the designations it contains) through the performance by the applicant of the following acts:

(i) filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) a request for extension;

(ii) paying to the International Bureau of WIPO an extension fee of 185 Swiss francs, payable only in Swiss francs.

(f) The applicant in respect of each and every international application referred to in (e), above, or his agent or common representative if there is one, will receive a written notification form the International Bureau of WIPO drawing his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request for extension, extend the effects of the international application to Belarus. The notification will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the extension fee of 185 Swiss francs. The request for extension must contain the identification of the applicant's international application by its international application number. A form which may be issued for the purpose of requesting the extension to Belarus will be attached to the notification. The request for extension must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request for extension and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of three months from the date of the notification sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. It is recommended that applicants await the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO and use the form attached to it, but requests and payments may be made prior to receipt of the notification from the International Bureau of WIPO.

(g) If the conditions described in (e) and (f), above, are fulfilled, Belarus will be considered as having been designated in the international application on its international filing date. In order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Belarus, the applicant must furnish to that Office, within the following time limit, both a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid:

(i) before Aug. 5, 1993, or before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date and item (iii) does not apply;

(ii) before Aug. 5, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the priority date;

(iii) before Aug. 5, 1993, or the expiration of 31 months from the priority date, whichever is later, if a request for extension to Belarus is made after, but the demand for international preliminary examination was made before, the expiration of 19 months from the priority date, and a later election of Belarus is made together with the request for extension or within three months from the date of the request for extension.

(h) As regards any international application whose International filing date is on or after Apr. 14, 1993, and in which Belarus is specifically designated, the applicant, in order to enter the national phase before the State Patent Office of Belarus, must furnish to that Office, within the following time limit, both a translation of the international application into Belarusian or Russian and evidence that the prescribed fee (see paragraph (13), below) has been paid to the said Office:

(i) before the expiration of 21 months from the priority date if Belarus is not elected under Chapter II of the PCT with 19 months from the priority date;

(ii) before the expiration of 31 months from the priority date if Belarus is elected under Chapter II of the PCT within 19 months from the Priority date.

VII. Effects in Belarus of International Registrations under the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks

(11) (a) As mentioned in paragraph (2), above, On Apr. 14, 1993, Belarus deposited a declaration of continuation, the effect of which was that the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks is applied by Belarus.

(b) Pursuant to the deposit of the declaration of continuation and to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement, certain international registrations may have effect in Belarus subject to the conditions described below. The international registrations are those which have a territorial extension to the Soviet Union effective from a date prior to Dec. 25, 1991.

(c) The conditions referred to above are the following:

(i) the filing with the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) of a request;

(ii) the payment to the International Bureau of WIPO of a fee, the amount of which is 62 Swiss francs per international registration.

(d) The owner of each and every international registration concerned, or his representative (if the owner has a representative whose name appears in the International Register), will receive a written notice from the International Bureau of WIPO drawing his attention to the fact that he can, by filing a written request, obtain the continuation of the effect of the international registration in Belarus. The notice will, in particular, specify the modes of payment of the fee. The request must contain the identification of the international registration concerned by its international registration number. A form (in French) will be attached to the notice and may be used. The request must be in English or French, and may be sent by telefax or telex. The request and the corresponding payment must reach the International Bureau of WIPO before the expiration of six months from the date of the notice sent by the International Bureau of WIPO; if either the request or the fee is received later, the request will be refused. Requests and payments may be made upon receipt of the notice of the International Bureau of WIPO.

(e) If the conditions described above are fulfilled, the international registration concerned will, with respect to Belarus, have effect as of the effective date of the territorial extension to the Soviet Union and benefit from any priority validly claimed with regard to such extension.

(f) For each international registration which has a territorial extension to the Russian Federation effective as of a date between Dec. 25, 1991 and Apr. 14, 1993, the owner may request the State Patent Office of Belarus, before Aug. 5, 1993, that the said registration be processed as an application under the Belarusian legislation. The request must be accompanied by an extract from the International Register established by the International Bureau of WIPO, by a declaration that, to the best knowledge of the owner, the international registration still has effect in the Russian Federation, and by an application filed according to the Belarusian legislation.

(g) For each international registration not covered by (b) or (f), above, namely, for each international registration which has no territorial extension to the Soviet Union or to the Russian Federation or whose international registration date is later than Apr. 14, 1993, protection in Belarus can only be obtained by filing, through the intermediary of the national Office of the country of the owner, a request for territorial extension under Rule 20 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement. It is noted that requests for territorial extension to Belarus are possible at present.

VIII. Procedural Provisions

(12) If an applicant does not have his ordinary residence or principal place in business in Belarus, he must authorize a representative in Belarus, and all requests, applications and other documents must be filed through the intermediary of such a representative.

(13) The official fees applicable to the procedures referred to under paragraphs (3), (4), (5), (7), (8) (10) and (11)(f) are available from the State Patent Office of Belarus.

(14) Any request referred to under paragraphs (3), (4), (5), (7), (8), (10)(d)(ii) and (11)(f), above, and any declaration referred to under paragraphs (10)(d)(ii) and (11)(f), above, must be filed in Belarusian or Russian.

(223) Regarding Patent and Trademark Rights in the Republic of Lithuania

The State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the protection of inventions, industrial designs, and trademarks in the Republic of Lithuania.

Following is the unedited text of the SUMMARY OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY PROTECTION IN LITHUANIA, provided in English translation by the Government of Lithuania, outlining the status of industrial property protection in Lithuania pending enactment of new legislation.

"The system of industrial property protection in Lithuania functioned reasonably well until 1940 ('Law on Protection of Trademarks' of Jan. 27, 1925, 'Law on the Protection of Inventions and Improvements' of May 14, 1928, 'Law on the Protection of Industrial Models and Designs').

• Since 1940 industrial property protection in Lithuania had been based on legal acts of the Soviet Union.

• After Lithuania has declared it's independence it started establishing an independent national industrial property legislation. On Apr. 12, 1991, the Government of the Republic of Lithuania established the Lithuanian Patent Office, which is functioning under the name of the State Patent Bureau. On Dec. 1, 1991, the State Patent Bureau has proceeded the registration of Company Names of the Republic of Lithuania under the Regulations of Company Names.

Since Apr. 30, 1992 the Republic of Lithuania is a member of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO).

• In order to ensure legal protection of industrial property (inventions, industrial designs and trademarks), rights of inventors, patent owners and investors on May 20, 1992 the Government of the Republic of Lithuania adopted a Decree No 362 on provisional measures until the laws of the Republic of Lithuania on inventions, industrial designs and trademarks are adopted. The contents of the provisional measures and their main consequences are summarized below.

INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS GRANTED BY THE PATENT OFFICE OF THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

1. Valid patents for inventions, as well as valid inventor's certificates, granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union on the basis of applications filed beginning with Jan. 1, 1978, shall be registered as patents of the Republic of Lithuania for a period not longer than 15 years from the date of filing an application, provided that the inventor together with the applicant or the patent owner files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau no later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. Failing such a request, the patent or inventor's certificate will not have any effect in the Republic of Lithuania.

2. Industrial design for which valid industrial design patent or industrial design certificates granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union on the basis of applications filed beginning with Jan. 1, 1983 shall be registered as industrial designs in the Republic of Lithuania for a period of 5 years with a possibility of renewing the registration for 5 consecutive years but not longer than for a period of 10 years from the date of filing an application provided that the creator of the industrial design together with the applicant or the patent owner files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau not later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. Failing such a request, the industrial design patent or certificate shall not have any effect in Lithuania.

3. A patent or industrial design, which has been registered under paragraph 1 or 2 above, will have no effect against any person who in the Republic of Lithuania, prior to the date of the request for registration was using the invention or industrial design protected by inventor's certificate or certificate or was making effective and serious preparation for such use.

4. Trademarks for which valid trademark certificates were granted by the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union shall be registered as trademarks in the Republic of Lithuania for a period of 10 years, provided that the owner of the trademark certificate files a request to that effect with the State Patent Bureau not later than Sept. 30, 1993 and pays the prescribed State fee. The same applies to international trademark registration effected under Madrid Agreement concerning the International Registration of Marks, for which valid trademark certificates had the territorial extension to the Former Soviet Union. Failing such a request, the trademark certificate will not have any effect in the Republic of Lithuania.

5. Priority rights may be claimed from May 20, 1992 onwards,

*In this announcement, an international application is regarded as "specifically" designating Belarus either if Belarus has been designated under Rule 4.9(a) of the Regulations under the PCT or if the designation of Belarus has been confirmed under Rule 4.9(c) of those Regulations.

With the exception of any such international application whose international filing date is on or after Apr. 14, 1993, and in which Belarus is specifically designated: in such a case, the procedure described in (e) to (g) is not applicable, and the procedure described in (h) applies. It should be noted that Belarus can be specifically designated only in those international applications filed on or after Apr. 14, 1993.

but not later than Apr. 30, 1993, on the basis of previous patents, industrial design and trademark applications filed with the Patent Office of the former Soviet Union after Jan. 1, 1990, and which were pending on Jan. 31, 1992. Such priority rights are governed by the provisions of Article 4 of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property.
6. Information regarding patents for inventions and industrial designs and trademark certificates shall be published in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of the State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania.

NEW APPLICATIONS FOR INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS FILED WITH THE STATE PATENT BUREAU OF THE REPUBLIC OF LITHUANIA

7. Pending the enactment of industrial property legislation in Lithuania, it is possible to file patent applications and applications for the registration of industrial designs and of trademarks with the State Patent Bureau on the basis of legal acts of the Republic of Lithuania.

Foreign natural and legal persons, having their ordinary residence or principle place of business outside Lithuania, shall file requests and applications only through a patent attorney, registered in the Register of patent attorneys of the Republic of Lithuania.

Copies of the list of fees of the State Patent Bureau of the Republic of Lithuania and of the list of registered patent attorneys are available from Box 4, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. 20231

(224) Regarding Industrial Property Rights in the Republic of Slovenia

The Industrial Property Protection Office of the Republic of Slovenia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) with a consolidated text, in English, of the Law on Industrial Property of the Republic of Slovenia which regulates the grant and protection of patents, model rights and design rights, trademarks and service marks, and appellations of origin. In addition, the Industrial Property Protection Office has notified the USPTO that it has entered into an "extension agreement" with the European Patent Organisation that will enter into force in Jauary 1994. After entry into force of the agreement, it will be possible to obtain patent protection in Slovenia through obtaining a European patent. The Republic of Slovenia also plans to ratify the Patent Cooperation Treaty administered by the World Intellectual Property Organization.

A copy of the consolidated text of the Slovenian industrial property law can be obtained by writing to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(225) Regarding Industrial Property Rights In The Republic Of Croatia

The State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the protection of inventions, industrial designs, and trademarks and appellations of origin in the Republic of Croatia.

Following is the unedited text of the document provided in English translation by the Government of Croatia, outlining the status of industrial property protection.

"I. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

MEMBERSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS, CONVENTIONS AND TREATIES

The Republic of Croatia is a party to the following conventions:
•the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization;
• the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property;
• the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks;
•the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks;
•the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs;
•the BERNE Convention for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works based on the notifications confirmed by the Director General of the World Intellecutal Property Organization, in his letter of 29, July, 1992, considered to be effective from 8, October, 1991, the date of independance declaration of the Republic of Croatia.

This fact grants the continuity of membership of the Republic of Croatia in the aforementioned conventions, starting from the found state of former Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia.

II. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

1. MAIN FEATURES OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY LAW IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA

Industrial Property Law comprises:
•patents;
•designs;
•trademarks and service marks;
•appellations of origin.

According to this Law, which is basically in accordance with the aforementioned conventions and arrangements, the validity of patent is 20 years, and the validity of designs and marks 10 years upon the submission of the patent application. The validity of marks can be renewed without limitations. Foreign legal and physical persons are obliged to protect their industrial property rights in the Republic of Croatia by means of an authorized representative, either a Croatian citizen or a local legal entity.

3. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE REPUBLIC OF CROATIA-PROSPECTS

A new law on industrial property is expected to be passed during 1994, conceding the use of the institution of complete examination of conditions for the grant of patents. Within general activities aimed at harmonization and unification of the legal provisions governing idustrial property rights, the State Patent Office will take up the activities concerning the admission to PCT and the European Patent Convention.

4. INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS GRANTED OR APPLIED FOR BY SUBMITTING AN APPLICATION, TO THE FORMER FEDERAL PATENT OFFICE FOR THE TERRITORY OF FORMER YUGOSLAVIA (SFRY)

4.1. The Industrial property rights granted through the former Federal Patent Office up to 8 October, 1991 are regulated in Article 10, paragraph 1 and 2 of the Law on Changes and Amendments of the Law on Protection of Inventions, Technical Improvements and Distinctive Signs ("Official Gazette of the Republic of Croatia", 2 April, 1992): 'All rights of industrial property which are granted by the decisions of the former Federal Patent Office up to 8 October 1991 are valid on the territory of the Republic of Croatia up to their expiration. Upon the request of the rightfull claimants from the aforementioned paragraph, the State Patent Office will enter this particular right into the corresponding register.'

4.2. Rights acquired in former Yugoslavia by the international registration of marks (International Bureau of WIPO, Geneve)

The Assembly of the Madrid Union on 29 September, 1992 adopted the new Rule No. 38, which apart from the Republic of Croatia applies to Solvenia and Ukraine, of the Regulations under the Madrid Arrangement, according to which the internationally registered marks with the territorial sign YU with the dates earlier 1 December, 1992 can be effective in the Republic of Coratia, provided that:
•a request is submitted to the International Bureau of WIPO, Geneve (on the basis of the written notification of the International Bureau of WIPO);
•a fee in the amount of 62 Swiss francs for each internationally registered mark is paid to the International Bureau.

The International Bureau will by the end of 1992 notify in written form each of the owners of the internationally registered mark with the sign YU, with the appeal to utilize the possibility provided by the Rule No. 38 prior to March 1, 1994.

4.3. The Industrial property rights applied for by submitting the application at the former Federal Patent Office before 8 October, 1991, which were not granted or declined, can be effected in the Republic of Croatia by submitting the same applications to the State Patent Office until 4 November, 1993 (this period was prolonged by the Regulation of the Government of the Republic of Croatia of 14 April, 1993)."

The address of the State Patent Office is:

State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia
Avenija Vukovar 78 41000 Zagreb
CROATIA

The State Patent Office of the Republic of Croatia has also provided a copy of the fees charged and a list of patent attorneys authorized to practice. Copies of these can be provided on request. Please send request to U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, Office of Legislation and International Affairs, Box 4, Washington, D.C. 20231.

(226) Regarding Patent And Trademark Rights In The Former Yugoslav Republic Of Macedonia

The Ministry of Development of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia has provided the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office with information regarding the status of industrial property protection within the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

Following is the unedited text of the ANNOUNCEMENT ON THE PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY IN THE FORMER YUGOSLAV REPUBLIC OF MACEDONIA, provided in English translation by the Ministry of Development.

"The present situation of industrial property protection in the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia is summarized below.

I. Legislation

(1) On July 14, 1993, the Industrial Property Act entered into force. An Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia will be set up within a few months.
(2) Pending the setting-up of the said Office, applications for patents for inventions, utility models, industrial designs, trademarks, service marks and appellations of origin may be filed with the Ministry of Development in order to establish a filing or priority date. Applications so filed will not, however, be processed to grant or refusal until the said Office has been established.

II. Application of International Treaties

(3) On July 23, 1993, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia deposited a declaration the effect of which is that all those treaties administered by WIPO to which Yugoslavia was party continue to be applicable as far as the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia is concerned. Those treaties are: the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization, the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, the Nice Agreement Concerning the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks, the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs and the Berne Conventon for the Protection of Literary and Artistic Works.

(4) A further announcement will be made on the procedare to be followed to confirm the effect of international registrations to Rule 38 of the Regulations under the Madrid Agreement.

III. Applications for Industrial Property Rights Previously Filed with the Former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade and Industrial Property Rights Granted by the Former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade

(5) The applicant of any application for an industrial property right filed with the former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade prior to April 26, 1992, may file with the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, after its establishment and prior to July 7, 1994, a request that the application be further processed.
(6) The owner of any industrial property right granted by the former Federal Patent Office in Belgrade and valid on July 7, 1993, may file with the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, after its establishment and prior to July 7, 1995, a request to the effect that the granted industrial property right be considered for the remaining period of its validity as an industrial property right granted by the Office for the Protection of Industrial Property of the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia.

(227) Regarding Industrial Property In The Kygyz Republic

The following notice is reprinted from the December 1993 edition of "Industrial Property" published by the World Intellectual Property Organization, giving the status of industrial property protection in the Kyrgyz Republic:

The present situation of industrial property protection in the Kyrgyz Republic is summerized below.

I. Legislation

(1) Pending the enactment of the industrial property laws, the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic adopted, on August

2, 1993, the Provisional Regulations on Industrial Property, which cover inventions, utility models, industrial designs and trademarks. It is possible, as of August 2, 1993, to file applications for the grant of patents for inventions and for the registration of utility models, industrial designs and trademarks with the Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic.

II. Application of International Treaties

(2) The Kyrgyz Republic intends to become party to the Convention Establishing the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), to the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property, to the Madrid Agreement Concerning the International Registration of Marks, to the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT) and to the Nice Agreement Concening the International Classification of Goods and Services for the Purposes of the Registration of Marks.

(3) Announcements will be made as soon as the Kyrgyz Republic becomes party to the treaties mentioned in paragraph (2), above, or to any other treaties administered by WIPO. Details will be given at that stage of the procedures to be followed to confirm the application to the Kyrgyz Republic of certain international applications under the PCT and certain international registrations under the Madrid Agreement.

III. Reregistration of Industrial Property Titles Granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and Further Processing of Pending Applications

(4) The owner of a patent for invention, an inventor's certificate, an industrial design patent or certificate granted by the Patent Office of the Soviet Union and still in force may file directly with the Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic before May 1, 1994, a request for the grant of a Kyrgyz patent for invention, design patent or trademark certificate.

(5) An applicant of an application for a patent for invention, for an industrial design patent or for a trademark certificate filed before August 2, 1993, with the express or implied intention of obtaining protection also in the Kyrgyz Republic and pending with the Patent Office of the Russian Federation may file with Patent Department of the State Committee on Science and New Technologies of the Kyrgyz Republic before May 1, 1994, a request that the application be further processed under Kyrgyz legislation.

IV. Procedural Provisions

(6) The procedures referred to in paragraphs (1), (4) and (5) are subject to payment of the prescribed fees.

Notice of Maintenance Fees Payable

Title 37 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Section 1.362(d) provides that maintenance fees may be paid without surcharge for the six-month period beginning 3, 7, and 11 years after the date of issue of patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980. An additional six-month grace period is provided by 35 U.S.C. 41(b) and 37 CFR 1.362(e) for payment of the maintenance fee with the surcharge set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), as amended effective Dec. 16, 1991. If the maintenance fee is not paid in the patent requiring such payment the patent will expire on the 4th, 8th, or 12th anniversary of the grant.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 29, 1992 for which maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 5,173,963 through 5,175,885
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 27, 1988 for which maintenance fees due at 7 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,793,001 through 4,794,651
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

Attention is drawn to the patents which were issued on December 25, 1984 for which maintenance fees due at 11 years and six months may now be paid. The patents have patent numbers within the following ranges:

Utility Patents 4,489,443 through 4,490,854
Reissue Patents based on the above identified patents.

No maintenance fees are required for design or plant patents.

Payments of maintenance fees in patents should be directed to "Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box M. Fee, Washington, D.C. 20231."

For patents based on applications filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, but before Aug. 27, 1982, patent owners must establish small entity status according to 37 CFR 1.27 if they have not done so and if they wish to pay the small entity amount.

The current amounts of the maintenance fees due at 3 years and six months, 7 years and six months, and 11 years and six months are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(e)-(g), as amended Oct. 1, 1994, which are reproduced below:

37 CFR § 1.20 Post-issuance fees

(e) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980, in force beyond 4 years; the fee is due by three years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $495.00
By other than a small entity $990.00

(f) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 8 years; the fee is due by seven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $995.00
By other than a small entity $1,990.00

(g) For maintaining an original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent, based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980 in force beyond 12 years; the fee is due by eleven years and six months after the original grant:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $1,495.00
By other than a small entity $2,990.00

The amount of the surcharge for paying the maintenance fee during the grace period or after expiration of the patent are set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(h), and (i) which are reproduced below:

(h) Surcharge for paying a maintenance fee during the 6 month grace period following the expiration of three years and six months, seven years and six months, and eleven years and six months after the date of the original grant of a patent based on an application filed on or after Dec. 12, 1980:

By a small entity (§ 1.9(f)) $65.00
By other than a small entity $130.00

(i) Surcharge for accepting a maintenance fee after expiration of a patent for non-timely payment of a maintenance fee where the delay is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have been:

(1) unavoidable $660.00
(2) unintentional $1,550.00

Notice of Expiration of Patents Due to Failure to Pay Maintenance Fee

35 U.S.C. 41 and 37 CFR 1.362(g) provide that if the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge are not paid in a patent requiring such payment, the patent will expire at the end of the 4th, 8th or 12th anniversary of the grant of the patent depending on the first maintenance fee which was not paid.

According to the records of the Office, the patents listed below have expired due to failure to pay the required maintenance fee and any applicable surcharge.

Notice of Expiration of Trademark Registrations Due To Failure to Renew 15 U.S.C. 1059 provides that each trademark registration may be renewed for periods of ten years from the end of the expiring period upon payment of the prescribed fee and the filing of an acceptable application for renewal. This may be done at any time within six months before the expiration of the period for which the registration was issued or renewed, or it may be done within three months after such expiration on payment of an additional fee.

According to the records of the Office, the trademark registrations listed below are expired due to failure to renew in accordance with 15 U.S.C. 1059.

Adverse Decisions in Interference

In the designated interferences involving the following patents, final decisions have been rendered that the respective patentees are not entitled to patents containing the claims listed.

Patent No. 4,671,470, Paul J. Jonas, METHOD FOR FASTENING AIRCRAFT FRAME ELEMENTS TO SANDWICH SKIN PANELS COVERING SAME USING WOVEN FIBER CONNECTORS, Interference No. 102,086 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered February 27, 1990, as to claims 7 and 10/7.

Patent No. 4,817,042, Leon A. Pintsov, INSERTION MACHINE WITH PRIORITIZED SELECTION OF INSERTS, Interference No. 102,718 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered October 23, 1995, as to claims 6 and 7.

Patent No. 4,843,063, Saeid Seyedin, Thomas Thomas, Hanne Bentz, Larry Ellingsworth, Rosa Armstrong, POLYPEPTIDE CARTILAGE-INDUCING FACTORS FOUND IN BONE, Interference No. 103,519 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered September 25, 1995, as to claims 1 and 2.

Patent No. 4,931,048, George A. Lopez, MEDICAL DEVICE, Interference No. 102,844 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered November 13, 1995, as to claims 1, 2, 5-9 and 17.

Patent No. 4,980,375, Abraham Sunshine, Eugene M. Laska, ONSET-HASTENED/ENHANCED ANTIPYRETIC RESPONSE, Interference No. 103,089 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered October 26, 1995, as to claims 1-24.

Patent No. 5,015,487, Mark W. Collison, Terry F. Farver, Christine A. McDonald, Paula J. Herald, Daniel J. Monticello, USE OF LANTHIONINES FOR CONTROL OF POST-PROCESSING CONTAMINATION IN PROCESSED MEAT, Interference No. 103,554 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered October 26, 1995, as to claims 1-10.

Patent No. 5,036,535, Jerry Gechter, Jeffrey A. Fried, Robert L. Pokress, SWITCHLESS AUTOMATIC CALL DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM, Interference No. 103,051 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered October 26, 1995, as to claims 1-63.

Patent No. 5,066,240, Gary J. Verdun, HIGH DENSITY ELECTRICAL CONNECTOR WITH ELECTROSTATIC DISCHARGE PROTECTION, Interference No. 103,524 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered November 15, 1995, as to claims 1-9.

Patent No. 5,127,858, Paul A. Pelligrino, Gary L. Potter, Robert N. Schenk, CONTROL MEANS FOR MARINE ENGINES AND TRANSMISSIONS, Interference No. 103,569 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered November 28, 1995, as to claims 1 and 4/1.

Patent No. 5,153,082, Takao Ogino, Tadaaki Miyazaki, Masao Ogawa, Yuko Maeda, Shigeru Kijima, Koji Takagi, Takahiro Kawagoe, NONAQUEOUS ELECTROLYTE SECONDARY BATTERY, Interference No. 103,575 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered November 6, 1995, as to claims 1-6.

Patent No. 5,169,673, Gary L. Demeny, Robert G. Smead, METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR ELECTROSTATICALLY SPRAY PAINTING OBJECTS IN A SPRAY PAINT BOOTH, Interference No. 103,508 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered November 15, 1995, as to claims 1-13.

Patent No. 5,206,345, Boris Masinovsky, William M. Gallatin, Paul J. Simons, IL-4 AND TNF INDUCE MAB 6G10-RECOGNIZED EXPRESSION ON BONE MARROW STROMAL CELLS, Interference No. 103,371 final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered October 6, 1995, as to claims 1 and 2.

Patent No. 5,310,747, Masayuki Enomoto, Junya Takahashi, Tomoyuki Kusaba, Masayo Sugano, Rei Matsunaga, Masahiro Tamaki, ENZIMIDAZOLE DERIVATIVES, AGRICULTURAL AND HORTICULTURAL FUNGICIDES CONTAINING THE SAME AS AN ACTIVE INGREDIENT AND INTERMEDIATE COMPOUNDS THEREOF, Interference No. 103,542, final judgment adverse to the patentees rendered September 29, 1995, as to claims 1-10.

37 CFR 1.47 Notice by Publication

Notice is hereby given of the filing of an national stage application with a petition under 37 CFR 1.47 requesting acceptance of the application without the signature of all inventors. The petition has been granted. A notice has been sent to the last known address of the nonsigning inventor. The inventor whose signature is missing (Pierre Alain Froidevaux) may join in the application by promptly filing an appropriate oath or Declaration complying with CFR 1.63. The international application number is PCT/CH94/00101 and was filed on 31 May 1994 in the names of Pierre Alain Froidevaux, Willi Wetzel and Stefan Rutishauser for the invention entitled SCREW EXTRUDER. The national stage application number is 08/379,479 and has a 35 U.S.C. 371 date of 24 March 1995.

Registration To Practice

The following person successfully passed the registration examination that was held May 3, 1995, and has been given provisional recognition pursuant to 37 CFR 10.9(a) to prepare and prosecute patent applications before the Office until applicant's registration certificate is mailed to applicant. Final approval for registration is subject to establishing to the satisfaction of the Director of the Office of Enrollment and Discipline that the person seeking registration is of good moral character and repute. [37 CFR 10.7(a)]. Accordingly, any information tending to affect the eligibility of the following applicant on moral, ethical, or other grounds should be furnished to the Director, Office of Enrollment and Discipline on or before February 16, 1996.

SPECIAL BOXES FOR PATENT MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded to the appropriate area without being opened. Only the specified type of document should be placed in an envelope addressed to one of these special boxes. If any documents other than the specified type identified for each special box are addressed to that box, they will be significantly delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they are intended.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information in various formats from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file all full-text patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs have both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. The full-text utility and design patents are distributed numerically on 16 mm microfilm, and plant patents on color microfiche. Patent and trademark search systems on CD-ROM (Compact Disc-Read Only) format are available at all PTDLs to increase utilization of and enhance access to the information found in patents and trademarks. It is through the CD-ROM systems that preliminary patent and trademark searches can be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge.

In addition, each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials. Facilities for making paper copies of patent and trademark information are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

MARKS PUBLISHED FOR OPPOSITION

The following marks are published in compliance with section 12(a) of the Trademark Act of 1946. Applications for the registration of marks in more than one class have been filed as provided in section 30 of said act as amended by Public Law 772, 87th Congress, approved Oct. 9, 1962, 76 Stat. 769. Opposition under section 13 may be filed within thirty days of the date of this publication. See rules 2.101 to 2.105.

A separate fee of two hundred dollars for opposing each mark in each class must accompany the opposition.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
